Frequently women of moderate means remark when a case is being discussed, "I could never do without such a service." Everyone is grateful. "I would like to express thanks to Mrs. Wa and Miss Smellie for help advice and encouragement during 1929, to Miss Cryderman whose visits have been very helpful and instructive, to Mrs. Orvill who left the service at the end of the year, and whose service was appreciated, to Dr. Cronk, the Medical Health officer, and the chief physician of the Belleville for their unfailing cooperation and courtesy, to the hospital for their filling our dressing, to Mr. Holmes and his staff for so ably answering our calls, and to all who in any way make our work the success it has been during the year just ended."

The Victorian Order of Nurses for Canada is a Dominion-wide organization, competing only graduate nurses from standard training schools, with post-graduate training in public health work,—a branch of their nursing service which includes all phases of the work concerned with family and community welfare, with bedside nursing as a fundamental principle and developing from it all forms of service and advisory administrative work that tends to prevent disease and raise the standard of the community.

"To teach the well to keep well is a great task. Home instruction plays a very important part in teaching the family the danger of contracting and spreading disease, how and when to take the necessary precaution, personal hygiene, the value of ventilation, and sunlight care of food care of the home.

"Victorian Order of Nurses for Canada is a nursing service with bedside nursing as a fundamental principle, from which is developed all forms of educational and advisory work, with home instruction taught in every home the nurse enters.

"For five years Belleville has had the services of the Victorian Order Nurses on whom the poor have first claim, and those of moderate means or who are well-to-do pay a fee on a scale from 25c to $1.00 per visit, with $3.00 for operations and $4.00 for confinements

TWELVE PAGES

The Ontario Intelligencer

SECOND SECTION

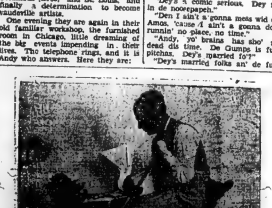
BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 23, 1930.

Amos 'N' Andy Speaking---A Broadcast Biography in Dialect

Third Instalment of

Amos 'n' Andy in Person

By James R. Crowell



Instalment No. 3.

And so, ladies and gentlemen, we now find the boys launched safely on their radio career. In 1926, when Amos' (Freeman F. Gosden) was twenty-six and Andy (Charles J. Correll) was thirty-five, they were the program staff of WEBH, the station operated by the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago. Opportunity has knocked, but it is opportunity with a string to it, for their pay as broadcasting artists was exactly nothing a week. It has not yet become the custom to pay entertainers of the air.

For seven months they gave their talents gratis to WEBH. At the end of this period they had become fabulous microphone performers and their names had become well known to the radio public of the Middle West. That in itself was the compensation they had been seeking.

In their spare moments, now restricted to the small hours of the morning, they wrote a play called "Sed Jones," in which they had gained a vogue for himself and the band he directed at Edgewater Beach, Chicago. The boys themselves appeared in the cast and shared the honors with Mr. Ash for the immediate success of the show. Then came the writing of a second play, "Paul Ash in Hollywood," radio engagements in Columbus, Ohio, and St. Louis, and finally a determination to become vaudeville artists.

One evening they are again in their old familiar workshop, the furnished room in Chicago, little dreaming of the big events impending in their lives. The telephone rings, and it is Andy who answers. Here they are:

Things Look a Bit Black For Amos

"Hello, hello—yeh, you has de honoh of speakin' wid him. Shoo', it is one of you wuzzi—I decides eything. Who is you? You is who? Oyoy, is which? Oh, also, I gits you now—You is WHO; you is sig, huh? What's dat—you say you ain't sig? Oh, I unnerstain's now—you is WOH. De Chicago Tribune, you says. Ah, we do what? Kin we come oven an' see you? Well——

"Oo'se wo kin, Andy."

"Oo'se me, Mistah. Shu' me an' him come right oven. Yeh, dat's all right, we be right oven.

"Who you talkin' wid, Andy?"

"I'se talkin' wid dem NO folks. Put yo' hat on, Amos. Come on, hop on de freiley cah an' we gits dere in two shakes——Now, hol' yo' mouf shut, Amos, while I has de young gemman 'nounce us—— Young man, 'nounce to yo' head man dat we has came as per telefoam conversation. He say come in, huh? Which way is in? Oh, you goin' down in a you? Dat's good."

"Dere he is Andy; dat's de head man—dat gemman at de desk."

"Shut yo' mouf, Amos—— Is you de gemman what talks to me on de telefoam? Well, we'se glad to meet you, too. You is we'se goin' sing any mo' on de air? No, we're goin' sing on de stage. How we like to sing for you? Well, you see, dey's goin' give us a contrack shun wid money into it. Oh, you pay us, willya? Dat's diffen."

"You bet dat's diffen' Andy. How much you pay us, Mistah?"

"Don't I tell you keep yo' mouf shut Amos—dat's my fuzzess we'se talkin' an' when you talks my fuzzess you has sat a spittin way——. Precede, mistah; precede——— Wat you sayin' which?"

"I ain't gonna do it, Andy. I'se goin' say what I wants say——. Mistah, how much you pay us?"

"Don't pay no 'tention to him, mistah, 'cause he's plumb crazy wid de heat. Whench is we sit? Oh, she'd sit—you say you pay us? What is yo' propolition, mistah? How much is been gittin'? Well, you see, mistah, dat's a pussonal question we don't like talk 'bout——

"Well, if Andy don't like talk 'bout it, mistah, I don't mind. I tells you what we'se been gittin—we'se been gittin nuthin." Whuleven you pay us is mo' da we'se been' gittin'. You pay us $300 a week, you say? Mistah, de contrack'sin is done sign'. When you want us begin? Tonight, huh? We be head, mistah, no foolin' an' an' thing you want is at $200 per week, we do. We'se much 'bligted, mistah; thank you."

Let us interrupt for a moment again, ladies and gentlemen, to say that the boys forthwith quit their jobs with the amateur theatrical company and devoted all their time to the new work. Their fame as a "song and dance" team spread, but still they were far from satisfied. There were others doing a similar line of entertainment on the radio, and what the boys wanted was something which would make them stand out in the rapidly growing profession of broadcasting.

The great opportunity came a few months later. In the mind of some unsung genius attached to the Chicago Tribune was born the nub of an idea which was soon to gather far flung and astonishing results. Let the boys explain it to you in their own parlol:

"Say, Amos, you heah what dat NO studio manager say he us tonight He say we been doin' de same stuff for plin' new. He say he want a new Gumps. He say he Gumps. What's de Gumps? Has you ever had 'em?

"Andy, you is plumb crazy. Nobuddy ever has a Gumps. De Gumps is funny 'em."

"Oh, dey reads 'em, huh? What's for?"

"Dey's a comic serious. Dey runs in de noospaper."

"Den I ain't a gonna mess wid dem, Amos, 'cause I ain't a gonna be no rumnin' no place, no time——"

"Andy, yo' brain has sho' gone dead dis time. De Gumps is funny pitchus. Dey's marked for"

"Dey's marring folks an' de funny pitchus is 'bout de trouble married folks has."

"What dat gotta do wid us? We ain't married, is we?"

"Not yet—but not when we does git married we'se ant to be as gumpy as de Gumps is, ain't we?"

"Amos, I don't unnerstain's what you talkin 'bout, an' whem I don't unnerstain's nuthin' I keeps 'way from it. You go 'head an' be de Gumps if you wants to, but me, I'se goin' be me."

"Lissen to me, Andy, an' git some sense in yo' head. Dat studio manager, he say he want us do simply like de Gumps—not de Gumps, dem-selfs. No, keep yo' eahs open hit de way, 'cause I'se goin' tell you sumpin' what is sumpin' all right. Now, what's de matieh wid——

"In this whispered conversation between these two energetic young men there was a remarkable outcome. It was fast work, a hurry up job, a rare piece of lightning calculation. Tomorrow you will hear all about it.

©Copyright 1930 By The American Magazine

Originally "carson" and "cartridge" both came from the same word, and both roughly had the same meaning of a piece of thick and stout paper.

Money saved is your best friend—but what good is a friend you don't use.

EVIDENCES OF TOWER OF BABEL HEARD ROUND JERUSALEM TOWER

JERUSALEM, April 19 — If a new Tower of Babel had arisen on the site of the present Clock Tower in Jerusalem, the medley of languages could surely not be greater than can be heard at any time in present-day Jerusalem.

Arabic, Hebrew, English—to take first the three official languages of the country represented respectively 24, 18 and 12 per cent in a "census" undertaken haphazardly by an interested tourist who stood for half an hour outside the Post Office trying to discover how many tongues he could pick out from the Babel around him.

Among the unofficial languages, he found Yiddish took first place with 10 per cent German, 6 per cent Oui of a total of 50 people, three spoke some thing unknown to the interviewer, though they believed one spoke Kurdish. Of the other two unknown samples one was spoken by a Persian and the neither of the inquirers could venture any guess about the other. They were able to distinguish English with ease, but with a rich intonation of cockney and broken English spoken by an Arab French, spoken by a priest, and broken French by a Sephardi Jew who had probably been to a French school Arabic, spoken by an Egyptian and other non-Palestinians, Hungarian, Russian Spagnolish (Spanish jargon) and Polish.

It need hardly be said that these statistics have no scientific value; they were merely collected to pass a piece and half hour. To get a true picture of the languages spoken in Jerusalem, it would, of course, be necessary to take 5,000 or more persons before one could be sure of having a "fair sample".

BUY-IN-CANADA MOVEMENT ON

Be Slogan in Dominion Store Chain in April 21 to April 26

"Buy Made-in-Canada Products will be the slogan throughout the five hundred and ten units of the Dominion Store chain in Ontario and Quebec during the week of April 21 to 26, it was announced by H. W. Holland, President of the organization today.

"The Dominion Stores organization, operating the largest chain store system in the Dominion, has put itself heartily into the fight to encourage the use of Canadian products by Canadians, thus stimulating Canadian industry and swelling Canadian payrolls.

"More and more interest is being manifested by all branches of Canadian industry, in the great possibilities for Canadian business which lie behind the Buy Canadian Products' idea", said Mr. Pendland today, "and the Dominion Stores, as an entirely Canadian organization, whose business is steadily forging ahead even at this time, when there is a certain amount of hesitancy in many lines of business feels that it can perhaps do more to encourage and popularize the movement than most concerns. That is why we are planning this 'Made-in-Canada' week for all our units.

"The suggestion has been put forward by Premier Taschereau in a number of occasions, notably by Mayor Houde of Montreal, a couple of weeks ago, but up to the present no definite and concerted efforts has been made to put the thought across on a large scale.

"Dominion Stores will lead the movement, which we hope will be followed by firms distributing other lines of Canada's products.

"Canadian people—particularly Canadian food products—are second to none in the world, and it is absurd that merchandise which we can ourselves produce in as good quality and at competitive prices, should continue to be imported from outside sources, while Canadian workmen remain idle", said Mr. Pendland. "We hope that this 'Made-in-Canada' week will start a real movement toward improved conditions.

Attractive window displays, specially prepared Canadian-manufactured "features" and effective newspaper advertising will be used to popularize the undertaking.

Royal Street

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Mulligan and Mrs. Elizabeth McConnell attended the funeral of the latter's brother, Mr. Bernman at Marysville on Sunday.

Mrs. John Thompson of South Bay is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Clapp and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Striker and family were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Peaman Dodge, Milford.

A load of supplies from Belleville arrived at the cheese factory on Tuesday.

A large number from here attended Gardner's Service at Cherry Valley on Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Head of Milford Road are driving a new car.

Mr. Bennie Wrightmeyer of South Bay has engaged with Mr. Alfred Dulmage the season.

Mr. Donald McCrimmen spent Sunday with his parents at Milford.

A number of farmers are at work on their land now.

Mrs. Gene Tarrington was the guest of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Stanley May on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Wilbanks spent Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Simmons, Milford.

Miss Gwendolyn Clapp and Mr. Albert Head of Picton Collegiate are home for their Easter holidays.

The great writer does not really come to conclusions about life; he discerns a quality in it.

The biggest and strongest snakes are the rock and boa constrictor. A twenty-foot anaconda can coil around a cow and crush it.

WILL HE GO TO FRANCE?

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, Speaker in the Canadian House of Commons who is reported to be in line for the position of Canadian Minister to France. The present Canadian Minister, Hon. Phillipe Roy, is expected back this year

HAMILTON CASE ADJOURNS

Stratford, April 23—The trial of J. Cecil Hamilton, former Linwell agent of the now defunct Toronto real estate firm of Hubbs and Hubbs, was postponed until May 13 when accused appeared in court today on fourteen charges of false pretences. Bail of $25,000 was renewed.

SCOW ON ROCKS

Dunkirk, N.Y., April 23 (C P) — A derrick scow, Thomas E. Tyee, out of Port Maitland, Ontario, for Erie, was fast on the rocks inside the Dunkirk breakwall today. Tugs will attempt to pull it off after the storm raging on Lake Erie subsides. The derrick was caught in the storm and sounded distress signals. A coastguard was leading it into harbor when it went on the rock. The crew is safe.

PUBLIC LIBRARY IS RENOVATED

Madoc, April 22 (By Mail)—Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Holland, of White Lake, were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Holland on Sunday.

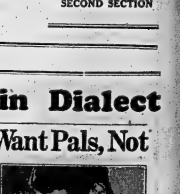
Mr. Upton of the Bank of Commerce staff, is spending his holidays in Wellington and Toronto.

A meeting of Moira Chapter, I. O. D. E. was held at the home of Mrs. Fred Curry on the evening of March 26th. Mrs. P. Dafoe, First Vice-Regent, presiding. It was moved, seconded and carried that a donation of ten dollars be given to the Public Library.

Arrangements were made for an afternoon tea to be held at the home of Mrs. George Maybee.

The tea was held on the afternoon of April 11th, and was a very successful affair, and much enjoyed by those present.

Colonel and Mrs. Vanderwater and daughters were guests of Mrs. A. Kincaid during the week.



Rev. and Mrs. B. P Byers of Stirling were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Belshaw.

Mrs. R. Wess has returned from visiting friends in Buffalo.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Blair, of Toronto, and Mr. and Mrs. Lannigan and children of Stirling were visitors at the home of Mrs A. Allen on Sunday.

A large number of ladies of Eldorado and Union assembled at the home of Mrs. Fred Comerford on Wednesday afternoon, April 9th, it being the regular monthly meeting of the Women's Institute Society. Mrs. Albert Empey, President, being in charge. The Easter program was used. Mrs. Arthur Robinson read "Easter Chimes," Mrs. Adamson read "An Open Letter to our Membership," and "The Deacon's Tenth." Mrs. Comerford conducted a Quiz on the last number of the "Monthly." It was arranged that the Easter Sunday morning service be in charge of the W. M. S. and the Thank Offering be taken then. It was agree do ask the Eldorado Sun-

Says Men Want Pals, Not Patients!

SHE was engaged! She was the happiest girl in the world. A round of teas and parties, a whirl of pleasure, and she began to wonder what was the matter. Too tired to go out—and that how was be becoming tired of her!

It was at this point that Miss Margaret Belden of Los Angeles woke up to the fact that the very thing had to be done about it. "Men want pals, not patients" she writes. "I went right to my doctor. Do you know what he said? Eat—and Nujol

"With a prayer in my heart and Nujol in my medicine cabinet I began to fight back to being the healthy, robust, happy girl I had been before. Two months passed. No more tears—no more worrying, no more bad dreams. Today I beat him on the tennis court, and although he can out-swim me, I make him work during it. It's good to be happy. It's good to be free, physically, and be able to share, any time, in sports or dancing or anything else with the one you love!"

Here's another one who has learned that the simplest and surest way to be well and full of good spirits is to clear the bodily poisons out of your system regularly. Not with powerful drugs, but normally, naturally, easily. Doctors and nurses recommend such a natural product as Nujol; because this crystal-clear liquid isn't a medicine at all! It cannot harm even a little baby! It contains absolutely no drugs. It is simply internal lubrication that your body needs like any other machine.

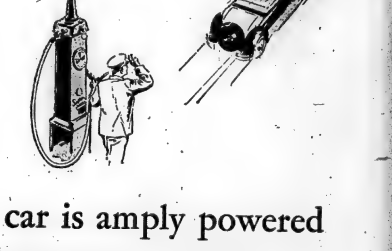
Good looks and good spirits—do they spell popularity? You know they do! Get a bottle of Nujol tonight in any drug store. Sold in sealed packages only—trademarked "Nujol." Insist on Nujol by name. It costs but a few cents—and it will make you feel like a million dollars.

day School to withdraw their session of the morning and to hold it at 2.30 in the afternoon instead. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess and a very pleasant social hour was spent.

Miss Norma Fair left on Tuesday to spend her Easter holidays at Atlantic City.



Mr. S. E. Ashley spent a few days in Kingston last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Kelly and Miss Aileen spent Sunday with friends in Stirling.

The rooms of the Public Library are being cleaned and renovated this week, and new curtains will be hung, making a much needed improvement in the looks of the rooms. The work is being done under the auspices of Madoc Women's Institute.

BROKEN ICE IN BAY

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., April 23 (C.P.)—Northwest gale with snow flurries which has been raging for the past eighteen hours has filled Whitefish Bay with broken ice beyond vision in all directions. Three steamers, Leblock, Joe Block and Leopold which arrived here last night after working their way through the lower river yesterday will remain here until more favorable weather conditions.

Confident that their car is amply powered

The motorist who fills his tank with SUPER-SHELL drives away with confidence. He knows that his fuel will respond when needed, and amply, with something in reserve. There will be no engine "knocking" or "pinging" for the user of SUPER-SHELL—the natural anti-knock gasoline made entirely from petroleum.

SUPER-SHELL burns completely, eliminating oil dilution, giving quicker starting, faster pick-up and more miles per gallon. SUPER-SHELL gives performance unmatched by any other premium fuel you can buy.

Fill your tank with SUPER-SHELL today!

Safe at any speed with Shell Motor Oil

You may never need to drive at sixty miles an hour. But it's good to know you can. Shell Motor Oil has an ideal "body" at all operating temperatures . . . gives your costly engine full protection at all speeds. Let the Shell Lubrication Chart be your guide to longer motor life. Look for the familiar yellow and red Shell service stations everywhere.

Super-SHELL GASOLINE

STOP AT THE SIGN OF THE SHELL

THE SHELL COMPANY OF CANADA, LIMITED

USED FORDSON TRACTORS

From $350.00 Up—Guaranteed

USED CARS

FORDS
CHRYSLERS
FORD TRUCKS
ESSEX
STUDEBAKERS
BUICKS
Rangings from $50 up to $600

This Will Be
Belleville Motors Space
MONDAY'S AND WEDNESDAY'S FOR BARGAINS IN USED CARS, TRACTORS, HORSES, etc

Allis-Chalmers Tractors THOROUGHLY DEPENDABLE
ASK FOR DEMONSTRATION

HORSES FOR SALE

$100.00 and Up

Pinnacle Street
BELLEVILLE MOTORS
Next Hotel Quinte

RED CLOVER HAS RECORD YEAR

Production of Seed in 1929 Greatest in Quarter Century

FREE INSPECTION

Most of Seed is Now Grown in this Country

The production of red clover seed in Canada in 1929 was the largest in the past quarter of a century. One of the most important legume crops, red clover for successful growing depends on hardy acclimatized seed. Special attention is being paid by the seed branch of the Dominion department of agriculture to the growing of registered red clover seed, and last year's production record is an indication of the increasing value of the work being done by the field staff.

Most of the red clover seeding in the Dominion has in the past been done from seed imported largely from the United States. Much of the clover planted from this imported seed winter kills badly, and one of the reasons why red clover is not in more general use in Canada is undoubtedly because of the unsuitability of southern seed for our climatic conditions.

Recognizing the importance to Canadian agriculture of red clover, the seed branch undertook last year to provide free inspection of the seed crops of hardy strains of red clover of the hairy double-cut type, and much seed harvested from weed free fields was graded, sacked and sealed for commercial use.

Canadians farmer can with assurance buy red clover seed grown in Canada, which comes up to the rigid requirements of the standards set by the seed branch, as it is of a quality grown under Canadian conditions and particularly suited to use in Canada.

At the same time it is pointed out that a good bulk of red clover seed was available from the crop which survived the mild winter of 1928-29, much of which is of little more value from the standpoint of resisting winter killing that is the seed of southern origin. It is, therefore, particularly important that in buying red clover seed the farmer should make sure that his seed comes from inspected fields.

Five lots of red clover seed have been sealed from crops produced in Quebec, Eastern Ontario and Manitoba.

COD LIVER OIL GOOD FOR FLOCK

Added to Poultry Mash, Has Same Effect as Direct Sunlight

Cod liver meal is made from fresh livers of the codfish after some of the oil has been extracted.

Added to a poultry mash, it has the same effect as direct sunlight, ensuring full mineral nutrition. It helps to eliminate the common mineral deficiency troubles, such as poor, soft, weak bones, paralysis and thin, soft shelled eggs. It makes possible the raising of good chicks at any time of the year and in any kind of weather.

While cod liver oil is fairly rich in the sunlight factor, that is not its most valuable property. Cod liver meal, like calves liver or beef liver, has the property of very markedly improving the condition of the blood. One of the better condition of thy blood, the digestion of the remainder of the food is more thorough and more complete. Birds kept in better flesh and in better health. They lays eggs free from blood clots. Cod liver meal gives them greater resistance to the more common poultry trouble, such as bleeding combs, colds croup, chickenpox, leg paralysis and the like.

To be effective, cod liver meal has to be used with a well balanced ration. It is not the total nutrient supplied by cod liver meal that makes it so valuable, but its action on the other ingredients.

Persian Balm—the one toilet requisite for the dainty woman. Delightful to use. Leaves no stickiness. Swiftly absorbed by the tissues. Delicately fragrant. Imparts a velvety loveliness to the complexion. Tones up the skin. Soothes and banishes all unpleasant roughness or chafing caused by wind and other weather conditions. Makes hands soft and white. Creates an alluring, essentially feminine charm. Persian Balm is indispensable to women of refinement.

The largest building in the world was built more than 4,000 years ago.

GRAIN

Sow grass seed where the lawn looks weak.

If you have a poor patch of soil, try the golden poppy, Bartonia aurea, for a brilliant bit of color that will flourish on poor plantings.

The "acorn" squash sold in so many stores last fall and achieving great popularity is the Table Queen or Des Moines squash of catalogues. It is a splendid home garden variety, trailing, productive and not as rampant as many squashes.

That handsome fern-y foliage you added last year to bouquets was the summer fir, Artemisia accrorum vulgaris of catalogues. A packet of seed will give you an ample supply. It grows from three to five feet high and you don't need many plants. The foliage is as useful as a fern.

Order gladiolus bulbs at once. There are hundreds of glad enthusiasts who order the new kinds early. Order now to be sure of getting your bulbs.

North Dakota has produced a new Golden Bantam hybrid corn, Golden Sunshine, reputed to be extra early, a week to ten days earlier than Golden Bantam.

Try one of the long-standing spinaches this year.

Plant the orange-Africa daisy, dimorphotheca, for unusual colors. It flourishes in the hottest weather.

Try a row of asparagus broccoli this year. It grows as easily as a turnip and yields the same conditions. This is the green broccoli that has become so popular. "Calabrese" is one of the fine strains. It is old in Europe, but a new vegetable here.

Start all late season annual flower seeds in boxes if you want a full season of bloom. You can get early marigolds by sowing seed now. The tall kinds are sometimes late in developing if you wait for warm weather to plant them.

BUTCHERS READY TO SUPPLY GRADED BEEF IF WANTED

"When people ask us for it we shall certainly be glad to carry it in the shop," was the comment of a well known Ottawa butcher with respect to branded beef.

"We find that the red and blue brand beef is very popular with those who know it, but the most of the beef buying public as yet know little of the merits of its real quality."

It is rather significant that in the larger cities where beef sells in huge quantities there is as yet comparatively little demand for graded beef, while in the smaller centers of northern Ontario and Manitoba the retail demand is almost entirely for the branded product. It is also interesting to note that where beef is an important article of diet the red and blue brand quality product is in big demand.

The beef grading service of the Dominion live stock branch has now been in effect for a period of six months and with larger quantities of "choice" and "good" beef, of a quality suited for branding coming on the market the graded beef service is extending rapidly.

Retail dealers are beginning to appreciate the consumer value of the graded product and the discriminating house-wife is beginning to realise the true quality which goes with the government brand.

When you buy graded beef you know you get the best and there is a sufficient quantity of beef available for grading so that any retail dealer can have it on his hooks if his trade wants it.

GROWING TESTS ARE ADDED TO "EX."

Recent decision of the Awards committee of the World's Grain exhibition and conference to include a growing test in connection with the awarding and prizes at the 1932 Regina show is of special interest to farmers and grain growers throughout Canada and in the world countries who will be entering exhibits of grain.

The growing tests will be carried out at Dominion experimental stations under the supervision of the cereal division of the Dominion department of agriculture.

L. H. Newman, chairman of the awards committee, states that the growing test will be impossible in connection with the World's Grain show because entries close in April of 1932 leaving some 70 days in which some growing tests can be made. Only by the growing test can the purity of variety type be conclusively shown, and it is deemed necessary because of the far-reaching effect which will attach to the sale and distribution of prize-winning seed.

It is not possible from appearances alone to always definitely place the true variety or varieties of grain which may be found in even the most carefully hand-picked entries.

LILY CULTURE IS DESCRIBED

Water Lilies Are Among Most Attractive of Canadian Flowers

HOW THEY GROW

Lilies, filies are among the most beautiful and attractive flowers that grow in Eastern Canada.

Visitors generally look upon them as rare flowers as they seldom see them under natural conditions. Where they transform a water hole or swamp into a flower-decked pond of green leaves of pink and white blooms that are nothing less in their perfection.

There are eight important species with two hundred named varieties, are including some grown planted in June 1919 in a pond just west of the experimental station buildings at Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island: Nymphaea Alba; Nymphaea Alba Candidissima; Nymphaea Odorata Rosea; Nymphaea Odorata Luciana; Nymphaea Marliacea.

The water lily rootstalks were placed in old potato baskets, weighted with stones and filled with a rich loam soil mixed with well rotted stable manure. These were set along the edge of the pond in eighteen inches of water. Destructive insects attacked the young leaves and the water lilies were moved to another pond for the season. In 1920 the baskets were replaced in the pond in groups in two feet of water. Many roots were showing through the baskets and they quickly established themselves. In 1918 the groups covered areas in the pond from fifteen feet to twenty-five feet in diameter. Some varieties are sterile, others produce seed which is carried by currents to other parts of the pond. The surface of the pond was completely covered by leaves and beautiful blooms in 1929. The sorts planted were hardy-day-bloomers which usually open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. throughout the summer from June to September.

The rootstalks can be divided in the early spring and should be set out just as active growth begins. When satisfactory fresh water ponds are not available, these lilies can be grown in tubs, set in the garden. Tender varieties grown in this way can be wintered over in the cellar or in a greenhouse. Very few pests are established. Water lilies require little attention. They should have clear water and an abundance of sunshine. The roots will not do well in a pond where the water is muddy during the winter so that the roots are buried deep in the mud bottom will not actually freeze.

TELL JUST WHY SHE RECOMMENDS THEM

Ontario Lady Found Relief In Dodd's Kidney Pills

Mrs. Wm. Brown Suffered With Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Hamilton, Ont., April 21.—(Special).—"I was troubled with Kidney and Bladder trouble," states Mrs. Wm. Brown, 145 Charlesworth ave., Hamilton, Ont. "I had tried a lot of medicines but could get no relief. I finally tried Dodd's Kidney Pills and to my great joy I soon found relief from backache. I feel so much better now. I keep a box right in the house all the time. I would not be without them. I recommend them to all my friends."

There are many symptoms which point directly to kidney disease and warn you of serious danger ahead. Backache, deposits in urine, headaches and aching limbs, harsh dry and itching skin and loss of flesh and weight. To their direct action on the kidneys is due the wonderful success of Dodd's Kidney Pills as a relief for diseases of the kidneys.

"DRY" FARMING NOW DISCUSSED

"Soil Moisture in Crop Production," a new bulletin embodying the results of experiments conducted at the Dominion experimental station at Swift Current, Sask., by S. Farmer and E. S. Hopkins, field husbandman of the Dominion department of agriculture, provides some interesting and useful information with respect to dry farming methods.

Not only is the scope and nature of the experimental work fully explained and graphically illustrated by pictures and charts, which tell a story of amazing interest, but the application of various methods to field conditions is particularly valuable.

Among the subjects dealt with are precipitation and factors of control in dry farming areas; the relation of water to wheat production; moisture conservation, and weed control by summer fallow; the effect of rotation on soil moisture; the water requirement and drouth resistance of crops, and the relation between soil moisture and soil forecasting.

The bulletin is one which should prove of wide general interest because while dry farming is generally associated with certain areas in the prairie provinces there are many other parts of Canada where soil moisture conservation is quite as important as in the prairie areas. These areas are found in Nova Scotia, in the northern parts of Quebec and Ontario, and in certain mountainous districts of Alberta and British Columbia.

With the rapid expansion of settlement in dry farming areas the information afforded by this bulletin is particularly timely and important and should prove a valuable aid to operators in those areas.

Wise mothers who know the virtues of Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator always have it at hand, because it proves its value.

SOW THISTLE AND ITS CONTROL BY FARMERS

A Grey county farmer visited the Ontario Agricultural College a few days ago and called on Professor Howitt for a chat about weeds.

"What do you fellows really know about sow thistle anyway?" he asked.

"Lots," replied Professor Howitt. "We don't know everything, but here are a few facts for you:

"We know that year by year the perennial sow thistle is becoming a greater menace to Ontario agriculture. I expect you knew that! In some districts it has already driven some farmers off their farms. Perhaps you did not know that! In many sections it has entirely overrun the fields and made profitable farming much more difficult, and it has reduced the value of farm property.

"We know that the sow thistle can be controlled on individual farms, because it is being done by some of the best farmers, even in the worst sow thistle infested districts. These men say, however, that it would be much easier for them to control the weed if all their neighbors made the effort also.

"We know that a single sow thistle plant may produce as many as two thousand seeds, and that a field of them will produce millions. These are scattered far and wide by the wind, so every farmer who has perennial sow thistle on his farm should realize his obligation to his neighbors and himself and should prevent this weed from going to seed on his place.

"Well," said the farmer, "What is the best method of controlling this pest?"

"There is no one best method," replied Professor Howitt. "The method used on any farm will depend on the type of soil, the existing drainage or lack of drainage, the kind of crops that are being grown, the weather conditions, and perhaps some other things; but all methods aim at the destruction of the underground rootstocks by preventing any leaf growth and thus starving them, or by drying and baking them through exposure to sun and air. Each man should choose the method which seems to suit his particular conditions and type of farm ing, or the method which his neighbors have proved to be successful; but remember, it is time and labor must, of course, always be kept in mind. Now here are a few practices which help:

(a) Thorough mid-summer cultivation during the dry, hot weather immediately following haying or harvesting.

(b) The use of smother crops such as sweet clover, rape, and buckwheat.

(c) Under-drainage of lands which require it. Poorly drained land is most favorable to the growth of sow thistle.)

(d) On heavy clay soils, deep plowing immediately after haying, especially if the ground is very dry and hard. (This means plenty of power).

(e) Thorough cleaning out of the first small patches that appear on the farm, to prevent the weed from becoming established.

(f) A determination not to be beaten by weed or devil.

No Real Help

Asthma Remedy

With Asthma, Asthma usually attacks at night, the one time when rest is needed most. Hence the loss of strength, the nervous debility, the loss of flesh and other evils which must be expected unless relief is secured. Fortunately relief is possible. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy has proved its merits through years of service. A trial will surely convince you.

In an Italian town, taxes are levied according to the weight of the taxpayer. The fat man is assumed to be prosperous and charged on his poundage.

An accurate, dependable watch of lasting beauty and charm. A smart watch at appealing prices.

J. O. R. McCurdy
Phone 355 — 334 Front St.

RADIO
RADIO REPAIRING and SERVICE
All Makes
Phone 183
THE JOHN LEWIS Co., Ltd.

The Feminine Viewpoint

Mainly About People You Know

(Continued From Page Two)

Miss Margaret Young, nurse-in-training at Picton General Hospital, is spending her holidays, the guest of her aunt and uncle,Mr. and Mrs. George Cornish, Bowell street.

Miss Eva Caiianech, of Toronto, was the guest of Miss Vivian Gross, 23 Cedar street, over the Easter holiday.

Mrs. A. E. Stewart of Southampton has returned to her home after spending the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Latta, 21 Yeomans street.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Logan, 186 Victoria Ave, spent Easter Sunday in Hastings. H. E. Denyes is attending the General Board of Evangelism and Social Service of the United Church of Canada, in Toronto, this week.

Dr. Blagrave, B. D., Mrs. Blagrave and two sons of Peterboro spent a few days recently with Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Ponton, Sidney Cottage.

Girl Guide Notes

The home of Mrs. Stephon Laster, Belleville Commissioner of the Girl Guides, was the gay with laughter and expectant faces, Wed. at 8 p.m. The occasion being a visit of the new lly-formed and enthusiastic Deseronto Company. Among the several visitors were the District and Deputy Commissioners. At the 7p.m. the visiting patrol leaders merged into the Senior group of Belleville Co. 3, under Mrs. Branscombe, (Capt.), assisted by Miss Jackson, (Lieut.). About fifty report-ed. Sing-songs, accompanied by Mrs. Branscombe), group tests and contest games were thoroughly enjoyed, followed by prayer. In the horseshoe formation individual bits of spicy wit and verse lent variety as well as the reading of helpful articles lately written by Princess Mary and Lady Baden Powell. The drill was executed with precision and alertness, and all together presented a stirring picture

I must not forget the lusty yell given in honor of the guests. The District Commissioner, Mrs. Wills, and Ponton, invited all the guests to another buffet supper at "Sidney Cottage". The Observers Group included, Ruth Shell, Margaret Roach, Frances McKenny, Eleanor Johnson and Dorothy Knight (Patrol Leaders) under Miss Ralthbun, (Commissioner), Mrs. Morand, Miss Ponton (Lieut.), Miss Morgan (Capt.). Miss Rathbun thanked the Belleville Co. for their hospitality and good fellowship, led on with the singing of "They are jolly good fellows".

The contact through visiting naturally gives new ideas, inspiration and a wider outlook of the work of guiding.

Here-Am-I Mission Circle Gathered

The Easter meeting of the Here-Am-I Mission Circle was held Wednesday evening, April 16th, at the home of Miss Laura Bell, 23 Isabelle St. After a short song service the Pres., Miss Ethel Horton conducted the business meeting. 34 members responding to the roll call, and one new member being enrolled. There were eight officers present.

The Treasurer's report was received and adopted. Other reports were received from the Corresponding secty., Christian Stewardship Secty., Birthday Box Secty., Supply Secty., and Strangers Secty. Some new business was discussed and the collection taken.

The programme proper was carried out according to order on typed sheets each participant taking her turn with out being called upon personally.

The opening number was a mission-ary Doxology followed by reading in unison and the singing of one verse of the hymn "Must Jesus bear the Cross Alone?" The Pres. led in prayer all joining in the Lord's prayer.

Mrs. Wade read the first 18 verses of the Ikish chap. of St. John, and the guest of honor, Mrs. S. Gay, Pres. of the Belleville Presbyterial gave a very inspiring address on the "Life and Mission of Mary Magdalene," basing her remarks upon the Scripture story.

A solo "The Master Stood in His Garden", pictured the possibilities for service in His Garden for one living close to the Master and remaining ready to be used when needed.

A dialogue by four members of Group 3 depicted a scene in the Courtyard of Calgiaha the morning of Christs' resurrection.

Three sentence prayers and the Mizpah Benediction closed the meeting, after which dainty and colorful refreshments were served in wrapped boxes.

Before leaving Miss Ruth Bell moved a hearty vote of thanks to Mrs. Gay and all who had aided in the evening's programme and to Miss Laura Bell forher kind hospitality.

The May meeting will be held at the home of Miss Laura Dougherty, 65 Geddes St., May 21st.

Philippine imports last year totalled $167,180,000, and exports $104,440,000.

Fashionably Speaking

By Lucille

DEAR READERS:

If there is one room in the house that should be as bright and sunny as possible, that room is the kitchen. It is mother's room for so many hours during the day that it should be as attractive as one can make it. And now that the vogue for painted furniture has seized the home decorators any kitchen can be made delightful with little expense.

Take a look around your own kitchen dear reader, and see if there isn't room for improvement. I refer, of course, to the decorative scheme, for there is rarely a homemaker who doesn't feel that there is plenty of room for devices of all kinds to help her in the day's work. Consider first the walls and floor. Or perhaps the floor first. Linoleum is inexpensive, and its pretty colour combinations offer many suggestions for your room. Suppose you decide on green and yellow. Not a bit of it. Go in for sage and bright and will make a cheery place on dull days.

You must make you own decision regarding the merits of wallpaper versus painted walls. Washable papers are obtainable in all kinds of appealing designs that will carry out the colour idea. The walls in the green and yellow, and the woodwork in the apple green shade, look, in order of importance as the windows. Dainty ruffled curtains in white dotted with yellow, and ever curtains of checked green gingham are very smart, as well as inexpensive. And did you know that you can get oilcloth blinds, white on the outside and green on the other? Now, for the furniture. Painted chairs, and the old kitchen table acquire an air of smartness when painted apple green, with yellow trimmings.

Picture your kitchen made over like the one described. Wouldn't you love it? Just place a red geranium in your window, and the neighbours will want to move right in.

Fashionably yours,

"LUCILLE"

Today's Poem

MY HOUSE

Clean winds sweep over it,
Blue skies cover it,
The sun by give it light
And moon and stars of night;
Jeweled the floor is,
Golden the door is.
Hung with 'broideries,
Many-hued, magic-wise,
Who would not covet it, —
Who would not love it?

I love it so—
I love it so
I would not care to know
Another space,
Another sphere,
However fair,
However dear,
Or far or near,
Each leaf my lover is,
Each flower a fragrant bliss;

No bird that wings through it,
No voice that sings to it—
Tree-note, bird or water, all—
But holds me thrall.

Ella Cochbrin, in "Wings of Sunset."

HAZZARD WOMEN PRESENTED PLAY

Good Friday Services Were Held in Madoc Churches

Madoc April 23 (By Mail)—Good Friday services were held in several of the churches of the village on Friday, 18th. In the Roman Catholic Church early services were held, and an afternoon service. In the Anglican, there were morning and evening services with Good Friday special hymns and prayers; in the evening, the Sacred solo, "There is a Green Hill Far Away," (Gounod,) was beautifully rendered by Mrs. P. Oatley Reynolds. In Trinity United Church, the mid-week Prayer meeting was postponed until Friday night, and special Good Friday lessons and hymns were used.

"The Road Back," a play present by Hazzard's Women's Institute recently was put on in the Empire Theatre, Madoc, under the "Auspices of Trinity Ladies' Aid, on the evening of Thursday, April 17th.

Playing to a crowded house, the play was splendidly presented, each member of the cast taking her part excellently, Miss M. Mutton as "Jenny Fowler," and Miss Francis Harris as "Milly Fowler" winning honors as the daughters of the house, and Mrs. M. Howard, as "Ma Fowler" carrying on the plot most capably. Max Burn-side as "Blake Chester" Milly's friend, and Stanley Moorecroft as "Jenny's friend," were splendid in their parts, while Charles Keene as "Pa Fowler" and Philo Harris as "Uncle Ben from Arizona" were excellent. A well acted part was taken by Mrs. Foster Keene as Cousin Neighbour, and Kenneth Keene was cast as the ne'er-do-well son of the house, M. Howard played a sympathetic part as Jenny's employer, while Miss Alma Keene as Blake's aristocratic but domineering Mother was really good.

When all the players were specially good in their own way, one can hardly say more, and all the spectators were delighted in enjoying a very excellent evening's entertainment.

Mr. Jas. Parker of Queensboro, introduced the play in a few appropriate words, and between the acts musical numbers were given by Mrs. Vernon Reid, while the Mission Band Girls sold candy Mrs. W. J. Rulin gave a very excellent solo during the second intermission, "I'm dreaming of you."

At the conclusion of the play, after the members of the cast had gathered on the platform, all joined in singing the National Anthem.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith and little daughter, Mary, left on Saturday to spend the Easter holidays with friends in Bancroft.

Miss Lillian Rivers of O. C. E., Toronto, arrived on Thursday to spend the Easter holidays at Trinity Parsonage with her parents.

Miss Mabel Ross, of Toronto, is the guest of her mother in Madoc for the Easter vacation.

A New and novel dessert

SWEETEN a bowl of Rice Krispies with honey, to taste. Fold in some whipped cream. Then serve. It's a most delicious dessert.

You'll like Rice Krispies for breakfast, lunch or supper. They're so-crisp they actually crackle in milk or cream. A wonderful cereal for children. Oven-fresh at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

Kellogg's
RICE KRISPIES

April Meeting of Melrose Women's Missionery Society

The April meeting of the W. M. S. of Melrose United Church was held at the home of Mrs. Alex MacLaren. Thirteen members were present.

The devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. Simpkins the President. Meeting was opened with use of hymn 97, after which the Lord's prayer was repeated in unison. Mrs. Simpkins and Mrs. F. Bennett then led in prayer. The minutes ofa the March meeting wer read and approved followed by business. It was decided during this period to ask the Rev. A. J. Wilson of Napanee to come and give a lecture on his recent trip to the Orient.

Mrs. Chas. MacFarlane then gave a splendid talk on the first chapter of the study book from Jerusalem to Jerusalem. Mrs. F. Bennett then gave a humorous reading on how to keep out of the rula in the society. Miss Mary MacLaren and Mrs. Sherry De Mille also gave short readings. After which the collection was taken up which amounted to $3.50 The next meeting will take the form of a quilting at the home of Mrs. R. McMichan the first Wednesday in May.

Alaska, more than twice the size of Texas, has a population of some 65,000.

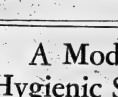
Missionary Week at Bridge Street

Last week was Missionary Week for the Women's Missionary Society of Bridge St. Church. On Sunday morning Rev. A. J. Wilson, of Napanee, preached an inspiring sermon on mis sionary work. He spoke from first-hand knowledge derived from a trip throughout the Orient last summer. Mr. Wilson came home satisfied that the missionary output for both China and Japan is yielding rich returns. He referred to two outstanding characters, Kagawa Cheung of Japan, and Dr. Cheung, of China, converted men who are bidding fair to lead the world in evangelism.

On Monday afternoon the last of the union Lenten meetings for the study of the book, "From Jerusalem to Jerusalem" was held in the school hall. These meetings have been well attended and have proved interesting and inspiring, for they have stimulated a fine fellowship among the different missionary societies of the city.

On Wednesday evening the Easter Thank-offering service was held with Mrs. (Judge) Lavell of Kingston, as speaker. Mrs (Dr.) Bishop presided and opened the meeting with the use of the hymn, "When I survey the wondrous cross", followed by the Lord's prayer.

A responsive Easter service prepared by the Literary Department of the W. M. S. presented again the meaning of Easter —the love and the operation of the living Christ in its outflow through the lives of His children to needy ones even to the ends of the earth.



Mrs. McKinnon sang a passion-tide solo with fine interpretation. Mrs. Deroche read an exceedingly interesting letter from Miss Bessie Ketchesan descriptive of last Christmas at the school where she is teaching. A letter of thanks for her part in the Bridge St. Auxiliary had contributed toward the happiness of the Christmas festivities.

Mrs. Lavell spoke on the part the women played through the centuries in the redemptive work of humanity. Glimpses in unknown but none the less effective ways. Reference was made to outstanding women in Hebrew history and during the early days of the Christian Church as well as in the development during the centuries that followed. Mrs. Lavell closed her address with a graphic account of a great convention held in Columbus, Ohio, last October which she had the privilege of attending. This meeting was held to celebrate the sixtieth anniversary of the organization of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church of the United States. Hall with a seating capacity for 5000 people had been reserved for the convention but overflow services had to be conducted for fully 10,000 were present at many of the meetings.

The thank offering was received and dedicated and the meeting closed with the benediction.

Thirteen out of Europe's twenty-seven states are smaller in area compared with only three before the war.

A Modern Hygienic Service

Women can't afford to do without

To millions of women, Kotex, the New and Improved Sanitary Napkins is a hygienic service which they would never think of doing without. For a few pennies, they obtain absolute security and wonderful freedom from worry, not found with old fashioned napkins.

Doctors and nurses urge Kotex because it protects against serious consequences that may easily follow times of hygienic distress.

No embarrassment when buying. Just say Kotex at any drug, dry goods or departmental store. Regular size 60c for box of a dozen. Super-size 75c. Directions in every package.

MADE IN CANADA

KOTEX

Sanitary Napkins

6 Features of the New and Improved Kotex

1. Kotex is soft—a decorative softness, that soon packs into cloding hardness.
2. Kotex is absorbent—you never your mind at ease.
3. Kotex filler—is far lighter and cooler than cotton, yet absorbs 5 times as much.
4. Deodorizes—Kotex is the chemical material used in 50% of Canada's leading hospitals.
5. Deodorizes, safely, thoroughly, by a patented process. It is easily disposed of. No ointment laundry.

Heat is a real test of an electric refrigerator

The surface of the cabinet is so hot it will burn your hand yet the temperature inside is 45°

Come in and see this amazing demonstration. See Frigidaire put to the heat test

No matter how hot the kitchen or the weather, Frigidaire has the surplus power to keep your food safely cold. It has the power to freeze ice cubes and desserts quickly.

Frigidaire insulation keeps the heat out and the cold in . . . reducing operating costs.

Frigidaire Porcelain-on-steel won't peel or blister even when heat is applied direct. Even if your Frigidaire is placed beside the kitchen stove the finish stays beautiful. Frigidaire Porcelain-on-steel is the most permanent refrigerator finish yet discovered.

The mechanical unit is in the bottom where the air is coolest. It operates inexpensively in the warmest room or on the hottest day.

FRIGIDAIRE is sold with a definite guarantee, backed by General Motors.

And still more important to you as a purchaser is the fact that year after year Frigidaire continues to give satisfaction . . . long after the guarantee has expired.

If service should be required it is rendered instantly and without removing the machine from the premises.

this is ONE reason why

3 times

as many Frigidaires are now in use as any other make of electric refrigerator

HIBBARD BROS.

333 Front St. Belleville

APRIL ESCAPADE - - - BY KATHLEEN NORRIS

He turned away and Mary Kate discovered with an obscure satisfaction that her rooms were on the ground floor. Somehow that seemed to make the whole adventure seem safer. Here they were the first a darling bedroom with two low cavern beds of black wood, chests and tables and chairs to match, low lights in little parchment hoods. And opening out of it on one side a sort of piazza affair—room, with wicker chairs and a tiled floor and bare grass-mats pattering against the glowing garden beyond. On the other side were a luxurious dressing-room and bath.

There was another door; a deep closet with hangers. Her eyes shone. On the hangers were this evening wrap the white sport costume of thin silk, with the striped coat, and the creamy satin evening dress, embroidered in pearl roses. On the shelf beneath them stood the creamy satin slippers with their pearl buckles.

In the dressing-table drawers were powder, perfumes, rouge cold cream.

Transparent flesh-colored stockings, and a closed, old-fashioned jewel-case shared the second drawer.

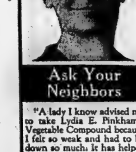
Mary Kate took off her hat and coat and hung them up carefully in the closet. Then she went, quickly to the hall door, and locked it. After that she stood in the center of the room for a moment, panting, her eyes wide open, the fingers of one slim hand at her cheek.

Not a sound anywhere. Or rather, not a disquieting sound. The quiet splash ing of the fountain was audible, through the stillness, and now and then vague voices, that might have come from a neighboring garden, or might have been servants in the kitchen Once a bird screamed harshly; she had seen a parrot, walking suspiciously up and down on a perch, in the patio. Now and then a motor hummed, out of sight on the road, beyond the lawn and the garden trees and shrubs.

Then the fountain again, splash and trickle and splash. And always the soft, incessant patter of the doves.

The sun must be almost gone now; some leaves outside her shuttered win dow were burning blood red.

Mary Kate went back to the dressing table sat down. She took the jewel box in her hands; opened it. Inside lay a triple string of rosy, small pearls held by a diamond clasp. She had never had real pearls in her hands before; she knew these were real.



Lying in the circle of the pearls was a beautiful heavy ring; two great pearls guarding an emerald. This was old-fashioned, too, and the loveller for that. The girl slipped it on: it fitted perfectly.

She put all the jewels back carefully, and began an inspection of the room. Books— they looked fascinating; magazines. When she peeped through her open door she could see nobody— hear no sound. She made a timid little tour of inspection of the lower floor, admiring the patio again, took from the line of magazines that were faced in an overlapping line on a library table one or two for her own amusement.

Back in her own room, the door locked, she removed her dress and shoes, lay reading on her bed, looking at pictures, always with an added sense of excitement and danger running in her veins.

A darling house, and a darling room. Delicious smells everywhere, and especially the fragrance from the white lilacs on her table. There were pens and ink on that one writing table; she smiled idly to think how useless they were to her! There was nobody to whom Mary Kate O'Hara could write a letter paper heavily engraved with the mysterious words. "El Hogar." What did it mean, anyway? That would be a nice, safe question to ask Mr. Bierman when they came back Sunday!

It was twenty minutes to seven, and

"A lady I know advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weakness. I felt so weak and had to lie down so much, it has helped me to gain strength. My appetite is better. My nerves are steadier, and I am able to do all my housework. You may use my name because I think the Vegetable Compound is a good medicine."—Mrs. J. Mc Kibben, 329 Park St., Chatham, Ontario.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

time to dress. By this time to-morrow night she would be at home in Mother's kitchen again, thrilled by her seven adventure, ready to break to Mart the intoxicating news that he might go to Germany with Dr. Van Antwerp if he would!

She ran both water into a pale pink square tub, poured in bath salts, took the fat little cross-stitched cloth from the rack. And what soap!—deliciously scented with violets, and what a luxury of hot water!

Unfamiliar with all the creams, she tried several; she turned her bright head upside down, and brushed her flaming mop until it sparkled like copper wires. She wiped her greasy face on a soft towel and sat at the dressing table, regarding herself thoughtfully.

A first moment of panic smote her. "What on earth am I doing?" Mary Kate said, half-aloud.

The transparent stockings were drawn on; she stepped into the pearl-bucked slippers. The lifted her unexpectedly high; it was a tall girl who looked back at her from the mirror.

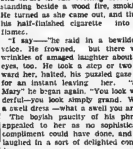
CHAPTER XVI

Her wildly tossed hair was brushed into a shining cap of mahogany satin. The deep ripple of it was low on her white forehead, just above her darkblue eyes, little wisps of glittering red-gold crept out upon her glowing cheeks.

The dress went over her head, descended in a cool ripple of satin, ivory of her shoulders rose from the cloud of ivory of the gown; the skirt stood about her knees in great petals embroidered with pearls. Her budding breasts, slim straightness of body and legs were outlined in the lustrous hues the pearls over her heart rose and sank softly with her sudden, ecstatic breath.

Mary Kate took the old pearl necklace in her fingers, clasped it about the column of her throat. She slipped her finger through the ring. Then she stood up, and looked at herself in the mirror.

"Oh, you Marguerite;;" she said, half-aloud, thrunwilling dimple appeared in her suddenly-curved mouth. The girl in the mirror was like a flame in an alabaster cup. Her cheeks were blazing scarlet, her lips lip crimson, the cream of her modelled brown and throat, her smooth throat and shining bracin ivory white, flawless and soft. Against her pure skin the rosy little petals of the pearls threw opal shadows.



The furred wrap, with its gold and cream quiltings, over her arm, she went out into the now sofuly lighted living-room; Cardinghore, very tall and broad and smart in full evening dress, was standing beside a wood fire, smoking. He turned as she came out, and threw his half-finished cigarette into the flames.

"I say—"he said in a bewildered voice. He frowned, but there were wrinkles of amazed laughter about his eyes, too. He took a step or two toward her, halted, his puzzled gaze not for an instant leaving her. "Say, Mary" he began again. "You look wonderful—you look simply grand. What a swell dress —what a swell you are—"

The boyish gaiety of his phrase appealed to her as no sophisticated compliment could have done, and she laughed in a sort of delighted confusion.

"Isn't it a gorgeous dress?"

"And the pearls—" he said, admiring ly. "Why, they were made for you! They were my Sicyrna grandmother's, and the ring was hers. She gave them to my aunt, Mrs. Florence, and when Aunt Minnie died out here in California last year, she put them in safety deposit for me.

"But honesty—" He was still completely taken by surprise. "You are perfectly lovely!"

"Do you like it?"she Mary Kate repeated. "It may be partly the dress—it was certainly a find," Chris conceded, studying the details of the prettest whole curiously. "But your hair—and your slippers—I didn't realize you were so tall. You're very tall, aren't you?"

"Oh yes.I'm as tall as my brother Martin—I'm nearly as tall as Tom."

"Who's Tom—the fiancee?"

"No; the man I'm going to marry is named Cass Kessling. No; Tom's my younger brother. Tom's seventeen."

"The youngest?"

"Oh, no. Then comes Tess, and then Regina, and Pat—he's the baby."

"And has—Mr. Keating—ever seen you like this?" Chris said in his carelessest way.

She laughed artlessly. "No one's ever seen me like this! I didn't know this creamy color would be so—well, so—"

"Becoming. Why don't you say it?" he asked, as she hesitated.

"Becoming."

"We have ten minutes." Chris told her, motioning toward a chair. She sat down against a high back of old red Spanish embroidered with tarnished bullion. Against it the dazzling purity of hair and skin, and the folds of the ivory gown, shone out with startling beauty.

"Will you smoke?"

"No, thank you."

"Can you?"

"I never tried."

Again the placid, dignified glance from the blue eyes.

"I never have."

"You dance, Mary?"

"Oh—dance!" Her voice was rich with rapture. The man laughed.

"I'm very proud of my wife!" he said, with a sly sidewise glance.

Her color rushed up, but she spoke with composure.

"Now that we've this far into it, it's all right. But all of a sudden it seems to me a perfectly crazy thing to do!"

"I don't know why." There was a little telephone on the table near him, he indicated it idly. "You could call your mother on that, and be talking to her in half a minute."

"Yes, I thought of that!"

"You see, there are lots of things that girls couldn't do, generations ago, that they can do now. For instance, suppose you really were going on a trip from the office," Christopher argued, "and some perfectly personable young man—one who might easily be in love with you, was sent along, too. That situation must be constantly occurring."

"Oh, it is!" Mary Kate agreed eagerly, as he paused. "Young men are more comfortable every minute.

"You and he dine together on the train, perhaps make a trip of several days, at hotels, and on trains," the man pursued, without any answer thinking the less of you!"

"Yes I know. Just the same," Mary Kate said frankly, "if my mother ever gets onto this she'll skin me!"

"She'll never get onto this."

"Not if I can help it!"

"By the way, we were married more than a month ago, Christopher reminded her suddenly. "We'd better settle the date."

She reflected, and he had an opportunity to study unobserved the slim lovely body in the ivory satin, the thoughtfully drooped coppery head, the beauty of the white bar shoulders and bare throat.

"Suppose we say February—twenty-third?" Mary Kate suggested, looking up.

"The day after Washington's birthday."

"We can remember it by that. And where?"

(To Be Continued)

GIRL UNAFRAID

BY

Gladys Johnson

It was cruelly unexpected, that plunge of eyes into eyes. Confusion in Beverly's mind. Ken..... really Ken.....no he was holding a baby! Ken's wife instinctively movement had been to leave. But he remained to be looking at her.

"I didn't expect to see you, Ardeth," he said gently. Just watching by."

"Won't you—come in?" The words seemed to come of their own volition. They were on the stoop, still in that strained attitude. The girl was leaning against the counter. One hand was pressed to her throat, the other was behind her.

"I was too tired to go down to the station to meet you." She spoke with an unpretent effort. "Yesterday was a busy day. And there was the window to dress—"

"You've been—Ill? Had a Start?"

"I saw you," he answered, with the same unnatural gentleness. "I thought for that first time I came in here. When you were in the window with Phyllis Hawkins."

With a fluttering movement of her hands she said with haste. "I've never seen him.

"I thought him to take him out," Ken explained. "I have an idea he doesn't like me. Of course I don't know why they're every young they have likes and dislikes. Sort of starched linen nurse she is; eye like a hawk. Rapacious eye, you know. I know the Colonel here doesn't like her."

"The Colonel.....Something pitifully appealing in the nickname Ken had bestowed upon his son. Nothing to Ardeth. Ken was talking casually about the infant, which looking owlishly back at Ardeth. It was though a little old man peering from behind the small features.

Phyllis Hawkins' words —flashed back to the girl: "The nurse said she pretty nearly killed the poor little brat from the first..... the new nurse had a fair start.....

The Colonel Was Bored

A frail lit'e thing; bones like a macaroni. A cold undertone to the tiny face. The eyes pale blue, with a strange set stare—so unfamiliar to Ardeth found herself thinking.

The resplendent she had known was swept away in a gush of pity. A little cry broke from her. "Such a little bit of thing! Let me—"

She had it in her arms, the baby's stare regarding her brooding. "Did you—bring it to it! Mr. Parker's office? Tis in for myself."

At her nod, he went on. "It wasn't that he wasn't considerate. He's been kind. But—he's a man, that one. Not to stand on my own! To own my own success! I've got to have something of my own!"

Something hadgered in his voice. She looked swiftly up at him. His head was high—not the gay confident air of other days. Defiant. His eyes were angry, bewildered.

He suddenly swam in the mist of her own tears Tears which she tried, always in vain, to check. She saw that he had risen. Was reaching for her.

"Oh..... Ardeth..... sweetheart."

A little cry halted him. A little rrow from the baby. Held in Ardeth's arms, she had been dazzled by the glitter of a tiny chain about her neck. A small wavering hand had at last captured it and a scatter of tiny pearls surmounted the girl as a brooch.

The accident startled them back to themselves. Ken stooped, gathered the scattered beads.

"Really, it doesn't matter," Ardeth protested shily.

Then—Emptiness

When Ken rose he was master of himself again. He made a desperate effort after his self-possession.

"Have to get the Colonel home or he'll be down with a cold," he said. We both thank you—shouldn't have done this I know." A weakness in that which pierced her heart.

"Apologize to the lady, you rascal, for plundering her jewelry!"

They were gone. The little shop was suddenly empty, with only the sunlight slanting in to fall on the mandarin coats and the bright feather fans.

Through the yellow silence Ardeth walked to the back room. She picked up the broken chain and let it drop slowly into a small velvet case.

She knew she would never send it.

(To Be Continued)

Subtle and Distinctive is the Quaker Corn Flakes "Flavour

The flavour of Quaker Corn Flakes is subtle and distinctive. You'll agree it is the finest you have ever tasted in a corn flake. If you do not, we will refund your money.

We print this guarantee on every package. It is backed by the integrity of the world's largest cereal millers. It has appeared on millions of packages of Quaker Corn Flakes.

Crispness and freshness are protected from taint and moisture by the triple-sealed, wax-wrapped package. Quaker Corn Flakes reach you with all their fine, distinctive flavour.

Delicious at breakfast or any other time of day. Serve them with milk or cream, or fresh or cooked fruit. How the children love them!

Get Quaker if you would like to know the best flavour in corn flakes. Then you'll know how good corn flakes can be.

In every package of Quaker cereals is a coupon. With these coupons you can get silverware and other articles for personal or household use. We'll send you the Quaker Premium Book free if you'll write. It offers more than a hundred useful articles. THE QUAKER OATS COMPANY, PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO.

Quaker Corn Flakes

SHE THOUGHT:

"Nice boy—but 'B. O.' makes you impossible."

Yet, to be polite, SHE SAID:

"I'm terribly sorry—but I won't be in any night this week."

Girls liked him at first
.. but couldn't forgive "B.O." (Body Odor)

SHE DID so hate to turn him down again. He was good-looking, agreeable, just the type she liked. But what could she do? "B.O."—body odor. No, she couldn't overlook that.

Fortunately he discovered his fault later and the simple way to correct it. Today he's well liked—welcomed everywhere—engaged to the very girl who once thought him "impossible."

"B.O."—we all need to guard against it! Even in winter our pores give off a quart of odor-causing waste daily. We become so used to this familiar odor that we don't notice it in ourselves. But the least trace of "B.O." is instantly apparent to others.

Yet, it's easy to avoid offending. Just' wash and bathe with Lifebuoy, the delightfully refreshing toilet soap millions love. Rich, abundant, penetrating antiseptic lather purifies pores—quickly, ends "B.O." Its pleasant, extra-clean scent, that vanishes as you rinse, tells you Lifebuoy purifies!

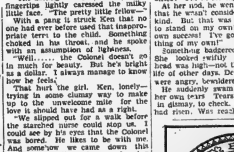
Wonderful for complexions

Thousands of women depend on Lifebuoy — and Lifebuoy alone — to keep their complexions fresh, clear and radiant with health-beauty. Try it. See how quickly its purifying lather freshens dull, tired skins. Adopt Lifebuoy today.

Lifebuoy HEALTH SOAP

stops body odor

FREE—Try Lifebuoy Shaving Cream—It's NEW



This new cream contains Lifebuoy's famous health ingredient. Its double dense, antiseptic lather lubricates the skin—soothes the first razor face — gives you the quickest, easiest shave you ever had. We will send you free a full size 35c tube for a thorough trial. All you need to do is

BUY 2 CAKES OF LIFEBUOY SOAP, TODAY

Cut the front panel from each of the three cartons, mail them to us and we will send you the tube free. (Only one free tube to each family). Lever Brothers Limited, Dept. 56, Toronto, Ontario.

THIS FREE OFFER NOT GOOD AFTER MAY 1st, 1930

LB 349

"Greatest Kidney Remedy on Earth"

Is Mr. W. S. Hawkins' emphatic statement of Gin Pills. His letter, from New York, goes on to say: "I have been using them for years."

Gin Pills have a soothing, tonic effect upon your kidneys and will prevent painful, expensive ailments such as Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago. Get a 50c box of Gin Pills from your druggist.

193

National Drug & Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited, Toronto, Canada

TWENTY PAGES

The Ontario Intelligencer

Fresh to strong northwest winds, mostly fair and cold today and Friday, local snowflurries

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, THURSDAY, APRIL 24, 1930.

Spread of Rioting Over Widespread Area

CONDITION IN INDIA VERY GRAVE

Bombay Held By British And The Gurkha Troops

TRIBESMEN THREAT

Serious Rioting And Fighting With Troops In Wide Areas

BOMBAY, April 24 (CP)—British authority in India was confronted with increasingly grave situation today, with the spread of the anti-government movement. Serious rioting and fighting with troops was reported in widely separated sections of empire.

British and Gurkha troops during the night took absolute charge of the city and were said to be maintaining a strong guard at the gates to prevent incursions by hill tribesmen, who are of far different fighting stock from the Hindus and who swarm down when there are disturbances with the hope of loot.

Speaker Resigns

SIMLA, April 24 (CP)— It was stated today that V. J. Pattel, speaker of the Legislative Assembly, has tendered his resignation to Viceroy Lord Irwin but that his letter has not yet been released for publication. Pattel's resignation was believed due to disagreement with the government of India over the treatment of Indian political prisoners.

British and Gurkha Troops Holding City of Bombay

NOTED BRITISH SCIENTIST KEEP'S FIT

Sir Oliver Lodge, famous scientist, pulling at the weights in his home at Normanton, England. Although he is seventy-eight years of age, Sir Oliver has the appearance of one much younger due to his exercising regime. This prominent man is known for his efforts in making seemingly difficult scientific problems so simple that the ordinary men can understand them.

DELAYS TRIP OWING TO GANDHI

Governor Frederick Sykes of Bombay, India, has postponed his trip to Bahableswar during the hot spell because of the new rioting and uprisings among the Hindus. It is considered quite likely that the riots in Calcutta will spread, now that Gandhi's followers have taken to violence.

ICE CREAM SOCIAL

The home of Mrs. Blakely, 29 Moira street, was the scene of a delightful ice cream social yesterday afternoon, under the auspices of the Tabernacle Women's Auxiliary. The affair was attended by a large gathering and a good sum was realized. The rooms were prettily decorated with spring flowers. Mrs. Blakely received the guests. During the afternoon a solo by Miss Newson and a recitation by Miss Noyes were much appreciated.

MRS. EDITH A. SHAW SUCCUMBS

Sister of Miss E. Gardiner Dies at Daytona Beach, Florida

Word was received on April 22nd, that Mrs. Edith A. Shaw, widow of the late Rev. Dr. Shaw, had just died of angina pectoris at the home of her son-in-law, Rev. H. O. Walker, rector of the Episcopal Church at Daytona Beach, Fla.

The burial will take place at Duluth Minn., where her husband is interred and where her oldest son resides. Mrs. Shaw is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Walker of Daytona Beach, and Mrs. E. A. Davis of Seattle, Wash., and two sons, Harold I. Shaw of Duluth and W. N. Shaw of Fargo, N.D.

Mrs. Shaw spent three months visiting the winter of 1929 with her only surviving sister, Ella Gardiner. She was born in Napanee and spent years in Belleville and the vicinity.

VETERANS WILL DISCUSS ARCHES

Have Been Asked to Express Opinion on Memorial Proposal

All returned men are invited to be present at a general meeting tonight at the Memorial Hall, when the project to place memorial arches at the entrances to the new bridge to be constructed will be fully discussed. At the general meeting of citizens on Tuesday night it was suggested that the returned men advance to the meeting their idea of a memorial and this meeting tonight has been called for that purpose.

The returned men, it is said, are of the opinion they should not be consulted in the matter as the erecting of a memorial should be carried out by the citizens, for whom the men served that all should live in peace and contentment. But since they have asked to express an opinion they are willing to give the matter their fullest consideration.

ADEQUATE FIRE PROTECTION IS DEMANDED HERE

Fire Inspectors Inspect Conditions on Front Street

PUMPER NEEDED

Fire Escapes Will Be Required On Number of Buildings

Every three storey building in Belleville in which people are living, particularly on Front street, will have to have adequate fire protection in future, Messrs. W. L. Chalmers, and L. J. Bishop stated to The Ontario Intelligencer today. The two fire marshals who were in Belleville making tours of inspection last week and will be working here again next week.

"We have no wish," they said, "to alarm the citizens of Belleville unduly We do not wish any "scare-head" headlines in the press, but Belleville has been extremely fortunate in the last few years with regard to any serious fires breaking out in the downtown section."

It would be unfortunate they said if a fire of serious proportions should break out on Front street. In the first place although there is sufficient fire-fighting personnel, there is a lack of adequate fire equipment. There are four fire-fighting trucks divided between two departments at present, including the new huge ladder truck. But the department is without one of the most essential pieces of apparatus a pumper. All pressure on the hose must come directly from the mains and if a fire should break out downtown and the mains were broken, where would the water come from? They asked. With a pumper all pressure is relieved the mains, the machine taking the water from the hydrants and itself forcing the pressure into the hose. In event of a fire of serious proportions pressure could be taken from the mains and the pumper could also supply pressure from the river, which would give two sources of power.

The fire marshals were decidedly emphatic in their opinions regarding the diagonal parking of autos present in vogue. "With your narrow streets," they stated, "and if there were any sort of a number of cars parked on the main street, (which there is ahop) fourteen hours a day) the fire department would not stand a chance."

The congestion, as the police tried to clear the streets, would be terrible. This summer, with the lower bridge closed, matters will be worse. There are few side streets leading from Front street into which traffic can be diverted it was pointed out.

Strict Inspection

Belleville is being given a thorough overhauling by the fire marshals. Certain tenants on Front street have been given to understand in terms that their premises will have to be cleared up. There are a number of old buildings on the main artery which are considered veritable fire traps, with "wells" running up the centre of them through which smoke and flames would pour in case of fire. Many business buildings have only one exit, and on these fire escapes will have to provided. Narrow stairways might be a hindrance as tenants tried to escape from fire.

Another piece of fire-fighting equipment that is needed in the core is a life net. The city has never possessed one. The firemen, too, have no property of their own upon which they may practise fire-drill with the ladder truck. They have to use someons else's.

U. S. Allow Only 80,000 Annually

Washington, April 24 (CP)—The Senate today voted to cut down immigration from Europe to the United States from 150,000 annually to 82,000.

CALLS ONTARIO DRIEST OF ALL OUR PROVINCES

Wartime Prohibition Brought Substitutes Says Sir Henry Drayton

ON STAND IN N.Y.

Washington, April 24.—Sir Henry Drayton, Chairman of the Ontario Liquor Control Board, outlined the Provincial Liquor Control System before the House Judiciary Committee.

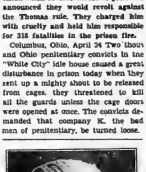
The committee heard a description of the Ontario Control System from Sir Henry, who prefaced his testimony by explaining that he came at the request of the Committee. He had been invited, he said, after a dry witness, former Premier E. C. Drury, of Ontario, had attacked the Ontario plan. Sir Henry said, however that he had done no answer no one and that he occupied a position of neutrality.

During the war period there was a scarcity of food, and prohibition was enacted. He added that during the war prohibition worked well and that in 1919, when a vote was taken, prohibition sustained 68 per cent. of the votes cast. In 1923 another vote gave prohibition 51 per cent. A third start, "swamp whiskey," he continued. "We had all kinds of substitutes. There was growing use of liquors. Those were the things that caused change. People found that prohibition did not prohibit.

"People then adopted the liquor control plan," he said, "as a more effective thing than prohibition. The worst thing under prohibition, and I am only speaking for us, was that temperance education ceased. It became a matter of government control. Legislative force succeeded the campaign for moral prohibition.

"Unfortunately legislative force did not help us. It may work for some people."

Sir Henry pointed out the amount of distilled liquor released in Canada for consumption in 1921 was 6,9.2,20 gallons for a population of 7,867,000. In 1923 the amount released was 4,223,119 gallons for a population of 9,660,000.



2000 CONVICTS THREATEN TO KILL GUARDS UNLESS RELEASED

"Badmen" In Outfit Said They Did Not Want To Be Loose

MAY USE SOLDIERS.

Columbus, Ohio, April 24 (CP)—Attorney General Gilbert Gettman left Ohio penitentiary hastily this afternoon to confer with Governor Cooper on a proposal to temporarily suspend Preston Thomas as warden. Action was taken when several thousand prisoners announced they would revolt against the Thomas rule. They charged him with cruelty and hold him responsible for 315 fatalities in the prison fire.

Columbus, Ohio, April 24 Two thousand Ohio penitentiary convicts in the "While City" idle house caused a great disturbance in prison today when they rent up a mighty shout to be released from cages, they threatened to kill all the guards unless the cage doors were opened at once. The convicts demanded that company K the bad men of penitentiary, be turned loose.

PRINCIPAL P. C. MacLAURIN of Belleville Collegiate and Vocational School was yesterday elected president of the Natural Science section of the Ontario Educational Association meeting at Toronto.

FAIR BOARD OFFICIALS STEP LIGHT FANTASTIC

Officials of the Belleville Agricultural Society with members of their time the event taking place in the families last evening, enjoyed a social Armouries. Card playing was indulged in for some time after which dancing was indulged in. Appropriate music for the dances was provided by the Baxter Orchestra. Miss Kathleen Harris executed some solo dances and also recitations to the delight of all present. Later in the evening dainty refreshments were served.

Previous to the social gathering a brief business meeting was held when some routine matters were considered. The evening proved to be one of rare enjoyment and it also had the effect of bringing together the officials of the Board, who are doing all in their power to make the fair of 1930 the best in the history of the Association. Mr. C. E. Hanna, ex-M.P. and President of the Society was a leader of the event.

MANY TENDERS ON CITY FILTER

Twenty-Eight Firms Said To Have Tried Tenders— Opened Tonight

The tenders for the new filtration plant will be opened tonight at a regular meeting of the civic committee in the mayor's office in the city hall. The documents will be opened initialled and forwarded to the consulting engineers, Gore, Nasmith and Storrie, Toronto, for approval. It is understood that twenty-eight firms have tendered for the job some from England and the plant when completed will be one of the finest in Canada. It will be similar to a filtration system recently installed in the city of Ottawa.

Control of Light

Mayor George A. Reid stated to The Ontario Intelligencer today that in order to avoid possible confusion at the corner of Bridge and Front streets in case of the fire department being called out, plans are underway to inaugurate a system to control the traffic at that point. A hall will install until the lights have passed. The opinion was expressed at a recent meeting of the city council that some immediate action should be taken to avoid possible accidents during a time of fire.

IL DUCE'S DAUGHTER WED TO COUNT TODAY

ROME, April 24.—(CP)— Benito Mussolini, premier and dictator of Italy, today gave his daughter Edda in marriage to Count Galeazzo Ciano, secretary of the Italian embassy at the Holy See and son of the minister of Communications. The Church of St. Joseph's which is Il Duce's parish church, was crowded with dignitaries. It was decorated for the occasion with beautiful tapestries from the Capitoline Palace and with palm flowers.

DIRIGIBLE R-100 DAMAGED TODAY LEAVING SHED

London, April 24 (CP)—It was reported from Cardington that the huge British dirigible R-100 was damaged while being brought out of the shed today, one of her starboard fins catching against the side of the shed and buckling slightly.

STOCK MARKETS

Jamieson Bone & Co., by direct wire from F. O'Hara & Company.

New York was somewhat irregular today but a number of stocks were a good deal firmer, notably Radio, Radio-Keith, and some of the Utilities. Noranda made a low at 52.25 and Nickel $36.50-both firming later. Grain prices were weak and the news somewhat bearish. Quotations at 3 p.m. were

New York

Anaconda 54; Can. Can. 148 5-8; C.P.R. 20¾; Chrysler 38 1-8; Col. Gas, 62; Cons. Gas, 133; Gen. Elec. 90 1-8; Gen. Motors 59 1-2; Hudson, 47 1-2; Kennecott 47 1-2; Radio 68 1-2; E.O.N.J. 82 5-8; Stewart Warner 42 1-4; West. Elec. 185 1-2; U. S. Steel 199 3-4; Radio Keith 49; Paramount 7, 1-2; Natl. Air. Trans. 23 1-2; Ung. Gas. Improv. 47 1-2; Comw. Southn. 16 7-8.

Abana 30; Amulet 1.52; Ajax 1.47; Base Metals 2.90; Dome 9.10; Falconbridge 3.10; Hollinger 6.65; Hoag Oil "75; Howey 67; Hudson's Bay 9.00; International Nickel 37.75; Lake Shore 23.25; McIntyre 19.25; Mining Corp. 1.94; NoFanda 22.00; Pend Oreille 1.56; Sherritt Gordon 1.91; Sudbury Basin 2.45; Teck Hughes 6.40; Ventures 1.50; Vipond 96; Wright Hargreaves 1.97.

Toronto

B. A. Oil 49 1-2; Imp. Oil 38 1-4; Intl. Petr 22; Bell. Tel. 124; Brazilian 54 1-8; Ford A. 37 1-2; Fam. Players 53 3-4; Ind. Alco. 8 1-2; Walkers 12 3-4; Massey Harris 28.

Toronto

B. A. Oil 49 1-2; Imp. Oil 38 1-4; Intl. Petr 22; Bell. Tel. 124; Brazilian 54 1-8; Ford A. 37 1-2; Fam. Players 53 3-4; Ind. Alco. 8 1-2; Walkers 12 3-4; Massey Harris 28.

HILLIER BOY'S HAND MANGLED BY GRIND STONE

Ten Year Old Douglas Palmer Was Badly Injured Late Yesterday

THUMB AMPUTATED

Physicians Will Be Able To Save Fingers of Hand

Hillier, April 24 (Special to Ontario Intelligencer)—Douglas Palmer ten year old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Palmer, is in the Belleville General Hospital today suffering from serious injuries the result of a peculiar accident yesterday afternoon at four o'clock. Earl Cassidy and Fay Palmer were operating a grindstone and young Palmer was sitting on one side assisting with the shaft. In some manner his left hand was drawn into the apparatus and before the machine could be halted, it was horribly mangled. He was rendered first aid by Mrs. Charles Cassidy and was then taken to Belleville where Dr. Stobie operated on the young patient who was suffering considerable pain. It was found necessary to amputate the thumb of the hand although physicians will be able to save the fingers. Douglas is a pupil at Hillier public school and the community was shocked to learn of his misfortune.

GIRLS' AUXILIARY

The Girls' auxiliary of the Women's Missionary Society of Christ church held a very successful and delightful afternoon tea and sale of homecooking yesterday from three to six at the Christ church rectory. The rooms were beautifully decorated with spring flowers in shades of yellow and mauve. The table decorations carried out the same color scheme. Mrs. Vandevoort Mrs. Clarke and Mrs. Coulter graciously received the guests. The girls of the society served tea and the homecooking table, laden with good things to eat, was in charge of Miss Bessie Thomas. A large attendance turned out at the enjoyable affair and a good sum was realized.

CONDITION SERIOUS

Mr. Don G. Bleecker, who has been critically ill at his home East Moira street, has contracted pneumonia and his condition is dangerous.

N. Y. Curb

Elec. Bond Share 118; Niagara Hudson 24; Un. Gas. Co. 41 3-8; Ward Baking B. 10 3-8.

Toronto

Wheat, Winnipeg, July $1.11 3-8; Oct. $1.14 1-8. Chicago, July $1.07 1-8; Sept. $1.10 3-4.

Coming Events

EMMANUEL CHURCH RUMMAGE sale, Saturday, April 26th, in the Lower Hall. Doors open at 2.30 p.m. Donations will be called for. Phone 873. 4th-3rd

DUTCH LUNCH SERVED FROM 5 to 7, also afternoon tea from 3 to 5 at Christ Church Parish Hall on Thursday, May 1st. Home-cooking. Auspices Christ Church Parish Guild. 4th-1st

ON FRIDAY NIGHT, APRIL 25, AT 7.30 p.m., the Albert College Annual Oratorical Contest will be held in the Bridge Street Church, during this two one-act plays, "The Rehearsal" and "The Bishop's Candlesticks" will be presented by the students. Admission 50c. Everybody invited. 4th-1st

ALL EX-SERVICE MEN, WIVES and deceased men's relatives are invited to attend a meeting at Memorial Hall, Thursday, April 24th, at 8 p.m. re war memorial. 23-2t

RUMMAGE SALE SATURDAY EVENING, April 26th, at Bridge Street East (formerly Ellis' Grocery) Good bargains. Doors open 7 p.m. 23-3t

EUCHRE AND DANCE, MEMORIAL Hall, Friday, April 25th. Cards 8 to 10. Dancing 10 to 1. Good prizes also spot and special door prizes. Refreshments. Admission 50c. Everybody welcome. 23-2t

Here to stay!

20 FOR 20¢

BRUNETTE

5¢ LESS

and just as good

OSHAWA SENIORS WILL BE STRONG

General Motors to Have Team In Central Ontario League

Oshawa, April 24.—At an organization meeting held here last night baseball fans of this city have practically decided to enter a team in the senior series of the O.B.L., the popular lakeshore group. At the meeting practically a score of fans and players were enthusiastic over the team's chances here this year and looked forward to a splendid season with a well matched group. Kingston this year has taken the place of the Deloro Smelters and the group will consist of Oshawa, Kingston, Peterboro and Belleville. The meeting last night decided to send representatives to the annual O.B.L. meeting to be held in Belleville on Saturday and there is little doubt that Oshawa will be represented when the season opens.

A resume of the playing strength here for this season shows that last year's powerful outfit is practically intact with the exception of Osborne, who has taken up pro hockey. To offset this are several smart players from last year's intermediate team who are ready to make the jump to senior company and will undoubtedly bolster up the squad.

The Arabs, independent intermediate entry are now, with the decision to enter a senior club practically assured a rather unknown quantity. It is known that they not expecting a senior squad have signed a number of smart players and whether they will relinquish these to the seniors and go out of existence or whether they will continue in the intermediate series is unknown. Close co-operation exists between the two teams and there is no question of friction.

The officers of the senior club for the year as drawn up last night are as follows: President, Wm. Gamble. Second Vice-President, J. B. Kilduff; Treasurer, C. Cumming; Secretary, Scott Rubsell; Executive, W. L. Mitchell, H. Bartter, M. Jacklin, C. Richards, Theo Elliott, H. Sheridan, E. F. Cawker; Honorary Presidents, W. A. Coad, R. W. Millichamp, J. J. Callaghan, Alex Storie, E. W. Drew; Honorary Vice-Presidents, J. Welsh, Dr. Phillips, Dr. Truan, M. Bouckley, Ernie Marks.

BOOST LACROSSE IN PETERBORO

Famous Old Game Is Enjoying Revival In Lift Lock City

Peterboro, April 24.—The lacrosse enthusiasts in the city are marshalling their forces in preparation for early practices and training. A survey of the material at hand brought out the fact that there were more than sufficient players to form a team.

The senior C.G.E. Athletic Association went to considerable expense in purchasing sticks and paraphernalia and the Electric's effort was enough to re-awaken considerable interest in the game.

Lacrosse seems to be enjoying a great revival in this district. Port Hope fielded a fast outfit of youngsters last year, and Millbrook had a team of veterans and juniors. Campbellford has always maintained its position as a lacrosse stronghold. All of these clubs are busily organized for this season's campaign. Adding to the interest, is the promise of a four-team intermediate league comprising these three centres and Peterborough.

Practices will be called almost immediately for Sacred Heart grounds. Doug. Miller is acting as manager and he seems to be taking seriously his duties.

The following players are asked to dust off their gutted sticks and be prepared to turn out with the squad at an early date: Jack McDonald, Bud Fisher, Ira Dundas, Lou Labarr, Pete King, Eddie Foley, Jack Kilgran, "Slim" Price, Fred, Goodfellow, "Shocky" Mein, Doug. Hanlon, Mark Swanger, Eddie Williams, Charlie Rancey, Joe Meyette, John Ward, Joe Jones, Eugene Donoval, Fred Meagher and Palmer.

Eastertide at Madoc Junction

MADOC JUNCTION, April 23.—By Mail)—"Some cruds have Easter all the year.

Each day within the grave there lies, Some hope of joys that seemed so near Or dreams of earthly paradise— And as they mourn beside the tomb, An angel rolls the stone away Bright Easter rays the clouds illume And to the resurrection day.

Let lilies bloom and censers sway And sing your anthems sweet and clear They wait not any hour or day Their souls hear Easter all the year— Upon the grave of every sin There grows a lily pure and white Whenever self is lost to sight. Theirs, love which cannot be stifled by death or hate or narrow creed Thy spirit yet shall rule; be And Christ be Risen indeed."

Some of our people attended the Easter Service at Foxboro, Sunday evening and report an inspiring sermon by Rev. Mr. Snell, also inspiring solos and numbers by the choir during the service. A number from Canniffton and Marsh Hill circuit assisted the choir. The text was taken from 1 Cor. 5 and 14—"And if Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vain and your faith is vain". This chapter was also read as Scripture lesson during the service. The pastor paid tribute to the work of the W.M.S. Seats were reserved for the members and members acted as ushers.

Lovely Easter weather and good roads made motoring a pleasure for those who were fortunate enough to have a holiday.

The school children and their teacher are having their Easter holidays. Miss Imrey left on Thursday to spend Easter with her parents.

Mr. Hiram Ashley was married one day last week and returned with his bride the same evening. His friends are congratulating him as a lucky bridegroom.

Miss Hazel Danford is visiting friends north of Madoc.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Prest entertained friends from Ottawa for the Easter holidays.

Miss Mary Pitchett of Toronto and Mr. and Mrs. Pitchett of Stirling were among the Easter visitors here Mrs. Pitchett expects to remain for some time with her daughter-in-law, who is expected home from the hospital this week.

At League on Friday evening the programme was an Easter and Missionary combined—readings were given by Leonard Waterfall, Carl Olson,

MR. ERNEST PAHEY newly elected President of the Belleville branch of the Victorian Order of Nurses.

Billie McMullen, Keitha Stapley, and Helen McMullen. A contest was put on by Margaret Dunford. Mrs. Andrew's missionary Vice President opened the meeting with the hymn "Jesus Keep me Near the Cross" and Scripture lesson by Mr. O. Stapley.

Others items on the programme were songs by the boys and girls. Miss Dorothy McMullen presided at the organ.

Mr. and Mrs. Clay entertained Easter visitors on Good Friday.

Miss Dorothy Juby and sisters Winnie and Eunice spent Easter Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Burns, Ridge Road.

In looking over the items no mention has been made of the names of Mrs. R. and Mrs. O. Stapley who also took part on the Easter programme at League on Friday evening.

Prince Edward Liberals Ready

A meeting of the Liberals of the Lennox section of the Prince Edward-Lennox constituency was held in Napanee. All the townships in the riding were well represented as well as a number from Prince Edward County. In the absence of Mr. Carlton Woods, President of the Lennox Liberal Association, Mr. Chas. Anderson, of Selby, was elected chairman. The following officers were elected:

President—J. W. Clark, Reeve of North Fredericksburgh.

Vice-President—Fred Allison, Adolphustown.

Secretary—E. J. Pillard, Napanee.

Treasurer—W. R. Lott, Napanee.

Executive Committee—Allan Hitchman, Stella; Ezekiel Rose, Richmond; Thos. Craven, South Fredericksburgh, with the above officers.

WALKER NOW UMPIRE

"Dix" Walker, former major league pitcher, will be an umpire in the Carlton Skates League this year.

SPRING DAYS

are new-life days

Now that the body is bounding into new life after the shut-in-days of winter—don't load it down with heavy, indigestible foods. Shredded Wheat is the energy-food that supplies the vital food elements of the whole wheat grain in a digestible form—vitamins, mineral salts and proteins. Eat it with milk for breakfast and see how it carries you through the forenoon without fatigue.

SHREDDED WHEAT

WITH ALL THE BRAN OF THE WHOLE WHEAT

THE CANADIAN SHREDDED WHEAT COMPANY, LTD.

For SPRING

The well dressed woman will want smartly styled footwear . . . Agnew-Surpass are the accepted style leaders . . . we are justly proud of our 1930 models . . . there's real joy in store for you here for these swanky creations are at the accustomed economical Agnew-Surpass prices.

Orient FULL - FASHIONED Silk Hosiery

The finest in hosiery, in new shades to match the spring fabrics with the new Art Moderne heel.

$1.50 to $2.00

Style Note

SILK-KID, a new dull finish on black kid is finding much favor, while the new tones of Almora, Suntan and Beige Claire are strong favorites present in new shades are popular Patent, as ever, plays a very important part in the style parade. Appliques of contrasting shades add zest to many models.

Heels are higher and include many new shapes.

Pumps, straps and ties are favored in the order named.

A. Choice of beige claire, kid or patent with woven trimmings of contrasting color, priced at

$3.98

B. Decidedly smart color combinations, patent or beige claire with almond and suntan trimmings. Widths A to C.

$5.00

C. Silk kid, nile green and suntan kid with genuine watersnake trim; a decidedly smart model. Sizes and widths. Priced at $6.00

Children's Shoes

HAVE ever been a feature of all Agnew-Surpass Stores . . . There's a galaxy of smart models for the little ones . . . Perfect fitting lasts to care for growing feet.

Chic Straps For Girls

Attractive cut-out patterns with imitation reptile trimmings. Made on approved children's lasts. A real range of styles to choose from.

$1.25 to $3.00

Mannish Boys' Oxfords

Duplicates of dad's shoes; stout welt soles, neat stitched patterns, rubber heels. They're the best value shoes we've ever offered.

$2.75 to $4.00

Factory to Foot

AGNEW-SURPASS SHOE STORES, LTD.

"Canada's Greatest Chain Shoe Stores"

252 FRONT ST.—Phone 2082

Saves You Money

ARNOLD'S MARKETS

Wise Old Owl Says—

"Save Without Sacrificing Quality"

Thrifty housewives have discovered that it pays in many dollars saved every month to take advantage of our every day quality values. Compare these specials and see why buying here is buying wisely!

YOUNG ONTARIO LAMB

CHOICE, TENDER and FLAVORY

Legs of Lamb	Loins of Lamb	Fronts of Lamb
lb. 33¢	lb. 27¢	lb. 19¢

Fresh Pork Shoulders lb. 19¢

COTTAGE ROLLS lb. 26¢

Jellied Veal Sliced, lb. 45¢

Fray Bentos Sliced, lb. 29¢

Arnold's Pure LARD

1 lb. Cartons 15¢

3 lb. Pails 49¢

FISH

Smoked Haddies, lb. 14¢

Cohoe Salmon, By the piece lb. 25¢

Fresh Perch . . . . lb. 10¢

Fresh Halibut, Slices lb. 30¢

Bijou Fillets, Smoked lb. 18¢

Smk. Kippers, Pair . . . 12½¢

COTTAGE BRAND CREAMERY BUTTER 2 lbs. 71¢

Aylmer Tomato Week

Tomatoes, Standard 2's 3 Tins 29¢

Aylmer Soups Assorted 3 Tins 27¢ except Chicken and Chicken with Rice

Aylmer Pork & Beans 2's 2 Tins 19¢

Aylmer Corn GOLDEN BANTAM 2's 2 Tins 31¢

Aylmer Choice Corn 2's 2 Tins 29¢

Franco Brand Peas 1's 2 Tins 19¢

Aylmer Diced Carrots 2's 2 Tins 25¢

Aylmer Apple Sauce 2's Tin 15¢

Millionaire Sardines Tin 16¢

Arnold's Dinner Blend Coffee lb. 44¢

Libby's Saurkraut 2½'s Tin 14¢

Sunera Cereal Pkg. 23¢

Arnold's Red Label Tea ¼'s lb. 55¢

Fancy Lobster ¼'s 23¢ ½'s 39¢

Chateau Cheese Pasteurized ½'s pkg. 19¢

Sweet Juicy Oranges Doz. 30c

Large Grapefruit, Each 10c

Extra Lrg. Lemons, Dozen 25c

Crisp Celery, Lrg. Bunch 15c

New Carrots 2 Lrg. Bnchs. 19c

Ice Head Lettuce 2 Lrg. hds 21c

Leaf Lettuce, Bunch 5c

Fresh Daily

Arnold's All Canadian Markets

Give Your Children

BOVRIL

and Build up Their Strength

SPRING'S cleaning time!

BRIGHTEN UP YOUR HOME FOR SPRINGTIME!

Wash Up—Paint Up—Clean Up. It's easy and inexpensive with these helps.

To Give a Velvet-Like Finish to Floors and Furniture.

MURESCO — WALKER PAINTS
ALABASTINE — UTILAC
Cleaning Aids of All Kinds

Walker Hardware

248 FRONT ST.

Men's Suits

—showing a wide range of materials, in plain, striped or checked patterns, and dressy models.
Priced from ..... 17.00 — 35.00

Topcoats

—in herringbone, checks or, snappy tweeds, in Guard or ever-popular Slip-On models.
Priced ..... 13.50 — 24.00

Boys' Suits

—in Serge, Worsted or Smart Tweed, with 2 Pairs Pants.
Priced from ..... 8.00 — 19.00

Golf Sweater Sets

—New Spring Patterns, in Fine, All-Wool Sets, including Hose to match.
Priced ..... 5.00 — 5.50

Pullover Sweaters

—a very attractive range of Pullovers, in new patterns and colors.
Priced ..... 3.50 — 5.00

Oak Hall

J. G. SHAW, PROP.

Paint 79c quart

This is a Good Covering Paint, at a Cheap Price.

Varnish 1.15 quart

Keeps its Gloss and Lasts for Years

Those who use Lowe's Paint once, always come back again. Try it yourself this Spring.

DOLAN the Druggist

Phone 138

Dorkmen have installed an elevator in the Victorian Tower of Windsor Castle.

In Baltimore there is a monument to Adam.

The United States navy's new volatic detector will be used to trace southern storms.

Tiny two seater automobiles are the rage in Paris.

Easter Services Well Attended

"Madoc, April 24 (By Mail).—Easter day services were held in all the village Churches on Easter Sunday. All the Churches were beautifully with flowers, and special Easter music.

In the Anglican Church: services were held both morning and evening. Having laid aside her shades of mourning the church looked lovely in her Easter dress. The altar was beautiful with white carnations, white tulips and daffodils, while pulpit, reading desk and lectern were surrounded with tall white lilies, daffodils, red tulips and roses. Flowers were sent by Miss J. Aylesworth in loving memory of Mrs. Elizabeth Aylesworth, and by Mrs. B. M. Spury of Moomdeville, and Mrs. T. L. Nickle in loving memory of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Spurr. Tall potted lilies were used to soften various niches in the nave.

Besides the Celebration of the Holy Communion, the Rector, Rev. P. G. Reynolds, preached in his own forceful way, taking as his subject, "How is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first fruits of them that slept." During the Offertory, Miss I. Hart played an Extract from Handel (Terrars' Largo). The Introductory Anthem was "Alleluia, Christ is Risen," (Caleb Semper), and the Postlude was "Easter Joy."

Evening Song was sung at seven o'clock, and was Easter in the character of Hymns, Psalms and Scripture Readings, for which Isaiah's Prophecy, and the sixth chapter of Paul's letter to the Romans were chosen. The sermon was a continuation of the morning theme, from 1 Cor. 15:20, and the conclusion of the Easter message showing the reverse side. "How is Christ risen from the dead and become the first fruits of them that slept." This is the Christian's Resurrection-Day with break—with the morn. those angel faces smile, which we have loved long since and lost awhile. Good Friday's gloom is succeeded by Easter's triumph.

"Now is Christ Risen." "Even so in Christ shall all be made alive." But read it now, Christ is not risen then God help us all. Our preaching is vain. Ye are yet in your sins. Your faith is vain. Your whole life is useless. The same faith that teaches you that Christ is risen, teaches you to expect forgiveness of your sins—so with no faith there is no forgiveness. And, worse yet, if Christ be not risen, then also that have fallen asleep in Christ, have perished. You've been living in hope that they have but gone on a little way ahead, and that each day has brought you a little nearer reunion, but all that has changed. They that sleep in Christ have perished. Could you call those graves, or lay your flowers? But Nature herself contradicts that. God's best workman—alone to perish? Better never to have been born. This is but a most painful picture, a horrible dream. We wake to a bright and glorious fact: Christ is risen; they who saw Him and talked to Him bear record. The sting of death is gone. We turn to our triumphant—the christ of the empty tomb—the Risen Christ. "Thanks be to God for His unspeakable gift."

During the Offertory, "Come Gentle Spring" (Hayden) was played, after which the service reached its climax in the Hymn. "Rejoice, the Lord is King," which was followed by the Benediction, and the Vesper Hymn, "Lord keep us safe this night," and the Postlude, "Easter Joy."

In Trinity United Church, beautiful Easter lilies gave a festive air to the Church. The morning service was opened by the Processional Hymn, "The Strife is O'er, the Victory Won," followed by the Invocation. The Hymn, "O Day of Resurrection," and Responsive Psalm 16, was succeeded by the reading of the Easter Lesson, "The First Easter Morn."

After the Prayer by Rev. G. W. Rivers, the Lord's Prayer was sung in unison. The Anthem by the Choir was "The Lord is Risen today," with Mrs. G. White taking the solo part. After the Offertory, Miss Marion Henderson of Whitby rendered a beautiful solo, "Jesus of Nazareth, Hail." The talk to the boys and girls was based on the reasons for Easter gladness and eggs as the Symbol of the Resurrection.

After the Hymn, "Hail the day that sees Him rise," the sermon followed, with its message from Luke 24:31 "Their eyes were opened, and they knew Him." The Sabbath day's journey to Emmaus.

The Anthem, "Gladness o'er the Earth was spread, Hallelujah," with a male quartette. The Hymn "Hail, thou once despised Jesus," and the Benediction closed the service.

The evening service was preceded by an Organ Recital and special music chosen to give the Easter thought. The message was "Thomas-Faith and Ours," and the service closed with Benediction and Vesper Hymn.

At St. Peter's Church the service was carried through with special Easter music and Hymns and with the Easter floral decorations the message of the "Significance of the Empty Tomb" all carried out the Easter Day thought of Triumph and Victory. The Choir of St. Peter's Church went to Tyrone in the afternoon to assist Rev. T. G. Marshall and the Tweed Congregation in their afternoon service and to render special Easter Anthems.

Stirling

STIRLING, April 23.—(By Mail) — Mr. Cecil Wait of Toronto spent Easter with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. P. Wait.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hatton, Betty and Bob, are spending the Easter vacation with Councillor S. H. and Mrs. Hatton, Mr. L. Meiklejohn and Miss Wescott.

Miss Irene Bailey of Queen's University spent Easter Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bailey.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Macklin spent Easter at Mrs. Macklin's home in Cobourg.

Mr. L. Hazel Cooke went to Toronto on Saturday to attend the Teachers' Convention which begins on Tuesday.

Miss Marjorie Whitton, who has been ill at her grandmother's Mrs. Robert Fletcher, is improving rapidly. Mrs. Alex. Morton who has been ill, is able to be about again.

Mrs. Bissonnette, Miss Hume, Mrs. W. Martin, Messrs. Hume and D. F. Bissonnette attended the funeral at Burnbrae on Good Friday of the former's neice Miss Beasie Rannie, who had taught for six years in Long Branch. Interment in Burnbrae Cemetery. Rev. F. McTavish, United Church minister, of Hoard's Church and Rev. D. McKenzie Presbyterian minister of Burnbrae Church, officiated at the grave. As a funeral service had already been held in Guelph, where her parents Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Rannie reside, there was no service in Burnbrae church.

The pall-bearers were cousins of the deceased Messrs. W. A. Hume, Jack Rannie, Mitchell Rannie of Meade, Oscar Rannie of Hoards, Harold Milne of Burnbrae and Hubert McConnell of Brighton. The floral bearers were—Dr. T. H. Bissonnette of Hartford, Conn.; Mr. D. F. Bissonnette, of Toronto; Kenneth Milne and Rannie McConnell, cousins of the deceased.

The deceased Miss Beasie Rannie was a most popular teacher in Long Branch of gentle disposition yet firm in her discipline. She was adored by her pupils and many were the letters she received from them throughout an illness extending over six months, having contracted Intestinal flu in October later complications set in and finally bacterial gudo cordiits developed for which nothing could be done to save her, though the best of medical advice and devoted, faithful nursing was given her. She was a faithful member of the United Church and teacher in the Sunday School.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Rannie, three sisters, Mrs. Ernest Clayton of Markham, Mrs. H. P. Weir of Guelph and - Miss Grace Rannie, teacher in Drew School, Port William and one brother, Alex. of Toronto, survive, also two nephews and four nieces. She was a native of Rawdon Township, Hastings County.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hough of Madoc are spending the Easter holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hough and Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Linn.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Matthews are spending the Easter holidays with their parents in Stirling.

Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Bissonnette of Toronto, returned to their home, Monday afternoon after having spent their vacation with the former's mother, Mrs. Bissonnette.

Mrs. C. B. McWilliam and little Joan of Toronto, are spending a few days with Mr and Mrs. B. Belshaw.

Many 4ex Rieselarand

Wise mothers who know the virtues of Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator always have it at hand, because it proves its value.

In England and Wales there are 300,000 mentally deficient persons of this total one third require institutional care.

WALKER'S

Friday is Children's Day
A Day Devoted to Extra Value Items for the Young

Girls' Dresses
Ages 3 to 14
At Special Prices

Panty Dresses
1.49

Charming Little Dresses, for the little Miss, age 3 to 6. Tub fast colors, in Prints, Broadcloths, Dimities. Styles that are pleasing.
Children's Day 1.49

Girls' Dresses
1.59

For the 7 to 14 year old Miss. Dresses of Prints, Piques and Loretta Prints, and all tubfast colors. Blue, green, red, yellow. Small and large designs.
Children's Day 1.59

Girls' Dresses
1.49

Made of famous Vat Prints, for ages 7 to 14, in a variety of very exclusive patterns, and a choice selection of colors. Neat styles.
Children's Day 1.49

Girls' Ensemble Suits
2.49

—of very fine grade Vat Prints, in blue, green, yellow, red—most fetching little styles, and lovely patterns. Ages 7 to 14 years.
Children's Day 2.49

New Berets
69c

New Felt Berets, in navy, black, red, blue, green. Strong and stylish.
Children's Day 69c

Girls' Chamoisette Gloves
39c pr.

Children's Good Weight Chamolsette Gloves, in colors of beaver, mode, gray, natural. Sizes 3 to 6. Fancy cuff styles. Children's Day—Pair 39c

Girls' Spring Weight Bloomers
29c pr.

Natural Color, Fine Rib Spring Weight Bloomers. Sizes 6 to 10 years. Extra good value.
Children's Day—Pair 29c

Girls' Silk Lisle Stockings
29c pr.

Silk Lisle, Fine Ribbed Stockings, in grey, brown and black only. Sizes 6 to 9 only. Reg. 50c value.
Children's Day—Pair 29c

Boys' Golf Stockings
39c pr.

New Spring Weight Golf Stockings, for Boys, in light and dark fancy colors. Sizes 7 to 9½.
Children Day—Pair 39c

Clearing Golf Hose
25c pr.

Odd Lines of Boys' Golf Hose, broken sizes and odd patterns. Grey, tan, camel, black. 6 to 9½. Reg. 50c. Clearing Price. Children's Day—Pair 25c

Girls' Middies
98c

Odd Lines of Girls' Middies, in white only. Plain or with navy collars and cuffs, and ties.
Reg. to $1.95. Children's Day—Each 98c

Girls' Rubber Aprons
49c

Large Coverall Rubber Aprons, for girls. Very fancy and a range of pretty colors. Reg. 75c.
Children's Day 49c

YOUR STORE OF SERVICE

WALKER STORES LIMITED

PAY CASH AND BUY FOR LESS

Week End Specials

Dimity Frocks

Fine Dimity, Lawn and Voile Frocks, are offered in very dainty styles, in this low priced group. Styles are short sleeved or sleeveless, in printed designs, in dots or flower effects. Sizes 14 to 20 only. Special Value 2.95

Full-Fashioned Hose

Good Spring shades in Full Fashioned Hose. In a very fine quality of rayon, in all sizes. A limited quantity, at 98c

WHITE GLOVES

Good qualities of white Silk Gloves, in broken ranges, but sizes from 6 1-2 to 7 1-2 in the lot. To clear, at 59c

PRINT

Best quality Canadian Print, in light and dark patterns. For aprons, house dresses, comforter sets. A bargain 29c

UMBRELLAS

Spring showers call for these Umbrellas. In red, navy and green. Very low in price. 1.29

TEA TOWELS

Fine qualities of Linen Towels, in checks and fancy patterns, in various colors. Special value— 19c 3 for 50c

TRIANGLE SCARVES

Bright colorings, in batik designs, on a good quality flat crepe. Just a few, priced to clear 1.29

TOWELLING

One of the finest values in Linen Towellings offered in a long time. 20-ins. wide with a wide band border , in blue, rose, mauve and green. 29c

SINCLAIR'S

MRS. F.S. WILSON REELECTED PRES.

Bay of Quinte Club Lady Golfers Hold Annual Meeting

The ladies of the Bay of Quinte Country Club held their annual business meeting in the Chamber of Commerce, yesterday afternoon, beginning at three o'clock. A large number of members were on hand and after the reading of the minutes of the last meeting by the Secretary, Mrs. Carman election of officers for the new season took place. Mrs. F. S. Wilson, last year's president, was unanimously re-elected to that office. Mrs. S. D. Lasher was chosen as secretary, and the entertainment committee is as follows—Mrs. C. Walker, president, Mrs. J. B. Smith and Mrs. Springer, assistants. Mrs. R. Porter was elected captain of golf and Mrs. M. T. O'Flynn, vice-captain of golf.

Following the election of officers plans were discussed for the club teas and dinner dances. Dr. Blaxiste and Mr. Wray, were in attendance at the meeting and answered questions regarding the business of the club. The opening dance of the year will be held at the club on the 16th day of May. Afternoon teas will be held as in previous years on the first Monday of each month beginning on the 26th of May and continuing until the end of September.

OBITUARY

ALFRED BRIGNALL

Alfred Brignall a former Belleville business man died in the city of Vancouver B.C., recently according to word received in this city and was buried from the residence of his son-in-law Mr. Mayne D. Hamilton, 1474 Angus Avenue, Vancouver.

He was in his eighty fifth year. As a young man he came to Belleville and was associated in the business of Foster Barber and Brignall and later was a partner in the drygoods firm of Brignall and Thompson his associate being Jeremiah Thompson former city treasurer of Belleville. Mr. Thompson died a year ago in Vancouver.

The late Mr. Brignall was formerly choir leader at John Street Presbyterian Church for years.

He left Belleville many years ago for the coast.

MATILDA WARD

The funeral of the late Matilda Ward took place yesterday afternoon from the Tickell & Browne Funeral Home to Ouffin's cemetery for interment. The Rev. A. Hillier Jones conducted the services. The bearers were, Robert Mitchell, Wesley Gray, James Donaldson, William Donaldson, Harry Redner and A. C. Dafoe.

MRS. ANN DOCTER

All that was mortal of the late Mrs. Ann Docter was laid to rest in the Belleville cemetery on Tuesday afternoon. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. John Lyons, of St. Thomas' Church. The bearers were Messrs. J. S. McKeown, A. Cullen, A. McGie, J. A. McPee, W. Adamson and E. T. Cberry.

RADIO FANS CORNER

Getting better I think, don't you, fans? We'll say so anyway until some one comes along and tells us a different story.

Mrs. O. Fox of Barr's writes in to tell us of a peculiar incident that happened in that community the other day. She says, "One day recently one of our neighbor boys with his car was having some fun. He had put a wire from a spark plug to the ground and another to the wire fence in front of a neighbors house and he called the ladies out to give them a shock. As soon as they touched the fence the radio in the house across the road began to sputter and sound just like a car running. When they let go the fence the disturbance would cease and when the fence was touched again it was repeated. The house where the radio was is probably eighty or ninety feet from the fence." Interesting incident isn't it fans? Anyone explain it for us? Awfully glad you sent it in Mrs. Fox. Thank you.

Baby Rose Marie makes her appearance tonight again this time over the Fleischmann hour along with Rudy Vallee, yes, will sing "Watching My Dreams Go By," and "The Moonlight Reminds Me of You."

For the benefit of our readers out of town now while I think of it let me say that on Saturday night the film stars are having a big party. Clara Bow "Buddy" Rogers, Jack Oakie, "Skeets" Gallagher, Lillian Roth and oodles of others that are favourites of ours are going to be there. It will be during the Paramount Public hour as far as I know now .WABC at 1en.

The new radio station of the C.P.R. at the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, will have the call letters CFRY they were used for the first time last night.

Wise members who know the virtues of Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator always have it at hand, because it proves its value.

CANADA'S FINEST

SEIBERLING ALL TREAD TIRES

SEIBERLING ALL-TREAD TIRES are setting up new Canadian Sales records solely because the public realize their many unusual and superior longer-life features

Tougher, closer knit, more resilient, due to the exclusive Seiberling "Affinite" process.

More and better fabric, thicker, tougher tread.

Sidewall protecting bars to prevent curb scraping, chafing, stone bruise.

Rubber cushions inside for maximum riding comfort.

COST LESS BECAUSE THEY LAST LONGER

Come in—We have your size

Bring in your old tires and we will make a trade.

St. CHARLES MOTOR CO.

343 FRONT STREET — BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO — PHONE 232

Earle & Cook Co.

$1. SPECIALS

CURTAIN MADRAS

5 Yards $1.00

160 yards only Madras, in several patterns, in cream shades—plain and scalloped edge—36" wide. On sale at .... 5 Yds. $1.

REVERSIBLE MATS

$1.00

50 only Reversible Mats, in assorted patterns and colors. Size 24 x 48. On sale at ..... $1.

CHILDREN'S SWEATERS $1

Children's Sweaters, in pull-over and coat styles. Assorted colors, in all wool and silk and wool. Size 2 to 6 years. On sale at ..... $1.00.

GIRLS' PLEATED SKIRTS. $1

Girls' Skirts, in all wool navy serge and fancy plaids. Cambole top. Size 8 to 12 years. On sale at $1.00

HOUSE FROCKS $1

House Frocks, in a variety of styles, in fancy prints, short and no sleeves. Size 16 to 36. Special $1.00

COTTON BROADCLOTH

3 Yards $1.00

Cotton Broadcloth, in a big range of colors—fine, mercerized finish. 36" wide. On sale at ..... 3 Yards $1.00

STAGE and SCREEN PRESENTATIONS! Capitol THE HOUSE OF HITS!

Tonight and Fri.

The Michigan Players

PRESENT THEIR FINAL PLAY

THE GREAT AWAKENING

—Also

LENORE ULRIC, famous Broadway star, Sings and Dances, in the magnificent drama of love in the Sunny Tropics.

South Sea Rose

Hear the Beautiful Hawaiian Melodies with CHARLES BICKFORD, KENNETH MacKENNA Also TALKING COMEDY

STARTS SATURDAY

" THE GRAHAM STOCK CO "

12—People—12

Also "SPRING IS HERE"

All Talking, Singing, Color Sensation.

TRY AN AD. ON CLASSIFIED PAGE

CHAIN RED & WHITE STORES

Save Your Money in RED & WHITE STORES

When You buy from RED & WHITE Stores, you not only make a cash saving on your purchases but you save time by using the phone and our delivery—which in reality is saving money.

RED & WHITE Fancy Pink SALMON Tall Tin 21c

BORDEN'S CHOCOLATE MALTED MILK 16 Oz. Tin 53c

GOLD MEDAL FLOOR WAX 1 lb. Tin 29c

CROWN BRAND CORN SYRUP 5 lb. Tin 34c

Specials — Friday & Saturday April 25th & 26th

SNOWFLAKE AMMONIA POWDER	Pkg. 8c
DERBY SOAP CHIPS	2 lbs. 23c
LYNN VALLEY PEACHES	Tin 23c
INFANT'S DELIGHT SOAP	4 Bars 25c
HERESFORD CORN BEEF	No. 1 Tin 23c
GOLD MEDAL JELLY POWDER	4 Pkgs. 25c
SURPRISE SOAP	4 Bars 25c
POST BRAN	2 Pkgs. 25c
C. P. C. PURE LARD	Per lb. 18c
BENSON'S CORN STARCH	Pkg. 12c
SINGAPORE SLICED PINEAPPLE	2 Tins 24c

SERV-US FLOUR 24 lb. 99c Sack ..... 6 lb. 29c Sack ..... "For All Pastry"

HAWES Lemon Oil 12 Oz. Bottle 23c

SERV-US CORN FLAKES - - - - - 3 pkgs. for 25c

2-IN-1 Shoe Polish per tin 12c

"You'll Drink it Again" 1 lb. Tin ..... 65c ½lb. Tin ..... 33c Tune in Tonight at 8 p.m. and hear Gold Medal Coffee Program —over Stations CNRO, CKNC and CJGC.

CRISCO 1 lb. 27c Tin .... 3 lb. 79c Tin .... "Use Crisco for Fluffier, Lighter Biscuits.

For bonnes that want the best in cooking

WE DELIVER PHONE YOUR ORDERS

"Quality always higher than Price"

TARBOX Chemically Treated Dust Mops Reg. $1.50 — $1.29 Special Price for One Week

Phone 105 OSTROMS The Best in Drugs

McINTOSH BROS.

MISSES' FRENCH PANTIES
—in a large variety of pretty shades—lace trimmed and some with fitted band of contrasting colors. French style. Sizes, Bobette, Medium and Large.
Special 69c

POTTER'S PRINTS
A large range of Fancy Prints, in small patterns. Suitable for ladies' and children's frocks, aprons, etc. Guaranteed fast color. 32 and 36 inches wide.
Special—Yard 39c

36 inch ENGLISH PRINTS

Heavy Quality—Fast Color—YARD
—In a variety of Pretty Patterns and colors. Heavy quality, fast color. Yd. 29c

SILK PANELS
A fine quality Silk Panel, in ecru shade only. 36 inches wide. 2 1-4 yards long. Special
Each 1.50

SWISS PANELS
In ecru or white, 40" wide. 2 1-4 yards long. Fine quality, priced, at ... 95c

LACE PANELS
In ivory only, 36" wide 2 1-4 yards long. Finished with fringe.
Special—Each 49c

FILET NETS
A new assortment of double thread Filet Nets. All latest designs.
Special—Yard 29c

Peter Pan Pique
An assortment of Simba Piques, white grounds with blue, mauve, green and gold patterns. Suitable for dresses, ensembles, coats, etc. Peter Pan quality. 36" wide.
Guaranteed fast colors.—Yard 75c

Washable KID GLOVES
The latest in Fancy Kid Gloves, in slip-on style, in grey, mastic, beaver and black shades. The sizes are 6 to 7.
Special—Pair 2.95

SILK GLOVES
—with fancy cuffs and pull-on style, in nusande, afternoon, pearl, black, suntan and French nude shades. Double tip fingers. Also double cuff. Spec. 1.50

In the Men's and Boys' Dept.

Boys' and Youths' CAPS
A variety of shades just arrived. Sizes to 7, at—
Each 75c

BOYS' WAISTS
—in a range of pretty patterns and colors. Sizes 6 to 10 years.
at 75c

BOYS' UNDERWEAR
Combinations for boys. All styles, in heftiweight, at Suit ..... 50c and 59c

BOYS' KHAKI TROUSERS
Good quality, all sizes. See them.
Pair 95c

LADIES' LINEN HANDKERCHIEFS
Pure Linen Handkerchiefs, with colored borders. Guaranteed fast colors.
All shades—Each 15c

MEN'S WORK TROUSERS
—in dark cottonades of good quality. Sizes 32 to 44.
Special—Pair 1.49

OILCLOTH MATS
18 x 36
15c and 35c

Falmolive or Many Flowers TOILET SOAPS
3 for 19c.

LifeBuoy Health SOAP
3 for 21c

Gold Dust SCOURING POWDER "Boats the Dutch"
2 for 19c

POMPEIAN PRODUCTS
Day Cream, Night Cream Face Powder, Massage Cream. 60c Value—
for 49c

CORN BROOMS
5-String Make
39c

The Economy Dept.

Johnson Brothers' "Grey Dawn" pattern English SEMI-PORCELAIN DINNERWARE. Special 32-piece TEA SET, consisting of 6 Tea Plates, 6 Bread and Butter Plates, 6 Cups and Saucers, 6 Nappies, 1 Salad and 1 Cake Plate.
All for $6.95

CLOTHES BASKETS of heavy genuine Belgium willow. Medium and large size.
Specially Priced, at ..... 1.19 and 1.39

FOR THE MEN! We have a very complete line of SHAVING CREAMS AND SOAPS, by the best makers, including Colgates, Williams, Listerine, Squibb's, etc.

CREAMS, at ..... 35c and 39c

SHAVING STICKS, at 35c

REFILLS, for Shaving Sticks, at 25c

Williams Mug Shaving Soap, in the No-Waste Cake, produces a luxurious lather.
Real Economy—Cake 10c

PAINT BRUSHES
Rubber Set
15c 25c
35c

Aluminum SINK STRAINERS
Three cornered style
35c

Back Saving DUST PANS
—In blue and green. Long handles
59c

Galvanized PAILS
Extra quality.
1.00 1.25 1.45

Heavy DAIRY PAILS
15 quart size. Hoop bottom.
79c or 2 for 1.50

Cut Glass TUMBLERS
Fine Quality
5c Each

Trenton and District

Leaders in Boy Scout Movement Met at Trenton

Tribute Paid to Howard Jarrett One of Trenton's Stalwarts

(Special by Staff Reporter)

TRENTON, Ont., April 24.—For the past two days this town has been the mecca of over fifty leaders in the Boy Scout movement, for the most part lads between the ages of fifteen and eighteen. They have been in charge of Frank C. Irwin, Toronto, Assistant Provincial Commissioner of Ontario, and Field Officer Art Patton, also of Toronto. All the delegates to the convention are junior leaders of various patrols of scouts in this district, and the scouts were here from practically every town within a radius of fifty miles. The convention opened on Tuesday evening with a banquet in Canterbury Hall, and continued all day yesterday.

Major Fraser welcomed the visiting scouts at the dinner held on Tuesday evening, paying tribute in a few words to the Trenton troop of Boy Scouts and also to their Scoutmaster, Howard Jarrett, who has been the father of the movement in this district. Rev. C. B. Brethran then spoke on the scouts on the "Truth Scout Law", which is —A scout is clean in thought, word and deed. This address was particularly fitting to the occasion as those who heard him are the ones to take back their learnings to their own troop at home, and this message was one of the most important learned during the whole conference. The final address of the evening was given by Mr. Irwin he taking as his subject, "Patrol Leadership".

Following the supper, the Trenton troop presented a one-act play, "Mac Decides", on the stage in Canterbury Hall which was well done and which evoked much comment. Junior Assistant Scoutmaster Aylsworth, of Trenton, who also acted as chairman for the evening, then gave a lecture, illustrated with lantern slides, on the great Boy Scout Jamboree held last summer in England which he attended as Trenton's representative.

Bright and early Wednesday morning the scouts were on deck again, and were sent out in patrols on an Observation Contest. The idea was to go through the town looking at advertisements in store windows and on bill boards which could be applied to Scout Law. The team writing down the most number of these was the winner, and the winning team in this echo noted 83 such ads in Trenton. The remainder of the morning was spent in discussion on various topics.

The closing session of the conference last night started with another banquet in Canterbury Hall, at which Captain, the Rev. C. K. Nicol and Col. A. E. Sywaster, both of Trenton, were speakers. Both spoke on subjects pertaining to scout work, and their talks were much appreciated. The fifty delegates were billetted for the two days in Trenton homes and every one took home to their own troop a new outlook on their work. The conference was a success, and the Dr. Ross Shield to n troop deserve credit for the manner in which the arrangements were carried out.

TRENTON PERSONALS
(Special by Staff Reporter)

TRENTON, April 24.—Miss Odile Smith, formerly of Trenton, visited her parents here over the week end. She was accompanied home again by Miss J. Noonan, who was also her parents' guest.

Mr. J. Bishop and Mr. Walter Clement, both of Toronto, were in Trenton yesterday on business. Both gentlemen are fire inspectors.

Miss Lena Carter of the O.S.D. staff at Bellville, spent the Easter vacation visiting at the home of her brothers in Toronto.

Argentina has been having railway labor troubles.

PLEADED GUILTY TO HAVING LIQUOR IN HIS POSSESSION

(Special by Staff Reporter)

TRENTON, April 24.—In Police Court yesterday, John O'Neil, a resident of Trenton, pleaded guilty to having liquor in his possession illegally and was assessed the minimum fine of one hundred dollars and costs, or in default of payment, three months in jail. The fine was paid, and O'Neil gained his liberty.

For permitting drunkenness in his house, Charles Bateson was fined ten dollars and costs, and in addition had his place declared a public place for one year so that he would be unable to have any liquor there.

Eight Hundred and Sixty-Six Were Sheltered

Nine Homeless Wayfarers Ranged From Seventeen to Seventy-Two

Trenton, Ont., April 24 (Special by Staff Reporter)—Ranging from the tender age of 17 to the venerable age of 72, nine homeless wanderers were given shelter at the Trenton Police Station last night. Here are the questions asked them before they are allowed to take their rest in the police cells and their answers are all recorded in a special book kept for that purpose.

"What is your name"—is the first question, and from the answer one can usually tell the answer to the next, which is, "What is your nationality". Last night, out of the nine present, two were from Denmark, three from Canada and four from England. "How old are you" is next, and strange to say, few can tell their correct height. Most of them know how much they weigh, which comes next on the list, however. Then comes "What church do you go to?" and the answers many and varied. There have been those who called themselves "Methodists" within the last few days, although that church in Canada is no more, there have been Unified Churchmen, Presbyterians, Anglicans, Roman Catholics, Lutherans, Orthodox Russian, and practically every kind of religion common to Europe and North America. The next question is, "Where is your home?" Many simply answer 'No home' and let it go at that. Others state that when they last had a home, it was in Toronto or Hamilton, or some other place. "Where are you going" comes next the last of the questionnaire and although few can say for sure where they even want to go, most say "Toronto" or if travelling east, "Montreal". The trashcans are then quickly searched for knives or razors and then locked up for the night. And this happens night after night, and through the winter months an exceptionally large number visit the police station. So far this year there have been eight hundred and sixty six.

WORK IS PROCEEDING ON C. P. WATER TANKS

Trenton, April 24 (Special by Staff Reporter)—Working night and day, men are rushing the work of installing a new water tank with capacity of 75,000 gallons at the C.P.R. station here. A huge ditch has been started from the Trent River, where a new tank has been started. There is a possibility that arrangements will be made whereby the Fire Department will be able to use the water in the tank in case of an emergency near by, as present there is no fire protection in that section of Trenton, and if a fire started chemicals would have to be used. A tank similar to the one being built at Trenton is to be built at Niagara Falls. The J. J. McNab Construction Company has the contract for the local job.

CORPORATION TO PAVE DUFFERIN STREET

Trenton, Ont., April 24.—At their committee meeting held on Tuesday night, the Trenton Town Council decided to go ahead immediately with the work of paving Dufferin Avenue from the Provincial Highway south to the town limits on the Carrying Place Road, as well as the Front Street pavement north to the town limits. It is understood that Northumberland County are preparing to pave from Trenton to Carrying Place this summer. All the members of the Council were present last night, and Mayor Fraser presided.

KING WINTER GIVES LAST DYING KICK

Trenton, Ont., April 24 (By Staff Reporter)—Old King Winter gave a final despairing kick yesterday morning and for half an hour he was like a young king, instead of the dying one most folks think of him as at present. So heavy did the snow come that motorists on the highway had great difficulty in getting a clear view, and objects a hundred yards away were invisible. Although late in the year for a snow storm this is by no means a record for this district, as practically every year there is a final fall of snow which, however, usually quickly disappears.

An Oil Without Alcohol—Some oils and many medicines have alcohol as a prominent ingredient. A judicious blending of an essential oils compose Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and there is no alcohol in it, so that its effects are lasting.

McINTOSH BROS.

LETTERS to the Editor

LETTERS to editor

Belleville, April 23, 1930.

Editor Ontario Intelligencer—

As I am deeply interested to see Belleville have a memorial to our boys who fought and fell I attended the Citizens' Meeting in the City Hall last evening. As I sat there I wondered whether it was a citizens' meeting or a meeting of the council. I think I am safe in saying there were not more than twenty five citizens to show their interest. Surely with Belleville's population we should be able to pack the City Hall with interested people for this great cause. We are having a bridge it is true and to me it seems an opportune time to place two beautiful Memorial Arches at the ends of the bridge something every citizen would be proud of. Let every citizen get behind the council and attend the Citizens' Meeting next Tuesday night and so make this a successful issue. Surely we do not need another World War to wake us up.

I WONDER.

Don't be without Douglas' Egyptian Liniment. Keep it always handy. Relieves toothache, neuralgia, sore throat quinsy, and croup. Invaluable for burns, sores, Barber's Itch and Ringworm.

SMOTHERING GIGANTIC OIL BLAZE

By means of a new style phoronene generator, this huge fire at London, Eng., tion. The apparatus throws foam upon gas and oil, was put out in two minutes as experts watched the demonstra England, kindled by 1000 gallons of the blazing mass, completely smothering the flames.

Furs

FOR COOL DAYS!
FOR COOLER NIGHTS!

Be smart—yet comfortable! We have furs for every occasion.

If you wish your own individual style of garment, we will make it to order.

Always at Your Service!

EXCLUSIVE FURRIER
17 Campbell St.
PHONE 797

McNabb's

COATS

A new shipment of Coats at a Special Low Price. Values that you cannot afford to overlook. All sizes and colors.

NOW—
$14.75

COATS

Many Higher Priced Coats Reduced in this group of Outstanding Values in Coats. Tweeds, black, navy, green, in all sizes.

NOW—
$25.00

COATS

Tweeds, with Fur Collars; Broadcloth Coats, in all colors and sizes for quick selling, at this Low Price.

NOW—
$19.75

THE J. A. McNABB CO., LIMITED
254 FRONT ST.

BOSTON BASEBALL TEAMS DOOMED FOR THE CELLAR

BOSTON, Mass., U.S.A., April 24.—This promises to be just another baseball season in Boston. Despite the purchase of Burleigh Grimes from Pittsburgh, by the Braves, there does not seem to be any berth higher for Boston teams than eighth place. Neither the Braves nor the Red Sox have the punch to lift them any higher than they finished last year.

The Red Sox have two or three pitchers who would grace anybody's ball team, but it requires nine ball players to make up a team. Sweeney probably beats out Todt as the regular first baseman, because he is a better hitter. Regan is set at second and Rhyne has the call at short. Ollie Miller looms as the best third baseman, displacing Reeves. Narlesky will substitute.

Harris, Oliver and Holbrook look like the regular outfield, with Barrett and Cicero breaking in occasionally. Berry and Heving will do the bulk of the catching with Andreason and Connolly fighting it out for bullpen duty. There will be little change in the pitching staff with Morris, Ruffing, Gaston and MacFayden taking regular turns, assisted by Russell, Lisenbee and Hasty.

Nemo appears to have displaced Bisler as a regular at first for the Braves, but there is likely to be considerable shifting in the other infield spots. Nihel, right now, has an inside track on second, Marnaville still looks best at short, and Handy Andrews at third. Maguire, Rollings, James and Robertson remain to step in if any of the others falter.

Berger is the only fixture in the outfield, although the other positions look likely to go to Welsh and Richbourg. Clark, Bratcher and Dunlap remain for utility duty. Spohrer, Gowdy, K. Smith and Cronin make up the catching staff.

Grimes, of course, heads the pitching staff. He adds considerable strength to the batters and should bother some of the first division teams, especially Chicago and Pittsburgh. There isn't much else, although Sethoid and Braudt will win some games. Bill McKechnie, who isn't accustomed to piloting tail-end teams, has his work cut out for him to find some other twirlers who can stick through a game. Bob Smith, Brown Cantwell, Cooney, Cunningham, Leverett, Clough and Al Smith are among those from who mhe will have to choose.

Both teams will present new managers—Bernie Wagner, who succeeds Bill Carrigan, for whom he was first lieutenant, after the former Red Sox manager gave up the job as a hopeless task; and McKechnie, who piloted winners at St. Louis and Pittsburgh. They are more to be pitied than centured and if either lifts his team higher than eighth place he can consider it a highly successful season.

Boonville, N.Y., April 24 (C.P.)—Four persons were burned to death and a fifth is missing in a fire which destroyed the home of Bert Cronk here early today. Mr. and Mrs. Cronk and Mrs. Paul Annis and her young daughter were said by firemen to have died in the flames. Anni was missing.

On the Sport Trail

An interview with Martha Norelius by Grantland Rice, famous sport writer was the feature of the Coca Cola broadcast, under direction of Graham McNamee last night and many learned why she is the pet of all women swimmers from 100 yards to ten miles. Miss Norelius was in St. Augustine, Florida. Her greatest horror was experienced in the Wrigley Marathon held last year when she won the 10 mile professional championship of the world for women. Miss Norelius in this race was attacked by eels on several occasions and the fright kept her out of the water for one month after the race. Each Wednesday night Grantland Rice interviews some outstanding athlete and some valuable information can be gathered.

The weather is not conducive to baseball but the bug is in the air and on Saturday, the wheels will be set in motion for it is hoped another successful season. The annual meeting of the Central Ontario Baseball League will be held in the Y.M.C.A. of this city and by nightfall the personnel of the league will be known and the schedule arranged. Belleville Nationals are ready for the fray and the first signs of warm weather will find them on the lot preparing for the opening. The composition of the league will likely be, Belleville, Kingston, Peterboro and Oshawa. The 21st Battalion will sponsor the team in Kingston, while the Textile Company of Oshawa will make the entry for Oshawa. The old Peterboro Ball Club will pass out of existence and a new executive will handle the team's affairs. This will make for better competition and more enthusiasm and many new faces will be seen in the several teams when they line up for their first game. Oshawa will be able to field a strong team as many boys would not play for the General Motors. R. A. Elliott of Delore, the president of the League and President of the Ontario Baseball Association will preside at the meeting and Newton Thompson, secretary will handle the books. A triple schedule will likely be adopted the same as in previous years.

Tonight a meeting will be held in the Chamber of Commerce sponsored by the Belleville Amateur Athletic Association and will have far reaching effects on the sport life of this city. Every citizen and lover of clean sport is invited to attend and to take part in the discussion that will follow. The directors of the Belleville Arena applied for the latter patents for this Association and fully completed their work by the acquisition of Stan Burgoyne, one of the outstanding hockey coaches in Canada today. It is now up to the fans to support the idea and elect a strong executive that will help the coach to secure a worthy representative hockey team for this city. Not alone will hockey be fostered but all branches of sport will come under the jurisdiction of this body. A representative of every branch will be elected tonight also officers for the whole organization.

Stan Burgoyne, the coach, secured is an outstanding one and considered of the tops. He has learned in the of the tops. He has learnd in the bitter school of experience and his record shows that he is able to impart his knowledge to the pupil. There is some splendid material in the city that only needs the deft hand of a coach to make them ready for the pro ranks. The players chosen for the O.H.A. teams will be used exclusively. In that capacity until the team is out of the running. A large number of players will be carried and every player will be on his toes trying to hold his place.

Players of the Ki-Y League will come into their own tonight when a banquet and presentation will be held at the Y.M.C.A. The winning teams will receive their trophies and the individual members will receive some token by which to remember their connection with the club. This league has been sponsored by the Kiwanis Club and the Y.M.C.A. and some fine playing material has been brought along. The boys are not only taught how to play the game, but also to be sportsmen, which stands them in good stead in the battle of life to come. There should be a large number out to encourage the two organizations in their work and to help the boys along with their sport. Not only will the hockey teams received trophies but all persons having won any awards during the last year. It will be open night and the banquet will open promptly at six-thirty.

WHAT DO YOU PREFER IN HAT STYLES?

Tastes vary—when it comes to choosing Hats. But on Quality, all Well-Dressed men are agreed. Whether you prefer the Welt-Brim, the Crusher or Homburg, our Models are Correct and Distinctive.

QUICK & ROBERTSON
CORRECT CLOTHING FOR MEN

Pineapples! Pineapples !!

The Pineapple season is now on and we are now on our third car for this season. We advise our customers to buy their Pines from now on until the next two weeks, when they will be at their best and the price at the lowest.

SPANISH ORANGES—Owing to the high cost of California Oranges and the quality being so poor, we are buying Spanish Oranges which are very reasonable in price and the quality is very good—juicy and sweet.

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND POTATOES—Just arrived, a car of Early COBBLER Potatoes, for seeding Get your supply while they last.

Any of the above goods can be had from your nearest grocer or any fruit store in the city, but insist that they are our brand of goods.

Belleville Fruit Co., Limited
OFFICE AND WAREHOUSE, ALBION ST.
PHONE 834

PAINTS
GLIDDEN'S
—ENDURANCE PAINT
—VARNISHES
—VARNISH STAIN
—QUICK DRYING LACQ
Assorted Sizes
McKEOWN'S
DRUG STORE

YES—SPRING'S COMING!

SO BETTER GET YOUR NEW SPRING SUIT AT
CHAS. J. SYMONS
MEN'S STORE

Effective April 27th

SAVE TIME to TORONTO MONTREAL CHICAGO by the NEW FAST Schedules

Six hours, Montreal to Toronto by the famous International Limited. Six hours returning by the new Inter-City Limited. Chicago, 12 hours 5 minutes from Toronto; 18 hours 15 minutes from Montreal. Improved Hamilton, Detroit and Buffalo connections. More convenient departure and arrival times.

These are some of the features of the new fast schedules by the International Limited, the New Inter-City Limited and the Maple Leaf, offering new convenience and time-saving east or west from Oshawa, Belleville, Kingston, Brockville.

Full details from H. C. Thompson, 243 Front Street, Telephone 633.

International Limited (Westbound)
Lv. Brockville . . . . . 7.05 p.m.
Lv. Kingston . . . . . 6.00 p.m.
Lv. Belleville . . . . . 7.00 p.m.
Lv. Oshawa . . . . . 8.20 p.m.

Inter-City Limited (Eastbound)
Lv. Oshawa . . . . . 4.40 p.m.
Lv. Belleville . . . . . 6.01 p.m.
Lv. Kingston . . . . . 7.00 p.m.
Lv. Brockville . . . . . 8.00 p.m.

ALL STANDARD TIMES
Double Track all the Way

CANADIAN NATIONAL
The Largest Railway System in America

Persian Balm—the one toilet requisite for the dainty woman. Delightful to use. Leaves no stickiness. Swiftly absorbed by the tissues. Delicately fragrant. Imparts a velvety loveliness to be complexion. Tones up the skin. Soothes and banishes all unpleasant roughness or chafing caused by wind and other weather conditions. Makes hands soft and white. Creates an elusive, essentially feminine charm. Persian Balm is indispensable to women of refinement.

CATCHING DEARTH IN THE MAJORS

Scarcity of Competent Catchers in The Big Leagues

Scarcity of competent catchers again is evident in the majors, with the start of another season. The passing of each year finds star receivers hanging up their mask and shinguards and no youngsters coming up to replace them. Although a large rookie crop was taken south by the various clubs this spring, thus far no future Killefers or Schalks have been uncovered, and such ancients as Hank Gowdy, Wallie Schang and Val Picinich still are carrying on. Baseball sages insist Mickey Cochrane is the last of a great line of backstops.

While Osboy Hartnett and Frank Hogan are sterling performers behind home plate, Cochrane is the only standout catcher in the big show. Already critics are comparing him to the greatest of all time. He can do everything a star receiver is expected to, hit, throw and handle pitchers. Cochrane's assistant, Cy Perkins, still ranks with the leading catchers despite his years of service. He would be a regular with nearly any other club. Providing Hartnett's arm is O.K., and Hogan and O'Farrell are not handicapped with injuries, the Cubs and Giants are well taken care of. Not so for the others.

So pitiful are the Braves, Cowdy must share the burden with Spohrer, K. Smith and Bill Cronin. Brooklyn also is in a tight fix behind the plate with Picnich and Deberry, although Uncle Robby expects much from Al Lopez. Jimmy Wilson and "Ott" Smith have seen their best days. However, that is all the Cards have with their many "farms" to call on.

A HOLLOW NAME

Although known as the "Frenchmen," Les Canadiens hockey club is managed by Cecil Hart, a Jew, and its stars, Howie Morenz and George Hainsworth are of German and English descent, respectively.

LUCKY FOR HIM

Gene Tunney, retired undefeated heavyweight champion, won the American heavyweight championship from Battling Levinsky on a Friday the 13th in 1922.

TWENTY PAGES

The Ontario Intelligencer

SECOND SECTION

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, THURSDAY, APRIL 24, 1930.

District News Gathered by our Correspondents

REVERE MEMORY OF MARINERS AT CHURCH SERVICE

Captain Nelson Palmatier Presided at Unique Church Service

(Special to the Ontario Intelligencer)

PICTON, April 22.—Cherry Valley United Church was unable to accommodate the crowd which looked them to attend the second Mariners' service. All parts of the county were represented as well as Trenton and Belleville.

The service was an inspiring one. Decorations were very fine. The altar was draped with fish net and inside of the altar rail, on small tables stood models of ships and a model lighthouse. Grouped in front of the pulpit were crossed oars, life preservers, and compasses. Flags and pictures of well known boats were also used in decoration.

Though the service did not begin until 7.30 the church was packed half an hour previous, the aisles and all available space being filled with chairs.

Capt. Nelson Palmatier who for fifty-two years sailed the lakes and with whom the idea of the service originated, presided assisted by the pastor of the church, Rev. Lawrence B. Smith, B.A.

Marine hymns were sung with a will by the large crowd and the male quartette from Picton gave several fine selections. Cherry Valley church choir gave an an anthem "Master, the Tempest is Raging" and also sang "Pierce Out the Life Line", with all joining in at the chorus.

Capt. Palmatier read a list of 125 Captains, mates, midshipmen and fishermen who have entered the "last pack" and recalled some of the early sailors such as Christopher Columbus, Nelson, etc.

Capt. Byron Sergeant, another veteran lake sailor and captain of the first turbine driven boat then place a basket of flowers on the altar in their memory.

Served With King

Reference was made to Harry Brooker of Cherry Valley who served in the North American and West Indies fleet with King George, and his brother, The Duke of Glouchester. Mr. Brooker was awarded eight medals and decorations has been around the world on all lines; served with the fleet in all parts of the world. He retired when he was a gunner and has lived in Canada for twenty years.

Rev. Mr. Smith gave a masterly address, taking as his text, "When thou passest through the waters, I will be with you"—Isaiah 43:2.

Mrs. Edward Rorke told of the tragic death of Moses Dulmage in the shelter a fleet of boats anchored off Scuth Bay Point, on a Sunday. Moses Dulmage took a row boat and went to see a friend on another boat. He left on the return trip at dusk about the boat and drifted out in the lake. They found him later bashed in the seat of his small craft and dead, twelve miles below Oswego.

The service, which was truly an inspiring one, closed by singing "Bless Be the Tie That Binds".

Among those present were Capt. Valentine and Capt. Bone of Trenton; Capt. Christie, Capt. Jack Palmatier, Picton; Capt. Buchanan and Capt. John Mitchell, Wellington.

Many of the names of the deceased mariners read at this service are remembered in Belleville, those members who took part in the service, was Captain of "The Hero" which was unfortunately burned at Belleville dock.

3rd of Ameliasburg

3rd Line Ameliasburg, April 23 (By Mail)—Mr. and Mrs. Percy White and children of Sidney and Mr. and Mrs. S. Brown and children of the 2nd line were guests of Mr. C. N. Adams and Mr. and Mrs. C. Adams on Easter Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hennesy and son Lloyd of Oshawa were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Allen on the supper hour on Friday.

They also called to see Mrs. Adams' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Parliament on Friday.

Miss Vera Alyea and Lorna Adams took tea with Edgar and Mrs. Alyea on Saturday evening.

Miss Alma Sager of Wellington spent over the week with Mr. and Mrs. George Alyea.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Boyle and family spent Sunday with friends at Massassaga.

Mr. C. Adam's delivered several finely dressed pigs to a Belleville butcher on Tuesday morning.

Mr. Earle Humphrey took charge of Sunday school on Sunday morning.

The school children will all enjoy a week's holiday.

Mr. Charlie Lloyd of Belleville spent the week end at Mr. Arnold Masklin's.

Bishop W. D. Geddes and Mrs. Geddes are in Toronto from the Mackenzie river diocese en route to the Lambeth conference. The layout shows scenes from the far northern diocese. (1) Bishop W. D. Geddes; (2) the staff of the hospital at Aklavik (LEFT TO RIGHT): Miss Bell, Nurse Bradford and Nurse McCabe; (3) Ruth Enoch and Sarah Ross, two bright little natives of the north; (4) the type of steamer that plies on the Athabasca river; (5) Mrs. Geddes in caribou clothing at Aklavik, N. W. T.; (6) the Dryneat family at Aklavik, and (7) the aeroplane in which Bishop and Mrs. Geddes flew from Herschell Island to Edmonton, a distance of approximately 2,000 miles, in 17 hours.

Celebrated Her 84th Birthday

Redgersville, April 24 (By Mail)—On Monday April 14th, Mrs. Mary Vanwhart celebrated her 84th birthday at her home. A very delightful dinner party was given by her daughter Mrs. M. Crosby, when several ladies were entertained at 12 o'clock noon. Those present were Mrs. Phoebe Phillips, Mrs. O. H. Stafford, Miss Sagar and Mrs. A. Babcock. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Walter Belcap and Raymond and Mr. and Mrs. George Grey came to pay respects to the aged lady. Also Mr. and Mrs. Pelree and Mr. and Mrs. Macdonald and Mrs. George Kelly from Belleville were entertained. Mrs. Vanwhart was the recipient of several messages and prsty gifts a very enjoyable evening was spent by all present.

Miss Margaret Moore, Belleville is spending the Easter holidays with her grandmother, Mrs. N. Wilder.

Mr. and Mrs. Earle Sills and Ruth and Miss Ethel McCloed motored to Toronto on Friday for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Thompson, Belleville and Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, Picton were Friday guests of Mr. Wm. Caldwell's.

Mr. Walter Belcap called on Mr. George Gray Thursday.

Friday afternoons callers at Mrs. Crosby's were Mrs. George Gray, Mrs. George Smith and Marjorie Redner.

Mrs. Fred Redner and Marjorie spent Easter Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lauder, Belleville.

Pauline Kelly is spending the Easter holidays with her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. George Gray.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Farley and family spent Easter Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. E. Brickman.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Adams were Thursday evening callers in Redners-ville.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick and family were Sunday guests at Mr. J. S. Dempsey's.

Quite a number attended Easter service at Redneraville Church in the morning.

A play put on by the Cannifton Dramatic Club called "Home Arrested" was last Wednesday in Redner's Hall. There was quite a turn out. The Outclouth family of Belleville sang beautiful acts. It was enjoyed by all who attended.

Sidney Crossing

Mr. Dave Johnston of Niagara Falls called on relatives in this neighborhood on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Sunford of Eldorado, spent Easter with his daughter, Mrs. Herb Hinscliffe.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ash, of Peterboro, spent the week end with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Grills.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. MacMullen entertained a number of relatives on Sunday.

The Young People's League of Ashley church entertained a large number on Friday evening to an egg social. A splendid programme was given and a goodly sum realized.

Mrs. A. Pelee spent Sunday in Toronto.

Mrs. Jennie Hoge and daughter Eva, also her sister Miss Mabel Jeffery, of Belleville spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. A. Page.

Miss Gladys Shickle who has been on the sick list is improving.

Mrs. M. Cuthwaite has returned home after spending the past week with friends in Trenton.

Woman Recovers From Accident

Rawdon, April 23 (By Mail)—Mr. and Mrs. Asa Lloyd of Belleville are holidaying with Mr. and Mrs. John MacMullen.

Mrs. David Cotton is improving from her recent misfortune when she was hurt while riding in a car with her husband. A car driven by Mr. Tucker of Stine collided with them at Mr. Henry Cooke's corner.

Rev. Byers gave a splendid address at Bethel Tuesday evening and spoke on the subject "Greater love hath no man than this when Jesus gave His life His enemies."

Mr. Albert Montgomery, Harry and George, Mr. Arthur McCormick and Mrs. McDonald spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Fred McDonald.

Easter dawned a perfect day, the nicest we have had in years, while Rawdon does not have a board walk for the "lesbian parade" still many spent the day in Stirling and Belleville and many lovely costumes were on display.

The study class was held this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Sharp.

A large number attended the passion week services at Bethel. The speakers were Rev. A. B. Dorgett of Frankford, Rev. B. F. Byers of Stirling, Rev. H. A. Bunt, Springbrook, Rev. C. J. Beckley, pastor, Rev. Joblin opened each evening with song service and prayer. Fine addresses were given by each speaker and the object was to make the meetings a spiritual uplift for Rawdon circuit. Several from Wellman's and Mount Pleasant attended each evening. Miss Mildred Elliott presided at the organ.

Royal Street

ROYAL STREET, April 23—Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Ostrander and several friends, members of Picton Rebekah Lodge, motored to Trenton on Thursday evening to visit Quinte Queen Lodge.

Mr. Leroy Dulmage left for his new home near Belleville on Thursday. We wish him the best of success in his new life.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hudgins and Elva of Picton, spent Friday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Baker.

Misses Haze Ackerman and Marjorie Clapp are busy grading the road here now.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Dulmage spent Good Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Norman Vandusen.

Mr. Basil Lowery, Mr. and Mrs. Will Lowery of Point Traverse were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Mitchell and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos McKibbon and family of Point Petre, were Sunday guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peleer Ostrander.

Mr. and Mrs Will Striker and family were Easter guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Striker, Cherry Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Dulmage of Belleville, were Easter guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Dulmage and family.

Scotland is boasting that its Clyde shipbuilding yards are building as much merchant tonnage as Germany, France and Holland combined.

Dumping of French wheat has affected the farmers in East Yorkshire.

All the underside of a starfish is endowed with the sense of smell.

Of course spring is here. Forty million calendars can't be wrong.

BRIDE-ELECT IS WELL HONORED

Miss Mary Mills is Recipient of Gifts From Friends

Cannifton, April 22 (By Mail)—The neighbors and friends in the number of about 50 gathered at the home of Mr. Charles Mills on Thursday evening to "shower" his eldest daughter, Mary, on the eve of her wedding. The address was read by Mrs. Harry Weddy and Mrs. Henry Farnham presented a pink silk rayon spread and a Kenwood blanket to match.

Dear Mary:

We have come to the time that our ways must divide. You are leaving your childhood home and your place is now by another's side We the friends who have known and loved you meet to say how we will miss you from our social and church life. Always willing, never refusing any appeal to your time and talent. Will you accept these gifts and as you use them in your new home may they remind you of the old friends in the old home. We wish God's choicest blessing on our new home.

Signed Mrs. H. Farnham, Mrs. H. Weddy.

After the address Miss Mills thanked her friends and invited all to visit her when settled in Picton.

Mr. Campbell also gave a hearty invitation to all.

All joined in singing "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow."

Sunday evening service was conducted by W.M.S. Mrs. F. Bennett is the speaker her subject being "Our Missionary Work in the West."

Dr. and Mrs. Latta, Kingston, visit his mother on Tuesday.

Mrs. Scott is very poorly, Mrs. Hoard is nursing her.

Roslin

Roslin, April 23 (By Mail)—Mr. and Mrs. Chas. O. White (nee Miss Hazel Staples) of Roslin were honoured guests at a shower given on Friday, April 11th, at the home of the groom's mother, 5th con. of Tyendinaga. Many beautiful and useful gifts were received. The evening was spent in dancing. The following address was read after which Junior served.

Dear Charlie and Hazel:

Your many friends and neighbors have gathered here tonight to wish you much joy, and to congratulate you on choosing each other as life partners. As your future partner through life you will find that you are settling in a good community.

Hoping you will accept these gifts as a token of our best wishes to you both.

Signed on behalf of your friends and neighbors: Billy Goodfellow, John McCann, Billy Cross.

The bride and groom thanked their friends in a few words. The party closed about two a.m.

Mr. and Mrs. White were married on March 29 at St. Paul's parsonage at Roslin by the Rev. Mr. Smith.

Spring Draws Reptiles Out

BURRS, April 23.—One nice day recently Mr. Fred Maines with his team went to get some stone from the foundation of the old Disciple church, and found clusters and bunches of snakes that had crawled out to sun themselves and some were crawling along. There were dozens of them. Mr. Maines looked them over and departed leaving them in undisputed possession.

Mr. and Mr. Murney Parks and Donald spent Friday with his mother, Mrs. Tom Ayrhart, Carrying Place.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burkitt went to Wellington on Friday to see Mr. Christopher Wright who is very ill.

Miss Vera Pyne, teacher at the South Settlement School, Madoc, is home for the holidays.

Mr. Roy Sykes and his mother, Picton, visited Mr. J. Moon on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Boyd, Belleville, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford McPaul and Emma, Misses Warner Arnold and Clare McPaul visited Mr. and Mrs. J. Moon on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Fox and Gerald, Victoria, spent Sunday with his sister, Mrs. Anna Clarke.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Noxon, Christian Street, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Doolittle on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mainss, Ekden and Mary June spent Sunday with her parents, Mr and Mrs. C. D. Peterson Christie Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hubbs, Mt. Pleasant, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Carley, Dorothy and Clarence, South Lakeside spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Erdo Hough.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wood, Jack and Leo spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Fern Morden.

3rd of Hillier

3rd Hillier (By Mail)—Mr. and Mrs. Norr's Dafoe and Mr. George Kemp were at Belleville on Saturday.

Mr. Clarke Clapp made his first trip to Belleville market on Saturday with a truck load of home made bread and buns.

Rev. Chinson McTear of Wellington held Easter services at the English church on Sunday.

Mrs. Herbert Petting spent the week at Mountain View at the home of Mr. Jas. R. Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Leavens spent Easter at Trenton with Mrs. Annie Smith.

Mrs. George Hardy spent Easter Sun day with her sister Mrs. H. Troumbour of Wellington.

The boys that trapped have taken up their traps as the fur price wasn't as good as last year, averaging from $1.25 this year.

The cold late spring is putting the farmers behind with their work on land.

The Librral Banquet at Hillier on Tuesday was well attended.

The Italian Government has appropriated £4,000,000 to build modern highways in Libya, a col ony in North Africa.

Dytint gives you more for your 10c than other tints

Dytint at 10c, gives you finer, truer colours, than any other tint at any price. Made in Canada.

BIG BOX Dytint TEN CENTS

The New and Better Tint

ON TOP where it belongs..

YOU can easily identify General Electric Refrigerators because all mechanism is mounted on top of the cabinet. That is where it should be.

Warm air extracted by the motor from the interior of the cabinet is set free above the cabinet . . . not around it. That is the secret of the unbelievably low cost for electric current. Within the top unit are the quiet motor the rest of the simple mechanism and a permanent supply of oil. These are all sealed airtight in an all-steel casing.

See the new all-steel models. Of the hundreds of thousands of owners of General Electric Refrigerators not one has paid a cent for service.

Easy Terms Arranged

GENERAL ELECTRIC

ALL-STEEL REFRIGERATOR

THE A.-C. SHOPS LIMITED

174 Front Street, Belleville

Guaranteed by CANADIAN GENERAL ELECTRIC CO., Limited

APRIL ESCAPADE

BY KATHLEEN NORRIS

"Let's say Washington again. We can't forget Washington."

"That's a grand place to be married!" she said innocently.

"Oh, by way, have you a handkerchief?"

"Yes. That's—" she said, with the sudden sapphire smile that lighted her whole classic face. "That's the only part of my trousseau that I bought myself."

She waved it, a flimsy bit of trifling edged with deep delicate lace.

"It was two dollars," she confessed. "But isn't it darling?"

Christopher pressed a bell.

"Peter," he said to the old man, who promptly appeared, "will you bring my cousin that white box in the hall? These are your violets, I thought of orchids," Christopher told her, as she began happily to investigate the white tissues. "But with that gown I'm glad it's violets."

Mary Kate bent her face over them, sniffed deeply.

"Oh, smell those—did you ever smell anything so delicious?" she said, making a long arm to extend them to him. She sized up, and watched herself in the mantel mirror, while she carefully pinned them on her shoulder.

The touch of royal purple was the last one needed, with the ivory satin, the shining hair, and the old pearls.

"I'll tell you frankly—why shouldn't I? I'll probably never see you after tomorrow," Chris said, "that you're ravishing! I dare you to keep that gown and be married in it. Come on, Mary," he said picking up her wrap, "we have to go."

He forked himself into his own light coat; he wore no hat.

"Exactly like a movie!" thought Mary Kate, in a very rapture over her gown and flowers her jewels and furred cape, her slippers, her escort, as they went out to the car.

She spoke very little on the mile drive. Christopher completed his instructions.

"Now remember, we have to take this with a rush. They won't suspect, unless we do something raw, and we've simply got to be careful. Just keep thinking how utterly indifferent you'll be if it was some other man with his wife, and keep your chin up. After all they're not going to ask us for our license, you know! Oh, Lord—"

"What is it?" Mary Kate asked, alarmed at his tone.

"Have you a wedding ring?" I—Oh yes, from the Five-and-Ten," she added hurriedly. "I thought of that!" she smiled.

"Then we're all set. And here we are. Now—up guards and at them!"

CHAPTER XVII

They entered another richly furnished, warmly lighted house, but not half so pretty as El Rancho, Mary Kate thought. This was an older house, comfortable, but not beautiful. The footman who was widely opened up on a wide hallway, on the soft, spring night and their host—familiar, easy Mr. Rountree—was crossing the hall as they came up the steps.

"Oh, hallo, then you are! The others are here," he said, welcoming them.

"You know Mrs. Steynes, Cordy!" Chris said.

"I should say I do. How do you do, Mrs. Steynes," Gordon Rountree said, with a broad significant smile. "Will you go in there and leave your coat? I'll wait for you, and take you in."

Mary Kate wishing herself well out of the whole silly thing, and thinking herself a fool, followed directions, and was promptly taken into a big, comfortable obviously bachelor suite of sitting and smoking and living rooms and, erally, where there was quite a formidable group of persons.

First came Doctor and Mrs. Ridley, nice, aristocratic, rather stupid-looking middle-aged persons, who were not in the least interested in her. Joe Davey Jon Archbold, the polo man, Harry Alnlee, Kent Ainsley.

"Clustens, may I present Mrs. Steynes. Mrs. Steynes, Countess Yarnowska. Countess Marka Yarnowska."

Mary Kate saw two lean, dark, rather sickly looking women facing her. They were sickly alike, except for a difference of some nineteen years. Both were shabby, ornate dresses cut extremely low, and dark, scrambled hair. Both wore elaborate jewelry, and heavy ear-rings.

"What do you say?" the older asked sharply, with an instant and astonished glance from the host to Christopher who was closely following Mary Kate.

"My wife," Christopher said. "Didn't you get my announcement?"

"You are married?" the senior countess asked blankly.

"A month ago, Countess. Was it not dear?" Christopher asked Mary Kate.

"Five weeks!" she answered reddening, but composed. "It was the twenty-third."

"You are married?" the European woman asked again, frowning.

"Suddenly," Christopher said.

"I—I—but, I do not understand," said Countess Yarnowska. "She is lycedful yare. But I do not know you are married."

She remained staring blankly, savagely, at Christopher. Mary Kate read the situation with an artless laugh.

"My very much surprised ourselves!" she confessed.

Gordon Rountree, who had gone off into a loud laugh at the remark of Mary Kate, now was recalled by a withering look from Christopher, and began to pass cahapes feverishly. The other men had gathered about the radiant vision that was young Mrs. Steynes, and Mary Kate was slyly fielding a little counsel.

"But—why you don't tell me!" demanded the Countess.

"It was very sudden," Christopher said, suavely.

"Sudden! But—but not so quick like that!" protested the European.

"I assure you we do everything very quickly, we Americans," the man persisted.

The younger Russian woman now spoke hurriedly to her mother in their own tongue. Their faces were dark and hungry, but Mary Kate, fluttering laughing and talking in a ring of young males, assured herself that there was no suspicion.

"My daughter says that she don' like to be so," he like this," said Countess Yarnowska, flatly. The younger woman lacked defiantly at Christopher, her head high.

"You should have had an announcement in the mail," Christopher explained.

"Come on. Everyone come out to dinner!" Gordon Rountree said hospitably. He rather bustled his distinguished guests towards the dining-room, where a long and brilliant board was banked with spikes of pale blue delphinium and exquisite pink roses.

Nice, dull, elderly, Mrs. Ridley was on the host's left, the elder Countess on his right.

"Mrs. Steynes," said Mary Kate O'Hara's employer, "will you take the foot of the table, and be the Mama? Chris do you want to sit next to your wife? Doctor, will you take that chair, next to the Countess Marka, —now, does that come out right?

"You look like a duchess!" Chris said in an undertone with a quick glance of encouragement to Mary Kate as he sat down

"Here, no whispering!" Gordon Rountree said.

"I was saying something nice to Mary!" Chris confessed gaily.

"Mary is the wife thta I don't know he has," the Countess said unflaggingly aspriewdly. "When we meet him in so. Grandfather Goldsborough's house—"

"No, I was a Deane," Mary Kate said calmly. Gordon and Christopher, who had both halted, with soup spoons in air, resumed their meal.

"Now, when Mrs. Ridley and I were in Russia," said Doctor Ridley, with pleasant pompousness, as he turned toward the Countess Marka. "I said to up my mind to get a boxing acquaintance at least, with your language. Difficult language! The chief difficulty for us Americans, I believe I am right in saying—"

Marka gave him a look of hate; he saw nothing amiss. It was his duty to talk to her for a while, and that to her he would. He was a trifle overweight, as was also his wife, up there next to the head of the table, in their blue satin. They smiled contentedly at each other when the roast came along.

Now and then he looked with great satisfaction at that beautiful girl who was taking the foot of the table. Lovely creature! She was quite a picture in that old-fashioned gown. Lucky fellow, young Keyes or Bayles or whatever his name was.

"Do you play golf, Mrs. Steynes?" The young men were all discussing an approaching golf match.

"No, but I want to!"

And she glanced dutifully, loyally, at Christopher.

"You've delayed your trip to China?" he asked, over one steamer—yes."

"I think you had better that your husband take you, too!" the Countess listening from the other end of the table, put in venomously. "You know this men they forget their good little Mary wives, when they come to Russia!"

"Oh, I shall go this time," Mary Kate who was beginning to enjoy herself in a frightened sort of excited way, said amiably.

"Some day you are not afraid—" the Countess purwued, "that someone show you the letter he write?"

Mary Kate glanced unamiingly at Christopher again.

"I know he's a terror," she admitted mildly.

It was all so smooth. It was all so easy!

"We have almost three good bridge tables for after dinner. Gordon Rountree, who was a man of one idea, at least as far as evening amusement was concerned, said wistfully.

"Oh, I'll watch!" Mary Kate offered eagerly. "I'd really like to sit beside Chris' chair, and watch!"

She hadn't seen it coming, but the name sounded smooth and natural. Her sapphire eyes moved; Chris Steynes was looking at her with an odd expression, an expression that brought the uneasy, puzzled color up into her cheeks.

"Let's all cut in!" said one of the young men.

"Sure, have two tables, and we'll cut, Cordy."

"Telephone old van Antwerp—he's right about to read here, he loves bridge!"

Mary Kate's mouth went suddenly dry; her hands were cold. She felt her heart thump heavily, sickly.

"He's in town, telephoned about an hour ago," the host said, and she could breathe again. But what an escape!

Her palms were wet, and she felt that all that had crowded from her face return again.

"You're like Mary Queen of Scots," Chris said. "You know they said that when she drank wine it could be seen through the transparency of her throat."

"I don't think, if I drank ink, it would show," Mary Kate said amusedly.

"You ask me when we sail? We sail on Sunday," said the Countess heavily, in a pause. "We go to my country—to Russia, where my girl will marry with her again. He have no money—his property is taken away by the revolutionists—but what can he do? If she lives are not here, he will be Tzar—"

The Christopher, who spoke English at least as well as her mother, now proudly and persistently interposed a few rapid words in her own tongue, and, glancing scornfully about her at the company, lapsed into silence again.

"My girl say that he is too old, he is fifty, he have a his twenty," the Countess explained.

"Here, I'm interpreting!" Gordon Rountree said.

"I was saying something nice to Mary!" Chris confessed gaily.

"Mary is the wife thta I don't know he has," the Countess said unflaggingly aspriewdly. "When we meet him in so. Grandfather Goldsborough's house—"

"No, I was a Deane," Mary Kate said calmly. Gordon and Christopher, who had both halted, with soup spoons in air, resumed their meal.

"Now, when Mrs. Ridley and I were in Russia," said Doctor Ridley, with pleasant pompousness, as he turned toward the Countess Marka. "I said to up my mind to get a boxing acquaintance at least, with your language. Difficult language! The chief difficulty for us Americans, I believe I am right in saying—"

Marka gave him a look of hate; he saw nothing amiss. It was his duty to talk to her for a while, and that to her he would. He was a trifle overweight, as was also his wife, up there next to the head of the table, in their blue satin. They smiled contentedly at each other when the roast came along.

Now and then he looked with great satisfaction at that beautiful girl who was taking the foot of the table. Lovely creature! She was quite a picture in that old-fashioned gown. Lucky fellow, young Keyes or Bayles or whatever his name was.

"Do you play golf, Mrs. Steynes?" The young men were all discussing an approaching golf match.

"No, but I want to!"

And she glanced dutifully, loyally, at Christopher.

"You've delayed your trip to China?" he asked, over one steamer—yes."

"I think you had better that your husband take you, too!" the Countess listening from the other end of the table, put in venomously. "You know this men they forget their good little Mary wives, when they come to Russia!"

"Oh, I shall go this time," Mary Kate who was beginning to enjoy herself in a frightened sort of excited way, said amiably.

"Some day you are not afraid—" the Countess purwued, "that someone show you the letter he write?"

Mary Kate glanced unamiingly at Christopher again.

"I know he's a terror," she admitted mildly.

It was all so smooth. It was all so easy!

"We have almost three good bridge tables for after dinner. Gordon Rountree, who was a man of one idea, at least as far as evening amusement was concerned, said wistfully.

"Oh, I'll watch!" Mary Kate offered eagerly. "I'd really like to sit beside Chris' chair, and watch!"

She hadn't seen it coming, but the name sounded smooth and natural. Her sapphire eyes moved; Chris Steynes was looking at her with an odd expression, an expression that brought the uneasy, puzzled color up into her cheeks.

"Let's all cut in!" said one of the young men.

"Sure, have two tables, and we'll cut, Cordy."

"Telephone old van Antwerp—he's

McLAREN'S INVINCIBLE OLIVES

A QUALITY PRODUCT PACKED IN 3 MONTHS SUPPLY IN USE

FRIEND—"Hullo, Brown! What's wrong?"
BROWN—"My wife asked me to stop smoking when we were first married, but I simply can't watch it and smell!"

Lovers of fine tea prefer Salada quality to premiums

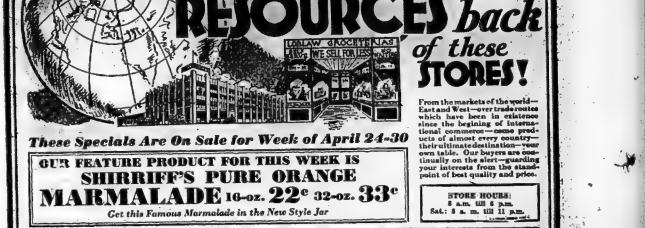
"SALADA" TEA

'Fresh from the gardens'

He was flapping the silver ribbons on her violets, to end it, to, assist her shoulder.

"It what?" he asked, inconsequentially, foolishly.

Mary Kate looked at him sharply. Was he intoxicated. But no, he was merely a very handsome, blond, perfectly ordinary young man in evening dress, speaking and laughing in rather mysterious confusion, his face close to her cheek.



Pressure of light came from the door to the terrace; she was in a hall of it, but she could not see his face very well.

"You said—" he muttered.

"Oh, working" he echoed. He was suddenly, to his relief, his businesslike self again. "It's simply a knockout. Can't you see that yourself? The old girl was staggered, for a few minutes, her whole off on a new track. We'll complete the job with that lunch tomorrow, probably. She's sort of sliding out of it, now."

"Oh, I'm so glad."

"It's simply perfect, I tell you. Come on back, and carry on." Christopher said an urgent hand under her elbow, and Mary Kate went back into the warmth and noise of the brightly lighted room, to play cards.

These Specials Are On Sale for Week of April 24-30

From the markets of the world—East and West—are our trade routes which have been in existence since the beginning of International commerce—some products of almost every country—their ultimate destination—your own table. Our buyers are continually on the alert—guarding your interests from the standpoint of best quality and price.

STORE HOURS:
8 a.m. till 6 p.m.
Sat.: 8 a.m. till 11 p.m.

GUR FEATURE PRODUCT FOR THIS WEEK IS
SHIRRIFF'S PURE ORANGE MARMALADE 16-oz. 22c 32-oz. 33c
Get this Famous Marmalade in the New Style Jar

Gillet Mother Hard Water like Rain Water..... Pkg. 10c
Gillet Christmas Tin 24c
A Scented Bathing Tot makes Tougher tasting Pastry—Economical Tin 45c
Malted Milk HORLICK'S—"Genuine or Natural"..... Small Size 45c
Pearl Barley MACKAY'S Moderated Pound 7c
"The Standard of the World"

SPECIAL—Loblaw's Blue Label
TEA Black or Mixed ½-lb. 31c 1-lb. 61c
As good if not better than most packaged teas on the market.

SPECIAL—Lunch Queen
OLIVES "B" Mason Jar 19c
Regular Price 31c Jar

Seedless Raisins CALIFORNIA—Quality..... 2 Lbs. 25c
Golden Hallowi Dates Fresh, Large and Meaty..... 2 Lbs. 22c
Peaches DELMONTE Brand—Fancy Quality—Halves or Sliced..... Tin 24c
Peaches DELMONTE Brand—Fancy Quality—Malfa Halves—No. 2½ Size Tin 36c

Skinless Figs TEXAS—Delicious and Appetizing—Mesh, 10-oz. Jar..... Jar 79c
Domestic Shortening CHARM Brand—For better satisfaction—1-lb. Tin..... Pkg. 17c
Baking Powder CHARM Brand—For better satisfaction—1-lb. Tin..... Tin 21c

SPECIAL—
SHELF 2-lb. Roll
SANI PAPER 32c
Clean and tidy shelves at very low cost.

Pickles QUEENLAND—Sweet Mixed and Sweet Mustard—Jar..... Jar 29c
Homemade Pickles LIBBY'S..... Lge. Bottle 24c
Beef, Iodized Puts the Beef into You—8-oz. Bottle..... Bottle 41c
Custard Powder BIRD'S Imperial—Creamy and Eggless..... Pkg. 17c

Shoe Polish NUGGET—Improved—Tin from Each..... Tin 12c
Bab-O Cleanser Powdered—Specially for Enamel—Tin "Something New"..... Tin 14c
Canned Grapefruit DAINTY DIXIE—"It's Delicious"—Bullet Size Tin..... 2 Tins 25c

SPECIAL—Aylmer Fancy Quality
PEACHES No. 2 Size Tin 23c
You would think they were fresh from the tree.

Castili's Macaroni The food to grow on 2 Pkgs. 23c
RINSO Soaks Clothes Whiter 3 Pkgs. 25c
Red River CEREAL Nature's food for young and old Pkg. 24c
LILY BRAND CHICKEN HADDIE Direct from the ocean to your table Tin 21c
H.P. SAUCE The One and only Bottle 26c
Lather-O For soiled and stained hands 2 Cakes 25c

SPECIAL—Quaker
Corn Flakes Fresh and Crisp 2 Pkgs. 15c

SPECIAL—C & B's Branston
Pickles 8-oz. Jar 21c

94 Grocerias In Ontario
Self Serve LOBLAW GROCERIAS Cash and Carry
We Sell For Less

Borden's St. Charles Milk
—an unsweetened milk twice as rich as the ordinary kind. It improves every receipt calling for milk.
MAIL COUPON
THE BORDEN CO. LIMITED, 180 St. Paul Street West, Montreal, Dept. 000.
I would like St. Charles Recipe Book, free. 75
NAME
ADDRESS

GIRL UNAFRAID

BY

Gladys Johnson

A few weeks later, Ken entered Cecile's boudoir. His face pale with anger, lips nervously compressed.

Though it was the middle of the afternoon he found Cecile in the hands of her maid.

Marriage and motherhood had made little difference to Cecile's hands. Her beauty was still her chief concern. It was a rather a startling apparition which greeted her husband's eyes today. Overhead in a sheet Cecile lay on the day bed and her face was an astonishing dark green.

At Ken's voice she opened her eyes and made frantic movements with her hands which the gaunt Swedish maid interpreted grudgingly.

"Mrs. Gleason is having a day mask by mask, sir. If she talks she'll crack it."

"I'm sorry to interrupt at such a time, Cecile," Ken's voice was tight, "but it seems impossible to get a word with you an any other hour and I must speak with you in private."

With immobile face but blazing eyes Cecile parted her lips long enough to say forlornly, "Then I have to wait. This must not be disturbed for an hour."

"And one will be too late for my purpose," Ken replied firmly. "I've tried to see you all day. I must ask you to manage this."

KEN INSISTS

A cry of warning from the maid, "Don't frown, Mrs. Gleason!"

At any other time it would have tickled Ken's quick sense of humor to watch Cecile trying to be angry with a screen face. She struggled up, wound in the sheet, and waved the maid away.

"Oh, all right! Go on out, Alma. I'll ring when I want you."

The woman went, resentment showing in every line of her broad back.

"Now," said Cecile when they were alone, "perhaps you'll explain the reason for this intrusion!"

Ken raised his brows. "Rather a strong word isn't it? I intruded—as you call it—because you make it impossible for me to see you at any other time. One would think on deliberately tried to avoid me, Cecile. And I had to see you. I just learned that you invited Cyril Underhill to our dinner party tonight."

"Well?"

"You know I dislike the fellow."

"Is my future life to be ruled by your likes and dislikes?"

"That's not fair!" A hurt warmth crept in despite Ken's efforts to keep calm. "It isn't that I want to force my private tastes on you. But you know how I dislike that fellow. A male gossip.... a charlatan...."

"That's your opinion. Others receive him. He was at Cornelia Gaines' party last week."

THE CLAWS EXTEND

Ken's face darkened. "You've only made his case worse in my eyes. Other people whom we know—and value—Lou, Mary Eastwood never invited him. You never see him at the Perkyrths's."

Cecile forgot the injunction of her maid and the green clay split in a thousand cracks as she scowled.

"Then would you be good enough to care who they invite? Cyril wouldn't go to their dull parties anyway—"

Ken flushed to keep his temper. "I'm asking you, Cecile—put it as a favor if you wish, to please not invite this fellow to the house. I've heard some of his remarks about women and it doesn't suit my wife shall be gossiped about."

Cecile's voice was ghastly. "Oh, you are giving orders!"

Ken flushed. "An order to prevent my wife and my home from a slander's tongue."

Again, the white teeth flashed in the dark green mask.

"You're suddenly solicitous about your wife," she said acidly and there was the hint of a cat in her voice. "Perhaps if you worried more about your own reputation it would be more to the point."

CECILE THREATENS

He regarded her with narrowed eyes. "What are you driving at?"

"You know." Spit in her soft tone. "But I am not surprised to know that it startles you to learn that I do as well. Well...we understand each other, Ken. I'll speak even more clearly. I'll allow you as much leeway—as she said her long white hands a short space apart. "So—so much, Ken." She nodded her head. "That is all. Therefore, you can see, as far as Cyril is concerned—he comes to the dinner tonight. And you will be pleasant to him."

The joker's eyes were blazing. "I don't know what you're talking about. And if that fellow comes here—"

"Please!" She held up one hand in affected weariness. "Don't shout. There is no need of taking the servants into the arguement." Then, with a sudden furious change, her eyes glared and her teeth were bared. "You'll do as I say, do you hear? If you don't you'll be sorry! You'll—you'll—" She hesitated, at a loss to vent her spleen. "Look here," she went on in a low furious voice, "as long as you can go sneaking off to visit our shopgirl, I'll invite whom I please—"

Amazement in his glance. "Why.... what are you talking about?"

"I'll show you!" The sheet snapped as her heels as she ran over to the dresser. She flung back the lid of a jewel case. Picked up something between the thumb and forefinger; held it out to him.

CECILE PLAYS HER ACE

"There! Didn't know I held the ace, did you?"

She put the tiny object on her palm. A small flower, made of seed pearls.

"The baby's nurse found this in his hand one Sunday after you had taken him out....calling on your shopgirl! I recognized it at once. I remember the day Jeanette bought that chain for the shop. It was imported, the only one of its kind. Now, what have you to say?" Her eyes were half closed in triumph as she faced him, so that they looked like pale slits in a mask of jade.

Ken's eyes had gone bleak. "Just this—no matter what you may choose to think, that meeting was entirely harmless. If fault lies anywhere, it is with me. It was weak enough to see her. But you mustn't blame her—"

Cecile's lip curled. "Blame her! I don't even consider her! But—I think this makes us quits!"

A MESSAGE TO ARDETH

The man's mouth tightened. "No. It doesn't enter into the case. I am making no pact with you, Cecile. I repeat the request I came in here to make. I do not wish Cyril Underhill received in his house I have asked you to do me the consideration—"

"And I—" Cecile said through her teeth, "have decided that he shall come here whenever I wish! If you make a scene I'll drag in your shop-girl—"

"Leave her out!"

"Has she ever been out?" asked Cecile with false sweetness. "Do you think I'm a fool? I know she was trying to get you. And I'll tell you something further and you can pass it on to her. You're mine! She can't ever get anything of mine away from me! Her little game will do her no good! I'll never give you a divorce. Tell her that for me!"

To Be Continued

Happy Easter Services Were Held in Madoc

Easter Day Messages From Pulpits on Sunday

Madoc, April 23 Mail—Mrs. Hugh Davies and daughters, of Tweed, are spending the Easter holidays with her mother Mrs. A. H. Wasten and brother, Mr. Jas. H. Wasten, in Madoc.

Hubert J. Nickle left on Saturday to resume work in the Hydro near Caldwell's Mills.

Mrs. A. H. Watson of Madoc, and Miss Kate Ross of Brighton, are spending the Easter vacation at Niagara Falls.

Mr. E. T. Naylor had the misfortune to break a small bone in his ankle on Wednesday last, while getting a pail of water. After an X-ray the foot has been placed in a caster and Mr. Naylor is resting as well as can be expected.

Robert Burnett of Toronto is spending a few days with his father in Madoc.

Miss Marion Henderson of Ontario Ladies' College, Whitby, is visiting friends in town during the Easter vacation.

Miss Lucy Foster of Moira is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Foster for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Smith and children of Fakenham, are the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jones of Crookston, and are to spend some days with friends in Madoc during the Easter holidays.

Miss Lillian Connor of Belleville, is the guest of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Connor, for a few days.

Mr. Benson Kincaid of Toronto is at home for Easter.

Mr. H. Kincaid of Toronto arrived to spend the Easter vacation with his family in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam McGuire and son Harry, of Belleville are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Montgomery, Marmora, for Easter.

Miss Lillian Hart is spending her vacation with friends in Toronto.

WOMEN ARE ASKING

How They Can Regain Lost Strength and Energy.

"Is there anything that will give me back my natural color and the strength I once had?" That is the question many over-worked, thin-blooded girls and women are anxiously seeking. Worry, and in many cases work beyond their strength have people their vitality. Tired and run down all the time, getting through their day's work only by strength of will, it is surprising that they avoid serious illness. They eat little, and do not properly digest that, while weakness increases until merely going upstairs causes breathlessness and palpitation. All these sufferers are "run down of blood" that is probably the correct enemy. It is well known, too, that nervous disorders have their beginning in thin blood.

The most reliable blood enricher and nerve tonic is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Far better than anything else, they meet the need of pale, weak, nervous women who drag about never quite well and never strong enough for their day's work. These pills renew and enrich the blood, and the daily evidence of their value is the praise given them by happy, healthy girls and women in every part of Canada.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Rawdon

Mr. and Mrs. John Booth of Campbellford spent Easter Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sharpe.

Friends here were very sorry to hear of the death of Rev. W. H. Montgomery of Roslin. For the past year and a half he was pastor of Knox Presbyterian Church, Fuller, also Pontypool and Roslin and during that time he and his wife made many friends. Three weeks ago he was compelled to give up his work and on Saturday, April 12th he passed to the Great Beyond. The funeral was held on Tuesday at Roslin and interment made at Pleasant Hearthill sympathy is extended to the sorrowing wife.

Misses Anna and Agnes Sharpe are holidaying with Miss Ethel Hagerman.

Mr. Edward Montgomery and Willie also Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Montgomery and family of DunDonald spent Sunday with Mr. John Montgomery, Marmora.

Mrs. Miller Carl of Mt. Charleston spent the holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Garrison.

Miss Winnie Sharpe and brother, Kenneth were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Post, Rossmore, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Conley and family of Lindsay, spent the holiday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hutchinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sharpe, Selkirk and Jack Wellman, Mr. Herb. Thrasher of Missoula, Montanna, were Easter guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thrasher.

Mr. and Mrs. Ham Donnan were guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Roslin and Silverman made at Pleasant Hearthill sympathy is extended to the sorrowing wife.

Mr. Albert Green of Whitby visited relatives here over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb. David and family of Picton, and Miss Lenora Williams of Toronto were Easter guests of their parents Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fitzgerald of Belleville, spent Easter with Mr. and Mrs. John Holmes.

Miss Winnie Telford of Bridgenorth, spent the holiday with her friends, Miss Isobel Turner.

Mr. and Mrs. Songer McConnell, Olive and Norman were recent guests of Mrs. M. J. Hallett, Fuller.

We were pleased to have Mr. and Mrs. Morris Rose and family with us at the morning worship at Mount Pleasant and we bid them welcome to our community. Mr. Rose is engaged as cheesemaker at Central Factory.

A large number of visitors attended service at Mount Pleasant on Easter morning and joined with the ecumnum in worship. The choir rendered the anthems "The Dawning of Easter" and "Christ the Lord is Risen today" the duett in the latter was taken by Mesdames E. McKeown and C. Sharpe and Messrs. Ernest White and John Sergeins. The pianist Miss Olive McConnell rendered suitable preludes, offertories and march outs. The pastor outlined a splended Easter message and particularly referred to the work of the W.M.S. as is the usual custom the annual missionary thank-offering was taken and the auxiliary announced to sixty-six dollars and seventy-seven cents ($66.77) an dthe Mission Band eighten dollars and sixty-five cents ($18.65). This will go towards the allocation of four hundred dollars.

Mesars Carl and Reg. Barton of Havelock, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John MacMullen on Sunday.

Misses Mary McDonald and Maggie Rita spent Sunday visiting Mrs. Percy MacMullen.

Allisonville

Allisonville, April 24 (By Mail)—Mr. and Mrs. Peter Cave of Bloomfield and Miss Rosie Cave of Toronto were the guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Birth, Monday.

There are more than a quarter of a million stamp collectors in the United States.

Billet Legge.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Calnan of Picton called in our vicinity on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Carrurie of Belleville, spent Easter Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Brason.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burfitt was at homs to a number of friends Sunday.

There are still about 1800 postwomen doing duty in various parts of England. They as now agitating for a new style in hats.

19,813 WORLD-FAMOUS BEAUTY EXPERTS ADVISE PALMOLIVE!

"We advise Palmolive"

... because of its safe, soothing cosmetic oils"

says

W. T. PEMBER

well-known beauty expert of TORONTO

SOAP and water cleanliness is a basic part of all our home beauty treatments. But not any soap will do. We specify Palmolive." So says this beauty shop. And more than 19,800 beauty specialists of distinction, here and abroad, also specify Palmolive.

Why vegetable oils are best

There is soothing, penetrating quality about a vegetable oil soap lather that searches down into the tiniest pores and frees them of the day's accumulation without hurting the delicate skin. As you know, the skin is very sensitive, and must be very carefully handled. Palmolive Soap lather cleanses without irritation. It leaves the skin soft and smooth, and in wonderful condition for your beauty expert's treatment.

Dangers to skin beauty

Unless the skin is thoroughly cleansed twice a day, dirt and dust and cream and make-up gather in the pores of your face and soon become hard little accumulations which develop into blackheads and pimples. These unsightly blemishes are a sign of neglect on your own part. Use the right soap, use the right cleansing method, and you are taking the best steps toward complexion beauty.

Palmolive is a pure vegetable oil soap. Its color is the natural color of palm and olive oils. The delicate natural odor of these vegetable oils makes the addition of heavy perfumes unnecessary.

With both hands make a smooth lather of Palmolive Soap and warm water. Massage this gently into the skin, both face and throat, for about two minutes. Then rinse it off with warm water until you can actually feel the accumulation being swept away. Now, give a final rinse with cold water, even icy water. This is refreshing, and closes the pores, preventing too much dirt and grease from getting underneath the surface of the skin.

Consult your beauty expert

There is only one personwe uly qualified to advise you, and that is a trained professional beauty expert, who has spent time and study learning how best to care for your good locks. When she tells you to use Palmolive, you have the highest possible authority, and 19,813 such experts, today, advise this vegetable oil soap. You will probably use it for the bath as well as the face. It costs only 10c a cake, you know ... little enough to pay for a safeguard to beauty.

The operators of the W. T. PemberStores, Limited, are among the most important beauty experts of Toronto, and this beauty shop is representative of the highest professional standards.

W. T. Pember, the leader in the beauty profession, represents a salon with modern, scientific methods and a skilful, well-trained staff. It is such experts who advise their patrons to use Palmolive Soap.

"Your skin must be kept clean and free of irritation. The vegetable oils in Palmolive Soap are soothing, refreshing, penetrating. You should use this palm and olive oil soap twice a day to safeguard complexion beauty."

W. T. PEMBER
129 and 272 Yonge St., Toronto

PALMOLIVE

PALMOLIVE SOAP

Retail Price 10c

RETAIN CAN ADIAN BASKETBALL TITLE WITH EASE

Above are pictured the Edmonton Grads Basketball team, holders of the World's title, who again won the Canadian championship this year in a series of games played against Toronto Lakeside Ladies. Above are the champions and the group in cludes: McCormack, MacBurney, Sry, Neale, Benne, and Brown, all of whom have playeg for years on the team with them after time has turned back p haimers.

Honour with Profit

CANADA is proud of the grain and livestock records established by her farmers in the face of international competition. Success in any branch of farming comes with a knowledge of the best methods.

"Feeding and Better Livestock" is a booklet issued by this Bank to help the Canadian farmer increase his profits. Ask for a copy.

The Royal Bank of Canada

Belleville Branch W. A. Parker, Manager

THE ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER
THE DAILY ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER is published every afternoon (Sunday and holidays excepted) at The Ontario Intelligencer Building, Front Street.
RATES—DAILY EDITION:

Year, delivered in city $7.20
Year, by mail to rural offices 3.60
Year, to U.S.A. 5.10

Toronto Representative—D. O. McKinnon, 43 Victoria Street
W. H. MORTON, Publisher

THE LAUREATESHIP

English laureates have found it hard to rise to the occasion and write national verse. Indeed national verse is most difficult to write. Rome had two national writers who lived at the court of Augustus, no lesser figures than the great Horace, writer of odes, and the incomparable Virgil, who wrote the Aeneid the story of Aeneas founder of Rome. Pindar in Greek days and Homer wrote verse of the greatest rank but evidently none were in just the position of the modern laureate.

The death of Dr. Robert Bridges, British poet laureate, recalls the figures of Tennyson and Wordsworth in the nineteenth century who were laureates. Wordsworth hardly wrote great national verse but Tennyson did fine work. Chaucer, father of English poetry, was the first of laureates.

The question of the office is one of inspiration. Can a poet write his best at order? Or must he sing as the bird sings not because he is commanded but because he must? General opinion clings to this latter view and hence places no great stake on the laureateship.

Were the man chosen laureate one who had moved in the political spheres and in the realm of statecraft there is a possibility that he might achieve excellent verse. But it appears as if one has to be to the manner born or at least actually inspired at heart. Chaucer filled these two requirements for he lived in court circles and he had the inspiration.

The late Dr. Bridges was of the classical trend of mind. English literature has a number of poets of this type though they seldom have been romanticists and some of her great men have been realists. Dr. Bridges belongs not to the Shakespearian surging dynamic type but to that represented by the serene Sophocles of Athens. He misses the violence and rugged strength of a Kipling. In the world of action it is perhaps well to have this quietist type as an offset. Bridges was a classical scholar who devoted a great deal of attention to form. He was a master of rhythms. His style is said to have improved to the end of his life. As one writer says he never poses, never shouts, never indulges in any factitious moods to swell passion. "He might be called a quietist who has a keen eye for the beauties of nature and the amenities of rural existence, a man of more of 'harrowing of clods' than 'the breaking of nations,' whose interest is in the sights, sounds, colors, and placid scenes of the English landscape rather than the jingle of traffic or uproar of excited crowds."

It does seem as if the laureate's office ought not to impose tasks of writing poetry on occasion. The greatest glory of any regime is to have the best poetry produced, not necessarily to have it ordered for the occasion.

WAR MEMORIAL

The outsoken attitude of some of those who are interested in a memorial to the war dead of this city will meet with general approval. It does seem that the time has arrived for action of some kind. Whatever the form the memorial takes it should be made certain that the memorial ought to become a matter of fact on an almost immediate decision to do something in way of commemorating the fallen.

Projects enough have been presented to the public in regard to the form of the memorial and if the city is to do anything it ought to do it now before the war is too far distant. The longer the decision is delayed the more difficult it will be to get action.

Next Tuesday evening the citizens should crowd the city hall and voice their opinion in regard to a plan now being mooted and to any other plans which might come forward.

EXAMS.

Premier Ferguson told a meeting of educationists in Toronto on Tuesday that it was planned to eliminate some of the tests in the collegiates and base the rewards on term work.

This is what has been going on in the public schools for some time when scholars come up for entrance to high schools and collegiates.

Truly the world does change. The examination of the old time will never be forgotten by anyone who had to pass through the grueling when everything was submitted to the test. But this bugbear of the old days has been slowly passing away. Soon it will be largely gone.

WHAT IS A LAUGH?

When is a laugh one which will last? Bernard Shaw has lately been saying that his plays may be as dull as ditch water in the ages to come, though he has made millions laugh at his quips and cranks and his satire on modern institutions and conventions.

Those who have read Shaw and have seen his plays do not think his work can quite pass away. Though doubtless much of it is of this age, much must be of every age. Of course at times it is hard to tell what has the real germ of laughter within it. Dickens had it and so did others and their work has outlived them. It may be the same with Shaw.

SIDELIGHTS

A SICK MAN PLEADS WITH HIS WIFE

When I am sick, sit by my bed
And hold my hand and stroke my head,
And bring me dainties now and then
Until I say I'm well again.

Don't leave the room and me alone,
Let others use the telephone.
Let others when the doorbell rings
Take in what mail the postman brings.

And if, by chance, should company call
Don't stay out talking in the hall.
If you've a secret you would tell
Please let it wait 'till I get well.
Oh, wife, remain with me I beg
And serve my drink of milk and egg.
And if I groan, please do not scold
Or say: "You're not a seven-year-old!"

Of when I've called the doctor in
Don't stand beside my bed and grin.
When I my symptoms dire relate
Don't say: "It's something that he ate."

Beside my bed draw up your chair
And sigh to show me that You care.
Have pity for my sorry plight,
Don't try to tell me I'm all right!

• • •

EASTER SUNDAY in New York city was bright and beautiful and the usual Easter parade was held on Fifth Avenue where wealth and fashion is wont to disport. Fifth Avenue was crowded by high hats and low necks and the latest fashions were sure shown in all their beauty and eccentricity. In contrast Urbain Ledoux, "Mr. Zero of the Tub," paraded his jobless army from St. Patrick's Cathedral to Forty-Second Street, a march intended to remind those better off than they that poverty exists in the midst of plenty. Mr. Zero provides meals and a place to sleep for many of the unemployed and at times has pressed down town churches into use for a place to sleep. His chief business in life is procuring funds to keep his army from becoming desperate and a menace to society.

• • •

AT ELECTION TIME we hear a lot of the army of Canadians who have left Canada for the United States to live. Now we are hearing a lot agout the Yanks who are deporting Canadians. Seems as though Uncle Sam does not appreciate good citizens such as Canadians and such an attitude will help to keep our young Canadians at home in the future. Seems as if Uncle Sam would be better employed deporting gunmen, anarchists and all kinds of bad citizens from the slums of Europe than in asking good Canadians to go back home.

• • •

AFTER A LONG hard Winter, the canyons and hall led rooms of New York city were emptied last Sunday when Old Sol in all his glory chased away the clouds and invited the folks to Coney Island, the pleasure park of millions of the common folks of whom it has been said the Lord must have liked them because he made so many of them. A crowd of 100,000 said good-by to winter welcome summer at old Coney and contributed to the happy hilarity and noise of this famous summer resort.

• • •

ALSO WHO DOES HARTFORD CONNI—

How much did Philadelphia Pa?
How much does Columbia O?
How many eggs did Louisiana La?
What grass did Joplin Mo?
We call Minneapolis Minn,
Why not Annapolis Ann?
If you can't tell the reason why,
Perhaps Topeka Kan. Two bells.
—The Log.

• • •

Appeal for Justice.—Mother—"Come, Freddie, and kiss your Aunt Martha."
Freddie.—"Why, Ma, I ain't done nuthin!"—Stray Stories.

• • •

Literary Bunions.—"There's a lot of lame verse in this book."
"Well, what do you expect in limp leather?"—Brooklyn Eagle.

• • •

Traveler's Tale.—Dr. Cook is to be released from Leavenworth, but will probably have trouble convincing anybody he was really there.—New York Sun.

• • •

MODERN ETIQUETTE
By Roberta Lee

Q.—Is it considered good form to use the initials R. S. V. P. on cards or invitations?

A.—No. It is not necessary to tell a person when to answer, for they should know without being told.

Q.—In whose name should wedding invitations be sent?

A.—The bride's parents.

Q.—Should women wear gloves at a formal dinner?

A.—Yes; they should be removed only at the table.

DEMONSTRATION

A GOOD Paint, Varnish or Lacquer, if properly applied, will produce a beautiful finish on any surface ● You need not hesitate to attempt any painting or varnishing job, providing you obtain the proper product and know how it is to be used ● You are desirous at times of doing over some article of furniture, your woodwork or your floors, but you hesitate, not being sure of your ability to bring about the finish wanted.

ROGERS BRUSH-ING LACQUER
Dries white you wait—for Furniture and Brico-Brac.

ROGERS POLISH
A high grade Polish for all surfaces.

QUICKOTE
Four Hour Enamel for any Interior finish.

NEU-VAR.
A Four Hour Varnish for general use.

NEU-GLOS
Medium Gloss, Quick Drying Interior Enamel Finish.

MARBLE-LITE
Is a gloss by itself as a Floor Varnish.

WOOD-LAC VARNISH STAIN
A Varnish and Stain combined, for new or old work.

NEU-TONE
An Oil Paint for Flat Wall Finish.

MARTIN-SENOUR PAINT

IMPROVED SERVICE IN OUR PAINT DEPARTMENT

We have been careful in selecting the MARTIN-SENOUR 100% PURE line of Paints, Varnishes and Lacquers, and are convinced we can pass on to our customers the best obtainable ● The Martin-Senour Co. is just as anxious as we are that you become fully acquainted with their various products, and have arranged for their representative to be at our store on the following dates to demonstrate and give complete instructions on the application of any one of their products ● Be sure and bring in your painting problems at this time ● We are assured that advice of any nature will be gladly given.

To further advertise Martin-Senour Products in our locality, we offer you the Coupon below ● We do this, believing that those of you who have not been in the habit of using these high grade goods will be so well satisfied after your purchase that you will become a regular paint customer.

MARTIN-SENOUR 100% PURE PAINT —SPEAKS FOR ITSELF

REMEMBER THE DATES
APRIL 25th & 26th
Coupon Redeemable On Demonstration Dates Only.

THIS COUPON ENTITLES ME TO A REBATE OF 25 CENTS
ON THE PRICE OF ANY MARTIN-SENOUR PRODUCT
Name
Address

SMITH HARDWARE
314 FRONT STREET
BELLEVILLE

The Bogey Man and the Dark

WHY CHILDREN FEAR THEM

By Louis E. Bisch, M. D., Ph. D.
Famous Authority on Health and Psychology

Fear of the dark upsets more grown ups than one might think. And, of course, it is one of the most common and pronounced fears to be found among children.

There is a cause for everything and this applies to fear of the dark in particular.

When fear of the dark persists in adulthood this cause must be looked for in childhood.

Parents are to blame, usually, if such a fear develops in a child, because a baby, in its earliest days, sleeps peacefully in the dark.

Usually it is only after children hear about bears and wolves and hobgoblins that they become afraid.

That is the way that adults make children fearful.

The dark is of course a place of mystery.

In imagination we readily people the dark with all sorts of grotesque and often hideous figures and shapes.

Again the dark harbors the unknown.

And the unknown, from time immemorial, has been awe-inspiring.

Another reason why darkness is upsetting of mind is because it deprives us of sight.

Not to see with the eyes shut is natural.

But not to be able to see with the eyes open—as when in the dark—is specially disturbing.

Children, of course, are affected by all these things much more than adults.

The experience of adults steadies them.

It is questionable whether any adult would be afraid of the dark were it not for the implanting of the fear earlier in life.

Parents make a grave mistake when they use the dark as a means of frightening children. Not only does the child accept what the parents say but in his own imagination he enlarges upon it and makes the dark a much more forboding place than was intended.

Children can become terrorized of the dark. It can cause all sorts of nervous upsets.

Therefore always reassure a child about the dark.

If he shows timidity, take him by the hand and prove to him that nothing is going to grab him or jump out at him.

Encourage him later to venture out alone—you, yourself, remaining within earshot and talking back and forth all the while.

Before long you will be surprised to find the child trying it out himself, proud of his courage.

If an adult is afraid of the dark, search should be made for the childhood cause that is responsible.

Often no more than the discovery of the cause will be sufficient to remove the fear.

It is not good practice to keep a light burning in a child's bedroom. The fact of the light is an admission that the dark is to be avoided.

Remaining with children until they fall asleep should likewise be avoided.

The dark is restful and comfortable after we become used to it.

Teach the children that from the very beginning.

Copyright, 1930, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

TELL JUST WHY SHE RECOMMENDS THEM

Ontario Lady Found Relief In Dodd's Kidney Pills

Mrs. Wm. Brown Suffered With Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Hamilton, Ont., April 21 (Special)—"I was troubled with Kidney and Bladder trouble," states Mrs. Wm. Brown, 145 Strathcona Ave., Hamilton, Ont. "I had tried a lot of medicines but without avail. I finally tried Dodd's Kidney Pills and to my great joy my Kidneys got in real good shape. I feel so much better now. I keep a box in the house all the time. I would not be without them. I recommend them to all my friends."

There are many symptoms which point directly to kidney disease and warn you of serious danger ahead. Backache, deposits in urine, headaches and aching limbs, harsh dry and itching skin and loss of flesh and weight. To their direct action on the kidneys is due the wonderful success of Dodd's Kidney Pills as a relief for diseases of the kidneys.

Evidence of a great flood probably the source of the account in the Book of Genesis, was found at Kish, as well as at Ur of the Chaldees.

PURE ICE

—delivered at your door or in your refrigerator.
Courteous, Prompt Service

HARRY SMITH
Phone 697

JAMIESON BONE & COMPANY
Orders executed on leading stock exchanges. Full Quotation and Bulletin Service on Winnipeg Chicago Grain.
Stock Brokers
Office and Board Room, Chamber of Commerce Bldg. BELLEVILLE
Direct Private Wires. Telephones 1304, 1305, 1306

THOMPSON FUNERAL SERVICE
Our policy of lower priced Funerals continues indefinitely
UNEXCELLED SERVICE
Thomas C. Thompson
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
288 Front Street. Phone 62
Private Funeral Parlor. Night 1313

IMLAH & ARMSTRONG
MANAGERS BELLEVILLE BURIAL CO.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
14 CAMPBELL STREET, BELLEVILLE
Day Phone 178 Night Phone 1278 and 742

Consecon

Mr. A. Goodmurphy spent several days in Toronto the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Clapton French entertained relatives from Toronto over the week end.

Miss T. Lott of Trenton visited her aunts Mrs. Lester Puffer.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Danford and children spent the dinner hour on Easter with Mr. and Mrs Thomas Alexander.

An international glider congress was held acently at Darmstar, Germany.

A talkie was recently broadcast in England for the first time.

Pragmatism Is Merely Horse Sense

By Leslie E. Hinch, M. D., Ph. D.
Famous Authority on Health and Psychology

Ever since man has been a thinking being he has invented from time to time various sorts of speculations concerning the universe and mankind's relationship to it.

Philosophy has sought to make understandable the subtle and intangible values that baffle us.

What is its survey?

How can we live it most effectively?

Thus does philosophy seek to solve the riddle of the universe.

One of the most valuable of modern philosophical doctrines has been that enunciated by the late Professor William James, of Harvard University.

The philosophy is called Pragmatism!

In short, pragmatism claims that everything that works—that is, can be applied practically and usefully—must be held to be true.

In other words, if you are in doubt as to what thing is, ask yourself the question, whether it works. If it does, it is true! If not, it is false!

For example: Suppose a person is in doubt whether a certain wooden object, composed of a top, four legs and a drawer or two, is a desk or a table.

If this object, concerning the identity of which you are in doubt, is used as a desk, and served all the purposes of a desk, then actually it is a desk.

If, on the other hand, the puzzling object fails short of the requirements of a desk, then it is only a table.

But the practical usefulness of the pragmatic philosophy does not lie primarily in speculative questions such as just cited.

Pragmatism should be adopted as an effective guide to living.

If in doubt as to which of two courses to pursue, apply the test of pragmatism!

Should it seem that one of the courses is contemplative rather than carefree cut, while the other can, by all means adopt the latter—the pragmatic one—if you would succeed.

It is better to carry on some small things that you are sure will work than to waste time about wonderfully

Blazing enterprises that you must feel have slight chance of being worked able.

Yes simple as all this seems, it is surprising how few people have adopted a pragmatic method of thinking and living.

The philosophy of pragmatism is really a high-sounding phrase for ordinary common horse sense.

But few folk of us have an overabundance of horse sense!

Should could be more pragmatic with people in themselves.

It is not difficult.

Take the time to practice it and to try it out.

Master pragmatism!

It is worthy of your best efforts!

If you become pragmatic in all your thinking and, behavior you soon thing adding definite concrete ways—all of which relieve you of confusion and doubt and makes your life more effective.

Copyright 1930, by King Features Syndicate Inc.

Marmora

MARMORA, April 22.—(By Mail)—Miss Lillie C lsian of Toronto, accompanied by her girl friends, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Quinlan.

Messrs. Crawford O'Connor of Toronto, and Charles O'Connor of Sudbury, are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. O'Connor.

Mr. Gordon Grey of Kingston is visiting friends in town.

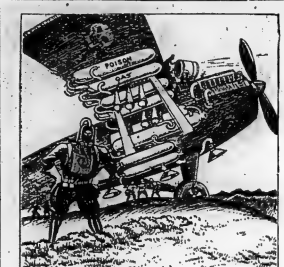
Mr. and Mrs. John Forsteil and family of Lindsay are visiting relatives in town.

Mrs. Ernest Shannon and daughters, Margaret, and Teresa are visiting relatives in Iroquois.

Mr. Phillip Hughes has moved into the dwelling adjoining the Pearce Company office recently vacated by Mr. Reynolds.

Mr. Cummings and family have moved into the house on Forsythe street recently vacated by Mr. Seymour Heslop.

Mr. M. Feeney of Kingston, is spending the holidays at his home.



Miss Teresa Murphy, graduate of the Continuation School is spending her holidays at her home in Toronto.

Hon staff, is spending her holidays at tion staff, is spending her holidays at her home at Trent River.

Miss Myrtle Campion is home from Peterboro.

Miss Mary Murray is home from

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS
FOR ALL KIDNEY DISEASES
CHASE BACKACHE RHEUMATISMS
1087 THE DODD'S MEDICINE CO. LIMITED

"LIKE CHILDREN PLAYING WITH TOYS"

"Warships are today but expensive toys, in the opinion of some of those who have tried to visualize for the warfare of the future!" —The Evening Bulletin, Glasgow, Scotland.

Services at St. Paul's on Good Friday were Litany and nine communion at 10.30 and evening prayer at 7.30 p.m. Appropriate sermons were preached by the Rector, Rev. A. B. Caldwell. At the morning service, the preacher spoke on "The seven words from the Cross." The collections of the day were devoted to the Jewish missions.

Bonar Law

BONARLAW, April 23.—(By Mail)—Mr. and Mrs. Will Barlow, Mrs. J. S. McKeown motored to Belleville on Thursday last.

Mrs. James is visiting friends in Niagara.

Miss Hazel Neal of Peterboro spent the week end with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Neal here.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Neal of Toronto, visited friends in this vicinity on Sunday.

Miss Nellie Webb was the guest of Miss Roma Mumby on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Burkit were Sunday visitors at Mr. Alex. Bush of Stirling.

Mr. Earl Mumby, Mr. Gerald Bristol and Douglas Brown motored to Belleville, on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Will Webb is spending the Easter holidays with friends in this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Reid were Sunday visitors at Mr. Fred McKechnie.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bailey of Peterboro, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. McInroy here.

Attacked by Asthma. The first fearful sensation is of suffocation, which hour by hour becomes more desperate and hopeless. To such a case the relief afforded by Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy seems nothing less than miraculous. Its help is quick apparent and soon the dreadful attack is mastered. The asthmatic who has found out the dependability of this stirling remedy will never be without it. It is sold everywhere.

Gilead

GILEAD, April 22.—(By Mail)—Miss Pauline Denison is spending her holidays with her parents at Selby.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Hodgen and Bella also Mr. Reg. Skinner spent Sunday at the home of Mr. E. P. Yorke.

The pupils of Belleville collegiate are home for their holidays.

Easter Services were held in the church on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A.Montgomery and daughters of Toronto spent Sunday with the latter's mother, Mrs. J. F. Yorke.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Myers and family of Campbellford spent Sunday at Mr. C. H. Badgley's.

Miss Helena Balsanquil is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Raymond Fritis of Napanee.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Chappel of Thomasburg, spent Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. Fred Yorke.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lawrence spent Sunday afternoon at Mr. George Lazier's of Melrose.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Yorke left Sunday afternoon for Westport to see the latter's mother, who is very ill.

Miss Norma Hubbel and friend of Toronto, spent the tea hour Friday night at the home of her uncle, Mr. David Hubbel.

Word has been received here that Mrs. Earle Carter of Toronto, is recovering from her recent illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Chesney and family of Toronto, spent Sunday at Mr. C. W. Badgley's.

Miss Marion Hall of Latta, spent a few days lately with her cousin, Miss Gladys Yorke.

Mr. Ernest Leavens has returned home from the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Badeley and (Thousands write us letters like this)

AND "Thick, lasting suds!" says Mrs. M. Mangels

"I tried many soaps in my washer before I came to Rinso. There's nothing like it for speed! The clothes come out bright and snowy, they look like new. And Rinso is so economical; a little gives a lot of thick, lasting suds. I like it for dishes, too—it loosens grease in a flash. Lately I've been using Rinso for all cleaning, too, it's such a wonderful help."
MRS. M. MANGELS

Whiter* clothes—from tub or washer

Only Rinso gives gleaming, snowy Rinso whiteness! Its rich suds loosen dirt like magic. Clothes soak so white and clean, even boiling isn't needed.

Rinso is safe for your finest cottons and linens. The makers of 37 well-known washing machines recommend it. And economical! One cupful gives more than twice as much suds as 3 cupful of lightweight, puffed-up soap — because it's granulated, compact. Great for dishes, too. Get the BIG package.

Guaranteed by the makers of LUX—Lever Brothers Limited, Toronto

THE GRANULATED SOAP

Rinso

in tub or washer ...clothes come whiter

Foxboro

FOXBORO, April 23.—(By Mail)—Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Ketchum, Mrs. Mordeu of Sask., and Miss Marjorie Ketchenon visited relatives in Rawdon on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hopkins and Mr. and Mrs. Derry spent Sunday in Gilmour.

Mrs. Janet Homan entertained relatives from Stirling on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Priadly and family of Carmel, spent Sunday with the latter's mother, Mrs. A. Shaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos Daniels, Mr. and Mrs. George Priest and family motored to Morrisburg on Saturday to spend Easter with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Montgomery of Toronto, visited the latter's sister, Mrs. Hodgins.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell and daughter Anne of Toronto, are visiting Mrs. Mitchell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Chisholm.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Lorey visited Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gough on Sunday.

Mrs. W. R. Prentice is spending a few days in Marmora visiting her son, E. C. Prentice and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Rochbuh are holidaying in the States.

Glad to report Miss Laura Cooke home from the hospital. Best wishes for a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Clark of Peterboro, called on Miss Marjorie Ketchum on Saturday evening.

Mr. Allan Clay spent Easter in Colborne.

Miss Lena Sills of Toronto spent Easter with her mother, Mrs. P. D. Sills.

Mr. Walter Prentice and Mr. J. Fleming of Toronto spent the week end with the former's parents Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Prentice.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray Reynolds and James, Mrs. T. Reynolds, Mr. Ed. Sine and Mrs. Gladys Sine spent Sunday in Canniton with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Reynolds.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Holmes of 4th Concession visited Mr. and Mrs. English and Miss English on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Dean of Gilead visited Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wilson on Sunday.

Miss Marion Daniels spent the week end in Stirling.

Marmora

Marmora, April 23 By Mail)—Miss Lena Webb of Belleville is visiting friends in Marmora.

Mr. Regie Lynch who has been visiting relatives here for the past week returned to Toronto on Monday.

Mrs. S. Meehan is visiting her daughters Lilith and Ileen at Niagara Falls.

Miss Jean Thompson of Toronto is visiting at her home here.

Miss Flora Sanderson is visiting in Lindsay.

Mrs. Pelzy is spending her holidays at her home in Westport.

Miss Evelyn Garvis of Toronto is visiting relatives in town.

Mr. Eugene Crawford of Niagara Falls spent a couple of days this week at his home here.

Mrs. I. Handley is spending the holidays at her home in Millbrook.

The ladies of the R. C. Church held a very successful sale of home made cooking and other produce on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Howard Fairman of Hastings spent Sunday with friends in town.

Mr. W. F. Bowen is visiting his sister Mrs. H. R. Pearce.

Mrs. F. McCann who has been spending the winter with her nieces Misses Mary and Hilda Hughes has returned to her home in Tweed.

Mr. Terry Fitzpatrick who has been taking treatments in St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterboro returned home on Wednesday.

Messrs. H. Boudreau and A. Brown are spending their holidays at Montreal.

Miss Teresa Sullivan who has spent a few days at her home here returned to Toronto on Monday.

Miss Dorma Gehan is visiting the Misses Feeney at Tweed for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. O'Connor and family spent Sunday with relatives in Milbridge. Miss Margaret Blute returned home with them for a visit.

Mrs. Quinlin of Pittsburg, Pa., and Mrs. George Clark of Syracuse, N. Y. attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Louis Mann were Mr. Mann, Mr. and Mrs. Fehrenbach and Mr. Charles Fehrenbach.

Mr. William Flynn is spending a few days in Peterboro.

Miss Jean Thomson is visiting in Toronto.

Miss Taft is spending her holidays at her home in Kingston.

Miss M Morten is spending the holidays at her home in Bethany.

Relatives from Kingston who attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Louis Mann were Mr. Mann, Mr. and Mrs. Fehrenbach and Mr. Charles Fehrenbach.

Niles' Corners

Niles Corners, April 24 (By Mail)—Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Dafoe, George Kemp and Master Geo. Fillingham spent Saturday in Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Ieleed and Velma and Dandy guests of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. McCoy, Belleville.

Mrs. Lucinda Murphy has the sympathy of the community in the loss of her brother, Robt. Clarke, Bloomfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Wannamaker and Jack of Trenton visited Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Channell on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dafoe and children spent Easter at Isaac Reid's, Corbyville.

Mr. F. Quinn has spent the Easter season with his family here.

Mack Geo. Fillingham and Donald Ross spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Dafoe.

IN her crowd, Helen, is the acknowledged expert in the matter of "picking values" . . . . You meet her at the club—an afternoon tea— on the links or at the theatre, and invariably you find her the most attractively gowned woman in her group. With a clothing allowance by no means unlimited, quite the contrary in fact, how does she manage to secure such value? By simply keeping right up to the minute on the news of the fashion world, and where, when and how to obtain "the mode" at prices well within the range of her clothing allowance

The secret of Helen's expertness may be summed up in but few wards . . . She spends a few minutes each day reading the women's apparel advertising in the

THE DAILY ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER

District News Gathered by Our Correspondents

4th of Sidney

(1) Sidney April 20—(By Mail)—The W. M. S. met at the home of Mrs. E. R. Secombe on Wednesday afternoon. A very good attendance was reported although some ladies are in the midst of house cleaning and caring for baby chicks.

Mrs. Merritt Lloyd and Children of Oshawa and Mr. and Mrs. W. Grey of Toronto returned to their homes on Monday, having spent the Easter holidays at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Lloyd.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Bell entertained a number of relatives on Easter Sunday.

Mr. Cyril Major who spent the past three weeks with friends in Toronto has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Wannamaker and family also Mr. G. Wannamaker of Belleville spent Sunday with Mr. and Mr. J. Hannah.

Mr. F. Knight gave a sugar party to a number of friends and relatives on Friday last and reports a real good time.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Harris accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bacon, Mrs. H. Tinker and Mr. and Mrs. H. Cordon and daughter Bernice spent Easter with Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Woods of Madoc.

Mr. Herb Hookes spent Sunday with Mr. Robt. MacPherson.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Whitfield and family took tea on Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. J. Reid.

Mrs. Elliott is spending a few week's with her daughter Mrs. W. H. Hobes.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Gerow and children of Napanee and Mr. Ross Sea, smith and Sister Pearl of Belleville spent the week end with Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Reynolds.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Harris and Mrs. Rose Reid of Mt. Georges took tea with Mrs. C. Ketcheson on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. MacPherson and children spent a day recently with Mr. and Mrs. J. Cassidy of Priney Hill in Quinty.

A number attended the sale of Mr. Geo. Beer on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Vermilyea and children spent Sunday with her parents Mr. and Mrs. McCoy of Madoc.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Harry and children and Mr. C. Harry spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. MacPherson.

Mr. and Mrs. J. White spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. Sexsmith.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Holmes and baby are spending the Easter holidays with Mr. and Mrs. W. Holmes also with the latter's parents Mr. and Mrs. J. White.

Bayside

—BAYSIDE, April 22 —(By Mail)— Percy Bolton has built a new verandah and porch on his residence adding very much to its appearance.

Chas. Jones is building a verandah on his home.

Mr. Moonie family have moved from the Wm. Bonisteel farm to Madoc Junction where he is employed work on the R. Road the year round.

Mrs. Preston of Trenton, wife of the late Dr. Preston, veterinary surgeon died of paralysis at her sister's home last week. After office hours Dr. Gay's work she had gone to call on her sister and was stricken and died before the physician arrived.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Mastin of Rochester, are visiting their friends for a few days here.

Miss Claribel Boristeel is spending the Easter holidays with her grandmother at Bayside.

Gordon Lake has accepted a situation a schauffeur with Mr. and Mrs. Lester of Belleville, who are getting ready for a motor trip to California.

The Forge sale of the airport section was very poorly attended and everything sold at a low price.

The Forge family are moving to Trenton this week on former home, which has been rented for some time to Roy Jeffery and family.

Mr. Trenholme-made son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Jones accidently swallowed a peanut which lodged in his windpipe. Everything possible was done here to dislodge but to no avail, so on Friday he was taken to a Toronto specialist who was successful in getting it out. Up-to-date he seems no worse for the awful experience, which might easily have taken his life.

The Dorey property in Bayside, is being renovated. A new barn built and a gas station built there.

The W. M. S. service at White's Church was well attended on Easter Sunday. Beautiful flowers decorated the pulpit. The President, Mrs. Geo. Hart, had the responsible part. Mrs. F. Wilson, and Mrs. A. Clapp each read an article of missions. Mrs. (Rev.) Baxter gave the report. The Bayside school gave a fine song. The choir of 25 sang some beautiful Easter hymns. Mrs. Hunt and Mrs. Fred Wilson took the offering.

The Wesley Church have purchased a new piano and will give a concert on Friday evening the 29th.

Mr. Tom Gunton of the Chatham Bank of Commerce, spent his Easter holidays with his brother Arthur and his mother at Mount Zion.

Mrs. and Mr. D. Clapp spent a few days with her mother at Mount Zion, Easter week.

For the first this spring two large boats passed down the Bay on Monday.

No Rest With Asthma. Asthma usually attacks at night, the one time when rest is needed most. Hence the loss of strength, the nervous debility, the loss of flesh and other evils which must be expected unless relief is secured. Fortunately relief is possible. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy has proved its merits through years of service. A trial will surely convince you.

A tract of 34.38 acres has been purchased in Louisiana for a new national forest.

Gets Complete Relief From Terrible Gas Pains That Cut Like a Knife

Are Your Symptoms Like Hers?

HERE is the story of a woman that every sufferer of stomach troubles ought to make it a point to read. A victim of terrible agony for 10 years she tells about the simple treatment that ended all her troubles in just a short time.

Mrs. Mary Fox of Belleville is dead, after a long illness.

Miss Mabel Lloyd of Peterboro Normal school her are her parents Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Lloyd and family.

Mrs. Mary Quoliff of Hamilton was a guest of her sister Mrs. Ira Palmer and Mr. Palmer her father Mr. Wm. Knauff over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Clark have moved from Consecon to the Fred Clark's house near Meadow Brook.

Messrs. Sandercock delivered a load of extra fine veal calves in Wellington last week.

Dr. Corie of Picton in consultation with Dr. Robertson of Wellington call ed recently to see Mr. Levi Palmer.

Mrs. S. S.mmons has returned from a visit with her son and family at Deloro.

Mr. Davis of Salem, Northumberland Co. was through this district Friday with a load of potatoes.

Mr. W. Davern of Wellington put in a new iron pump for Mr. Levi Palmer while the men were at work.

The pig racket to be held in the hall by Consecon Young Conservative 3rd should attract a large crowd as the ladies of the Anglican Guild will spare no pains to make it a success.

It is the folly of the world constantly which confounds its wisdom. —Holmes.

Are Your Symptoms Like Hers?

Typical example of distressing stomach disorders relieved by Adlerika.

Typical example of distressing liver disorders relieved by Adlerika.

Test Adlerika on one of these symptoms and see!

HERE is the story of a woman that every sufferer of stomach troubles ought to make it a point to read. A victim of terrible agony for 10 years she tells about the simple treatment that ended all her troubles in just a short time.

Like many local women, Mrs. Mary Ogle is so grateful for her release from a life of pain she wants everyone to be helped and so tells her story: "I have always said my health was my best asset. Taniac saved my life. Few people have suffered as I have with stomach troubles in the last 10 years. The gas nearly kills me, I would be doubled up and in bed sometimes for weeks at a time. My stomach was sour. All the time, the gas would form and collect right in the side and cut like a knife. I had to call in doctors. They said gall stones and gall bladder. Sour stomach and gases almost choked me to death and bothered my heart. Meat and potatoes were forbidden. I spent lots of money but my suffering increased instead of getting better. Certainly a harder test could not have been given for Taniac, yet this medicine has succeeded and as I said so often in my life. My stomach troubles have yielded, I have a good digestion and feel out of the relief from pain. I eat everything and gained so much in strength that I look like a different person. In best health in 10 years, that expresses it and tells the story of what Taniac has done for me." Just the first dose or two of Taniac will bring relief that will amaze you. Taniac is a real medicine based on modern discoveries. Thousands testify to it. Get a week end (before) bottle today. Do as we accept a substitute. Taniac must help you or money back. At all druggists.

Tyendinaga Reserve

Tyendinaga, Apr. 23 By Mail—The death occurred on Sunday April 17th, of Geraldena, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bayliss in her tenth year. Besides her are her parents, three sisters, Mrs. Walter Maracle, Marguerite and Lorraine, and a brother, Mervin. Levi, Peter, John and George. The funeral was held April 20th, conducted by Rev. H. Pringle at All Saints Church.

Interment took place in the church cemetery. The bearers were Ada Claus, Phyllis Brant, Myrtle Hill and Annie Brant.

Among the floral offerings was a sheaf of Easter lilies from the pupils of the Western school.

Mrs. Shan Sero of Buffalo is visiting her mother Mrs. F. Brant, York Road.

Mrs. Irene Brant spent the week end with relatives at Shannonville.

The True Blues gave a supper and dance on Easter Monday at the Council House.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Sero were visiting friends and relatives in Shannonville over the week end.

Mrs. Wesley Brant of Belleville visit ing her mother Mrs. Dick Johnson on Thursday.

Mrs. Ed. Sexsmith called at her old home on Sunday last.

Mr. Fred Lewis spent Sunday at Consecon.

Mr. and Mrs. William Powless of Owenton, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hill, Bay Shore Road.

Hillier

Hillier, April 23 (By Mail)—Messrs. Bert brothers of Wellington who have been drawing straw from Mr. Levi Palmer's road a large truck loaded and when leaving the barn yard, the hind wheels of the truck broke and embedded in a soft spot and all the effort of three men failed to get it out.

They were forced to remove the load and after a short spell of work succeeded in getting the empty truck out safely and returned to Wellington minus their load.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd of Belleville were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Lloyd good Friday.

Mr. John Bateman of Buffalo and Charlie Sherwin or Bowmanville spent Easter holidays with their mother and sister in the village.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Tubbs were guests of Mrs. Tubbs brothers, Messrs Will and Jim Turvey, Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Tubbs have disposed of their property at West Lake and will soon leave for Florida to reside permanently on their property there.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stringer and Mr. Lloyd Short of Toronto were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Will Thompson and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Alexander and daughter were in Picton Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Bailey have moved from Consecon to their home in the village.

Mr. A McLeod and family who have occupied Mr. Ratzay's house have moved to Mr. Clarence Spencer's vacant house in the West end.

Mr. W. Campbell who is relieving the C.N.R. station agent at Belleville spent Good Friday with his parents in the village.

Mr. McGregor Young of Toronto spent a few days in his summer home here.

Mr. O Taylor bought a quantity of pressed hay from Messrs. Carley and Mr. Levi Palmer's and has it trucked it to his home near Bloomfield.

Friends of Mrs. Hiram Norton are very sorry to hear that she is very ill.

One of the pleasant social events that gives pep to the community was the banquet held by the reformers of this district, in the town hall, Tuesday evening April 19th, Eloquent speakers, a fine orchestra and a fine repast was enjoyed by more than one hundred guests. The Women's Institute under the capable leadership of their president Miss Gladys Lindsay catered for the banquet most efficiently.

Mr. Brinklow the new foreman on the Hillier section of the C.N.R. with his family are occupying Mr. Sam Smith's house.

Mr. Brinklow the new foreman on the Hillier section of the C.N.R. with his family are occupying Mr. Sam Smith's house.

Mr. Ivan Ferguson of Belleville is staying with Mrs. Levi Palmer.

Mrs. Ed Sexsmith called at her old home on Sunday last.

Mr. Fred Lewis spent Sunday at Consecon.

Mr. and Mrs. William Powless of Owenton, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hill, Bay Shore Road.

Big Island

BIG ISLAND, April 22.—(By Mail) Mrs. Ross Sprague and daughter, Amy, have returned home after visiting the past week with her mother, Mrs Parry, West Huntington.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Gorsline and Play also Miss Delaney spent Wednesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. D. Clement and Dorothy.

Miss Dorothy Clement has returned home having completed her training as a nurse at Prince Edward County Hospital at Picton and Gouverneur Hospital, New York.

Mr. Hubert Goodmurphy purchased a new tractor.

Several from the Island attended the Sunday School Convention held in Northport.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Clement motored to Lesslie, Toronto, on Monday. While in Toronto they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Scar Adams and called on several old friends.

The C.G.I. students are home for Easter holidays.

Sorry to report Linda Johnson unable to try his Easter exams owing to illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Allison and Arthur also Mrs. Annie Allison of Jerkho spent the week end hour on Friday with Mr. and Mrs. S. Clement.

Mr. and Mrs. James Clement spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. F. Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Sprague entertained company from Toronto over the week end.

Mrs. F. Gorsline spent Friday and Saturday with her daughter, Mrs. Walter Norton, Jerkho.

Mrs. Warren Asbury and sons of Demorestville are guests of her brother Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Thompson.

Mr. Carter of Demorestville, started his peddling wagon around the Island on Wednesday.

Quite a number of ladies attended the W.M.S. meeting held at the home of Mrs. G. Sprague and Mrs. R. Sprague.

SCHOOL REPORT

Following is the Easter Report for Marsabaggs School S .S. No. 6, Ameliasburg.

Junior Room— Miss M. Johnstone, teacher.

Senior I—Honours, Margaret Salisbury, Evelyn Weese, Margaret Wallinger, Maud Clarke, Marguerite Pass, Douglas Redick.

Senior II—Honours, Sybil Walker, Edna Belknap, Helen Thompson.

Junior III—Honours, Rexford Alyea, Wilma Gordon, Raymond Thompson, Jean Salisbury.

Pass, Orland Herrington, Gordon Alyea, Marguerite Thompson, Marion Mason.

Senior Room — J. D. Campbell, teacher.

Senior Third — Pass, David Walker, Richard Simonds, Burton Thompson, Verne Latchford.

Fourth — William Latchford, Pauline Thompson.

Junior Fourth—Pass, Herbert Thompson, Lorne Latchford, Ruth Wright, (absent).

Senior Fourth—Honours, Murray Simonds. Pass Pearl Bremmel, Helen Wallbridge, Bill Belnap, Alma Ackerman, Clayton Brickman.

Failure— Sylvia Redick, (1 mark); Hilda Mason (3 marks), Oena Foster, (91 marks).

Spare the children from suffering from worms by using Miller's Worm Powders, the most effective vermifuge that can be got with which to combat these insidious foes of the young and growing. Don't delay one moment but this preparation as a worm destroyer, and then life and health become known in a household no other will be used. The medicine sells by itself, requiring no persuasive talk from us, and so thoroughly that nothing more is desired.

EASTER REPORT

S. S. S. NO 18, TYENDINAGA Report.

Senior Fourth—Mary Corrigan, 73; Margaret Williams, 71; James Corrigan 68; Jean Sero 68.

Junior Fourth—Bernice Corrigan, 68 Helen Brant, 63; Roslie Murphy, 64; Joseph Roache 62.

Senior Third—Willis Walsh 65; Edward Murphy 61.

Second Class—Frances Corrigan 74; Wilfrid Brennan 67; Joseph Parrell 61; Michael Williams 60.

First Class—Wilfred Corrigan, 75; Rina Roache 70; Lorna Roache 50.

Primer—Jane Brennan, Bernard Corrigan, James Murphy.

Mary Mary Walsh, teacher.

S. S. NO. 14, SIDNEY

Sr. IV—Helen McMullen, 75; Lenora Stapley 72; Billis McMullen 69.

Sr. III—Sandra Stapley 82; Rae Danford 77; Jimmie Stapley 73; Clarence Cooke 72; Mildred Livingston 70 Harold Cooke 68.

Jr III—Ralph Stapley 72; Wilfred Prest 66; Bernice Schools 62.

II Class—Edith Austin 84, Marion McMullen, 80; Harold McLellan 68; Gordon Cooke 63.

I Class—Harry Cooke 68, Charlie Stapley 66.

Pr. Class—Ford Stapley 87; Stanley Cooke 83.

Primers, Lorne Stapley 79 (honours).

Senior III—Vera Fleming 76, (honours); Elsiville Wannamaker 74; Beatrice Pratt 68.

Senior II—Cecil Wannamaker 54.

Junior II — Doris Morgan 75; (honours); Dorothy Elliott 68.

Senior First—Willett Casey 87 (honours); Ruth Wannamaker 84 (honours); Pearl Wannamaker 84 (honours).

Primer—Edna Casey 69.

Edna M. Ketcheson, teacher.

The six ministry of Italy has established three schools where members of the Avanguardiadity the facist Boy Scout movement are taught glides flying.

On your own gramphone it is a 11 dse chap who yells for something to turn up wats long enough his tips with.

Learning to fly averages 6500 in out with fatal rests of training.

HAWES' Lemon Oil

FOR FINE FURNITURE PIANOS ETC.

12 oz. BOTTLE 25¢

A FEW drops on a damp cloth removes that blue fog and dullness, reveals the original beauty and grain of the wood, and imparts a beautiful, lustrous glow, making your home the admiration of your friends. HAWES' LEMON Oil dries at once, leaving no sticky film. It actually preserves and protects your furniture and woodwork. 18

Edward Hawes & Co., Ltd., Toronto, Maker of Hawes' Floor Wax

BE SURE IT'S HAWES'

This is the group of headmasters of the leading schools in English, who are now on a visit to Canada. The photograph was taken outside the House of Parliament, Ottawa. D. Cyril Norwood, headmaster of Harrow School (front row centre) is head of the party.

"Made in Canada" Week at DOMINION STORES Limited

"KEEP CANADA BUSY"

APRIL 21 & 26

Where Quality Counts

DOMINION STORES

Lean PORK and BEANS 9¢

Ripe PEACHES 21¢

REALIZING the close relationship between Canadian prosperity and the purchase of Canadian products, and the wide field of employment thereby created throughout the whole Family of Canada, Dominion Stores Limited has taken up the Canadian buying movement under the banner "Keep Canada Busy."

We invite all Canadians to join with us in initiating and sustaining a buying project that will mean much to them as well as to our industrial life. So your part to make Canada prosperous is to buy Canadian products from the great Dominion Company.

McLaren's Assorted Flavors

Jelly Powders 4 PKTS. 25c

Pickles LARGE BOT. 45c

Pumpkin 2 FOR 25c

Sunera PKG. 23c

Macaroni 2 PKGS. 27c

Chateau Cheese 1/2-LB. PKG. 19c

Good for Baby— Good for You

Infant's Delight

SOAP 4 CAKES 21c

Try it and you will be convinced.

BLUE SOAP 10-37c

Heinz Tomato

Ketchup LARGE BOTTLE 25c

Shirriff's Pure Orange

Marmalade 2-LB. JAR 35c

Pure Raspberry

Jam JAR 39c

Hawes

Lemon Oil BOT. 21c

Perfection

Floor Wax LB. CAN 25c

Fancy Quality Domino

Peas TIN 2 FOR 21c

SALMON 29c

CANADIAN PRODUCTS TO THE FORE!

BRAN MUFFETS 2 FOR 21c

Ketchup, Marmalade, Jam, Lemon Oil, Floor Wax, Peas, Salmon, Bran Muffets

We Recommend

D.S.L. TEA

Red Pack

lb. 55c

A Truly Delicious Blend

FRUIT LOAF

12-OZ. LOAF 10c

With just the right amount of spices, clean, new fruit. Delicious toasted. Try it this week.

Richmello Coffee

1-LB TIN 49c

2-LB TIN 27c

Domestic Shortening

3 lb. Pail 45c

2—1 lb. 29c

Prints

Smoked Picnic Hams lb. 21c

Choice SIDE BACON (By Piece) lb. 31c

Meat Dept.

Fresh SHOULDER PORK lb. 21c

CHOICE RIB STEW lb. 15c

SHOULDER ROAST lb. 23c

CORNED BEEF To Boil lb. 22c

Visit Our Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Dept.

GOOD SIZE PINEAPPLES Each 19c

CHOICE RIPENED BANANAS 2 Dozen 35c and 29c

SOLID NEW CABBAGE 2 lbs. 19c

NEW POTATOES 5 lbs. for 29c

SUNDAY SCHOOL MEETING HELD

Annual Convention of Hillier Association at Friends' Church

WELLINGTON, April 21.—(By Mail)—The annual convention of the Hillier Sabbath School Association convened at the Friends' Church at Wellington, on Tuesday, April 15th. Rev. Harry Parr, pastor of Friends' Church, on behalf of the congregation and the people of Wellington welcomed the delegates. He also urged all Christian forces to unite saying unity was needed as the forces of evil were combined. He stated the church never had a better opportunity than at the present time. The President, Mrs. Clifford McPaul took charge of the meeting and gave a brief address followed by a reading "Do Good Before You", by Ann Johnston Flint.

Miss Beatrice Dorland gave a solo, "Just For Today" with Miss Bowerman accompanist. Miss Cline, Toronto, the Ontario Religious Educational Council speaker gave a splendid address and brought greetings from the C.R.E.C. which was a cooperative enterprise and represented all religious denominations in the country for the promotion of better Sunday School work. She drew an inspiring picture of Elijah at Mount Horeb, when God revealed himself—then the small voice which bade him go back to his work with the assurance that God was with him giving us an inspiration to go back to our work which is God's work and he will surely be with us. To get best results from Sunday School teachers must have definite aims and objectives. We should teach children to worship God and have a spirit of reverence. She pointed out it was our duty to see that all children are getting religious training and that we must reach out to take not attending Sunday School and that there was a great field for temperance education. That we must teach temperance and all the means of the children of today are to become good citizens of our land and citizens of the Kingdom of God. We must seek out all hindrance and seek to promote world friendship and peace and we must educate for peace. She urged that each Sunday School send a delegate to the International Convention held in Toronto June 25-30, 1930. This convention is held once in four years and was held here twenty-five years ago. It is expected there will be about 8,000 delegates from the United States, Canada, Europe and the Orient. It is held at the Exhibition Grounds at Toronto. It is necessary that registration be sent in early.

This was followed by community singing after which Rev. Wilkinson gave a very favorable and enthusiastic address, placing stress on the great need of Sunday School, teaching the children to follow Christ and to know the Bible with a direct aim of character building. Mrs. Garfield French sang "Somebody" with Mrs. Chas. Kinnear accompanist. Miss Hazel McCaffrey gave a splendid report of the annual convention held at Burr's Inn.

Mrs. Rose Burr gave the report for Burr's Sunday School.

Miss Thelda Regensburg, gave the report for Bowerman's Sunday School.

Mr. R. A. Mordon gave the report for Wellington United Church Sunday School.

Miss Daisy Winters, gave the report for Wellington Friend's Sunday School.

Mrs. Chas. Kinnear, gave the report for Melville Sunday School.

Mr. A. Pettingall, gave the report for Rose Hall Sunday School.

Mr. Sherman Foster sent the report for Hillier Sunday School.

Rev. W. J. H. Sharpe spoke very highly of the workers at Rose Hall and Wellington.

Rev. Cook, Consecon led the discussion, period from which much profitable information was gained.

The evening session opened with a song service with Mr. Thos. Pillingham as leader, with Miss Parry accompanist followed. Worship service led by Rev. W. J. H. Sharpe, Rev. D. C. Taylor installed the officers for the ensuing year which were as follows:—President, Mrs. Clifford McPaul; 1st Vice-President, Miss Daisy Winters; Secretary-Treasurer, Miss Mabel McCartney; Children's Department— Mrs. Chas. Kinnear; Girls' Work—Mrs. Sherman Foster; Boys' Work—Mr. Sherman Foster; Young People's Dept.—Mr. Chas. McPaul; Adult Class Dept.—Mrs. George Fox; Home Dept.—Mr. Thos. Pillingham; Temperance Dept.—Mrs. (Rev.) H. Parry. Miss Margaret McCartney and Miss Mabel McCartney were very pleasing in a vocal duet with Mrs. T. Pillingham accompanist.

Miss Cline the O.R.E.C. speaker took as her topic for the evening session—Going the Second Mile in Sunday School work—which was very interesting and made plain the beauty of herself of service to give good workmanship to reach a high standard to show ourselves approved unto God.

Mr. A. Pettingill moved a vote of thanks to the members of the Friend's church for their cordial reception and for the delicious lunch furnished by the members of the church. Session closed by singing hymn 307 and benediction.

Bloomfield

BLOOMFIELD, April 23—(By Mail)—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lane of Castleton and Mr. A. Lane of Trenton were guests of Mrs. Lane's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Platford on Good Friday.

To the One Who Seeks Health

PLEASE NOTE

The General Manager of our Organization

J. E. THUNA

Will be at Our Store

23 Bridge Street E.-St. Phone 1077

BELLEVILLE

All Day FRIDAY and SATURDAY

April 25, 26

He will be pleased to interview anyone, FREE OF CHARGE, who is desiring information about our FAMOUS HERBAL REMEDIES for various Human Ailments.

Your Health is secured if you get back to Nature for Help.

Our Herbal Remedies have been before the public some time, and our Organization has advanced to the stage where we now maintain 96 OF OUR OWN HERBAL STORES IN ONTARIO as well as distributing agencies throughout Canada.

If you are ailing let him while he is in Belleville, and get started on the path back to health.

DR. THUNA'S BALSAM REMEDIES LIMITED

DEPENDABLE HERBAL REMEDIES FOR

—Overweight —Stomach
—Midgets
—Bad Skin
—Piles
—Tonsils
—Alcoholism
—Nerves
—Catarrh
—Hay Fever
—Tapeworm
—Rheumatism
—Etc.

MEASURING THE SUN'S HEAT

By means of this spyeliometer, L. N. Aldrich, Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory, is measuring varia-tions in the sun's radiation. The instrument that fluctuations of less than one percent in the amount of heat available to heat the earth are revealed.

THE SWAIN: "Why don't you run at

Redersville

REDNERSVILLE, April 22 — (By Mail) — The Ladies' Aid enjoyed a quilting at Mrs. Clarence Rose's on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Peck called on Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Wilson, Thursday night.

Rev. and Mrs. Gordon Dempsey spent Friday night at Mr. Harry Alcar's.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Russell and boy visited Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hawkins, Carrying Place.

Mr. Wm. Bowerman called at Mr. Wm. Way's Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. John Osborough spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. Embury Adams and children were Sunday visitors at Mr. D. Rowe's, Carrying Place.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Dempsey spent Sunday in Springtown.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Peck, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Weese and Mrs. Letitia Allison took dinner Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Weese.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Peck called on Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Wilson, Thursday evening.

SECOND LINE SIDNEY

2ND LINE OF SIDNEY, April 22.—(By Mail)—Mrs. George May spent Thursday the guest of Mrs. Clayton Herman and attended the Ladies' Aid at Mrs. E. Adams.

Mr. Calvin Stark is moving on Mrs. Shane's place.

Mrs. George May spent Friday the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Lorne Sharpe.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Wellman accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Sharpe and Hilda spent an afternoon recently viewing the fish hatchery.

The Misses Bernice and Edythe Hoig have returned home after spending the past week the guest of Mrs. Wilfrid May.

Misses Violet and Helen Graham of Bellville also Everette Graham spent the week end guests of Miss Hilda Sharpe.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid May and baby Conrad and Mrs. George May spent Sunday the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Hagle.

Mrs. Clayton Herman and Miss Myrtle Barnum spent Thursday evening the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Sharpe.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Ray and children spent Sunday the guest of Mr. and Mrs. James Wellman.

Farmers of Panama are installing small electric plants.

Canada's most Famous Chef

A CHEF that glorifies your kitchen—that looks smarter, cooks better and saves dollars in gas . . . that's the sensational new Findlay "Cinderella" Gas Range.

It is the finest, most completely equipped automatic-gas range ever made. Note these outstanding features:

5 FINDLAY FEATURES

1. Insulated oven causes to bake-ing heat in a few minutes. Goes on cooking long after the gas is shut off. Makes a cooler kitchen and saves fuel. Manufactured or natural gas.
2. Concealed front — no unsightly gas pipes or gas cocks to mar beauty. Most handy.
3. Wilcolator Automatic Oven Heat Control.
4. Special compartment utility drawer.
5. Choice of several beautiful enamel color combinations.

Approved by Canadian and American Gas Associations

FINDLAY BROS. CO., LIMITED
Carleton Place, Ont.

Above: One of Findlay's Under-Oven Gas Ranges models. Note convenient automatic front. Large oven and broiler. Choice of color trim. Made in various lengths and finishes to fend three and two burner types.

Findlay Cinderella GAS RANGE

HOWE & HAGERMAN

191 FRONT ST. PHONE 1058

"I'll tell you why we merchants advertise"

"THE BEST VALUE GOES TO THE BUYER WHO KNOWS"

ALL of us COULD, of course, phone you every day, but wouldn't that be wearing? A representative of each firm COULD make a daily call, but they would wear out your door bell and your patience. You COULD phone each store, perhaps, if you hurried. You might make a few calls in person, but lack of time would prevent your visiting them all.

Up to the present, at least, no better method of giving you our 'store news' has been devised than is offered through the columns of The Daily Ontario Intelligencer. Therefore WE ADVERTISE . . . In the belief that YOU want to KNOW what the day's market offers. Our newspaper advertising is A PART OF OUR SERVICE and we want YOU to derive its full benefit . . . We urge you to read it regularly in the

THE DAILY ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER

Mr. and Mrs. F. Oliver and sons of Toronto and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Covert of Picton, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. James Biddle.

Mr. Ross Pearsall of Windsor, is holidaying with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Pearsall.

Mr. Cecil Harvey and friend of Toronto, spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Harvey.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Whitelaw and Mrs. James Crooks of Toronto, spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. McQuaid.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Thompson of Pleasant Bay, Mrs. Laura Thompson of Wellington and Miss Laura Alexander of Hillier spent Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thompson and family.

The funeral of the late Mr. Robert J. Clark took place on Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Clark and son, Robert of Bowmanville, spent the week end with relatives and friends in the village.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Isard and children are holidaying with Mr. Isard's mother, Mrs. E. Isard.

Miss Mary Platford took tea on Sunday with Mrs. B. Donald and Mr. DeCou.

Mr. George Porter of Trenton, spent the week end at his home.

Mr. Harold Thompson spent Sunday in Toronto.

Quite a number of young folks of the village attended the Easter Ball at Consecon on Monday night.

Mr. S. E. Mastin went to Toronto, on Monday on a business trip.

Mr. Schuld Farr is spending his Easter holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Farr.

Mr. Wm. Lovelace spent a few days recently in Toronto.

Mrs. R. Wartman of Sydenham, was a recent guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Bowering.

4th of Thurlow

4th Thurlow, April 24 (By Mail)—The W. M. S. took charge of the Easter service in Bethany on Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Cole and Grant were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Brickman of Victoria on Thursday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Clarence of Ferguson spent over the week end with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Garrison.

Mrs. Emma Clow of Lulu was the guest of her sister Mrs. Walter Shilliford for a few days last week.

The farm sale of Mr. Geo. Berry was well attended.

Mr. and Mrs. John Foote of Owen spent the week end with her parents and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sparrow entertained relatives from Lonsdale on Easter.

Mrs. Al Woods of Sidney was a recent guest of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Beer.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cole and children of Belleville spent Easter with Harvey Slater, Mrs. Robt. Miller.

Mr. Arthur Bradshaw has returned home after spending the winter in New York State.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Molyneaux and children of Toronto spent Easter at the home of Mr. Wm. Sparrow.

Little Miss Theda Cole of Belleville is visiting her aunt Mrs. Chas. Cole.

The party given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Garrison at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Garrison was well attended.

Holiday Guests Visit at Consecon

Consecon, April 22 By Mail— Mrs. Robert Young entertained the members of group No. three at her home on Tuesday afternoon.

Anglican church was held on Sunday morning with a good attendance.

Mrs. John McLean spent the week end with her son and wife Mr. and Mrs. Kleven McLean in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. H. McDonald of Oronto rpent the ies hour on Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Chase.

Miss Marguerite McLean of Ottawa is holidaying with her parents Mr. and Mrs. John McLean.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Taylor and daughter also Mrs. A. Taylor of Young's District spent Easter with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Taylor.

The food sale that was held by the Group No. 1 on Saturday afternoon in the Red and white Store was a success.

Choir practice was held at Mrs. Wilson Chase's Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Puffer spent Easter with Mr. and Mrs. Milton Crosby at Amelia burg.

Dr. and Mrs. Wm. Lorne entertained a number of relatives from Kingston on Easter Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cole and Donald spent Good Friday with Mrs. Mary Mastin.

Mr Festual Snider of Windsor called on friends in the village on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs Harry Chase and Mr. Peter Parliament attended the funeral of the late Clara McDonald at Gilead on Saturday afternoon.

A large number attended Easter service held in the United Church on Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Taylor and Marjorie motored to Belleville on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Simonds and family of Salem spent Easter with Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Moreland.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Phips spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Lee Clark.

Mr. David Bowman and Mr. Will Van Bowers motored to Picton on Saturday.

EATON'S "thank You" SALE – a Letter of Appreciation

T. EATON CO.

TO ALL EATON CUSTOMERS
Old and New:-

Starting Friday, April 25th and continuing for one week, we present this "Thank You" sale as a mark of appreciation for the splendid patronage and support accorded our Groceterias by the thousands of householders who are today enjoying Eaton quality value and service offered by our 41 Groceterias throughout Ontario.

To convey our gratitude in a more tangible way and more firmly cement the friendship which now exists between us, we present this mutually evident, we present this mutually beneficial sale of well-known and popular lines at greatly reduced prices.

Take full advantage of the special values offered—shop early and often during "Thank You" week.

AYLMER PEACH JAM 27¢
FANCY QUALITY – LARGE 40 oz. JAR

WESTON'S SODAS "B" SIZE PKG 10¢

AYLMER PORK and BEANS Nº 2 SQUAT TINS 3 25¢

JEWEL SHORTENING 2 1 lb. Pkgs. 27c

WESTON'S PEANUT WAFERS lb. 23¢

CHIPSO LARGE PACKAGE 18¢

EDDY'S MAPLE LEAF MATCHES PKG. OF 3 LARGE BOXES 22¢

EAGLE MILK BORDEN'S CONDENSED 2 TINS 35¢

MACARONI CATELLI'S READY CUTS SPAGHETTI, VERMICELLI, EGGWHEAT NOODLES ASSORTED PASTE 2 PKGS 21¢

SYRUP CROWN – 5 lb. TIN 29¢

SOAP 3 CAKES 17¢ MANY FLOWERS

FLOOR WAX HAWE'S lb. TIN 39¢

SUNERA 23¢ THE NEW VITAMIN BREAKFAST CEREAL – PKG

SNAP 2 TINS 25 FEATURING THIS WEEK

OXYDOL 18¢ LARGE PACKAGE

EATON'S MEATS

POT ROAST Choice Beef	lb. 20c	Sweet PICKLED PORK	lb. 22c
Choice Quality BREAKFAST BACON Sliced	lb. 33c	Sugar Cured Smoked PICNIC HAMS	lb. 19c
Sweet Pickled PORK HOCKS	lb. 12c	Last Week's Special Repeated by Popular Demand
		PRIME RIB ROAST Boned and Rolled	lb. 35c

EDDY'S MAPLE LEAF MATCHES
SAFE — SURE — STRIKE ANYWHERE
makers of every established brand of matches in Canada today.
EDDY MATCH COMPANY LIMITED
HULL - CANADA

CANADA'S PUREST AND BEST CORN SYRUP
A favorite among young and old —for its genuine purity and wholesomeness — delicious for every purpose where syrup is used.
CANADA STARCH COMPANY, LIMITED
ALSO MANUFACTURERS OF MAZOLA

That Delicious Health Drink
You will like it—the children like it—and so good for you. Famous for it's health giving properties and delicious wholesome flavor of pure malt and milk.
The BORDEN COMPANY
MONTREAL - CANADA

CHEESE but what a flavor!
A better cheese, smoother, more delectable, more satisfying. Delicious for all purposes.
SWIFT CANADIAN COMPANY
LIMITED - - CANADA

The soap and cream that nourishes and cleanses
Many COLD CREAM SOAP Flowers

NEW-- Catelli's Eggwheat Noodles
Made of eggs and wheat, just the food to eat.
Cheaper than meat, cooks quicker than macaroni.
Catelli's Macaroni
The Canadian Standard for Quality Macaroni for over 60 years.

Both Oxydol and Chipso
Famous Cleansing Agents
Use them Always Procter & Gamble

QUALITY and VALUE EATON GROCETERIA QUALITY and VALUE
OPERATED BY T. EATON CO.

FOR STRENUOUS WORK OR PLAY, YOU NEED THIS ENERGY FOOD
Those who work or play hard should eat sufficient fuel foods to supply the energy required. AYLMER Pork and Beans are superior to all other fuel foods such as cereals, nuts and meats because they are rich in tissue and muscle building proteins as well as energy producing carbohydrates. They are a complete food.
AYLMER PORK and BEANS

The Better SHORTENING —for all your baking
A pure economical shortening especially prepared for baking, frying and all cooking purposes.
SWIFT CANADIAN COMPANY
LIMITED - - CANADA

Weston's
Announcing our latest English Quality Biscuit—
CHOCOLATE BARS
a dainty sandwich biscuit, with delicious cream filling.
WAXTITE "E" SODA WAFERS
Specially packed to retain the crisp crisp freshness and flavor
George Weston Limited
TORONTO

SAFE FOOD —for Baby
Eagle Brand Milk is recognized as the best food for bottle-fed babies. It is uniform, pure and easily digested.
EAGLE BRAND MILK
CONDENSED

HAWE'S Floor Wax
An exceptionally hard wax that cleans as well as polishes. Gives a hard lasting finish which will not show heel marks.
RECOMMENDED BY ALL EATON GROCETERIAS

Greatest Discovery —In a Vitamine Containing CEREAL
SUNERA CEREAL BREAKFAST FOOD
The secret process by which Sunera is made is the result of years of research and study. Its secret lies in the fact that only in this one method are all the vitamines of the grain retained when the cereal is served for consumption and in their most natural and beneficial proportions.
Delicious—Easy to Prepare

TWENTY PAGES

The Ontario Intelligencer

SECTION THREE

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, THURSDAY, APRIL 24, 1930.

Amos 'N' Andy Speaking---A Broadcast Biography in Dialect

Fourth Instalment of

Amos 'n' Andy in Person

By James R. Crowell

We left the boys in a huddle working out a great idea. The outcome of confabulation that night was the creation of the radio characters, Sam 'n' Henry predecessors of Amos 'n' Andy. They had told the studio manager they would have an idea for him the following evening. True to that promise, they suggested a radio sketch featuring two darkies and submitted the script covering how it could be carried out. They also rehearsed it for the studio officials.

It was a spark of genius. The radio folks snapped it up and immediately thereafter the characters of Sam 'n' Henry were introduced to the radio audiences of Chicago over the WGN station. Sam 'n' Henry scored an immediate success, and the boys continued presenting the sketch for a total of 566 nights, their pay meanwhile being advanced to $150 a week each. Then their contract with the Chicago Tribune expired. Soon thereafter they joined the broadcasting staff of WMAQ, operated by the Chicago Daily news. But as the Tribune owned title to Sam 'n' Henry it was necessary for them to devise a new serial. Amos 'n' Andy were born forthwith, making their first appearance on the air March 19, 1928.

And so we break in again on the boys, to hear Amos saying—

"Andy, from dis day on you has to' yo' name o' Henry an' now you is' yo' plain Andy Brown."

"Ah" you ain't Sam no mo' neither, but you is Amos Jones. How you like dat?"

"Andy, does you 'membeh dat cullud boy I tells you 'bout what was brung up to my home down in Virginia—de lad boy we use call Snowball?"

"Sho, I does. What he got do wid dis?"

"Well, we goin' give Snowball a job wid us, Andy—dat's what. He goin' be Sylvester."

"Sylvester who?"

"Sylvester nobody—jes' Sylvester."

"Amos, is you dumb or is I crazy? I don't understand what you'se talkin' bout."

"Ain't you 'membeh, Andy? I mean we'se goin' reveal a boy by de name Sylvester an' he goin' be him."

"Oh, I gots it. He Sylvester, huh? Where Sylvester goin' be?"

"Sylvester, he goin' be Snowball, recreatin' dat Snowball goin' be Sylvester. The kid he had dem an' dey's here I goin' be me. Pat's plain, ain't it?"

"Oh, also, also. I gits you now. You mean you is goin' go back down to Virginny an' see yo' folks, huh?"

"No, Andy, I means I goin' play likes I'se Sylvester an' Sylvester, he goin' play like he's Snowball."

"Boy, dat's good all right, Amos. What you goin' play?"

"We'se goin' go in de taxicab business, see. An' we'se goin' tell all de folks how we'se gittin' 'long."

"What for dey want know how we'se gittin' long? What dey care?"

"We gotta make 'em care, Andy, 'cause if dey don't care how we'se gittin' long, den we ain't."

"Ain't what?"

"Gittin' long. We'se goin' call our-selfs de Fresh Air Taxicab Company" an'——"

"An' we'se goin' make me pres'dent. Dat sont 'good, huh—Andrew Brown, president of de Fresh Air Taxicab Company of America, Incorporated? I runs ev'thing receptin' de taxicab an' you runs dat."

"Splain to me what you means, Andy."

"I means you goin' git off easy. All you has to do is 'sist me all day in de taxicab while I has'les de heavy brain work in de office. Dat's de way all big bizness is run, Amos—dey has men what sets in de office an' thinks an' how de odder folks is goin' work. Now me, I'se good at dat. If you leaves me be an' don't bodder me, I is think out mo' things dan enuff for me to do."

"Goin' call yo'self de pres'dent, huh? Whilst you goin' call me?"

"We goin' call you haf pas' five ev'ry mornin', Amos."

And so, ladies and gentlemen, the Fresh Air Taxicab Company went on the air. Its success was even more remarkable than the earlier triumphs of Sam 'n' Henry. The explanation of the phenomenal furore it has caused is undoubtedly traceable to the fact that Freeman F. Gosden and Charles J. Correll, portrayers respectively of Amos 'n' Andy, have introduced the most human characters, such types as Sylvester, modelled after the colored boy whom Gosden had known intimately in his boyhood days in Virginia; Kingfish, head of the Mystic Knights of the Sea, who is always looking for a way to make easy money; Stonewall Taylor, Amos' sweetheart, typifying the kind of girl who makes the best wife; Madame Queen, Andy's sweetheart, who is flirtatious, always hungry and convincing.

The recent incident of Amos' speech before the Mystic brotherhood is a shining example of the human phase of their sketch. What man has not suffered such tortures as Amos went through ere enduring that terrible ordeal of making his debut as a public speaker? Again, there is the topical side to it; also. The picture of Andy struggling with the income tax report, going right to the heart of one of our most acute national agonies, and the experience of the boys with the government census takers is but a duplication of what has happened on numerous occasions in connection with this work of determining how many folks live in the United States.

But humor and better things are impending for the boys, and there soon a day—

"Well, I be doggone, Andy, dey's sumpin' very reportant goin' happen 'round dis taxicab office—I has a hunch."

"What you hunchin', Amos?"

"Well, you see, Andy, Ruby Taylor send me dis rabbit foot dis mornin' an' on de way to de office I stumbles ovah sumpin' an on examinin, an' what is it but dis yere hoss-shoe? What you know 'bout dat?"

"Don't disturb me, Amos; I'se been workin' on de books an' now I is restin' my brain. In a minnit I'se goin' lay down on' thinks."

"You ain't goin' de-sathin' of de kind, Andy——you is goin' git up an' work. Boy, if you has any sense you ought know dis is Thursday night an' we ain't did our stuff for Friday yit. We'se two days behin' already."

"Jes' regusted, wid de way tempus fugits."

"Wid which?"

"De Kingfish say dat Chinee o' sumpin' for time flies. He say Pat Pendin' goin' have it fo' a motto fo' his fraternity, on'y he goin' put it de udder way roun'—fugit tempus—no time. Dat's good, huh?"

"Yeh, Andy, dat may be good all right, but I don't help us none 'bout gittin' our stuff fix. When we gits on de air we goin' be behin."

"De bes' reception I has, Amos, about we has a sick wheah you comes home an' loses me asleep an' dat day you sets down an' tells me how well you has been much you loves Ruby Taylor—while I is still asleep. Dat let you be de whole show, Amos."

"Yeh, an' let me do all de work, too. I ain't a-gonna do it, Andy. I'se been runnin' de taxicab roun' dis office all day an' I'se goin' do no mo' dan you is, an' we'se goin' do it togeher, if you don't, you is goin' res' yo' brain, Andy you is never no mistook. You is goin' in' work—dat's what."

"Oh, oh, Amos, when you is rough, you is also' ruff."

"Look yere, Andy—look at dis message 'bout headin' dis way. I won't' what he want."

(What the messenger boy wanted was extremely important to the boys. Tomorrow's instalment in the boys' message he took to them.

(Copyright 1930 By American Magazine.)

All Saints and Christ Church Vestry Meeting

Best Essay on Real "Sport" Won By Paul Brenner

Tyendinaga Reserve, April 23 (By Mail)—

April—Noon of Bright Nights
Merged in the blissful gleaming
Of silver moonbeams streaming
Adown night's radiant noon.
Enamouring breezes croon.
Sweet vespers of love, that soon
Bring sleep and magic seeming
To mortals and—those—dreaming
Beneath the April Moon.

—Tyendinaga Poet.

The semi-monthly meeting of the Mohawk Branch of the Women's Auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Hill, on Wednesday, April 16. There were 26 members present.

An interesting part of the meeting was celebrating the 40th second Anniversary of Mohawk Branch which was organized on April 18, 1927.

A beautiful birthday cake was donating for the occasion by the president Mrs. Elmer Amey. It was very pretty with its two lighted candles glowing as it was passed during the delightful repast which was given at the close of the meeting.

Quite a few attended the morning service which was held at All Saints Church on Good Friday.

Easter Sunday was marked by a record attendance and a celebration of the Holy Communion at Christ Church. Reverend Herbert Pringle, rector of the parish was the celebrant. There were sixty communicants.

The Altar was very pretty with cut flowers donated by the Junior Branch of the W. A.

Miss Marjorie Rathbun of Deseronto, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Toppings of Belleville, Mrs. Susan Shilton of Hagerville, Mrs. Lawrence Lott of Desoronto, and Mrs. Stanley Brant of Hamilton were visitors to Christ Church on Sunday April 20.

The annual vestry meeting of All Saints and Christ Church was held at the rectory on Monday, April 21.

There were 23 present. Mrs. (Rev.) Pringle was appointed Secretary for the meeting. Mrs. R. Hill and Mrs. H. A. Brant were again appointed auditors for 1928-29 and also for 1930.

Financial statements were read by Mrs. George Brant for Christ Church, and Mrs. Robert Hill for All Saints Church respectively.

Reports were given as follows:

By Mr. Andrew T. C. Maracle Head of the Cemetery Committee.

By Mrs. (Rev.) Pringle, superintendent of Junior W. A.

By Mrs. Benson Brant, Secretary of The Little Helpers.

By Mrs. Clinton Maracle superintendent of the Sunday School.

By Mrs. Henry A. Brant—Secretary of Senior W. A.

By Mrs. Robert Hill, secretary of the Ladies Guild.

Wardens appointed were Clerryman's Warden for Christ Church, Mr. Andrew Maracle. Peoples' Warden Mr. Jerry Brant.

Clerryman's Warden for All Saints, Mr. Joseph S. Brant. Peoples' Warden Mr. Robert Hill.

New Delegate appointed for Synod Mr. H. A. Brant.

Members of the Executive Council of the vestry consisting of the clergy, wardens, and delegates appointed were: Rev. Mr. Pringle, Mr. Andrew Maracle, Mr. Benson Brant, Mr. Henry A. Brant and Mr. Jerry Brant.

Members of the Advisory Board appointed were: Mr. Joseph J. Maracle, Mr. Frank Brant, Mrs. Elmer Amey, Mrs. (Rev.) Pringle, Mrs. Robert Hill, Mr. Arthur Maracle, Mrs. Benson Brant, Mrs. Jerry Brant, Mr. Francis John, Mrs. Irene Brant, Mrs. Clinton Maracle, Mrs. Henry A. Brant, Mr. Isaac W. Green, Mr. Wm. John, Mr. George Brant and Mr. Thomas Brant.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union of Deseronto gave two prizes recently for the best essay on "Sport" and one considered a better report to refuse the social glass rather than the one who accepts it. Master Paul Brenner of Deseronto winning 1st and Miss Gladys E. Brant of Tyendinaga Reserve 2nd prize. Both are pupils of the Deseronto High School.

Recent Visitors at Union Vale

Un'on Vale, April 23 (By Mail)—Mr. and Mrs. S. May intend moving to Picton to live in the near future. Their son Jack was married last Wednesday and will work the farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Secore of Picton visited the week end with their daughter, Mrs. D. Reynolds and family.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Carr took tea Sunday night with Mr. and Mrs. E. Hubbs at Bloomfield.

Mr. Keith Reynolds of Guelph Agricultural school has returned home and will work in the Wellington dairy for the summer months.

Miss Cora Leavitt of Belleville spent a few days last week with her mother Mrs. M. Leavitt and family.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Varty, Mrs. M. Birdell, Helma, Mary and Lambert spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. A. Vincent.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Sullivan and family of Belleville were callers at Mr. and Mrs. R. Pressell on Friday night.

Mrs. H. Leavitt of Schoharie spent a couple days last week with Mrs. M. Leavitt.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Pearsall and Aileen spent Sunday with the latter's mother Mrs. J. Van Cleaf at Picton.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Reynolds and family were Sunday visitors at Mr. and Mrs. E. Dobbin's.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ikishaw spent a few days in Toronto last week.

Miss Marjorie Harrison of Camp, belford was a Stirling visitor on Saturday.

Mr. E. Selsbury was in Toronto on Monday of this week.

Mr. E. T. Williams and Miss Lucy Williams were visiting friends at Tren ton on Sunday.

Mrs. Andrew Hay of Campbellford spent a few days this week with her daughter Mrs. J. S. Whitehead.

Miss Freeda Mathews who has been attending Knox College, Toronto, is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Mathews.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Macklin visited relatives in Cobourg on Sunday.

Mrs. W. J. Kerby has returned to her home at Petrolia. After spending the past few weeks with her daughter Mrs. A. E. Dobbs.

Mr. Eric Mumby spent the week end in Toronto.

Mr. Lawrence Munroe was in Picton on business on Wednesday of this week.

Mr. Fielding of Bracebridge has been spending the last couple of weeks with his daughter Mrs. C. R. Bastedo.

Stirling

Miss Marguerite Fitzpatrick of Cambridge, N. Y. is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Fitzpatrick.

Dr. and Mrs. Curtis of Marmora were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Dobbs.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ikishaw spent a few days in Toronto last week.

Miss Marjorie Harrison of Camp, bellford was a Stirling visitor on Saturday.

Mr. E. Selsbury was in Toronto on Monday of this week.

Mr. E. T. Williams and Miss Lucy Williams were visiting friends at Tren ton on Sunday.

Mrs. Andrew Hay of Campbellford spent a few days this week with her daughter Mrs. J. S. Whitehead.

Miss Freeda Mathews who has been attending Knox College, Toronto, is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Mathews.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Macklin visited relatives in Cobourg on Sunday.

Mrs. W. J. Kerby has returned to her home at Petrolia. After spending the past few weeks with her daughter Mrs. A. E. Dobbs.

Mr. Eric Mumby spent the week end in Toronto.

Mr. Lawrence Munroe was in Picton on business on Wednesday of this week.

Mr. Fielding of Bracebridge has been spending the last couple of weeks with his daughter Mrs. C. R. Bastedo.

The Ideal Family Radio - This Victor Combination

WE WILL GLADLY DEMONSTRATE ANY MODEL FOR YOU

DOYLE'S DRUG STORE

PHONE 326 PHONE 328.

This new instrument

The famous RE-45 — Music from Air or Records with equally wonderful tone-quality. Price, complete with tubes — $375.00.

...is unrivalled at any price...you never heard such glorious tone

IN Radio, as in other things, you may buy at various prices. For each price you get something — usually what you pay for.

Here is a new Victor instrument which is unrivalled at any price, yet you may have it for a moderate outlay. In this new instrument, the creative staff of the world's largest and finest musical instrument producers have striven for tone-quality that should be mirror-like in its fidelity — and have obtained it, through a new discovery — micro-synchronous balance.

Now you may touch a button and hear broadcasts as they sound in the studio. Touch another, and hear from records exactly that beauty which some great singer has put into them.

One instrument — beautiful in its truth to musical ideals — gives you everything. Nothing compares with it. We ask you not to take our word, but to hear it yourself.

MICRO-SYNCHRONOUS

Victor-Radio

with ELECTROLA

VICTOR TALKING MACHINE COMPANY OF CANADA LIMITED
MONTREAL

RE-46

Select Your Combination Machine at our Store

HAVE US DEMONSTRATE ONE FOR YOU TODAY

Ye Olde Firme Heintzman & Co., Limited

245 FRONT STREET. PHONE 1031.

A PERFECT PERSONAL SERVANT

How she enters into the spirit of things!

How cleverly she improvises your costume for the Fancy Dress Dance! She is always helping you to extract the utmost pleasure from your Cunard crossing! She is your own faithful retainer! Nothing is too much trouble for her. For she is a Cunard Stewardess "..", therefore a perfect personal servant, whether you travel Tourist Third Cabin or Cabin Class.

New low rates for Canard Cabin Class. Tourist Third Cabin rates also adjusted. Ask for information.

Weekly sailings to Europe from Montreal (and Quebec), from April 26th, onwards.

Book through The Cunard Line, Corner of Bay and Wellington Streets, Toronto. (Tel. Elgin 3671) or any steamship agent

SAIL CUNARD

CANADIAN SERVICE

B-68

CABIN ★ TOURIST THIRD CABIN ★ THIRD CLASS

BRITISH MEDICAL ASSOCIATION TO CONVENE IN WINNIPEG AUG. 26

First Time in History—Intricate Organization Necessary

Winnipeg, April 17 (CP).—For the third time in the British Medical Association's (one-century of existence, the Empire-wide organization is to convene in the Canadian West this summer. The 98th annual meeting, slated for Winnipeg, Aug. 26 to 29, has occasioned elaborate preparations at the capital of Manitoba.

Officials of the Canadian Medical Association, Manitoba Medical Association and Winnipeg Medical Society —aided in divers ways by medical and public bodies throughout Canada—have been engaged for almost three years in mailing ready for the session. On only two previous occasions has the British Medical Association met in Canada; at Montreal in 1897, and at Toronto in 1906.

By host and rail this summer from 1,000 figures of the medical world will move toward the convention city and members will be in attendance from every clime. Though reservations are necessarily incomplete, with the "parley four" months away, it is known that most of the Dominions will be represented. From Great Britain numerous physicians and surgeons of world-wide renown will come. In addition, early arrangements have been made by medical dignitaries in South Africa, Australia, India, France and Japan, from several states of the Union and from every province of Canada.

From Melbourne, Australia, will come Sir James Barrett and Dr. John Tait. India is to send Col. A. F. Hamilton, M.D., of Bombay, and Miss M. Shaw, M.D., of Saifabad. From South Africa come Dr. J. H. Harvey Pirie, of Johannesburg, and Dr. H. A. Moffatt, of Capetown. France sends Prof. E. LaRiche, of Paris, and Japan offers Dr. C. J. MacCartney, of Kobe. And each day swells the list of reservations.

Especially is the meeting linked to Canada and to Winnipeg by the fact that Prof. W. Harvey Smith, of Winnipeg, is president-elect of the British Medical Association and is to be installed at the August gathering. Numerous officers, committees and subcommittees have been found necessary to ensure systematic provision for the 2,500-odd medical visitors expected.

For the purpose of facilitating arrangements, a local British Medical Association organization was set up some months ago. Officers are: Prof. W. Harvey Smith, chairman; Dr. C. A. Mackenzie, honorary treasurer; Dr. J. D. Adamson, honorary general secretary Dr. D. S. Waugh, honorary associate secretary of sections, and Dr. J. J. McQueen, honorary associate secretary of the business committee.

Intricate organization has been necessary to lay plans for billeting of the heavy influx of medical men and their wives, as well as for entertainment, dinners and sports. Among a host of busy committees are groups to handle the presidential reception and annual dance, an ice carnival, racial group singing, finance, transportation, commercial and scientific exhibits and numerous other duties.

Three of five afternoon lectures to be delivered by world famed authorities have been set, and announcement of two other afternoon speakers awaits only official sanction. Sessions of the Association's fourteen sections are to be held in camera during the mornings, and a series of special events are listed for evenings.

While the British Medical Association is holding its 98th annual meeting, the Canadian Medical Association will merge into the meeting its 31st yearly session. On the day previous to the opening of the important parley business meetings of the Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba Medical Associations are to be held in Winnipeg. It is possible that the British Columbia Association may also convene at the same time.

The trio of afternoon speakers whose addresses have definitely been set are Sir William I. De Courcy Wheeler, eminent Dublin physician; Sir E. Farquhar Buzzard, Bt., K.C.V.O., M.D., F.R.C.P., regius professor of medicine at Oxford University, and physician in ordinary to the King; and Sir Lenthal Cheatle, prominent London surgeon.

Sir William will discuss "Significance of Surgical Recoil a Following Surgical Decompression." Sir Farquhar's topic will be "Work, Rest and Play in Health and Disease." Sir Lenthal will speak on "Primary Tumor in Cancer of the Breast."

To Lord Moynihan, of Leeds, K.C. M.G., C.B., F.R.C.S., is assigned the Listerian oration, to be delivered to the public in a down-town theatre. The address to be delivered for the third time before the Canadian Medical Association, is an honorary effort in perpetuation of the memory of the Lord Lister, father of modern surgery.

Papers of world-wide importance are to be read at morning sessions, closed to the public. These sessions will be held concurrently in sections, which will cover, medicine, surgery, obstetrics and gynaecology, bacteriology and pathology, physiology and biochemistry; diseases of children; mental diseases and neurology; radiology; history of medicine and medical sociology; anaesthesia, and orthopaedics.

Wise mothers who know the virtues of Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator always have it at hand, because it proves its value.

Madoc

MADOC, April 21.—(By Mail)—Mrs. Norman Johnson is visiting relatives in Trenton.

Mrs. Lester O'Hara of St. Ola, was visiting Miss Minnie O'Hara.

Mrs. Wellington and Irene spent a few days in Whitby recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry MacDonald and Mrs. C. MacDonald of Toronto, spent the week end in town.

Miss Marion Henderson of Whitby is visiting her aunt, Miss Minnie O'Hara.

Miss Francis Kinch of Toronto, is visiting relatives in town.

Mr. George Moorecroft of Lindsay, spent the holiday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Moorecroft.

Miss Lucy Foster of Toronto is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Foster.

Mr. Clarence Carswell of Niagara Falls, N.Y., spent the holiday in town.

Miss Beatrice Avery of Toronto is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Avery.

Mr. Vernan Reid of Ompah, spent the holiday in town.

Mr. Patrick Gillen of Toronto, was visiting his mother, Mrs. D. Gillen.

Mr. Lorne MacDonnell of Canning ton, spent the holiday in town.

Mr. Charles Hill of Copperclift, was visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Burkitt of Niagara Falls, N.Y., was visiting relatives in town.

Miss Mary Gillen of Kingston, spent the holiday in town.

Miss Eleanor Cochran of Blenheim was visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Cochran.

Mr. and Mrs. George Tyrsdy of Oshawa, spent the holida yin town.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Davies and children of Tweed was visiting Mr. A. H. Watson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Stevenson of Toronto was visiting Mr. and Mrs. Roy Walker.

Mr. Carl Tunelty of Blenheim, was renewing acquaintance in town.

Miss Anna Eggleton of Toronto, spent the holiday in town.

Miss Lamoine West, who has been attending Queen's University is spending the holidays at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Chaffey of Robcaygeon was visiting friends a town.

Miss Alice Foote of Norwood was visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Foote.

Miss Margaret McCorry of Tweed, spent the holiday in town.

MISS DAISY WALKER IS ELECTED PRES.

TORONTO, April 21.— CP — Miss cated Vice resident, W. F. Moore, Daisy Walker Peterboro, Ontario, was Dundas, Secretary, and R. O. Elliott today elected president of the Public Toronto Treasurer.

CATARRH
of head or throat is usually relieved by the vapors of VICKS VAPORUB
"Over 17 Million Jars Used Yearly"

School Section of the Ontario Education Association, in convention here. K. C. Horsby of East Windsor, was el-

SEEING IS BELIEVING

NEW MODELS

THE LOWEST PRICED 3-WINDOW 4-DOOR SEDAN

Delivered Belleville

$875.00

FULLY EQUIPPED including LICENSE, SPARE TIRE AND TIRE COVER

FULL - SIZE

PLYMOUTH

The Size of a "Six" at the Price of a "Four"

BELLEVILLE MOTORS

Pinnacle Street -- Next to Hotel Quinte

Silvo

... refreshes dull silver with a rich, velvety lustre ... a few drops on an old, soft cloth remove film and tarnish quickly and easily. Silvo Silver Polish cannot harm the finest silver.

RECKITTS (OVERSEAS) LIMITED
Montreal - Toronto
Vancouver
35

OUR DAILY SHORT STORY

HER NEIGHBORS

by

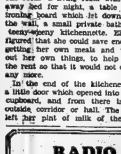
Eleanor Wilmot

Copyright, 1930, International Features Service, Inc.

Elizabeth Larcon had lived in the city just long enough to decide that it was a big over-grown, ugly and lone some place.

Many a time she longed for the neighborly relationships of the village home which she had left behind when she came to Boston to make her fortune. Not that she really expected to accumulate wealth, but it would be a fortune to her to have a pay envelope fairly well filled every Saturday night, and something to spare to send home to her widowed mother who was bravely meeting the responsibility of bringing up the younger members of the family.

After a great deal of figuring, Elizabeth had decided to abandon the cold, cheerless, third-floor-back hall room in Mrs. Hugg's boarding house, and she had leased an efficiency apartment in a rather imposing new apartment house in a nice locality.



The efficiency apartment comprised one room—a living room with a roll-away bed for night, a table like an ironing board which let down out of the wall, a small private bath and a teeny-weeny kitchenette. Elizabeth figured that she could save enough by getting her own meals and washing out her own things, to help to pay the rent so that it would not cost her any more.

In the end of the kitchenette was a little door which opened into a small cupboard, and from there into the outside, corridor or hall. The janitor left her pint of milk of the parcel

RADIO

RADIO REPAIRING and SERVICE
All Makes
Phone 139

THE JOHN LEWIS Co., Ltd.

An accurate, dependable watch of lasting beauty and charm. A smart watch at appealing prices.

J.O.R. McCurdy
Phone 318 224 Front St.

from the store in this little cupboard. He opened the door in the hall, and in whatever he had to leave, and closed the door. When Elizabeth came home, or when it was time for breakfast, she opened the door in the kitchenette and took out parcel or milk as the case might be.

It was all very handy and she was happy as a lark, during the time she hurried about in the morning, or as she enjoyed her "house" at night. She wondered if the time would ever come when she could have a radio like some of the other people, around her.

The apartment next her had been over-empty for some time. Then came the day when she realized that she had neighbors. This apartment was a little larger—an extra room or two, and Elizabeth looked with respect upon anyone who could afford to live in it.

She was curious about what these new-comers might be like but days lengthened into weeks and she was not sure whether she had seen the people who lived there or not, in the halls or in the self-operating electric elevator.

One morning as she was washing up her breakfast dishes and making a simple relish pudding for her evening meal, the little cupboard door right at her elbow opened, and a bit startled, she looked to see a placid, elderly face with blue, blue eyes, a pink and white complexion and a soft frame of silver hair looking at her. The owner of the head had stooped enough to get into the small aperture anyway, to put her face right into the cupboard.

"I was just wondering," said a gentle voice, "if this happens to be the incinerator—the place where you put the garbage to have it burned up. Jos has taken the refuse in a newspaper parcel each morning and dropped it into the incinerator or chute as he went along. This morning he was in a hurry and forgot, and I haven't room to keep it hanging around all day. Is this the right dump-ing ill?"

"Oh, no, it isn't!" protested Elizabeth with apprehension, as she visualized her immaculate little kitchenette receiving a shower of drained coffee grounds, potato parings, burned matches, celery tops and chicken bones.

"But I don't know what to do with this rubbish!" wailed the little woman, only slightly withdrawing her head from the cupboard. "I have been all along this hall, and looked into several of these doors, and one very disagreeable woman said if I put my garbage in there, she'd report me and we'd have to move out!"

Elizabeth thought that the cupboard eater was going into tears. Her lips quivered.

"I don't want to move out," she quavered, "for we dreaded about taking the apartment for he said I couldn't manage the work, but it was that or an Old Ladies' Home for me!"

"Dear, dear, that's too bad!" sympathized Elizabeth, glancing at her wrist watch and relieved to find that she had a few minutes to spare. "Just wait a minute and I'll go out and show you where the incinerator is. And I'm sure you'll get along nicely with your housekeeping."

She whisked out of the living room door and into the corridor where the little lady awaited her.

"It's good of you," she said, "to show me where the incinerator is. But what's worrying me next is, that Joe said he'd like a rice pudding for his supper—and—and I can't seem to remember how to make it, and I have'nt any rice."

"Here's the incinerator door," Elizabeth told her briskly. "Notice it is larger than the little cupboard doors, and it is right here in this corner. Don't forget where it is, because," she added gently, "it would never do to make a mistake and drop your garbage into people's kitchenettes. And I made a rice pudding this morning, and there's much of it, so tonight I'll just hand in enough so you and Joe can have some for your supper."

Elizabeth had just finished her own bread and butter, boiled eggs, coffee and rice pudding when there was a rap at her door. She knew the instant she opened it that her caller was "Joe." He had her glass dish which had held the rice pudding, in his hand and he began to thank her for her kindness.

"Pardon me," he said, "But Aunt Lettie has been telling me how good you were to her this morning. She isn't my aunt really, but she lived in our home for many years. She took care of us when we were kids, and I thought I could provide for her for a while. My brother is to be married in the spring, and she is to go to live with him then. The rice pudding was wonderful."

Elizabeth flushed.

"It's good to have neighbors," she said—and she thought how stupid that sounded.

"Yes, if it's a neighbor like you," Joe Grant Lettie told me about the incinerator—" then they both laughed.

"Come in," invited Elizabeth. "I have two chairs."

"And I have a bungalow all my own," grinned Joe.

Then Elizabeth flushed again, and Joe strolled over to the window.

"I just bought it," he said, "but I am driving Aunt Lettie out to see it tonight. Won't you come along?"

"I'd be glad to," nodded Elizabeth —"and as long—as we're neighbors it ought to be all right."

"It is all right," grinned Joe, who was really very good looking, "as all right as the rice pudding. That was a great introduction!"

Elizabeth didn't say anything, but somehow the city was not lonely any longer.

Copyright 1930, International Features Service, Inc.

An Easter Drive At-imy Might Have Won Douai

Says Canadian Barrage and Attack Demoralized Teuton Defence

By D. B. Rogers
(Special to the Ontario Intelligencer
Copyright 1930)

Berlin, April 21—When the Canadians captured Vimy Ridge in their advance of Easter, 1917, "a thin grey line," composed of a single Bavarian battalion spread over a three-mile breach, was all that lay between General Currie's men and Douai, Had the units on the right and left advanced as far as the Canadians who stormed the ridge in the centre, the victorious march might have been continued to include that strategic position.

This was one of the observations made to me by Herr Augermund, formerly a captain in the Sixth Bavarian Infantry Regiment but now associated with Germany's huge flying organization, the Deutsche Luft Hansa. It was Herr Augermund who, when his commanding officer was killed, led the Bavarian battalion into the breach on Easter Monday and established contacts with the German units which were still holding the line on the two flanks. For his work he was awarded the iron cross, first and second class, and also received the personal thanks of the army commander.

Vimy was Herr Augermund's last scrap on the ground. Having already been wounded three times with the infantry, he transferred to the flying corps and from then until the end of the war did his fighting in the air.

"Our concentration of troops on Vimy Ridge and our co-ordination of artillery support and units in reserve were theoretically, just about perfect," he told me. "Every time the position was attacked we were able to inflict terrific losses and our own casualties were comparatively light. We felt that we could hold Vimy until Doom's Day.

"Don't Know What Fear Is"

"I remember making such a remark to another officer back of the lines one day. He said, 'Don't be too sure. They'll shove the Canadians in there some day.' I said, 'Who are the Canadians?' I hadn't had any experience with them up until then. He said, 'They're the best shock and storm troops in the British army.' I said, 'What do they know about trench warfare?' He said, 'It's not what they know but what they don't know. They don't know what fear is. They don't know when they're licked. And they don't know the meaning of the word impossibility.' I said, 'Let them come. We'll show them.'

"Well, when Easter, 1917, came along, I was back at rest billets with my unit. We had had a tough spell up the line and had been promised a good rest. Easter Sunday was glorious. There was mail from home, and there were good things to eat, and, where we were, everything was peaceful and quiet.

"On Monday we had just begun to think the world wasn't such a bad place after all, when in blew a dispatch rider. He brought orders that we were to move up to Vimy at once.

"You can bet there was plenty of grumbling. I remember asking the major what it was all about. He said, 'I don't know but there's something big on and I guess we're the goats.'

"We found out when we got to Douai. After the most terrific artillery and gas bombardment our troops had ever faced, the Canadians had come over right in the face of it all and had knocked a three-mile hole in our lines over the top of the ridge and had swept on their way down the other side—and they were still coming.

Chaos on German Side

"Our casualties had been terrible, but the casualties on the German side and reserve lines had been blasted out of existence. Nobody seemed to know what was going on. The line and all communication had been shot to pieces. Nobody seemed to know anything except that the ridge had been captured. The Canadians were still coming on and all was lost.

"Our troops were demoralized. From Douai to the foot of the ridge there was chaos. It wasn't a retreat. It was a rout. Units had been cut up and disorganized and were streaming back in disorder without a scrap of fight left in them. We were told at Douai that there was no sense moving any farther because we would just get sent whistling back. We in Douai seemed to know the location of our remaining flank positions. The morale had been shelled out of everybody and everything.

"But we had a bull-headed and bloodthirsty battalion commander. His orders had been to establish contact with the right and left flanks of our line at Vimy. So off we went.

"At Gallery la Motte, we learned that our artillery support had all been driven from their positions at the foot of the ridge beyond Willerval but that the guns and ammunition were still there.

"The O. C. thought that he had better go ahead and scout out the land before going any farther with the battalion. He took a few men with him and left. I never saw him again. We waited for a time but when he didn't return we knew that he must have been killed or taken prisoner. "As the next in seniority, I took over command of the unit and told the men that we would carry out our original orders and advance until we located our flank positions. Not a man demurred.

"Everything's Lost"

"We met some of our artillerymen falling back. I ordered them to move up with us. They said, 'What's the use? Everything is lost.' We left them go.

"Pretty soon we came to the guns. Some of my men knew a little bit about artillery—enough to load and fire but nothing about aiming. The guns were there and the ammunition. I thought it would be a good idea to use up the ammunition anyway. So we set to work and put on a barrage all of our own, shooting wildly but furiously on the ridge where we knew the Canadians were entrenching. We used up all the ammunition and then went on.

"On the outskirts of Willerval we saw a pretty sight. A little detachment of Canadian cavalry suddenly appeared through the smoke and trotted down the road toward the village. They were obviously doing an advance, reconnaissance. It occurred to me that there was undoubtedly considerable disorganization on the Canadian side, too, because they had probably gone ahead farther than they expected and did not know the limits of our retreat.

"We waited until the little cavalry detachment reached the village and then we attacked. We caught them by surprise. Our fight was short but sharp. They were hopelessly out-numbered. Quite a few of them got away, but we took forty prisoners. Our own casualties were light—about thirty men.

Bridged the Gap

"I could speak a little English so I talked to some of the prisoners. They were big fine-looking chaps. I was seeking information, I didn't get any. They were among the finest I have ever seen. The accuracy was uncanny." I laughed. They wouldn't believe me when I told them that accurate shooting had actually been nothing but a wild whim.

"But I had regained some confidence. I divided one company up into to reconnaissance parties and sent them out to find our flank. It was stiff work and dangerous work. Before nightfall, though, we had ascertained that the hole was only three miles wide and that our line was still holding up at each side. On the left and right of the ridge, I spread the battalion across the gap.

"You can imagine what sort of a line of defence we made——one battalion to three miles. But still, we had bridged the gap. We remained there all night, expecting reserves to come up and fearing every minute that your fellows would attack. It would have been impossible for us to hold out long.

"Probably your army commander decided it would be too risky to press ahead any farther with the German lines still holding on the right and left.

Reserves Rushed up

"Anyway, we knew there all night. The next day we got a field telephone line back to headquarters and I said, 'For God's sake send up some support.'

"They wanted to know where I was. When I told them that they wouldn't believe me. I think they thought there was a clean hole right through to beyond Douai, and were preparing the line of defence away back there. Reserve troops came up pretty quickly after that and artillery support, too.

"I wonder what would have happened if your chaps had known that, except for a single battalion, the way was wide open to Douai."

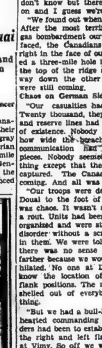
Herr Augermund chuckled. He is a huge fellow, with the Bavarian good-naturedness sticking out all over him.

"I suppose if they had known that I wouldn't be here to tell the tale," he said. "Anyhow, enough of war. I talked far longer than I intended. Tell me about conditions in Canada. I'd like to go there some day and get into the flying game. There are wonderful possibilities for aviation in Canada, I should think."

REGAL QUALITY

CAN you think of any quality that stands higher than Regal Quality? This is the pinnacle of perfection upon which many thousands of women, the World over, have placed Moffats Ranges.

The crown standing at the head of Moffats New Trade Mark is placed there to definitely assure prospective Moffat users that the ranges carrying this trade mark live up to the standard the general public has come to expect of a Moffats Range.



This promise stands for every type of range, large or small—and there is a design and style for every type of home. This is why we ask you to recognize this new trade mark on the oven door of Moffats Ranges. In the meantime you will note the name Moffat on the ranges now in stock at our many dealers across Canada. It also is the maker's assurance of Regal Quality.

MOFFATS LIMITED, WESTON, ONTARIO

RR-921

Like the hall-mark on silver and the Carat sign on pure gold, the above mark, which will be found on the oven door of Moffats Ranges, is a guarantee of the highest attainable quality in cooking equipment.

MOFFATS RANGES

SEE EUROPE this year — the expense is little more than your holiday's cost you at home. Canadian Pacific Tourist and Cabin steamships give the comfort of cosy staterooms, tempting table meals and unsurpassed service. Choose one of the regular sailings from Montreal or Saint John to Liverpool, Glasgow, Belfast, London or Cherbourg and Southampton.

Fares, Plan reservations arranged for any passages.

ENQUIRE ABOUT OUR ALL EXPENSE TOUR OF EUROPE NOW YOUNG-BETTER YOUNG-YOUNG TO SUIT EVERY PURSE

Full information from your local agent or
J. S. MACKAY, General Agent, Canadian Pacific Bldg., Toronto.

CANADIAN PACIFIC

"Always Carry Canadian Pacific Express Travellers Cheques—Good the World Over"

Gyproc Makes Summer Homes FIRE-SAFE!

PROTECT your family by making your Summer home draught-proof, dust-proof and fire-safe. The new Ivory coloured Gyproc, that does not burn, will render you this service at small cost.

Use it for structurally strong walls, ceilings and partitions. A fine decoration (when panelled) but you can tint, paper or plaster it if you wish. It is easily and quickly applied, is a permanent asset, and is vastly superior to other building materials.

Your dealer's name is listed below. Ask him today for full information on Gyproc Wallboard or send for interesting free book "Building and Remodelling with Gyproc."

GYPSUM, LIME AND ALABASTINE, CANADA, LIMITED
Paris Ontario

The NEW IVORY GYPROC Fireproof Wallboard

For Sale By
Walker Hardware Co., Ltd. - Belleville, Ont.
C. M. Hall - - - - - - Belleville, Ont.
The Houston Co., Limited - Belleville, Ont.

Since the census of 1921 Australia's population has increased by approximately a million and now totals nearly 6,500,000.

The steepest railway in the world will be completed in May to the top of the Royal Gorge, Colorado. It takes sightseers up a 100 per cent. grade over a third of a mile track.

Flo-glaze
Leaves No Brush Marks
The PAINT that "Leaves NO Brush Marks"
"A Canadian Product Better Made"
SOLD BY
WALKER HARDWARE
248 FRONT STREET

ANCIENT ALSATION CITY HAS INTERESTING HISTORY

Paulinenstrasse 14,
Tubingen, April 8, 1930

The Editor
The Ontario Intelligencer.

Dear Sir:

As nearly a year has elapsed since leaving Canada it may interest you and your readers to hear about some of my experiences in Europe. Until coming to Germany recently, I was continuing my studies in Semitic languages at the University of Strasbourg and I should like to tell you something about that old city and the province of Alsace of which it is the capital.

Strasbourg is now a city of 180,000 inhabitants but so compactly built that it covers an area only equal to that of Belleville. About two and a half miles eastward is the river Rhine, which once again is the boundary between Prussia and Germany. Going westward about twelve miles you reach the Vosges mountains. Thus Strasbourg is in the middle of the fertile Rhine valley which stretches from the Vosges to the slopes of the Black Forest in Germany.

The history of the city is very interesting. In the year 15 B.C., a Roman military post was established there by Drusus and its Latin name Argentoratum was used until the seventh century. While excavating for the foundations of some modern buildings in the heart of the city, remains have been discovered of the old Roman wall which surrounded the original town.

The barbarian invasions, about the third century of our era, resulted in the expulsion of the Romans from Alsace, which was then occupied in turn by the Teutons and the Franks. Many years later when Alsace became a part of the Holy Roman Empire it came under the domination of the Bishop but in 1262 Strasbourg threw off the yoke and became a "free city," or virtually a republic. By the treaty of Westphalia in 1648, terminating the Thirty Years' War, Alsace was ceded to France, but Strasbourg with its independent spirit continued as a republic until 1681 when it opened its gates to Louis XIV and became of its own accord, a part of the kingdom of France.

The result of the Franco-Prussian war is more recent times is well known. In 1870 Germany took possession of Alsace-Lorraine but the city of Strasbourg proudly and bravely resisted, being captured only after a frightful siege. However, in 1918 it became again a part of France and on the twenty-second of November of that year, Marshal Foch received an enthusiastic welcome when he visited the city.

Marvellous Cathedral

One may truly say that the crowning glory and pride of Strasbourg is its marvellous cathedral. The present edifice was begun in the seventh century and completed in 1439, being a beautiful example of Gothic architecture. The study of the facade in all its wonderful detail is very interesting. Round about the three great portals are a host of carved figures portraying the most important biblical events such as the creation of the world, old Testament scenes from the lives of the patriarchs and prophets, and new Testament scenes from the life of Christ and the Apostles. The cathedral is surmounted by a single tower of beautiful design rising to a height of 465 feet being 236 feet higher than the towers of Notre Dame--cathedral in Paris. The vast interior, with its three great naves 360 feet long, its stately pillars, the beautiful stained glass windows of the XIV century, produces in one a sense of awe and solemnity which is a necessary requisite to any true worship.

Intricate Mechanism

One must not leave the cathedral without seeing the astronomical clock, situated in the south transept, which is probably the most intricate and ingenious mechanism of its kind to be found anywhere. In addition to indicating the time it shows the movements of the planets and changes and eclipses of the moon, as well as most accurate astronomical and ecclesiastical computations. There is also a perpetual calendar in connection with which each day of the week is indicated by the appearance of a small character, bearing a rider representing the particular divinity after whom the day is named, such as Marx, Saturn, etc. The quarter-hours are struck by figures representing the four periods of life--a child, a youth, an adult and an old man--while death sounds the hours, at which time an angel turns the hour-glass held in his hands. At noon the twelve Apostles march past the figure of Christ who blesses each one in passing and at the same time a rooster crows thrice in a very realistic manner.

As you come out and gaze in wonder and admiration at this great structure you think of the tremendous labor and love that have been given down through the centuries, to erect and maintain it. It brought home to me very forcibly how young our country is when I realized that this cathedral had been standing there, in its presented completed state, for many years before the existence of Canada was known.

Strasbourg has been the home of some famous men. The great reformer John Calvin, resided there for a few years as a minister and professor of Theology, also Martin Bucer was at one time the minister of St. Thomas Lutheran Church, on the organ of which the great musician Bach has played. The University as drawn students from many countries, among them the renowned poet Goethe; and an ocee of his professors, Pastor Oberlied out some of his famous experiments there. Also you will find in Strasbourg a very interesting monument to Gutenberg, who is credited with the invention of printing there about 1438. It was also in this same city that Rouget de Lisle in 1792 composed the Marseillaise, which later became the French national anthem, I must not forget to mention that Alsace is famous also as a home of the stork which seems to choose always as its nesting place the top of chimneys.

The old part of the city is very interesting with it narrow, winding streets and picturesque houses of the XIV and XV centuries. In some places the houses on opposite sides of the street are so close that from your window you may shake hands with your neighbor across the street. This, however, may not be always an advantage. Some of the streets and squares have curious names, such as Place du Corbeau, Marche-aux-Ouchons-de-lait, Place du Petit-sain-Gilles and Rue du Vieux-Marche-aux-Vins, etc. The river Ill on which Strasbourg is situated divides here into two arms for a distance of three-quarters of a mile, forming a little island, which for centuries contained the entire city. Now it has somewhat outgrown the old limits and as you cross over the river into the new part you notice a great contrast. Everywhere you see straight, wide streets with trees on each side of in a spacious central boulevard. The buildings are modern, well-built, massive structures, reflecting the architecture of the German regime. An interesting group of buildings is located about the short but beautiful Avenue de la Liberte, formerly the Kaiser-Wilhelmstrasse. One end leads directly to the main university building, while facing the other end across the Place de la Republique is the Palais du Rhin, formerly the Imperial Palace and the Conservatory of Music. Space does not permit of the mention of many other equally interesting.

Has Survived Well

You may wonder what is the position of Alsace today. Truly it has had a sad and chequered history. It has been the victim of many wars but due to its agricultural and other resources and by virtue of the courage and industry of its people it has survived all there trying experiences. War and the fear of war have, it seems, left their mark on this peace-loving people but the note of sadness that one may find after intimate acquaintance with them, is tempered by a great Christian faith and hope. One may hazard the opinion that if this little province, whose people are in a sense neither French nor German, had been able to retain its old independence as a neutral state between France and Germany its history would have been much happier. Perhaps the solution of this and many another like problem will be found in the realization of the dream of the United States of Europe.

Now this letter is longer than I expected it would be, but in closing let me say that though I am having a very profitable and enjoyable year over here, I shall be glad to be back in Canada again in the summer.

With my best regards, I am
Yours sincerely,
W. Harold Reid.

Persian Balm—the one toilet requisite for the dainty woman. Delightful to use. Leaves no stickiness. Swiftly absorbed by the tissues. Delicately fragrant. Imparts a velvety loveliness to the complexion. Tones up the skin. Soothes and banishes all unpleasant roughness or chafing caused by wind and other weather conditions. Makes hands soft and white. Creates an elusive, essentially feminine charm. Persian Balm is indispensable to women of refinement.

North Marmora

NORTH MARMORA, April 22—(By Mail)—Mrs. Herbert Inkster and Edna Clemenger.

Rev. Mr. Dunning visited Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Jarvis on Wednesday.

Mrs. Arthur Caverly spent a few days last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Barrons.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Carman spent Sunday with relatives in Madoc.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Inkster and family spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Jarvis and family.

Miss Clarissa Caverly spent Saturday with her sister, Miss Ida Caverly of Stirling.

Misses Bertha and Madeline Jarvis spent Sunday with Miss I. Graham.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hawey and son Fred and Miss Asia Beckstrom spent Sunday with the former's daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Cooke of Havelock.

Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Goodrich and Mr. Charles Goodrich motored to Kingston on Saturday. Mrs. Goodrich is stopping a few days with her mother, Mrs. Crozier of Napanee.

Mr. Fred Hawley took a tri pio Havelock on Monday with maple syrup.

Mr. John Jarvis, Mrs. C. A. Jarvis and Muriel took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hawley on Monday.

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Dunning and children spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Inkster and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Carman entertained company on Sunday.

Stockdale

STOCKDALE, April 22—(By Mail)—Mrs. Wrens of Picton, is spending the Easter holidays with her daughter and family at the United Parsonage.

Rev. Clare Sargeant is spending his holidays with his brother and other relatives at Trenton.

Sorry to report Mrs. Bhatt Cox on the sick list, her many friends with her a speedy recovery. Her mother is staying with her for a few days.

Congratulations to Rev. and Mrs. Ridgway on the arrival of a young son.

Mrs. Thos Irwin had the misfortune to fall ole day last week white coming downstairs and as a result will be confined to her bed for a few days.

The Red Rose Tea guarantee means what it says. If not satisfied return the unused part in the package and the grocer will refund your money.

RED ROSE TEA "is good tea"
RED ROSE ORANGE PEKOE is extra good

Miss Stella Cox spent Sunday with her friend, Miss Gertrude Powell.

Mrs. Charles Chase and Marguerite and Mrs. Chas. Wannamaker took dinner with Mrs. Gertie Bates one day last week.

Mr. D. Sharp of Marmora, spent a day last week with relatives here.

Miss Eva Ireland is spending her holidays with her parents near Bancroft.

Mrs. Manley Mayhew and Vera are visiting relatives at Fort William.

A number of the young people attended the Opera at Trenton on Saturday evening.

And the most up-to-date poets replace the Grim Reaper with the Grim Chauffeur.

record but over the adio the same plate becomes "electrical transcription."

SAFE, STERILIZED TISSUES
"COTTAGE" Sterilized rolls of 3,000 sheets.
EDDY'S Cottage TISSUE
Finest Quality Obtainable
• • FOR THE WELL-APPOINTED BATHROOM • •
DISCRIMINATING women who practice intelligent economy buy these Sterilized Toilet Tissues by name if for Eddy Tissue are Canada's finest—in quality and value. If You ever asked any one of these four Eddy Rolls knowing that you will get a safe, pure, Sterilized tissue at an economical price ♦ Ask for it by name.
THE E. B. EDDY COMPANY LIMITED
HULL - - - CANADA
"ORIWON" Finest Sterilized Tissue. Served from sanitary, dustproof cabinet in nickel or porcelain finish.
"NAVY" 700 sheets of soft, safe, Sterilized paper.
"DEEPONIGHT" Seven ounces of Sterilized crepe tissue.
"WHITE SWAN" Sterilized tissue in wrapped rolls of 750 sheets.
EDDY'S Sterilized TISSUES
CANADA'S FINEST

FIFTY YEARS OF CONSTANT ENTERPRISE
THE DRILLER
The oil driller hopes for the best—and is always prepared for the worst.
He works weary months watching the drill bite down. If he hits oil there is a brief thrill when she comes in. But many times he only makes a hole in the ground.
Imperial Oil men have drilled in the Arctic where the bare hand laid on steel takes away a patch of skin. They have drilled in Peru and Colombia, where the sun is like a sword. They have drilled in Alberta, winter and summer, to establish a Canadian supply.
Imperial has searched the continent for oil because it wants the best. That is why it has pipe lines through South America swamps—ships on the Atlantic and Pacific feeding its great seaboard refineries.
For fifty years Imperial Oil has been entering new needs of transportation and industry. Because it has met each need with new enterprise and perfection, Imperial has become a great company—serving every corner of Canada—ranging the world in its work.
Fifty years of constant enterprise are in the products Imperial Oil sells today.
Marvelube is Imperial's finest motor oil.
Imperial Premier and Imperial Ethyl are its best gasolines.
Which means that nothing finer can be put in your car.
IMPERIAL OIL PRODUCTS
ALWAYS SO MUCH BETTER
IMPERIAL PREMIER GASOLINE
IMPERIAL ETHYL GASOLINE
MARVELUBE MOTOR OIL
POLARINE GREASES
IMPERIAL INDUSTRIAL LUBRICANTS
FOUNDED IMPERIAL 1880
¶ Imperial Oil Products Are Made in Ontario

TWELVE PAGES

The Ontario Intelligencer

Fair today and Saturday, becoming little milder, moderate northwest winds.

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, FRIDAY, APRIL 25, 1930.

Will Amend Front Street Parking Bylaw

PARKING PARALLEL TO CURBS PLANNED

Change In By-Law Regarding Front Street Parking During Summer

FILTER TENDERS

Belleville Firm Has Lowest Tender on General Contract

Practically the whole session of the committee meeting of the city council held last night was taken up with discussion of the various tenders submitted by several firms for the construction of a filtration plant for this city. When the tenders were opened it was found that fifteen contracting firms had tendered on the main contract and thirteen had tendered on equipment. Mr. Storrie, consulting engineer of the firm Gore, Nasmith and Storrie, Toronto, was present and informed the Ontario Intelligencer that it would be impossible to announce the awarding of the contracts for some time. "Each contract must be checked separately" said Mr. Storrie, to see that all extensions have been properly carried out. This applies not only to the general contract but also to the equipment contracts. The general contract includes all the work even to placing the equipment tendered on by the equipment companies. Of the fifteen contracts for general construction received the tender of Patterson Construction Company was found to be the lowest, amounting to $118,963.5 being $830.41 lower than the next tender. If it is possible the City Council will accept one of the tenders on Monday night at their regular meeting also all the equipment tenders. By a recommendation passed last night the Council instructed all the tenders to be turned over to the Engineering firm for checking and tabulating and that they be requested to recommend the tender or tenders to be accepted and to report at the next possible date. This was passed unanimously.

BORROW FROM BANK

In order to meet the financial requirements for the construction of the new bridge across the Moira River at Bridge Street, the City Treasurer and Chairman of Executive were authorized to arrange with the Bank of Montreal for funds up to $65,000.00 until such time as the work is completed and debentures issued to pay for the said construction.

A letter was received from J. W. Day, president of the Belleville Post No. 99 Canadian Legion requesting taxes amounting to $801.32 on the Memorial Hall be remitted as in former years and a recommendation subscribed to issuing of a cheque for that amount by the City Treasurer was passed.

Robert Orr was given the contract for the collection of garbage in the city on the same conditions for a sum of $6,000.00. A contract will be entered into by these parties at once.

STRAIGHT PARKING

The present traffic by-law of the city will be amended for the period of construction of the lower bridge by a recommendation passed last night. Angular parking on Front Street will be discontinued and a return made to straight parking. This condition will exist from Dundas Street to the Upper Bridge and although not as many cars will be taken care of, the street will be left more open for the movement of the heavy tourist traffic.

HALL TENDERS

The City Engineer was authorized to advertise for tenders for the supply of sand and gravel, castings, sewer tile and cement for the various civic departments for the year of 1930. This is an annual recommendation and the material bought is used principally by the Public Works Department.

Mrs. W. C. Mikel and Miss Lynch were appointed as delegates to represent the city at a convention of social workers to be held in Toronto and a cheque for $40.00 will be issued to cover the expenses of their trip.

Veterans Vote Against the Memorial Arch Proposal

MAY BE POET LAUREATE

Rudyard Kipling, famous English poet and writer, who is slated to become Poet Laureate of Great Britain to succeed the late Dr. Bridges.

BANK GENERAL MANAGER DIES

Sudden Death of H. B. MacKenzie of, Bank of Montreal

MONTREAL, Que., April 25—(CP)—H. B. Mackenzie, general manager of The Bank of Montreal, dropped dead today. Mr. MacKenzie, who was appointed general manager last year to succeed Sir Frederick Williams-Taylor, who was promoted to vice-president, dropped suddenly in the bank building following a directors' meeting.

Mr. G. A. C. Weir of the Belleville branch of the Bank of Montreal, is a brother-in-law of the late Mr. MacKenzie, Mrs. Mackenzie being his sister. Besides Mrs. Mackenzie, two sons and a daughter survive.

GRANTS INJUNCTION ON SALARY INCREASE

Toronto, April 25. (CP)—Upon the application of J. M. Bullen, on behalf of Irving E. Robertson, managing editor of The Toronto Evening Telegram, Mr. Justice Raney, at Osgoode Hall today granted an interim injunction restraining the Toronto City Council and Finance Commissioner George E. Wilton until May 5, from paying any salary increase to members of the council. This was done with the consent of G. R. Geary, K.C., M.P., corporation counsel.

DON G. BLEECKER SUCCUMBS AFTER MONTH'S ILLNESS

Well Known Citizen And Business Man Came of U.E.L. Family

WAS BORN HERE

Had Served in Council, Board of Education and in Fraternities

Donald G. Bleecker, prominent druggist, highly respected citizen and well known through the Bay of Quinte district, passed away at his home, East Moira street, late yesterday afternoon after a protracted illness. He was stricken some four weeks ago and was making satisfactory progress, when a heart condition arose that caused anxiety. Splendid medical care nearly brought him to complete recovery, but pneumonia was contracted and the constitution was not able to withstand the ravages of the disease. In the passing of Don. G. Bleecker another link of direct U. E. L. descendants was broken as he was the grandson of the late Tobias Bleecker and great grandson of the late John B. Bleecker, the pioneer of that family, who settled in the Bay of Quinte District, after travelling from Albany, New York.

Son of Late Wm. Bleecker

The late Donald G. Bleecker was born in 1862 in the home in which he died, being the son of the late William Bleecker and Jane Sierichs, both of whom predeceased him many years. The home on East Moira street was the original homestead of the William Bleecker family and around the River Moira, the deceased passed his childhood days. He was educated

(Continued on Page 4)

MARGARET ANN FARLEY

Masses of floral tributes and a large number of friends in attendance testified to the esteem in which the late Margaret Ann Farley was held by all who knew her the funeral took place from Bridge Street United Church yesterday afternoon. Services were conducted by the Rev. Dr. Bell, assisted by the Rev. Dr. E. H. Baker, Mrs. G. E. McKinnon rendered beautiful solo during the services. The bearers included Messrs. Duncan, Tom and John Ketcheson, J. White, J. Fairfield and J. Fletcher. Interment took place in the family plot, Belleville Cemetery.

FREIGHTER SINKS AND SEVERAL OF CREW DIE

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., April 25.—(CP) —Several members of the crew of the Freighter Thames were believed today to have perished when the vessel burned to the water line and sank in Long Island sound. Radio messages told of the rescue of part of the crew and one man was brought ashore here, but the number given only accounted for fifteen men. The Thames carried 24. One rescue craft, the radio message said, picked up "scots of the men" but did not give the number.

John R. Ardiel, 16-year-old student of Upper Canada College, Toronto, has announced his intention of entering the annual sea marathon to be held on the 26th of this month from Albany to New York. "The Little Duke" as he is called will drive a Peterboro hurricane outboard racer, powered with a seahorse quad of 32 h.p. capable of hitting close to fifty miles an hour.

WINDING THEIR WAY OVER CONTINENT IN ENDEAVOUR TO BREAK RECORD

The Duchess of Bedford (centre) with Captain Barnard (left) and Mr. Little (right), are winging their way over Europe in an effort to break the existing speed record from Britain to South Africa and back. These daring aviators are using the aeroplane shown above, which is "The Spider". These pictures were taken a few minutes before the trio left Lympne, England.

VETERANS TURN DOWN PLAN FOR MEMORIAL ARCHES AT BRIDGE

HEADS WORLD ALLIANCE

Favor Cenotaph at West Side of River in Extended Park

By a majority vote members of the Canadian Legion Post 99 of this city and member of the Ladies' Auxiliary last evening rejected the project of placing memorial arches at the entrances to the new bridge which is to be constructed on the site of the present lower bridge on Bridge street, as a memorial to those who made the supreme sacrifice during the great war. Instead a recommendation was adopted that the City Council purchase what is known as the Rose property on the south east corner of Bridge street west, extend Panter's Park and erect a suitable cenotaph.

The gathering took place at the memorial hall and was well attended by returned men and lady members of the auxiliary. At the citizens' meeting on Tuesday evening last it was suggested that the returned men advance their idea of a memorial and present same as an adjourned citizens' meeting to be held next Tuesday evening. The recommendation adopted was by no means the unanimous voice of those present as some spoke in favour of the memorial arches being erected.

The sketch plan of the arches were shown and explained by Mr. J. A. Thomson, architect, who stated he had prepared same at the request of a member of the City Council.

Name Committee

A committee composed of Com-

(Continued on Page Eight)

TWO BELLEVILLE BOYS GRADUATE

Two Belleville students graduate in the faculty of medicine at Queen's University this year, viz:—Messrs. James A. Cummins, and C. M. A. Walters. The former is a graduate of Ridley College while he also attended St. Michael's College in Toronto while Mr. Walters graduated from the Belleville High School. Mr. Cummins is a son of Mrs. E. Cummins while Mr. Walters is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walters. The former has received an appointment to Walkerville Metropolitan General Hospital while Mr. Walters goes to Montreal General Hospital. They will not only be the recipients of congratulations on their graduation but on their early appointments as well.

PEACE RESTORED AND TROOPS WITHDRAWN

PESHAWAR ,April 25.—(CP)—Civil authorities in srious rioting here Wednesday were estimated today at more than fifty. Three British soldiers are among the dead. Peace has been restored now, however, and British troops rushed up for the emergency gradually are being withdrawn. Chief Commissioner Bolton conferred today with local leaders about the restoration of normal conditions. Since the beginning of rioting public gatherings and meetings of more than five persons has been forbidden. Police patrols have rigidly enforced the regulations.

WRIT WINNER OF CRAVEN STAKES AT NEW MARKET

Lord Astor's Well Bred Colt Won by Two Lengths

GAY FRIAR SECOND

Tattersall's Meredith Was In Third Place in Today's Race

Newmarket, Eng., April 25 (C.P.)—Lord Astor's well bred Colt Writ, the derby candidate, won the old establishment Craven Stakes today by two lengths over Walter Guinness' Gay Friar, with Somerville Tattersall's Meredith in third place, another four lengths back. A great field of derby horses ran, eight of the thirteen starters being prominent candidates for the Epsom classic.

STOCK MARKETS

Jamieson Bone and Company by direct wire from F. O'Hearn & Co.,

In Ne w York today, the Utility and Amusement stocks were strong, while the molors were weak. Stewart Warner broke 7 points on news of cut in the dividend. Nickel and Steels were firm, altho few care to predict the future as to price of copper metal. The Gold stocks are well bought and quite scarce, higher prices being freely predicted. Wheat was off 3c or more. Quotations at 3 p.m. were:—

NEW YORK—

Anaconda 94 7-8; Am. Can 148 1-2; C.P.R. 308; Chrysler 37 5-8; Col. Gas 82 1-4; Cons. Gas 136 1-4; Can. Elec. 89 3-8; General Motors 48 7-8; Hudson 46 3-4; Kennecott 46 1-2; Radio 69; S.O.N.J. 83 1-4; Stewart Warner 33 1-2; Westinghouse Electric 155; U. S. Steel 190; Radio Keith 43 1-2; Paramount 71 1-2; National Air Trans 26 7-8; Nng. Gas Improv, 48; Comw Southn 19 5-8.

CANADABETTER OFF THAN U. S.

Mr. F. V. Ilsley Gives His Impressions of Business Conditions

Although there has been a business depression in Canada the past winter and spring, Canadians can hold their heads high and still proudly call their country the "Land of Opportunities Galore." For while this country has had its unemployment problem and its slump in business conditions, the Unit ed States has fared far worse. "I

Speaking to The Ontario Intelligencer today, Mr. F. V. Ilsley, manager of the Canadian Credit Men's Trust ee branch here stated that after passing through several large cities in the United States and observing conditions there for the past three weeks, "We are certainly not suffering unduly." He said, "During my vacation I visited New York, Boston and other cities in New England and the unemployment problems in these centres were truly acute. One cannot imagine the conditions that exist in the larger centres unless one sees them with one's eyes."

The United States bankers, however, according to Mr. Ilsley are looking forward brightly to the summer. They believe that present conditions are even now on the mend and that a great book is in the offing.

Not Moving Yet

Mr. Ilsley was not prepared to state this morning definitely when the bank would move its offices from the present Standard Bank building to the magnificent enlarged and new offices at the corner of Front and Campbell streets. It will be in all possibility some time after June 1st. Within ten days' time it is hoped that some definite statement may be given out.

The new offices will be the latest thing in banking circles. There will be more office space and greater working facilities for the staff than in either the old chambers or the present building.

PRINCE LANDS IN WINDSOR PARK

Long Journey From Africa Who's Ended Today

Windsor, Eng., April 25 (C.P.)— The Prince of Wales is home from his African hunting trip. He landed on Smith's Lawn in Windsor Great park today, making a perfect landing.

GIRL HELD IN BANK HOLDUP THURSDAY

Toronto, April 25 (C.P.)— Charged with armed robbery, Cecil Irvine and his seventeen-year-old sister-in-law, Kathleen Boyle, of Buffalo, N.Y., were remanded to April 28 when they appeared in police court today before Magistrate Robert Browne, charged with holdup and robbery of the local branch of Canadian Bank of Commerce yesterday.

Coming Events

RUMMAGE SALE SATURDAY EVENING, April 26, Y.M.C.A. Doors open 7 o'clock, auspices Minerva Chapter No 138 O.E.S. a25-1td

THE MEMBERS OF QUINTENA REbekah Lodge No. 133 are invited to attend Divine Service at Bridge St. United Church on Sunday, April 27. Members will meet at the church at 10.45 a.m.

Rec.-Sec.
a25-26d

COME TO THE AFTERNOON TEA and sale of homecooking and needle work in St. George's Sunday School, Thursday, May 1st, from 3 to 6.
a23, 29 30

RUMMAGE SALE IN ST. THOMAS' Parish House Saturday evening, April 26th, at seven o'clock, auspices Women's Guild. 23a26

EMMANUEL CHURCH RUMMAGE sale on Saturday, April 26th, in the City Hall. Doors open 9.30 a.m. Donations will be called for. Phone 573. a24-26d

ON FRIDAY NIGHT, APRIL 25, AT 7.30 p.m., the Albert College Alumni Orchestra will be heard in the Memorial Hall. Following that, two one-act plays, "The Rehearsal" an "The Bishop's Candlesticks" will be presented by the students. The public are cordially invited to attend. a24-1td

RUMMAGE SALE SATURDAY EVEning, April 26th, in Bridge Street Hall (formerly Sills' Grocery) Good bargains. Doors open 7 p.m. 23-2t

EUCHRE AND DANCE, MEMORIAL Hall, Friday, April 25th. Cards 8 to 11. Dancing 10 to 1. Good prizes, also spot prizes. Special Orchestra. Refreshments. Admission 35c. Everybody welcome. a22-3t

DANCE IN SHANNONVILLE HALL Tuesday, April 29. Auspices Women's Guild. Door prize. Refreshments provided. Circle Six Orchestra. Admission 50c.
a19, 21, 22, 23, 24, 26

WRIT WINNER OF CRAVEN STAKES AT NEW MARKET

Lord Astor's Well Bred Colt Won by Two Lengths

GAY FRIAR SECOND

Tattersall's Meredith Was In Third Place in Today's Race

Newmarket, Eng., April 25 (C.P.)—Lord Astor's well bred Colt Writ, the derby candidate, won the old establishment Craven Stakes today by two lengths over Walter Guinness' Gay Friar, with Somerville Tattersall's Meredith in third place, another four lengths back. A great field of derby horses ran, eight of the thirteen starters being prominent candidates for the Epsom classic.

STOCK MARKETS

Jamieson Bone and Company by direct wire from F. O'Hearn & Co.,

In Ne w York today, the Utility and Amusement stocks were strong, while the molors were weak. Stewart Warner broke 7 points on news of cut in the dividend. Nickel and Steels were firm, altho few care to predict the future as to price of copper metal. The Gold stocks are well bought and quite scarce, higher prices being freely predicted. Wheat was off 3c or more. Quotations at 3 p.m. were:—

NEW YORK—

Anaconda 94 7-8; Am. Can 148 1-2; C.P.R. 308; Chrysler 37 5-8; Col. Gas 82 1-4; Cons. Gas 136 1-4; Can. Elec. 89 3-8; General Motors 48 7-8; Hudson 46 3-4; Kennecott 46 1-2; Radio 69; S.O.N.J. 83 1-4; Stewart Warner 33 1-2; Westinghouse Electric 155; U. S. Steel 190; Radio Keith 43 1-2; Paramount 71 1-2; National Air Trans 26 7-8; Nng. Gas Improv, 48; Comw Southn 19 5-8.

CANADABETTER OFF THAN U. S.

Mr. F. V. Ilsley Gives His Impressions of Business Conditions

Although there has been a business depression in Canada the past winter and spring, Canadians can hold their heads high and still proudly call their country the "Land of Opportunities Galore." For while this country has had its unemployment problem and its slump in business conditions, the Unit ed States has fared far worse. "I

Speaking to The Ontario Intelligencer today, Mr. F. V. Ilsley, manager of the Canadian Credit Men's Trust ee branch here stated that after passing through several large cities in the United States and observing conditions there for the past three weeks, "We are certainly not suffering unduly." He said, "During my vacation I visited New York, Boston and other cities in New England and the unemployment problems in these centres were truly acute. One cannot imagine the conditions that exist in the larger centres unless one sees them with one's eyes."

The United States bankers, however, according to Mr. Ilsley are looking forward brightly to the summer. They believe that present conditions are even now on the mend and that a great book is in the offing.

Not Moving Yet

Mr. Ilsley was not prepared to state this morning definitely when the bank would move its offices from the present Standard Bank building to the magnificent enlarged and new offices at the corner of Front and Campbell streets. It will be, in all possibility some time after June 1st. Within ten days' time it is hoped that some definite statement may be given out.

The new offices will be the latest thing in banking circles. There will be more office space and greater working facilities for the staff than in either the old chambers or the present building.

PRINCE LANDS IN WINDSOR PARK

Long Journey From Africa Who's Ended Today

Windsor, Eng., April 25 (C.P.)— The Prince of Wales is home from his African hunting trip. He landed on Smith's Lawn in Windsor Great park today, making a perfect landing.

GIRL HELD IN BANK HOLDUP THURSDAY

Toronto, April 25 (C.P.)— Charged with armed robbery, Cecil Irvine and his seventeen-year-old sister-in-law, Kathleen Boyle, of Buffalo, N.Y., were remanded to April 28 when they appeared in police court today before Magistrate Robert Browne, charged with holdup and robbery of the local branch of Canadian Bank of Commerce yesterday.

THE BULLETIN BOARD
Mainly About People You Know

TO SPEAK IN PETERBORO

It was announced today that Mrs. Forbes Allen of Peterboro, will deliver an address at a meeting of the Trenton Ladies' Liberal Association in their hall next Monday night. Other prominent speakers will attend and many from Belleville will doubtless be in attendance.

PLAY IN TOURNEY

Belleville Y.M.C.A. bowling team the Peaches will take part in a tourney tonight at Duffs Alleys, Peterboro. The team is composed of V. Wheeler, Dot Belnap, Peg Holway, Evie Whalen and Stella Ford.

TO SPEAK AT TRENTON

Mr. J. O. Herity of this city will address the Orsca Church Men's Club at their regular meeting in the church parlors at Trenton next Tuesday night. It is expected that a large number of men will turn out to hear this popular ilter dinner speaker.

CARD PARTY POSTPONED

The card party under the auspices of Minerva Chapter scheduled for tonight owing to the death of Dan G. Bleecker.

MOOSE SECTION OF OFFICERS

At the annual meeting of Belleville Lodge No 1004 Loyal Order of Moose the following officers were elected for 1930:—

Past Dictator—Bro. A. Dutton.
Dictator—Bro. P. Donovan.
Vice Dictator—Bro. T. F. Gill.
Prelate—T. A. Burtt.
Treasurer—Bro. J. T. Delaney.
Secretary—Bro. T. G. Wells, three-year term.
Sergeant-at-Arms— Bro. F. S. Gerow.
Inside Guard—Bro. R. G. Patterson.
Trustees—Bro. W. T. Party, three-years; Bro. R. W. Hope, two-years.
Past Dictator, Bro. W. C. Edwards was the Installing Officer.
Junior P. D. Bro. A. Dutton is the delegate to the Supreme Lodge Convention to be held at Mooseheart, Ill., June 29 to July 6th. Alternate P. D. Bro. G. H. Monaman.

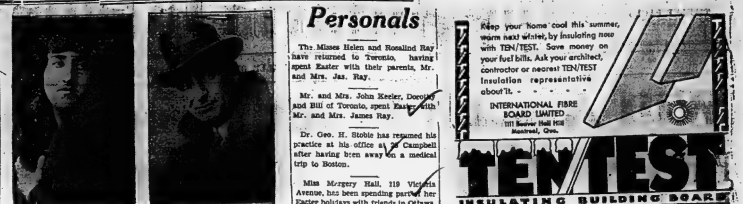
TREMEN CALLED OUT

The Fire Department was called out shortly after twelve o'clock today to answer a call to the city works yard. No trouble was found there, however, after they arrived. Workmen had been boiling tar and it evidently got a little too hot for them.

LEGION EUCHRE

Another euchre and dance, sponsored by the Canadian Legion, will be held in the club rooms this evening. These euchres and dances have steadily become more popular each time they were held this winter and it is thought that a large crowd will be in attendance. Special prizes have been donated for winners at cards.

ORATORICAL CONTEST



At seven-thirty tonight the Albert College will hold its annual oratorical contest in the Memorial Hall. These contests are always of an outstanding nature and the subject chosen for todays deal on important issues. Following the oratorical contests the students will present two one-act plays, "The Reluctant Dragon" and "The Bishop's Candlesticks". The program will begin at seven thirty.

BIRTHDAY PARTY HELD

A birthday party was held Monday night April 21st at the home of Mrs. Elias Vreseland, Montville, New Jersey in honour of her mother, Mrs. Shelters first birthday. Owing to the serious illness of Mr. Shelter, the evening was quietly spent with only a few relatives being present. The birthday cake bearing eighty candles was particularly pleasing Mrs Shelter was the recipient of many congratulations during the day; birthday cards and flowers from neighbours and from the ladies of Montville Reform School — Boonton, (New Jersey) Times

Wallpaper
WE ARE FEATURING SUNWORTHY WALLPAPERS in the popular 22 and 30 inch widths.
GILL'S Book Store
Phone 1825

Mr. Frank Graham and Miss Darling two featured players of the Graham Stock Co., which opens at the Capitol theatre tomorrow for a short engagement. Their opening presenta tion will be "Detour", a famous Broadway success consists of 12 experienced, versatile performers, with a carload of scenery and beautiful wardrobes. As added attraction the sensational musical success "Spring Is Here" with elaborate scenes in technicolors.

GETS CONTRACTS

Contracts for the Memorial Cairn which will be erected at Wellington by the Canadian Legion of that town, have been let building to J. Fairick the mason and granite and bronze tablets to W. A. James and Son of Picton. The Memorial Cairn will form the entrance into Wellington's beautiful park by the lake. Work on erection of this striking boulder will start this week. The cairn will be dedicated at the 1st of July celebration being held in Wellington.

LIBRARY RE-OPENS

The Carrie Public Library will reopen tomorrow morning as ten o'clock after being closed for the past week. The boys and girls' library will not open until Monday, however. The decorators in their short period of work have entirely transformed the main floor of the attractive building. The ceiling has been treated to a soft shade of cream coloured paint, and the walls are now painted a tasteful rose shade. The wood work has all been re-varnished and the room is very pleasing in appearance. The directors of the Library are to be congratulated on the work.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

Last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wells, Geddes street a very delightfully arranged miscellaneous shower was held in honor of Miss Lela Harris, bride-elect, about forty friends and relatives being present. Little Miss Muriel Wells and Master "Teddy" Wells presented the basket of very lovely gifts. Progressive euchre was played, first prize being won by Mrs. Blake McMullen, consolation Mrs. Roy Bartlet, a dainty lunch was served by the hostess, those assisting were Mrs. Walter Gerow, Mrs. Warren Powers, Mrs. Walter Wells and Miss Anna Gerow, Mr. and Mrs. Wells were ideal host and hostess.

NEWMAN RE-ELECTED

Fred Newman was returned for the sixteenth term as President of Prince Edward County Board of Trade at the annual meeting.

Here and There

(5212)

"As a people, I feel greed communism is practically discredited in China to-day," said Colonel G. W. Birks, in charge of the M. C. A. work in the Far East, interviewed as he passed through Winnipeg recently on route to Montreal after a six-months stay in the Orient. Colonel Birks thought that China would shortly split into independent parts, North and South China.

Seeding has become general in some Saskatchewan points and in many farming centres of Alberta, and is expected to be general shortly if favorable weather conditions continue, according to reports coming in to the Winnipeg offices of the agricultural department of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Seventy head of finest thoroughbred stock arrived at Saint John recently to go forward by Canadian Pacific Railway to the Prince of Wales' ranch, near High River, Alberta. It is the first shipment of the kind to be made in the past four years. The majority are Aberdeen Angus cattle.

"There is at present in Great Britain a decided awakening of interest in the Canadian universities," said Dr. Cyril Norwood, headmaster of Harrow, one of the most famous of English public schools and Alma Mater of Lord Byron, who borrowed the chairman of the delegation of British headmasters here on a tour of inspection of the Canadian universities. He arrived at Saint John recently aboard S.S. Duchess of Bedford.

Canada's first ranking tennis star, Dr. Jack Wright, figures ton shooting, elephant baiting and antelope hunting is just the kind of sport to keep a tennis player in trim. Arriving at Vancouver recently aboard S.S. Empress of Canada, Dr. Wright says he feels in great shape for the forthcoming Davis Cup matches.

Retirement of C. E. McPherson, assistant passenger traffic manager Western Lines, Canadian Pacific Railway, after more than 50 years of railway service, and promotion of six other officials of the department from coast to coast of Canada, has been announced, effective May 1. Promotions are: H. W. Brodie to be overseas passenger manager; R. G. McMillan to be assistant passenger traffic manager, western lines, Montreal; H. R. Desgrisay to be assistant passenger traffic manager, western lines, Winnipeg; E. F. L. Sturdee, general passenger agent, Vancouver; H. R. Mathewson, general passenger agent, Winnipeg; and George H. Carter, assistant general passenger agent, Montreal.

The annual production of honey in Canada is about thirty million pounds. While a great deal of honey is used in the home, the principal commercial users are confectioners, bakers and bottlers.

At the World's Poultry Congress to be held at the Crystal Palace near London in July, a feature of the Canadian exhibit will be a model of the Prince of Wales' ranch at High River, Alberta, which will occupy 100 square feet of space and will be fitted with electric fireplaces and lighting that will show the ranch in a novel and attractive way.

While the Five Power Conference is in session in London considering ways and means of promoting world peace, activity preparations are under way in Canada for launching another war with relentless fury. Millions of casualties will result from this war which is timed to start in May. It is the war on insect pests in the Dominion which work incalculable damage to trees, plants and crops unless checked by Government entomologists.

Homestead entries in the four western provinces during January and February this year numbered 1718 as compared with 1416 for the corresponding period of 1929. Alberta and British Columbia served advances while Manitoba and Saskatchewan showed recessions.

Over $2,500,000 has been invested in manufacturing enterprises in the Province of Alberta and these concerns are paying about $14,000,000 a year in salaries and wages to over 12,000 employees. Similar rapid development in industrialism is to be noted in the sister provinces of Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

Personals

The Misses Helen and Rosalind Ray have returned to Toronto, having spent Easter with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Ray.

Mr. and Mrs. John Keeler, Dorothy and Bill of Toronto, spent Easter with Mr. and Mrs. James Ray.

Dr. Geo. H. Stobie has resumed his practice at his office at 97 Campbell after having been away on a medical trip to Boston.

Miss Margery Hall, 119 Victoria Avenue, has been spending part of her Easter holidays with friends in Ottawa. Miss Roma Whittenburg accompanied her on her return.

Miss Helen Davidson of Wellington, nurse-in-training at Prince Edward County Hospital, Picton, is visiting Miss M. Young at Bowcell street.

Alderman George O. Tice, who has been confined to his home for the past few days is slightly improved.

Mr and Mrs. J. M. Robin and Sherart, Mrs Collins and Miss Polles have returned home after spending a vacation in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Thomas are in Toronto for a few days.

Mrs. L. A. Hamilton of Toronto is visiting at the home of Mr. George Gunn, and fam ly, 22 Everett Street.

Mr. S. Shenick is confined to his home with pleurisy.

BELLEVILLE FIRM GETS PICTON CONTRACT

At a meeting of the Picton Town Council, the Patterson Construction Company, of Belleville, was awarded a contract to construct 4000 feet of waterworks system. This was afterwards raised to 5500 feet. Mr. Patterson has a number of men employed on the work and will relieve the labor condition in the Prince Edward county town. The work will take nearly all the summer months to complete.

A GOOD COMBINATION THAT OF Quality and Price

Gum Drops	20c lb.
Turkish Delight	25c lb.
Chocolates	40 lb.
Sugared Peanuts	30c lb.
Creams	20c lb.

MOIRS AND GANONGS BOXED CHOCOLATES
60c to $2.75
B. J. BLACK
196 Front St. Ph. 379

Keep your home cool this summer, warm next winter, by insulating now with TEN/TEST. Save money on your fuel bills. Ask your architect, contractor or nearest TEN/TEST Insulation representative about it.
INTERNATIONAL FIBRE BOARD LIMITED
111 Scarfe Hall Hill Montreal, Que.
TEN/TEST
INSULATING BUILDING BOARD
Sold by
ARTHUR A. SILLS
Coleman St., Belleville

PHONE 1864 FOR MEATS
You'll Like Shopping Here
Quality is the Best—and Prices are Most Reasonable, whether you are buying Choice Meats or Finest Groceries.
Old English Wax
—KEEP YOUR FLOORS SHINING WITH THIS SPLENDID WAX!
C. H. McBRIDE
VICTORIA AVENUE at Charles St.
PHONE 3 FOR GROCERIES!

An Eye and Ear Entertainment all Belleville will Love
Lord BYRON of BROADWAY
A fascinating story, a beautiful romance, brilliant Broadway songs—all need his love writer who inspiration for his pen—amid the fight affairs as his assets—amid the fight girl cause along.
It's full of laughs, song hits, drama and gorgeous Technicolor ballets.
SONG HITS! TECHNICOLOR DANCES
Charles Kaley, Ethelinn Terry Clint Edwards Marion Shilling
GRAHAM McNAMEE
NEWSCASTING
CHARLIE CHASE
TALKOMEDY
SUPERIOR SCREEN VAUDEVILLE
B-E-L-L-E
BEGINS TOMORROW
7.15—TONIGHT—9.15—Elinor Glyn's "SUCH MEN ARE DANGEROUS"

REX
KING OF THE WILD HORSES
in
THE HARVEST OF HATE
with
JACK PERRIN
Only one person could tame Rex, and that was the beautiful cantral girl who became the center of a whirlpool of plotting and battle, but who was helped to real love by a fighting cowboy and her faithful steed. IT'S A KNOCKOUT!
"SMITTIE AND HIS PALS"
Comedy
"FIRE DETECTIVE" Serial
SCREEN VARIETIES
R-E-G-E-N-T
BEGINS TOMORROW
2.30—7.30—9.15

THE WORLD WILL STOP TO LISTEN WHEN
GARBO TALK
B-E-L-L-E
WED., APRIL 30

STAGE and SCREEN PRESENTATIONS!
Capitol
THE HOUSE OF HITS!
LAST TIMES TONIGHT
THE MICHIGAN PLAYERS Present
"THE GREAT AWAKENING"
Also "SOUTH SEA ROSE"
STARTS TOMORROW
THE SHOW WITH A MARK OF DISTINCTION
The Graham Stock Co.
12 — PEOPLE — 12
All Experienced and Versatile Performers carrying a Carload of Scenery and Beautiful Wardrobe.
OPENING PRESENTATION
"DETOURING WIVES"
Famous Broadway Success
ADDED ATTRACTION
THE SUPREME SENSATION OF MUSICAL SHOWS
SPRING is HERE
with Gorgeous Scenes in Technicolor, Elaborate Song and Dance Numbers, with Hundreds taking part. Magnificent Settings and a Beautiful Story.
with BERNICE CLAIRE and ALEXANDER GRAY
Greatest of all Song Teams
Also Ford Sterling, Louise Fazenda and Lawrence Gray
HEAR THESE SONG HITS:
"Crying for the Carolines", "Have a Little Faith in Me" and Others
REGULAR ADMISSION

North American producers of pork-products are faced with increasing competition from Hungarian producers in the markets of Central Europe.

While holding to their native costume native women of India have adopted the fashion of wearing silk hosiery.

FAVORS STOPS AT CROSSINGS

Pres. Beatty Warns Against Unemployment Insurance

TORONTO, April 25.—An urge and a warning—an urge for the enactment of legislation compelling motorists to come to a full stop before traversing level crossings, and a most cautiously worded warning against the institution of a Government system of unemployment insurance—were outstanding features of the address of E. W. Beatty, K.C., President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, before 1,000 delegates of the Industrial Accident Prevention Association at dinner in the Royal York Hotel last night.

In connection with his recommendation to Premier Ferguson, seated beside him, about legislation to compel motorists to stop before crossing unguarded train tracks, Mr. Beatty told of the effect of such legislation in Quebec Province. It had saved 33 lives in 7 months, according to the comparison of pre-legislation and post-legislation figures. There had been 44 grade crossing accidents, with 39 killed and 73 injured in seven months of 1928, and only 21 such accidents, with 7 killed and 24 accidents in the same period of 1929, when the legislation was in force.

Quality Features Claimed for the New Plymouth

New full-size automobile dimensions and engineering practices brought to the group of four American-made cars in the lowest price class—from $725 to $775—with the recent sensational price reductions announced by the Plymouth Motor Corporation have again focused the eyes of the entire world on the automobile industry in this country. Never before since the beginning of the industry have there been greater values than those now offered by the low-priced group of American-made cars.

When the Plymouth price reduction brought this car into the lowest-price bracket, there was added to the already imposing array of low-cost quality features a whole host of new size dimensions, engineering and manufacturing practices never known in this field and never before thought possible.

In the Plymouth, the low-priced branch of the industry now has to offer for the first time weatherproof internal-expanding hydraulic four-wheel brakes; full force-feed lubrication to all main connecting rod and camshaft bearings; and engine mounted in rubber; a tread depth of five inches; hand brakes operating on the drive wheels; greater front and rear seat head-room; greater clearance between the steering wheel and seat cushion; greater wind-shield to rear window length; greater total window area; greater hood length; greater overall length and many other features, setting entirely new standards in the minimum price range.

In a like manner Plymouth made it possible for the low-priced group of the industry to offer for the first time Bendix rust-proofing on the enameled parts and introduced into that group the practice of subjecting each engine to separate individual dynamometer test.

Another feature made available to the buyer of the lowest-priced transportation by Plymouth is an engine protected against "burning out" through depletion of the oil supply. This safeguard has been established by having the oil pump rather than the inlet manifold induce the vacuum that draws the gasoline from the tank. If the oil gets below the safety point, the pump ceases to function, and the gasoline flow is in turn suspended until the oil pan has been replenished. Main bearings are formula backed, the same as in motors of the highest-priced cars.

An improved "Silver Dome" high turbulency motor, the first of its kind ever offered in this price class is another feature of the Plymouth. This is a high-compression motor, which because of its advanced design, gives the advantages of compression with any standard grade of gasoline.

NO BALL THERE

There is no truth in the report that Deseronto will re-enter baseball, says Deseronto Post. It was all a dream of some person who had a sharp pencil, some blank paper and no ideas to work on. The only sport we will have in this town for the time being will be a little penny ante on the side and a lot of fishing when the time comes.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS
KIDNEY DISEASE
BACKACHE
RHEUMATISM
1067 THE PROPRIETORS

THEY ARE HERE NOW!

SEEING IS BELIEVING

NEW MODELS

THE LOWEST PRICED
3-WINDOW 4-DOOR SEDAN

Delivered Belleville

$875.00

FULLY EQUIPPED including
LICENSE, SPARE TIRE AND TIRE COVER

FULL - SIZE
PLYMOUTH

The Size of a "Six" at the Price of a "Four"

BELLEVILLE MOTORS

Pinnacle Street -- Next to Hotel Quinte

FILE LISTS FOR LOCAL REUNION

Citizens Urged to Send In Names to Hope McGinnis, Secretary

In a little over three months Belleville will be celebrating another Old Boys' Reunion, and in that time there is a tremendous amount of work to be done. The committee have been working hard but co-operation must be loaned if the event is to be a success. It is necessary to have a large invitation list prepared and citizens are urged to send the names to Hope McGinnis at the police court buildings. He has already fifteen hundred collected but the names and addresses of hundreds of others are not included, simply because relatives and friends have not forwarded the names of former Bellevillans. The Committee are anxious that every former resident should receive an invitation whether they can be present or not. An unique advertisement has been screened at the Belle Theatre for some days past and Mr. McGinnis is more than having results. It is imperative that all lists and addresses be submitted as early as possible. Send them in to Hope McGinnis, police court buildings.

OBITUARY

WILLIAM JOYCE

Napanee, April 25—After an illness of quite a lengthy duration there passed away one of the best known residents in the person of Mr. William Joyce at the age of seventy-four years. In November of last year deceased suffered a stroke and was confined to his bed for some time.

His death occurred on his birthday anniversary. The late Mr. Joyce was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Joyce and was born in the township of North Fredericksburg and for many years pursued farming. About twenty years ago he and Mrs. Joyce moved to Napanee and had made their home on Bridge street. The deceased was exceptionally well known and highly esteemed and his passing was learned with much regret by his friends. The past summer he assisted his brother J. M. Joyce at the McColl Frontenac service station on Dundas street. He was a Conservative in politics and a member of Grace United Church.

Arabian horses are of two types, the Kadischi, whose origin is unknown, and the Kochlani, of which genealogies exist dating back for 2,000 years.

THE ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER

THE DAILY ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER is published every afternoon (Sunday and holidays excepted) at The Ontario Intelligencer Building, Front Street.

RATES—DAILY EDITION:

Year, delivered in city	$7.00
Year, by mail to rural offices	5.00
Year, to U.S.A.	5.50

Toronto Representative—D. O. McKinnon, 41 Victoria Street

W. H. MORTON, Publisher

MYTHOLOGY AND TRUTH

Dragons have played a great part in the folklore of the world. Even Saint George who was celebrated by Englishmen everywhere throughout the world owes part of his fame to the crushing of the fabulous dragon.

Such stories, while not quite fairy stories, are somewhat in that category. Dragon stories have a truth underlying them. This story of St. George paints chivalry and paints the battle of good against evil. A writer in the Montreal Gazette says:-

"The dragon is the emblem of evil. The gallant knight, piercing this scaly monster with his spear, is the emblem of chivalrous aid and the victory of truth and justice. Perchance the original interpretation was simply that of springtime mastering wintry dark, and its gloomy rigors. The good knight saved 'Sylene' —the moon? But the legend gathered new and deeper meanings along with the deeper developments of human history. The very name 'George' signifies 'the earth-worker'. Herein is a large discourse in briefest style. As Prof. Max Muller justly says, 'Every' true etymology touches some salient truth. We have come to recognize in the St. George tradition the heroic theme which runs through the best of English poetry, and sums up the finest ideals of human life. Let us hope the first essay of this legend finds its continuance and appropriate climax in the manly smiting of all dragon-like evils which have been and are the plague of our humanity."

FILTRATION TENDERS

The large number of tenders on the filtration plant which Belleville will have constructed this year indicates the calibre of the engineers who have been called in consultation and who prepared the plans and specifications for the work. The fact that Messrs. Gore, Nasmith and Storrie are engineers on the undertaking has brought the keenest competition on the work.

Competition means getting the best in construction. Belleville is building its filter once and in a world in which science is progressing steadily, it is desirable that the best and latest ideas go into the plant. The city's policy in this regard has been substantiated by the many contractors seeking the award to build.

TRIBUTE TO DR. BRIDGES

The New York Times pays a fine tribute to the work of the late poet laureate of England Dr. Robert Bridges. Particular reference is made to his swan song "The Testament of Beauty." The writer says:-

"The English-speaking world must be glad that he lived to complete the "Testament of Beauty," which lifts English literature to a parity with that of its Golden Age. Complaints or critics who would have had him break forth into verse on every occasion are quieted by the rare beauty and sublimity of the crowning verses in which late in his long journey, when he had climb 'to where the path was narrowing, and the company few,' he looks out as enthralled as a child upon a landscape mapped at his feet but estranged by the new light upon it.

"From this 'summit of his years' he brings into a unity the whole history of man in his striving toward beauty, which is 'the prime motive of all his excellence, his aim and peaceful purpose.' Through many hundred pages 'Self-hood' and 'Breed', as the stoeds in Plato's familiar figure, course under the rein of 'Reason' and reach an indwelling oneness in 'earthly comradeships' which have that in them which provokes desire to surmount their humanity and ultimate perfection. The closing verses of an earlier prose essay which found in such desire itself the only assurance and evidence of unseen things and of conscious immortality.

"Beauty has not written her testimony in more persuasive philosophy or in more enticing phrase. Science has made its contributions of fact that have furnished new languages in which to present the movements and moods of human life: and Nature ever teaches man by beauty, though he often wonders why Nature, being so 'inexhaustible of beauty,' should not be 'all beauteous.' Only a poet with such severe scientific training could have brought so much wisdom out of plant and bird, of bee and bear, of atom, nerve and sense, and with a bold philosophy and adorn its lines. Even the machines of great factories become 'amicable monsters.'

"It is the poet's function to fill with all lands and all times and their gifts to the unity and beauty of the epic story which most astound and hold one. Here Persia, China and Babylon 'put forth their bloom,' the Nile guides 'its ribbon oases' through the Libyan sands. The 'languorous isles' of Hawaii and Samoa are also in his geography, along with flowery Carmel and 'far Pasadena's roseland.' And even the hangars of modern airships have furnished 'dream-sheds' for Shakespeare's golden sonnets that 'swim like gondolas in the wake of his dramas.'

"Of Dr. Bridge's long life one need not speak, except again to express gratitude that it was not shorter and that he found at the end of it such a sunset as that which he himself described for the Almighty's 'hour of beauty.' when the setting sun

Squandereth his cloudy bed with rosy hues, to flood

His loved works as in turn he biddeth them good-night,

And all the towers and temples and mansions of men

Face him in bright farewell, ere they creep from their pomp

Naked beneath the darkness.

"He made glorious his laureateship in taking leave of it and set a stately standard for his successors."

SIDELIGHTS

THE WOODSMAN

By Aline Michaelis

He has learned much from each leafy way,
Where merrily light and shadow play;
Meaning of footprints and whirring wings,
Calls of feathered and furry things;
Warning of storm in the swallows' flight,
Message of rainbow as fall of night,
All this, and more,
In the Woodsman's lore.
Slow and chary of speech is he,
Straight as his brother, the great pine tree.
Keen of eye, sun-tan and scarred all with,
Tree-taught in patience and forsees skill.
He has learned trust in those shadowed ways,
Wherein the rustle of leaves is a murmur of praise;
Boughs of aspen and birch
Roof the woodman's church.
Willow and oak,
They are forest folk.
And like man to man and brother of all with
With the woodsman's clan.

• • •

BELLEVILLE'S PARKING PROBLEM is the problem of the nation. The big cities have been struggling with it for some time without reaching a satisfactory solution and Belleville has wrestled mightily with the problem without getting anywhere particularly. The Mayor now suggests that the business men walk to work and leave more parking space for customers on the main drag which looks like a good suggestion, and if the merchants decide that their walking to work will bring more business they will no doubt leave the cars to hum.

• • •

MORE THAN $260,000,000 was expended in advertising in the United States last year, according to estimates, and this year the expenditure will be larger. This is in national advertising which has developed many great business enterprises out of small concerns and made business good for business large and small in all lines. Advertising creates demand, increases turnover, reduces losses and invested capital. Merchandising has walked hand in hand with advertising and made shopkeeping and salesmanship easy. Do you remember when the grocer's lad labored mightily to dig out twenty pounds of muscavado sugar from a barrel where it was wedged like cement to get your dollar; also salt, while salt herring and salt pork were salvaged with hooks and knives and created sore hands with salt and brine. Now we have the attractive package which helps sell itself and handsome scales which show the weight to the customer, while cash registers and other equipment make quick change and a thank you receipt. Advertising has placed business on a high level and made for quality and service, and advertising has not reached its peak yet by any means.

• • •

WILL OSBORNE, entertainer, who is suing Rudee Valee for one hundred thousand dollars, more or less, for alleged infringements upon his crooning singing, has written a song which he calls "Sleepy Vallee" dedicated to his former pupil.

• • •

NO HOG

Have you anything to say, prisoner, before I pass sentence?" asked the judge.

"No, your Honor—except that it takes very little to please me."—Boston Transcript.

• • •

AGRICULTURAL BOOM

A young Mississippi farmer who is only twenty years old has discovered how to make farming pay. His successful method was to elope with an heiress.—Life.

• • •

AW! BE YOURSELF!

It's just more fun than anything to tell a stranger over the phone that you are out, but that if he has a message for you, you will take it and give it to yourself when you return.—Life.

• • •

SEEING DOUBLE

Judge—"What brought you here?"
Accused—"Two policemen."
Judge—"I don't mean that — drunk, I presume?"
Accused—"Both of them."—Lustige Blaetter (Berlin).

• • •

MODERN ETIQUETTE

Q.—May one ask a neighbor to be less noisy, when in a public place?
A.—Yes, if done politely.
Q.—Do women shake hands with each other when introduced?
A.—No.
Q.—What should one wear to dinner when on a large steamer?
A.—The ladies should wear dinner dresses, without hats. It is never correct to put on a formal evening dress. The men may wear dinner coats, but never the tail-coat when on ship board.

Has Told 100 People Of It

MRS. N. C. PIRRIE

"When I started taking Gargon I was hopeless. My knees were swollen twice their normal size and I suffered torture with rheumatic pains. I could hardly walk up a flight of stairs or get on or off a street car. Everything I ate disagreed with me; my kidneys were over-active, and no medicine I took gave me lasting relief. Sargon reduced the swelling in my knees to where it is hardly noticeable, the rheumatic pains are practically gone and my digestion is perfect. My eidneys seem all right, my sleep is undisturbed and I get up mornings as fresh and strong as a robust girl. Even the busiest day doesn't faz me out now."—Mrs. N. C. Pirrie, 58 Rose Hill Ave., Toronto.

Sargon is obtainable in Belleville at Dolan the Druggist, Front Street.

Frankford

Frankford, April 24 (By Mail)—Mr. C. Bull of Trenton spent Thursday with his mother, Mrs. Bull, here.

Mrs. A. Potter of Trenton spent a day recently with Mrs. M. Broadworth.

Mrs. M. McKee has returned home after spending some time with her brother Mr. O. F. Carlisle at Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Slingerland has returned home after spending a few days in Toronto withe relatives.

Mrs. W. J. Bush spent Tuesday the guest of Mrs. O. E. Sine.

Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Simmons of Tamba were recent guests of the former's mother, Mrs. Laura Simmons.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Carlisle of Glen Ross were recent guests at their son's Mr. Albert Carlisle.

Mr. Delbert Badgley of Toronto spent the week end with his parents Mr. and Mrs. C. Badgley.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Gassin of Smithfield were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Spencer recently.

Mrs. Annie Rose spent a day in town last week.

Reeve G. W. Arnott is able to be around again, after his accident, although Mr. Arnott is still suffering from a sore leg.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Johnson and Eleanor were recent visitors at Smith Field at the home of Mrs. Jas. Herman.

The Easter Cantata, held Sunday evening in the United Church, entitled "The Risen Crowned King" by Dalton, was much enjoyed by everyone.

The participants have much to be congratulated on, as the manner they put the Cantata on went to show that they have worked long and hard to make is a success.

Little Don Nicolson who underwent an operation on his tonsils and adenoids on Tuesday in Belleville Hospital is doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Sine spent the holidays with the former's mother, Mrs. O. W. Sine and other relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Potter, Mr. and Mrs. H. Rose, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. R. Haggerty at Niles Corners.

Mr. and Mrs. A Bolder of Prince Edward were recent guests at Mr. Elgie Moynes.

Mr. and Mrs. K. Tomkins and children of Trenton were week end visitors at the latter's parents Mr. and Mrs. G. Wessels.

Miss L. Browne of Winchester is the guest of her aunt Mrs. W. N. Simmons.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Benedict of Stirling spent the tea hour on Sunday with the latter's mother, Mrs. W. E. Windover.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Brown of Trenton spent Sunday with their daughter and husband Mr. and Mrs. Ross Nicolson.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Ostrander and Donna spent Sunday at Mr. L. Hanna's.

Mr. J. O. Kerry of the Canadian Paperboard Co., was in town on Monday.

Mrs. Jno. Casement is on the sick list again. Friends wish a speedy recovery.

Don G. Bleecker Succumbs

(Continued From Page One)

in the public schools of the city and later attended Albert College, where he graduated. Entering the drug business as a profession, he served his apprenticeship with L. W. Yeomans, proprietor of one of the oldest drug houses in Canada at that time. Later he graduated from the School of Pharmacy in Toronto and afterwards spent three years and one half in the large establishment of the Parke Davis Company of Detroit, as manager of the department. He returned to his former employer in 1904 and later purchased the drug business of Alex Ray and continued the business until his demise.

Civic Service

Not alone in the business world was Don Bleecker well known. He took a keen interest in all matters pertaining to civic enterprise and for many years served as a member of the Board of Education for Coleman Ward and was such at the time of death. He brought to the board a keen insight as to the needs of scholars and was chairman for King George School for some time. His help was invaluable when the new Collegiate Institute was being erected. He was an ex-alderman serving in 1911 and he took a keen interest in the work of the City Council and was well versed on all municipal matters. His love for the great outdoors prompted him to donate to the Park Association League of Hastings a part of the Bleecker property on the Foxboro high way, where a section has been founded, and he spent much of his time trampling through the woods in communion with nature. He was an admirer of good horses—and on the farm were many of the fine blooded stock.

The social life of the city appealed to him and he was seen at many functions and his ready smile and cheery disposition was at all times apparent. He was philanthropic and many acts of kindness were performed without those helped knowing from where the help came. He took a keen interest in fraternal affairs and was prominent in masonic circles. He was a past master of Moira Lodge No. 11 A.F. & A.M. and also a past first principal of Moira Chapter No. 7 R.A.M. He was made a mason in the year later in the same lodge as his great grandfather, Squire Bleecker who was a staunch Liberal. His interest was made in 1904. He was also Past in the U.E.L. Society of Toronto, was Worthy Patron of the Order of unbounded and he was a valued mem-Eastern Star. He was a member ber. Left to mourn his loss is one of Bridge Street United Church and sister, Ella at home and two half a regular attendant. In politics he brothers, William Bleecker of Belleshared with his father and was a ville, and Benjamin Bleecker of Sidney.

Week End Specials

Dimity Frocks

Fine Dimity, Lawn and Voile Frocks, are offered in very dainty styles, in this lot. Some are short sleeved or sleeveless, in printed designs, in dots or flower effects. Sizes 14 to 20 only. 2.95
Special Value .....

Full-Fashioned Hose

Good Spring shades in Full Fashioned Hose. In a very fine quality of rayon, in all sizes. 98c
A limited quantity, at .....

WHITE GLOVES

Good qualities of white Silk Gloves, in broken ranges, but sizes from 5-1-2 to 7 1-2 in the lot. To clear, at 59c

PRINT

Best quality Canadian Print, in light and dark patterns. For aprons, house dresses, comforter sets. 29c
A bargain .....

TEA TOWELS

Fine qualities of Linen Towels, in checks and fancy patterns, in various colors. Special value— 19c 3 for 50c

UMBRELLAS

Spring showers call for these Umbrellas, in fast navy, and green. Very low in price. 1.29

TOWELLING

One of the finest values in Linen Towellings offered in a long time. 20 ins. wide with a wide hand border, in blue, rose, mauve and green. 29c

TRIANGLE SCARVES

Bright colorings, in basket designs, on a good quality flat crepe. Just a few, priced to clear 1.29

SINCLAIR'S

Why 1,400

Big Business Concerns Use Fleets of 5 to Over 1,000 REO SPEED WAGONS

Model "DA" 1-Ton Reo Speed Wagon

. . . Here's the Reason!

TO meet today's intensive competition, trucks must perform two important functions: (1) Reduce distribution costs. (2) Increase business.*

Low Distribution Cost

Thousands of truck-wise operators have learned in the costly school of experience, that low distribution cost is the result of moderate first cost of truck; economical operation and low depreciation because of long life. Many trucks offer one, some even two, of these low cost factors. However, a Reo Speed Wagon is the one truck that fulfills all of these requirements.

Speed Wagon prices are moderate—lower even than the price of many short-lived, less economical trucks. Any Reo dealer will be glad to furnish you with facts and figures on their low operating cost.

The long life of Reo Speed Wagons is a matter of official record. Scores show mileages of 200,000 miles or more. Hundreds have passed the 100,000-mile mark. Thousands of Speed Wagons are already on their way to even higher records.

Thus Speed Wagons undoubtedly offer lower distribution cost to truck operators than any other truck in the field today.

Increasing Revenue

The faster the run, the greater the profit—particularly in those days of keen competition. Speed Wagons bring to trucking the speed and agility of a roadster. They speed up time schedules. Increase the number of stops and starts for sales, in a given space of time. Because of their speed they make it possible for you to secure and hold additional business in larger territory. This results in increased business and greater revenue.

Consider, too, this important factor in increasing revenue: Your trucks are moving billboards advertising your business to the community. Their appearance says to thousands of people every day, "A first-class business" or "A second-class business."

Realizing the tremendous advertising prestige—particularly in these days of keen competition, Speed Wagons bring to trucking the speed and agility of a roadster. They speed up time schedules. Increase the number of stops and starts for sales, in a given space of time. Because of their speed they make it possible for you to secure and hold additional business in larger territory. This results in increased business and greater revenue.

There is a Speed Wagon for every hauling need, capable of cutting your distribution costs and increasing your business. Wheelbase sizes up to 210"; capacities, with trailer, up to 15,000 pounds.

REO MOTOR CAR CO., Lansing, Mich.

REO SPEED WAGON

ASELSTINE & SONS

40 Moira Street, East - Belleville
Phone 229

McIntosh Bros.

Little Boys' Serge KNICKERS
Navy Serge Knickers, made with button holes for attaching to child's waist, for children to 7 years.—Pr. 50c

Silk CARRIAGE COVER
Embroidered or Printed Silk Designs. Pink or blue. Reg. 1.49 and 1.69 Clearing, at 1.00

LADIES' RAYON HOSE
Ladies' Rayon Silk Hose, in shades of black, suntan, allure, mystery, flesh, hoggar, pearl blush, evenglow, dove grey, champagne, Lt. gunmetal, white sesan, and moonlight. Special—Pair 50c

Misses' PULLOVER SWEATERS
Pure Wool in shades of sand and grey. Finished with wide stripe around waist. Sizes up to 14 years. Special ... 1.00

Children's Tweed REEFER COATS
In fawn and brown coats, in sizes 2 to 6 yrs. mixtures. Well made Special. at 4.59

LADIES' GINGHAM DRESSES
Good Quality Gingham Dresses, in sizes, small, medium and large. Short sleeve style. Very Special—Each 59c

McIntosh Bros.

Earle & Cook Co.

Sale of Ladies' Coats
Saturday and Monday

We place on Sale Ladies' Coats in Newest Spring Styles, in Fancy Tweed, Tricotine and Poiret Twill, at Greatly Reduced Prices.

LADIES' COATS $9.95—On Sale at .... $ 7.79
LADIES' COATS $14.95—On Sale at $11.95
LADIES' COATS $19.95—On Sale at $13.95
LADIES' COATS $25.00—On Sale at $17.95

A REAL BARGAIN
50 Cent VALUE FOR 25 CENTS
One Full Size Cake Woodbury's Facial Soap—
A 25 Cent Tube Woodbury's Facial Cream—
—Both for 25 Cents.

Have you tried Sanitone? Wall Finish superior to ordinary paint or wall paper. Washable.
Ask About It!

Geen's Drug Store
Films, Developing and Printing
Phone 131. We Deliver.

FLANES AT MOHAWK

Two planes of the R.C.A.F. are stationed at Mohawk plains, says the Deseronto Post. The fliers are carrying on photographic work which was not completed last year.

DELANEY

Furs
FOR COOL DAYS!
FOR COOLER NIGHTS!
Be smart—yet comfortable! We have furs for every occasion.
If you wish your own individual style of garment, we will make it to order.
Always at Your Service!
EXCLUSIVE FURRIER
17 Campbell St.
PHONE 797

Centre

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Pymer and Ruth of Mt. View also Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Pulver and H. Delong visited at Herbert Pulver's on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Spencer and Donald attended the funeral of Mrs. (Dr.) Preston of Trenton on Wednesday.

Several from this neighborhood attended the township S. S. Convention at Marysburgh on Monday.

Redonsville Community Hand entertained their lady friends, wives and mothers to a "sugar feed" at Mr. Ray Robbins on Saturday night.

Mr. E. Trompour of Bellevile spent the week end with Wice Fox and fam ily.

TARBOX
Chemically Treated
Dust Mops
Reg. $1.50
$1.29
Special Price for One Week
Phone 105
OSTROMS
The Best in Drugs

TRENTON AND DISTRICT

Apple Growers Have Share In Spray Service

Each Applicant Must Possess Suitable Spraying Outfit

Stirling, Ont., April 25 (Special by Staff Reporter)—Apple growers of Hastings County are again included in the Provincial Spray service. This service locally will be chiefly under the direction of Mr. J. Wilson, Agricultural Representative at Stirling, and Mr. Webster of Brighton, who has been appointed Field man to observe the special needs of orchard sts in this district.

Under the rules and regulations for the spray service, each applicant must have a suitable spray outfit in good working condition at spraying time he must have spray materials and he must have an adequate water supply. In addition, he must agree to spray his orchard at the time advised by the Spray supervisor. Circular letters will be sent out just previous to each spray to each grower in the district. These letters will give details of the spray to use to secure fruit free from apple scab and any other insect or fungus injury. This service is being continued in all the important apple growing counties of the province and in the immediate counties of Northumberland and Prince Edward. Growers are urged to send in their applications at once.

Cheese Factories Now Operating

Foxboro, April 25 (Special by Staff Reporter)-Although most of the cheese factories in this district will not commence operations until the first of May, one or two are already making. The Evergreen factory started for the first time this year last Tuesday, while others are said to be running every other day. The Foxboro Factory is not yet opened, nor is Stirling, Rogers, nor Consecon. The majority have not yet finished their repair and renovation work, but once the milk starts flowing, about the first of May, every cheese factory in this district, which is noted for its cheese, will be running full blast.

Invitations Sent Out for Reunion

Stirling, Ont., April 25—(Special by Staff Reporter)—Invitations are being sent out to over fifteen hundred Stirling Old Boys for the reunion which is being held here from June 29th to July 1st, according to the Invitation Committee. This event promises to be one of the biggest and best of the whole summer, and preparations are under way to make it so. The Committee wishes it to be known however, that they may have missed some of the Old Boys and Girls, so anyone having a list of names should send them in at once.

Liniment. Keep it always handy. Relieves toothache, neuralgia, sore throat, quinsy, and croup. Invaluable for burns, sores, Barber's Itch and Ringworm.

Cliff Edwards, Marion Shilling, Charles Raley and Rita Flynn in a scene from "Lord Byron of Broadway" a fascinating story and beautiful Romance studded with tuneful song hits, laughs, drama, and gorgeous Technicolor ballets, commencing at the Belle Theatre tomorrow, matinee daily, with a Charley Chase Talkome dy, Graham McNamee Newsreeling and a superior screen Vaudeville off ering.

Bowling Club Name Officials

Stirling Ladies Looking Forward to a Successful Season

Stirling, Ont., April 25—(Special by Staff Reporter)—At a meeting held last night here of the Stirling Ladies Lawn Bowling Club, Mrs. W. J. Whitly was elected president for the ensuing year. Other officers elected were Mrs. James Lagrow, vice president, Mrs. R. W. Meiklejohn, secretary and Mrs. Ross Coulter, Treasurer. The entertainment committee consists of Mrs. Walter Wright, Miss Weseott and Mrs. W. J. Whitly, while the auditors are Mrs. George Lagrow and Miss Wescott. Ladies fees for the year will be three dollars each, and it is expected about the 24th of May, as successful that the season will officially open work is being done on the greens at present. A most successful season is being looked forward to.

Laying Out New Baseball Field

(Special by Staff Reporter)
TRENTON, Ont., April 25.—The C.P.R. Recreation field is a busy place these days as three teams and nine or ten men work in an endeavour to have it ready for the opening ball game in the Bay of Quinte League, scheduled for Trenton on May 14th. Although it is expected that the diamond will be ready for that date, there will not be much time for the team to practise there, it is feared. A considerable amount of filling in remains to be done in the outfield, while some levelling off behind home plate will also have to be done. When completed, the field will rival any in the league for roorviness and smoothness, it is expected.

No Rest With Asthma. Asthma usually attacks at night, the one time when rest is needed most. Hence the loss of strength, the nervous debility, the loss of flesh and other evils which must be expected unless relief is secured. Fortunately relief is possible. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy has proved its merits through years of service. A trial will surely convince you.

It has been estimated that there are over 10,000 manufacturers in Canada.

Well Baby Clinic Held at Trenton

(Special by Staff Reporter)
TRENTON, Ont., April 25.—Another Well Baby Clinic was held in the Town Hall here yesterday afternoon, and despite the cold and disagreeable weather, a large number of youngsters were present along with their mothers. Nurse Haslam, of the Victorian Order of Nurses at Trenton, was in charge. Each baby is weighed and an accurate check on his weight each week, and in this manner every child is well looked after. In addition to the careful looking after of the babies, the mothers are served with afternoon tea while waiting for their offspring to be looked at by the nurse in charge and her assistant.

Cooperage Mill Resumes Work

(Special by Staff Reporter)
TRENTON, Ont., April 25.— The Trenton Cooperage Mills resumed work in their main plant yesterday morning for the first time this year, about thirty five men being taken on. The plant will now operate until cold weather sets in next winter, when the men who wish to go will be taken back to the bush for the winter where they will get the timber out which is used by the Cocperage plant. The men who returned from the bush about three weeks ago and have been idle in the meantime, were of course given the first opportunity to return to work in the mills when they re-opened yesterday.

Public School Principal Quits

Stirling, Ont., April 25 (Special by Staff Reporter)—Mr. H. A. Jackson, principal of the Stirling Public School for the past several years, has resigned his position and Mr. Francis L. Shortt former principal of the Moscow Public School, will take his place when school opens after the Easter holidays. Moscow is several miles north of Kingston, and the new principal comes to this town with a fine reputation as a teacher. Mr. Jackson has not stated where he will be teaching as yet.

MIXED FARMING CURE FOR ILLS OF W. CANADA

Mayor Reid Gives His Views on Western Farming, and What Is Needed

How Western Canada may recover from her present slump in prosperity was clearly put before the directors of the Chamber of Commerce of this city on Thursday by Mayor George A. Reid at the regular luncheon held in the Chamber rooms.

"In my opinion," he said, "the way for better conditions to prevail in the west is for the farmers to take up mixed farming again. A few years ago when they indulged in mixed farming, they were really prosperous and if they want that prosperity back again they had better revert to the cider type of farming."

The wheat pool came in for some discussion. The farmers, in Mr. Reid's opinion, do wrong to criticize the government for the present wheat conditions. They could have sold their wheat for $1.58 a bushel at one time, but they preferred to pool it and try to get $2.00 a bushel. Now the best they can do is a little over a dollar per bushel. In Mr. Reid's opinion the government is not to be blamed for those conditions, but rather the farmers themselves.

Too Wide Boundaries

Smaller western towns and cities, too, in His Worship's opinion, have made the mistake of spreading the limits of the corporation over too large a space creating considerable trouble. However Mayor Reid could not speak too highly of the splendid hospitality shown to his wife and himself and his fellow members of the Great West Life Insurance Company on the tour of western Canada.

The Mayor's description of the trip was decidedly interesting. He praised Victoria, Vancouver, Winnipeg and Saskatoon, highly, and the Chambers of Commerce and Boards of Trade in every town in the west that was visited were hard-working, conscientious organizations. "We should be more aggressive in our Chamber of Commerce work here," he said. "We should have practically every merchant in town interested."

TELL JUST WHY SHE RECOMMENDS THEM

Ontario Lady Found Relief In Dodd's Kidney Pills

Mrs. Wm. Brown Suffered With Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Hamilton, Ont., April 21 (Special)—"I was troubled with Kidney and Bladder trouble," states Mrs. Wm. Brown, 147 Strathcona Ave., Hamilton, Ont. "I had tried a lot of medicines but without avail. I finally tried Dodd's Kidney Pills and to my great joy my Kidneys are in real good shape. I feel so much better now. I keep a box in the house all the time. I would not be without them. I recommend them to all my friends."

There are many symptoms which point directly to kidney disease and warn you of serious danger ahead. Backache, deposits in urine, headaches and aching limbs, harsh dry skin, itching skin and loss of flesh and weight. To their direct action on the kidneys is due the wonderful success of Dodd's Kidney Pills as a relief for diseases of the kidneys.

MOTORBOAT SOLD

Deseronto, April 25—The motor boat Donald, the pride of the late Tom Naylor, was sold this week to J. A. Dyment and son who will set out to learn the vagaries of the Bay of Quinte.

YOU'LL wonder how Firestone could build better tires—but here they are—more tread value—more non-skid life—think of it! Deeper, quicker action tread—more contact with the road—more rubber between the plies. Stronger, tougher, safer tires than ever before.

These rugged, longer-wearing Firestone tires cost no more than the ordinary. Only in them do you receive the extra benefits of the Gum-Dipping process which eliminates internal friction and heat—the greatest enemy to tire life. Specify Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires on your new car or make your present car a better one with Firestones. See your nearest Firestone Dealer.

Tune in the "Voice of Firestone" Monday Night, 9 to 9:30 Eastern Time, C.S.C.O.P. Toronto and 16 Stations N.B.C. Network

Firestone
GUM-DIPPED TIRES

All Sizes of Firestone Gum Dipped Tires and Circular Molded Tubes in Stock

LIBERAL ALLOWANCE MADE ON YOUR OLD TIRES ON A NEW SET OF FIRESTONE GUM-DIPPED TIRES.

VULCANIZING AND RE-TREADING OUR SPECIALTY

We Pick Up and Deliver at Any Time—Anywhere Service Truck at your Service

— CALL—
GEO. DELINE
For Complete Firestone Service

PURE ICE
—delivered at your door or in your refrigerator.
Courteous, Prompt Service
HARRY SMITH
Phone 697

JAMIESON BONE & COMPANY
Orders executed on leading stock exchanges. Full Quotation and Bulletin Service on Winnipeg Quotations and Bulletin Service on Winnipeg and Chicago Grain.

Stock Brokers

Office and Board Room, Chamber of Commerce Bldg. BELLEVILLE	Direct Private Wires. Telephones 1364, 1365, 1366

THOMPSON FUNERAL SERVICE
Our policy of lower priced Funerals continues indefinitely
UNEXCELLED SERVICE
Thomas C. Thompson
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
288 Front Street. Phone 62
Private Funeral Parlor. Night 1313

IMLAH & ARMSTRONG
MANAGERS BELLEVILLE BURIAL CO.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
14 CAMPBELL STREET, BELLEVILLE
Day Phone 716 Night Phone 1373 and 781

1929
HUDSON SEDAN — 5 Wire wheels. Brand new set of Tires. $1250

1929
ESSEX COACH — Run less than 5,000 miles, just nicely broken in. $525

1926
BUICK COACH— Standard six, new tires. Have a drive in this car. $475

1929
CHEVROLET COACH — A splendid condition in every respect. $425

1928
Model 50
CHRYSLER SEDAN — A wonderful car at this price. $550

1929
ESSEX TOURING SEDAN—For performance, and reliability see this car and the condition it is in. $895

EASY TERMS YOUR CAR ACCEPTED AS PART PAYMENT
J. B. BOYCE
PHONE 704

1927
DODGE SEDAN — Small mileage, original finish in first class condition in every way. $550

5—1926
ESSEX COACHES — All in good running order, let us buys at these prices, from— $250 to $325

1924
CHEVROLET COUPE. — Why walk to work, when you can get a car at this price, in running order? $65

1928 STANDARD
ESSEX COACH — Run less than 10,000 miles. A real family car. $495

1929
ESSEX COACH — Has Timed Ignition in this motor first class. $350

1926
ESSEX 4-CYLINDER — Is in first class condition. $250

PRIZE WINNERS RECIEVE AWARDS WINTER MATCHES

Walter Knox Olympic Coach Stresses Outdoor Sports

THE CLEAN LIFE

During the past year the local Y.M.C.A. has been remarkably active in all its branches of sport, and the successful efforts of its members were last night rewarded by presentations of trophies and prizes won during the past twelve months. Over 150 guests were present at the annual affair which opened with a splendid banquet at 6.30, arranged by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y.M.C.A. During the supper the guests were entertained with a fine musical program including a duet by Messrs. Jack Marsh and Percy Cole, a piano solo by Mr. Alex. Gordon and a vocal solo by Mr. Frank Hitchon. Mr. N. J. Wray capably performed the duties of chairman for the evening, Mr. Alex. Gordon and Jack Marsh were pianists and Percy Cole led in the singing.

After doing full justice to the fine banquet, Mr. Robert Wray chairman, spoke a few words of welcome to the gathering, expressing his pleasure at seeing such a large number at this important annual event. Mr. Short, secretary of the Y.M.C.A., introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr. Walter Knox of Toronto, chief coach on the Ontario Amateur Athletic Union and trainer of Olympic athletes.

Outdoor Sports

Mr. Knox in his short talk emphasized the importance of exercise and the necessity of fresh air. "Interest the boys and girls in outside sports" said the speaker, "and they will reap the benefits later life." Sunshine and fresh air the speaker said, are the finest doctors in the world, bringing with them a strong healthy body, with out which life is an unhappy affair.

The speaker had with him interesting moving pictures illustrating the correct form in sports. Before showing these pictures to his audience, Mr. Knox explained that they were made by the Ontario government for the purpose of stimulating sports all through the country, for the ultimate purpose of building up Olympic stars. When the pictures were first made a few years ago the annual meets from all over the province were attended by small numbers, never exceeding 150. Now the provincial meets have from 500 to 650 boys competing for honours.

"You may ask how the commission carries on its work and where the funds for it's carrying on of this work come from," said Mr. Knox. He answered this question by stating that the work comes under the Board of Health and that the gate receipts from professional boxing and wrestling, supplied the money for the work. Part of funds collected from these professional bouts are paid in to the different schools, and in this way the work is carried on independently. The commission specializes in track and field athletics because both these branches of sport train the boy to act independently and to do the work allotted to him on his own initiative.

The Clean Life

"I have been connected with athletics and athletes since ten years of age," said Mr. Knox, "and I am now reaping the benefit of their healthful influence. I am 52 years of age, but I can still compete with many of Canada's outstanding young champions." This point will illustrate to you," continued Mr. Knox, "the reserve health you can build up by taking up some form of sport in your youth." Mr. Knox concluded his interesting talk by urging the young boys and girls present to lead a clean, healthy life, keeping regular hours, and above all, interesting themselves as much as possible in some form of outside exercise.

At the conclusion he proceeded to show the two moving pictures which he had brought with him. The first a comic sketch proved highly entertaining to the large audience, while the second gave some valuable information on the correct form of athletics.

Immediately after the pictures, presentations of awards were made to some 100 winners, in hockey, bowling, swimming track race relay races, hockey race and basketball. All presentations were made by director of the Y.M.C.A. and members of the Y's Men's Club, and all spoke highly of the merits of their respective trophy winners.

Presentations were made as follows:

Ice Hockey. Howard LaPain, President:—

(1) Champions of Bantam Section: Trophy—Presented by Walter Cerow, Chairman of Section:

Walter Gerow, Harry McCreary, Jack Pegum, George Elkes, Lawrence Chant, John Forrester, Edgar Muir, Billy Crowe Clare Ridley,—Pennant and Crests.

(2) Champions of Midget Section: Y. Juniors—by Reg. Monerief Chairman of Section:—

Jack Scott, Gordon Campbell, George Ostrom, James Andrews, Garnet Sinfield, Arthur Cole, Wilbur Countryman, Reginald Harris, Paul Dewhirst—Pennant and Crests.

(3) Champions of Juvenile Section: Presented by Ed. Shapiro, Chairman of Section:—

J. McGuire, J. Jarriage, E. Pointer, Ray Crawford, Robt. Crawford, Percy Hems, C. Goyer, C. Smith,—Cup and Crests.

(4) Champions of Junior Section: Presented by H. LaPain, Chairman of Section:—

Jack Caddick, Gerald Riggs, J. Faut, J. Keegan, E. Johnson, J. Potts, C. Cornell, W. Henn, N. Bawden.—Cup and Crests.

(5) Runners of Finals—by Ald. Geo. H. Griffin, Secy. of Kiwanis:—

Harold Wilkins, Ties. Jack Trualach, Chain.

Public School Champions: Y.M.C.A. Trophy—by B. F. Jellings, President:—

Pipe Band—Mr. Wilkins. Mr. Bateman.—Y.M.C.A. Cup.

BOWLING

Afternoon Leagues:

Teachers League—by Chairman, Robert Wray:—

C.S.D.—Mr. Melvin Blanchard, Mrs. M. Blanchard, Miss Burt, Miss Hesgle, Miss VanAllan, Mr. Lally, Mr. Stratton, Mr. Cunningham, Mr. Clare, Mr. Alec Gordon—Clocks.

Ladies—by George Ostrom:—

Crescents—Mrs. Rutherford, Mrs. White, Mrs. Hems, Mrs. Singer, Mrs. Clow.—5 Butter Dishes.

Ladies Afternoon Junior—by Wm. Tedman:—

Rovers—Miss Holway, Miss Bland, Mrs. Simmons, Mrs. Lauder, Mrs. Morgan, Mrs. Belnap.—6 Pepper and Salt.

High Singl—Mrs. Morgan—Compact.

High Three—Mrs. Belnap—Compact.

Evening Leagues—

Juniors—by J. E. Short:—

1. Ontarios—Reg. Hardwick, Bert Hardwick, Frank Lake, L. Mason, E. Barlow.—(Already received)

2. Peaches—Miss V. Wheeler, Miss Ford, Miss Whalen, Mrs. Belnap, Miss Holway—Clocks.

3. Maple Spillers—Mr. Bert Kelly, Mr. P. Lent, Mr. Paul, Mr. Goodfellow, Mr. Palmer, Mr. C. Sherry.—Clocks.

High Single—Reg. Hardwick—Smoking Tray.

High Three—Marjori; Lynch—Necklace.

Ladies Evening—by—A. Meagher—Prashles—Miss Peggy Burke, Miss Phyllis Burke, Miss Lucy Colden, Miss Mildred Graham, Miss Cleila Symons. —5 Compacts.

Men's Senior—by P. Houston:—

Rollers—J. Oster, J. Legault, J. E. Stone, J. Veres, Andy Kennedy.—Total $13.50, Each $2.72.

High Single—J. Beare 363—Pencil.

High Three—A. Meagher—Chain.

Tues. Ave. Bay Swim:—

Youngest Member—Kenneth Kellaway—Cup Y.M.C.A. by B. F. Jellings.

Juvenile—Jack Kidd—Cup by Mr. Greenleaf.

Ladies—Miss Janet Miles—Cup—Y's Mendy R. L. Brown.

Senior—Elmer LaBurr—Cup—Roy Al. Billman.

Junior—Joe Miles—Cup—Kiwanis by Joe Imlah.

Belleville Fair Races—by R. L. Brown.

(a) First in three-mile event—C. Barber, also York Township—5 mile, 6th, also Minor Business Men's mile 10th, also Victoria Relay Team, 2nd in Trenton-Belleville, also June 3rd—12 mile relay, also 1st. Picton Fair—2 mile relay.

(b) Victoria Club—Relay Teams:—1st. Belleville Fair Relay Race, 1st Picton Fair—2 mile relay, 2nd. Third June Belleville Y.M.C.A.

Picton Pair Events:—

Belleville Y.M.C.A. 3rd. Messrs. Ross; Shortt; Girling; Marshall.

Third June Races Belleville Y. M. C. A.:—

1. Peterboro Relay Team winners of Walker Trophy for Trenton to Belleville Relay. 2. Victoria Club.

3. Third, Trenton Boy Scouts, Messrs. Begin, Chalmers, Langabeer, Egan and Baker.

Bicycle Race:—

1st. Chalmers; 2nd. Murphy; 3rd Norris; 4th Vandervoort; 5th White.

Basketball—Y's Men, District Champions Ontario Int. Finalists:—

Elmer Walkers, Dave Davison, Parker Bennett, Angus McRae, Harold Buck, Jack Redfern, James Alexander, Victor White, Vernon Weir, Albert Armstrong, Arnold Bryant, Earl Evey.

Hockey—Y's Men, winners Rowsome Trophy by 12 Hanna and 2nd in City Industrial League.

Don Roe, Vern Hardy, Albert Armstrong, Harry Harris, Jeffrey, Alex Weir, Jack Trualach.

PAINTS
GLIDDEN'S
—ENDURANCE PAINT
—VARNISHES
—VARNISH STAIN
—QUICK DRYING LACQ
Assorted Sizes
McKEOWN'S
DRUG STORE

YES—SPRING'S COMING!

SO BETTER GET YOUR NEW SPRING SUIT AT
CHAS. J. SYMONS
MEN'S STORE

IF SKINNY, BEWARE, SAYS DOCTOR, GAIN QUICK

New Ironized Yeast Adds 5 to 15 Lbs. in 3 Weeks. Now Health. Strong Nerves—or No Cost.

"Skinny folks subject to many grave diseases," says an eminent physician whose book they lack reserve strength and may die.

"Don't run risk of dangerous diseases because you're thin. Now Ironized Yeast adds 5 to 15 lbs. in 3 weeks. Ends nervousness, constipation, indigestion overnight. Clears skin like magic. New pep, first day.

Two great tonics in one. Weight-building Malt Yeast and strengthening Iron. Far stronger than unmedicated yeast. Results in 10 days.

Get new health and weight quickly. Get pleasant tablets of Ironized Yeast from druggist today. Feel great tomorrow. If not delighted, manufacturer refunds your money.

Thieves in India are stealing and selling more than twice the amount of mica handled legitimately.

There are 5,000 unpublished writings connected with the life of Geo. Washington including his general orders.

Amateur Athletic Association Formed

The Belleville Amateur Athletic Association for which letters of patent were recently applied for was launched last night at an enthusiastic meeting held in the Chamber of Commerce. Believing that the meeting was only open for those of the Arena Directors many stayed away but it was clearly stated the association is for every sport lover in the city. Another meeting will be held in the city hall on Thursday of next week and it is expected that one of the largest gatherings of sport fans will take place. The meeting is open to everyone and the association has been formed to control sport under one head with chairmen and energetic committees controlling each branch. When the patent was applied for their sponsoring the project had in mind the fact of the removal of Camp Borden to the Trenton Airport and hoped by this association to incorporate that organization in the Belleville project.

R. C. Donahue, who has worked hard for the success of the Belleville Arena was instrumental in putting under way this association and he was honored by the unanimous choice last night. He explained the objects of the association and after the Board of Directors have formed the letters patent will be handed over to the new board. He distinctly made it plain that the directors of the Arena did not wish to have more than one representative on the new board as it was for the benefit of everybody to have in all the phases. A motion was passed setting the membership fee at $2.00 with Morley Duff appointed as temporary treasurer. Those present were asked to join the association and 38 were registered as members. At the next meeting a membership drive will be launched and it is to be hoped that every fan will join and have a voice in the affairs.

Another motion was passed that the Board of Directors of the new association should consist of seven and the meeting being then opened for nominations the following were proposed, John Ryan, Edward A. Thomas, Charles Cummings, Dr. Van Blaricom, Morley P. Duff, Arthur W. Pratt, Sanford R. Burrows, Gene Illsley, Joe Shortt and Dr. Chant. At first it was decided to ballot for the seven, but A. B. Collins was of the opinion it was not a representative meeting and there might be some nominated who would not care to act. Charles A. Payne moved that the vote be taken and the amendment was proposed by Mr. Collins that the meeting adjourn for a week in order that a'l nominated might be interviewed as to their accepting in case elected and the amendment carried.

The meeting adourned shortly after words. Mr. Donahue announced that Stan Burgoyne had been engaged as coach by the Belleville Arena and would be part of the branch of sport attached to the association under the chairmanship of that particular branch. After the directors have been elected each chairman will chose his committee and that committee will be personally responsible for that branch.

Lawrence Hockey League's teams.

The funeral will be held in Morrisburg on Saturday at 2.30.

Mallen Brother

Kenneth Mallen was a brother of Ray Mallen who formerly played base ball and hockey in Belleville. Sport fans here will know him still associated with Ray in the death of his brother.

MAJOR LEAGUE CLUBS HIT HARD

Unusual Number of Postponements is Close to Early Season Record

NEW YORK, April 25.— A second successive day of near freezing temperatures unusually caused the postponements of all but two of the eight scheduled major league baseball games and left the fans further along the road toward a record of some sort for early season postponements.

In the National League today only the St. Louis Cards and Chicago Cubs played their game at Chicago before only 3,000 shivering fans, while the Cincinnati Reds and Boston Braves entertained the Detroit Tigers in the only American League game, hardly reached the mark.

So far this season the Weatherman has been battling .334 against the two major leagues. Forty-three scheduled games have been scheduled and rain or cold has caused 15 of them to be postponed. The National League has had 19 out of 36, just one more than the total number scheduled. Only one day since the start, last Monday, has been without its share of postponements.

Ken Mallen, Old Hockeyist Dies

MORRISBURG, April 25.—Ken. R. Mallen, 45, veteran pro hockey player, died at his home here early from double pneumonia. Ken was associated during his career as professional hockey player with the world's most famous men and teams having played at various times with the Montreal "Wanderers" when they held the Stanley Cup, Calumet, Mich., and pro teams in Toronto, Quebec, Renfrew, Ottawa, New Westminster, Vancouver, Regina, Seattle and many others."

Among the players he in hockey with were Hod Stuart, Bruce Stuart, Joe Hall, Cyclone Taylor, Newsy Lalonde, Frank Nighbor and many others well known to the sporting world. Among the many important positions held by Ken were instructor of sports at the Ottawa Playgrounds, sports instructor at Lake Placid, N.Y., professional figure skater in London, Ont., and of late he was coach of the Morrisburg Maroons and Cardinal St.

CENTRAL LEAGUE MOGULS MUSTER HERE TOMORROW

Peterboro, a Doubtful Entry — Local Club Meets Tonight

Splendid prospects for the Central Ontario baseball league are manifested in the air. The annual meeting will be held tomorrow in the Y.M.C.A. here at 2.0 and from early indications the meeting will be composed of four teams as predicted. The Peterboro entry is a little doubtful and at a meeting held in the Lift Lock City last night a Committee was appointed to look into the situation. A representative will be sent to the baseball league meeting tomorrow and the delegates will request the officials to withhold Peterboro's official acceptance of a berth until Wednesday of next week. In the meantime the committee acting on behalf of the Peterboro club will look at the situation from every angle.

It was the opinion of the Peterboro men present that there was sufficient material at hand to form a strong senior team but the co-operation of the play ing and executive club managers was needed if the strongest team was to be put on the diamond

The committee were appointed a committee to interview the players and managers; "Shiner" Johnston, Bill Kay, Dooley Briggs, and Bill Sweetman. This committee will report back the success or failure at another public meeting on Monday night, and the decision to continue the senior team or not will be based entirely on this report.

The Belleville Club executive will hold a meeting of the executive tonight to appoint delegates to the Central league meeting. Other important matters will be discussed

The Kingston 21st Battalion Club have complete charge of the situation there while the Textiles of Oshawa will turn out a good team with many of last year's players still on deck.

WHAT DO YOU PREFER IN HAT STYLES?
Tastes vary—when it comes to choosing Hats. But on Quality, all Well-Dressed men are agreed. Whether you prefer the Welt-Brim, the Crusher or Homburg, our Models are Correct and Distinctive.
QUICK & ROBERTSON
CORRECT CLOTHING FOR MEN

Peterboro appears to be the one doubtful entry and it is to be hoped that supporters will rally to the support of the club and if they do, Central Ontario will have one of the best ball league in years.

Recreation Alleys

In the Men's Junior B. Group played at the Recreations last night Hardware No. 2 and Hardware No. 1 broke even with two points each. For Hardware No. 2, J. Doe was high with 709 and for the Hardware No. 1, A. Whalen was high with 277, 284, 275, total of 836.

In the Men's Senior League the Recreations took all four points from the Carthage Road bowling team in one game by the Recreation team. For the Recreations, Pat Drumm led his team with 782 for a three game. For the Carthage Club C. Young was high with 308. Next in line was P. Drumm with 305. For the Carthage J. Legault was high for his team with 301, 328, 265, total of 894. For the high single J. Legault was high with 365, next came E. Phillips with 331.

In the ladies' Afternoon League the Violets took all four points from the Lucky Strikes on the Violets Alleys. C. Young was high with 464 and for the Lillies Mrs. Draycott was high with 406. The May Flowers took three points from the Daisies. For the May Flowers Mrs. Asselstine was high with 326 and for the Daisies, Mrs. Boss was high with 468.

Men's Junior B. Group

Belleville Hardware No. 2.—Barrett 627; Doe 709; Simpson 533; Harris 532; Doran 697. Total 3017.

Belleville Hardware No. 1.—Ryan 422; Grant 557; Whalen 836; Johns 596; Anderson 686. Total 3077.

Men's Senior League

Carthage—

Legault	301	328	265	—894
Cornell	158	158	181	—477
Phillips	186	221	189	—606
Johns	150	213	116	—478
Kennedy	164	193	219	—574
	839	1023	968	2829

Recreation—

Drumm	188	340	305	—742
Belnap	242	258	140	—647
O'Callaghan	206	198	190	—596
Young	189	308	189	—686
Domenico	294	210	268	—671
	1038	1223	1091	3342

Tees League

Tees No. 1.—J. Murphy 268; W. Baker 401; B. Bell 375; A. Mowatt 478 . Total 1722.

Tees No. 2.—E. Short 446; S. Green 486; A. Armstrong 343; E. Sweetman 454. Total 1741.

Ladies' Afternoon League

Ender Lilies—Mrs. Draycott 488; Mrs. Buck 296; Mrs. Celine 394; Mrs. Tucker 371; Mrs. Carson 238. Total 1673.

Violets—Mrs. Young 464; Mrs. Taylor 410; Mrs. Scott 327; Mrs. Whalen 384; Mrs. Jones 300. Total 1885.

Daisies—Mrs. Wardhaugh 373; Mrs. Bone 468; Mrs. Boyle 271; Mrs. Otherson 286. Total 1401.

May Flowers—Miss Boland 470; Mrs. Asselstine 525; Mrs. Stark 512; Mrs. Windover 362. Total 1868.

Ladies' League

Lucky Strikes—V. Gibson 475; F. Whalen 412; H. Wardhaman 414; E. Tugwell 348. Total 1949.

Ponies—H. Kemp 544; M. Pomeroy 480; Jude Hayward 515; Mrs. Draycott 380. Total 1868.

Baseball Results

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Baltimore	1	0	1.000
Buffalo	4	1	.800
Toronto	3	2	.600
Rochester	3	2	.600
Newark	3	2	.600
Montreal	2	4	.333
Jersey City	1	4	.200
Jersey City	0	5	.000

Yesterday's Results

Montreal 4, Buffalo 0.

Other games postponed—Cold; rain.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Philadelphia	4	0	.800
Chicago	3	1	.750
Washington	3	3	.714
St. Louis	3	3	.500
Cleveland	3	3	.500
Boston	3	3	.500
Detroit	2	4	.333
New York	0	5	.000

Yesterday's Results

St. Louis 13, Detroit 4.

Other games postponed—Rain; cold.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

	Won	Lost	P.C.
New York	4	0	1.000
Pitsburg	4	1	.800
Chicago	3	2	.600
Boston	3	2	.600
Philadelphia	2	3	.500
St. Louis	2	3	.444
Cincinnati	2	3	.444
Brooklyn	1	4	.167

Yesterday's Results

St. Louis 12; Detroit 4.

Other games postponed—Rain; cold.

The tomb of Ra-wer in Egypt is the largest private tomb ever found. Many statues have been found there and mummies too.

...s Directory

LEGAL

R. J. BUTLER, K.C., BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary Public, etc. Money to loan. Offices: Ontario Hall Building, 80 Bridge Street East. Telephone 440.

WALLBRIDGE, CAMERON AND CO (Successors to the late F. S. Wallbridge), Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, Money to loan. Dominion Bank Building, corner Front and Bridge streets, Belleville, Ontario.

COULING AND CUSHING, A. R. COULING, P. G. Cushing, Barristers and Solicitors, Office: Above Royal Bank, corner Front and Campbell streets. Phone 162. Company and private funds to loan, at low mortgage.

R. G. DONNAN, COUNTY CROWN Attorney, Barrister, Solicitor, Notary Public, etc. Offices: Court House Building, Belleville, Ontario.

PORTER, PAYNE AND ARNOTT, Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, etc. Solicitors for Royal Bank. E. Guy Porter, K.C., Chas. A. Payne and R. D. Arnott. Money to loan on mortgages and investments made. Offices: 218 Front street, Belleville, Ontario.

MALCOLM WRIGHT, BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary Public, etc. Office: Campbell street, Belleville.

PONTON, PONTON AND GRAHAM, Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries Public, Commissioners. Offices: 39 Bridge street east. Solicitors, Bank of Montreal. Money to loan on mortgages. W. N. Ponton, K.C., B. A., LL.B., K.C., R. J. E. Graham. Office, Belleville.

FRASER AYLESWORTH Ontario Land Surveyor and Registered Professional Civil Engineer. Land Surveys, Plans and Description, etc., promptly attended to. PHONE 8—P. O. BOX 60 MADOC, ONT.

DENTAL

DR. G. A. MORTON, DENTIST. X-Ray Equipment. Office: Burrows Block, Front street, city. Phone 465. Belleville.

FARM INSURANCE

Rates very reasonable—Sell and see us before insuring policy. We save you money.

THE
H. F. KETCHESON CO., LIMITED
59 BRIDGE ST., BELLEVILLE

INSURANCE
BEFORE PLACING YOUR ORDER for Fire Insurance see W. J. Hall and R. E. Wilkinson, Queen Insurance Co., and several other first class companies, 278 Front St. Phone 780, Belleville

MEDICAL

J. F. Farnsworth, M.D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
18 Victoria Ave. Phone 2127
Residence 17349

R. S. GIBSON, M.D.C.M.
Physician and Surgeon
128 George St. Phone 2149

DR. G. J. FORSTER, SURGEON, 19 Victoria Ave. Phones: Surgery 958-W. Residence 958-J. Hours: 1-3:30, 7-8:30, or by appointment.
a16-tf

Dr. S.R. McCready, B.Sc.
Physician and Surgeon,
X-Ray and Electrotherapy
104 Front St. Belleville
Consultation by Appointment
Phone 1220

RADIUM TREATMENTS

ARCHITECTURE

JOHN E. PARKS, CARPENTER AND Contractor, Hope Chests, Medicine Cabinets, Trays, etc., a specialty. Grandstand freely given on laying and finishing hardwood floors. Estimates on all class of buildings furnished free. Over 100 designs on bungalows, houses, etc. Agent for the Chamberlain famous Metal Weather Strip. 20 Charlotte St. Phone 1852, Belleville.

ARMSTRONG'S MOTOR BUS AND Auto Livery, Tweed and Belleville. Motor bus leaves Belleville at 7.45; leaves Belleville at 2.15. Phone 229, Belleville.

Public Accountant

Audits and Investigations made; income tax reports prepared; financial statements drawn up; accounting systems installed, books opened, written up monthly, and closed. Hugh K. Middleton, c/o Belleville Loanlors. Phone 861.

BELLEVILLE AND MADOC MOTOR BUS
NOW RUNNING
Leaves Belleville 7 a.m. and 3.30 p.m.; leaves Madoc 9 a.m. and 5.30 p.m.; Parcel express daily. Trips 9 a.m., 1 p.m. and 4 p.m. Orders called for and delivered. Phone 1246.
E. STAPLEY, Proprietor.

Chiropractors

H. E. and VERA B. PITCHER
Chiropractors
REGISTERED PRACTITIONERS
Phone 1274 425½ Bridge St. E.
Belleville, Ontario

Wm. P. Redick
Licensed
CHIROPRACTOR and DRUGLESS THERAPIST
NINA M. REDICK
by Appointment only
Phone 809 288 Coleman St.

FOR SALE

HIGH GRADE JERSEY BLACK Giant Hatching Eggs $2.50 per setting. Also Wyandotte Hatching Eggs, good strain at 75c per setting. Mrs. A. E. Leavitt, Wooler, Ontario. Phone Wooler 3-13.
a25-3td

5 ACRES CHOICE GARDEN LAND, solid brick house. Possession at once. Apply A. Collins, Bleecker Ave., Belleville.
a24-6td

CHINCHILLA RABBITS ALSO PURE bred Angora Rabbits. A bargain for quick sale. Apply 27 Alexander Street.
a24-3td

NORDHEIMER PIANO IN GOOD condition. Can be seen at Heintzman Co.

SAND AND GRAVEL FOR SALE — good building sand and good cement gravel; 7 miles north of Air Field, on premises of John Roy Harry, Lot 5, 2nd concession, Sidney. Apply Roy Harry, Trenton, R.R. No. 7. a24-1m.

AT POINT ANNE QUARRIES, WOOD lean cord $2.00, single load $1.00 also lumber, shingles, timber. Apply at the Quarries or A. Bale Co., 83 Station St., Belleville.

MELLOTE CREAM SEPARATOR. Lister Lighting Plant. Windmills, Engines, Machinery Rods, Mixers, Wood and Iron Pumps; some good second hand pumps, for sale cheap. E. Gartley, Finnside Street.
f26-tf.

REFRIGERATOR 50" x 40" x 30". Apply to Hotel Bellevue.
a25-tf

HAVING DISCONTINUED MANUfacturing shoes, I have on hand at the factory, 195 Pinnacle Street, several hundred pairs odd sizes Misses', Children' and Ladies' Shoes, also some slightly damaged. Mr. Mercer will attend to your needs. These are for sale at special bargain prices for one week only beginning Monday, April 21st. R. J. Graham.
a19-26d

BEES AND EQUIPMENT 100 EXTRA supers with drawn comb, 50 lbs. foundation, 75 hives, 4 frame extractors, Wax press queen excluders, all for $150 cash. Phone 1105.
a22-3td

GAY PERSON WRINGER WITH stills, verandah cape or door sills, apply to Mona E. MacDonald, Point Anne. Phone 59 r 1-1.
a17-4w

FOR SALE—220 CHARLES STREET between Bridge and Queen Sts.) one of the finest locations in the city, it is a Cottage, semi-detached, four bed rooms, four open grates, centre living room, hot water heating, with latest furniture storage above. The garage and storage pay all taxes and up-keep of property, private entrance off Ann St. Inspection absolutely by appointment only with Belleville Loanlors, phone 861. Office 25 Bridge St. East.
a19-tfd

SEVERAL VIOLINS, GUITARS, BANjo, Mandolin and Ukulele at cost price for the next two weeks at Heintzman Co., Front St.
a19-3d

EIGHT HORSES, ALSO STOLEN evergreen corn. Phone Sprague line 1-6. Frank Hubbs, Thurlow, 9½ miles west of Redneryille.
a23-4td

BOAT SUITABLE FOR OUTBOARD motor or rowing. Apply Globe Machinery Co. Ltd., 100 Church St.
23-4t

SEVEN ROOMED CEMENT BLOCK house, No. 15 Pine Street, Trenton. All conveniences except furnace, new garage. Also No. 7 Spring Street, with furnace and garage. Newly decorated. Apply Weaver and Jackman, Trenton, or Mr. Hannah, 373 Charles St., Belleville.
a22-3td

"BRED TO PAY" BABY CHICKS — White Leghorn and Barred Rocks; from large R.O.P. Government registered, R.O.P. and pedigreed; Breeding males, Rocks 16-21 lbs.; Leghorns 12-; after May 10th, Rocks 12c; Leghorns 10c. Prices Forward Poultry Farm, Consecon, Ont. Buy your chicks from a real breeding plant.
a1-tf-3w

FOR SALE

CHOICE GLADIOLI $3 PER HUNdred, also several perennial plants and seeds. M. Peck, phone 1521W.
a25-2td

TWO GREY HOLSTEIN COWS, ONE recently freshened, the other due to freshen. Apply F. J. Bird, R.R. 2, Belleville.
a25-3td

MARMON ROOSEVELT SEDAN 1929 model. Bargain for cash. Apply 165 Chatham Street. Phone 111.
a23-3td

WANTED

WANTED—ONE WIDE WHEELED truck with second hand. Apply Belleville Golf Club or Phone 1190.
a25-2td

BY JUNE FIRST, COMPETENT cook general, two upstairs work. Apply giving age, references, wages expected to Box "N" this office.
a25-3td

ROOM AND BREAKFAST IN MODern home with private accommodation preferred. Call Mr. Sammon. Phone 16.
a25-2td

AN EXPERIENCED HAIR DRESSER. Write Box 1090, Trenton. Phone 186.
a24-3td

GOOD HOME, ROMAN CATHOLIC for bright little girl, age 10½ years. Apply Thos. D. Ruston, Superintendent C.A.S., 76 Coleman St.
a24-4td

CAPABLE AND EXPERIENCED general maid with references. Small family, good wages. Phone 1190.
a24-tfd

HELP WANTED

SALESMEN—WANTED TO REPRE-sent the largest concern of its kind in the British Empire. Qualified men will be offered good, connections. Preference to men experienced in soliciting from house to house. Apply Box P this office.

GOOD HOME FOR GIRL AGE 14. Apply Thos. D. Ruston, Supt. C. A. S., 29 Cedar St., Belleville.
22-4t

MARCELLING

MRS. WM. HOPPING, 323 FRONT St., Phone 2136W for appointments.
a17-2w

COOK, HIGHEST WAGES PAID TO competent cook. Apply 29 Queen St. Phone 1412.
a14-tf.

WANTED — WILL BUY FURS, Mink, Musk, poultry and feathers at best prices. Apply A. Rebner, 403 Front St. Phone 1097-W. d26-1f.

PURSE BETWEEN BELLEVILLE and 1st Concession Thurlow, 9½ miles e:st Corbyville. Finder address J. W. Yakeman, R.R. 1, Corbyville, Ont.
a24-3td

LOST

TIRE 30-3½ AND RIM BETWEEN Third Sidney and Belleville. Selburn Westover. Phone 637 r 2.
a25-1td

IN MEMORIAM

WINDOVER—In ever loving memory of Pte. L. Windover, who entered into rest on Thursday, April 25th, 1929. "Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by wife, friends and relatives.
a25-1td

TO-LET

A SIX ROOM BRICK HOUSE, ALL conveniences and garage. Possession May 1st. Apply 36 Henry St.
a24-3td

DESIRABLE HOUSE, CENTRALLY located, hot water heated; garage; immediate possession. Apply 342 Front Street.
a24-3td

SEVEN ROOM SUITE IN MARSHALL Apartments cor. Bridge and George Streets. Garage. Apply 114 Bridge St. E. or to Dr. Marshall.
a22-3td

TOP FLOOR APARTMENT, NO. 14, Possession 1st of May. Belleville Apartments, R. J. Graham.
a11-tf.

108 CHATHAM ST. WITH GARAGE. Possession May 1st. Apply 325 Bridge St.
a15-tfd

THREE ROOMS HEATED AND furnished for light house keeping, also garage and garden if desired. Apply Box "Z" Ontario Intelligencer or phone 1733-W.
a8-tf.

SONCE NICE FLATS OVER 265 Front St. Apply Dan Lewis, 261 Lewis Hardware, 265 Front St. phone 868.
d13-tf.

MEDIUM SIZED FRONT STREET store, very central. Apply to Ontario Intelligencer.

FOUR ROOM FLAT, FITTED WITH all conveniences, newly decorated, hardwood, remodern possession, Lemman's. Phone 2177. 245½ Front St. m17-tf.

HOUSE NO. 184, W. MOIRA ST. Also 3 lirernoof garages No. 25 Bridge St. Apply Dan Lewis, 261 Lewis Hardware, 265 Front St. phone 868.
d13-tf.

BUSINESS LINERS

Irish Cobbler Seed Potatoes, by Peck or Bag. Government certified. Bishop's Seed Store.
a22-3td

UPHOLSTERING

All kinds of upholstering done on the shortest notice. Chesterfields, stuff-overs, couches. Phone 631. E. S. Watson, 105 Station St.
a19-6td

(Bermuda) Spanish Onion Plants. Grow Large Sweet Onions. We have a fresh shipment. Order yours today. Bishop's Seed Store.
a22-6td

NEW PEA VINER AT HALL & WELL

Sherman Foster Heads Picton Prohibition Union

(Special to The Ontario Intelligencer)

Picton, April 24—Mr. and Mrs. Morley Emorey of Belleville spent Easter week end with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Emorey, Cherry Valley.

The Glen Allan is being overhauled at Picton wharf and looks very much improved by a coat of paint. This well known freighter will make her first trip to Montreal on April 29 and will be under the command of Captain B. Christie.

Mr. Arthur Hyatt of West Lake has purchased Mr. Harry Stanlock's farm at East Lake.

Mr. F. E. Graham an old Picton last year, it is not expected that it will boy, has purchased a barber shop at lower the acreage this year. Another 1274 Bloor Street W. Toronto.

A musical event of much interest will be the recital on May 2nd of Professor F. Walden's music pupils. It will be held at the United Church.

Ereel Pea Viner

Hallowell Canners are building a new pea viner on Mr. Gordon Clarke's farm, Hallowell Township. Peas from this viner will be taken to the Calhoun's Factory to be canned.

Though the pea crop was very poor

IMPORTANT
CHANGE OF TRAIN TIMES
will be made EFFECTIVE APRIL 27th
For particulars consult Ticket Agents
CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAYS

Pineapples! Pineapples !!
The Pineapple season is now on and we are now on our third car for this season. We advise our customers to buy their Pines from now on until the next two weeks, when they will be at their best and the price at the lowest.

SPANISH ORANGES—Owing to the high cost of California Oranges and the quality being so poor, we are buying Spanish Oranges which are very reasonable in price and the quality is very good—Juicy and sweet.

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND POTATOES—Just arrived, a car of Early COBBLER Potatoes, for seeding Get your supply while they last.

Any of the above goods can be had from your nearest grocer or any fruit store in the city, but insist that they are our brand of goods.

Belleville Fruit Co., Limited
OFFICE AND WAREHOUSE, ALBION ST.
PHONE 834

IMPORTANT CHANGE IN TRAIN SCHEDULES
EFFECTIVE SUNDAY, APRIL 27
Montreal, Ottawa, Belleville, Toronto, Detroit, Chicago.
Eastern Standard Time

Read Down			DAILY	Read Up
No. 19	No. 27			No. 29	No. 33
12.00 noon	8.45 a.m.	Lv.	Montreal	Ar. 4.30 p.m.	9.45 p.m.
12.47 p.m.	*2.40 a.m.	Ar.	Ottawa	Lv. 3.35 p.m.	8.00 p.m.
1.27 p.m.	1.33 p.m.	Lv.	Belleville	Lv. 11.43 a.m.	4.59 p.m.
7.42 p.m.	6.30 p.m.	Ar.	TORONTO	Lv. 8.45 a.m.	2.00 p.m.
8.03 p.m.	6.45 p.m.	Ar.	Hamilton	Lv. 7.25 a.m.	*12.35 p.m.
8.57 p.m.	7.40 p.m.	Lv.	TORONTO	Ar. 6.30 a.m.	1.45 p.m.
2.59 a.m.	10.35 p.m.	Ar.	Detroit	Lv. 2.00 a.m.	8.00 a.m.
7.10 a.m.	6.20 a.m.	Ar.	Chicago	Lv. 6.30 p.m.	11.15 p.m.

*Daily except Sunday

EQUIPMENT—Dining, Parlor, Sleeping and Observation Cars.

Train 34 for Ottawa will leave Toronto Union daily at 10.45 p.m.
Trains 35 and 36 Montreal-Toronto-Montreal will arrive Toronto Union 6.35 p.m.
Trains 36 for Montreal will leave Toronto Union 9.00 a.m.
Trains 35 and 36 operate daily except Sunday—on Sundays they operate Toronto to Havelock only.
EQUIPMENT—Train 35—Standard Sleepers and Buffet Club Compartment. Trains 33 and 36—Coaches, Buffet Parlor and Parlor Cars.
Train 633 for local points to Detroit will leave Toronto Union 2.45 p.m. daily.
Train 634 will leave Detroit 8.15 a.m., arriving Toronto 4.30 p.m. daily.
Train 636 will leave Detroit 11.30 p.m. for Toronto, arriving 6.45 a.m. daily.
EQUIPMENT—Train 633 and 634—Coaches and Cafe Parlor Car.
Train 636—Standard Sleepers.
For information regarding changes in other train schedules, consult nearest Canadian Pacific ticket agent.

CANADIAN PACIFIC

PHONE 1911
FOR YOUR WIRING REQUIREMENTS
City Electric Co.
94 BENJAMIN ST.

Hello? Yes, this is Chas. Chapman's phone
O.K. I Have Your Order for Car.
Calls 25c 316 Albert St.

F. C. Maughan
PAINTING PAPERHANGING
All Kinds of Decorations Undertaken
PRICES MODERATE
Phone 2183

W. TURNER
Decorating, Paper Hanging, and Painting. Absbestine and Paper Hanging a Specialty. Phone 1743-W.

THIS IS THE TIME FOR HOUSE CLEANING ORDERS. Your painting and paper hanging. Paper by CHAS. SOUTHARD. Leave orders at Thos. Walters, 329 Front St.

Modern Window Cleaners
WINDOW CLEANING
Storm Windows Removed
Stores, House, Apartments, Ing Done by CHAS. CLARE
F. G. CLARE
Phone 727W

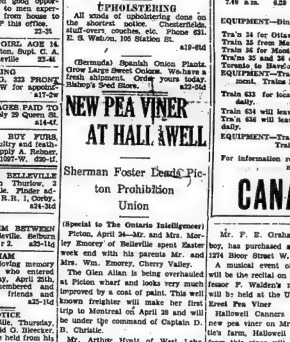
PIANO
I am prepared to teach a number of beginners on the piano.
Ada M. Groves
8 Grier St.
a24-2td

FARM INSURANCE
We have the cheapest Farm Rates, obtainable. Good Companies, all of which have been doing business in this County for a great many years.
Prompt and liberal settlements.
We guarantee it would pay you, to let us talk it over with you, before your Policy expires.
"We insure everything insurable"
Phone, write, or call at our office.

S. J. Fisher & Son
Insurance and Auctioneers
202 Front Street Phone 168
BELLEVILLE

ERECT GATES

The village of Wellington has organized a branch of the Canadian Legion and on Dominion Day memorial gates at the entrance to Wellington's fort by the lake are to be dedicated to the memory of the men who fell in the Great War. Work on the erection of the memorial has just begun.



Tillie the Toiler

By Russ Westover

Bringing Up Father

By George McManus

Veterans Turn Down Plan

(Continued from Page One)

ranks Sergt.-Major Jacks, W. J. Day, T. Bradford, G. Dawes, D. J. Batchelor, A. E. Baldwin, J. Bellanger, Mrs. Batchelor and Mrs. Jacks was selected to attend the citizens' meeting next Tuesday evening and support the recommendations adopted as above.

President's Views

Comrade W. J. Day, President of the local post, was voted to preside over the gathering and he explained the reason for calling the meeting, an expression of opinion from the returned men and their families as to the nature of a suitable memorial. He referred to the sketch plan showing the arches and stated that whilst the bridge proper was a public utility the arches would be separate from the bridge. Four times efforts have been made to secure a memorial in this city and if it fails this time it may be a long time before the end is achieved. The Council he stated would not erect the arches if the veterans did not want them.

Mr. J. A. Thomson, architect, being called upon explained the sketch drawing showing the arches. They would, he said, be on their own foundation of solid rock and he would suggest if erected that they be faced with ground granite or marble. He had been requested to prepare the plans by a member of the Council.

Site of Memorial

Comrade A. E. Baldwin spoke in support of the arches as a memorial and he was also in favor of a cenotaph being placed in some suitable location, say near the western approach of the bridge. This was a good opportunity for the returned men to procure a suitable memorial for our fallen comrades.

As this stage a letter was read from Mr. D. H. Ackrill suggesting that the name of the river Moira be changed to the Indian name it was formerly called "Segonaha".

Comrade T. Bradford stated that he would like to see a cenotaph placed in a quiet place. The arches scheme was nice and would no doubt look beautiful. We have no assurance that the City Council would secure property for the erection of a suitable cenotaph. If we had the arches and no cenotaph would it be a suitable memorial?

Members Ask

Comrade M. W. Mems spoke in support of a suitable cenotaph being erected on what is known as the memorial park off Cannifton and Station Roads. He asked if the Council provided that park.

President Day—"The property was donated by Mr. R. J. Graham."

Comrade D. J. Batchelor in his remarks stated that this was a big question and has been on the minds of the veterans and many citizens for a number of years. "We want some place as a reminder of those who have gone on," he said. The speaker was of opinion that in fifty years the new bridge would not take care of the traffic then and if it should be taken down the memorial arches would also have to come down. He would suggest that the Legion go on record as having a cenotaph erected in a suitable place. "Stand for a cenotaph and forget the arches," should be the motto of the Legion.

Comrade W. C. Jack—"If we do not get a memorial now it is no telling when we will get one. He rather favored the idea of erecting the memorial arches."

Mrs. J. D. Batchelor—"The arches would be a good advertisement for the city, but a cenotaph was more desirable".

Comrade Lancaster spoke in reference to the arches and he desired to know if the City Council would build them.

President Day—"The Council would resume the responsibility of erecting the arches if the veterans desired them."

Mr. A. J. Thomson—"The Mayor he thought was desirous of getting an expression from the veterans of what they desire in the matter of a memorial."

The recommendation as above quoted was then submitted to the meeting and was carried by a majority of those present.

President Day—"The rate shows the veterans desire to have a cenotaph. Let the Council go ahead and erect the arches if it wants to."

After a vote of thanks had been tendered to Architect Thomson for being present and explaining the plan of arches made by him the meeting was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

A North Carolina lawyer has invented a photograph printing machine which he claims will produce 1,000 prints an hour.

A proposed subway in London will necessitate the removal of the statue of King William IV.

C. D. S. Prices are Cash Prices!

THE CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES LIMITED

Leadership Won and Held by Right Goods, Right Prices, Right Methods and Reliability.

Compare our Values and Assortments!

Saturday is Outstanding Value Day!

Specials — Regular and Our Own Branded Lines — All Contribute to Make Saturday's Event One of Great Importance

Men's Caps

In smart tweed patterns which will attract the golfer's attention. Donegals, herringbones, checks and various mixed effects. In greys and fawns. Sizes 6 3-4 to 7 1-2. Outstanding value, at 1.50

—Men's Store.

Eatonia Underwear for Summer Wear

Popular athletic cut—which is cut from a fine, firm ribbed knit fabric, ensuring fit and good wearing qualities. Choice of with or without buttons—in white. Sizes 34 to 44. A popular suit at an Outstanding price Suit 90c at .....

—Men's Store.

Men's Sweaters

Smart for Spring wear — for golfing and other sports — fine, close weave—of all wool yarns —in the favored v-neck style, with snug fitting wrists, and waist. In the smartest of fancy Jacquards—and colorings. Sizes 36 to 42. Outstanding value—

2.50 to 6.00

—Men's Store.

Men's Fine English Worsteds With 2 pairs of Trousers

25.00

A smart suit at an outstanding price—beautifully tailored from sturdy English worsteds—or natty looking tweeds, in the newest of Spring colorings and patterns. Those are specially featured on Saturday for they are considered one of the best suit values yet offered by us. Tailored in our own workshop—to rigid specifications—you get more than your money's worth in suit value—for each suit is supplied with two pairs (instead one) of trimly cut trousers. Inspect them—only then can you fully appreciate what is in store for you at this outstanding price of 25.00

—Men's Store.

Have Your Next Suit Made-to-Measure

The new made-to-measure section of the men's shop is a success. A big success. Several things make it so.

1. A price choice of 22.50 and 30.00
2. A magnificent choice of domestic and imported fabrics.
3. Quickness of delivery.
4. Accuracy of tailoring and the excellence of fit.

Try a made-to-measure suit, next. The suit must be satisfactory or your money is refunded, without question.

—Men's Store.

Misses' and Women's Raincoats 5.95

For April and May showers—smart, new raincoats for misses and women—made from a fine, patterned jersey cloth—in a neat fitting double breasted style—neatly belted and finished off with a strap on the cuff. The size range runs from 16 to 40— and they are outstanding value, at 5.95

—Main Floor—Rear.

Women's Back-Lace Corsets

A nice low top style that will appeal to many—back-lace corsets that are made from a fancy material—well designed to give splendid support. Sizes 26 to 32. Outstanding value. 1.89

—Main Floor—Rear.

Wraparound Corsets 2.25

The new Perfection model wrap-around foundation corset —with elastic inserts in sides. A lovely brocaded material makes this garment which gets it by but persuasively molds the hips. Sizes 25 to 36. Outstanding value. 2.25

at .....

—Main Floor—Rear.

Lovely Rayon Vests at 79c

Made from a beautiful quality of rayon these lovely rayon vests come in dainty tints of pink peach, nile, white and orchid. Open top style — sizes small medium and large. Outstanding value, ... 79c

at .....

—Main Floor—Rear.

Special! Men's Ties

Another new shipment to add to the already smart assortment of Spring neckwear for men and a very outstanding price of 50c. Lustrous, fully cut—they tie up well and look smarter than many ties at 1.00. Look over the color—and patterns. Saturday—Each— 50c

Smart Trousers for the Young Man

In new grey and tan tweeds—excellently tailored trousers for the young man. Each pair if fitted with five pockets, belt loops, and finished with a neat cuff bottom. In sizes 30 to 38. Outstanding value—Pair 3.95

Lustrous Rayon Crepe

Smoothly, and evenly woven crepes of rayon—specially made with a silk-like finish. In plain tones of yellow, orchid, linen blue, white, de long blue, egg shell, black, navy, lemon, red and sand. About yard wide. Outstanding value—Yard 1.39

—Second Floor.

Linen Table Cloths

A fine Irish make—lovely snow white cloths—that is a double damask with a special satiny finish. Fully bleached and in a splendid size of 72" x 90". Truly outstanding value at 5.00

this price, of

Outstanding Value in Bloomers

Wonderfully good value in women's rayon bloomers—the quality is excellent—as is the fit. Made with good quality elastic fittings —in al blues—flesh, peach, nile, white, orchid, black 79c and navy. Outstanding value—Pair.

—Main Floor—Rear.

Crisp New Prints

Good firm weaves which denotes long and satisfactory wear. Evenly woven and in a host of washable colors—patterns suitable for kiddies' and grown-ups' frocks. Mauve, pink, yellow and others: 36 inches wide. Outstanding value— 35c

Yard .....

—Second Floor.

Extraordinary! Women's and Misses' Clever Frocks of Silk Crepe

Outstanding Value, Saturday!

A host of styles—a host of colors—with all the new and clever, individual touches one might see on frocks of much higher price. Truly at 4.95 one could not expect to get such a smart frock at this price—but a special, and most opportune purchase enables us to offer this for one day only. With flares, soft, rippling jabots, and dainty lingerie touches—they'll be a treat for you. See them in the window. Sizes run from 14 to 44. Extra Special, Saturday 4.95

Toiletries

Pond's Skin Freshener	30c, 70c
Mum	35c and 60c
Colgate (regular strength and mild)	35c
Dandarine	40c
Watkin's Cocoa Nut Oil Shampoo	40c
Parisian Sage (Hair Tonic)	90c
Hair Groom	45c
Burdock Blood Bitters	89c
Extract of Sarsaparilla	90c
Petroleum Oil	60c, 1.15
Eaton's Compound Emulsion	50c

—Main Floor—Right.

Special!

Valencia Oranges

Sweet and Juicy

Good Size 25c Dozen

Kiddies' Fox Serge Reefers

Smart little coats, for the tots 2 to 6 years. Trimly tailored in mannish mode with shiny brass buttons adorning the front. Lined throughout and suitable for boy or girl. Outstanding value, at 3.95

—Main Floor—Rear.

Boys' Wash Suits

In the practical Oliver twist style—cut from sturdy plain colored fabrics—the trousers in a contrasting tone to the waist. For boys 2 to 6 years, in colors of green, blue, and yellow. Outstanding value— Suit 1.25

—Main Floor—Rear.

Candies

Jelly Bean	lb. 20c
Chicken Bone	lb. 25c
Silver Dainties	lb. 29c
Black Cough Drops	lb. 25c
Salted Peanuts	lb. 30c

—Main Floor—Right.

The Gyrex Safety Washer

$89.00

The most efficient washer, at its price—powered with a heavy duty 1-4 horse power motor of reliable make—has steel cut gears, nickel zinc tub, and a safety wringer that is unexcelled. The choice of women who know efficiency, and outstanding value in washing machines. Buy it on the deferred payment plan of easy payment.

—Basement.

The Eaton's Sewing Machine

The outstanding in sewing machines — is beautifying machine with high arm and clear working space of 5 1-2 x 8". Smart in design and the case is finished in a golden oak shade. Fitted with automatic release disc tension—self-threading shuttle, and full set of attachments for ruffling, and tucking. Guaranteed for 10 years. Outstanding value, at 39.00

—Third Floor.

Chesterfield Suites at 139.50

A handsome three-piece chesterfield suite —made by Snyder's, and is semi-built. Covering is a walnut colored mohair, with reversible cushions of figured jacquard in a mulberry shade. The suite consists of arm chair, chesterfield and rest chair. Outstanding value— the Suite 139.50

—Third Floor.

Eatonia Batteries — Outstanding!

Canada's most outstanding battery value. Well made throughout and guaranteed for two years for all post hole defects in workmanship. The battery that will give unlimited service. Priced—11 Plate 9.75

—Basement.

Mouth Organs Saturday 5c

Cut Flowers

Roses—Dozen 1.29

Frankford

Mr. Frank Carr's family have moved to Mrs. Simmon's house on Trent St.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Leury of Stirling spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. M. Archart.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Simpson of Toronto spent Sunday with the latter's parents Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Wessels.

Mr. and Mrs. Palmer of Ferth spent the holidays with the latter's father Mr. E. McAllister.

Mrs. J. W. Fetter of Cuniter spent a couple of days with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bush spent the tea hour on Monday evening with Mr. and Mrs. S. Palmer and Mr. McAllister.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Conseal spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Mikel of Brighton.

PLAINFIELD W. M. S.

The Plainfield branch of the W. M. S. met on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Clarence Hall. After singing the hymn "What a Friend we have in Jesus," prayer was led by Mrs. H. Harrison. The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted and the business discussed. The hymn, "Saviour, Thy Dying love," was sung followed by the roll call which was answered wi ha name from the Bible. Responsive reading was led by Mrs. Harrison. The topic was taken by Annie Maynes. Mrs. Harrison then gave some instrumental music followed by a song by Lillian Harrison. Mrs. J. Colden had charge of the contest for the afternoon. The meeting was closed by the hymn, "On, the world must be conquered for Christ," after which prayer was led by Mrs. W. Elliot. A dainty lunch was then served by the hostess.

Spare the children from suffering from worms by using Miller's Worm Powders, the most effective vermifuge that can be got with which to combat these insidious foes of the young and helpless. There is nothing that excels this preparation as a worm destroyer, and when its qualities become known in a household no other will be used.

The medicine acts by itself, requiring no purgative to assist it, and so thoroughly that nothing more is destroyed.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Baldrey, Lingham street entertained at a delightful family party yesterday on the occasion of the thirty first anniversary of their marriage

CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES Limited

TWELVE PAGES

The Ontario Intelligencer

SECOND SECTION

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, FRIDAY, APRIL 25, 1930.

Amos 'N' Andy Speaking---A Broadcast Biography in Dialect

Fifth Instalment of

Amos 'n' Andy in Person

By James R. Crowell

This is the day of days for Amos 'n' Andy. When we left them yesterday, Amos had discovered a messenger boy heading toward the office and was wondering what could possibly be in the air. We learn now that the contents of that telegram had to do not only with something vital in the air, but something still more vital to be on the air.

It is Amos we hear speaking, a trifle fearful at The Club the telegram might contain bad news from Ruby Taylor. Here they are:

"Whut you wanta, boy? A telegram, huh? Ain't from Ruby Taylor, is it? You don't know who it from, huh? Well, who it for den—you knows dat, don't you? Oh, it for Amos Jones and Andy Brown, is it? Yeh, dat us all right."

Hast nee dat telegram, Amos. I've de president o' dis heah taxicab comphy."

"Yeh, but it say me name 'tuh—Amos Jones. Lemme see whut it say, Andy..... Well I be doggone, boy, what you know 'bout dat? Dem fo's tell you dat rabbit foot and dat hoss-shoe start sumpin' 'roun' heah?"

"Whut happen, Amos?"

"It say de National Broadcashin' Comphy want see us right away. It say de has a reperent proposition dey wants make us."

"Precede, Amos, precede an' tell me is dat clue is say."

"Dat all it say. Whut mo' you want?"

"Well, dat sho' soun' good all right, huh?"

"Ain't dat sumpin?"

"And the best part of the telegram, Jones, was that it was signed by an executive upon breaking into a conversation which took place that same afternoon between the boys and the officials of the National Broadcasting Company. Listen—

"Yeh, hnisch, we is dem—Amos 'n' Andy. Whut you want wid us, huh?"

"Listen here, Amos—I does de talkin' and you does de listenin."

"Not dis time, Andy; you've got it backwards—you does de listenin'..... Whut you say you wants wid us, mistah? Oh, you wants hire us, huh? Well, dat sound good, all right, if dey's mo' money into it dan whut we's been gittin'."

"Amos, I tells you dis is big bizness an' it's me whut ought han'le de sit-yation."

"Don't pay no 'tention to him, mistah. Andy, he jes' kain't help talkin'. How much we gittin' now? Well, we's gittin'——"

"If sin's whut we's gittin' now, mistah—it's whut we're goin' git if you hires us."

"Shut you mouf, Andy..... I don't mine talkin' whut we's gittin'. We's gittin' a hunnerd an' fifty dollahs a week apiece. You pay us how much? You says which?"

"Oh, oh."

"You says you pay us a hunnerd thousand dollahs a yeah betwixt us? Fo' doin' whut? Fo broadcashin'? Mistah, is you kiddin' or is I dreamin'?"

"You ain't dreamin', Amos; I heahs whut de gemman says, too. He said a hunnerd thousand dollahs a yeah."

"Well, I reckons you knows whut you's doin', mistah, but it sho' sounds like somebody roun' yere's got a screw loose or sumpin'."

"Dat ain't none our bizness, Amos. Come on an 'let's git out yere befo' de gemman changes his mine."

"Andy, you is gittin' reese at las'. Goodbye, mistah. Whut's dat—does we excepk de propolition? Well, all I gotta say is do a fish swim?"

So the boys have not only arrived, but they have set a high water mark for income in the comparatively new era of radio broadcasting. And just to think of it, only a short time previous to the signing of this epoch-making contract they had been doing their stuff for exactly nothing a week.

Under the terms of the contract signed forthwith, it was agreed that they were to be under the exclusive management of the N.B.C. All theatrical and other engagements are booked for them through that organization. Of those receipts for work, supplementary to broadcasting, the N.B.C. convert bureau receives a ten per cent commission for booking while the money taken in for their appearance before the microphone goes to the company to reimburse it for the yearly guarantee of $100,000.

Amos 'n' Andy had been putting on their sketch at eleven o'clock each night, Eastern time. Last December the hour for their appearance was changed to seven o'clock, in response to a demand from Eastern fans, including thousands of children.

At once there came a vigorous protest from the West, to the tune of 150,000 letters, and in order to please both sections the present arrangement of having two broadcasting periods was instituted. That contingency hadn't been anticipated when the contract was signed, but the boys willingly consented to the double performance without extra pay.

But let us drop in on them for a moment in their taxicab office and hear what they have to say between themselves regarding the great windfall. It is Andy's resonant tones which thunder:

"Amos, don't I tell you dat when you travels wid me you travels high? Boy dat whut comes o' bein' a big bizness man."

"Whut you mean, Andy?"

"I means de way yo' president, Archye Brown, has dis day put de Fresh Air Taxicab Company on de map. Amos, does you know how much a hunnerd thousan' dollahs is?"

"I knows it's lotsa money, but I don't know how much."

"Ow'e, you don't, Amos—you don't git far in school. How long you think you have drive dat taxicab befo' you earns a hunnerd thousand dollahs wid it?"

"Well, Andy, dis taxicab ain't but a 'li'l mo' de na 'yeah of an' I ain't driv it very far an' we makin' dat much wid it now, ain't we?"

"You don't think de taxicab done done it, does you, Amos?"

"Sho' I thinks de taxicab had sumpin' to do wid it, all right."

"Boy, you is crazy. It ain't de taxicab whut makes dat money—it's me, de president of de comphy."

"Well, if we don't have no taxicab, dey wouldn't be nuthin' for you to be president of, would de, Andy?"

"Amos, de questions you ask ain't got no sense."

"Andy, de sensehs you gives to dem has got less."

(Outside of this eternal conflict, the boys are good pals. And tomorrow, in the concluding instalment, they disclose to you the mechanics of their sketch, with particular reference to how the various characters are portrayed.)

April Meeting of Frankford W.M.S.

Village Reeve Slowly Recovering Following Accident Near Home

Frankford, April 24 (By Mail)—The Frankford W.M.S. held its April meeting at the home of Mrs. Geo. Patrick, President leading.

Meeting opened by singing hymn "Oh, Thour, who camest from Above" and prayer by the president.

Reading of minutes of previous meeting and Treasurer's report followed.

The president requested the secretaries of the following departments to report at the May meeting, viz, Stranger's Associate members and Mite Box.

Corresponding Sec., reported letter of thanks from Mrs. Oliver for expressions of sympathy in her bereavement in the loss of a sister.

Mrs. R. Ketchum group leader took charge. The first number was an Easter responsive reading interspersed with the singing of hymns. At the close of the responsive service Mrs. Lyons and Mrs. Coon offered prayer.

A selection "Will Easter chimes o'er the World," was sung by a number of the members.

A reading followed "Death interpreted as Blessing" by Mrs. Prosser.

Mrs. Doggett then sang a solo "The old Ragged Cross."

Mrs. Patrick gave a reading entitled "Easter Chimes."

Easter offering was taken. Roll call showed eighteen members present and six visitors.

The president requested that three of the shut in members be remembered by sending Easter cards to them.

Mrs. Weese closed with prayer.

Then it was lunch time, the program group broke the rules and served lunch which was very dainty and much appreciated by the Society,

Let Us All Tackle This Job

It shows the road to real Prosperity

WE desire to associate ourselves with The Bank of Nova Scotia in their public spirited efforts to impress upon Canadian thought important aspects of present economic conditions in this country.

In the progressive upbuilding of a country like Canada there are some periods of reaction when adjustments must be made to meet new conditions.

The way to bring about improvement is to tackle the job and not spend time on post-mortems.

The present situation appears to be largely a world-wide decline in commodity prices. The markets of the world are looking for lower priced products and materials.

Other countries are not as well favoured as we are. Canada's great natural resources place us in an enviable position to meet competition.

Canadian brains and initiative can find the way to adjust cost of production to the lower prices obtainable and still create a profit. It has been done before.

The drastic decline of commodity prices in 1920 to 1921 was followed by a period of great prosperity covering a number of years.

Canada is better equipped now than it was then to meet the situation, and provided the problems are tackled promptly and intelligently the period of readjustment need only be short.

What we do is more important than what we say. Let us buy and sell—build—go ahead—plan and work—keep the wheels turning to the utmost of our ability as individuals.

The Canada Life Assurance Co.

Letters to the Editor

210 DUNDAS ST. E.
BELLEVILLE

Editor Ontario Intelligencer:—

The Argyll Light Infantry

In a recent issue of your paper, I see that a change of uniform is mooted for the local regiment. If the regiment is dressed in the kilt (not kilts) it will be the first time to my knowledge that a Light Infantry regiment has been so dressed. Should it be desirable to make a change then why not dress them as befits their title viz.—The Light Infantry shake with round bob, which gives to the Light Infantry of the British Army the sobriquet of light bobs. On top of their badge, a silver bugle, the distinguishing mark of a Light Infantry Regiment should appear. This badge and bugle should be silverized, as gold badges are only worn by the Old Country regulars. The only Scottish Light Infantry regiment is the Highland Light Infantry, the old 71st and 74th foot. The former battalion never wore the kilt, but the latter when known as McLeod's Highlanders were so dressed when they formed part of the army under Sir John Moore as it fell back from near Madrid towards Corunna during the Peninsular war. The pipers of both, however, have always been dressed in the kilt, and one recalls the incident where the pipers of the 71st played on the heights of Puebla as Victoria, the tune "On with the Tartan."

"Loud raged the battles dreadful swell
Where thousands fought and many fell
But the 71st they bore the bell
While fighting at Victoria."

The tartan worn by the Highland Light Infantry, is the Mackenzie, but it of the local regiment wants to associate itself with the Argyle family the Clan Campbell tartan is more appropriate.

Further, is it difficult to dress properly in the kilt, and unless put on in the right way it is apt to look unsoldier like to say the least of it. Sufficient material should be used to make a heavy pleat, otherwise it is like a skirt. However, they are Light Infantry and let them be dressed as such.

Your truly
(Sgd.) John A. Kynlop.

STEAMER BREMEN CRASHES TANKER

Neither Vessel Damaged In Collision at Dungeness Light

Dover, England, April 24 CP— The German steamship Bremen, one of two of the fastest liners on the seas, collided with the British tanker British Grenadier off Dungeness Light in the English Channel early today, badly damaging the tanker. The Bremen was not believed to be badly damaged and was thought to have continued on her way after seeking the tanker to render assistance. The tanker radioed that she did not require assistance but that she was proceeding to Deal with a supernumary who required immediate medical attention.

Indiana farmers have developed a corn culture that produces 100 bushels or more an acre.

Keen Interest By Congregation At Rednersville

Rednersville, April 24 (By Mail)—Unique and full of interest were the services last Sabbath on Rednersville pastoral charge.

In the morning a fine Easter program was rendered in which twenty-eight boys and girl took a very active part; fourteen being arranged on each side of the pulpit. Their selections were appropriate and excellently rendered, reflecting great credit on Mr. R. Stafford, who for two months has been training the youngsters every Sabbath afternoon. The choir also excelled themselves and their selections were of a superior character.

"Light after Darkness" was the subject of the Pastor's address and was based on Matt. XXVIII 6, "He is not here, He is risen." The congregation was large and the people were delighted with the service.

In the evening at Centre, the W. M.S. had charge of the service and the congregation was very large. Mrs. D. Redner proved herself a most competent leader. Prayer was offered by Mrs. H. Adam. The Scripture Lesson read by Mrs. Frank Townsend, while the choir rendered most excellent music; the duet by Mrs. H. Pulver and Mrs. Branaugh and the solo by Miss Brickman being much enjoyed.

Mr. Donald Spencer contributed largely to the service at Rednersville in the morning by his correct accompaniment and Mr. William Fox is to be congratulated on the splendid musical offerings at Centre.

The pastor's address in the evening was "The Garden Palace" and was based on Matt. XXVIII 6, "Come see the place where the Lord lay." The services were among the best held on the Rednersville circuit in many years and the W. M.S. is to be congratulated.

Divine services will be held next Sabbath, April 27th at Victoria 10.30, Albury 2.30 p.m. and Rednersville 7 p.m.

EASTER EXAMINATIONS

S. S. No. 11 Thurlow

I—Clem Treverton, 89 per cent, Marjorie Latta, 75 per cent.

III—Phyllis Weese 70.3 per cent, Stella Bradshaw 67.5 per cent.

Jr. IV—Jean Miller 68.3 per cent, Alex Leslie 62.3 per cent.

Senior IV—Marie Miller, 76.8 per cent, Irene Miller 76.5 per cent.

V—Gordon Weese 76.1 per cent, Bessie Way 73 per cent Norma Leslie 62.6 per cent.

Helen Doxtator.

After all, there's no place like the old home town. That's just why so many of us stay away from it.

BANK AND LIFE ASSURANCE CO. VIEW PROSPERITY

Unique Instance of Cooperation To Point Out Present Situation

The Bank of Nova Scotia has set before the people of Canada the way to great prosperity through the present economic situation and The Canada Life Assurance Company has come forward in kind its aid to the same cause of impressing upon Canadians certain aspects of the situation in business today.

Officials of the assurance company with the financial institution together with what co-operation Canadians at large will lend their united efforts to usher in the new era of prosperity which is certain to follow the present cannot but mean much to trade throughout the Dominion. One remark in an advertisement of The Canada Life Assurance Company appearing in todays issue of The Ontario Intelligencer contains a great truth, "What we do is more important than what we say. Let us buy and sell—build,—go ahead—plan and work —keep the wheels turning to the utmost of our ability as individuals." That is the truth—in the final analysis if optimism and co-operation mark the attitude of each individual there need be no doubt of the future.

It is a unique situation to find two institutions of their importance having no connection with one another working in this way for general interests of business of the Dominion and for the individual citizen. Goodwill is generally manifested in business but not often in so prominent a manner which reveals to the public generally the public-spirited character of the great institutions and business men of the land.

WARD IS HELD ON CHARGE OF ARSON

Peterboro, Ont., April 24 (CP)—Ernest Chapper, Finland ward of the Peterboro Children's Shelter is being held by provincial police on a charge of arson following the investigation of a fire which broke out early Sunday in the home of John F. Handley, Mt. Pleasant. Ernest Chapper was a domestic in Handley home.

The towing of gliders by aircraft in the United States is prohibited, except with special permission of the Secretary of Commerce.

Louisiana is experimenting with the ultra-violet ray on brood sows to prevent rickets in spring pigs.

CROP REPORTS and BUSINESS SUMMARIES

DURING the season the Bank of Montreal issues periodical reports on crop conditions throughout Canada.

Every month it publishes a "Business Summary" covering business conditions in the Dominion and in the countries where the Bank has offices.

Both of these publications are sent free to all who request to have their names placed on our mailing list.

BANK OF MONTREAL

Established 1817

Total Assets in excess of $900,000,000

Belleville Branch G. A. C. WEIR, Manager
Frankford Branch J. MACLEAN, Manager

APRIL ESCAPADE - - - - BY KATHLEEN NORRIS

The experience was proving ridiculously simple. Nobody seemed to doubt her position or be interested in the exact proof of whatever it was, or seem ed to be. The men finished over cold, cool, amber cars, Mrs. Ridley was a regal, gentle, remote sort of lady, principally concerned just now in the cut for the deal.

Mary Kate had a hilarious rubber game with Dave and the Ainslee brothers. It was just like playing bridge at home with Cass and Martin and some other player, except that now and then she could look up tonight, and see reflected in a great mirror the black satin coats of the three men, and the ivory and satin and glittering hair that was herself.

The Countess and her daughter were playing vociferously at the other tables. Chris played a first rubber with them and then drifted over to Mary Kate's table, and sent Harry Ainslee back to his former place.

"Oh, no; no cut! Mary and I have to be partners."

"Cut for the deal, then. Mrs. Steynes gets it."

"What are you playing for?"

"Only a cent," said Dave Davey, who had never earned one.

"And I'm ahead—look, more than two thousand points!" Mary Kate exulted innocently.

"You bet her bones and she takes her gains—that's the way you wife manages," young Ainslee said feelingly.

Mary always won. Chris said.

They played a hand rubber, for Mary Kate was determined to impress him, and bid desperately and took chances. Hardly was the last point scored when the four enthusiastically commenced again; Christopher said, a reckless game, but on this particular occasion all his risks were justified, and he could sit back in great satisfaction at the end of the game.

"Any more?" Mary Kate asked eagerly.

Well, what do you think? It's now one o'clock."

"It's what?" she was amazed. "Oh, gracious, oughn't we go?"

They left all the table litter for the servants, the girl observed, no body gathered up cards and cards and abandoned score, as somebody would have done in the little parlor at home, nobody straightened chairs and shut up the green cloth.

They all strolled into the adjoining room ,where the card games were also finished and there were genera! good nights.

"I come to lunch with you to-morrow," the girl agreed.

"It will be a big party?"

Mary Kate's eyes moved to Christopher.

"How many did you ask for tomorrow, Chris?"

"I didn't hear you, dear."

"The Countess wants to know how many are coming to lunch tomorrow."

"Oh—? Oh, not many. Dozen, I guess."

"Your good wife does not care?" Madame Yarrowska said with the make bring six of one who would make trouble if she could.

"No," Mary Kate said laughing, "I don't care!"

"Good night, Mrs. Steynes," Mrs. Ridley said abstractedly, still wondering how on earth she could have failed to play the thirteenth spade. "I don't know when I've overlooked a card like that, after all the trouble I had clearing it out! She kept murmuring. Mary Kate mutfled in quilted brocade and white fur now, made the circle of good nights, and was out in the cool fresh air again, with Chris, being escorted carefully down to the car.

"It's over!" she exulted, and then covered between silent gardens and the dim bulk of great trees, under a soft dark blue night sky, toward Ki Hogar.

"It wasn't quite four hundred per cent," Chris said.

"They would not come to lunch tomorrow—the Yarrowskas, I mean; it wasn't fine food! You heard that talk about Marka marrying her cousin? That's enough. That means only one thing. They're through."

"I was frightfully nervous at first," Mary Kate confessed, huddling herself into her furs.

"But there wasn't anything to it was there?"

"No, it's been lots of fun!"

They went into the hacienda, which smelled deliciously of wood smoke, freesia, lilies, lilacs. Dim lights outlined the beauty of chairs and tables in a big bit of gold braid, on a hanging tapestry, winked and crawled in the glow.

Come in here a minute, I want to speak to you," Chris said.

Mary Kate, still hunching herself luxuriously into the brocade and fur, lingered for a moment in the big drawing-room.

"You don't need that coat?"

She flung it off, and stood beside him at the hearth, looking up expectantly. The firelight was pink on the rich dull red of her gown; the beautiful shining waves of her flaming hair were loosed back carelessly from her forehead. Her sapphire eyes were fixed on his face.

"Your mother's living, isn't she?"

"Mother? I'll say she's living!" Mary Kate answered, the irrelevant phrase with a little laugh?

"Father?"

"No, my father died seven years ago Mart was only fourteen. We were in Brooklyn then, and my mother worked in a telegraph office for a while. But then my father's brother—Uncle Miles sent for us to come out here, and when he died he left Mother his house, and two other houses."

"Where are they?"

"Several places, I—"

"And did he leave her well fixed? Comfortable, you know?"

"Well, not exactly. But Mart works, and the children are growing up all the time."

"How many children?"

"Oh, Tom, next to me—he's seventeen."

"And does he work?"

"No. Not yet. He wants to. He wants to work on an airplane, he wants to get into aviation," Mary Kate safe on own ground, answered interestedly. "But he wants me to finish High so he can't really get started."

"And then who comes?"

"Well, then my mother had a little boy named Francis; who died, and then Tess,—she's thirteen, and Regina, seven, and then the baby, Miles Patrick is his name and in school they call him Miles O'Hara, but we call him Pat. Tom calls him the straight and narrow Pat, because he's so tall—"

"What would your brother make, for instance?"

"Mart? He's paid twenty a week. He could make lots more but he's studying to be a doctor. He drives —he's a chauffeur for a doctor, late afternoons, and evenings, and mornings he's at the medical college. And he makes twenty, two a week, comes out about a hundred a month and Mother's rents are sixty each, but she only can draw forty of that, because of taxes and insurance. Mother counts on about two hundred, or two hundred and ten a month," Mary Kate explained readily, "because some of mine has to go for clothes and things."

"Nine feeds seven persons on that?"

"Oh, it isn't the food. We have lots of company, as far as that's concerned," Mary Kate said. "My mother's father," she went on seriously, "used to have a saying, 'no man was ever carried to the poor-house on his dining-room table, and Mother believes that. She loves company! Eut it's the shoes," she added with a significant look, "it's shoes, and plumbers, and if anyone's ill."

She looked at him expectantly. His eyes were upon her, but she knew he was not listening.

"This is what I was thinking," he said suddenly. "Wouldn't it be the very deuce—wouldn't it be the limit, if—"

He caught his breath and stopped. "If what?" Mary Kate asked.

"I've been thinking this all evening Christopher said. "I mean, if you and I fell in love with each other?"

He laughed nervously as he said it. Mary Kate, who had seated herself in a formal high chair of carved black wood, was the more composed of the two.

"I thought of that," she said simply. "It was a natural enough thing to think. I suppose. But—but of course—"

"Of course what?" Christopher said in an odd constrained voice, watching her.

"Well ,of course I'm engaged!" she explained, looking up with a smile. 'And my people have slightly different plans for me!" he added lightly. She did not like the tone; the rich man tone.

"I suppose so!"

"I happen to be an only son and an only grandson!" he went on.

It was not quite saying that she was not good enough for him, but the inference was unavoidable. Mary Kate ignored it.

"I mean, my dear," Chris said easily "that if they knew the whole ridiculous story, you'd know that they'd rise in a mob and slay us both!"

She continued to look dreamily into the fire, carefully indifferent. But she was furious.

"That wasn't in our agreement!" she reminded him elaborately fitting a yawn.

"Exactly!" Chris conceded, without changing his expression. "Sh-sh!" he said, raising his hand, listening.

There were steps in the patio; some body knocked twice on the door, with a heavy iron knocker.

The color drained from Mary Kate's face, leaving it terrified. She shot rose from her chair, one hand clutching at her heart. The clock struck half hour after one.

CHAPTER XIX

"Stay just where you are, Mrs. Christopher said, quickly. "Try nothing—I'll see what it is!"

He went across the room, opened the outer door. The apologetic round face of Don Archibald, one of the guests at the regent dinner party, appeared in the opening.

"This is a hell of a time to come in!" young Archibald said, entering. His evening clothes were rumpled and dusty, his hands and face dirty. "I'm awfully sorry, Chris—" he said.

"But what a relief!" Mary Kate exclaimed, on a long breath.

"What's happened?" Christopher asked.

The caller flung himself into a deep chair, stretched a hand gratefully for the cigarette his host extended. Mary Kate subsided panting, into her own chair.

"I don't see how you dared open that door!" she said to Christopher.

"I knew it was some ass like this," Chris said. He and Don Archibald had been in Princeton together. They grinned amiably at each other.

"I'll tell you," Don said then. "I drove my own car down from San Francisco to Gordon's, do you see? And I started back about half an hour ago. Well, turning into the highway here, suddenly something gave a sort of clank, and—I don't know what happened. But anyway ,the steering gear's on the blink; the front wheels are at right angle, sticking out like that, I get out—I've got a flash—and at first I thought I'd go to the club. But it's as dark as pitch over there, nobody up, and I haven't any clothes, of course. They might have identified me, they might not! I was counting on hiking up to Gordy's, when I saw your light. I knew someone was up!"

"You had a fat nerve!" Chris said, amiably.

"I came up here into your patio I thought you'd hear me falling around on the chairs."

"I'd have taken a shot at you," Christopher assured him. "I have a nice little gun upstairs here."

"Hear 'em talking about burglaries tonight?" Don asked.

"There's been a kind of an epidemic," the host said, with a nod.

Mary Kate sat in a high-backed Spanish chair, feeling suddenly weary and cold. The evening had gone flat. Neither of the men was taking any particular pains to include her in the conversation; they were talking to each other. Since Don Archibald had taken the chair opposite her own, and Chris had handed him his long glass, she might just as well not have been in the room.

Something in this casual disregard hurt her deeply. It was not that she cared about their talk, or wanted to be included in it. But it was puzzling that —after all the gayety and gallantry of their attitude tonight in Gordon Ricantre's house, when she had queened it in ivory satin and pearls,—both seemed to have forgotten her. She was simply —not there.

It occurred to her, with sharp pain and resentment, that she had served her turn; Chris not only did not need her any longer, but he also no longer needed any pretense of curtesy toward her. His last words before Don had entered burned in her mind.

"My dear, if you knew the whole ridiculous story, you'd know that my people would simply rise in a mob and slay us both!"

Uncomfortable, yet unwilling to seem dismissed by their mere manner, she sat on, pretending to listen to their casual talk, most of which was about golf, yachts, polo or poker, and so entirely incomprehensible to her. Mostly she looked unseeing at the fire; now and then she glanced at one or the other as if amused.

"Why do you have to get to town to-night Don?"

"Well, I don't as a matter of fact. I've got an outfit at Gordy's and if you could run me up there—"

Chris looked an interrogation at Mary Kate. His eyes asked, "Shall I tell him?"

The color rose in her pale, tired face, and she returned a granite negative, in a brief shake of the head.

"I'm having the spare room replastered—" Chris began, "or I'd offer you a bed here."

"Oh, I'd have to have a change," young Archibald said.

"We've only got one extra room here, it's a little box of a place, really except for the gallery," Chris pursued.

"Well done!" Archibald applauded, with a significant laugh. Mary Kate, with a sick plunge at her heart, saw that he knew.

"How d'you mean well done?" Chris demanded.

"Gordy told me, I congratulate you, Chris. It was over big!" the other man said. They stared at each other.

"Damn! that old tattle-tale," Chris commented then, without resentment, indeed with a deep grin of amusement.

"It looked to me, and to Gordy, too, as if it had worked like a charm!" Archibald told him, admiringly.

Chris congratulated. Chris complacent.

Herself having nothing to do with it—just the hired masquerader whose whole business was to do their will, Mary Kate's face burned. Her throat was dry and thick, she could not seem to get into the conversation.

"Well, you see why I can't offer you the spare room," Chris said, shrugging, smiling.

"One never knows!" Archibald said, with a deferential little bow. They both laughed loudly.

"Well, of course there's nothing like being an optimist!" Chris observed. "I think it was a grand thing to do," the other man said with relish .

"The thing is, Don, did it work?"

"Did it work? Why, you heard the old girl saying that her daughter would marry a cousin, or someone, in time."

"It sounded good to me—"

"Say, Chris——" drawled the young—er Archibald, with a confidential glance. "How far did you go with Marka, anyway? You seem to be a terror, with the gals."

And all the time she must sit there, dropping, pale, furious, listening helplessly, or slip away, unnoticed like a servant without farewells. To Mary Kate the night began to seem like a horrible dream.

(To Be Continued)

Only metal packages can keep its garden freshness

"SALADA" TEA

"Fresh from the gardens"

ORANGE PEKOE BLEND

Three in Same Family Helped

"My mother was visiting in Detroit a year ago and she was in very poor health. My sister-in-law got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped her more than anything she had taken. She advised me to take it too and I did. My back used to ache and I suffered from pain at times that I could not work. I feel like a new woman and can do my housekeeping and work in the store. I am glad to answer letters."—Mrs. T. V. Hill, Binghampton, Ontario.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

ZAM-BUK Soothes Injuries & Prevents BLOOD-POISON

PREFERRED by those who know

Men who know paint quality specify Scarfe's Paints and Varnishes because they can depend upon them to give lasting satisfaction.

Long, hard wear and an eye-pleasing effect are the result of using these high-quality paints and varnishes.

In a wide range of colours. Ask your dealer for colour-chart and detailed information.

SCARFE'S PAINTS VARNISHES & STAINS

For Sale By CHAS. L. HYDE Belleville, Ont.

Scarfe's Varnishes & Paints SURFACE SATISFACTION

Complete Selection of the Newest Victor Records at DOYLE'S DRUG STORE

Victor Records NOW on sale at 75¢

Bring in a Used Victor Record for each new one and get them for 55¢

PUTTIN' ON THE RITZ
From the Radio Picture "PUTTIN' ON THE RITZ"
ELDO RHEIMAN and his ORCHESTRA
FOX TROT 22306
Also other hits from the Show

"STEIN SONG"
FRED CULLEY and his ROYAL YORK ORCHESTRA
INSTRUMENTAL B-8558

"SHOULD I?"
From the Master Picture "THE DIVINE LADY"
OHMAN and ARDEN and their ORCHESTRA
FOX TROT
PAUL OLIVER

At Any Victor Dealer

His Master's Voice

Victor Records AT YE OLDE FIRME HEINTZMAN & CO. LIMITED 245 Front St. Belleville.

Fifty vaults with steel and concrete walls eight feet thick are a striking feature of the new Bank of England.

Canada's exports of automotive product sin a recent month totalled $1,402,855.

Attacked by Asthma. The first fearful sensation is of suffocation, which soon by fear becomes more dreadful and hopeless. To such a case the relief afforded by Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy seems nothing less than miraculous. Its help is quickly apparent and soon the dreadful attack is mastered. The asthmatic who has tried out the dependability of this sterling remedy will never be without it. It is sold everywhere.

Radium was discovered some 30 years ago and its appearance is not unlike common salt.

Shannonville

Shannonville, April 24 (By Mail)—The members of the Women's Guild of Trinity Church held a business meeting at the home of Mrs. Robert Mark on Thursday evening. After the business had been transacted a delicious lunch was served and a social hour was spent.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Barber of Toronto spent Easter holidays with his parents here.

Miss Dora Dies has returned to Montreal after spending a few days with her parents Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Dies.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Baker and children were week end guests of friends at Bath.

Mr. Wm. Burnett has purchased a new car.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Vivian entertained company from Kingston on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold McLaren and Mr. Wm. McLaren of Belleville spent Good Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Thompson.

Mr. Ross Fuller of Oshawa spent the week end here with his wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Gould of Point Anne spent Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sid Fitzgerald.

Mrs. Randall Smith is still confined to her bed through illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Stevens of Oshawa have returned to their home after spending Easter with Mr. and Mrs. Ben Fuller.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bell of Frankford spent the tea hour Sunday night with Mr. and Mrs. Jack McDonald.

A number of our local sportsmen took in the boxing at the armouries on Monday night at Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Houston and family called on friends in Napanee on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carman Spencer entertained company from Belleville on Sunday.

An Oil Without Alcohol—Some oils and many medicines have alcohol as a prominent ingredient. A judicious mingling of six essential oils compose Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and there is no alcohol in it, so that its effects are lasting.

The Feminine Viewpoint

BARISTAN RUGS PLEASED QUEEN

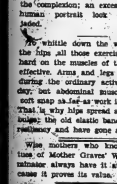
When Her Majesty Queen Mary and Princess Mary were inspecting the exhibits at the British Industries Fair, Her Majesty was much attracted by the display of Baristan Rugs. "Oh, I do like the sheen of those carpets," she exclaimed. Extracts from English paper go on to state that The Queen and Princess Mary were so attracted by the rich appearance and beauty of the rugs that they requested further information for their own private use.

A lovely Baristan Rug, pattern 104, color 6, has been selected by H. R. H. The Duchess of York. The rug is to be placed in the room of the British Empire's beautiful little Princess Elizabeth.

THE BEAUTY BOX

Beauty's applecart is always being upset, skinny girls need to be subject to wisecracks and long, so-called jumpers, is handed to the plump, dumplings. Tan was an affliction over which a woman wept and wept, she goes out and tint it or applies a synthetic appearance of duskiness. The high fore head, covered with curls, and bean-catchers, comes out into the light of day and is regarded as a beauty point.

Any woman whose brain has clear eyesight would know just how much wear, paint she can get away with. A suggestion of rouge adds freshness to the complexion; an excess makes the human portrait look coarse and faded.



So whittle down the waistline and the hips all those exercises that pull hard on the muscles of the torso are effective. Arms and legs get exercise during the ordinary activities of the day, but abdominal muscles have a soft snap all over as it is concerned. That is why hips spread and tummies bulge; the old elastic bands have lost resiliency and have gone saggy.

Wise mothers who know the virtue of Corset Graves' Supporter administer always have it at hand, because it proves its value.

Hundreds of tons of potatoes are rotting in fields near Ballymoney, Ireland, because the growers say prices are a clo w t does not pay to dig them.

Fashion Flashes

By Alice Aldon

HAND AND FOOT WITH STYLE

Style goes hand and foot through the Spring mode. Because of the very diversity of fabrics and the intricate details of ornamentation, accessories are of new seasonal importance. The items sketched above reveal some of the latest accessory developments.

The beige suede gloves for instance are decorated by an unusual insert of pleated green suede which produces a slight flare above the wrists. A tiny bow of green also serves to illustrate that even slippers and gloves have taken this year. Fabric hose being shown in both wool and cotton, designed to complete the ensemble. One such is that at centre left of linen in light and dark blue, the darker shade being used for straps which close the leg by slipping through a metal slide. Black suede and crystal is an innovation as shown in the bag at right. The crystal is used for the bar that ends in two round balls. The open pumps are in navy kid and fashioned with tabs and laces of beige snakeskin.

Fashionably By Speaking Lucille

DEAR READERS:

Hurry-up refreshments are something that every hostess, young or old, should be able to produce, for how many of us can do this gracefully in the presence of our guests, without fuss or trouble. Very few, dear reader and most of us when an unexpected guests turns up exclaim to ourselves, "What on earth am I going to serve?" And how many times one of the good-ness and hospitality of your heart have you invited someone over for tea or for after-theatre refreshments, and immediately afterwards wondered just how you were going to satisfy their appetite?

It is such a nice feeling to know that your larder can well take care of these guests, but take it from me it is nicer still when that larder is pretty slim to have at the tips of your fingers a few standard hurry-up refreshments that can be made in a minute. Don't you agree? How many of you have thought of sandwiches as hurry-up refreshments? Always have on the tea chest some emergency sandwich fillings in airtight containers, and your hurry-up luncheon will cause you no qualms. Often we find ourselves without cake of odd bits, maybe a piece of me! reader, by always having on hand a frugt cake, and remember not to use it when you have time to prepare something else. This ensures cake for your guests, no matter how unexpected their arrival. Cookies are something that are always acceptable at a tea or luncheon.

Today's Poem

THE HOUSEKEEPER MEDITATES

How wonderful to be a queen
With purple robes of silken sheen
And twenty maids to do the chores
Make beds and cook and sweep the floors!

Never a worry or a care
To vex my tranquil, queenly air.

How wonderful! And yet, and yet...
How would I know the sponge was set

To make the rolls for Thursday night
That way Dad likes them feather-light?

How would I know the apple tarts
Were baked in crusts cut out like hearts?

And who would dust the back-hall stair
And put the bedding out to air?

A queen, of course, could never delight
To soak an ink-stained counterpane
So it is just as well, maybe,
Life did not make a queen of me!

—Aline Michaelis

If you are fond of cooking, make them yourself and leave them in the refrigerator. If you do not like the domestic art, why by all means buy them at your local confect oners. In these modern days, quite delightful tea cookies can be bought for almost as little as it costs to make them.

Then of course toast is always good in an emergency, and what is more appetizing and delightful than Toast and Marmalade or Jam, Orange Toast or Cinnamon Toast. These delicacies are acceptable to the most particular of guests and are easily prepared.

Cheese is something that every hostess should always keep on hand, it's uses are so varied and the good things you can fake with it are numerous. Cheese, toast, lookie cheese sandwiches, cheese rolls, and so on. Doesn't it make you hungry just to read aoout it?

Next comes the question of beverages. Which shall it be, tea, coffee, cocoa, or hot chocolate? This remains entirely with your guests, all are easy to make and you should let their taste rule the decision. Do not make the tea until everything else is in readiness, so that it may be freshly steeped. Coffee should percolate at least eight minutes. Hot chocolate and cocoa can be made attractive by adding whipped cream to each cup. Do not have marshmallows on hand, just drop one on the top of each delicious cup-ful and allow it to melt. Delicious! Now these reign for you lyrite the Jones' couple in tonight after your theatre party? Wan best wishes for a pleasant social evening, I remain,

Fashionably yours,
"LUCILLE"

Today's Beauty Hint

Her heart leaped. Someone standing there, fitting the key in the lock. Blue of white face. A man's form running over the stairs.

Nell's voice, shaking—incredulous, "Ardeth,..... it is you?"

Wistful and smothered excitement pounding oer heart. Out of the past .....Nell! Nell, tall, before her! His white face—black eyes boring down into her own.

Nell Has Changed

"I thought I was dreaming hearing your step on the sidewalk—I'd rnow it anywhere. I listened for you so long..... Then with smothered cover. "Why are you here, Ardeth? Why did you come?"

His very force repelled her as it had always done. She found herself repenting the whim which sent her back here into the past. Her tone was defensively light.

"Oh—just taking a walk to get the cobwebs out of my brain. I'm indoors so much and I'm so busy. Just happened to find myself walking down this way—"

He breathless silence when each studied the other. A thrill went through the girl at the dynamic force of him. Physical subjection from the Nell she remembered. Black hair falling in a heavy shock over his white forehead. Black eyes looking from straight black brows.

She found herself suddenly eager to get away. Fumbling with her purse. Trying to rebution her glove.

Into a Trap

"So you came back, Ardeth—" Nell was saying softly.

She tried to treat it lightly. "They

GIRL UNAFRAID

BY

Gladys Johnson

To Ardeth the loneliness was harder to bear after that glimpse of Ken and the baby.

In the daytime it was not so bad. Then she was busy with the shop and the customers. But at night—when Ah Ling had slipped into her smart sports coat, pulled her new pour over the marcelled waves of her hair and departed for her Chinatown home, then the real specter of loneliness crept in to fill the small, quiet store.

The big chair under the lamp spoke of Ken..... She did not like to see Tom sitting there when he called on her in the evenings.

Many nights now, when she lay staring wide-eyed into the dark, listening to the mice scampering in the store room. To the footsteps of some late wanderer passing the door. Seeing the first gray traces of dawn creeping through the little alley window.

Loneliness Everywhere

Loneliness..... almost tangible..... filling the shop like a dread presence driving her out to walk the streets like a homeless thing.

When the dark mood struck it had no pity. Nothing could lighten it. Tom's clumsy kindnesses filled her with secret exasperation. No comfort sense. No company in Carolyn Forsythe's prune, bright home.

She wandered through the dark like an exile, her heart swelling with unshed tears.

Why had this dreary emptiness fallen to her lot? she asked herself in hot rebellion. Why had unhappiness struck like a blight across these warm young years, rendering them sterile and forlorn?

She had the desperate need of clinging to something. Of belonging. It was this, perhaps which sent her out night after night, wandering through the old neighborhood of the Harrison flat.

Not since that stormy night two years ago had she been here. Fell street..... the Fell street of her childhood—darker than ever.

Nell Appears

The corner grocery store with sel lar steps guarded by an iron rail, where she had hidden in hide and seek games with Nell. Filled as always with sodden newspapers and rubbish ..... Rows of wooden boxes, shabby beer cases, wastebaskets. Dads, she remembered them. The corner where Ken had always stopped the car. Down there—in the middle of the block in grey ugliness, the Harrison flat. Long bleak windows. The warped wooden steps.

The front door, banded with panes of colored glass. She remembered how she and Nel had pressed their faces first to one pane, then another, looking out on a street turned unearthly purple, or murky red or a dismal and cold blue.

The doorway was like a black cave, thick with gloom.

Speaking of Health

Correct Manners

Mrs. Celia Beckman

Accepting Gifts of Jewelry

DEAR MRS BEECKMAN:

Last Christmas a young girl I know gave the young man she has been going with some handkerchiefs, and in return he gave her a wrist watch. She has been wearing it since, as she was told by many people that it was all right to wear it. She is not engaged as yet. She has since met a new young man whom she would like to go with. Is it necessary to return the wrist watch?

EVA

Here we have the same old difficulty about a girl's accepting this kind of gift from a man to whom she is not engaged. It almost invariably leads to some such embarrassment especially if the girl has a nature that is sensitive to a delicate point of view. The wrist watch should, of course, never have been accepted—and then there would have been no involvement now. However, having accepted the watch, the girl would now have to give some very definite reason for its return. If she wishes to terminate the friendship and wishes to make this the reason for the return of the watch, I suppose that this would be the most plausible thing for her to do now. But in no event that I can see will the return of the watch be as easy and simple and direct as if she had returned it when she should have.

(Mrs. Beeckman will be glad to answer questions on etiquette submitted by readers.)

SKINNY MEN GAIN 5 LBS. IN 30 DAYS

Feel Superbly Healthy With Marvelous New Vitality and Strength—or Money Back.

McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets—so rich in health-promoting, invigorating and rejuvenating elements that's the secret how so many thin, anemic men are adding sturdy, rugged flesh on their bony frames—how they're building up amazing power of endurance, great vitality and energy.

Cod Liver Extract tablets are prescribed for years by world's greatest physical authorities from the Neil she remembered. Black hair falling in a heavy shock over his white forehead. Black eyes looking from straight black brows.

She found herself suddenly eager to get away. Fumbling with her purse. Trying to rebution her glove.

Into a Trap

"So you came back, Ardeth—" Nell was saying softly.

She tried to treat it lightly. "They say the murderer comes back to the scenes of his crime. What do you hear of the Harrison flat?"

He told her, impatient at the turn she had given the conversation.

Her was engaged. Going to be married next Spring. Tom had hurt his hand—they had been afraid of blood poisoning, but he was all right now. Aunt Stel had gone up on the river with Fan and Paul for the last school vacation.

And all the time the man's burning black eyes were drinking her in, drawing her down into his heart as though he would never let her go.

Abruptly, "You'll come in, Ardeth? Tommy's feast on the brakes if she knew you'll come by without coming in to see her."

She wanted to refuse. She was suddenly filled with panic. She crushed it down and went into the dark house with him, feeling the years drop away at toe remembered smell of the musty hall. Filled with the ridiculous fancy that she was walking into a trap.

Tonic Food Beverage

Builds up Brain, Nerve and Body

As all good stores in Can., Tin, $1.25 and family size $2.50 each, also Malted Milk or cold as soda Fountains. 158

The Lovable Fragrance

There is nothing in all the world of beauty that can take the place of the Lovable Fragrance of the Yardley Lavender. Wistful, winsome, caressing—its charm is all its own. Since 1770 it has lent its sweet vivacity to beauty—and consoled with the very breath of peace the weary, the sad, and the sick.

YARDLEY LAVENDER

The Lovable Fragrance

From 65c the bottle, of all good drug and department stores

YARDLEY
8 New Bond Street
LONDON
550-562 Adelaide St. W.
TORONTO
& at Paris & New York

EX-NEWSIE HAS STARTED CAREER

Helress Who Ready To Try Her Hand At Writing

Toronto, April 25 (C.P.)—Alfred Cecil Durban, ex-Pelzestone newsie and now husband of Vivienne Huntington, heiress to the Huntington fortune, has commenced his career as an electrical engineer and his wife is eager to help. She intends to try her hand at writing, fiction preferably, and is at a loss only when it comes to choosing a subject. "If I only knew what kind of a story would appeal to Canadians it would be a beginning," she confided to newspapermen today. Mrs. Durban dening her mother had cut her off from her legacy. "And the reason that if we have any children I shall be disinherited is also false," she added. "The clause referred to states that in the case of a child being born the principal cannot be touched till the child comes of age."

Bonar Law

Bonar Law, April 24 (By Mail)—Mr. Clarence Williams motored to Peterboro on Wednesday.

Mr. Clarence McKeown of Rochester visited his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. S. McKeown here on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Wellman, Miss Margaret Pwran were Sunday visitors at r. Ernest Browns, Harold.

Friends of Mr. Will McKeown who is on the sick list hope for a speedy recovery.

Miss Grace Stiles has returned to Belleville again.

Housecleaning seems to be the order of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Barlow, Mr. and Mrs. Roy McCabe and Donna of Harold were Sunday visitors at Mr. J. S. McKeown's.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Burke and family visited Mr. and Mrs. Harry Grills of Campbellford on Sunday.

Mr. Dave Wellman was in Sunday visitor on business on Wednesday.

Miss Emma Tobion spent the week end with her mother in Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sutherford and family of Belleville Mr. and Mrs. Scott of Campbellford visited Mrs. Adeline Sutherford on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Murton Baker are wearing smiles. It's a girl.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Reid, Mrs. Wellington of Madoc visited Mrs. A. H. Reid on Sunday.

CANADIAN PACIFIC
CANADA'S GREATEST STEAMSHIPS

SAILINGS FROM MONTREAL
To Cherbourg-Southampton-London
May 7 May 28 ..... Montclare
May 15 ..... Montrose
To Havre-London-Antwerp
May 8 June 5 ..... Metagama
May 22 ..... Montcalm
To Glasgow-Liverpool-Belfast
*May 2 ..... Duchess of Richmond
May 9 ..... Duchess of Bedford
*May 16 ..... Duchess of York
May 17 ..... Melita
May 23 ..... Duchess of Atholl
*Calls at Liverpool only.
‡Does not call at Liverpool.
FROM QUEBEC
To Cherbourg-Southampton-London
May 3 May 26 Empress of Scotland
May 14 ..... Empress of France
May 21 ..... Empress of Australia.
FROM VANCOUVER
To Hawaii-Japan-China-Philippines
May 9 ..... Empress of Russia
May 29 ..... Empress of Asia
*June 13 ..... Empress of Canada
*Calls at Honolulu.
Apply Local Agents or
J. H. MACKAY, General Agent
Canadian Pacific Bldg.
Toronto

Centre

Centre, April 24 (By Mail)—The funeral of Mrs. J. Howell was largely attended on Thursday afternoon at the residence. Rev. Mr. Ross had charge of the service. The bearers were C. Young, H. Young, F. Thompson, J. Delaney, W. Giles and J. Cairns.

Easter services on Sunday evening for W. M. S. was well attended. The church being well filled below. Special music, etc. was enjoyed by all.

Several from Centre attended Easter service at Redneerville Sunday morning.

The choir of Centre enjoyed a "sugar off" at Herbert Pulver's on Tuesday evening.

Miss Beaie Profit, the public school teacher is spending her holidays with her parents at Peterboro.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Munro of Crofton visited at Willis Pose's on Sunday.

Mrs. Sarah Ferguson of Toronto is visiting relatives in the vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Townsend entertained friends from Napanee for Easter.

TO-NIGHT SINK RESTFULLY TO SLEEP

OVALTINE overcomes sleeplessness—even acute cases of Insomnia. Taken just before you retire, it soothes raw nerves, allays digestive unrest, and brings sound, natural sleep.

Ovaltine is free from drugs or narcotics. It is made by an exclusive process from ripe barley malt, fresh eggs, and creamy milk. It is a scientifically nourishing food for body and brain. As a night-cap, to bring you sound sleep, or as a meal-time beverage, it gives you health and vitality.

WARNING
Genuine Ovaltine is obtainable only from Chemists. There are no "substitutes" for Ovaltine. This perfect food is recommended by doctors throughout the world.

OVALTINE
TONIC FOOD BEVERAGE
BUILDS UP BRAIN, NERVE AND BODY
As all good stores in Can., Tin, $1.25 and family size $2.50 each, also Malted Milk or cold as soda Fountains. 158

Be Proud of Your Stove's Good Looks!

enjoy the satisfaction of having a stove that looks as well as it cooks! ZEBRA will keep it new and glowy through years of use.

ZEBRA
LIQUID STOVE POLISH
RECKITT'S (Overseas) LIMITED
MONTREAL TORONTO VANCOUVER

District News Gathered by our Correspondents

Northbrook Home Totally Barned

Stephen Sedore Heavy Loser When Dwelling Was Consumed

Tweed, April 24 (By Mail)—The Easter holidays are appreciated by the school children.

The funeral of the late Mr. Paul Chasibo of Sulphide which was held at St. Carthagh's Church Tweed on April the 15th, was largely attended.

Mr. John Houston of Belleville was a recent caller in town.

Mrs. Jas. Arbuckle and daughter Bernice of Belleville were guests in town last week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Denike of Belleville spent the week end visiting friends in this vicinity.

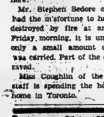
Miss Helen Doyle of Belleville spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Grimm.

Mrs. C. S. Boots has returned to her home at Smith's Falls after spending a few days with Mrs. A. Yule.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Hunter and daughter Kathryn spent the holiday in Toronto.

Mr. Earl Benny of the Montreal Bank staff spent the holiday at his home in Kaladar.

Mr. F. Amey of the Royal Bank staff spent the week end with his parents at Kingston.



Miss Bessie Gordon of Toronto University is spending the holidays under the parental roof.

Miss Helena McCue of Toronto and Mrs. Bradley of Nowan are visiting their parents Mr. and Mrs. S. B. McCue.

Miss Alison Moffat of Ottawa is spending the holidays at her home here.

Mr. Stephen Sedore of Northbrook had the misfortune to have his home destroyed by fire at an early hour Friday morning, it is understood that only a small amount of insurance was carried. Part of the contents were saved.

Miss Coughlin of the High School staff is spending the holidays at her home in Toronto.

An accurate, dependable watch of lasting beauty and charm. A smart watch at appealing prices.

J.O.R. McCurdy
Phone 518 274 Front St.

Tulips, Daffodils and Hyacinths
and other Spring Flowers now in profusion at Potter's
THE MARKET SQUARE
Phone 516

Tulips, Daffodils and Hyacinths
and other Spring Flowers, now in profusion AT Potter's
THE MARKET SQUARE
PHONE 516

RADIO
RADIO REPAIRING and SERVICE
All Makes
Phone 188
THE JOHN LEWIS Co., Ltd.

DOMINION OF CANADA INCOME TAX

DUE APRIL 30th

Only 5 more days to make your return and avoid penalties

THE DEPARTMENT OF NATIONAL REVENUE
Income Tax Division
OTTAWA

HON. W. D. EULER, Minister of National Revenue
C. S. WALTERS, Commissioner of Income Tax

Frankford Loses Active Woman

Closing of Village Paper Mill Throws Many Out of Work

Frankford, April 24 (By Mail)—On Tuesday, April 8th, Clara Zenada Vandervoort beloved wife of Mr. Edward J. Prentice passed into the great beyond.

The late Mrs. Prentice was well known as she has lived here the greater part of her life. She was in her 55th year.

She was one of Frankford's most active Church workers, she being Treasurer of the Ladies' Aid and was an active worker in the choir when needed.

She was a member of the Glenford Rebekah Lodge No. 230.

The funeral was held on Friday, April 10 under the auspices of the Glenford Rebekah Lodge. Service was held in the United Church by her pastor, the Rev. Mr. Doggett. Interment in Frankford Cemetery.

She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, one son, Clarence and four sisters, Mrs. Allen Latta, Sidney Mrs. Les. Elliott, Norwood, Mrs. Dave Coyle, Rochester, N. Y., Mrs. Jas. Coyle, Colborne, Ont., also two brothers Will of Havelock and Dora of Frankford.

The bearers were A. Munn, M. Smith, Geo. Bell, Jas. Smith, Albert Bell, D. R. Ketcheson.

The floral offerings showed the esteem in which the deceased was held.

Last week every person working at the Canadian Paperboard, Pulp and Paper Mill located here, received notice that their services would no longer be required after April 30.—

This indicates that Frankford is to loose its leading industry and will leave about 125 men out of employment.

Mrs. P. Finnigan has returned home after visiting her son and wife Mr. and Mrs. Earl Finnigan at Weston.

Mr. Geo. Monigomery of Hoard's spent a day recently with Mr. and Mrs. C. Rowley.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Hanna and family spent an evening last week the guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. Howard, Trenton.

Misses Helena Ross and Freda Rodgers spent a day with the former's uncle Mr. C. Frost.

Mr. J. Carlisle and sister spent a few days with their brother and wife Mr. and Mrs. J. Carlisle.

Mr. T. L. Johnson was in Tweed on business last week.

The many friends of Mr. J. M. Bell principal of the High School, will be pleased to learn he is able to resume his duties.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bell of Campbellford spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bush.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Potter, also Mr. A. Sickle spent Sunday at Mr. H. Ross's.

Miss Georgina Woods is spending a couple of weeks with her sister Mrs. E. Whitley, Ville St. Piere, Que.

Mr. Howard Montgomery of Hamilton spent a day with relatives here.

Mr. J. W. Potter of Gunter was a business visitor here one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bleecker of Campbellford are spending a couple of days with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bleecker.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Cox of Bloomfield were Sunday callers at Mr. O. E. Bine's.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Harris, also Mr. and Mrs. F. Hart of Belleville spent Sunday the guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Bine.

A Texas is able to live on the income of his six-acre farm.

Wooler

Wooler, April 24 (By Mail)—Mrs. C. R. Terrill is in Belleville Hospital undergoing treatment.

Mr. Clinton and Miss Neta Ellis of Toronto are spending the holidays with their parents Mr. and Mrs. P. Ellis.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Austin were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. Ellis, Austin.

Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Scott and family spent Sunday in Brighton.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Wessels entertained guests from Trenton on Sunday.

Miss Ethel Gunter of Stella is holidaying with her parents Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Gunter.

Mr. and Mrs. Lye Leavitt and family spent Sunday at Consecon.

Miss Edith Austin is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Carr Frankford.

Mrs. Bob Read is spending the week end with her mother in Campbellford

Mrs. Francis Stacey and baby spent Saturday with her sister Mrs. N. Hagerty of Trenton.

Master Billy Mitchell of Trenton is spending a few days with his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Easterly.

Mr. Daisy High School teacher is spending his holidays at his home in Bancroft.

Mr. and Mrs. Angus Gunter spent Sunday with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Nelson.

Plainfield

Plainfield, April 24 (By Mail)—Service was held in the United Church here Good Friday morning, Mr. Wootton in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Parks spent a few days with relatives at Tweed.

Mrs. Julian Moore has been visiting friends in Belleville.

Mrs. Albert Weir and Gladys spent last Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Doll.

Mrs. Marshall has returned home having spent last week at Thomasburg.

The Young People's meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harrison last Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hamm spent a few days with Mrs. M. Hubel last week.

Miss Carrie Parks spent the week end under the parental roof.

Mr. and Mrs. Hinchcliffe were Sunday visitors at Mr. Frank Hazard's.

The W. M. S. held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Clarence Hall last Wednesday.

Mrs. S. McKibbon and Meshit of Picton spent Easter with Mrs. E. Parley and Miss O. Gillespie.

Miss Ida McDavitt spent last Sunday with Mr. Charles McDavitt of Consecon.

Miss Mary Maynes of Toronto spent her holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Maynes.

Mrs. Harry McCreary is on the sick list.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hall visited friends in Belleville on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Collins and Blake were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hall.

Rev. and Mrs. Black and Aileen were calling in the village on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. David Hubel and Mr. and Mrs. Murney Hubel called on Mrs. M. Hubel Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Latta have returned home having spent the winter in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harrison spent Sunday at Castleton.

Mrs. Joe Gowe is gaining nicely after her serious illness.

Wise mothers who know the virtues of Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator always have it at hand, because it proves its value.

Plan May Meeting Women's Institute

River Valley, April 24 (By Mail)—Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Montgomery and children, Mr. and Mrs. James Montgomery spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Ross Bush.

Miss Alice Reasman is spending the holidays under the parental roof.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Chard and sons took dinner on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Thompson at Stirling.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Burkitt were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Bush.

Miss Marion Daniels, Foxboro, spent a few days with her cousin, Miss Dorothy Usman.

Misses Helen and Nora Donohoe, Toronto are spending their holidays at the home of their mother, Mrs. J. Donohoe.

Mrs. Mary Vandervoort is spending few days at the home of her brother, Mr. Arthur Bush, Glen Miller.

The May meeting of the River Valley W. I. will be held at the home of Mrs. Gladstone Parks, next Thursday, May 1st.

Miss Alta Hanna spent Tuesday with Miss Adeline Bush.

Stirling

Stirling, April 24 (By Mail)—Miss Ruth Read of Port Perry spent a few days this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Belshaw.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Jackson and Elsie are spending the holidays at Alvinston.

Mr. Murray McGee of Toronto was a holiday visitor of his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McGee.

Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Carleton spent Saturday at the home of the former's parents at Roslin.

Mr. Bert Osborne of the Bank of Montreal staff at Brampton spent the holidays at his home here.

Miss Winnie Croskey and Mr. Jack Croskey of Toronto spent Easter with their sister Mrs. Ray Atkin.

Mr. Cecil Walt of Toronto spent the week end the guest of his parents Dr. and Mrs. C. P. Walt.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Bastedo and children are spending a few days at Bracebridge.

Mrs. McWilliams and daughter are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Belshaw.

Mr. S. N. Oliver of Toronto was a Stirling visitor on Monday.

Mr. Bernard Truscott of Georgetown was a Stirling visitor over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wilson have returned home after spending the past few days in Hamilton.

Miss Lucy Williams and Misses Gladys and Dorothy Joblin are holidaying in Toronto this week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Buckingham and children of Greenwood spent the holiday at the home of Dr. F. Zwick.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Murdoff and children spent the week end at Hagers Ville.

Mrs. J. D. Morrie, Miss Dollie Morrie and Mr. Norman Morrie of Toronto spent the week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. McOuire.

Mrs. Budge of Hagersville is spending a few days at the home of her daughter Mrs. A. S. Murdoff.

Miss Blanche Bailey of Toronto was the guest of her sister Mrs. J. G. Bullin over the week end.

Mr. Eric Mumby was a Toronto visitor over the week end.

Ameliasburg

Ameliasburg, April 24 (By Mail)—Margaret and Gordon Hough Toronto are spending the Easter holidays with Mr. Roy Anderson's.

Mrs. John Brickman is spending a few days with Mrs. Harry Farley's.

Mr. and Mrs. George Smith and family were Easter Sunday guests at Mr. Wilfred Gray's, Trenton.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Waite and Mrs. George Kelly spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. George Gray.

Irene Smith and Irene Holmes called on Pauline Kelly Monday afternoon.

Mrs. M. Crosby entertained company on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Smith, Allisonville were Sunday guests at Mr. Alex Gilmour's, and Belle Gilmour went home with them for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Balgoly, Victoria were Sunday evening callers of Mr. A. Tompkins.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Dempsey took dinner with Mr. Roy Wannamaker's on Monday.

Miss Bird, Cannifton is spending a few days with Mary Caldwell.

A number of the women started transplanting tomato plants in Redmerville canning factory last Tuesday.

Mrs. Gallpin entertained company on Sunday.

Zion's Hill

Zion, April 24 (By Mail)—On Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Andrew Cranston a dinner and quilting was held by the ladies of the W. M. S. in aid of the Flower Fund.

The farmers in this vicinity are busy getting the ground ready for Spring seeding.

DON'T IGNORE WARNING SIGNALS

Headaches, Listlessness, Bad Breath, Backaches, Indigestion —Stop Them with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

This is a serious matter. You must conquer constipation! Stop it at once before its poisons get in their deadly work.

Nearly 90% of all sickness has its origin in irregular elimination. If you neglect the symptoms—constant fatigue, bad breath, headaches and coated tongue—you may be laying yourself open to permanent ill-health.

There's a natural, easy way to free yourself from this terrible scourge, once and forever. By eating regularly a delicious cereal —Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Physicians recommend ALL-BRAN because its action is different from pills and drugs. Ordinary cathartics give only temporary relief, and are often habit-forming.

ALL-BRAN acts naturally, gently. Its roughage sweeps the system clean of poisonous wastes and impurities.

And ALL-BRAN is a great aid to health in other ways. It contains abundant iron which enriches the blood, builds strength and the glowing color of health. Whip milk or cream—or in fruit juices—it brings important vitamins to the diet.

You'll find the flavor of ALL-BRAN delightful. A crisp, ready-to-eat cereal, with a nut-like flavor.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to keep you free from both temporary and recurring constipation if you eat it according to directions on every package.

Ignoring constipation is like playing with dynamite. Start serving Kellogg's ALL-BRAN now. Sold by all grocers in the red-and-green package. It is served in restaurants, hotels and dining-cars. Ask for it by name.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

The regular meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Lee Ketcheson on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Lloyd visited friends in Stirling on Sunday.

Miss Alice Fleming of Stirling visited her sister Mrs. Arthur Stevenson on Sunday.

Quite a number from this line attended the Conservative Club meeting held at Cannifton on Friday evening.

Miss Eva Stevenson of Peterboro is spending her holidays with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stevenson.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Lloyd were in Madoc on Saturday attending the funeral of her aunt, Mrs. Victoria Hoover widow of the late David Hoover.

Mr. Kenneth Bird of Belleville visited his sisters, Mrs. Cecil and Mrs. Clifford Ketcheson.

Persian Balm—the one toilet requisite for the dainty woman. Delightful to use. Leaves no stickiness. Swiftly absorbed by the tissues. Delicately fragrant. Imparts a velvety loveliness to be complexion. Tones up the skin. Soothes and banishes all unpleasant roughness or chafing caused by wind and other weather conditions. Makes hands soft and white. Creates an elusive, essentially feminine charm. Persian Balm is indispensable to women of refinement.

LET US TURN YOUR MONEY INTO MERCY

SELF DENIAL

SELF DENIAL

The Salvation Army

The greatest human agency for good in the World will "Turn Your Money Into Mercy"

If you could but understand this great organization who reach out to the thousands of unfortunates, not only here, but throughout the entire world—bringing joy where there is sorrow, peace where there is despair—you would at this period of give too, so that this work—this great work for the spiritual and physical uplift of humanity, may continue.

"SELF-DENIAL"

Self-Denial Week

Donations may be sent to Commissioner Hay, 20 Albert Street, Toronto, or to the Local Corps Commanding Officer of your own town.

The Salvation Army

FOURTEEN PAGES

The Ontario Intelligencer

THE WEATHER
Moderate variable winds, fair and somewhat milder today and Sunday.

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, SATURDAY, APRIL 26, 1930.

33 Prosecutions Ordered Against A.B.C.

O'CONNOR LAUNCHES SUIT AFTER SEARCHES

Damages Sought in Suits Instituted at Osgoode Hall

MENTION MALICE

Announcement of Prosecutions Made By A. G. Slaght

WINDSOR, Ont., April 26'—(CP) — Thirty-three prosecutions have been ordered as the result of the investigation into the Amalgamated Building Council, the subject of a Royal Commission enquiry conducted by Gordon Waldron, K.C., of Toronto, last year, it was announced today.

Windsor, Ont., April 26—Prosecutions will follow raids by Royal Canadian Mounted Police officers on the branch offices of the Amalgamated Builders Council, at Toronto, London and Windsor yesterday, it was announced today by A. G. Slaght, K.C., of Toronto, counsel for the Minister of Justice.

Action Launched

As the result of a raid by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police on the office of W. F. O'Connor, K.C., who acted as counsel for Louis Singer, K.C., during the investigation into the activities of the Amalgamated Builders Council, Mr. O'Connor instituted suit at Osgoode Hall today against A. G. Slaght, K.C., J. C. McRuer, K.C., who directed the raids on behalf of the solicitor general at London and Windsor yesterday. Officer Veitch of the R.C.M.P. who visited the O'Connor office yesterday was also named as defendant.

The damages are demanded for malicious prosecution, conspiracy to maliciously prosecute and for trespass. No amount was stated.

Night Fishers Land in Court

Many Charged By Game And Fisherie's Inspectors in Two Courts

Every spring thousands of pickerel, pike and suckers journey up the inland waters to deposit their spawn and every spring there are those supposed anglers, who poach, scoop and grapple for these unprotected creatures. Night spearing is the worst offence that can be committed against the Game and Fisheries Act and Irvine J. Lyons, inspector for this district has been a busy man while fish have been running.

His 40ers were not without reward and today in police court before Magistrate Masson three young men of the city, appeared charged with illegal fishing between sunset and sunrise. Two of them pleaded guilty and were fined $10.00 without costs while another pleaded not guilty and was remanded for one week until evidence could be brought by Inspector to prove the charge. The revetment wall was the chief stamping ground of these midnight offenders and the inspector stated today that millions of fish were destroyed annually by the spearing and grappling.

Two others whose names were called did not answer the summons and warrants for their arrest will be issued.

Yesterday afternoon at Napanee Inspector Lyons held court before Magistrate Graham of Napanee and fifteen were summoned. All pleaded guilty and were fined $10.00 and costs. A close season for pickerel exists in the inland waters in this county until May 1st and a close season in Northumberland.

(Continued on page 3)

Arsenal Defeat Huddersfield for Soccer Championship

COLLIER SUNK IN COLLISION IN FOG IN MOUTH OF ELBE

HAMBURG, April 26—(CP)—The United States liner President Harding, inward bound and making for the mouth of the Elbe river, collided in the fog off Heligoland today with the British collier Kirkwood, which sank, resident Harding rescued all of the Kirkwood's crew with the exception of one fireman who was missing.

$136,068.62 IS REQUISITIONED FOR EDUCATION

Board Endorses Action of Principal Regarding Student

NURSE'S REPORT

Trustees Mourn Death Of Their Associate Dog G. Bleecker

To run the five public schools and the Belleville Collegiate and Vocation al School for the year will require $136,068.72, the Finance Committee of the Board of Education reported last night at the regular monthly meeting. $73,777.00 will be used for the Public Schools and the balance, a matter of $62,291.72, will be for the Collegiate and Vocational School. The necessary three readings for the requisition were given last night, and the by-law will be presented to the City Clerk within the next few days, and will be dealt with then by the City Council. This was the most important matter which confronted the Board at their meeting last night.

Mr. John Elliott, chairman of the Finance Committee, and former chair man of the Board, was granted leave of absence for three months. Mr. Elliott will be in England and Ireland for that length of time.

Probe over Keys

As a direct consequence of a report from Mr. H. J. Clarke, Inspector of Public Schools, the Queen Alexandra School Committee will investigate several occurrences at the school after school hours. It is stated that there are several keys to the school in the

(Continued on Page 3)

PRINCE EDWARD DEANERY MEET

On Thursday the semi-annual meeting of the Deanery of Prince Edward Deanery of which Rev. C. E. Clarke is Dean and Rev. A. L. Green is Secretary-Treasurer, was held in Christ Church, at 10 a.m. There was holy communion conducted by Reverend Canon Bidwell, at 11 a.m. A very interesting and instructive talk was given by the Reverend Dr. Seymour of St. Andrew's Church, for which hearty thanks were tendered him by the chairter. At noon the members were entertained at Christ Church Rectory. The afternoon session was taken up with routine business. Sincere regret were expressed at the forced absence of Rural Dean Bedford, owing to a painful accident, also of Rev. Mr. Kirkpatrick, who is in Kingston hospital.

IN TOUCH WITH BANDITS

TORONTO, April 26.—CP—Communication with the bandits who captured Rev. C. A. Bridgeman, of Winona, Ont., United Church of Canada Missionary at Fuw Chow, has been re-established and steps towards his release are being taken.

KIN OF NOTED MINISTER ENGLISH BEAUTY

It takes no beauty expert to appreciate the pulchritudinous charms of Miss Delphine Gladstone, which are exceeded only by her popularity among the younger members of London high society.

TRAINS RUN ON NEW SCHEDULE SUNDAY 27TH

Changes Effective On C.N.R. and C.P.R. After Midnight

Changes in the time of trains leaving Belleville on C.N.R. and C.P.R. effective tomorrow (Sunday) are as follows, all other trains remaining as before:

C.N.R. West Bound, North Station
No. 15.—International Limited, 7 p.m. daily instead of 2.53 p.m.
No. 3.—Maple Leaf, new train, 2.15 p.m. daily.
No. 35.—Capital, 5.06 p.m., instead of 5.33 p.m. daily.
No. 109—5.30 p.m., Sundays only.
No. 21—2.33 a.m., daily except Sundays, instead of 4.03 a.m.
No. 197—2.20 a.m., instead of 1.55 a.m.

C.N.R. West Bound, South Station
No. 7.—2.39 a.m. daily, instead of 3.25 a.m.
No. 9.—3.28 p.m., local daily except Sunday, instead of 6.02 p.m.

C.N.R. East Bound, North Station
No. 14.—11.45 a.m. instead of 11.35 a.m. daily.
No. 672.—Brockville Local, 3.35 p.m., instead of 4.00 p.m., daily except Sundays.
No. 36.—Capital, 3.53 p.m. instead of 4.28 p.m., daily.
No. 6.—Inter-City, new fast train to Montreal, 6.01 p.m. daily, arriving

(Continued on Page Two)

HUMAN AUTOMATON IS WATCHED BY DOCTORS

SPOKANE, Wash., April 26—(CP)—here today. Found clinging to a box Antel Paradna, Filipino, who physicians said, acted like an automaton, was under observation of specialists

JURY CANNOT DECIDE CAUSE OF MAN'S DEATH

Alberni, B.C., April 26 (C.P.).—Coroner's jury inquiring into the death of City Clerk Martin M. Stephens, whose body was found with a bullet wound in the head in the smouldering ruins of the City Hall Wednesday returned an open verdict yesterday. Two provincial constables testified that the day after the fire they recovered from the river bank the city ledger and assessment roll of 1929.

Jurors declared they were unable to say whether the bullet wound was self inflicted or was caused by some unknown person. It had been previously testified that Stephens died from asphyxiation but that the bullet wound probably would have caused his death later.

ALBERT COLLEGE ORATOR CHOSEN IS JAMES PULLEN

High Praise Given Mr. W. Hendershot By Judges

PLAYS PUT ON

Dramatic Class Appears In Two Effective Productions

James Pullen was judged the best orator at Albert College as a result of the competition held last night in the memorial chapel. William Hendershot was a very close competitor in the united opinion of the three judges, Rev. Dr. Bell, Rev. Robert Hall and His Honour Judge Deroche. Dr. Bell in making the announcement spoke of the difficulty of the task as one judge had picked Mr. Pullen and another Mr. Hendershot, according to their score of merit made during the contest. The three judges then went over the scores again and rendered judgment in favor of Mr. Pullen.

Three Selected

Each of the five competitors, James L. Pullen, Alex. McCall, William Hendershot, John Young and Ralph Williams read the hymn "Unto the Hills", a passage from Scripture, Isaiah, Chapter 35: "Make strong that thirsteth" and delivered an address on "The Naval Conference". Mr. Pullen's originality of treatment stood him in the stead in the final summing up by the judges, while Mr. Hendershot following the more traditional method spoke with a delivery and a mastery of facts

(Continued on page 4)

STOCK MARKETS

Jamieson Bone and Company by direct wire from F. O'Hearn and Co.

News today was mostly bearish and apparently we are in a period of dividend cuts, and weak commodity prices. Copper shares further reflected the uncertainty of the metal situation and the general market tendency was downwards. Grain prices were decided ly weak. Golds held up well, also the Utilities. Oils (exceptions (except grain) were as follows:

NEW YORK

Anaconda 40 1-4; Atch. Can. 140 1-4; C.P.R. 205; Chrysler 36 3-4; Col. Gas 63 3-4; Cons. Gas. 132 3-4; Gen Elec. 90; Int. Motors 46; Imperial Oil 37 1-4; Nercott 48 1-4; Rad-o 68 1-4; S.O.N.J. 42 1-2; Stewart Warner 28 1-2; Westinghouse Elec. 102 1-4; U.S. Steel 180; Radio-Keith 89 1-4; Paramounty, 71; Nat. Air Trans. 28; Un. Gas. Imp 48 1-4; Con. Scotland 13 3-4.

N.Y. CURB

Elec Bond Share 113 5-8; Niagara Hudson 54 1-4; United Gas. Co. 40 1-2; Ward Baking B. 11.

TORONTO

B. A. Oil 29 1-2; Dom. Oil 27 1-4; Int. Pete 22 3-4; Bell Tel 151; Brazil 33; Gord A 26 1-2; Pam. Players 54; Ind. Alco 3 1-4; Warners 12 1-8; Massey Harris 35.

GRAIN—12.30 p.m.

Winnipeg. Wheat July 108 1-2; Oct. 110 7-8.

CHOSEN TO CAPTAIN RACING YACHT

Captain George H. Mosel, skipper of the yacht "Enterprise", which has just been built by the United States to race for the right to defend the America's Cup against the challenge of Sir Thomas Lipton's "Shamrock V."

SHERIFF'S FAITH IN HUMANITY TRIUMPHS AS FUGITIVES RETURN

Two of His Boys Already Back —Five Expected Next Week

HAD SAWED WAY OUT

Necogdoches, Texas, April 26 (C.P.)—Sheriff Eugene Turner, his faith in his "local boys" undiminished and partially justified, today waited patiently for six escaped prisoners to return to the County Jail as they had promised. Early Thursday night the sheriff was awakened by a voice speaking from the darkness. "Some of us boys sawed our way out of your jail about five or six hours ago," the voice said. "We all left you a note saying what time we'd be back. I wrote you I'd return about five-thirty, and here I am." It was Will Tindall, recently sentenced to 25 years for murder. "Can you beat that?" said the astonished Turner. "Come along, Will, let's go. I got to look into this." At the jail Sheriff Turner found his desk cluttered with eight slips of paper. Each was signed by one of the prisoners, and each said in effect that the prisoner "had business to attend to, and would be back shortly." Four hours later the second straggler returned for confinement. Five said that they would return Monday, while the sixth promised to be back Tuesday.

NEW RECORD SET WITH POWER BOAT. CANADIAN SECOND

New York, April 26 (C.P.).—Followed by Frank James, Toronto, J. E. Wilkinson, 33-year-old Boston driver, today won the 133-mile power boat race from Albany to New York and set a new record of 3 hours, 28 minutes and 3 seconds.

New York, April 26 (C.P.).—Wilkinson, thus wins the professional title while James driving his flier "Spare Ribs" won the amateur championship and also broke the previous record.

MINES

(By J. Bone and Co.)

Abana 72; Amulet 88; Ajax 151; Base Metals 2.85; Bwana Mkubu 4.15; Dome 9.00; Falconbridge 2.45; Hollinger 6.45, Home Oil 7.60; Howey 66; Hudsons Bay 9.45; International Nickel 36.80; Lake Shore 23.00; Mylamaska 18.75; Mining Corp. 1.84; Norwanda 31.00; Pend Oreille 1.30; Sherritt Gordon 1.86; Sudbury Basin 2.07; Teck Hughes 4.25; Vipond 97; Wabi Ackerman 2.75; Wright Hargreaves 1.85.

Arsenal Wins Soccer Crown

King George Sees Final Game Against Town of Huddersfield

WEMBLEY STADIUM, April 26.—(CP)—Arsenal won the English football association cup, emblematic of the championship of England today, when they beat Huddersfield Town, 2 to 0. Lambert scored Arsenal's second goal in the second half, after James had tallied for his team in the first.

King George attended the English football association cup final between the Arsenal and Huddersfield Town here today. Ninety-three thousand fans crammed the stadium. Davis, centre-forward for Huddersfield, kicked off at 3.10 pm.

Hugh crowd went wild when James opened scoring. The brilliant player made a quick free kick and passed

(Continued on page 2)

SUCCESSION OF DEVELOPMENTS BECOMES GRAVE

Machine Guns Placed in Market Places And Bazaars Closed

LAWYER ARRESTED

Casualties in Riots Said To Have Totalled Sixty-Five

Developments followed each other in rapid succession throughout India today, and the situation is regarded as increasingly grave.

At Sulsar, Mahatma Gandhi, leader of the civil disobedience movement, revealed plans to raid the government salt depot at the village of Dharasana. He asked members of the gathering to accompany him, there, but only if they were dressed in homespun cloth and gave up drinking.

The Viceroy's cabinet at Simla studied the serious rioting at Peshawar in detail today. Machine guns are posted at vital points and bazaar and markets are still closed, although it was said the situation was considerably improved.

At Poona, L. B. Bhopatkar, former speaker of the Poona bar and former member of Bombay legislative council, was arrested on a charge of breach of the salt law. Strikers from Bangalal Kolr mine at Corgaum burned a mead, warden's shop and residence. General exodus of mine coolies to their native villages started.

Two members of India National Congress Committee of Peshawar, speaking at Lahore, said the die casualties in Wednesday's rioting totalled 65, with one hundred and fifty wounded. The official government statement put the total casualties at a little over fifty, but the leaders of Congress had the situation under control

PAIR ARRESTED ON ASSAULT COMPLAINT

TORONTO, April 26—CP—The arrest of Samuel Richmond, 21, Polish, and William Marcus, 30, American, came today as the result of the story of a thirteen year old girl who alleges two men took her into an automobile ride and assaulted in a Pembroke street house by two men. Officers stated that the girl was picked up on the 401 and taking her to an apartment, but deny they assaulted her.

COMING EVENTS

LADIES' AUXILIARY, CANADIAN Legion. Special Meeting, Monday 28th. All members kindly attend. 4.26-2d

LIBERAL RALLY AT SIDNEY Town Hall, Friday, May 2nd., at 8 p.m. for organization purposes. Prominent speakers will be in attendance. All Sidney and surrounding Liberals are requested to be present. 4.26-4c2

"SO THIS IS LONDON" BY BELLEville Talent, directed by Miss Cutle, to Canniffon Hall. Wednesday, April 30th, at 8 p.m. Price 50c. Proceds for Missions. 4.26-3c

RESERVE DATE MAY 8TH FOR Afternoon tea and sale of home cooking in Bridge St. Church Parlours from 3 to 6 p.m. 4.26-3d

GRAND MIDNIGHT FROLIC EVERY Sunday nite 12.01 a.m., commencing April 27th at Riley's Pavilion, the Halfway House of Entertainment, featuring Norman Pender, Toronto's youngest orchestra leader, and his isle of Blue Orchestra, the band with the irresistible rhythm. Come down and meet the kid himself. Dancing 9-12 p.m. at Station Q.Q.Y. nightly. 4.26-1c2

CIRCUS—CIRCUS—Y.M.C.A. Annual Circus Tuesday and Wednesday, April 29th and 30th. Prize Clowns, tumbling, drills, etc. Tickets 25c. 4.26-3c2

BEST QUALITY CLEANING AND Pressing. Prices reasonable. Work guaranteed. Phone 3-4-4. Ladies' and Gents' Tailor. 4.26-1c2

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE Belleville Horticultural Society will be held in the Y.M.C.A. Tuesday, April 29th at 8 p.m. Election of officers and other business. 4.26-2c

DANCE IN SHANNONVILLE HALL, Tuesday, April 29. Auspices Women's Guild. Door prize. Refreshments provided. Circle Six Orchestra. Admission, 50c. 4.19, 21, 22, 23, 24, 26

MOOSE LEGION EUCHRE AND Dance in the Moose Auditorium on Wednesday, April 30. Cards 8-10. Dancing 10-2. Reg. Brockburn's Serenaders. Refreshments. Door Prize. Good Euchre Prizes. Special Dance Novelties. A good time assured for all who come. Admission 40c plus 2c tax. 4.26-3d2

UTOPIA CLUB'S CLOSING EUCHRE and Dance, Johnstone Academy, Wednesday, April 30th. New Bon Ton Orchestra. Euchre 8-10. Dancing 10-2. Novelties and prizes galore. Couple $1.00, extra lady 50c (tax included). 4.26-3d2

SUCCESSION OF DEVELOPMENTS BECOMES GRAVE

Machine Guns Placed in Market Places And Bazaars Closed

LAWYER ARRESTED

Casualties in Riots Said To Have Totalled Sixty-Five

Developments followed each other in rapid succession throughout India today, and the situation is regarded as increasingly grave.

At Sulsar, Mahatma Gandhi, leader of the civil disobedience movement, revealed plans to raid the government salt depot at the village of Dharasana. He asked members of the gathering to accompany him, there, but only if they were dressed in homespun cloth and gave up drinking.

The Viceroy's cabinet at Silma studied the serious rioting at Peshawar in detail today. Machine guns are posted at vital points and bazaar and markets are still closed, although it was said the situation was considerably improved.

At Poona, L. B. Bhopatkar, former speaker of the Poona bar and former member of Bombay legislative council, was arrested on a charge of breach of the salt law. Strikers from Bangalal Kolr mine at Corgaum burned a mead, warden's shop and residence. General exodus of mine coolies to their native villages started.

Two members of India National Congress Committee of Peshawar, speaking at Lahore, said the die casualties in Wednesday's rioting totalled 65, with one hundred and fifty wounded. The official government statement put the total casualties at a little over fifty, but the leaders of Congress had the situation under control

THE BULLETIN BOARD

Mainly About People You Know

TRIBUTE TO MISSIONARIES

At Bridge Street Sunday School rooms on Sunday afternoon short references will be made to the lives of the late Rev. Dr. Meacham, former foreign field missionary and the late Rev. Benjamin Greatrix, of the home mission field, photographs of these men will be thrown on the screen.

Y.M.C.A. CIRCUS

The annual Y.M.C.A. circus which is held every spring will this year take place next Tuesday and Wednesday, April 30th and 30th, beginning at eight o'clock in the Y. gymnasium. Every class in the Y.M.C.A. will have a part in the annual production including the business girls collegiate girls, and junior and senior Y. boys' classes. Clever exhibitions of trapeze work, pyramids and countless other entertaining gymnastics will be staged as in previous years. The performers have been practising faithfully for the past three weeks and will be ready to take the floor on the opening night. Sale of tickets began this morning, and may be obtained either from the members or at the Y.M.C.A. The circus is in charge of Mr. Ralph Morden, physical director.

PRESBYTERY AT NAPANEE

The annual session of the Bay of Quinte Presbytery of the United Church was held yesterday at Grace United Church, Napanee. Rev. L. S. Wight of this city was among the 125 ministers and laymen who attended. Three sessions were held, morning, afternoon and evening. The first two were devoted to business discussions.

BECOMES COUNTY ENGINEER

John D. Dunkley, formerly connected with the Municipal Road Survey Company of Toronto and at one time county road superintendent of Prince Edward County has been re-engaged as County Engineer in succession to Mr. Cox who lately resigned. Mr. Dunkley has had years of experience in road construction work and supervision and will be able to bring his vast experience to his new employment. Mr. Dunkley is well known at the City Hall in Belleville and is to be congratulated on receiving this responsible appointment.

I.O.O.F. CHURCH PARADE

Member of Belleville Lodge No. 81 and Mizpah Lodge No. 121 I.O.O.F. with Belleville, Canton No. 9 and members of Quinteana Rebekah Lodge No. 133 will attend divine service tomorrow morning at Bridge Street United Church. Rev. Dr. Bell pastor of the church will preach. It is expected that a number of Oddfellows from Trenton and other places will be in attendance.

CRASH ON CORNER

A slight motor accident occurred this morning about ten o'clock at the corner of Front and Bridge Streets, when the Frankford bus and a closed car collided. No damage, except bent fenders resulted, but the crash provided much excitement for the many bystanders. Constable Evans investigated, but the affair was settled amicably between the two drivers.

AUXILIARY EUCHRE

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion held a successful euchre and dance in the Memorial Hall last night. Dancing followed the cards with Mrs. Hibbard supplying the music. The prize winners were as follows, ladies Mrs. G. Delino, Mrs. St. Louis, Miss Morrow, gentleman, Mr. G. Cater Mr. J. W. Day, Mrs. Cater. The door prize was won by Mrs. Phalen while Mrs. Henderson and Mr. Brown won the spot dance which was an added feature of the evening.

SURPRISE PARTY

A delightfully arranged surprise party was given to Miss Vera Johnson at her home on Bonwill street last night in honor of her birthday. About fifteen guests were present and Miss Johnson was the recipient of many attractive gifts. After the presentations had been made cards and dancing were enjoyed by the gathering. A luncheon was served at eleven o'clock and the party broke up at a late hour.

TEA AND SALE

A successful tea and sale of homecooking was held by the C.O.I.T. of Emmanual Church yesterday afternoon in the Sunday School rooms from 2 to 5. The rooms were attractively decorated with Spring flowers and the tea table held silver candlesticks and a centrepiece of spring flowers. Miss Violet Bigby received the large number of guests and Mrs. (Rev.) Marshall poured tea. Miss Dorothy Gasley acted as treasurer for the afternoon.

21 BABIES PRESENT

Thirty-seven babies, including six new members and nine pre-school, attended the regular weekly V.O.N. Well-Baby Clinic, held in the City Hall yesterday afternoon. Miss Stoat assisted Miss Laura Webb, V.O.N. in looking after the tiny guests. Mrs. Parsons poured tea for the mothers. Attendances at the clinic are improving each week with the coming of warm weather.

AT ST. PAUL'S

On Easter Tuesday evening the services of St. Paul's church was very bright and joyous quite in keeping with Easter festal joys. There was a good congregation and from the way in which the congregation joined in prayers and hymns and thanksgiving, it was evident all were in Easter humor. The musical portion was under the management of the organist, Mr. F. Cornell. The singing was very bright and hearty. The solo in the offertory was taken by Miss Burke who was certainly in good voice. Rev. Mr. Geen's text was, Christ is risen, and he preached home the personal question, What if Christ has not risen?

The remark was made, how Canon Burke would have enjoyed this service.

Personals

Miss Thelma Luscombe of this city, was a visitor in Toronto and Hamilton during the past week.

Mr. Orland Pinkston returned to the city last evening from Hamilton having attended the Toronto Boys' Work Board Banquet, held in Hart House.

Mr. Reginald Gordon Geen with Mr. David Cuzzillerlog motored from Guelph to visit Mr. Geen's mother, who today passes another anniversary of her birthday. Mrs. Geen continues healthy and well.

The condition of Mr. E. J. Pollwell is reported as critical today.

Mr. and Mrs. Angus Martin, Mr. Tom Martin, Miss Mary Mayres and Mr. William Denney have returned to Toronto after spending the Easter vacation at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Mayres.

Mr. Bruce Lattimer of Toronto is spending a few days with Mr. Tom Lazier, Ann St.

Trains Run on New Schedule

(Continued from Page 1)

Montreal 10 p.m.

No. 20.—1.10 a.m. daily except Sunday, instead of 1.40 a.m.

No. 16.—3 a.m. instead of 2.55 a.m. daily.

No. 30.—8.05 p.m. Toronto to Belleville Local, was 9.05.

C.N.R. Belleville-Peterboro

Leave Belleville 5.30, p.m. instead of 5.35 p.m.

C.N.R. Belleville-Madoc

A new train will leave Belleville at 12.05 p.m. Second train leaves at 5.40 p.m. instead of 4.00 p.m., daily except Sunday.

Canadian Pacific Railway West Bound

No. 24.—Canadian, 4.37 p.m., instead of 2.34 p.m., Montreal to Chicago fast train.

No. 27.—Royal York, 1.23 p.m. instead of 5.35 p.m.

Canadian Pacific Railway East Bound

No. 20.—Canadian, 11.52 a.m., instead of 12.02 a.m.

No. 28.—Royal York, 4.50 p.m., instead of 4.11 p.m.

TWO DAY AIR ROUTE

Ottawa, April 25.—There may be a survey of a two day air route from Canada to Britain, Hon. Col. Ralston states.

BRITISH DEFEAT GERMANS TODAY

LONDON, April 26.—CP— Sweeping the last two singles matches today, Great Britain won its Davis, cup tie with Germany in a whirlwind finish. H. O. N. Lee downed Dr. Heinz Landmann of Germany 6-2, 6-3, 6-4 for the match that gave the home team a 3 to 2 victory.

ARSENAL WINS SOCCER CROWN

(Continued from Page 1)

Smith, who made a lightning return to centre for James to shoot in a rapid, low shot just wide of Hardcastle's goal-to left hand. The latter made a frantic attempt to punch out the ball, but was well beaten. Arsenal stayed on the defense for the balance of the half, with Huddersfield pressing steadily. The rout was completed in the second when Lambert broke away to score off a beautiful drive which again evaded Huddersfield's net-tender's outstretched hands.

Easter Services Well attended

Wellington, April 24 (By Mail)—Easter services were held in the churches on Sunday. Rev. W. J. H. Smythe conducted a beautiful impressive Easter service in the United church when special music was given with Miss W. Pearce organist. Rev. Canon A. L. McCrae conducted service in St. Andrew's church.

STARTLING!

—That word fairly describes most folk's reactions when they get the story of the Full-size Plymouth Folks, we want you to know how other folks in Belleville, including many of your friends and neighbors, feel about the Plymouth automobile.

Naturally, as a Plymouth dealer in Belleville I am enthusiastic about this car. You expect that, of course —but the amazing thing is that practically every person in town who has seen and driven or ridden in the Plymouth is equally enthusiastic and surprised at the big value offered.

You do not have to be a mechanic to see the outstanding value of the Plymouth.

Your own eyes, your own hands, your own feelings and your own good judgment will instantly tell you—after ten minutes behind the wheel—it is far and away ahead of competition (including one and all makes) in the lowest-priced field.

We may be credited with knowing something about cars in the lowest-priced market.

We tell you frankly there isn't a car of comparable price in any showroom or on any road that can begin to compare with the Plymouth in size, smartness of appearance, roominess and comfort, speed and power, ease of control and braking facilities as well as low cost of operation and upkeep.

As you know, the Plymouth price was recently reduced, making this car now one of the lowest-priced cars in the world. The actual comparison that you can make yourself shows it is actually the largest low-priced car in the world and it has in addtion features and luxuries that no car of its price can match.

–Full size big car comfort.
–More room than you ever thought possible
–Big car style and low-swung smartness.
–50 horsepower, high compression engine.
–4-wheel weather-proof hydraulic brakes.
–Chrysler economy of operation.
–Chrysler engineering and dependability.

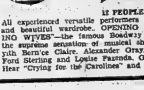
Come in and see these things for yourself. There is no longer any reason why you should have to accept less in size and comfort and performance than you can obtain for the samo money in the full-sized Plymouth. Whether you plan to buy a car this year or not, come in and see how much more for the money this Plymouth gives you. Come and ride in it—without any obligation—TODAY.

BELLEVILLE MOTORS
per C. E. Wilmot

$735 AND UP.
F. O. B. FACTORY

4-door sedan $775; Coupe, $735; Roadster $760; 2-Door Sedan $755; De Luxe Coupe, $775. All prices f.o.b. factory including standard factory equipment (freight and taxes extra)

BELLEVILLE MOTORS
211 PINNACLE STREET, NEXT HOTEL QUINTE



REX
KING OF THE WILD HORSES
in
The HARVEST OF HATE
with
JACK PERRIN
"SMITTIE AND HIS PALS"
Comedy
"FIRE DETECTIVE" Serial
SCREEN VARIETIES
R-E-G-E-N-T
BEGINS TODAY
2.30—7.15—9.15

We've waited and yearned, hoped and prayed
AN EVENT OF EVENTS!
Hear
GARBO TALK
in Eugene O'Neill's play
ANNA CHRISTIE
B-E-L-L-E
Wednesday, April 30.

STAGE and SCREEN PRESENTATIONS
Capitol THE HOUSE OF HITS!
GRAND OPENING
Today Also Mon. and Tues.
The world's greatest entertainment. The stage play in a Broadway way. The show with a mark of distinction.

12 PEOPLE 12
All experienced versatile performers carrying a carload of comedy and beautiful wardrobe. OPENING PRESENTATION „DETOURING WIVES"—the famous Boadway success. Added attraction — the supreme sensation of musical shows "SPRING IS HERE" — with Bern'ce Claire, Alexander Gray, greatest of all song teams. Tony Sterling and Louise Fazenda. Gorgeous scenes in technicolor. Hear "Crying for the Carolines" and other hits. Regular Admission.

TRENTON AND DISTRICT

Navigation In Murray Canal Opened Friday

Freighter "Glen Allen" From Picton Will Make First Trip East

Trenton, Ont., April 26 (Special by Staff Reporter)—Navigation in the Murray canal officially opened yesterday afternoon about three o'clock when the tug Olde, towing a large, Lakegravel, passed through the canal on its way from Port Dalhousie to Kingston. The Lakegravel was in charge of O. A. Sharon, Master of Port Colborne. The Lakegravel has only a few feet to spare going through the channel between the centre pier of the swinging bridges over the canal, all of which operated perfectly even though they have not been used since late last November.

The first ship to go through the canal last year passed through on April 29th, it being the large freighter O. B. Russell captained by O. Marion. The last vessel to go through the canal last year was the Concretia, the government buoy lifter, which followed the lake freighters Maple Bay and Ash Bay through the canal to Kingston Bay, where it picked up its quota of buoys and then returned through the canal on November 28th. The canal was freezing fast at that time and when the eastern end was reached the Concretia was unable to back the ice any longer, so laid over at Twelve O'Clock Point for the winter.

The Maple Bay and Ash Bay ships of the Three Line Navigation Company, broke up the ice in the canal on Nov 28th last, and the Concretia made its way west in the wake of these ships or otherwise it would not have been able to get into Brighton Bay. It is interesting to note that the day following the Ash Bay's trip through the Murray canal she became in difficulties when out of the lake off Presqu'Ile, and for a time it was thought that she would be blown ashore. She managed to fight her way off the rocks, however, and proceeded on to Toronto. The Maple Bay wintered at Port Colborne.

The Concretia, which left Twelve O'Clock Point early last week, in charge of Captain D. Martin, again ran into bad luck only a few miles from her winter quarters when she went aground on a shoal near Hog Island, east of Trenton, while picking up a buoy. The tug Davis pulled her off after a wait of about twelve hours.

On Monday morning the packet freighter "Glen Allen" of Picton, will make her first trip east, returning again on Wednesday. The Glen Allen makes two trips a week from Trenton to Montreal, stopping at intermediate points and makes a specialty of carrying canned goods. It is also expected that a Canada Steamship Line freighter will call at Trenton this summer regularly, taking part of the Canning factory's product.

PRESIDENT IS RETIRING

Ottawa, April 26—P. C. Elford of Ottawa, president of the World's Poultry Science Association, has added the secretary of the association declining nomination for re-election to office as he finds he has not the time necessary for the proper carrying out of the presidential duties.

"I have no hesitation in saying that T-R-C's are the only remedy that has given me any relief from my RHEUMATISM writes Mr. R. P. McNeely of Pembroke, Ont. "Thanks to them I have been able to continue at my business without interruption. Last summer I made a motor trip to Quebec City. I don't believe I should have been able to set foot home had it not been for T-R-C's. Before I took them my body was so stiff I could scarcely bend my neck or move my arms."

Pain and Stiffness! Aren't they what YOU want to get rid of? Use T-R-C's. Let them help your body cast out the poisons of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Neuritis, Sciatica, Lumbago—quickly and safely. No harmful drugs. 50c and $1 at your dealer's. 147

T-R-C's TEMPLETON'S RHEUMATIC CAPSULES

Female Natator Enters Marathon

Miss Ethel Hodge of Smithfield Will be Starter in Swim Derby

Trenton, Ont., April 26—(Special by Staff Reporter)—This district is to have a representative in the Ladies Canadian National Exhibition marathon swim this year, if there is going to be one it was learned yesterday. Miss Ethel Hodge, daughter of Mr. F. E. Hodge, bridge tender at the Smith Falls Bridge over the Murray Canal is the entry, and she will have plenty of supporters. Miss Hodge, who has been in Rochester all winter has been training faithfully there, swimming every day, and expects to try out the water in the Murray canal in the near future. She will start her hard training about the first of May. She has been swimming since she was four years of age and first showed the swimming enthusiasts in this district that she was a comer when she cleaned up on several events at the Campbellford O'd Boys' Reunion last year.

Harry Groff Is Alleged Owner

Trenton, Ont., April 26 (Special by Staff Reporter)—Harry Groff, of Twelve O'Clock Point is the alleged owner of the motor car which struck the Toronto Bus on Wednesday morning and it is said failed to stop to ascertain what damage had been done. He will appear in Trenton Police Court in the near future charged with failing to return to the scene of the accident. No one was injured in the smash, which occurred on the main street of Trenton about five-thirty on Wednesday night. The bus large bus had a fender badly smashed, and the body slightly dinged. It was driven by Mr. Jack Lowe of Oshawa.

Trenton Cadets Parade Daily

Trenton, April 26 (Special by Staff Reporter)—Every afternoon now the Trenton Collegiate Cadets are drilling in addition of their annual inspection which will be held early in May, although the date has not yet been set. The Company Commander this year is John Connor, and the four platoons are led by Lieuts. Frank Longdon, Mac Aylsworth, G. Weaver, and Ray Johnston. In addition they have a bugle band consisting of six bugles and three drums, which adds much of the picturesque to the corps. The manoeuvres take place on the campus of the school or if the weather is unsuitable for outdoor work, in the basement rooms of the school.

VETERAN TRENTON RESIDENT AT REST

Trenton, Ont., April 26 (Special by Staff Reporter)—All that was mortal of the late Spencer Mann, one of Trenton's oldest residents, and one who had enjoyed the respect and esteem of all who knew him or came in contact, was laid to rest yesterday afternoon in the Front of Sidney Cemetery. A large number of the deceased man's friends were in attendance, while the floral tributes were many and beautiful. Rev. C. B. Brethen, of Grace United Church, conducted the services both at the home and the grave. Mr. Mann, who is survived by his widow, one daughter, Maude, at home, and three sons, James at home, and Jack and Frank of Detroit, was seventy two years of age at the time of his death. He had been a resident of Trenton for several years, but until retiring had been a prominent farmer of the Johnstown district.

MASONIC DANCE AT TRENTON, POPULAR

Trenton, Ont., April 26 (Special by Staff Reporter)—On Thursday evening last the Masonic Temple was the scene of one of the happiest affairs of the season, when the Trenton Chapter, No. 118, Order of the Eastern Star held their sixth annual dance. A large crowd was in attendance, and lunch and refreshments were made to the evening all the more enjoyable. Refreshments which were left over went to the police station where several homeless travellers more than did justice to them.

Germany's new air last service has 180 machines stationed at 80 aerodromes.

The population of the British Isles is about 47,150,000.

$136,068.72 is Requesitioned

(Continued from Page One)

possession of parties not connected with the school. The committee is composed of Mrs. McCrae, chairman, Fred Smith, C. C. Stewart, Ernie Dickens, J. Elliott, C. A. Cameron and H. W. Ackerman.

Permission was granted Inspector Clarke to use the Collegiate gymnasium for the Entrance Examinations and Mr. Clarke will again look after all arrangements for the Board. In his letter, Mr. Clarke also stated that owing to the large number of beginners which usually come in after Easter, it may be necessary to put the Primary Class in each school on half time work. The Board granted permission to do this if he thought it was necessary.

A piece of statuary from the estate of the late J. J. B. Flint, which was among the articles willed to the Belleville Collegiate and Vocational School, was released to Mrs. Caroline H. Hinton, after the circumstances had been explained to the Board. The piece of statuary in question had at one time been swimming since she was four years of age and first showed the swimming enthusiasts in this district that she was a comer when she cleaned up on several events at the Campbellford O'd Boys' Reunion last year.

Back Up Principal

A citizens' letter to the Board with regards to his son, who had been expelled from school on April 17th. It seems that while taking cadet drill on April 15th the student had become involved in an altercation with the cadet instructor, Mr. Howard, and had accordingly been reported to the principal. Mr. MacLaurin informed the lad that he could return to school as soon as he had apologized to Mr. Howard, which the lad refused to do. The Board of Education last night backed up Mr. MacLaurin and Mr. Howard, and the student will not be allowed to return until he apologizes to Mr. Howard.

Nurse Ross gave her monthly report, which follows:

Visits to classrooms—Chicken pox 2, whooping cough 1.

Exclusions—for pediculosis 4, for conjunctivitis 4.

Dental Clinics held in March—9.

Queen Mary School 3, Queen Victoria School 3, Village 2, Total attendances 51; Permanent extractions 2; Temporary treatments 11; Pupils having work completed 10; Pupils visited 69; Home visits 47; Treated in school offices 38.

Tribute To Late Mr. Bleecker

It was moved by Col. Ponton, seconded by Mr. E. J. Potter, "that this Board records with regret their deep sense of regret and sorrow at the death of our late colleague, Mr. Don O. Bleecker, and, whereas, he gifted us with a genius for friendship and a heart brimming over with goodwill, a public spirited citizen and a loyal patriot, imbued with the traditions and spirit of his ancestors, identified with every good work and work in the city of his birth, Belleville and Bay of Quinte district have suffered a great and grievous loss and we personally have lost a faithful and valued friend; And that the sincere sympathy of this board be extended to his surviving sister and relatives that a copy of this resolution be sent to Miss Bleecker."

HEALTHY CHILDREN ALWAYS SLEEP WELL

The healthy child sleeps well and during the waking hours is never cross but always happy and laughing. It is only the sickly child that is cross and peevish. Mothers of your children do not sleep well; if they are cross and try a great deal, give them Baby's Own Tablets and they will soon be well and happy again. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels, restore the stomach banish constipation, colds and indigestion and promote healthful sleep. They are absolutely guaranteed free from opiates and may be given to the new-born babe with perfect safety. You can obtain the Tablets at any drug store, medicine or at 25 cents a box, or by mail, post paid, from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Night Fishers

(Continued from Page One)

Durham, Victoria and Peterborough Counties and the trout fishing opens on July 1st. It is illegal to fish from a moving object, in all inland waters in these counties till that time. Also Many anglers go to Hastings Bridge for pickerel and they have a right to angle there after May 1st.

Ate Meal at Four Corners

Interesting Little Drama Played at Main Street Corner Today

A main street corner is hardly the place a conservative citizen would pick

R-U FIGHTING SORE THROATS

Bronchitis, Catarrh, Head Colds, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Head Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchial Asthma and

TONSIL TROUBLES. Clean Them up with MRS. SYBILLA SPARR'S TONSILITIS

the great throat medicine. Good results or money returned.

At all Belleville Druggists and J. H. Madill, Frankford

Market Jammed Buying is Brisk

Potatoes Rise In Price And Maple Syrup is Still Offered

Belleville market, always well-patronized by hundreds of housewives and housekeepers, this morning attracted one of the biggest crowds of the year, like the regular mid-summer markets the walks in the square being crowded. Fresh produce was a feature today and gardeners had for sale cabbage, cauliflower and onion plants, which retailed for 30 cents the box. Fresh lettuce found a ready sale at three heads for 25c, green onions sold at 5c the bunch, celery 10c, and 20 cents the bunch and radishes 10 cents the bunch large onions 50 cents peck, parsnips 50c peck, turnips 30c, carrots 40c.

Potatoes reached a new high for the year, and customers were forced to pay $2.75 the bag or 50 cents the peck. A few live geese were quoted at $4.00 each, while chickens were scarce at $1.25 to $1.40 each. Eggs sold at 23 to 25 cents the dozen, and butter 40 cents the pound and upwards. Fresh cream was readily disposed of at 30 cents the pint.

Prices of fresh mayflowers were offered for sale, and lent an air of spring to the atmosphere. These fresh blossoms brought ten cents the bunch, and found a ready sale. Perhaps the last maple syrup made its appearance this morning and was readily disposed at fifty to sixty cents a quart.

TELL JUST WHY SHE RECOMMENDS THEM

Ontario Lady Found Relief In Dodd's Kidney Pills

Mrs. Wm. Brown Suffered With Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Hamilton, Ont., April 21 (Special).—"I was troubled with my kidneys and bladder trouble," states Mrs. Wm. Brown, 143 Strachcona Ave., Hamilton, Ont. "I had tried a lot of medicines but without avail. I finally tried Dodd's Kidney Pills and to my great surprise always got relief in two days. I feel so much better now. I keep a box in the house all the time. I would not be without them. I recommend them to all my friends."

There are many symptoms which point directly to kidney disease and when you get backache, sleepless nights, backache, deposits in urine, headaches and dizziness, pains, harsh dry skin, scaling skin and loss of flesh and weight, the kidneys need attention. Dodd's Kidney Pills is due the wonderful success of Dodd's Kidney Pills as a relief for diseases of the kidneys.

GORE G

Gore G, April 24 By Mail—Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hubbs, Bloomfield, spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. L. Orser.

Miss Gladys May left for her home at Trenton on Thursday to spend the Easter holidays with her mother.

Mrs. Bernard Hoard and Miss Thea Ware of Milford were Wednesday evening callers at the home of Miss Marie Tobin.

Miss Ora Leavitt, Belleville, is spending the Easter holidays with her mother, Mrs. M. Leavitt.

Mr. and Mrs. Clare Pearsall and Aileen spent Easter Sunday with her mother Mrs. John Vandeal, King St., Picton.

Mr. E. Marriott has purchased a tractor for posting in the spring crop.

House cleaning is the order of the day in this vicinity. Mr. Morley Breakenridge, painter and decorator, has been very busy for the past week or more at the home of Mr. Clare Pearsall.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Leavitt and Cora of Schoharie spent Tuesday at the home of Mrs. M. Leavitt at a birthday party in honor of Miss Cora Leavitt also her niece. Wee Cora both birthdays falling on the same day.

Mr. E. P. Martin, Woodrow was a caller on his daughter Mrs. James Martin on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Orser spent the tea hour on Sunday with their daughter Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hubbs, Bloomfield.*.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tripp, Marie and Ruth "Lauredale" spent Easter Sunday with Mr. and Mrs G. W. Tripp, Elizabeth Street, Picton.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Martin, Woodrow, spent the dinner hour on Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Jas Martin.

Mrs. L. Orser spent Saturday with her daughter Mrs. Ralph Hubbs, Mary Street, Picton.

Mr. Allen Vincent left for Toronto on Monday on his tourist cycle to spend a couple of days in the city.

Mr., and Mrs. Garfield Pearsall spent Sunday with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Williams, Bloomfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Earle Pearsall, Reta and Leland spent a Sunday recently with Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Pearsall, Wellington.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Vincent entertained company at the dinner hour on Sunday.

Miss Marjorie Tubbs is spending the Easter holidays with her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Leavitt, W. Main St., Picton.

Mr. and Mr. A Marriott, Bloomfield called on Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Vincent one evening last week.

Mr. Jack May and bride (nee Marion Jones of Picton were married last Wednesday. They will reside on the farm at Union Vale, his father having moved to Picton.

Mr. and Mrs. Earle Pearsall and family spent Easter Sunday with the latter's parents Mr. and Mrs. F. Sullivan, Corbyville.

Mr. J. G. Leavitt and Mr. James Leavitt of Picton were Monday callers of Mr. Jas. Tubbs.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Leavitt spent Sunday with relatives in Bloomfield.

We Recommend—

the following bonds, from which a selection can be made that will give security, diversity and an attractive yield:

	Maturing	Price	Yield
Province of Ontario	5% Oct. 1, 1948	102	4.87%
City of Owen Sound	5% Feb. 1, 1945	99.48	5.05%
Town of Barrie, (guaranteed by County of Simcoe)	5% Sept. 1, 1930-1954	.99½	5.03-5.25%
Adelaide Peter Bldgs. Limited	6½% Dec. 1, 1948	100	6½%

AND

LONDON REALITY CO., LTD., (Hotel London, new hotel) 6½% May 1, 1950 .99½ over 6½%

Write for full particulars and our complete list of current offerings.

STEWART, SCULLY CO., LTD.

Royal Bank Building Toronto.

ERIC O. KEELER, 120 W. Bridge District Representative Phone 1339w

Care Protects YOU

Moving of any kind over any distance requires the utmost care if the safety of your goods is to be protected. That's why we are equipped with every precaution—that's why we employ the most experienced and expert men, to give you safety and satisfaction when you move.

WE DO ALL CLASSES OF MOVING, PACKING, SHIPPING.

GIVE US A CALL.

F. LAPALM

OFFICE AND GARAGE, 165 Pinnacle Street Office Phone 1006 House Phone 1008

Plainfield

Mrs. James Harrison and Mrs. H. McCreary are on the sick list.

Master Drury Denyes entertained Masters Harold and Clarence Carleton and Allan Dunning, Fred and Charlie Ostwater, Misses Dorothy Nelson and Elsie Hamilton at his birthday party on Easter Monday. All report a delightful time and a sumptuous repas'.

On Tuesday evening the league was entertained at Mr. and Mrs. E. Denyes. At the close of the programme Mrs. Denyes sngaved off for all present which was much enjoyed.

HEADACHES

Rheumatism
Neuralgia
Lumbago
Neuritis

—here's quick Relief!

YOU can't always stop work and give in to a headache, but you can always get relief from such pain with a tablet or two of Aspirin will ease an aching head every time. Perfectly harmless prescribed by thousands of doctors. An effective antidote for pain, taken by millions of men and women whenever they've a cold, headache; neuralgia or neuritis; rheumatism, lumbago, sore joints, etc. Read the proven directions that come with Aspirin and realize how much suffering these tablets can spare you. Aspirin has medical endorsement. It doesn't depress the heart. You know what you are taking. The box bears the word genuine in red.

BAYER-MADE

ASPIRIN

YOUR HOME RENEWED WITH MODERN'S AID

Spring housecleaning has been engaging the attention of home-makers for weeks. If you haven't completed yours yet let us tell you how MODERN has helped many with their housecleaning problems this season. We cleanse rugs, drapes, portieres, curtains, over-stuffed furniture, and when this is done most of the dreaded work is over. We also dye drapes and portieres. Let us help you.

MODERN CLEANERS and DYERS

182 Front Street. Phone 729

IF MODERN CLEANED — IT'S CLEAN

What BALANCED ENGINEERING means to
OLDSMOBILE

AS exemplified throughout the Oldsmobile, balanced engineering means that engine, chassis and body are created not only as units of individual excellence, but . . even more important than that . . as parts of a perfectly harmonized whole.

A rugged 62 horsepower engine incorporates many major advancements which contribute to Oldsmobile's smooth, powerful, pace-setting performance . . . a low, sturdy, clean-cut chassis ensures unusual roadability and staunch, steady service . . and in harmony with these balanced engineering principles of motor and chassis, the body by Fisher introduces longer, lower lines in a wide range of color combinations.

In addition, Oldsmobile offers many desirable new features which reveal themselves only when you drive this finer six. Visit our showrooms today. Get behind the wheel and let a demonstration reveal Oldsmobile's remarkable flexibility. Ask about the G.M.A.C., General Motors' own plan of convenient payments. O-192E

OLDSMOBILE
PRODUCT OF GENERAL MOTORS OF CANADA, LIMITED
MAJOR MOTORS
125 FRONT STREET, BELLEVILLE, ONT.
Nelson Sargent, Picton, Ont.
E. G. Bailey, Stirling, Ont.
C. V. Graham, Trenton, Ont.

IT'S BETTER BECAUSE IT'S CANADIAN

April Milk Report

Belleville Milk Report for month of April as reported from the Laboratories, Department of Health, Ontario.

NAME	Butter Fat Percent.	Sediment
De Vault, (Hall)	4.3	Dirty
De Vault, (Babbitt)	3.6	Clean
Babcock	3.3	Clean
Citizens Dairy	3.2	Clean
Harper	3.5	Clean
Leeming	3.2	Clean
Reid	3.1	Clean
Mason, "Sunshine Dairy"	3.1	Clean
Smith	3.6	Clean
Whitfield	3.6	Dirty
J. F. Wellman	3.5	Clean
J. F. Wellman	3.2	Clean
Blackburn "Avondale"	3.5	Clean
Millard	3.1	Clean
Farnham	3.2	Slightly Dirty
M. D. Wellman	3.1	Clean
Butler	3.3	Clean
Moorman	4.3	Clean
Rashall	3.6	Clean

(Sgd.) C. B. WATTS, M.D.,
Director Laboratory.

Harper's Milk For Quality
BUTTER FAT MEANS RICH MILK.
COMPARE OUR TEST FOR THIS YEAR.

January, 1930	No test taken
February, 1930	our test 3.8 Butter Fat
March, 1930	our test 3.5 Butter Fat
April, 1930	our test 3.5 Butter Fat

FOR QUALITY AND SERVICE TRY HARPER'S
West Moira Dairy—Phone 860J

actor who was acting the gentlewoman in the play while Messrs. Muir, Wonz and Wilkinson were out to act as witness. The rehearsal, being carried on in the street of the actors' time, was all the more ludicrous as for instance when Lady Macbeth appeared in the most pathetic scenes dressed as a male actor.

Mr. William Cook was chairman of the evening.

COLDS NO MORE

Let soothing, pleasant "Nostroline" stop that cold. Get it now. Then use it. Know what welcome relief "Nostroline" gives when head is stuffy and breathing difficult. "Nostroline" quickly clears head and stops the inflammation. 50 cents from McKeown's Drug Store.

YOUR NOSE NEEDS 'NOSTROLINE'

Plainfield

Plainfield, April 26—Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hall and Kenneth spent Easter at Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Elliott.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Meeks and family spent Easter at Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Harrison's.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Denyes and family spent Easter with Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Denyes.

Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Horton and family spent Easter with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hamilton.

Rev. Mr. Wotten preached the Easter service assisted by Mr. Jack Frost and Mrs. Wootten sang "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross," on which the Prince of Glory died", very sweetly and her husband played for her.

Miss Mary Moynes of Toronto and her friend also Mr. and Mrs. Angus Martin and Tommy of Toronto spent Easter at Mr. and Mrs. E. Moynes.

Mr. Charlie Elliott is spending his Easter vacation with his brother Mr. Wilbert Elliott.

Rev. Mr. Black, Mrs. Black and Alleen spent a short time calling on friends here last week.

Printed Silks

Beautiful designs have been developed in the season's Silk Crepes, Georgette and Rayon Prints. Georgettes in large floral effects are offered in dress lengths of a pattern and are moderately priced at $3.00 yard. All Silk Prints and Rayon Prints show smart patterns as well as the new polka dots. Qualities to suit every purse. Priced

75c to 3.00 yard

Children's Coats

Girls of all ages up to 14 will like the smartness of these dressy tweed Coats. Coats with style, in good qualities of material are offered in a good variety. For boys of 1 to 9 years, are plain and pinch-back coats on reefer lines. They are chiefly in good tweeds and fit as though made to measure. Prices

3.50 to 11.95

Confirmation Veils

Confirmation and Communion Veils in 54 and 72-inch sizes, are shown in various qualities, with and without motifs embroidered in corners.

75c to 2.00

SINCLAIR'S

RADIO FANS CORNER

Dear me, I've given up all hope of having a real good radio evening before the warm weather comes on. Last night's example of reception was nothing outstanding in the way of good reception.

Received a letter that very satisfactorily explained the little radio incident that Mrs. O. Fox of Burr's wrote in to this Corner the other day. Mr. Eugene Hitchon one of Belleville's leading radio experts offers this explanation to the incident. The alternating current from the spark-plug which amounts to between fifteen and twenty-five thousand volts depending on the type of motor was allowed to go as far as the wire fence. The frame of the car was grounded. Then when any person touched the fence, since they were standing on the ground, a current was made to flow. It started at the plugs, through a wire to the fence from the fence through the person in contact with it to the ground and then back to the frame of the car. It can be easily seen that we have a closed circuit carrying a current of electricity from the plug back to the frame of the car. The radio set since it also is grounded picked up this energy which was flowing in the earth and the noise would sound very much like a motor running when coming from a loud speaker. Thank you very much Mr. Hitchon.

The Del Monte program to-night presents John Boles in a radio version of his latest singing picture "Captain of the Guard" in their broadcast over WEAF and the NBC San Francisco studios at 8.30.

Dutch Masters' Minstrels present a variety program to-night during their program at 9.30 over WJZ.

B. A. Rolfe and his Lucky Strikers at ten from WEAF at eleven Lannie Ross, the Troubadour of the Moon sings "You're the Sweetest Girl This Side of Heaven." Believe it or not.

Albert College Orator Chosen

(Continued from Page One)

which made his effort outstanding. Exceptional work was done by Mr. Jack Wong, who speaking in a language not native to him, was praised by the announcing judge.

"Bishop's Candlesticks"

Two short plays the work of the dramatic class of Miss Jessie Tuite were put on "The Bishop's Candlesticks", a dramatization of a scene in Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables", and "The Rehearsal", a one act play dealing with backstage in 1606 when Shakespeare Richard Burbage and others of the company were rehearsing scenes in "Macbeth".

"The Bishop's Candlesticks" was exceptionally well done. Carl Aho as the bishop did well, Willis Dowler had the most difficult role, that of acting as Persome, the sister of the Bishop. Possessing a deep voice, Mr. Dowler yet restrained it so within bounds that the masculine character of the voice was produced so that, voice and gestuge fitted together to make a very fine impersonation. Ralph Williams played the convict impressively. Robert Edwards as Pierre, the servant, filled the role amply and Alex Finlayson as sergeant of gendarmes left nothing to be desired.

The sitting was simple yet adequate the costumes fitting and the entire effect was of a solid unity. The tempo of the play was clearly defined in the acting, and in the handling of the situations.

"The Rehearsal"

"The Rehearsal" called for a wardrobe of proportions but the Albert College group of actors are nothing if not resourceful. Calling in the aid of Mrs. Bishop and other ladies they acquired the rich dresses, the cloth being bought, dyed and then made up into clothes, tights, jerkins, cloaks and ruffs, to lend an atmosphere of verisimilitude to the setting, which was the open stage with curtains as in Shakespeare's day.

The students lived up to the opportunity, they did not hesitate, but really acted. J. Pullen played the dramatist Shakespeare, who was called upon to write some immortal lines for Burbage, which were condemned by him. The part was played reservedly as required. Lyall Perrier made good as the stage manager, Harold Peterson was effective as producer, William Hendershot made a fine impression as the self-willed Burbage seeking to make a hit. Alex McCall played the actor, Mr. Hughes acting Lady Macbeth and did his part so effectively as to win rounds of applause in his tripping over the bench and his tripping on the player's lines. Mr. G. Wright played the actor, Hood, Mr. Hamilton took the part of Mr. Lyle, cast as the doctor, Mr. Purchase appeared as the

For Aching Corns

If you suffer from aching corns and tired, swollen feet, use Absorbine, Jr., and get prompt relief. Before retiring place the feet in a basin of hot water to which has been added a small quantity of Absorbine, Jr. Follow this bath with a few drops of Absorbine, Jr., well rubbed in.

In the morning, rub a light application of full-strength Absorbine, Jr., over the corns, bunions or callouses. Continue this morning and night treatment for a short time and you will get relief. Absorbine, Jr., is not greasy and does not stain skin or clothes. $1.25 per bottle—at your druggist's. 4

Relieves the pain
Reduces the swelling
Absorbine Jr.

DODGE BROTHERS

$1065
AND UP, F. O. B. FACTORY

LOWEST PRICE EVER ASKED FOR A DODGE SIX

A big, handsome, comfortable car with Mono-Piece Steel Body—safe, silent and strong. A car of appealing beauty, vigorous performance and time-proved Dodge Brothers dependability. A car equipped with internal-expanding four-wheel hydraulic brakes—self-equalizing, weatherproof, positive in action. An amazingly low price for so fine a car.

"CANADIAN-BUILT FOR CANADIANS"

SIXES AND EIGHTS
UPHOLDING EVERY TRADITION OF DODGE DEPENDABILITY

Catton's Motor Sales
1 Station Street . . Phone 316

4-Door Sedan, $775 Coupe, $735; Roadster, $760. 2-Door Sedan, $725; De Luxe Coupe, $775. All prices, f. o. b. factory including standard factory equipment (freight and taxes extra.)

SEE OUR LINE OF THE LOWEST-PRICED CARS IN THE WORLD
PLYMOUTH
CHRYSLER MOTORS PRODUCT
SOLD BY CHRYSLER DEALERS EVERYWHERE

$735
And up, f. o. b. factory

SERBIAN SOOTHSAYERS HOLD NO FEAR FOR THIS SCRIBE NOW

Gypsy Fortune-Tellers Reveal Features of Life And Habits

(By Inquirer)

Prandel Bay Gypsies are probably not familiar with George Borrow the great English representative of the Bible Society who went into Spain lived the life of a gypsy and chronicled their habits and life in "The Bible in Spain."

Two swarthy daughters of Serbia admitted as much to me yesterday afternoon.

Editors prepare their daily dish of assignments for the humble reporters and your truly was awakened from a reverie and told to be off on a story yesterday afternoon. It was one of those few "soft" assignments that are hatched within the sacred precints of a newspaper office. Nothing but time to have my fortune told and interview a couple of gypsies who have made Belleville a stopping place to lure the public into having their past, present and future told. Being one of those timid souls I must confess I did not relish the job. The aspect was none too inviting but "orders is orders" and grabbing a wad of copy paper—and sharpening my wits I headed for the temporary quarters of the Cassandras. Treading lightly and measuring my steps I entered the portals of the shop which has been draped in tapestries and curtains of various hues and colors to attract the more interested of pedestrians.

Having heard tales of gypsies duping the unsuspecting public I left the "bank roll" with the office and had no worries in that respect. I was however reassured that the bank roll would have been safe here.

"Will you have de phrenologist meth od or de palmistry," asked the more matronly of the pair, after she had me seated behind the curtains which divide the shop. I chose the latter means of entry with the unknown and this soothsayer of the future proceeded to give me an account of my past and future sins, some of which made me squirm as I realized they were all too true. She gave me my horoscope, delved into de mystic of transgressions which she accused me of committing and wound up by dwelling on some of the brighter events of the future. The seer and me came at last as she rambled along with her prophecies and suguries.

Remembering the story of the great Cassandra in whom few placed little faith I was gradually won over by this moniker.

Cassandra, if you know your history foretold the fall of Troy and she was only recognized in her own sphere as the city met its overthrow.

Gypsies have now chosen the more fashionable mode of travel and go about the country in their eight cylinder packards as the horse has been relegated almost to the limbo of forgotten things.

These patriots make their home in the prosperous city of Winnipeg in the winter but the summer and the balmier weather finds them trekking into the smaller towns.

The speak in a broken English tongue but they can read and write one language, that of native Serbia, their native country. "Ever think of going back," I queried, "No, Canada is good enough for us," was the terse reply.

"Your husband lead a rather easy life, living on the fruits of your labor chiefly don't they," I asked. "Some times they get work as coppersmiths and make a few dollars," she said.

I was fascinated by a beautiful piece of workmanship which the younger one draped about her shoulders, a hand-worked scarf. "Paid fifty-five dollars for it, take it or leave it," she proposed trying to strike up a bargain with a struggling scribe who promptly informed the prophetess that he had no use for it.

They don't appear to be struck with the generosity of Belleville for "it's a business here," interjoined one, "guess we'll strike for some other burg soon."

One of them explained the power of telling fortunes is a gift. "You Canadians, you try to study it, we are born with it," she ridiculed.

Lolling over a cigarette, she told me of their life, their habits and their characteristics. Gypsys are adapted for the open road and a life of ease and this pair are enjoying to the fullest extent the privileges which are habits. They have travelled from coast to coast and far down into the southern States and proposed to strike west and when they shed the dust of Belleville from their shoes.

Visitors are always treated with the utmost courtesy by the prophetesses.

OBITUARY

MRS. J. A. WATT

A highly respected resident of Wellington, Ont., in the person of Mrs. J. A. Watt passed away on Saturday morning, April 10th., in her eighty-eighth year after an illness of four years. Her husband predeceased her eighteen years ago. Of a family of nine seven remain to mourn her loss, three sons and four daughters, William of Peterborough, Thomas of Prescott, Robert, Miss Agnes and Mrs. W. Closson of Wellington, Mrs. A. M. Hennessy and Mr. Thos. Hawthorn of Consecon. She also leaves one brother and two sisters, John Ebbens, Miss Mary Ebbens and Mrs. H. Rollins of Cooper. She was a member of the Presbyterian church for over sixty years.

The late Mrs. Watt, her husband and family were among the first settlers in the Township of Wellaston, North Hastings, where she resided until a few years ago, when she took up residence with her son Robert at Wellington.

The funeral was held on Tuesday at One Hill. The Rev. Leigh of One Hill read the Scripture lesson from Rev. 7th Chapter and spoke very impressively from the words in St. John's Gospel 14:19.

MRS. EMIE E. MORTON

Casselton Reporter of Casselton, North Dakota, of April 18th., contains news of the death of Mrs. Emie E. Morton, formerly of this county:

"Mrs. Richard Morton, resident of Casselton for nearly fifty years, died at her home on Friday morning after suffering from heart trouble. For several years she had been in poor health but had been active until Tuesday previous when she was unable to arise that morning. She gradually sank until Friday morning.

"Emie E. Dyer was born near Picton, Ontario, April 3rd., 1856. Her parents with afterward moved to Tweed, Ont., and there spent her girlhood days. Later the family removed to Belleville, Ont.

"On a voyage to Richard Morton took place in Belleville, April 22nd., 1874. They later went to Kincardine, Ont., where they lived until 1880 when Mr. Morton came to Casselton and established a blacksmithing business, which he continued until his death. Mrs. Morton followed her husband here the next year. They and family have occupied the same house on the same location in Casselton for forty-nine years. Mr. Morton died in July of last year.

"Surviving her are a son, Charles T., Seattle, Wash.; and two daughters, Mrs. Jerdh D. Scott, at home, and Mrs. Almeda Houtkooper, Englevale, N.D., and a sister, Almeda M. Dyer, Casselton. Other relatives still reside in Canada, Mrs. Houtkooper came to Casselton on advice of her mother's serious condition.

"Mrs. Morton always had an optimistic outlook on life, was of a cheery disposition and had a pleasant word at all times. This characteristic she retained as long as she was able to speak one of her last remarks being to that vein. Her loss will be mourned.

"Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon from the Methodist Episcopal church of Casselton, Rev. J. N. Leach, pastor, officiating. Mrs. A. D. Ottinger, Valley City, and Mr. Geo. H. Sinclair, Fargo, sang duets, 'Abide With Me' and 'Face to Face'. Burial was made in Casselton cemetery, Messrs. A. D. South, B. H. Zimmerman, C. M. Lindsay, J. P. Cooney, O. H. Stanley and John Brekkle, acting as pallbearers."

Paul Roberson, the negro actor, will play Othello in London, with Peggy Aschcroft, while, as Desdemona.

VESSEL RELICS CALL TO MIND GILBERT VOYAGE

Refused to Desert The Unfortunate Even During Severe Storms

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. — From the deep mud of a pond near the seashore at Bonavista have come long-buried relics to evoke a new speculative enquiry into the explorations of Sir Humphrey Gilbert, Knight, who "in the year of our Lord, 1583, with other gentlemen assisting him in that action, intended to discover and to plant Christian inhabitants in place convenient, upon those large and ample countries extended northward from the Cape of Florida —yet not in the actual possession of any Christian prince."

Four years ago, an ancient boat was discovered at Bonavista, only to be broken up without careful examination, the only part of its oaken walls now remaining being a walking stick in possession of the rector of the parish. It has just been learned that a second boat was found at the same time, with a brass disc, shilling size, embedded in the ancient wood.

The date, 1583, clearly discernible, and a clear cut O graven in the token enden under a bird with spreading wings, have given rise to the belief that the undistinguished craft may have been part of the equipment of Raleigh's step-brother, whose ventures brought him nothing but shipwreck and death and a front rank among the gentlemen mariners who took possession of the Americas for God and Elizabeth.

Whether or not the finds at Bonavista may be directly connected with the Gilbert expedition, which resulted in the foundland in four ships and left the remains of three of them to knock about various latitudes of the North Atlantic, is pure conjecture, but they will very well be the remains of one of the 36 ships of all nations that thronged the Harbor of St. John's on the August morning when Sir Humphrey took possession of everything within a radius of 200 leagues in the name of his Royal Mistress.

The proclamation on the fifth of August, 1583, followed a voyage of thirty-three days from Carew Bay, near Plymouth, and was the high point of a venture, profitless from a material point of view, that saw one ship left in Newfoundland and one wrecked near Cape Breton with ore specimens belonging to Sir Philip, which Sir Humphrey was confident the fortune of his company was secured. The secret of the ore's origin was finally sealed when the General went down with his tiny frigate in the course of the homo voyage, leaving the Golden Hind to make landfall alone at Falmouth.

To deliver the circumstances and proceedings of that matter . . . lest any man should be dismayed by example of other folks' calamity, misdeem that God doth resist all attempts intended that way" was the self imposed task of Edward Hayes, gentlemen, captain and owner of the Golden Hind, whose crew reached home with the loss of one man.

Making relation "briefly yet particularly, of every voyage undertaken by Sir Humphrey Gilbert, begun, continued and ended adversely," Hayes lays all the success of the voyage to the fact that Gilbert as the result of previous ill fortune, was "encumbered with wants and woes sufficient to have many ill disposed people." Even in the face of the calamitous voyage, however, the Golden Hind's master was enthusiastic about the possibilities of colonization in Newfoundland which he termed of "the fishiest and fowlish sloth in many of our nation, choosing rather to live indirectly and very miserably to live and die within this land remain pestered with inhabitants, than to adventure as becometh men."

Humphrey's fleet originally consisted of five ships, the Delight, 120 tons, which was "Admiral"; the Bark Raleigh, of 200 tons, which formed the expedition because of sickness among the crew soon after the start, the Golden Hind, 40 tons, the Swallow, 40 tons and the frigate Squirrel, of 10 tons burden.

Sailing on June 11, the fleet made the Newfoundland coast far north in the vicinity of Notre Dame bay about July 30, and followed the coast south to St. John's, where they made harbor on August 3. The crew of the Swallow having pirate blood in their veins, had held up and ransacked a homeward bound fishing bark. It was this same crew, transhipped to the Golden Hind which went down off Cape Breton on August 29, an occurrence seen by Hayes as a judgment of God, although Captain Maurice Browne, who had no hand in the piracy, also was lost, and fourteen of the crew survived.

On August 20, after Gilbert had begun his administration by renting waterfront property to fishermen from Spain, Portugal and France, the flotilla leaving the Swallow behind, set out to explore and take possession of the coast southward.

The narrator records the fact that sickness, conspiracy and desertion had somewhat impaired the personnel of the expedition during the sojourn at St. John's, during which Newfoundland was found to be a suitable place for a colony. Ore, including iron, lead and copper had been discovered. "I will not aver of riches' metals" says Hayes, "albeit by the circumstances following, more than hope may be conceived thereof."

He goes on to say that Daniel, the metal expert from Lower Saxony, had brought to Gilbert ore alleged to contain silver, but the general would suffer no speech concerning it "here being both Portugals, Britayns and Frenchmen."

The voyagers intended to start at Sable Island, where they had been told cattle had been set to breed by the Portuguese several years before and after eight days of bad weather had succeeded in reaching Cape Breton. Hayes relates that on the evening of August 28, the crew of the Delight, "like a swan that singeth before her death, continued in sounding of trumpets, with drums and fifes; also winding the cornets and hant-boys."

On the following day breakers were sighted, and while the Golden Hind and Squirrel were able to recover searoom, the Delight was cast away. Fourteen of the crew were able to save themselves by taking into a boat constructed during the brief sojourn in Newfoundland.

The loss of the Delight strengthened the opinion among the crews that their better course was homeward to England, and not down the coast of America. This was agreed to by Sir Humphrey, who was certain that "Her Majesty would be so gracious as to lend ten thousand pounds" for the fitting out of another expedition to develop the resources of what was to be the oldest Colony.

Consistently he refused to forsake the 10-ton Squirrel in favor of the Golden Hind, Hayes declaring this to be rashness rather than reason, and imputing the General's resolution to toil in the Squirrel to a desire to refute rumors that he feared the sea.

Be that as it may, on September 9, overtaken by a storm near the Azores, the Squirrel's lights suddenly went out. That afternoon, sitting chaft with a book in his hand, Gilbert had called out to the Hind: "We are as near Heaven by the Sea as by Land."

M. F. ARMSTRONG SELLS INTEREST

Belleville Burial Company Will Be Carried By Mr. J. W. Imlah

Mr. Matthew F. Armstrong partner with Mr. Joseph W. Imlah in the the Belleville Burial Company, has sold his half interest to Mr. Imlah and will in future carry on the business. Mr. Armstrong has not defined his plans for the future but he expects to enter into business in a short time. It is likely that this will necessitate his removal from the city of Belleville.

Mr. Armstrong and his partner Mr. Imlah have been among the most progressive of the business men in Belleville and it is with regret that it is learned that the former will shortly be leaving the city. Mr. Imlah in "carrying on" has the good will of the community in which he is well known.

Mr. Armstrong came to Belleville fifteen years ago from the town of Perth and since then the firm have built up a very successful business here.

An itching skin? Ugly pimples? Red eruptions?

The active fluid DDD will wash the disease germs out of the skin. There's a few drops in a head spot—watch the formula penetrate. Spread the rest on, two, three times—the rough unsightly spots have disappeared.

Ostrom's Drug Store

CHRYSLER

CHRYSLER 7/7 ROYAL COUPE (roadster seat), $2225
F. O. B. Factory (Special Equipment Extra)

Give a Chrysler things to do—it does them better!

Go through traffic in a Chrysler. Learn how nimbly and effortlessly it threads its way through the maze . . . how fast it is on pick-up . . . how easily it handles . . . how safe and sure are its weatherproof 4-wheel hydraulic brakes.

Take it out on the open road. Step on it . . . get the tingle of its speed . . . test its smoothness and quietness.

Climb hills—hills up which you have struggled laboriously in other cars. Watch the Chrysler pass everything on the steepest grades.

We will gladly place a Chrysler at your disposal so that you can give it things to do—difficult things—and learn for yourself how much better it does them than any other motor car that you have ever driven.

$1005
NEW CHRYSLER SIX

Lowest-priced six ever to bear the Chrysler name. Five body styles, priced $1005 to $1070, f. o. b. factory, including standard factory equipment (freight and taxes extra).

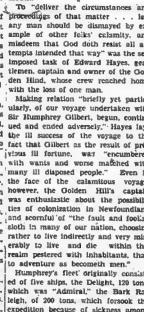
There is a Canadian-Built Chrysler for every purse and need—"77", "70", "66", New Chrysler Six

BELLEVILLE MOTORS
Belleville - Ontario

4-Door Sedan, $775; Coupe, $725; Touring Car, $690; 1-Ton Truck, $750; Chassis, $495. All prices f. o. b. factory. Cloth top and starter extra. Government freight and taxes extra.

NOW ONE OF THE LOWEST-PRICED CARS IN THE WORLD!

PLYMOUTH



SOLD BY DODGE BROTHERS DEALERS EVERYWHERE

$735
And up, f. o. b. factory

Always with Bacon

Never did Bacon taste so good as when served with a little H.P.—the Sauce that's always appetizing and enjoyable.

H P SAUCE

Narrow Escape In The Runaway of Roller Team

Tongue Broke on Roller But Elmer Post Escaped Injury

West Huntingdon, April 25 By Mail Mr. Elmer Post had a narrow escape from being hurt when his team he was driving on a roller, kicked the tongue and broke it, causing them to run away ,fortunately no one was hurt and the team were soon caught.

Mr. Jas Haggerty and family were all home for Easter.

Mrs. S. Fargey's daughter Mrs. G. Wilson and her family from Montreal were Easter visitors.

Mr. O. Pose is much better after his relapse.

Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Vice and Douglas also Mildred Hunt were guests over the week end with Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Wilson.

Mrs. A. M. Coburn of Niagara Falls visited her sons Melville and Lewis Reid for a few days. Mr. and Mrs. J. Turner of Shannonville.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Reid and Mrs. Coburn attended the funeral of Mrs. Tanners and Mrs. Coburn's sister Mrs. D. Hoover in Madoc on Saturday.

Mr. Paul Kingston is very poorly at present.

Mr. Jas. McGowans tractor can be heard each day which proves itself a very useful piece of machinery.

Mr. Embury Hough and Mr. Lorne Wilson spent Monday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Don Campbell at Wallbridge.

Mr. Bernard Truscott visited at the parsonage for a few days.

Rev. and Mrs. Truscott visited Mrs. C. Filbert and baby at the hospital on Saturday.

Mr. Percy Gilbeon was through illness unable to attend his duties as bread carrier on Tuesday.

Miss Katie Bray has been accepted to train as a nurse and expects to take up her duties first of May.

Miss Margaret Bray is home for a rest for a while.

Miss Margaret Lockhart visited her sister for a few days last week.

A great many had on their Easter bonnett on Sunday but the snow squalls don't look like spring.

House cleaning is the order of the day despite the bad weather.

Attacked by Asthma. The first fearful sensation is of suffocation, which hour by hour becomes more desperate and hopeless. To such a case the relief afforded by Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Cure may seems nothing less than miraculous. Its help is quickly apparent and soon the dreadful attack is mastered. The asthmatic who has found out the dependability of this sterling remedy will never be without it. It is sold everywhere.

PACK MULE NEARS END OF LONG TRAIL

Fairplay, Colorado, April 26 m The end of the trail neared tonight for Prunes 61 year old gray pack burro.

Death is near. His teeth are gone and his legs, which for more than half a century packed fortunes of ore over the mountain trails of this region, no longer are nimble.

He may be chloroformed.

delicious just PLAIN

Try a handful of Rice Krispies right out of the red-and-green package. Golden bubbles of flavor that melt in your mouth like Spryo for breakfast with milk or cream.

Rice Krispies are delicious in a dozen different ways, Children are wild about them. At your grocer's. Oven-fresh. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

snap! crackle! pop!

Kellogg's
RICE KRISPIES

YANKEES CHALK UP A VICTORY

Vance Held Boston to Three Hits and Brooklyn Won Handily

WASHINGTON, April 26 — Goose Goslin's first homer of the season with one on in the 8th put the Washington Senators in first place yesterday the Senators winning from the Philadelphia Athletics 6 to 4. Lloyd Brown chalked up his third straight win, although being relieved in the ninth. The Senators had administered both defeats the Athletics have suffered this season.

NEW YORK, April 26.—The New York Yankees broke their five-game losing streak when they won their first game of the 1930 season from the Boston Red Sox 3 to 2 in ten innings.

Doubles by Tony Lazzeri and Joe Chapman, Yanks' rookie third baseman, in the tenth won the game.

CLEVELAND, O., April 26.— After failing to score for five innings, the Indians' sneaked up on the wily Tigers here, tied it up 3-and-3 in the seventh and won the game in the last of the tenth, 5 to 4.

With the bases filled in the tenth, Hodapp forced out Falk, Rogell to Geh ringer, while Jamieson streaked across to win the game.

ST. LOUIS, April 26—Walter Stewart, young southpaw of the Browns, chalked up his third victory in as many starts yesterday, holding the White Sox to six hits, while his team-mates bunched theirs to win 4 to 2. The victory was the Browns' fourth straight.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

BOSTON, April 26.—Dazzy Vance kingpin of the National League hurlers a few years ago, snapped back into form and held the Boston Braves to three hits as the Brooklyn Robins took the first of a two-game series, 5 to 1.

CHICAGO, April 26.—A barrage of extra base hits enabled Chicago Cubs to down the Cincinnati Reds yesterday 6 to 5, in 12 innings.

Hack Wilson led the attack with a homer, double and single, while Heathcote grabbed a triple, double and single.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 26.—After two postponements by snow and cold weather, the Pittsburg Pirates opened their home season yesterday, winning from the St. Louis Cardinals, 6 to 1. Chilly weather held the crowd down to 5,000.

It was the fifth straight victory for the Pirates. They have lost but one of seven games this season.

Baseball Results

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Baltimore	4	1	.800
Buffalo	4	1	.800
Newark	3	2	.600
Toronto	3	3	.500
Rochester	2	3	.400
Reading	2	4	.333
Montreal	2	5	.286
Jersey City	1	5	.167

Friday's Scores

Jersey City 7; Toronto 2.
Newark, 6; Rochester 2
Reading 10; Montreal 3
Buffalo at Baltimore, postponed, cold weather.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Washington	6	3	.750
Philadelphia	5	3	.667
St. Louis	5	3	.625
Chicago	3	3	.500
Cleveland	4	5	.571
Boston	3	5	.375
Detroit	3	5	.300
New York	1	5	.167

Friday's Scores

xNew York 3; Boston 2
xTen innings.
Cleveland 5; Detroit 4
Ten innings.
St. Louis 4; Chicago 2

NATIONAL LEAGUE

	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
New York	4	0	1.000
Pittsburgh	6	1	.857
Chicago	5	3	.625
Philadelphia	3	3	.500
Boston	3	3	.500
Cincinnati	4	5	.400
Brooklyn	2	5	.286
Cincinnati	2	6	.250

Friday's Scores

Brooklyn 5; Boston 1.
Pittsburgh 6; St. Louis 1
xChicago 6; Cincinnati 5
xTen innings.
New York at Philadelphia, postponed, cold weather.

Recreation Alleys

In the ladies' afternoon league at the Recreation Alleys the Shamrocks and Ponies broke even in the first game, Mrs. Shaddock was high for the Shamrocks with 493. For the Ponies Mrs. Reppard was best with 475. In the second game the Maple Leafs took three points from the Crescents. Mrs. Freeman was high for the Maple Leafs with 468, while for the Crescents Mrs. Callaghan was best with 396.

There was a prize put up for the lady bowling closest to the lucky number which was placed on a ball at the spectator. Mrs. Shaddock was the lucky winner with 493. The lucky number being 523.

The Breakaway won four points from the Hydro in a ladies' junior game. V. Hobson was high for the Breakaway With a total of 460. For the Hydro M. Mouck was best with 467.

In a Junior A group game between the Yard and the Hardware, the Yard took three points. Edwards was best with a total of 642 for the Yard and for the Hardware O'Brien was high with 644.

In a Junior B group game between the Riots and the Tykes the Riots took three points Ridley was high for the Riots with total of 653. For the Tykes Robinson was best with 581.

In the weekly competition for prizes at the Alley R. Payne is leading in the men's section with total of 943 and singles of 316, 305, 307. R. Belnap is close behind with a total of 940. His singles are 331, 344, 265.

In the ladies' section Mrs. Belnap is leading with 840. Her singles are 330 310, and 200. F. Ethier is second with 580 and singles of 296, 310 and 184.

Shamrocks—Mrs. Storms, 360; Mrs. Shaddock, 492; Mrs. Hibbard, 281; Mrs. Cooper 387, total 1520.

Ponies—Mrs. Flagler, 316; Mrs. Reppard 475; Mrs. Jackson 353; Miss Logan 367; total 1511.

Crescents—Mrs. Callaghan 389; Mrs. Orrow 366; Mrs. Gibson 317; Mrs. O'Connor 32; total 1284.

Maple Leaf—Mrs. Graham 306; Miss Flagler 387; Miss Doe 342; Mrs. Freeman 453; total 1481.

Ladies' League

Breakaway—V. Hobson 460; C. Pomeroy 340; J. Grant 465; M. Grant 443; J. Doe 343; total 2093.

Hydro—B. Polis 344; E. Symons 416 K. Cooke 360; R. Stevens 412; M. Mouck 467; total 1899.

Men's League

Yard—Edward 642; Ford 477; Johnston 490; McElrath 514; Ivens 526; total 2649

Belleville Hardware—Crawford 488; O'Brien 544; Haslip 542; Barrage 469 Bloom 471; total 2515.

Tykes—F. Revell 581; T. Revell 423; Symons 541; Austin 321; Robinson 581 total 2017.

Riots—Ridley 653; Delaney 449; Boyle 577; Baker, Co; Marigold 536; total 2235.

TORONTO LOST TO JERSEY CITY 6-3

Keystones Won First Game From Montreal Royals 10 to 2

JERSEY CITY, N.J., April 26.—The Leafs made only half as many home runs as the Jerseys did while wintry blasts blew at the West Side Park yesterday afternoon. The Leafs kicked on two plays and the Jerseys did not do an ykicking at all. Therefore the Leafs lost the ball game, the first of a series of six by 6 to 3. Frank Barnes came through with some pretty good pitching but, as it turned out, it was not quite good enough seeing that he was handicapped by a faltering defence in the seventh inning ,arnes allowed seven hits and the Leafs clubbed Sid Hopkins, a right-hander, for eight.

Julian Wera got a hold of one of Barnes' best serves in the second, inning and lifted it over the low wall in left for a home run. George Martin put the ball in the same spot in the fifth for another homer. Bobby Veach was on base through a double when Wera checked in with his far flung hit.

Eddie Phiffips hit a round trip blow for the Leafs in the seventh inning It was by far the longest crack of the day, the ball going over the left-field fence and knotting the count. But after the Leafs had twice come from behind for the Jerseys' round a walk, a bad throw and a muffed throw, Richardson and Cote being the offenders, and one hit gave the rebuilt home team three runs in their half of the seventh. The Leafs were unable to match that splurge for Hopkins' supporting mates refused to falter. As a matter of fact they tightened up better than ever and Hopkins became more of a puzzle.

READING, April 26.—Johnny Welch held Montreal to four hits here while Reading was socking Elam Vangilder for 14, and the Keystones won the first game of the series, 10 to 2. Three of the hits given up by Welch were infield scratches, while the fourth was a home run hit by Hitney Haines in the eighth.

NEWARK, N.J., April 26.—Heavy Layns socked his third home run of the season yesterday with two men on the bases in the eighth inning, to give the Newark Bears a 4-to-2 victory over Rochester in the opening game of the series.

Tex Carleton limited the Bears to four safe hits two of which came in the eighth. Al Mamaux pitched for Newark and kept seven Rochester batsmen well scattered.

Here to stay!
20 FOR 20¢
BRUNETTE CIGARETTES
BRUNETTE
5¢ LESS
—and just as good

FOUR CLUBS ARE REPRESENTED AT BALL MEETING

Central Ontario League Officials Met in The City Today

The weather man was in a smiling mood today and as a result the delegates to the Central Ontario Baseball meeting were highly enthusiastic over the season's prospects. Four clubs were represented, Peterboro, Belleville, Kingston and Oshawa and from all indications these four will be at the barrier on May 24th. There is still some doubt as to Peterboro's entry but the officials from the Lift-Lock City were given one week's grace in which to make a decision. The Peterboro officials are having some difficulty in forming a club.

The Executive of the Belleville Club met last night and from the enthusiasm manifest the city is on the eve of one of the most successful years in baseball history. President Major A. W. Pratt, Manager Walter Gerow and Mr. Ed Thomas were appointed the delegates to the C.O.B.L. meeting today.

Another meeting will be held on Monday night when the officers will be elected for the ensuing year.

Oshawa team was strongly represented every and the Motor City will field a splendid team. The following extract from Kingston indicates that the Limestoners are keen to play ball:

The Limestoners are keen to play ball. Kingston and Oshawa and from all indications these four will be at the barrier on May 24th. There is still some doubt as to Peterboro's entry but the officials from the Lift-Lock City were given one week's grace in which to make a decision. The Peterboro officials are having some difficulty in forming a club.

The Executive of the Belleville Club met last night and from the enthusiasm manifest the city is on the eve of one of the most successful years in baseball history. President Major A. W. Pratt, Manager Walter Gerow and Mr. Ed Thomas were appointed the delegates to the C.O.B.L. meeting today.

Another meeting will be held on Monday night when the officers will be elected for the ensuing year.

Oshawa team was strongly represented every and the Motor City will field a splendid team. The following extract from Kingston indicates that the Limestoners are keen to play ball:

WHAT DO YOU PREFER IN HAT STYLES?
Tastes vary—when it comes to choosing Hats. But on Quality, all Well-Dressed men are agreed. Whether you prefer the Welt-Brim, the Crusher or Homburg, our Models are Correct and Distinctive.
QUICK & ROBERTSON
CORRECT CLOTHING FOR MEN

IMPORTANT
CHANGE OF TRAIN TIMES
will be made EFFECTIVE APRIL 27th
For particulars consult Ticket Agents
CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAYS

IMPORTANT CHANGE IN TRAIN SCHEDULES
EFFECTIVE SUNDAY, APRIL 27
Montreal, Ottawa, Belleville, Toronto, Detroit, Chicago
Eastern Standard Time

Read Down				Read Up
No. 19	No. 27	DAILY		No. 20	No. 30
12.50 noon	8.45 a.m.	Lv. Montreal	Ar.	4.30 p.m.	8.45 p.m.
1.25 p.m.	9.60 a.m.	Lv. Ottawa	Ar.	3.35 p.m.	8.00 p.m.
4.37 p.m.	1.31 p.m.	Ar. Belleville	Lv.	11.45 a.m.	4.50 p.m.
7.45 p.m.	4.30 p.m.	Ar. TORONTO	Lv.	8.45 a.m.	2.00 p.m.
8.05 p.m.	6.05 p.m.	Ar. Hamilton	Lv.	7.25 a.m.	*12.35 p.m.
8.45 p.m.	4.40 p.m.	Lv. TORONTO	Ar.	8.25 a.m.	1.45 p.m.
2.20 a.m.	10.25 p.m.	Ar. Detroit	Lv.	2.50 a.m.	8.00 a.m.
7.40 a.m.	6.50 a.m.	Ar. Chicago	Lv.	6.30 p.m.	11.15 p.m.

*Daily except Sunday

EQUIPMENT—Dining, Parlor, Sleeping and Observation Cars.

Train 34 for Ottawa will leave Toronto Union daily at 10.45 p.m.
Train 35 from Montreal 7.00 a.m. will arrive Toronto Union 4.25 p.m.
Train 36 for Montreal will leave Toronto Union 8.00 a.m.
Trains 35 and 36 operate daily except Sunday—on Sundays they operate Toronto to Havelock only.
EQUIPMENT—Train 34—Standard Sleepers and Buffet Club Compartment. Trains 35 and 36—Coaches, Buffet Parlor and Parlor Cars.

Train 633 for local points to Detroit will leave Toronto Union 2.45 p.m. daily.

Train 634 will leave Detroit 9.15 a.m., arriving Toronto 4.30 p.m. daily.
Train 636 will leave Detroit 11.25 p.m. for Toronto, arriving 6.45 a.m. daily.

EQUIPMENT—Train 633 and 634 —Coaches and Cafe Parlor Car.
Train 636—Standard Sleepers.

For information regarding changes in other train schedules, consult nearest Canadian Pacific ticket agent.

CANADIAN PACIFIC

Wallpaper
WE ARE FEATURING SUNWORTHY WALLPAPERS In the popular 22 and 30 inch widths
SILLS' Book Store
Phone 1125

YES—SPRING'S COMING!

SO BETTER GET YOUR NEW SPRING SUIT AT
CHAS. J. SYMONS
MEN'S STORE

PAINTS
—ENDURANCE PAINT
—VARNISHES
—VARNISH STAIN
—QUICK DRYING LACQ
Assorted Sizes
McKEOWN'S
DRUG STORE

APPEARANCE!
THE designers of the new Durant 6-14 built beauty into its lines just as they built comfort into its riding qualities and performance into its motor.
The low-set body, long, flowing lines and wide sweeping fenders, together with the spear-point decorative motif carried throughout, account for the attractive appearance of this new Durant product.
You will best appreciate the Appearance, Performance, Comfort and Value of this new, medium-price, six-cylinder Durant, by accepting your dealer's invitation to drive it.
APPEARANCE
PERFORMANCE COMFORT
VALUE
The Durant Four continues as an important unit among Durant products
DURANT MOTORS of CANADA, LIMITED
TORONTO GLASGOW CANADA

Durant, Six Cylinder, Special Coupe Model "6-14"
DURANT
A GOOD CAR
6308
Townsend & Lee
321 Front Street - Phone 227

Pineapples! Pineapples !!

The Pineapple season is now on and we are now on our third car for this season. We advise our customers to buy their Fruit from now on until the next two weeks, when they will be at their best and the price at the lowest.

SPANISH ORANGES—Owing to the high cost of California Oranges and the quality being so poor, we are buying Spanish Oranges which are very reasonable in price and the quality is very good—juicy and sweet.

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND POTATOES—Just arrived, a car of Early COBBLER Potatoes, for seeding Get your supply while they last.

Any of the above goods can be had from your nearest grocer or any food store in the city, but insist that they are our brand of goods.

Belleville Fruit Co., Limited
OFFICE AND WAREHOUSE, ALBION ST.
PHONE 834

when Kingston will again enter the circuit and will likely be in the regular playing schedule.

At a meeting of the club practically all of last year's players were on hand and the greatest enthusiasm was seen. In addition to those who figured on the team last season, Bob Elliott, who made his C.O.B.L. debut with Kingston, but performed for Deloro in 1929, will be available for the local team, as will all several others, including a first-class pitcher, and the club feel that the team will make a very good showing this season.

Finances of the club were reported on and it was disclosed that though the team last year was only in the playoffs for the title, and had to confine their activities through the greater part of the season to exhibition games, as well as buying all equipment, the club broke even and with the uniforms and equipment on hand to start the 1930 season, it is expected that a successful year will be enjoyed.

Guglielmo Marconi's system of radio communication was patented in 1896.

And fearless minds climb soonest into crowns.—Shakespeare.

Business Directory

LEGAL

R. J. BUTLER, K.C., BARRISTER, Solicitor. Notary Public. Money to loan. Offices: Ontario Hall Building, 90 Bridge Street East. Trinity phone 440.

WALLBRIDGE, CAMERON AND CO. (Successors to the late F. B. Wallbridge). Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries. Money to loan. Dominion Bank Building, corner Front and Bridge streets, Belleville, Ontario.

COLLINS AND CORBINO, A. B. COLLINS, F. G. Cushing. Barristers and Solicitors. Office: Above Royal Bank, corner Front and Campbell streets. Phone 102. Company and private funds to loan on first mortgages.

B. G. DONNAN, COUNTY CROWN Attorney, Notary Public, Solicitor, Public, etc. Offices: Court House Building, Belleville, Ontario.

PORTER, PATTEE, AND ARNOTT, Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, etc. Solicitors for Royal Bank, E. Guss Porter, K.C., Chas. A. Payne and R. D. Arnott. Money to loan on mortgage and investment made. Offices: 319 Front street, Belleville, Ontario.

MALCOLM WRIGHT, BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary Public, etc. Office: Campbell street, Belleville.

PONTON, PONTON AND GRAHAM, Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, Commissioners. Offices: 28 Bridge street east, Belleville. Bank of Montreal. Money to loan on mortgage. W. N. Ponton, K.C. R. D. Ponton, K.C. H. J. R. Graham. Office, Belleville

FRASER AYLESWORTH
Ontario Land Surveyor and Registered Professional Civil Engineer
Land Surveys, Plans and Description, etc., promptly attended to PHONE 8-R-12 P.O. BOX 60
MADOC, ONT.

DENTAL

DR. G. A. MORTON, DENTIST, X-Ray Equipment. Office: Bursaries Block, Front street, city. Phone 663, Belleville.

FARM INSURANCE

Rates very reasonable and all are so before renewing policy. We save you money.

THE
H. F. KETCHESON
CO., LIMITED
36 BRIDGE ST., BELLEVILLE

INSURANCE
BEFORE PLACING YOUR ORDER for Fire Insurance see W. J. Hall and R. H. Ketcheson. Open to Council and several other first class companies, 278 Front St. Phone 790, Belleville.

MEDICAL

J. F. Farnsworth, M.D.,
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
16 Victoria Ave. Phone 2127,
Residence 1726W

B. S. GIBSON, M.D.C.M.,
Physician and Surgeon
178 George St. Phone 2160

DR. G. J. FORSTER, SURGEON, 17 Victoria Ave. Phones: Surgery 958-W, Residence 958-J. Hours: 1-3:30, 7-8:30, or by appointment.

DeSRMCoupBSc.
Physician and Surgeon
X-Ray a Specialty
10 to 12 Front St. Belleville
Office Hours 2 to 4 p.m.
Phone 2200

RADIUM TREATMENTS

ARCHITECTURE

JOHN R. PARKS, CARPENTER AND Contractor, Hope Chesse, Medicine Hat, Alberta. Plans and Specifications freely given on laying and finishing hardwood floors. Estimates on all class of buildings furnished free. Over 100 designs on bungalows, houses, etc. Agent for the Chamberlain famous Metal Weather Strip, 30 Charlotte St. Phone 2088, Belleville.

ARELETTE MOTOR BUS AND Auto Livery, Tweed and Belleville. Motor bus leaves Tweed at 7.45; leaves Belleville at 2.15. Phone 228, Belleville.

Public Accountant

Audits and Investigations made: Income tax reports prepared; financial statements drawn up; accounting systems installed, books opened, written up monthly and closed. Hugh K. Middleton, c/o Belleville Locators. Phone 861.

BELLEVILLE AND MADOC
MOTOR BUS
NOW RUNNING
Leaves Belleville 7 a.m. and 2.30 p.m.; leaves Madoc 9 a.m. and 5.30 p.m.; Parcel express daily. Trips 9 a.m., 2 p.m. and 4 p.m. Orders called for and delivered. Phone 1346.
E. STAPLEY, Proprietor.

Chiropractors

H. R. and VERA B. PITCHER
Chiropractors
LICENSED PRACTITIONERS
Phone 1214 Bridge St. E.
Belleville, Ontario

Wm. P. Redick
Licensed
CHIROPRACTOR and DRUGLESS THERAPIST
NINA M. REDICK
by Appointment only
Phone 900 288 Coleman St.

FOR SALE

OPPORTUNITIES

We have listed right now for sale a large and varied selection of remarkably attractive offerings, the choices in the city at various prices, ranging from $3000 to $9200. Any reasonable down payment will be accepted and suitable terms for balance will be given.

Tell us what you want, the cash payment you can make, where you prefer to locate.

Interview and enquiries solicited. Advice free.

Watch our Wash Board Bulletin for snaps and location of different homes for sale.

We have also numerous choice building lots throughout the city. Open evenings.

PANTER & THOMSON
35 Bridge St.
Real Estate & Investment Brokers
Phone 207.

1 DE SOTO SPORT SEDAN, 1929, 6 wire wheels, 41 condition.

1 CHEVROLET TOURING, 1925, Recondilioned, newly painted and new tires.

1 DODGE GRAHAM 1928, 1½ to 3 ton, reconditioned, repainted, tires good.

2 CHEVROLET, 1 TON, 1923 and 1927.

1 REO MODEL F, 1¼ TON CHASSIS with cab.

1 RUGBY, 1 TON, PANEL BODY, A1 condition.

ARELETTE & SONS
Phone 1346
Belleville.

CHOICE GLADIOLI 83 PER HUNdred, also several perennial plants and seed. Mr. Peck, phone 1224W.

TWO GRADE HOLSTEIN COWS, recently freshened, the other due to freshen. Apply F. J. Bird, R. R. 2, Belleville.

HIGH GRADE JERSEY BLACK Giant Hatching Eggs $2.50 per setting, also Wyandottes Hatching Eggs, good strain at 75 per setting. Mrs. L. E. Leavitt, Wooler, Ont. Phone Wooler 3-12.

5 ACRES CHOICE GARDEN LAND, Sold brick house, immediate occupancy. Apply A. Collins, Herchimer Block, Belleville.

CHINCHILLA RABBITS ALSO PURE bred Angora rabbits. A bargain for quick sale. Apply 27 Alexander Street.

NORDHEIMER PIANO IN GOOD condition. Can be seen at Heintzman Co.

SAND AND GRAVEL FOR SALE. Good building sand and good cement gravel; 2 miles south of Air Pinal, on premises of John Roy Harry, Lot 9, No. 4 Concession, Sidney. Apply Roy Harry, Trenton, R.R. No. 7.

AT POINT ANNE QUARRIES, WOOD 4-foot and 2-foot single load $1.00, also stone sheeting and timber. Apply at the Quarries or A. Sale Co., 52 Station St., Belleville.

MELLOTTS CREAM SEPARATOR, Lister Lighting Plant, Windmill Engines, Lighting Rods, Millers, Wood and iron pump; some good used Separators, for sale cheap. Apply Mellotts, Grandview Street. 726-tf.

REFRIGERATOR 7'-0" x 2'-6" x 30". Apply to Hotel Belvidere. 817-tf.

FOR SALE RESTRICTED BUILDing lots on the highway both North and South Sidings for the Country Club Area and West. I have decided to open up a sub-division consisting of lots with 100 ft. fronts suitable for country homes, some will be provided with water, sewer and electric light service, others without these conveniences; prices to suit location. R. J. Graham. 823-4-5

FOR SALE—220 CHARLES STREET between Bridge and Queen St.; one of the finest locations in the city. It is a Cottage, absolutely modern, 7 rooms, four open fires, centre hall, oak floors throughout, with ideal furniture storage above. The grates and mantels are of the latest and up-keep of property, private drive. Immediate possession absolutely by appointment only with Belleville Locators, phone 861 Office 23 Bridge St. East. 819-dtf

SEVERAL FARM PROPERTIES from 50 acres to 300 acres with barns, dwellings and outhouses at reasonable prices. R. J. Graham. 812-1-2-tf.

BOAT SUITABLE FOR OUTBOARD motor or rowing. Apply Shaw Machinery Co. Ltd., 100 Church St. 818-tf.

FOR SALE

GROCERY STORE with Five Living Rooms and Bath. Good business in East End, residential section. As owner wants to retire this can be bought right for cash or small home taken in part payment. Investigate this.

Apply Box 797 Ontario Intelligencer Office.

FOR SALE

4 BURNER GAS STOVE AND SMALL Quebec heater. Apply 182 Albert Street. Owner leaving city. 826-1tf

ONE AND ONE-HALF HORSE POWer electric motor, two brass volts, three phase, sixty cycle. Chancey Ashley, 223 Front St. 826-1tf

KITCHEN RANGE IN GOOD CONdition. Suitable for summer kitchen or camp. Price $5.00. Apply Mrs. Stillman, 233 Dundas St. 826-1tf

C. C. M. BICYCLE IN GOOD CONdition. Apply 280 Coleman Street for further particulars. 826-3td

LADIES' NAVY SERGE COAT AND Skirt, in good condition. Apply evenings at 234 Charles St. 825-3td

1928 MCLAUGHLIN BUICK SEDAN Six 4 Passenger Coupe—wonderful condition. Sacrifice for quick sale. $850.00. Apply to Box "A" Ontario Intelligencer. 826-2td

GIRL'S BICYCLE. Phone 1234F. 826-1td

TEN ROOMED SOLID BRICK house, all conveniences. Reason for selling Party wishes to leave city. Apply Box "O" Ontario Intelligencer. 21-26-28-30-3

FORD ONE TON TRUCK WITH stake body in good condition cheap. Harry Grills, 2nd Thurlow, R. R. 3, Belleville. 826-2td

GAS RANGE, 2 LARGE PIECES OF linoleum, brussels rug, blankets and other articles. Going cheaply. Apply Corby Library. Phone 1362. 826-1td

LOST

LOST—BLUE POUCH BAG, GREY bone top, containing money, etc., between Schryver's and Eaton's. Finder kindly leave at this office. Reward. 826-2td

PURSE BETWEEN BELLEVILLE and 4th Concession Thurlow. Finder miles east Corbyville. Finder address 1 Coleman, R.R. 1, Corbyville. Reward. 824-4td

THURSDAY, AFTERNOON ON Front Street, key ring and coin. Finder please return to 309 Front Street. 826-1td

BIRTH NOTICE

DAVIDSON—At Hagan, Ontario, on April 16th, to Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Mandoli Davidson of Toronto, (nee Muriel Custer) a son. (Ryder Mandoli).

BORN

LOCKYER—On April 22, 1930, to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. C. Lockyer, a son (David Carleton). 826-1td

MASONIC FUNERAL

The Brethren of Moira, Tyrone, Belleville and Eureka Lodges are requested to assemble at the Masonic Temple, Front street, at 2 o'clock p.m. on Monday, April the 28th, for the purpose of attending the funeral of Wor. Bro. Colbert Bleecker at his late residence, 15 Moira Street. Masonic clothing. By order W. M.
GEO. DULMAGE, Secty.

RUSINESS LINERS

Forms for Wills and Leases at The James Trait at a trifling cost. 826-1td

Irish Cobbler Seed Potatoes, by Peck or Bag. Government certified. Bishop's Seed Store. 822-3td

(Bermuda) Spanish Onion Plants. Grow Large Mild Onions. We have a fresh shipment. Order yours today. Bishop's Seed Store. 822-5td

NOTICE

All children who have not been vaccinated must be vaccinated before going to school.

O. S. CRONK, M.O.H.,
City of Belleville.
826-1td

FUNERAL NOTICE

CORR—In Belleville, on Friday, April 25, 1930, Joe Corr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Corr.

The funeral service will be held at Christ Church on Monday, April 28th, at 2.30 p.m. Interment Belleville cemetery. 826-1td

WANTED

A GOOD ROMAN CATHOLIC HOME for a boy, aged 12. Apply Thos. D. Ruston, Supt. Children's Aid Society, 19 Bridge East. 826-3td

MALT, THOSE IN FAMILY, APPLY Mrs. W. H. Reeves, 154 Bridge St. E. Belleville. 826-3td

WILL SHIP HOGS AND CALVES AT Leaside and Robin Stations on Thursday, May 1st. Highest market prices paid for all stock. Russell & Harrison.

AGENTS WANTED

$4 A DAY PAID CHRISTIAN MEN or women, college students, teachers, ministers and others for distributing religious literature. Pay particulars write stating age and church connection. Mr. Cornell, Tower Bldg., Toronto. a16, 19, 23, 26, 30

AMBITIOUS INEXPERIENCED MEN wanted 1929 cents hour, learning best paying trades. Engineering, Electrical, Diesel, Aviation, Chauffeur Engineering, Barbering, Hairdressing, Electrolysis, Wood or Metal Lathe Work, Telegraphy, Watchmaking, Engraving, Auctioneering, Window Trimming, Show Card Writing, Sign Painting, Railroading, Firemen, Brakemen, Colonization Agents, Salesmen, Advertising Solicitors, Collectors, Executives, Secretaries, Bookkeeping, Stenography, Typewriting, Penmanship, Civil Service, Matriculation, Commercial Teaching, Journalism, Cartooning, Law, Commercial Art, Photography, Motion Picture Operating, Radio, Mechanical Drawing, Architecture, Surveying, Mining, Prospecting, Assaying, Metallurgy, Geology, Forestry, Cruising, Scaling, Navigation, Aeronautics, Agriculture, Poultry Farming, Fruit Growing, Gardening, Beekeeping, Veterinary Science, Embalming, Nursing, Dentistry, Chiropody, Optometry, Chiropractic, Osteopathy, Medicine, Pharmacy, Theology, Music, Dancing, Physical Culture, Boxing, Wrestling, Athletic Coaching, Dressmaking, Millinery, Designing, Tailoring, Cookery, Catering, Interior Decorating, Home Nursing, Etiquette, Boy Scout Work, Camp Craft, Public Speaking, Debating, Parliamentary Procedure, Secret Work, Lodge Organization, Insurance, Real Estate, Auctioneering, Salesmanship, Advertising

McIntosh Bros.

Ladies' Broadcloth Bloomers
In all colors and sizes to O.S. Extra good value at 59c

BOYS' WASH SUITS
In linens, broadcloths and printed materials, many different styles. Sizes 2 to 6 years
1.25 to 2.49

BOYS' KNITTED SUITS
Consisting of sweater and bloomers, heather shades, finished with stripes in contrasting colors. Sizes 2 to 5 years. Special
2.49

CHILDREN'S SERGE REEFERS
All wool serge lined with sateen or Marquis de luxe lining. Regulation style. Sizes 2 to 6 years ..... 2.95 to 7.50

RAYON LINGERIE FOR CHILDREN
Full range of bloomers, vests, slips and gowns in shades of peach pink, white and sky, sizes for children 6 to 14 years, garment
50c to 1.00

BOYS' COVERALLS
of sturdy material, blue or khaki denim, fasten down front and have sport collar, sizes from 2 to 8 years. Priced
79c to 1.19

McIntosh Bros.

CHURCHES

The United Church of Canada
(CONGREGATIONAL, METHODIST and PRESBYTERIAN)
"So we, who are many, are one body in Christ."

Bridge Street
Minister: R.H. Bell, B.A., D.D.
11 a.m.—O.O.F. Service

Holloway St.
M'nister—L. S. Wight, B.A., B.D.
Organist: Alex. Gordon.
Leader: E. C. Moynes.

John Street
Minister—Robert Hall, B.A., B.D.
Organist and Choir Master—Mr. Leo Blezg.

Tabernacle
Minister: A E. McCutcheon, B.A., B.D.
Organist and Choir Leader, Mrs. Duff.

Divine Worship and Sermons, Eleven and Seven
S. S. and Bible Classes 2.30, (Bridge St., 2.45).
My Home shall be called a House of Prayer for all Peoples.

The Presbyterian Church in Canada
ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH
MINISTER—REV. J. A. SEYMOUR, M.A., S.T.D.
Services 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. Sunday School at 2.00.
Rev. Dr. Seymour will preach at both services.
THE MUSIC

Morning—
Introit—"Lead Me Lord" ..... Wesley
Anthem—"O How Amiable" ..... Miss Pratt and choir
Offertoire—Overture ..... Hollins

Evening
Introit—"Turn Thy Face From My Sins"
Anthem—"Awake Thou That Sleepest" ..... Snyder
Offertoire—"Romance" ..... Snyder

Director of Music—Prof. Mus. Doc., A.R.C.O.

VICTORIA AVE. BAPTIST CHURCH
A. Hilliard Jones, Minister.
11 a.m.—Regular Service.
3 p.m.—Bible School
7 p.m.—Regular service.
Monday, 8 p.m.—B.Y.P.U.
Wednesday, 8 p.m.—Prayer Meeting
Lazen D. LaVoie, L.T.C.M., A.A.C.O.
Organist and Choir Leader

CHRIST CHURCH
Rector — Rev. G. E. Clarke, M.A.
Sunday, April 27th
8 a.m.—Holy Communion.
11 a.m.—Morning Service. Preacher, the Rev. W. L. Wright, L. Th.
3 p.m.—Sunday Schools and Bible Classes.
7 p.m.—Evening Service. Preacher, The Rev. F. A. Smith, B.A.
Organist — Miss Eva LaVoie

ST. THOMAS CHURCH
Rev. J. Lyon, M.A., Vicar.
First Sunday After Easter
8 a.m.—Holy Communion.
11 a.m.—Matins and Sermon
3 p.m.—Sunday School.
4 p.m.—Holy Baptism.
7 p.m.—Evensong and Sermon.

EMMANUEL REFORMED CHURCH
Victoria Ave
Rector—Rev. George Marshall.
Phone 673
11 a.m.—Morning Prayer and Sermon, "The Resurrection of the Body"
0 p.m.—Sunday School and Bible Classes.
7 p.m.—Evening Prayer and Sermon. "The Identity of Jesus After Resurrection."

REGULAR BAPTIST CHURCH.
Oddfellows' Hall, Front St.
Rev. H. E. Bachner, B.A., Pastor.
Sunday, 2 p.m.—Sunday School
3 p.m.—Subject, "How Often Can One Die?"
Tuesday, 8 p.m.—Prayer Meeting.
Thursday, 3 p.m.—Women's Meeting.
Miss Wanda E. Biggs, Pianist.
Everyone Welcome

EVENED SCORE
LONDON, April 26.—(CP)—Great Britain evened the score at two matches apiece in its Davis cup tie with Germany today when Henry Austin trounced Daniel Prenn, the German ace, in straight sets, 6-3, 6-4, 7-5.

Europe expects a boom in aquatic sports this year.

HAVE YOU TRIED GENUINE
GAS COKE
From City of Belleville Coke Ovens?
IF NOT YOU HAVEN'T DISCOVERED How Economical Good Fuel Can be $11 per ton
ORDER TODAY
Civic Gas Department
PHONE 69W

WEDDINGS

MASON—ROPER

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Roper, Moira street on Wednesday April 23, when their youngest daughter, Florence Beatrice was united in marriage to Mr. Lyle E. Mason, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Mason, Geddes street. The ceremony which took place under a beautiful arch of evergreen, carnations and white bells was conducted by Rev. L. S. Wright, pastor of Holloway Street Church.

The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in a gown of blue pussy willow silk and bandeau of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of cream and pink roses and maiden hair fern. The bride was attended by Miss Trula Mason, sister of the groom, while the groom was attended by Mr. Herbert Roper, brother of the bride.

A lovely supper was served, after which the happy couple left for a short trip. The bride travelled in a beige coat trimmed with beaver and hat and shoes to match.

The groom's gift to the bride was a beaded bag, to the bridesmaid a purse and to the groom gold cuff links.

Mr. and Mrs. Mason will reside in Belleville on their return.

POLICE COURT

Magistrate Mikel gave judgment on a number of Traffic cases that came to his notice today in traffic court. Five motorists pleaded guilty to parking their cars an unreasonable time on Front street and were fined $3.00 accordingly. Three paid $5.00 for failure to stop when the red light at the intersection was against. Another paid $5.00 for speeding on the city streets. The police are determined to curb the useless breaking of traffic laws and motorists will be hailed into court at every opportunity. The police have a big question to handle in traffic congestion and it can only be regulated with the co-operation of motorists. Accidents will occur as long as some motorists try to beat the red light and fail to stop at "stop signs".

6th of Sidney

6th of Sidney, April 25 By Mail — The ladies of the W.M.S. took charge of the Easter service on Sunday. Mrs. E. Sine giving the chapter from the study book

Miss Edna Ketcheson who has been spending the winter in Toronto has returned home.

In spite of the rainy weather there was quite a gathering at the pancake social on Easter Monday night. Mrs. Morrow of Frankford delighted the audience with two solos and the pastor, Rev. E. B. Bennett, gave a lecture entitled "Putting new heart in the Country Church."

Mr. and Mrs. W. Scott of Point Anne, and Mr. Harry Scott of Foxboro spent Monday night at the home of Mr. M. B. Scott.

Mrs. Howard DaFoe spent Wednesday with her sister Mrs. Emerson Lott of Plainfield.

Mrs. Wm. Moon spent Wednesday in Foxboro and Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Badgley and children of Thurlow, Mr. and Mrs. Carmon Frost and Mr. and Mrs. V. Pratt of Sidney were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. Howard DaFoe.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bennett of Belleville spent Easter Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Pearson.

The Easter guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brunsell were Mr. and Mrs. C. Brown and daughters also Miss F. Houlden of Toronto and Mr. and Mrs. Faro of Trenton.

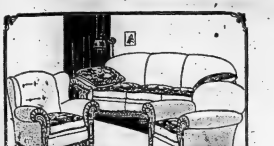
Mrs. H. Badgley is still on the sick list.

A few from this way attended the Frankford church on Sunday night and enjoyed the Easter Pageant.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moon spent a few days last week with friends in Toronto.

Miss Keitha and Magdaline Lloyd of the 4th concession spent Wednesday with their sister, Mrs. Ross DaFoe.

Dr. and Mrs. Park and son Boswell of Hamilton, were visitors on Wednesday at Mr. Walter Scott's and Mr. M. B. Scott.



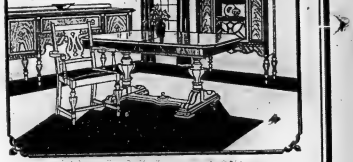
Mr. and Mrs. Perry Sine of Frankford spent Thursday at the home of Mr. H. DaFoe.

DIRIGIBLE REACHES LONDON

LONDON, April 26.—(CP)—The German dirigible Graf Zeppelin, making courtesy call to England, reached West, London this afternoon.

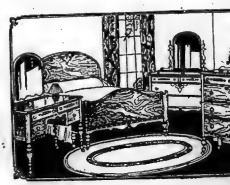
CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY
Oddfellow's Temple. 271½ Front St.
Branch of the Mother Church.
The First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, Mass.
Sunday Service, 11 a.m.
Sunday School, 11 a.m.
April 27 —"Probation After Death"
Testimonial Meeting 2nd Wednesday of each month, 8 p.m.
All are Cordially Invited

THE CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES LIMITED
C. D. S. Housefurnishing News



Snyder's Sani-built
Chesterfield Suites
154.50

A handsome three-piece chesterfield suite, by Snyder—covered with a mothproof material, in a taupe shade—fitted with reversible cushions which come in a very attractive figured pattern—combination colors of black, mulberry and green. A very smartly designed suite—in a modern style. Consists of arm chair—rest chair, and chesterfield. The suite is priced, at 154.50
—Third Floor.



9 Piece Solid Oak
Dining Room Suite
115.00

A beautifully finished solid oak dining room suite—9 pieces in all—each one polished to a rich, lustre and bringing out the grain of the wood splendidly. Set consists of buffet, china cabinet, extension table, with two extra leaves, and six chairs — smartly upholstered with imitation leather. Wonderful value at this price, inspect it in the Furniture Room, Monday! Priced, at 115.00
Second Floor.

Walnut-Finished 4 Piece
Bedroom Suite
112.50

A special offering this—a rich walnut finished bedroom suite—consisting of 4' 6" bed, dresser with large mirror—chest of drawers, and a vanity dresser with mirror. Beautifully polished and finished —it offers large savings in furnishing your home for the coming season. See it on the second floor
Priced at only 112.50
Second Floor.

Walnut Finished Bridge Lamps
Colorful looking bridge lamps, with a rich, polished wood standard in walnut finish. This is fitted with a colorful silk shade, in ecrue and blue—neatly fringed around the bottom. Makes a very pleasing appearance in almost any room in the house. Complete, at 12.95
—Third Floor.

Antique
Brass Lamps
A smart looking bridge lamp with a standard finished in antique brass—shade is of silk neatly pleated. Very artistic looking—and colorful with a shade of rose color. Complete by wired for use at 12.95
—Third Floor.

Two-Socket
Junior Lamps
Two-socket junior lamp, completely wired—with a wood standard—richly polished and finished in walnut tone. An orange colored shade tops this off with fringe trimmings. Junior standards and shades complete— 11.50
—Third Floor.

Metal Bridge Lamps
Ornamental cast iron base and arm in dark brown and polychromb finish. Complete with hexagon shade, laced at top and bottom. Raised design. Wired complete, long cord and plug. See windows—be early.

Maple Leaf Special
2.25
Complete
No C. O. D. or Phone Orders

MAPLE LEAF SPECIAL
THE SIGN OF SUPER VALUES

Walnut-Finished Junior
Adds immeasurably to the appearance of your rooms—fitted with a colorful certain shade, covered with black georgette to softly subdue the light. Fringed around the bottom—and splendid for various rooms in the house.
Complete 13.00
—Third Floor.

The Estonia
Baby Carriage
at 29.50
Wonderful value for your money at this price—a sturdily constructed carriage of rexi fibre—smartly corduroy lined—and fitted with cushion rubber tires. Body is in reversible style—very easy and very running. Cream, sand or grey. Estonia value, at 29.50

Hardwood
Refrigerator
A very handsome looking piece of furniture — finished in rich natural color — insulated sides and doors, white enamelled inside and fitted with heavy galvanized ice chamber. Sizes about 39" x 23 1-4" x 18 1-4" Priced at 16.75
—Basement

Save Yourself These Countless Household Jobs

THINK back this morning! Wasn't half your cleaning time taken up with getting dust out of difficult corners—polishing floors—doing all the little extra jobs that even an ordinary vacuum cleaner with attachments couldn't do?

Don't go on tiring yourself out with these jobs. A Premier Complete Cleaning Unit does them all. These Units, which have made clumsy attachments old-fashioned, not only clean everywhere, but also protect materials against moths and eliminate cooking odors.

Have one demonstrated at home.

The Premier Duplex Cleaning Unit consists of The world famous Premier Duplex Unit (also known as the Premier Dustette) and the Premier Suction Sweeper. $91.50

The Premier Complete Cleaning Unit can be purchased On the Easy Payment Plan Only $5.00

Balance plus an unalterable extra charge of 10% to cover cost of collection, payable in small equal monthly payments

Premier Dustette	$42.50
Premier Sani-Sweep	6.00
Premier Duplex Floor Polisher	6.00
(if purchased separately)
The Complete Unit	$91.50

Premier Duplex
COMPLETE CLEANING UNIT

All-Metal Refrigerator
—is a smart acquisition to the kitchen—finished in Arctic grey enamel—insulated with fibre board and vacuum spaces. Provision chamber finished in white enamel — doors seal-shut with airtight rubber gaskets — convenient size of 39" x 20" x 15" Priced at 15.75
—Basement

FOURTEEN PAGES

The Ontario Intelligencer

SECOND SECTION

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, SATURDAY, APRIL 26, 1930.

Amos 'N' Andy Speaking---A Broadcast Biography in Dialect

Sixth Instalment of

Amos 'n' Andy in Person

By James R. Crowell

Here is the famous radio team again, folks, on the last lap of their broadcast biography. But first a few succinct facts about the nation-wide furore they have created.

Several months ago the telephone companies whose lines extend from coast to coast were mystified to discover that there was a strange slowing up of traffic for two fifteen minute periods at about the hour most of us are finishing the evening meal. They investigated and learned that the interaction was due to the fact that telephone users during those periods were clustered about the radio listening to Amos 'n' Andy relate the human story of their ups and downs.

At the same time the owners of motion picture theatres noticed that audiences were pouring in a later appearance than formerly at the first evening shows. Again it was found that the Amos 'n' Andy racket was causing this economic disturbance. Theatre Owners, in fact, were among those who led the clamor that the boys make their nightly appearances before the microphone, one for the East and one for the West, so that the various sections would receive the broadcast at pretty nearly the same hour. It had been found that many persons would not leave their homes until they had first heard all the latest news from the Fresh Air Taxicab front.

Of the various phases of public interest surrounding the boys, the strongest concerns the method they employ in posing on their sketch. A remarkable feature of this is the deep feeling they put into their parts. To them, the two negro characters are actual living persons. Literally, the boys laugh with them in their good fortune and cry with them in their trouble.

Without help from anyone, they devise all the situations and write all the dialogue. They avoid gags, wisecracks and suggestive, preferring to concoct a mixture of comedy with pathos and adventure with heart interest. They permit no one except the announcer to remain in the studio while they are broadcasting, not even their wives. They do no rehearsing. Only clean and instructive episodes are chosen.

And now, the boys, in bidding you goodbye, answer some of the many questions with which they have been bombarded in recent months:

"Amos, dese folks wants know many people we has in our cast workin' wid us. Should we tell 'em?"

"Sho', tell dem ev'thing dey wants know."

"Check an' double-check..... Well, folks—dis is Andy speakin'—we has two fellows workin' fo' us, Correll and Gosden. One of dem is me, Correll, and de udder is Amos, Gosden. We does it all."

"Yeh, folks—de is Amos speakin'—we revides de parts up 'tween us. If you all 'membeha dat co'troom scene when Andy is being sued by Mr. Parker fo' breach o' promise—dat was befo' Andy done took up wid Madame Queen—well, dey is two persons dere, Andy, he is Andy, de lawyeh, de jedge, de placeman an' de coo't clerk. Me, I is me, de pervisin' 'torney, de bailiff, de consultin' 'ottney, an' kingfish. Dey is sho' plenty work fo' us dat time. De hard part is 'membeh'in' jes' how each possun speak. Boy, you has think hai."

"Look—hush what dis fella want know, Amos. He say how long do it take you to write a, a 6-p-i-what do you call dat thing—a episode, huh?"

"He mean, Andy, how long do it take to write de stuff fo' one night."

"Sho', sho', dat what he mean all right. We-l, mistch, dat take a longish sometime dan udder times. When we has de Sam 'n' Henry it just take us till seven o'clock in de mornin'. Den we gits so we kin go to de broadcastin' station half a hour befo' de time to start an' do it on time. Now we does it sometime in one hour an' a-fo' we does it in fo' hours. Dat all depend on how good I feels."

"De trouble wid Andy, folks, is dat he don't feel good much. He restin' his brain voon' de time."

"Amos, brah a letteh from yo' ol' home town Richmon'."

"What is say?"

"It from a lady an' it say dat de ol' cullud mammy what work in her home lissen to us even night an' dat de ol' mammy want know if you ain' her grandson Sam'l what run 'way from home when he is sixteen, 'cause you has a voice jes' like Sam'l. Oh, oh."

"Lissh, Andy, let me talk to dat ol' Mammy..... Mammy, dis is Amos speakin', h'n you heah me? No, Mammy, I ain't yo' grandson, Sam'l, an' fo' yo' sake I'm sorry. But lissen here, Mammy—when I is a li'l boy down in Virginny I has a cullud Mammy jes' like you, an' I loves her very much an' when I grows up an' leaves home I jest write her an' tell her all 'bout what I was seein' in udder parts de worl'. Boy, when de writes me dat my ol' mammy is dead I is sho' feelin' sad."

"You allus looks sad."

"I allus looks sad..... shut yo' mouf, Andy..... An' lissen yere, Mammy; Andy an' me is white boys, but we hol' us known bot 'bout cullud folks, 'cause we's all de time goin' wheah de lives an' lissenin' to dere talk an' tryin' unnerstan' what goin' on in dere minse."

"Read her dem letters from Harlem, Amos."

"No, we ain't got no time to read no letters, Andy, but I tells her what dey say....... Lissen, Mammy, kin you heah what I say? De is Amos speakin' in' to you, unnerstan'? Well, up in New York dey has a place dey calls Harlem, an' dey's mo' cullud folks what live dere dan dey is in any udder city in de worl'. Andy an' me, we has dere lots time in Harlem, an' we knows lots folks deve an' dey writes us dat dey lissens to us eveh night. Dat please us, Mammy, as much as anything kin, 'cause dey ain't nobuddy what knows as much 'bout cullud folks as cullud folks themselfs."

"Amos, you is talkin' too much. Let me say sumpun."

"What you want say, Andy?"

"I wants know if you don't notice sumpin' funny what been goin' on 'round dis yere place dis lar' week?"

"Sho', Andy, I notices it, but I jes' kain't guess what it is."

"It is dis, Amos. Dey's a stranger heah doin' de 'bouncin' fo' us. You knows we kain't do nothin' lessen Bill Hay do de 'bouncin' kin we?"

"Co'se we kain't, Andy, but what we goin' do 'bout dat?"

"We goin' can dis head 'bouncer, dat's what."

(End of Amos 'n' Andy)

Fine Revue for Prince Edward County Fair

Picton, April 24 (Special)—Mr. Bernard Bond has gone to Main Ducks Island where he will be engaged in the fishing business this season.

Webb's Buffalo Revue, an aggregation comprising twenty-one performers has been secured for Picton Fair, Secretary F. W. Minaker reports. Fair Day and night shows will be staged before the grandstand on all three days of Picton Fair. The varied performances of this troupe will add performances of this troupe will add

Mr. Donald Knight, Toronto, is visiting friends in town.

Spring Seeding in Progress at Carmel

Carmel, April 26 (By Mail)—The farmers are busy starting their spring seeding.

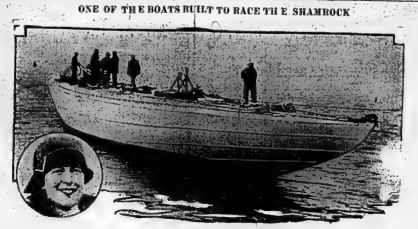
Mrs. B. Floyd and son Clarence spent a couple of days last week at Mr. H. Ross'.

Miss Laura Cook was able to return from Belleville General Hospital to her home one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Haynes spent Sun day with Castleton the guests of Mr. F. Haynes.

Miss Sarah Howes spent a few days with her sister Mrs. H. Gerow.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Dafoe and Carman spent Sunday in Belleville.



Mr. and Mrs. Ira Simmons, Foxboro spent Sunday afternoon at Mr. Geo. Vandewater's.

Quite a number attended the sale held at Mr. Geo. Burr's on Friday.

Mr. Harry Dafoe has purchased a new team of horses.

Don't be without Douglas' Egyptian Liniment. Keep it always handy. Relieves toothache, neuralgia, sore throat quinsy, and croup. Invaluable for burns, sores, Barber's Itch and Ringworm.

ONE OF THE BOATS BUILT TO RACE THE E SHAMROCK

The Enterprise, which will attempt to win the elimination races for the chance to race against the Shamrock V, Sir Thomas Lipton's new yacht. This picture was taken just after the United States' boat had gone down the slipway. (Inset)—Mrs. W. W. Aldrich, wife of one of the group of wealthy men who built the trim craft, who christened her. The great races for the coveted America C up will take place in September.

Warden Talks To League On This County

St. Paul's League of Stirling Hold Special Service

Stirling, April 25 (By Mail)—Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Drecup who have sold their farm near Brighton and are moving into Mrs. Girdwood's house on Church street.

Easter services were bright, helpful and inspiring in all the churches and all tastefully decorated with Easter lilies and ferns.

The respective Ministers preached thoughful and inspiring sermons. Special music was rendered, mostly anthems, though in St. Paul's church, solos were sung by Mr. James Balmforth and Mrs. J. Butler in the morning and Mrs. Francis Jeffry in the evening.

The card party and dance staged by the Women's Institute on Easter Monday night was but poorly attended owing to the counter-attractions and the rainy weather but those in attendance report a very fine time. Full four persons chose bridge for their pastime while four played 500 and three tried Euchre, the prize winners were for Bridge—Ladies prize Mrs. (Dr.) Pitts gentleman Mr. Moise. For 500—Mrs. W. L. Anderson, Ladies, Mr. George Green, gentleman. For euchre Ladies Mrs. Henry Tullock, gentleman Mr. Kenneth Sine of Peterboro. A dainty lunch was served then Mr. Maxwell furnished the music for round dancing. The ladies received vases for prizes and the gentlemen silk and wool sock.s

St. Paul's League met on Tuesday night with an attendance of ninety-six present. The meeting was opened with the usual song service, Easter hymns being sung. Mary Hulin read the Scripture lesson from the Gospel according to St. John, after which Mr. W. S. Martin led in prayer, the minutes were voted as read, then Miss Richardson vice-president of the blue side presided; Miss Grace Pitman rendered a pleasing piano solo, Messrs. Jones, Way, Dobbie and Robt. Patterson sang "Low in the grave He lay," then Miss Introduced the Warden of the County, Col. Roscoe Vandervater who gave a very interesting talk of the County of Hastings, stating there are $3,297 of a population, largely rural and spoke of agriculture, lumbering, fur-farming, the great mineral products, facilities for fishing, the great water-power. He spoke of the marble in the Bancroft district, which was used in Toronto Parliament buildings.

Miss Margaret Wall gave a musical monologue and the male quartette accompanied. Mrs. Dobbie sang "Old Black Joe." At this juncture a hearty vote of thanks moved and seconded by Messrs. P. T. Mulin and W. S. Martin was tendered Col. Vandervater was expressed by a hearty clap of hands. Mrs. Thomlinson put on a "Blaker" contest and the meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction.

Mr. J. S. Marshall and Betty spent a couple of days with friends in Stirling this week.

Mrs. J. B. Belshaw entertained a few friends for bridge on Tuesday evening in honor of Mrs. McWilliams of Toronto.

Miss Read, B. A., of Port Perry for merly of the Stirling High School staff is spending a few days with friends in Stirling.

Mr. Merrie of Toronto is visiting his sister Mrs. Percy McGuire.

Open Meeting Carmel W.M.S.

Carmel, April 25 (By Mail)—The W. M. S. of Carmel held an open meeting at the church Easter Sunday evening. A good crowd was in attendance.

Mrs. Bennett gave a splendid address which was greatly enjoyed by all present.

A suitable program was furnished by the Carmel Young People. Mrs. R. Sine, pres., took the devotional part. $23 was realized as the offering.

Mr. Hilish Horton and family spent Sunday at Mr. James Hamilton's, Plainfield.

Mr. Irv D. Simmons of the Dominion bank, Montreal, who has been visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. W. Simmons and also his sister Mrs. Wootton, Picton, were Sunday visitors at through the Easter holidays, has returned home.

Master Willet Pitman is very ill.

Mr. Simon Brownson, Trenton, visited his brother Mr. James Brownson.

Miss Lulla Jones spent the week end at Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Wootton's, Plainfield.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Hulin of Madoc Mr. Jack Frost, Kingston, Miss Wootton, Picton were Sunda yvisitors at Mr. Wallace Simmons.

Mr. and Mrs. Simmons spent Monday evening at Mrs. Jack Lation's, Belleville.

Carmel

Carmel, April 25 (By Mail)—Mrs. Chas. Roper and children of Lindsay also Mrs. A. Tracey of Corbyville are visiting at Mr. Harry Dafoe's.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Laitone and children spent the week end at Picton visiting the latter's parents Mr. and Mrs. Hotis.

Master Jack Guay is visiting his cousin at Marmora.

Mrs. Nickle of Marmora has been visiting her niece Mrs. F. Hicks.

266,000 of the New Gillette Blades a day!

Dominion-wide demand forces Gillette production to highest point in history

"Send more blades! Send more blades! Send more blades!"

The telegrams keep pouring in; and our plant attempts to answer them by making 266,000 of the New Gillette Blades a day! The highest production in our history!

Yet every one of those thousands of blades is carefully inspected. Every blade must be right.

If your dealer is temporarily short of the New Gillette Blades, he will have them presently.

If he has not been able to get a sufficient supply of the New Gillette Razors, remember that the new blades can be used in your old Gillette until you get your new one.

We promise to catch up to the demand very soon. Then everybody can have the perfect combination of the New Gillette Blade in the New Gillette Razor.

The greatest $2.00 worth of shaving comfort ever offered.

$1.00—the New Gillette Razor
$1.00—ten New Gillette Blades

Get this great combination the minute your dealer can supply it.

GILLETTE SAFETY RAZOR CO. OF CANADA, LIMITED, MONTREAL

$1.00 for ten and 50c for five

The New Gillette Blades in the new green packet

THE NEW Gillette MADE

APRIL ESCAPADE - - - - BY KATHLEEN NORRIS

"How long have you two known each other, anyway?" the caller presently asked.

His eyes were still only for Chris. But Mary Kate resolutely broke into the talk.

"We hardly know each other at all," she asserted, with a touch of haughtiness.

"What?" Archibald said.

His lazy, insulting amusement again. It made her cheeks burn.

Since of course Mr. Rountree said you anything at all" she said, with what dignity she could muster, "he might have gone a little further, and explained that this whole thing is a sort of joke—just a perfectly business like arrangement——" she stopped.

"Why certainly, what else could it be?" Don Archibald asked innocently, widening his eyes, assuming the air of a man who is trying to keep from laughing.

She hated him. She loathed him. She was too young, too inexperienced to extricate herself from this detestable position; she could only flounder helplessly, trying to be dignified, trying to keep the whole thing funny, bitterly hurt and ashamed in her soul.

"I hope I know a business arrangement when I see one," Archibald pursued modestly. "Only——" he added, with his characteristic guffaw, "only I didn't know Steynes was such a good business man".

"Cut it out," Chris said briefly, with a little frown. But he was not really angry, not really concerned.

"I think now," Mary Kate said, trying for a dispassionate conversational tone. "I think now that it was a silly thing to do. And I know that my mother will be—or would be——"

It was no use. They were not interested in what she, or her mother, thought. Indeed, in the wretchedly sensitive state in which she suddenly found herself, she appreciated that both of them disliked the introduction on explanations, apologies. They belonged to a class that never explained or apologized.

"I was going to say that I have been Mr. Rountree's secretary for two years," Mary Kate said coldly.

Archibald laughed again. . .

"And is that a long time for any girl to stay with Gordy?" he asked. "Shut up, you ass," Chris said, smoking, grinning, staring into the fire. "Going to play 'round tomorrow?" he asked. "How early would you play? I'm having a lunch here at about half past one. We'd have to begin about nine, wouldn't we?"

"I'll listen goo dto me. What's too lock your hall door. There're women." "It listens good to me. What's too agreed with a nod.

"They depart on Sunday."

Suddenly to her horror, Mary Kate knew that she was on the verge of tears. The fire upon which she fixed her lock, danced and spit into arrows before her eyes.

CHAPTER XX

"You're tired, why don't you turn in?" Chris asked.

"I think——" she gulped, and looked at him bravely, the unmistakable tears on her cheeks. "I think I will".

"Sleep as late as you like in the morning, and ring where you want your breakfast. Mrs. Peirce will bring it in. She prepare——"

"I think——" she went on unsteadily. "I think——" she went on unsteadily. A moment of awkward silence.

"Why, that's all right," Chris said generously, kindly.

"I think it was a swell thing to do" Don added, with a laugh and a yawn.

"You mustn't lose your nerve." Chris stood.

"No. I'm not losing my nerve!" She was determined to talk. "But I want to say that if I had realized—and perhaps if I had had some enough to consult my mother I would have realized——"

This was floundering, weak, incoherent stuff girls always talked, when they got themselves into tight places. Her tears were dried from sheer shame and anger now, and her cheeks burning.

"I mean ——I thought of it only as a joke!" she said.

"And so it is my dear," Chris said, amused and disturbed and anxious to help. "Don't make too much of it. Be a sport! There's no harm done."

"No, I know——" she said, in a whisper. She looked up brightly, laughing bolding, her head high. But her face was pale now, and her eyes showed traces of tears, with her disordered hair pushing straight of fher forehead, and her figure weary and drooping. hair pushing straight off her forehead ago had gone. Chris looked at her odd ly, as if he saw her—as a girl a woman, with a heart and soul and mind of her own, for the first time.

"Turning in?" he asked, getting to his feet. Don Archibald did not rise.

"I think so, I'm tired."

"I'll run Archibald up to Gordon's. Don't be frightened if you hear me coming in."

He was trying to be nice, she knew. But somehow it did not help her spirits she could not rise to it, laugh the whole thing off, carry it with a rush. Don Archibald laughed suddenly aloud. Mary Kate did not look at him, as too heAVily—too solemnly, she put out her hand.

"Your porch windows are all bolted," Chris said, "and you'd better lock your hall door. There've been several robberies——"

"Oh, come now, Chris, don't scare the girl to death!" Archibald said lazily.

"You shut up!" Chris said, in genuine annoyance. It was not much, but it was some little comfort to Mary Kate, as she left them.

"You had Gordon had to spill the beans. But after all, what does it matter—after tomorrow, who knows or who doesn't know?" Christopher said, in the hall.

"The whole thing—and I blame only myself—makes me sick!" Mary Kate said, passionately.

"Why, we haven't done anything wrong!" he said surprised.

"Oh, please——please." She was suffocating.

"Why, what are you afraid of?" he said. "You had all the nerve in the world a little while ago."

Mary Kate made no answer. Her face was flushed and strained. She nodded to him a wordless goodnight, and went off through the dim Spanish archways and passages to her own room.

Here she turned the key in the door, and crossed the room to draw the shades at the windows—A low light was burning on a bedside lamp, one of the beds was neatly turned down, her oldfashioned peach-colored nightgown and slipper and slippers were laid in readiness.

The room was very quiet the single hair pushing straight off her forehead ness in the soft dimness. Delicious night scents drifted in from the garden, scents of apple and dcrop flowers Except for the distant honking of an occasional motor horn, there was no sound.

Standing in center of the room, stricken motionless by the power of her own thoughts, Mary Kate stood wrap was on her arm, the petals of the ivory satin skirt settled about her, the pearls smouldered in opal colors on her ivory throat.

"Yes! Icol——" she said presently aloud. "You poor fool——"

Pool. To take a chance like this! To deliberately place herself in this situation.

Her face burned. Her breast rose and fell. She bit her lip—thinking.

Why, nobody that hated me could do a meaner thing than this to me!" Mary Kate said.

She had done it in young audacity and high spirits and confidence. It had been just masquerading just play-acting a few hours ago. Now it was different.

Some things were wrong, and some right. The definition came to her as freshly as if it had never been made before. Wrong. She was doing something very wrong.

"It would be different even if I loved Christopher Steynes," she thought "It would have some excuse then."

Love him? She loathed him. She loathed the smoothness, the laughter —she had once called hideously laughter, with which this undertaking had been managed.

Her side of it—her reputation and feelings, were nothing to these men, Chris, Gordon Rountree, young Archibald. They thought this a joyous sort of joke—and Christopher was going to give her a check for it.

Anger, suffocated her. She would not touch his check!

Mary Kate flung off her head, and began to move rapidly about the room She carefully hung the furred wrap in the closet, balanced the opalaine ivory gown on a padded hanger, put the pearls away in their old-fashioned case.

The plain ring—her wedding ring from the five-and-ten-cent store—she flung from the open window far into the new grass somewhere and not away.

Her breath was coming fast, but she would not cry again; now and then she stopped, and covered her shamed face with her hands.

She had imagined that Christoper might come to her to-night, feel that she was! She had imagined herself dignified, reserved, keeping him at bay.

But she had never imagined the humiliation of his casual laughter, his desire to let his friend in on the joke his easy trust that money would make everything right.

She would tear up his check, before his eyes. But no, she couldn't do that. That would rob the affair of its last shred of dignity. If it was not for the money, what earthly reason had she for being here at all? She had never seen Christopher Steynes, until the day when he had made his preposterous proposition.

Red Rose Tea comes direct to us from the finest tea gardens, then straight to your grocer—brimful of flavor and freshness. Every package guaranteed.

RED ROSE TEA "is good tea"

RED ROSE ORANGE PEKOE is extra good

Such Enthusiasm . . .

speaks Volumes for Cars built by McLaughlin-Buick . . .

THE enthusiasm of owners for McLaughlin-Buick and Marquette is sure evidence of the splendid performance and intrinsic value of cars built by McLaughlin-Buick. For no other reason, indeed, would Canadians be led to demonstrate their preference for these cars in such a convincing manner.

How definite and unconditional their preference is, may be ascertained by the fact that Canadian motorists buy far more McLaughlin-Buicks than any other fine car . . . and by the eager, enthusiastic welcome everywhere accorded Marquette. Such enthusiasm does, in truth, speak volumes for cars built by McLaughlin-Buick.

You are cordially invited to see Marquette, and the three series of McLaughlin-Buicks. Drive them. Then, should you wish, use the G.M.A.C., General Motors own deferred payment plan.

Marquette and McLaughlin-Buick models range in price from $1,245 to $3,140, at factory, Oshawa, Ont.

McLAUGHLIN-BUICK and MARQUETTE

PRODUCTS OF GENERAL MOTORS OF CANADA, LIMITED

McLAUGHLIN MOTOR CAR CO.

2 BRIDGE ST. EAST. BELLEVILLE, ONT.

P. H. NAYLOR, Manor, Ont. ROBT. McFARLAND, Napanee, Ont.

BETTER

Better Roads Budgets Motoring

Concrete paving means better roads because of the safe even tractive surface it ensures.

It means better budgets because it needs no costly upkeep. It ends strain, needless tire wear and excessive gas consumption. It means better motoring.

Wise motorists pick the concrete roads. Tourists choose routes that feature them. Commercial vehicle operators appreciate their safety and economy.

Concrete roads promote prosperity and save the taxpayer's money. Advocate them . . . and wider highways . . . at every opportunity.

Canada Cement Company Limited

Canada Cement Company Building
Phillips Square Montreal

Sales Offices at: MONTREAL TORONTO WINNIPEG CALGARY

CANADA CEMENT CONCRETE FOR PERMANENCE

Above is shown concrete Highway near Guelph, Ont.

PERMANENT CONCRETE HIGHWAYS

IT'S BETTER BECAUSE IT'S CANADIAN

An older woman would have seen the whole plan in its arrogance and in all. And an older woman would have quietly declined to have anything to do with it, or him. An older women—Mother.

The thought of her mother overwhelmed her, and she felt a desperate homesickness for the shabby house in O'Farrell street, the kitchen, the familiar voices, the purity and safety and simplicity of home.

Oh, to be back here, on the couch in the upstairs back bedroom, tonight with Tess and Regina's slumberous forms outlined in sprawling attitudes on the flat bed, and the big cigarette on Geary street flashing light and shadow across the faded walls.

(To Be Continued)

Ameliasburg

Ameliasburg, April 25 (By Mail)—Mr. Cecil Carley of Toronto spent Easter with his brother Mr. Wray Carley.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Adams spent Easter with Mr. and Mrs. L. Parliament.

Miss Elma Sager of Wellington spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. George Alyea.

Mr. and Mrs. Eber Alexander spent Easter with the latter's parents Mr. and Mrs. Burton Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Carrington, Mrs. G. Carley, Mrs. Etta Elvin and Miss Flossie Humphrey spent Easter at Smithfield the guests of Mr. Cecil Henderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Delong was a Sunday visitor at Mr. S. Delong's.

Mr. Charlie Wood visited Mr. James Dempsey on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith Brown and family spent Sunday at Mr. C. N. Adams'.

The road scrapers have been going and the roads are in good shape.

Spring seeding is not started much yet owing to backward weather.

TABERNACLE W.M.S. MET ON THURSDAY

The April meeting of Tabernacle W. M. S. was held in the church parlor on Thursday afternoon with 18 present. Mrs. Horton the president, presided and opened the meeting with hymn 81, "The whole world was lost in the darkness of Sin." Mrs. E. B. Bell led in prayer. The various secretaries gave their reports which were adopted and Mrs. Shorey in the absence of Mrs. Fisher, gave the Treasurer's report. Stranger's Sec., Mrs. G. Sharpe reported 17 calls made. Mrs. E. B. Bell Temperance Sec. gave a reading "Dangerous Explosives." and Mrs. Sanford spoke on "Tithing." Mrs. announced the C. O. I. T. Girl's Tea on Friday, May 2nd. Mrs. Proctor announced a Social Evening called "A leap in the Dark" given by Group No. 6 in the church parlors Tuesday evening, April 29th. Mrs. Kelly took charge of the Easter responsive readings and Mrs. Shorey gave a wonderful reading from the Study Book. Hymn 255 "Jesus keep me near the Cross," was sung and Mrs. Emerson closed the meeting with prayer.

Wise mothers who know the virtues of Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator always have it at hand, because it proves its value.

Choose your STEELE, BRIGGS' SEEDS from this DisplayBox

Sold everywhere in Canada. Specially selected for purity and germination and tested to assure their suitability for Canadian growing conditions. Your garden needs Steele, Briggs' Seeds for bumper, bigger crops.

Send for illustrated catalogue

STEELE, BRIGGS SEED CO. LTD.

"CANADA'S GREATEST SEED HOUSE"

TORONTO - HAMILTON - WINNIPEG - REGINA - EDMONTON

THE ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER

THE DAILY ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER is published every afternoon (Sunday and holidays excepted) at The Ontario Intelligencer Building, Front Street.

RATES—DAILY EDITION:

Year, delivered in city $7.00
Year, by mail to rural offices 5.00
Year, to U.S.A. 5.00

Toronto Representative—D. O. McKinnon, 43 Victoria Street

W. H. MORTON, Publisher

SIDELIGHTS

JACK MINER'S BOOK

There will appear shortly in serial form in The Ontario Intelligencer Jack Miner's work "Jack Miner and the Birds," by the courtesy of the author. Mr. Miner's work has attracted a great deal of attention since its issue. It tells of the seeming miracle which is accomplished at Kingsville sanctuary although Mr. Miner would not term this marvel a mystery, rather a natural occurrence once birds and fowl come to realize that humans are their friends, and not enemies. It is the story of mutual confidence of birds and mankind.

NEW PARKING STYLE

Those who use Belleville's Front Street for the next few months will have the experience of going back to conditions as they existed a number of years ago in regard to parking along the curbs. The change from diagonal to parallel parking will be required by the exigency of the situation which will arise following the closing of the lower bridge.

This will open up the street and probably by the time the bridge is completed and traffic resumes its way across the river by Bridge Street bridge the council and general public will have come to some idea of need of changes in the parking system, whether to allow parallel parking and to set limits of time for parking.

Even after the bridge is reopened it is likely the council will have to consider modification of the parking scheme for diagonal parking on Belleville's narrow Front street is not satisfactory.

CHILDREN AND ORATORY

Juvenile orators who use expressions which are not natural to their age and endeavour to express thoughts beyond their comprehension were condemned at the recent meeting of the Ontario Educational Association. Juvenile orators have been praised but this attack on the class who were looked forward to as coming Cheops came almost out of the blue sky.

If there are expressions which are beyond the years of the young speakers it seems they do not do other than many men and women who have made their way in the literary world and have left great names behind them. Almost every orator or writer begins with some one as model. If left to himself alone he would probably not even develop into even the present type of a juvenile orator.

Young orators are not the only ones who talk about something at times over their heads. Adults have been known to do the same. There is a deal of bunkum in some people and a desire to air opinions which are but crudely formed or are borrowed from others.

In the sense that there is danger of the inculcation of insincerity lies probably the best claim of the opponents of juvenile oratory. As one of the speakers pointed out the subjects given are not based on conditions of life as the young know them, they are on vast problems of statecraft and nationalism which a child cannot comprehend and many adults cannot appreciate. Of course it is better for the child to speak of what he knows and all done to stir to his imagination, instead of dealing with a thought and subject in which he has no interest.

GUESSING THE WEATHER

It begins to look as if the complaints heard about the weather have been justified. The spring is very backward and the freezing weather has been all too prominent lately. The warmer temperature yesterday led to hopes that the cold was giving away to warmer weather.

Mankind always seeks relief from such present conditions and looks for them in the stars, the planets, the moon and the sun. A change of moon is given credit for a change in weather. Monday next finds an eclipse of the sun and some think that there will be a change noticeable.

HIGHWAY DEPOT

As the motor season is about to open, the department of highways is likely to open up a depot for inspection of cars as to braking equipment and conditions of lamps.

There are two of the most essential features about a motorcar and if the lights are not properly focussed and the brakes not adjusted properly there is grave danger of accident.

In spite of the regulations governing glaring headlights, there are many roads on which these glaring offences against motoring were visible every night last year.

With the establishment of a depot for examination of brakes and lights probably there will be more care taken by the motorist to see that he is keeping within the requirements of the law.

ABSORBING UNEMPLOYMENT

There has been considerable idleness during the past six months but with the opening of spring and a number of local operations of proportions it is thought that there will be almost immediate relief of whatever idleness exists. The unemployed labor is being perceptibly absorbed as the spring opens up.

OLD GREEK POEMS
By Aline Michaelis

Through these ancient measures fall
Names in magical array;
Paddas, Zeus, Bacchus, all
Live again their vanished day.

Lais, growing wan and old,
Love and lovers must resign;
Leaves her trinklets, bronze and gold,
Lays her mirror on a shrine.

Eros strikes with cruel darts,
Pan wakes sweetness with his lyre,
Trojan Helen wins man's hearts,
Sappho sings with deathless fire.

Slender little volume here,
Yet with vivid pictures rife,
Making long-dead ages clear,
Gods and heroes, love and strife!

* * *

AIR MAIL connects New York City with the Argentine in seven days as against three weeks by steamer. The rate is fifty-five cents per half ounce. To send a copy of the New York Times to Argentine costs $17.60 while the Sunday edition would cost $46.20, a total annual postage bill of $7,911..0. Think of that ye subscribers to this great family journal and rejoice that ye do not live in Argentina, and in token thereof make haste to pay your subscription so far in advance that the publisher will know that you are indeed the salt of the earth and the savor thereof.

* * *

Leave it to the free from columnists, comic strips and other doodads N.Y. Times to offer the most amusing paragraph of the week. It concerns an alien who came up for naturalization, and when the court asked him to name the President he replied: "Al Smith." Several times the question was repeated and the same answer given. Finally the judge said: "Why not you think Al Smith is President?" "Well," said the alien, "in the campaign the Republicans lyed on us and say that if Al was elected we'd have a stock market crash, unemployment, bread lines, more prohibition violation and crime waves. Well we had them all so I know Al must be President!"

* * *

WHENEVER YOU SEE AN ERROR in an editorial in the G.F.J. tell the editor. He knows then that folks are reading his editorials. Sometimes the reader most times I think he plants an occasional error in order to test the reader in crest of his brain children, but when the linotype turned the Red Chamber into the Bed Chamber he thought it was a bit thick. Here's a tip, an error on a proof sheet looks like an infinitesimal contraction of the hind leg of a flea, in the paper it looks like the hind leg of an elephant several times enlarged. On the subject of errors the Deseronto Post man offers this: "A man stuck his head in the door the other day and said, 'There was a mistake in last week's Post.' And we said 'Sure, did you think we were printing an Encyclopedia Britannica for $1.50 a year." On a newspaper which lives for a day and has to be rushed together in narrow time limits one proof, not too legible, is considered enough. On a book with reasonable expectation of living some time there may be a dozen or more proofs for every chapter, office proofs, authors proofs, revised proofs until not an error remains to be rooted out, and all done in calm orderly style without rush or confusion of any kind, just the opposite of daily routine in a newspaper office. And so, speaking of errors let's talk about something else.

* * *

HOW MANY FOLKS who laughed at Amos in the spelling bee when he foundered on the word psychology could have spelled the word themselves without reference to the dictionary?

* * *

RAPID TRANSITION from April back to March in the matter of weather stirs Chicago Tribune columnist "Line-O-Type" to say: It was April yesterday all the forenoon. And then old March, who left his toothbrush, or his bedroom slippers, or something like that, when he went two weeks ago, came back to get his things. He didn't seem able to find them for he was nosing around late in the afternoon. Hope he gets his property and clears out and stays out. Doggone guests who are always coming back after something they left." March weather certainly has outlived its welcome around Belleville, too—winter lingering in the lap of, spring, and all that, don't you know, sounds poetical and soul stirring and all that kind of thing don't you know, but it gives one a lingering pain in the hope chest, and then some.

* * *

The most enjoyable way to follow a vegetable diet is to let the cow eat it and take yours in the form of steak.

MODERN ETIQUETTE
By Roberta Lee

Q.—When a girl is with her escort, should she give her order to the waiter?

A.—No; she should give it to her escort.

Q.—Should one ever acknowledge a gift over the telephone?

A.—No; it is not good form.

Q.—When a married woman and an unmarried girl are walking together who should take the outside of the papement?

A.—The married woman.

Hillier Women's Institute Met

Hillier, April 25 (By Mail)—The annual meeting of the Hillier Women's Institute was held in the town hall on Thursday, April 17th, with the Pres., Miss Laundy in charge of the meeting which opened with the Institute ode with Mrs. Ernest Terry accompanist. The Sec. Treas., Mrs. Jack Taylor gave the annual report which was very satisfactory, which showed there was a regular attendancy of half the members during the year, that twelve addresses had been given, two of these being health addresses, there was $45. on hand. Miss Laundy gave a short address and thanked the members for the support they had given her for all undertakings throughout the year. The officers for the ensuing year were elected which were as follows:

President Miss Laundy.
1st Vice-Presidents Mrs. Sherman Foster.
2nd. Vice-President Mrs. Roy Wight.
Sec. Treas. Mrs. Jack Taylor.
District Director Mrs. W. A. Foster.
Directors Mrs. Walter Hind, Mrs. Lloyd, Mrs. Fritz.
Representative Mrs. Raitray.
Press Reporter Mrs. Ernest Terry.

LITTLE BENNY'S NOTE BOOK

I was wawking home from the store with ma and Leroy Shoosters mother was standing on her front steps, ma saying, Good afternoon, Mrs. Shooster, how is your grandchild?

Meening Leroys sisters new baby, and Mrs. Shooster sed, She's the worlds most perfect baby, thats how she is.

Well, I mite find that less doubtful to believe if I dident have a grandchild of my own. Shes his little harbe's the finest baby that ever drew mortel breth, ma sed.

Meening my sister Gladdines baby and Mrs. Shooster sed, Well of corse opinions differ.

And so babies, ma sed. My grand son certeny differs from any other baby I ever saw of all sexes, and the advantage is all on his side of the fam ily, and I'd say the same thing rite in the teeth of the chief judge of a baby show, she sed, and Mrs. Shooster sed, Well Im sure I have no wish to run down your grandchild, Ive seen him out in his carriage several times and I'm sure he'll get over his little habit of twisting up his face for no apparent reason.

Well my lands, Mrs. Shooster, your own face would proberly twist up like a corkscrew with the itch if you were lying out with the sun in your eyes, if considering all the circumstances I think my grandchild shows remarkable self control, ma sed, in a way, perhaps, but my little granddawter has so much naturel good sense that when she feels the sun in her eyes she lets out such an uproar that somebody changes her position immdilly, in other words she knows how to take care of herself even at that age.

My grandson has a much more determined spirit than that, ma sed. He'd rather fite the sun by screwing up his little face at it, and though I admit the battle is rather one sided in the suns favor, yet its a wonderful thing for the child to be so idealistic and fite against terrific odds, because Im sure in later life no obstacle will be grate for him. Well good by, ma sed.

And she quick kept on going while Mrs. Shooster was still trying to think up something elts.

Faster, more convenient schedules by the International Limited, Inter-City Limited and Maple Leaf inaugurate a new era in Canadian travel.

Six hours each way between Montreal and Toronto. Toronto to Chicago in 12 hours 5 minutes. Montreal to Chicago in 18 hours 15 minutes. Improved Hamilton, Detroit and Buffalo connections. Added convenience and time saving east or westbound from Oshawa, Belleville, Kingston, Brockville.

ALL STANDARD TIMES

Full Details From
H. C. THOMPSON, 243 Front St., Telephone 638

Double Track all the Way

DELANEY

Furs

FOR COOL DAYS!
FOR COOLER NIGHTS!

Be smart—yet comfortable! We have furs for every occasion.

If you wish your own individual style of garment, we will make it to order.

Always at Your Service!

EXCLUSIVE FURRIER
17 Campbell St.
PHONE 797

TARBOX
Chemically Treated
Dust Mops
Reg. $1.50 —
$1.29
Special Price for One Week
Phone 105
OSTROMS'
The Best in Drugs

Tickell & Browne
FUNERAL HOME
66 VICTORIA AVE.
Corner of Church Street
PHONE 2133
All New Equipment, including
LIMOUSINE FUNERAL COACH
J. L. Tickell C. W. Browne
FUNERAL DIRECTORS

THOMPSON FUNERAL SERVICE
Our policy of lower priced Funerals continues indefinitely
UNEXCELLED SERVICE
Thomas C. Thompson
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
288 Front Street. Phone 62
Private Funeral Parlor. Night 1313

IMLAH & ARMSTRONG
MANAGERS BELLEVILLE BURIAL CO.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
14 CAMPBELL STREET, BELLEVILLE
Day Phone 769 Night Phones 1875 and 774

Persian Balm—the one toilet requisite for the dainty woman. Delightful to use. Leaves no stickiness. Swiftly absorbed by the tissues. Delicately fragrant. Imparts a velvety loveliness to he complexion. Tones up the skin. Soothes and banishes all unpleasant roughness or chafing caused by wind and other weather conditions. Makes hands soft and white. Creates an elusive, essentially feminine charm. Persian Balm is indispensable to women of refinement.

Earle & Cook Co.
Sale of Ladies' Coats
Saturday and Monday
We place on Sale Ladies' Coats in Newest Spring Styles, in Fancy Tweed, Tricotine and Poiret Twill, at Greatly Reduced Prices.
LADIES' COATS $9.95—On Sale at .... $ 7.79
LADIES' COATS $14.95—On Sale at $11.95
LADIES' COATS $19.95—On Sale at $13.95
LADIES' COATS $25.00—On Sale at $17.95

PURE ICE
—delivered at your door or in your refrigerator.
Courteous, Prompt Service
HARRY SMITH
Phone 697

JAMIESON BONE & COMPANY
Orders executed on leading stock exchanges. Full Quotation and Bulletin Service on Winnipeg Quotations and Bulletin Service on Winnipeg and Chicago Grain.
Stock Brokers
Office and Board Room, Chamber of Commerce Bldg. BELLEVILLE
Direct Private Wires. Telephones 1364, 1365, 1366

GIRL UNAFRAID

BY

Gladys Johnson

Neil flung open the door under the stairs.

"Look, Granny—" he cried. "See who I've brought!"

He pushed the girl before him into the kitchen. The room was shadowy, as she remembered it. Coal stove had been removed; tongues of flame played about the opening lighting the room with a red dusk. Hunched over it, gazing down into the fire's heart, was Granny Burke.

"Now praise the day! You don't be tellin' me you've brought my girl back again!" she quavered. "Is it your old sweetheart, lad, that you bring in! Come closer, my dear, an' let me see you. My eyes ain't what they used to be."

The red rimmed eyes peering up into her face, the hand, uncomfortably clawlike reaching up to pat her cheek.

"Sit where the light falls on you, dearie, so's I can see you. Lawsy me, what a grand young lady you've come to be."

"Seem's like old times to have Ardeth back with us, doesn't it, Granny," Neil put in.

"It do indeed!" The fitful gray head nodded vigorously. "Many the time I mixed you, my dear. The house is so still now. Some hooseless livin' upstairs!" She smiled slyly. "Not like it was in the old days—with you an' the lad scamperin' in an' out after school hotherin' me for bread an' butter. Och, the pretty pair of sweethearts you made—him so dark an' you so fair. He's never had any girl but you, dearie, though there's many the one set her cap for him."

Nodding and winking shrewdly. The wrinkled hand patting her knee, less, Ardeth had the curious conviction, through affection than to feel the quality of her dress.

She answered Granny's pointed questions as easily as possible and all the time within her mind, was growing a feeling of dismay. She had the impression of moving through a vaguely unpleasant dream.

The old magic was gone. What had been a haven from Aunt Ada's sour tongue was a stuffy, untidy kitchen. What had been a dame of fairytales had become only an old woman who pawed her unpleasantly and smelled of onions.

She spoke of the shop, keeping up an amusing string of anecdotes about the customers, and while she talked she was busy with memories. She was watching the ghost of a slender girl moving through the room—a light-hearted girl who dreamed amid the hardships of his house; a girl delighted merely to go riding with Neil in his cut-down Ford on Sundays. Would she have been happier, had she stayed here? Ardeth wondered. Happier if no Ken had come into her life to fling the shadow of loneliness over her heart?

The old woman's voice was rambling interminably.

"I knew they couldn't keep you, with their fine clothes an' high talk. Don't you be losin' heart. I told the boy sre. She'll get tired of her rich friends. She knows where she belongs, that one. I told him. She'll come back in the end to her real sweetheart, I told him."

"Oh, Granny!" Ardeth protested.

The high old voice broke into a cackle. "Blushin' she is because I hit the truth! Why, my pretty, who could be readin' your heart if it wasn't old Granny?"

Unhappy and embarrassed, Ardeth avoided Neil's burning eyes.

"She's young. I said to the lad. Carried away she is by their ways—ways but she'll be back. High to breakin' the true heart of my boy, you were though."

"Aw—don't, Granny!" burst from Neil. His face was drawn in the light of the fire.

"Why, laddie!" she went on with the innocent stubbornness of the old. "who else should be sayin' the words to bring my pretty pair of sweethearts together if it isn't me."

Ardeth rose, suddenly stifled. A trap..... this shabby kitchen, with its alternate bursts of light and shadow.

"Oh, no, my pretty—"

Granny's knotted fingers fastened to her skirt with surprising strength. Ardeth fought the sense of panic.

"Neil, I must go! Can't you—can't you make her understand?" There was a tremor in the tone she tried to make light.

Neil stood upright, looking very tall in the firelight. His eyes were strangely still. "Yes..... Yes, you must go."

Out in the dark hallway she tried to gather herself together. "It's been good to see you again, Neil. I'll come again—soon."

He was vaguely indefinite in the gloom, but she felt that he shook his head. "No." His voice held that new flat note. "No, you won't Ardeth. I guess I understand—now. I saw there was no chance. I never had a chance. You've gone away from me."

Her heart was sore with his sorrow. "Don't say that, Neil. Old friends mustn't lose sight of each other. We —we've known each other so long—"

"We're not friends, Ardeth. I can love you or hate you. But I can't be friends. You've gone away—away beyond me. I saw it before, but I wouldn't believe it. It isn't clothes. Or even the different way you talk. It's you. Yourself. That—that other fellow—he got you away from my and you won't come back."

The quick tears of sympathy were stinging her eyes. "Oh, Neil—" she groped for his arm.

He snatched it away. "I told you it was either love or hate," he said fiercely. "I'm trying to hate you! Go on—go away!"

She found herself walking blindly up the dark street, tagged by the lonely ring of her own Reels on the pavement.

A nightmare it had been. Good to be out here, free and alone in the fresh wind. Feeling the cool air on her wet cheeks. Seeing the stars. The dark Autumn night was grateful.

She was back before her own dark shop. Reaching in her handbag for her key.

Her heart leaped. In the entrance a tall figure slumped. Someone who raised a white face as she came up.

"Ken!" she cried.

(To Be Continued)

No Rest With Asthma. Asthma usually attacks at night, the one time when rest is needed most. Hence the loss of strength, the nervous debility, the loss of flesh and other evils which must be expected unless relief is secured. Fortunately relief is possible. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy has proved its merits through years of service. A trial will surely convince you.

CARS DAMAGED AT FOUR CORNERS

Two cars were badly damaged in a motor collision late last night near the corner of Bridge and Front Streets. James Donaldson, R.R. No. 3, Belleville, had his car parked in front of the Radio Cafe when Mrs. Roux Essie of Quebec, coming east on Bridge Street and turning south on Front Street struck the Donaldson car. The police investigated but the parties settled the damages between themselves.

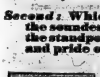
The Crites Service oil truck was forced into the ditch on the Canniffon Road yesterday when a motorist coming out of a gangway failed to stop before entering the through highway. The driver of the truck fearing a collision ditched his vehicle with little damage done to the truck.

EMPLOYMENT IMPROVES

Inquiry at the local employment office revealed the fact that there was during the past three months a scarcity of worry in the city and that business conditions had been not unsatisfactory. During the past month however, the demand for the unemployed has gradually improved and men who have really needed work have been many of them looked after. A busy summer is looked forward to in building circles and the erection of a new bridge and a filtration plant should supply local men with plenty of work for some time to come.

An Oil Without Alcohol—Some oils and many medicines have alcohol as a prominent ingredient. A judicious mingling of his essential oils compose Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and there is no alcohol in it, so that its effects are lasting.

for Economical Transportation



CHEVROLET

It's wise to choose a SIX!

After all, it is a perfectly simple matter to decide which automobile you want to buy. Only two questions must be answered to your satisfaction—

First:* Which car gives the most for my money?

Second:* Which car represents the soundest investment from the standpoint of satisfaction and pride of ownership?

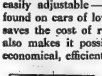
Six-Cylinder Motor

In buying a low-priced car consider the following facts:

It is wise to choose a six-cylinder motor—for in order to get six-cylinder smoothness, it is necessary to have six cylinders.

Six-cylinder smoothness takes out vibration and roughness. This saves the motor, the whole chassis, the body, the passengers, and the driver. Drivers who try six cylinders never want less.



The Chevrolet is a six. And yet it sells at a price that anyone can afford to pay.

This very low-priced car lasts longer, not only because of fine materials and over-size parts, but also because it is a six. The big, smooth, 50-horsepower six-cylinder Chevrolet engine is always "taking it easy." From crawling to racing speeds, everything is smooth. There is no feeling of strain.

And at every speed—no matter how hard or how long you drive—the motor is protected by water temperature and oil pressure gauges, mounted on the dash. These gauges are important safety features and give added assurance of long engine life. You should demand their extra protection in the car you buy.

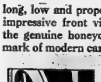
With all its six-cylinder smoothness and power the New Chevrolet Six uses no extra gasoline or oil. Modern efficiency in design makes this possible—overhead valves—high compression power from ordinary fuel—very latest high-acceleration carburetor—close-fitting, long-wearing pistons—crankcase ventilation—air cleaner. You can really have extreme economy and still satisfy your modern performance ideals. Chevrolet brings truly modern transportation within reach of all who can afford any car. Chevrolet economy is the mark of Chevrolet sincerity in manufacture. To illustrate:

Chevrolet valves are readily accessible and easily adjustable—a feature not usually found on cars of low price. This not only saves the cost of replacing valves, but it also makes it possible to preserve quiet, economical, efficient motor operation.

Fully-Enclosed Brakes

A similar example is found in Chevrolet's molded brake lining. In careful tests at the General Motors Proving Ground this lining has lasted over 25,000 miles of usage—reducing the necessity of frequent replacement, and consequent expense.

Furthermore, there is a rear axle inspection plate on the Chevrolet. This makes it unnecessary to take the axle apart to examine or clean it.

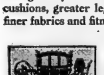


Delco-Lovejoy Shock Absorbers

The Chevrolet Six is full of such evidence that true economy comes from advancement and refinement.

Like all the finest cars, the Chevrolet Six provides the comfort and protection of four extra-long, chrome-vanadium springs that are controlled by hydraulic shock absorbers. They are mounted lengthwise, in the direction of car travel, and self-adjusting spring shackles are used for lasting quiet.

With modern low suspension and extra wheelbase, the Chevrolet Six has the fundamentals of modern motor car beauty. It is long, low and properly proportioned. The impressive front view is distinguished by the genuine honeycomb radiator, another mark of modern cars.



Safety Gasoline Tank

The gasoline tank is mounted in the rear. This not only increases the safety of the passengers, but results in finer appearance.

Chevrolet beauty instantly says "Body by Fisher." Body by Fisher means the style of the costliest cars. But it means much more—permanent quiet, sturdiness, balance and safety, made possible only by Fisher composite steel-and-wood construction.

Body by Fisher gives you a genuine non-glare windshield, as in the finest cars. It gives you an adjustable driver's seat, used in every luxury car. The New Chevrolet Six gives you more seat space, deeper cushions, greater leg room, clearer vision, finer fabrics and fitments.

You can actually see all the extra value of Chevrolet-Fisher bodies. And there is just as much extra value everywhere in the car. By actual count of modern features—by actual measure of value—by actual weight—by actual scientific test—AND BY ANY MODERN STANDARD OF PERFORMANCE the Chevrolet Six is the greatest value in the low-price field.

It is wise to choose the Chevrolet Six with its six-cylinder valve-in-head motor . . with full scientific equipment . . with its Body by Fisher . . with four long semi-elliptic springs, long wheelbase, low suspension, rear-mounted gasoline tank, honeycomb radiator and all the other features of this day and age.

See your nearest Chevrolet dealer today and drive a Chevrolet Six. Ten minutes at the wheel will show you what a difference six cylinders make. Ask about the G.M.A.C. General Motors' own Time Payment Plan.

ROADSTER OR PHAETON

$635

The Sport Roadster	$715
The Coupe	740
The Coach	750
The Super Sport Roadster (Six wire wheels standard)	795
The Club Sedan	$810
The Sport Coupe	840
The Sedan	870

All prices at factory, Oshawa, Ont. Taxes, freight and spare tire extra.

A complete line of Commercial Cars and Trucks from $495 up.

CHEVROLET MOTOR COMPANY OF CANADA, LIMITED

Subsidiary of General Motors of Canada, Limited

The Feminine Viewpoint

Mainly About People You Know

(Continued From Page Two)

Master Harry McGuire of this city is spending his vacation the guest of his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. John McDonald, Madoc.

Miss Betty Wilson and Miss Bernice Dennehy of this city are spending their vacation with the former's grandmother, Mrs. Lillian Noble, Picton.

Mr. J. L. Irwin, dairy producer grader was yesterday in Kingston on business.

Mr. S. M. Sinclair, air engineer of this city, was a recent visitor in Brantford, and while there conducted an inspection of the airplane building there.

Today's Poem

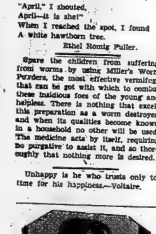
ILLUSIVE ARRIVAL

Hey coming was announced,
By a yellow bird—
I hastened out to find her
When I heard.

"She is just around the corner"
Called a buttercup,
A dandelion chuckled:
"I almost tripped her up."

"Here she hoist to see her face
And to take a drink."
Mimuli and mallows cried
From a river's bank.

The first wild iris whispered::
"We can give a hint—
Follow where two small bare feet
Bruised the tender mint."



Then in the misty distance
Was a sudden shape
Of curves and slender graces
A girlish form might make.

"April," I shouted,
April—is she!"
When I reached the spot, I found
A white hawthorn tree.

Ethel Romig Fuller.

Spare the children from suffering from worms by using Miller's Worm Powders, the most effective vermifuge that can be got with which to combat these insidious foes of the young and helpless. There is nothing that excels this preparation as a worm destroyer, and when its qualities become known in a household no other will be used. The medicine acts by itself, requiring no purgative to assist it, and so thoroughly that nothing more is desired.

Unhappy is he who trusts only to time for his happiness.—Voltaire.

Millions of men and women know how Danderine helps stop falling hair and dissolves the worst crust of dandruff; how easily it changes dull, lifeless, brittle hair into hair that is soft, sparkling, vigorous.

With Danderine it is so easy to "train" a child's hair; to keep it orderly, sparkling, clean. Danderine accentuates the natural curl of a child's hair. A girl's "waves" look more natural when "set" with it. And they stay in longer.

Use Danderine with children to overcome the evils of frequent washing. It puts back into hair and scalp the natural oils removed by soap and water.

Danderine isn't sticky or oily; doesn't show. It is no trouble to use. Just put a little on the brush each time the hair is arranged. That will keep the scalp healthy and encourage the growth of long, silky and abundant hair. Five million bottles used a year is proof of Danderine's effectiveness.

Danderine

The One Minute Hair Beautifier

At All Drug Stores—Thirty Five Cents

Fashionably Speaking

By Lucille

DEAR READERS:

Have you noticed the fashions in Spring clothes for children? They are most delightful. Nowadays the simpler garments are for kiddies' wear, the more appealing they look. It is a mistake to detract from the child's natural loveliness by clothing her in dresses that are masses of frills and furbelows.

For play there is nothing better for your tiny daughter than the crisp little dresses of pretty prints that are shown in all the stores. You can buy them ready made in several styles, or if you are fortunate enough to be handy at sewing, an art—that is invaluable to the mother of little tots, you can make any number of these dresses at a cost surprisingly small. Trimmings with organdy collars and cuffs, or with smocking, they are ideal for dressing up after the afternoon nap, and they launder perfectly, another trong recommendation.

Broadcloth, in pastel shades, embroidered with nursery motifs, is very pretty. I have in mind one I saw, in pale yellow, which had a row of bunnies outlined in black all around the skirt, just above the hem. The little miss who wore it was quit proud of herself.

Some mothers are partial to white and find that dresses of voile with bits of eyelet embroidery are readily washable, and just the thing for "dress up" occasions.

The vogue for suntan entered the children's field last year and overalls with suntan backs, and bathing suits held precriously in place with a strap or two made their appearance on little ones. The deep tan acquired means health for the children when it only spelled fashion to grown-ups. And just in passing, the same grown-ups who went in so avidly for suntan are regretting the condition in which it left their skin. After twenty-five, take your suntan in moderation.

For colder days the cunning little knitted suits, sweater and pleated skirt for the girl, and sweater and shorts for the boy, will fill the bill.

It's easy to keep the tiny folks well dressed, dear readers, for freshness is the main requisite, and frocks, however plain, that are modiestly clean, will become their wearers.

Fashionably yours,

"LUCILLE."

Some Women Ask "Martyr's Crown"

Edmonton, Alta., April 26—Millie McClumy thinks that women love "the Martyr's Crown." There are many women who are ready and willing to be sacrificed for their families, and there are some who really enjoy poor health abuses and overwork. They glory in affliction and are proud to tell of how tired, worried, upset and nervous they are. "Too tired to stand up—and too strung up to sit down" is the way they speak of their state of mind.

"And they are proud of it! These are the women who will not use laboring machinery. You and see them at the county fairs, and you can tell them by what they say about the dem onstrations of new machines for house hold use," she writes.

"No, indeed, I wouldn't use a washer—I have always managed to get the clothes clean on the board, and I guess I always will" This is their reply when their friends suggest a washing machine, Wash-day would lose its charm if they were not tired out when it was over.

The martyr crown is upon her head and she wears it with such swagger. It is hard to deal with people who are proud of their foolishness. Sometimes I think the law is rather too severe on wife-beaters. There is such a thing as extenuating circumstances!

THE BEAUTY BOX

The hair becomes fi the same as any part of the body. Sometimes it is carry on, and sometimes it isn't. It is always grateful for care and attention and smiles up under them. The weekly shampoo with a neutral, bland soap that has been melted the day before, the cold spraying following the shampoo, the brisk massage of the scalp are all of benefit to the human halo.

"Long skirts," says a young woman, "make a girl feel nice. With flowing draperies she thinks she is somebody. She is more inclined to carry herself splendidly than when she wears knee-length frills. She doesn't feel like acting rowdyish or doing any back slapping. In fact, she has a grand-elegant notion that she is a lady." That's sumpin!

Good general health bolsters up the health of the eyes. Women of endurance and vitality have strong eyes, as a rule, and these also have more natural brilliancy than is usually seen. Their expression has greater power of variation and change. Headaches, nervousness and digestive disturbances dim the luster of the eyes.

Hair tonics likely to contain alcohol must not be used on the eyelashes to encourage them to grow long and curly. Vaseline can be applied lightly. It imparts a glisten to the lashes—quite of the soul windows. The ends of the lashes should never be clipped. Very bad business, that.

ORATORY AMONG YOUNG OPPOSED

Professor O. J. Stevenson Suggests Recitations Instead

Toronto, April 25—Condemnation of public-speaking contests for children public-speaking contests for children came with startling suddenness immediately following a performance of juvenile oratory at yesterday morning's session of the Trustees and Ratepayers' Department of the O.E.A. in Convocation Hall.

The public-speaking contest had just finished. The next item on the program was an address by Professor O. J. Stevenson on "Essential Qualities in Public Speaking," which constituted a bombardment of criticism directed against the practice of encouraging oratory among school children.

Professor Stevenson said he had purposely remained away from the previous contest, so that he could speak freely without any reference to the young speakers who had just finished.

Among the objections Listed by Professor Stevenson against public speaking by children were: That the subjects seldom related to the experience of the boy or girl speaking, but were on such ambitious topics as "The Value of Education," "The Constitution of Canada," etc.; that the speech es were not original, but from their own language, but were usually written by adults, full of grandiloquent expressions and that, therefore, the child was taught to play a dishonest part.

"What is needed in this Province," he continued, "is fewer of these exhibitions and more time given to accuracy, scholarship and good reading. We have too much oratory and not enough thought; too many words and not enough ideas."

Sick from baby starves, so costly that it is sold by the inch, is the latest novelty in feminine footwear in Paris. England has 250,000 foreign visitors every year. Germany has eight times that number and France six times as many.

Tampa, Fla., produced 421,600,000 cigars in 1928.

Perhaps You've Heard

Maxim Gorki, living in Italy for his health, has received an invitation to visit the United States from the Literary Guild which has selected his novel, "Bystander" as its April choice.

What amounted to an international contest of intellect took place during Hugh Walpole's recent visit to this continent when he and Thornton Wilder opposed each other in a debate given in Siwyn Theatre on the topic: "Detective Tales and drama founded on experience than reading great history and biography." Mr. Walpole upheld his belief that fiction and drama contain the greatest light on experience, while Mr. Wilder expressed his convictions in favour of history and biography.

A man who has known the sitter struggle with poverty and the oft-recurring rent bill, who has been a private soldier, a reporter, a war correspondent and finally, a writer of master "thrillers" has entered and will stand in the Liberal interest in a Buckinghamshire constituency at the next election. When the elections does come, his fights will be watched with particularly keen interest for this author of many plays and stories can be expected to provide a colorful contest and plenty of "copy."

That the late Joseph Pulitzer who endowed the Columbia School of Journalism and established a fund for prizes for writers, is remembered today as the selections for his prizes, especially in the novel and drama, was the belief expressed by Elmer Davis, author and journalist who addressed the students and faculty of the School in New York recently. Mr. Pulitzer, the speaker said, believed books and plays should uplift the public mind, but writers have followed their own inclinations as to theme and treatment.

"..... of Cabbages and Kings"

BRIGHT WINDOWS

How good it seems
When out at night
To pass by windows
All alight.

Almost as though
A glimpse were given
Of promised land
Of brightest haven.

Each open casement
May reveal
More than its gauzy
Drapes conceal.

Walk slowly, slowly
Look, ah look!
Two people reading
From one book.

Wynn Urquhart

"Two people reading from one book," sounds very well in poetry, but in actual fact it is not always a satisfying arrangement. There are surely two people who read at the same rate of speed. If you are a fast reader it irritates you to have to wait before turning over the page, and if you read slowly you feel the other's irritation.

Perhaps you are one of those people who liked to be "read to" as Stephen Leacock terms it. There are usually enough readers who like to read aloud, and personally I believe it is the only way to read humorous books. To have one person reading a funny story, while others in the room are reading something else is very disturbing. You hear chuckles and giggles, and have to tear yourself away from your own book to hear the choice bits. It as a far better arrangement to give up the storyline altogether and hear the whole story. You can compromise, as we do, in our family, by having one read alternate chapters and no fair peeking ahead to see who gets the best chapters!

Mystery stories, if you, too, occasionally indulge, you usually prefer to read alone. The atmosphere is lost when another has to wait and when, as it fen happens, one can guess the end ing, which you might not have arrived at yourself. Why do you read detective fiction? Mary Roberts Rinehart gives this as one reason.

"And here is a curious fact in my experience, the more active minded the man, the more likely he is to turn to this form of reading, not as a substitute for more solid literary material, but as offering the ideal combination of interest plus a complete distraction from these problems in which he is personally involved.

"A problem but not HIS problem."

By the way, Mary Roberts Rinehart has latest mystery is said to be the kind that makes you wait until someone turns on the lights before you'll go upstairs at night after reading it.

—Penelope

COST $18,000 TO

REPAIR BROCK'S ARM

Niagara Falls, Ont., April 26.—The massive arm of General Brock, which used to point across Lake Ontario toward Toronto and was blown down in a storm last Summer, is to be replaced in position.

A great scaffold has been started on the monument at Queenston Heights and the task of removing the arm and of repainting the whole shaft will be done at a cost of $10,000.

Ten thousand tons of steel will be used in a bridge to be built over the Irrawaddy, near Mandalay, Upper Burma.

If Baby has COLIC

A cry in the night may be the first warning that Baby has colic. No cause for alarm if Castoria is handy! This pure vegetable preparation brings quick comfort, and can never do the slightest harm. Always keep a bottle in the house. It is the safe and sensible thing when children are ailing. Whether it's the stomach, or the little bowels; colic or constipation; or diarrhea. When tiny tongues are coated, or the breath is bad. Whenever there's need of gentle regulation. Children love the taste of Castoria, and its mildness makes it suitable for the tiniest infant, and for frequent use.

And a more liberal dose of Castoria is always better for growing children than some needlessly strong medicine meant only for adult use. Genuine Castoria always has Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper. Prescribed by doctors!

When Pain Comes

Two hours after eating

What many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acids instantly. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali in water will neutralize instantly many times as much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go get a small bottle to try.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any drug store.

Children Given Unique Treat

Each Youngster at Gardenville Sunday School Recipient of Medal

Gardenville, April 24 By Mail—Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Young have returned home after spending the winter in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Clark of Toronto are spending a week at their summer home here.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Grounds called on Mr. and Mrs. P. Hicks, Carrying Place on Friday evening.

Miss Jessie Clark has returned home after spending a couple of weeks visiting relatives in Cardinal.

Miss E. Young spent Saturday afternoon with her cousin, Miss Nancy Young.

A number of people from here were in Trenton on Saturday.

The annual treat for the children of the Sunday school was held in the Gospel hall last Friday evening. A dainty supper was served the children at six o'clock after which the prizes were given. Dr. Boyce of Kingston who takes a great interest in the Sunday school here presented each child with a small medal. He also gave three special prizes which were won by Misses Olive Grounds and Marguerite Young and Master Billy Mercies.

Mr. H. K. Young the local fish buyer, is having a new ice house built. Mr. S. Young is doing the carpenter work.

Sorry to report Miss L. Moynes on the sick list.

Mr. and Mrs. Generus of Trenton have rented Mrs. Earl's house.

Mrs. S. Terrill and two children spent Tuesday in Trenton.

Mr. M. Scabee was called on friends in the village on Tuesday.

Miss Clarys Madigan called on Miss Jessie Clark on Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Clark and daughter Vivian spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Young entertained a number of callers on Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Collette and two sons James and Laurence motored down from Toronto to spend the week end at their summer home here.

Mr. Blake Young had the misfortune to lose a valuable cow last week.

Mr. B. Chase spent Thursday evening with Mr. and Mrs. S. Young.

Mrs. Jack Clark called on Mrs. S. Young on Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Betts of Greenbush, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. M. Cooper.

Mrs. J. Dymond of Toronto spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. M. Young.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bonier of Young on Sunday.

Miss Jessie Clark called on Miss Gladys Madigan on Friday afternoon.

Mrs. S. Young spent Friday evening with Mrs. F. Hicks, Carrying Place.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Clark of Trenton called on Mr. and Mrs. W. Clark on Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Marshall Young spent the dinner hour on Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. S. Young.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Dymond and family of Toronto, were in Gardenville over the week end.

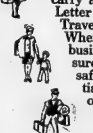
Mr. and Mrs. M. Grounds motored to Colborne on Sunday evening.

Mr. Caverly of Orillia, has been conducting Gospel meetings in the hall during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Dymond of Toronto spent the ten hour on Friday with Mr. and Mrs. C. Morgan.

MRS. LOUIS MYRES

Marmora, April 26 (By Mail)—The funeral of the late Mrs. Louis Myres took place on Saturday April 19th from her late residence at Cordova Mines to the Sacred Heart Church, Marmora, interment being made in the R. C. Cemetery. On Sunday morning the funeral mass was celebrated, by Rev. Father Keely, P. P., in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. The deceased leaves to mourn her loss, her husband and two small daughters Carmeletta and Anna and three sisters, Mrs. T. Quinlin of Pits burg, Pa., Mrs. Courie of Long Island N. Y., and Mrs. Tobin of New York, N. Y.



Messrs. John and James Minahan are uncles of the deceased and Miss Ella Minahan an aunt. Sincere sympathy of many friends is extended to the bereaved relatives.

After being lost for 12 years, a malacca cane bearing the presentation inscription, was found in Bengal and returned recently to its owner.

Imports of horse meat into France are declining.

A point near Gibraltar, Spain, is further south than any other point on the mainland of Europe.

TRAVELLING

Wherever you go, banking service awaits you if you carry a Dominion Bank Letter of Credit or our Travellers' Cheques. When abroad, on business or pleasure, they are a safe, easily negotiable means of carrying money.

THE DOMINION BANK

BELLEVILLE BRANCH

C. WAITE ..... MANAGER

District News Gathered by our Correspondents

Soap Shower is Unique Affair

Many Prince Edward People Attended Annual Kiwanis Ball

Picton, April 25 (Special)—Mrs. Edward Purtelle is on a trip to the Pacific coast, enroute, she will visit at Kenora, Winnipeg, Calgary and Banff.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Tubbs are leaving soon to reside in Florida.

Miss P. Pearce of Bishop Bethune College, Whitby, is at the home of her mother, Mrs. Stanley Pearce, Main Street.

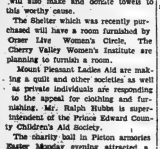
Mr. Roland Hamily, Albert College, Belleville, is holidaying with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Hamily.

Mr. E. Sills is spending some time with his son, Mr. Willis Sills, East Lake Road.

Cherry Valley W. C. T. U. conducted an essay contest in connection with the temperance lessons studied at Sunday School each week. Prize winners were Juniors Ralph Weesh and Kenneth Ostrander, Intermediate Irene Tuttle and Marion Smith, Senior Bessie Wiggins, Mildred Spafford, Gerald Welsh. All gained honor standing.

Prizes will be presented at special service on Sunday morning, April 27, at Cherry Valley Church.

Mr. David Leavitt is visiting his sister Mrs. Sam Ryckman and Mr. Ryckman, Rednbrook.



Help Children's Shelter

Mount Pleasant has a very live Young People's Society and at their meeting this week they had a "soap shower," the soap being given to the Children's Shelter in Picton. They will also make and donate towels to this worthy cause.

The Shelter which was recently purchased will have a room furnished by Orser Live Women's Circle, The Cherry Valley Women's Institute are planning to furnish a room.

Mount Pleasant Ladies Aid are making a quilt and other societies as well as private individuals are responding to the appeal for clothing and furnishing. Mr. Ralph Hubbs is superintendent of the Prince Edward County Children's Aid Society.

The charity ball in Picton armories Easter Monday evening attracted a large crowd in spite of the rainy weather. The dancing square was marked off by Easter lilies, while the orchestra stage was done with flags, palms, shaded lights and rabbits. The Kiwanis crest and flags were used about the walls. A novelty program proceeded the dancing.

An accurate, dependable watch of lasting beauty and charm. A smart watch at appealing prices.

J.O.R. McCurdy
Phone 618 218 Front St

Tulips, Daffodils and Hyacinths
and other Spring Flowers, now in profusion AT Potter's
THE MARKET SQUARE
PHONE 618

RADIO
RADIO REPAIRING and SERVICE
All Makes
Phone 132
THE JOHN LEWIS Co., Ltd.

Stops the Headache
Thousands of people, who once suffered from headaches, do not suffer now. They take one ZUTOO TABLET, as harmless as soda, and are relieved in 20 minutes.
Zutoo
FULLER

Fuller April 25 (By Mail)—Mrs. A. Mitts, Sr., is on the sick list.

Miss Lillian Wilson is spending a few days with Mrs. Dave Hollinger.

Mrs. Roy Mitts had the misfortune to fall and injure her back on Saturday. Dr. Welsh in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Hollinger his father, Mr. James Hollinger and Miss Lillian Wilson spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hollinger at Foxboro.

Miss Helen Collins spent Saturday with Mrs. Harry Mullett at Crookston.

Mrs. Roy spent Sunday with her daughter, Mrs Harry Redcliffe.

Mr. Clayton Rutter, B. A. of Toronto is spending his Easter holidays under the parental roof, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Rutter.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Hollinger and Miss Lillian Wilson spent Saturday in Tweed.

Miss Ethel Wilson is visiting her sister Mrs. Clifford Hagerman at Salem.

Miss Hazel Redcliffe has returned home after spending a few months in Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hagerman spent Tuesday with the latter's parents Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Wilson.

Mr. Albert Mitts, Jr., and his mother spent Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. A. Carson at Crookston.

Mr. Albert Carson and his mother spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. A. Mitts.

Miss Helen Collins spent Tuesday evening with Miss Mary Dean.

The Mission Circle held their regular study meeting at Mrs. Tom Rollin's on Tuesday evening.

Tabernacle

Tabernacle, April 25 (By Mail)—Mr. and Mrs. Earl Elliott of Toronto visited their parents Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Maran on Sunday.

Mrs. Burnas Bryant has returned home after spending a month with her daughter Mrs. Hayden Kemp of Cobourg.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Leach, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Leach called on Mrs. Abigal Carr of Stirling on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Smith and family, Mrs. Chas. Gainsforth spent Easter Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Clem Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Haggerty of Oshawa spent the week end with friends in this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip of Nestleton spent Easter with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Warren Preston.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rodgers and son Linaday, Mr. Walter Rodgers spent Easter Sunday with Mrs. Abner Rodgers and Mrs. Lillie Rodger.

ST. MARK'S DAY

In commemoration of St. Mark's Day, Holy Communion was this morning celebrated in St. Paul's Anglican Church by Rev. J. Thomas, vicar of St. Thomas' Church, assisted by Rev. A. L. Geen. A number were present to join in the service and partake of Communion.

After an export ban of 16 years the first load of livestock was shipped recently from England.

Moira

Moira, April 25 (By Mail)—Now that the joyous and happy Easter season has rolled around once more, this little "Burg" is happily busy entertaining and renewing acquaintances with these who were once former residents of this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Benson Mitts of Holloway, Aileen and Dorothy, also Mr. Earl and Tice Clare of Toronto visited their parents on Sunday last.

Miss Bessie Ketcheson of Belleville and brother Sam of Toronto are spending Easter week under the parental roof.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Emerson are spending Easter week at Guelph visiting the latter's parents.

Mr. Horace Flynn of Toronto visited Mr. and Mrs. David Thompson on Sunday last.

Mr. Frank Herity is busily engaged renovating and improving his new store.

There have been some changes taking place here this spring. Mr. and Mrs. H. Emerson have moved in the house lately occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cooney and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Williams have moved to the home recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. George Sherring.

Mr. and Mrs. Blake Ketcheson and Mr. and Mrs. George Foster and family spent Easter Sunday with their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. James Detlor of the fourth concession of Sidney.

Douglas, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Thompson who has been very seriously ill is not improving very rapidly.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A Mitts and family and Mr. and Mrs. Will Shaw and Milton of Ivanhoe, also Mr. and Mrs. Fred Campbell and Ralph of Foxboro spent Easter Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. George Hollinger o fthis place.

Mr. Harry Vandewater has purchased a fine new span of horses recently.

This "Tweed" Steel
STONE BOAT $12.00
Cash with Order
Delivered free to your station. Runs easily, very durable. These steel runners underneath give added strength; won't rot like wood. Made of 2/16" steel plate; made from new material; keeps them without oil. If not as represented, return and get your money back.
The STEEL TROUGH & MACHINE CO. Ltd.
Tweed Ont.

Miss Carry Hazzard, Evangelist is at present visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Milne Hazzard.

A very delightful Easter service was conducted at Moira United Church last Sunday evening. The pastor's Easter message was soul inspiring and spiritually uplifting and the musical numbers were beautifully rendered. Mr. Will Vandewater and Miss Wannamaker accompanied the pianist. Miss Lily Ketcheson with the violin and Mr. Jos Williams gave a well rendered solo in his usual good voice entitled, "The lillie's message."

Mr. Henry Mullett of Crookston visited his son Mr. Clarence Mullett on Friday last.

Thomasburg

Thomasburg, April 25 (By Mail)—The weather this week has been so cold and disagreeable that there is not much work going outside.

Our visitors who spent the Easter holidays at there homes here namely Ruby Hobert, R. N., of Kingston; H. Blakely and H. Bateman of Queen's Kingston; E. Brown of Toronto and T. M. Elliott of Niagara Falls, U. S. have all returned to their duties.

Dr. and Mrs. E. Carleton of Stirling were Easter guests at R. C. Carleton's.

A blend of green tea that surpasses all other blends
"SALADA"
(GREEN)
JAPAN TEA
'Fresh from the gardens'

Mrs. D. Elliott and Morton spent Sunday at Napanee.

The County road scrapers have been through this district with the scraper putting the ronds in fit condition for travelling.

Mr. Wm. Shaw suffered a stroke while working outside on Tuesday afternoon.

The Easter Sunday service was well attended on Sunday evening and Rev. Mr. Platt preached a very interesting sermon. The choir rendered special music.

TWELVE PAGES

The Ontario Intelligencer

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, MONDAY, APRIL 28, 1930.

Fresh east to south east winds, mostly fair tonight and Tuesday, probably showers in western counties, not much change in temperature.

Pen Rioters Are Quieted, Leaders Taken

PRISON PASSIVE REVOLT QUIETED

One Hundred and Fifty Police Had to Be Taken into The Prison

LEADERS TAKEN OUT

Balance of Convicts Were Quieted When Leaders Disappeared

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 28.—(CP)—Believed to have been pacified after their leaders had been removed, unruly convicts in the idle house at Ohio Penitentiary renewed their revolt again this afternoon after one hundred and fifty Columbus police reserves had been taken to the prison yards. Convicts refused to obey guards and would not listen to Deputy Warden J. C. Woodard, who heretofore had held their confidence. Conditions in Ohio penitentiary the scene of wild disorders since the fire of a week ago when 320 convicts locked in their cells were burned to death, were fast returning to normal today as authorities took firm steps to put down a "passive resistance" revolt. "Hard boiled" convicts, leaders of revolt, were removed from the idle house to the cell-block confinement by Columbus Police and prison guards. With their leaders in solitary, other convicts seemed to lose interest in passive resistance campaign. When the guards entered idle house to make the count, the prisoners lined up obedient ly and made no show of resistance. Between 30 and 40 of the ring leaders were weeded from the main body of convicts.

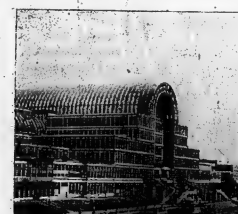
SEEKS SISTER IN THIS DISTRICT

Alvida Rose, 434 Windsor Avenue, Windsor, Ont., is communicated with the police of this city regarding the whereabouts of his sister, Miss Pearl Campbell, believed to be residing in this district. Mr. Rose has not seen his sister for some years and there is a matter of importance that demands his finding her. Anyone knowing of this young woman, is 27 years of age and fair complexion, will confer a favor by passing the information on to the Belleville police.

15 YEARS WITH LASH IMPOSED

But Girl Escapes With Two Years Less One Day

Toronto, April 28.—(CP)—Pleading guilty to robbery while armed, Cecil Irving, 26, Toronto, and his young sister-in-law, Kathleen Boyle, Buffalo, were sentenced today when they appeared before Judge Emerson Coatsworth in connection with the robbery of the local branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Irving was sentenced to fifteen years and thirty lashes in Kingston Penitentiary, while the seventeen-year-old girl will be sent to the Reformatory for two years less one day. In the hold up bank, the trio obtained $2,800, most of which was later recovered.



The pair pleaded guilty to both charges preferred against them, theft of money and robbery while armed, and elected trial by the judge. Kenneth Wade and Richard Connors, in whose apartment Irving was arrested shortly after the robbery, were convicted of receiving stolen money and were each sentenced to three years in penitentiary.

MRS. M. MULTER

The body of Mrs. M. Muller, who died in Batavia, N. Y., on Friday last, will arrive in the city today and be taken to the home of T. Onderdonk in Archibald Place, where the funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon. Mrs. Muller is a niece of Mr. Onderdonk.

Girl Bandit and Her Brother-in-Law Go to Prison

CANADA TO SEND A THOUSAND BIRDS TO WORLD'S POULTRY CONGRESS

When the Crystal Palace, London, England, opens next July to be use the World's Poultry Show practically every nation in the world will be represented. Canada will have 1,000 birds on show and is expected to carry off some of the championship. Above is a picture of the famous structure which was erected more than eighty years ago, while right, sir Fred C. Elford, Ottawa, President of the World's Poultry Science Association, under whose aegis the World's Poultry Congress will be held at the Crystal Palace next summer. Top, right, is Maxie, owned by the Universities of British Columbia, which won the championship at the last Congress for laying 331 eggs in 365 days.

KING'S BIRTHDAY RACES CLASSY

Fine Purses Offered By Fair Board For June Third Events

The Belleville Agricultural Society have arranged a pretentious race programme for the celebration of the King's birthday on June 3rd next. A meeting was held last week with Chairman Jack Lafferty presiding and the classes that shall be competed were announced. There will be three classes a 2.12 class, 2.18 class and 2.24 class and the purse shall be $300.00 for each class. Whether there will be any other amusement on that day has not been decided. Some of the best horses in training attend this meet as it com es midway between the programme arranged by Picton and Napanee.

In tife evening the boxing committee of the Canadian Legion will hold another show and the management have announced a better bill than the last one given. The stars in the amateur mitt game will be on the bill. Fine weather will undoubtedly bring a large number of horse lovers to the city on the holiday.

New Record as Library Reopens

Re-opening after being closed for ten days, during which the main floor was completely re-decorated, Corby Public Library was visited on Saturday by the largest crowd of adult readers for one day during the history of the Library. Sharply at ten o'clock when the circulation department is open to the public patrons arrived and all day long there was a steady stream of men and women waiting to have their books changed.

For those who read quickly, the ten day period without books was a weary one and subscribers on Saturday did not mind the long wait in line that was necessitated by the large numbers who crowded about the long desk most of the day. The total number of books issued was 1115, of which 1001 were fiction. The record last year for adult fiction was 834 volumes.

Saturday was indeed a busy day for the young ladies in charge, Miss Grace Jackson and Miss Kathryn Gallagher, and fortunately the boys' and girls' library did not open until today which prevented greater confusion.

Visitors to the library on Saturday commented on the splendid improvement affected by the re-decoration. The old ivory tones blended perfectly with the decorative scheme of the pillars and arches and the whole effect is very pleasing.

STOCK MARKETS

Jamieson Bone & Co., by direct wire from P. G'Hearn & Co.

All markets are on Daylight Saving Time commencing today. The general trend was downward today, except in Grain which firmed up about 2 pfnits and Canada and Nornada made new lows The copper outlook is still unsettled but Utility stocks holding up well. Quotations at 3 p.m. daylight saving time were:

NEW YORK—

Amcanda 63 3-8; Ann. Can. 146 1-8; C.P.R. 204 3-4; Chrysler 37; Col um. Gas 84 1-4; Cons. Gas 133 1-2; General Elec 89 1-4; General Motors 47 5-8; Hudson 43 3-4; Kennecott 47 5-8; Radio 67 5-8; S.O.N.J. 83 3-4; Stewart Werner 27 5-8; Westinghouse Elec 182; U. S. Steel 181 1-2; Radio Keith 44 3-4; Paramount 70 1-2; National Air Trans 29 1-2; Un Gas Improv 48 3-8; Consv Southern 18 1-2.

NEW YORK CURB—

Elec Bond Share 112.00; Niagara Hudson 23.00; United Gas Co 40 1-4; Ward Baking B 11.

TORONTO—

B. A. Oil 39 1-2; Impl. Oil 27 1-4; Int. Pete 22 7-8; Bell Tele. 131 5-8; Brazilian 51 1-4; Ford A 36 1-2; Pam Players 55; Ind. Alco 8; Walkers 12; Massey Harris 33.

MINES

Abana 47; Amulet 90; Ajax 145; Bear Metals 2.90; Glenn. Research 3.00; Dome 8.80; Hollinger 6.40; Hom Oil 7.50; Howey 67; Hudsons Bay 9.30; International Nickel 25.00; Kirkland Lake 64; Lake Shore 22.00; McIntyre 19.25; Min'ng Corp. 1.80; Noranda 29.00; Pend Oreille 1.25; Sherritt Gordon 1.85; Sudbury Basin 1.85; Teck Hughes 6.40; Treadwell Yukon 6.00; Ventures 1.20; Vipond 1.00; Wasa 1.92.

A half million slash and long leaf pine seedlings will be planted in Florida this year.

Paris now has several "five and ten cent" stores.

BELLEVILLE MEN ON PHONE TRAIN

Message by Phone to Mother Country While Train Made 70 Miles Hour

A Belleville crew brought out the special telephone train on the Canadian National Railway on Sunday on its trip from Toronto to Montreal during which time there was telephone communication with various parts of Canada and Great Britain. William Clare was engineer, and Mr. Hart was fireman while in charge of the train from Toronto to Brockville was Raymond Carr of this city. R. E. Donaldson and Harry Pomeroy were the firemen. At Belleville engineer C. Delisle took the train onto Brockville.

The train with Sir Henry Thornton Vice President Robb, and many officials left Toronto at one thirty o'clock and was three minutes late in reaching Belleville having lost time between Toronto and Scarborough on a heavy grade with the twelve steel coaches which it was made up of. From Scarborough east the train picked up time. It reached Belleville at five twenty-five o'clock. The train made 70 miles per hour as the messages were sent.

The car containing the telephone apparatus was the "Mcnair."

There were a few people at the depot to see it pass through but the train did not stop here beyond long enough time to take on water and change engineers. No officials from Belleville boarded the train.

Yesterday the new fast trains on the C.N.R. made their first run. That from the west had aboard engineer A. A. Brown and Fireman H. D'amond. This train made the run from Toronto to Montreal in six hours.

RE-BIND VOLUMES

Mr. A. E. Walters, of Windsor, an expert in cork-binding, has been engaged at Corby Public Library for the past three weeks re-binding many volumes, and expects to be there another week before the work is completed.

UNDERWENT OPERATION

Mrs. Wilfred Smith, 57 Everett street underwent an operation today at the Belleville General Hospital.

JOS. L. TICKELL DIES, WAS ILL FOR SOME TIME

Had Been, in Business in Belleville for Many Years

SERVED AS TRUSTEE

Was Prominent in Fraternal and Church Circles

Joseph Leaton Tickell, lifelong, highly-respected resident, and an undertaker of outstanding ability in Eastern Ontario, passed away at the family residence, 181 Charles street, yesterday, after a protracted illness. Mr. Tickell had been ailing for some two years and a few months ago was taken to Toronto for a serious operation but it did not stay the malady and the end came peacefully after much suffering borne with fortitude.

The deceased spent his entire life in the city of Belleville, and was always one of the progressive citizens. He was the fourth son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George S. Tickell, and after passing through the public and secondary schools entered the business with his father and his brother, Edward H. Tickell. This was continued under the trade name of Tickell & Sons Company. The business, founded in 1858, was given to the manufacture of furniture and later under taking was added and Joseph L. Tickell became known as one of the outstanding men in this profession. He continued the business until a year ago, when an amalgamation was made with G. E. Brown, of Toronto, with Mr. Tickell retaining an interest.

His father, the late George S. Tickell, took a keen interest in civic affairs, being at on time mayor of the city, and the deceased followed in his footsteps, although he never served in the city council. He was well versed in civic matters and educational affairs and served on the Board of Education for many years. The deceased also travelled for the furniture company and became a life member of the Commercial Travellers' Association for the Dominion and retained his interest until his demise.

Fraternally, the late Mr. Tickell

(Continued on Page Two)

Sun's Eclipse Visible Today

A total eclipse of the sun is a rare sight and many people in the city made sure that they did not miss this great opportunity beginning at eleven o'clock this morning. A piece of smoked glass was necessary for viewing the phenomenon, as it is impossible, to even glance at the sun with the naked eye, when its rays have become strong. A representative of the Ontario Intelligencer, witnessed the eclipse about two-thirty. Seen through the smoked glass the sun appeared to be a small golden sphere in a vast black space. At the time the eclipse was just about over and a small crescent shaped space appeared to be out of the one side of the sun. The sight was most interesting to those who were watching.

Toronto, April 28 (Cp)—Livestock receipts 2341, trade slow. Heavy beef steers 1050 to 1125. Bicher steers good to choice 1000 to 1125. Butcher cows and choice 1050 to 1150. Hogs select 50 to 75. Calves, good to medium 750 to 875. Calves, good to choice 1050 to 1150. Hogs select nil. Good ewe lambs 11 to 12.

PIG PLAYS HAVOC WITH TRAFFIC FOR AN HOUR

A young porker running at large on Pinnacle street on Saturday night not only caused some amusement, but interferred to a considerable extent with traffic. For upwards of an hour it kept running up and down that thoroughfare between Campbell street and Victoria avenue and efforts made to capture it proved futile, until at last it was guided down the gangway adjoining the Salvation Army barracks and was caught by Charles Brown. During its wild career it escaped several times being hit by autos which were compelled to slow up and stop its impeding traffic. Who owned the animal was not ascertained.

RECEIVES DEGREE

Rev. F. C. Stephenson, M.D., who graduated as doctor of medicine at Trin ty Medical College, Toronto, some years ago, became a doctor of divinity at the Emmanuel College Convocation, held recently.

NEW STUDENTS ATTEND SCHOOLS

Increase in Attendance At Every School, Even at Collegiate

After ten days of carefree holidays the school gates yawned open again this morning and the pupils will go down the final stretch to the midsummer examinations.

All city school reported increased attendance, and the four public schools are suffering rather badly from overcrowding. Queen Victoria school reports twenty-six new students this morning with more to come. The school is able to accommodate four hundred and forty pupils and five hundred and thirty-five are crowded into the classrooms.

Queen Mary school too, is overcrowded. Eighteen new students reported for class this morning as well as three from outside points. There are five hundred and twenty-three in attendance at this school and more expected.

Queen Alexandra school has twenty-five new seekers after knowledge and King George school has sixteen new ones. Both state they are only "reasonably" overcrowded.

The collegiate, too, has its' share of new students. Four or five have started from outside points, included among these being two or three from the United States, families that have just moved into town.

ALLEGED BOTTLE THROWER TO TRIAL

Port Hope, April 28—Charged with occasioning grievous bodily harm to Mrs. Ruby Austin of Oshawa, formerly of Port Hope, Harry Smith of Maynooth, Hastings County, was committed for trial by Magistrate W. A. P. Campbell in Port Hope Police Court today. On March 20 Mrs. Austin was driving to Port Hope in company with her husband, when a bottle is alleged to have been thrown from a passing bus. The missle passed through the windshield of the coupe and struck Mrs. Austin on the face. She sustained serious facial cuts as well as a fractured nose and jaw. She is still confined to the Port Hope hospital, Smith was released on $5,000 bail.

E. J. FOLLWELL DIES HAD BEEN ILL SOME TIME

Labor Had Paid High Tribute To Late Citizen

SERVED IN FRANCE

Well Known Citizen Passes to Reward After Active Life

Edwin John Follwell, a resident of this city for the past 34 years, and a valued employee of the Canadian National Railways, died early today in the Belleville General Hospital. Mr. Follwell had been ailing for the past year and seriously ill for the past five months. He was keenly interested in his adopted city especially the cause of labor, which he championed at every opportunity. His labor confreres recognizing his worth in the organization heaped honors upon him in electing the late Mr. Follwell to responsible positions. Not alone was labor his chief interest, for he was a patriot of the first school, his love for the Mother Land being always foremost. The Great War broke out in his middle manhood but he enlisted under the flag and served his King and Country for over three years on the soil of France.

The deceased was born in London, England, on May 5th 1873, being the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Emmanuel Stephen Follwell, and in 1896 he came to this country to make a home in a new land. He settled in Belleville and for two years was outside foreman for the City Gas plant. Joining the old Grand Trunk Railway, he served in car department until his promise and was a faithful and valued employee of that organization.

In social and fraternal life he was active and belong to many organizations. Fraternally he was a member of Burnia Lodge A.F. & A.M. No. 388, Moira Chapter No. 7 R.A.M., Minerva Chapter No. 138 Order of Eastern Star, Past President of Oxford Lodge, Sons of England, Loyal Order of Moose, and Legionaire of the same organization.

He was President of the local Trades and Labor Council at the time

(Continued on Page Two)

FIREMEN CALLED OUT

At 1.30 this afternoon the fire brigade was called to the St. Charles' Motor Company's premises, Front street, but fortunately a fire which originated on the sill of a window was extinguished before any damage resulted. How it originated is not known.

Coming Events

AFTERNOON TEA AND SALE OF Home Cooking, John St. Church Hall, Wednesday, April 30th, 3 to 5. 4.28-3td

LIBERAL RALLY AT SIDNEY Town Hall, Tuesday, May 2nd, at 8 p.m. for organization of club. Prominent speakers will be in attendance. All Sidney and Thurlow Liberals are requested to be present. 4.28-3td

MOOSE LEGION EUCHRE AND Dance in the Moose Auditorium on Wednesday, April 30th, 8-10. Dancing 10-2, Reg. Brockhurst's Serenaders. Refreshments, Door Prize Grand Piano Player. Special Dance Novelties. A good time assured for all who come. Admission 40c plus 3c tax. 4.25-3td

"SO THIS IS LONDON" BY BELLEville Talent, directed by Miss Tufts, in Canniffon Hall, Wednesday, April 30th, eight p.m. Price 25c. Proceds for Missions. 4.26-3td

CIRCUS—CIRCUS—Y.M.C.A. Annual Circus Tuesday and Wednesday, April 29th and 30th, 8 p.m. Clowns, tumbling, drills, etc. Tickets 35c. 4.26-3td

YOUNG MEN 16 TO 35 YEARS OLD are cordially invited to a meeting in the Orange Hall, Belleville, on Wednesday, April 30th, at 8 p.m. Representatives of the Orange Young Britons' Lodge will be present to speak for the organization of a Young Britons' Lodge Here. An unusual program. By order of Grand Master. 4.28-3td

THE BULLETIN BOARD
Mainly About People You Know

ASSISTANT MANAGER

Mr. W. A. Knight of Kingston, has been appointed assistant manager of the local Metropolitan store to take the place recently vacated by Mr. Raynor. Mr. Knight has been connected with the Kingston branch of the Metropolitan Stores for some time past and assumed his new duties in the city this morning.

CADETS START DRILL

Collegiate and public school cadets have started drilling in earnest for the spring inspections which are expected to take place during the month of May. The Collegiate boys drill twice a week on the collegiate campus under the supervision of Mr. Howard, cadet teacher.

UTOPIA CLUB CLOSING DANCE

The closing dance of the season for the Utopia Club is being held in Johnstone's Academy on Wednesday evening, April 30th. Novelties and prizes of all kinds will be a feature of the evening. Prizes are now on display in W. C. Leybourne's window. Charles Goyer's New Bon Ton Orchestra will furnish the dance music for this event. A large number from out of town are expected to be present as well as many from the city.

WILL VISIT TRENTON.

Holloway Street United Church Young People's League will tonight be entertained at Grace Church, Trenton, by the Y.P.S. of that church.

WILL ATTEND FOREIGN BOARD

The Foreign Board of Missions of the United Church of Canada meets this week in Toronto from Tuesday to Friday. Rev. L. S. Wight, a member of the board, will attend. The Foreign Board strives to reach thirty-two million people in foreign lands. There are eight fields, Newfoundland, Bermuda, Trinidad, Japan, Korea, North and South China, West China, Central India and West Africa.

SPOKE ON LORD'S DAY.

Rev. A. R. Sanderson, of Whitby, representing the Lord's Day Alliance of the United Church of Canada, was the preacher at Holloway Street United Church on Sunday evening.

HUB CAP BENT

Driving too close while passing another car on the Bay Bridge last night might have caused a serious accident. A car driven by Jordan Satchard, Amelissburg, was nearly turned around in the road by a car while passing striking the rear end of his car. One of the hub caps was taken off and the matter reported to the Belleville police. Constable Isaard keeping a close check on damaged cars on the street found one with a bent rear fender and running board. The car driver was taken to the station but he maintained that to his knowledge his car had not struck any car. He admitted however passing over the Bay Bridge at the time of the alleged accident. He was allowed to go with a severe reprimand.

POLICE SEEK CAR

The police of this city received information from Chief Ruse of Cobourg that a Durant car No. W8845 had been stolen early last evening. Constables on their beats were given the number of the car but no trace has found. Edward A. Kellaway also reported a new Exide battery had been taken from his car while parked in a garage at the rear of his store and the police are conducting an investigation.

TOKEN OF RESPECT

The flag from the staff at the C.N.R. north station is floating at half mast out of respect to the late Mr. E. J. Pollwell, a former railway employee.

LEGION AUXILIARY MEETS.

A special meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion has been called for this evening. The meeting will be held in the clubhouse, Front street.

DEMATES AT JAIL.

The inmates at present in Hastings County jail only number 11 of whom nine are males and two females. Of the latter one is awaiting removal to another institution. Within the past week six have been taken away to serve terms in the reformatory and the Provincial jail farm.

DRUGGISTS' TRIBUTE.

In tribute to the memory of the late Dep. G. Bleecker, the druggists of the city were closed for the hour of the funeral this afternoon.

COURSE FOR N.C. O.'S

Part two of the Instructional Course for Non-Commissioned Officers will open tonight at the armouries. The first part has been concluded and those taking the course obtained a high standing in the different subjects. The course now opening will be more difficult with more subjects undertaken. The class is under the direction of Captain Edwards of Headquarters Staff, Kingston, while the instruction is under Sergt. Major Holloway also from Kingston. The signal school of instruction is proceeding and the class is making satisfactory progress. One of the best turnouts of the year for the Argyll Light Infantry took place on Friday night and considerable work was accomplished. The officers are enthusiastic over the progress of the Regiment.

THIS ONE HAS EVERYTHING—WE KNOW YOU'LL LIKE IT

Lord BYRON of BROADWAY

Now Showing Here All TALKING

CHARLES KALEY, ETHELING TERRY, CLIFF EDWARDS, MARION SHILLING

The fascinating story of a brilliant song writer. He used his love affairs merely as inspirations for songs, until the right girl came along. It's full of laughs, song hits, drama and gorgeous technicolor ballets.

EXCEPTIONAL ADDED FEATURES

GRAHAM McNAMEE NEWS-CASTING | CHARLIE CHASE in TALKOMEDY | JIMMY HUSSY in Superior Screen Vaudeville

BELLE

TODAY AND TUESDAY

2.30 — 7.15 — 9.15

COMMENCING WEDNESDAY — A NEW ART IS BORN

It's destined to win the Photoplay Gold Medal as the Outstanding Talkie of 1930

The Year's SCREEN EVENT

The Greatest drama ever put on Film

GRETA GARBO in her first TALKING picture Anna Christie

CLARENCE BROWN'S production

with MARIE DRESSLER

This year of screen triumphs will bring no event of such interest or importance as this — the debut of the most eagerly awaited voice in the world.

REX

KING OF THE WILD HORSES

in the HARVEST OF HATE with JACK PERRIN "SMITH AND HIS PALS" Comedy "FIRE DETECTIVE" Serial SCREEN VARIETIES

R-E-G-E-N-T

TODAY and TUESDAY. 2.30—7.30—9.15.

ODDFELLOWS AT BRIDGE STREET
Rev. R. H. Bell Addresses Members of Order on Anniversary

Yearly members of the Oddfellows' Society of this city attend divine service in a body to commemorate the anniversary of the founding of the Order. Such an event took place yesterday and the turnout was exceptionally large. Belleville and Mizpah Lodges were well represented and members of other lodges in the district were present, as were also the members of Canton Belleville No. 8.

The parade was headed by the Argyll Light Infantry band. Bridge Street United Church was the place of worship and the pastor, Rev. R. H. Bell, B.A., D.D., conducted the service and delivered the discourse. After the usual devotional exercises the sermon was given and the subject was "Rivers of Damascus and Waters of Israel." The text was from 2nd Kings, 5th Chapter and 12th Verse "Are not Abana and Pharpar rivers of Damascus better than all the waters of Israel; may I not wash in them and be clean. So they turned and went away in a rage."

Naaman, captain of the host of the King of Syria, was a great man, a man of valor, but he was a leper and was told by a messenger to go and wash in Jordon but he was wrath and went away. He expected something different and he thought the waters of Abana and Pharpar were equal to the waters of Israel. This was the application of Christian faith—faith and truth is one of the mottoes of the Oddfellows' Society. Truth shall make us free. I am the Way, the Life and the Truth, says the Redeemer of man kind. "Truth is of God and all things are ours if we observe the truth. All nature reveals God, even in the little flower we see the philosophy of God. The perfection of man in the image of his Maker is a great truth. The Bible of all books, demands a reverent perusal and we should give it the attention it deserves to get at the divine truth. Let us seek for the beauty of all that is good and ask God's blessing on the same.

In referring to the text the Rev. speaker said the waters of the rivers Albana and Pharpar were also to look upon but they would not cure the leper. Men are helpless and need something the world cannot give. There is only one source where the helpless and needy come to find a remedy and that is Christ. Let us not forget that we need a closer walk with God. In concluding his discourse Dr. Bell referred to the text and stated that as it was impossible to wash in the rivers of Damascus and be clean so there is only one source where the cleansing power is obtainable.

A hearty welcome was extended to the members of the society also to the Rebekahs by the pastor. During the service the choir rendered an anthem entitled "Jesus Is Mine," the solo part being taken by Mrs. McKinnon and Mrs. (Dr.) Sharp rendered in a most acceptable manner a solo entitled "How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings."

Personals

Mrs. (Rev.) A. S. Kerr and daughter of Maple, Ontario, are visiting Mrs. Kerr's mother, Mrs. R. O. Stewart, Moira street.

Mr. Maurice Barlow has returned to the city after visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Montgomery, Tweed.

Mr. Walter Williams, formerly of the Metropolitan Store staff has accepted a position in Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Warner and daughter Shirley of Brockville, were the week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. Clow, Bellevue Apartments.

Mrs. Everett Mastin and daughter Beulah of Point Anne are the guests of Mrs. E. J. Reid, Oshawa, for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Woodley of Gananoque were the week end guests of relatives in the city.

Mr. Desmond Bonnycastle of Toronto was a guest of friends in this city over the week end.

Mr. Patsy Imo of Toronto is the guest of relatives in the city for a few days.

Mr. O. A. C. Weir, is in Montreal today attending the funeral of the late H. B. Mackenzie, general manager of the Bank of Montreal.

Mr. Dan O'Donohue of Toronto, was the guest of friends in this city over the week end.

Mr. Harold Buck spent the week end in Kingston the guest of his parents.

Miss Marie Bonisteel of this city spent the week end the guest of relatives in Trenton.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil James have returned to the city after spending Easter week with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Paterson of Toronto.

Miss Emma Bamber and Miss Lois Bamber of Toronto returned home yesterday after spending the Easter holidays with relatives in the city.

Mr. Fred Robison, of Brockville, is visiting friends in Belleville over the week end.

Miss Frances Graves, Queen's student is the guest of Miss Helen Graves, Albert street.

Mrs. Jack Latiene, of Orsham Apartments, has returned home from Toronto General Hospital after undergoing treatment.

Mrs. James Richardson and her four children of Northern Man., are visiting her mother, Mrs. Mark Sprague, William street.

Mr. John Coon, George street, has recovered sufficiently to be able to leave the hospital.

Mr. E. J. Neale, who is in the hospital, is showing improvement.

William Johnston is improving after a lengthy illness.

Mr. John Newton of the Police Headquarters staff, is able to be out after having been in the hospital for several weeks.

Mrs. George A. Reid, President of the Presbytery, Mrs. (Dr.) Seymour and Mrs. Jim Diamond, are in Toronto attending the Provincial meeting of the W.M.S. of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

Frederick Cecil Hill MVK H 11-4

Mr. Charles Jeffrey, sen., was a Toronto visitor on a business trip.

Mrs. K. Barfett, (nee Miss Kathleen Hyman), is visiting her home here.

Mrs. Bruce Sills and infant daughter, of West Moira street, returned home Saturday from the Belleville General Hospital. About three weeks ago Mrs. Sills underwent an Caesarean section and made an excellent recovery. The operation was performed by Dr. S. R. McCreary, assisted by Dr. J. J. Robertson.

STOCK COMPANY PLEASES CROWD AT THE CAPITOL
Large Audience Pleased with Presentation of "Detouring Wives"

BOOKED FOR 8 WEEKS

A large audience greeted The Graham Stock Co. at The Capitol Theatre on Saturday evening, when they made their bow to a Belleville audience in "Detouring Wives." This company headed by Mr. Frank Graham and Miss Darling, head liners in the repertoire world, came direct from Binghampton, New York, where they played a successful engagement of thirty weeks. "Detouring Wives" as presented by The Graham Stock Co., is an interesting comedy drama cleverly presented and the audience evinced keen appreciation by frequent applause and laughter. The story of the play is a satire on modern conditions in which the wife is shown almost as unwilling to be confined happiness. Every part of this domestic drama was well taken and the comedy interest was exceptionally well presented.

A pleasing feature of the production centred in the beautiful costumes worn by the ladies in the cast, the pyjama parade being particularly fetching.

The Graham Stock Co. appear tonight and Tuesday.

"Spring is Here", was the feature picture yesterday and it well fulfilled its promise of "a gale of laughs and a shower of songs." It is plentifully sprinkled with laughs and somebody is breaking into song every minute or so. Louise Fazenda and Ford Sterling lead the fun makers, and how!

E. Follwell Dies

(Continued from page 1)

of his death. He was immediate Past President of the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen of America, and an executive of the Labor Educational Association of Ontario. To these societies he brought business ability and his advise was eagerly sought on all important questions. When he first came to Belleville he identified himself with the old 15th Regiment enlisting as a private and rose to sergeant. When the 15th was called to the colors with the 155th Battalion and proceeding overseas, was transferred to the Canadian Army Service Corps, where he served continuously till the armistice excepting for a short time with the Twenty Corps. Returning home his interest did not diminish and he was one of the original members of the Great War Veteran' Association and entered whole heartedly the Canadian Legion and was an active member in Post No. 76. He was a faithful member of Christ Church and in politics a staunch Liberal, being active in all election campaigns.

Left to mourn his loss, is his widow, one daughter, Miss Ida, at home, six sons, Percy, in Belleville; Harry, in Detroit; William of Lindsay, Frank and James at home, and Ted, at Bridgeburg. There also survive two nephews, Charles at Windsor, and Charles Jeffs in Belleville, also one grandson "Billy". There are one brother, two sisters; two half-brothers and two half sisters, all residents of London, England.

The funeral will be held on Wednesday afternoon under Masonic and military auspices.

MRS. MARY FOSTER

While sitting in a chair conversing with her family last night at the family residence, 136 Albert Street, Mrs. Mary Foster was stricken and a heart seizure and succumbed before medical aid could be summoned. Mrs. Foster had been in good health all day and gave no indication of the fatality that followed. She was born in Camden East being the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Hughes and has lived in Belleville for many years. The deceased was a faithful member of St. Michael's Church and leaves to mourn her loss, a husband, two sons, John and Philip Foster, both of this city, and five daughters, Mrs. M. McNabb, Belleville, Mrs. J. Cairns, Mrs. C. O'Brien and Mrs. M. McMartin, all of Toronto, and Mrs. E. Hunterford, Plainfield, N.J.

Steel production in the Cleveland district has been increased from 78 to 85 per cent.

Y. M. C. A. CIRCUS

The Greatest Show on Wood

April 29 and 30

8 p. m.

Drills, Gymnastics, Tumbling, Dancing, Wrestling, Clowns, Etc.

Fun for everyone, don't miss it

Admission 25c

you who desire perfect health throughout life: Are you straining your eyes? You may not notice it NOW but it will not take long before your health is endangered. Nervousness, headaches, both unpleasant results of Eye-Strain, need not bother you IF you take the proper care of your eyes. An examination here will assure efficient advice.

We make it easy for you to secure the right attention for your eyes. Prices are always reasonable. Phone 128 for appointment.

J. A. McFEE

OPTOMETRIST

Phone 128

Jos. L. Tickell Dies

(Continued from Page One)

was well known and early became a life member of The Belleville Lodge, No. 123 A.F. & A.M. He was also a member of the Woodmen of the World, Lyndford Lodge. Sons of England. In religion he was an Anglican, being a member of St. Thomas' church and in politics, a staunch Conservative.

The late Joseph L. Tickell took an keen interest in the Belleville Cemetery and for many years served on the Belleville Cemetery Board. His ideas for improvements to the property of the services will take place in St. Thomas' Church.

of them acted upon, until today the city possesses one of the finest spots of Eastern Ontario in the Belleville Cemetery. He served as a member of the Embalmers' Association of Canada and a member of the Provincial Board of Examiners and in this sphere did splendid work.

Left to mourn his loss is his widow, formerly Miss Evelyn Grass, one daughter, Miss Josephine Tickell, in this city, three brothers, George William Tickell, Berkeley, California; Dr. Alfred Havelock Tickell, Nevada City, California; Edward H. Tickell, a partner for many years, and, one sister, Miss Annie Tickell, in Belleville.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon under Masonic direction. The services will take place in St. Thomas' Church.

Capacity Crowds on Saturday Said

"The best show they ever saw in Belleville for the money"

Tonight and Tuesday

The Graham STOCK CO.

12 —— PEOPLE —— 12

The show with a mark of distinction will present

That famous Broadway Success

Detouring Wives

The world's greatest amusement —the stage play—in a broadway way. There is nothing like it

ADDED ATTRACTION

The supreme musical comedy success

Spring is Here

with Bernice Claire, Alexander Gray, Ford Sterling, Louise Fazenda

Hear "Crying for the Carolines"

REGULAR ADMISSION

THE HOUSE OF HITS!

CAPITOL

STAGE AND SCREEN PRESENTATIONS

ANNUAL SUNDAY SCHOOL RALLY AT AMELIASBURG

Mrs. Alfred Hillman is Elected President of Association

The 96th Annual Sunday School Convention of the Ameliasburg Township was held upon Monday April 14th, afternoon and evening at Massassaga Church.

The opening was the Devotional service led by Rev. Mr. Knox, singing hymns 132, "Faith of our Fathers," and 122, "There's a royal Banner Given for Display." The Scripture lesson, Paul's second letter to Timothy was followed by another hymn 353 "Softly and Tenderly Jesus is Calling." The address of welcome by Mr. Brumsell was given in a very appropriate manner enveloping mainly, the thought—"We are welcomed here today for the great work we are doing." The Sunday School work is a long work from the cradle to the grave." The response was given by Mrs. Herb Fulver, who began with a very fitting illustration comparing the previous era in which our forefathers took an active part and the present era bringing in very tactfully the origin of the name Massassaga. The name was taken from a friendly band of Indians who gathered by inhabiting the spot. Perceive the changes which have taken place then. Our forefathers gave of their best. They drove to prayer meetings in ox-carts in order to study their bible, what have we today? What are we doing with all our modern facilities of transportation and wordly recreation? Are we teaching our young people the experimental knowledge of God as those godly men, our forefathers, taught us. Even if we are failing to do this degree. We truly have remain-ing God in His Heaven and our holy Bible.

A solo rendered by Mrs. Korah Ackerman was appreciated very much.

The President's address by Mrs. Hillman: "The Sunday School is one of the most important parts of the church if not the greatest. It starts with the little child and we must train that child the same as a carpenter or mason builds a foundation by keeping all effort true. Character building is a slow process and a child should be encouraged in all good deeds.

Mrs. Milton Wood favoured with a very beautiful solo. "Oft in a Stilly Night," which was very much appreciated.

A paper prepared by Mrs. Edgar Alyea on the Sunday School and Missions was given by Mrs. A. Hillman owing to Mrs. Alyea's absence. Jesus while on earth citded his disciples by saying, "I am the Good Shepherd." We should teach the children to know the Good Shepherd. Christ was our first missionary, are we doing what Jesus commanded us? Do we cultivate a friendly enough feeling with the strangers within our gates, and those we come in contact with from day to day? Jesus does not lead by the easiest path but by the ones that are eternally the best. A good discussion followed. A solo by Mrs. Roden Brickman, "The Old Church Bell." Offering. Reports of Dept. Superintendent's were given followed by an address by the Q. R. E. C. representative, Miss Miriam Olive of Toronto.

Miss Olive conducted her address with the story of Elijah, upon the Carob Aarob alone. We sometimes feel like Elijah, that we are working alone but when we look at the hundreds of Sunday Schools doing the same work that we are we take new courage. Are Jesus and We I am with you always. Parents must remember that they have a mighty responsibility. The examples they are setting in everyday life are or evil are leaving a lasting impression upon their children.

The nominating committee and auditors were appointed, followed by singing hymn 152, "Soldiers of Christ Arise." Followed by a Round Table Conference during the afternoon session with prayer by Rev. Mr. Ross. A delicious supper was served by the Ladies of Massassaga.

Evening Session

The evening session was opened by song service led by Rev. Mr. Knox, with hymn 154, 143, 230 and 422. Devotional service by Rev. Mr. Knox, singing hymn 399, "Sweet hour of prayer bells ringing in your Heart," followed with prayer by Mr. Knox. The Scripture lesson, the 24th Psalm, singing hymn 477 "I am Thine O Lord" followed by an address by Mr. Moore of Belleville on the Goal of the Sunday School.

I have come to look upon the Sunday School a nest to the greatest organization in the world. What is the goal of the Sunday School? Do we real-ly have a goal or are we emphasizing too much on our different departments and not enough in our Bibles? Let us just step back and take a look at ourselves. Are we living the life Jesus wants us to? We must run the race and make the goal. This closed a very inspiring address, followed by a solo by Mr. Colclough of Belleville, "Bright-ten some pathway as you journey along," followed by the introduction and installation of officers for 1930.

President Mrs. Alfred Hillman.

1st Vice-President Donald Spencer.

2nd. Vice-President Sherman Babbit.

Secretary Audra Brickman.

Treasurer Mr. Jas. E. Dunn.

Children's Dept. Mrs. C. Jinks.

Girl's Dept. Mrs. M. E. Brummel.

Boy's Dept. Sherman Babbit.

Young People Rose Parliament.

Adult Mrs. L. Nightingale.

Home Dept. Mrs. Lorne Brickman.

Teacher Training Mrs. Arthur Parliment.

Missionary Mrs. Herve Adam.

Temperance Mr. Elden Wait.

Convention next year at Redenersville. Several resolutions were read. It was moved by Rev. Mr. Ross that a letter of appreciation be sent by the Secretary to Mr. J. E. Glenn, second ed by Mrs. W. C. Dempsey. It was also moved by Mrs. Lorne Brickman that Mr. Elden Wait accompany the letter, seconded by Mr. A. E. Phillips. Mr. Glenn has been the Secretary for forty years and Treasurer for forty-two years, and has never missed but two Sunday School Conventions in forty-two years, and those were through illness.

Address by Miss Olive, and going the second mile. Miss Olive spent three years in the Kentucky Mountains. Don't be afraid to do more than what you are asked to do, if you are asked to go one mile, go two. We know what a perfect workman Jesus Christ was. Are we not going to give our very best? 150 years ago Robert Raikes started the first Sunday School, think of the great leaders all through the ages. Are we worthy today to follow their footsteps? Miss Olive told the story of Christ on Bethsemane; one of every flower. It is a wonderful work and it is worth other with this was followed by a solo by Mr. Colclough. A few remarks were given by Mr. Archibald of Belleville, followed by singing hymn 56 and closing with prayer. This brought to a close a very helpful and inspiring convention.

(Secretary)
Audra Brickman.

Rapid Service For Exchanges

Canadian Pacific Heads Arrange for New System

(Special to The Ontario Intelligencer)

Montreal, April 28—A one-minute service between the stock exchanges and produce markets of Europe and this side of the Atlantic to be inaugurated it was announced by W. Gunder land, superintendent of Commercial Cable Company. London, who with five other European officers of the company is visiting Canada and the United States and was in conference with J. McMillan, general manager, Canadian Pacific Telegraphs and A. L. Field Marsden, supervisor of cable traffic. Augmented telephone service between the telegraph offices and exchange and brokers office will play a great part in this service which will have the effect of bringing the exchanges of London, Paris, Berlin, Amsterdam, Liverpool, New York, Montreal, Toronto, Chicago and other financial and commercial centres into almost instantieous communication.

The Group is the first party of European representatives to make a collective tour of Canadian and American cities the object of their visits being to become acquainted with the telegraph conditions and the systems and operation in effect on this continent. Representatives of Mr. Sutherland from the London Head office is A. D. McDonald, general inspector of the company. The other European representatives are Henri Dutrou, French superintendent, Paris; Albert Tell, German supt., Berlin; H. W. Simmons, provincial supt., Liverpool, and G. L. Vanvleton, supt. for Holland. "Travelling with the party are W. P. Brown, United States cable manager and Leonard C. Shedd, representative, New York. Mr. Brown is a Montrealer on the Canadian Pacific train to Toronto. After visiting Toronto they will proceed to Niagara, then to Detroit and Chicago, Kansas City, The Cotton belt and southern states, New Orleans, Washington, Philadelphia, and New York.

After 19 Years of Asthma Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy proved the only relief for one grateful user, and has for 47 years. Thousands say Little wonder that it has now become the most recognized remedy on the market. It has earned its fame by its never failing effectiveness. It is certainly it today, as it has done for years. It is the greatest asthma specific within the reach of suffering humanity.

U.S. Army develops new gas masks for horses.

U.S. ranks third as buyer of Swiss watches.

Buy the "BIGGEST PACKAGE" for the money

-In Automobiles, that's Plymouth and here is why!

I'VE always tried to give my friends and customers all that their money could buy. I'm selling Plymouth today because all I've learned in years of motor car experience convinces me that Plymouth is the biggest value in the whole blessed lowest-priced field!

Here's why I think so. First because Plymouth gives you more room and more comfort. That's worth more, isn't it? Yet it doesn't cost you any extra.

Then there's more in performance. Chrysler engineering toppled over the whole industry's idea of what a motor car could do. And here's Chrysler engineering at a price that's downright amazing.

Stamina? Well, I service these cars as well as sell them. And a whale of a lot of my customers get to be almost strangers to me I see them so seldom in my service station.

Brakes? I'll challenge any brakes on any car at any price! There simply isn't a better brake than the Chrysler weatherproof hydraulic.

Looks? Plymouth is low-swung, graceful and mighty impressive.

Come in for a Plymouth demonstration. It's a real pleasure to show folks how much more they can get for their money in this splendid car. The latch-string is out to you.

W. B. DREW
Sales Manager, Belleville Motors

$875

ROADSTER $885.00
COUPE $860.00
DE LUXE $905.00

Belleville Motors

Phone 2200 Pinnacle Street

LIBRARY BOARD HELD A EUCHRE

Marmora, April 26 (By Maill)—Miss Ethel McCoy of Hamilton is spending her holidays at her home here.

Mr. Harry Keating of Bowmanville visited his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. McWater at Easter.

Dr. Delvin of Indian River visited Mr. and Mrs. George Wellman on Wednesday.

Mrs. John Imard of Belleville is visiting her son Mr. Fred Imard.

Mr. and Mrs. Persuit and Misses Eliza and Verna Dunlay of Hastings were Sunday guests of Mrs. Ellen Auger.

Mr. Thomas Dixon spent Easter at his home in Gnenes.

Miss Pearl Wilkes is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. T. Rowan in Sidney township.

Miss Reta Kennedy of Warkworth is spending the holidays at her home here.

Mrs. V. Pinner went to Toronto on Thursday to attend the funeral of the late Mrs. Arthur McWilliams.

Mrs. Barrie is spending her vacation at her home in Courtland.

Mr. E. Hewlis is quite ill at his home here.

Miss Grace Prentice visited her cousins in Belleville for a couple of days this week.

William and Stanley Sheridan of Buffalo spent Easter with their parents Mr. and Mrs. James Sheridan.

Mr. Ernest Auger of Hastings visited his mother on Sunday, his sister Miss Florence Auger returned home with him for her vacation.

Miss Florence Sophia of Peterboro spend the week end at her home here.

Mr. Charles O'Connor returned to Sudbury on Tuesday.

Mrs. W. R. Prentice of Paxboro visited at the home of her son, Mr. E. C. Prentice a couple of days this week.

Miss Dorothy Marett returned to Havergal College, Toronto on Tuesday.

Mr. Owen Brastick of Detroit visited his aunt Mrs. E. Auger on Sunday.

Messrs. Edward Warren and Pat O'Connor left on Tuesday for Sudbury where they expect to take a position.

Mr. J. Trumble of Frankford spent the week end with Mr. Orvil Trumble.

Misses Hazel and Jessie Williams are visiting in Toronto.

Messrs. Stanley Pearce Douglas Marett and William Sweet who has been attending school in Oshawa, is spending the Easter holidays with his parents Mr. and Mrs. E. Schofield.

Messrs. John and Theodore Penrose of Toronto visited their sister Mrs. W. D. Donnelly and Mrs. G. Thompson on Sunday.

The euchre held in the Library on Wednesday evening under the auspices of the Library Board was a very enjoyable affair. Owing to a misunderstanding as to the date of the Safety Meeting at Deloro, both of the affairs fell on the same night, and as a result the attendance at the euchre was not as large as expected. Mrs. Robert Mayler won the men's prize, Mrs. Dunlay and Mrs. P. S. Johnston tied for the ladies prize and on the play-off Mrs. Dunlay won the prize.

Great American desert covers nearly one-sixth of area of U.S.

Fez City Will Be Ready Soon

Work of Completing C.P.R. Yards for Big Invasion Requires Much Help

(Special to The Ontario Intelligencer)

Toronto, April 28—With over 2500 workmen employed by the Canadian Pacific Railway on the construction of Fez City at the corner of Bathurst and Fleet streets, indications point to a speedy termination of the work. Fez City is being built as a city of sleeping cars to accommodate 8,000 or more shriners who are coming to Toronto in June for the monster convention of the mystic shriners. Horace, G. Grout, general superintendent, of the Canadian Pacific Railway for the Ontario district, stated that the site occupied 21 acres and that steam shpe tits and five ton trucks had been engaged with the task of grading since the last week in February. This work he said, would be completed by the third week of April, by that time 1500 cubic yards of earth would have been moved and distributed to grade over the site. Mr. Grout remarked, "The work of laying the tracks started the first week in March, and the sidings will be laid complete by the first week in May." The tremendous work involved in finishing Fez City may be gathered from the following data, which shows the quantity of material required: 115,000 feet board measure in 30 sets of switch ties, and weighing 210 tons, 12,900 track ties weighing 800 tons, 30 switches weighing 150 tons, 60 tons of rail fastenings, 30 tons of track spikes, 60 tons of track bolts, 9,000 cubic yards material for 3 1-2 miles of platforms with a breadth of 14 feet. In addition it was pointed out by Mr. Grout, that 700 cars would be required to handle the above material. "A tremendous amount of work is involved," said Mr. Grout. Looking care of the various facilities required in an undertaking of this kind in order to make a city of this type comfortable and pleasing for its 10,000 or more temporary inhabitants, it will be fitted with modern conveniences and a building 200 feet long and 30 feet wide will accommodate 100 hot and cold showers and 100 toilet facilities. Mr. Grout also pointed out that the exterior lighting alone would require 75,000 watts, equal to about 14 miles of city residential street lighting power. In addition, he said, that 300 horse power would be necessary for operating 3 motor generator sets to supply special voltage and direct current for use in lighting interiors of approximately 300 sleeping cars, this electrical work would require 36 miles of wire strung on 200 poles. "Five miles of galvanized iron water pipe," concluded Mr. Grout, "have been laid in the yard with valves at 100 feet intervals to which hose connections can be made for the various appointments in each of the 200 sleeping cars which will be parked there."

USE CANADIAN CLOVER

The Seed Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture report that the production of red clover seed in Canada in 1929 was a record for the past quarter century. One of the most important of the legume crops, red clover grown from imported south ern seed, often proves disappointing through the extent to which in winter kills under severe northern conditions. This difficulty can be largely overcome through the planting of Canadian grown seed which has become thoroughly acclimatized, and which produces plants hardy enough to survive the Canadian winter. A good supply of such seed is now available.

The Oil of Power.—It is not claimed for Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil that it will remedy every ill, but its uses are so various that it may be looking upon as a general pain killer. It has achieved that greatness for itself and its confidence is known to all who have tested its virtues and learned by experience.

DELANEY

AFTER THE CONSTANT USE OF YOUR FURS

During the long period of Cold Weather they will be soiled—will have lost their sheen—linings will be worn.

Our process of cleaning will bring back the lustre and beauty of your furs.

Have repairs made early and save money on the discount.

EXCLUSIVE FURRIER
17 Campbell St.
PHONE 797

THE ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER

THE DAILY ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER is published every afternoon (Sunday and holidays excepted) at The Ontario Intelligencer Building, Front Street.

RATES—DAILY EDITION:

Year, delivered in city $7.00
Year, by mail to rural offices 3.50
Year, to U.S.A. 5.50

Toronto Representative—D. O. McKinnon, 42 Victoria Street.

W. H. MORTON, Publisher

PROGRESS

Progress of science and invention was marked on Sunday when the special telephone train passed through Belleville on its way eastward to Montreal. The run was an experiment and was a total success.

This was a record making event when a two-way telephone system was utilized from a moving train to converse between Britain and Canada.

Canadian National Railway has done much for radio and it is now doing much for the long distance telephone.

TORONTO COUNCIL SALARIES

Toronto council put through their salary increases without a vote of the people in spite of a hue-and-cry about "grab."

On the face of it the aldermen of that city seem to be getting small enough remuneration as it is.

Of course the question was one in which there was no appeal to the people. That was the complaint.

On the other hand had the matter been left to the people the proposal would doubtless have been defeated.

So what was a poor underpaid (?) council to do?

LATE DON G. BLEECKER

Belleville Board of Education paid a noble tribute to a well known trustee, the late Don G. Bleecker, Friday evening.

Business man, public-spirited citizen, who served the city well, one who was prominent in fraternities, descendant of the Loyalists he had in his character those elements which make a man one of the best citizens.

Those who knew him can never forget his lasting goodwill, his tireless humor for he was nothing if not a fun-maker. He was the reason that much mirth was in circles where he came and went. Besides his rollicking sense of fun, he possessed a clear mind which was indicated in his business relations, and an unfailing sense of loyalty to the ideals of his family.

His passing is mourned by a circle of friends who knew and loved him.

PENITENTIARY FIRE

In that fire the other day in Columbus, Ohio, when 319 men lost their lives there is the unavoidable touch of sorrow peculiar to their case. Men do not like to think of others passing out of life while prisoners behind the bars. It would seem so much less horrible had these men served the end of their term and died outside. The law's hand was upon them as they passed from life.

The dead are mentioned in low tones, and many good homes were made miserable indeed in that inferno by many whose lives would have been recovered to society. They had health and prospects of completion of a term and when they were to leave prison they would have had a chance at a new start in life.

That by fate (whatever that means, through the intervention of others, or through accident) was denied them.

It is an awful test of a parent's or friend's love to have to go to such a place to claim the dead. One hundred and seventy bodies were claimed, the others were not and were buried in one common grave, their ashes to be mingled forever. Why did not one claim them? They may have been friendless when they entered the prison, they may have been led into a life of crime through loneliness feeling themselves lone wolves. Whatever it be, it is an awful indictment of humanity which could so forget men of flesh and blood.

Such incidents as this ought to take the conceit out of those prim folk who do not face the sadder facts of life. They refuse to look the situation foursquare in the face, and foolishly with their lips say what they do not say in their heart for they know it is untrue, "There is no evil about us."

Men, not criminals, men who have never been near a jail and never deserved to be, have also been forgotten by the members of their families. It needs no penitentiary fire to bring this fact to light. Every community has instances, where the good are forgotten and left in misery while others blind their eyes to the misery of their fellows, even friends and relatives.

That calamity at the Ohio penitentiary showed that most of the dead convicts' bodies had in the clothing weapons of offence which had stealthily been fashioned out of implements found in the prison. What that meant is for the authorities to decide. It may indicate something wrong in method of treatment of the criminal or a tendency to malevolence which the world could not have expected. Why should pen prisoners carry weapons in their clothes—was it to protect themselves against others or to make away with the guards should occasion offer or was it but part of a definite plan for a wholesale escape brought to nought by the calamity which befell the prison through fire?

The fire at Columbus has brought the public to think on the questions of penology. Surely it ought to create a deeper interest in the life of the prisoner and the effects of prison life upon his intelligence.

SIDELIGHTS

TO THE LITTLE MERMAID OF HANS ANDERSON

Little Mermaid, stay thee softly,
Come not to earth o'er swiftly—
Turn thee again, I do entreat thee, where,
Windowed of emerald clear,
Lamped of the ruby's fire,
Sealed of the dark sapphire,
Thy bower is graced of Deep Sea's fadeless bloom
Upfragranced, thy Rose is stained not of earth's doom.
Is it yearning for that soul
That would make thy beauty whole
Doth entrance thee? Ah! sweet hesitant, before too late
Think what is implicate—
Thy Father's myriad tide
Is honey-sweet beside
Earth's tears. 'Neath the rainbow waves,
Thy brethren sport among the graves
Of earth's drowned sons, knowing not death nor birth,
Whose pangs so dearly pay for this life on earth.
And though men say
Dame Venus on a primaveral day
Of antique blissful sea
Had strange nativity,
None tell us why earth's Love, that many waters
Cannot drown, immortal lives to wound earth's daughters.

—Anne W. Young.

* * *

OFFICIAL NOTICE that Kingston Pen is fireproof will be welcome news to prospective patrons.

* * *

PROSPECTS of Bay Bridge closing while new swing section is being placed in position is not pleasing to Prince Edward residents. Any lengthy closing of traffic over this bridge would be detrimental to the interests of Belleville business men as well. Why not wait until the next freeze-up?

* * *

STORY OF GRAPE ISLAND in last Wednesday's Ontario Intell. Interested a number of readers familiar with this lovely spot, particularly those ardent fishermen who have enjoyed the hospitality of Mark Sprague who has maintained a camp on Grape Island for years.

* * *

BILL BOARDS are multiplying until Canadian scenery is plentifully sprinkled with Boston baked beans, the ox that got in the soup and other monstrosities. Besides adding variety and color to the landscape bill boards afford splendid places for empty cans, dead cats and all sorts of refuse. Permitting the bill board scourge to spread in the city of Belleville is just inviting the germ army to new breeding places and paving the way to disease epidemics.

* * *

BROTHERS, we are riding mighty high in this country, writes Will Rogers, cowboy, comedian philosopher, from his bungalow, Beverly Hills, California. "Our most annoying problem is, which car will I use today? Isn't that static a frightful?" continues Will who gazing out over the United States of America finds the view very chilling to his customary optimism. Says he:

"We are just sitting on top of the world. For every automobile we furnish an accident. For every radio sold we put on two murders. Three robberies to every bathtub installed. Building two golf courses to every church. Our bootleggers have manicures and our farmers have mortgages. Our courts are full, our jails are full, our politicians are full. If we can't house a prisoner we burn him up. Truly Rome never saw such prosperity. "We'll tell the cockeyed world we are going—somewhere."

* * *

HIGHWAY TRAFFIC OFFICERS in Illinois are halting passenger busses and freight trucks making unnecessary noises on the highway at night. Folks back in Illinois want to sleep when they go to bed and not be wakened every so often by screeching sirens, cutouts howling, backfiring and the roar of speed busters scorching through the night like so many devils being chased by some super devil.

* * *

OFFICES OF MAYOR AN ALDERMAN in great cities were formerly considered an honor —now by act of Parliament they are turned into jobs.

* * *

MODERN ETIQUETTE
By Roberta Lee

Q.—What is the smallest tip that should be made to a porter for a day or an night trip?

A.—Twenty-five cents.

Q.—Should wedding invitations be sent to the bridesmaids and ushers?

A.—It is not necessary, but it is courteous to do so.

Q.—Is butter ever served at a formal dinner.

A.—No.

* * *

Christmas is the day when we buy presents for others; New Year when we make resolutions for ourselves. Wouldn't it be a joy to buy presents for ourselves and make resolutions for other people.

A BOOKLET EACH MONTH FOR INVESTORS

We publish each month a convenient pocket-size booklet which we call "Investments".

It contains lists of securities which, in our judgment, are the best investments of various classes available at the time. It also contains detailed information regarding a number of securities which we regard as particularly interesting.

We publish this booklet as assistance to our clients. If you will write and ask for it we shall be glad to mail you a copy each month.

DOMINION SECURITIES CORPORATION LIMITED

TORONTO MONTREAL WINNIPEG VANCOUVER NEW YORK LONDON, ENG.

26 King Street East, Toronto

LETTERS to the Editor

WAR MEMORIAL
April 26, 1930.

The Ontario Intelligencer, City:

I notice public meetings concerning a memorial proposed for the new bridge. I wish to say that the Memorial Park presented to the city in my opinion is the proper place for a monument to be erected for that purpose. The Parks Board are putting this little park in good shape and a monument on it would be conspicuous and in my judgment there are only two places suitable, this one or in front of the armouries.

I do not consider a memorial such as mentioned at the bridge or the one represented by the building purchased for that purpose are desirable. I made a proposition concerning the monument to be placed on Memorial Park which was approved of by the Parks Board and a ladies organization who have funds available for that purpose but it did not meet with the approval of those present at the public meeting sufficient to put it into effect. I desire at this time to express my views on this subject and hope that sufficient citizens are interested in a monument to be erected on the Memorial Park to enable me to carry out what I had in mind.

Yours truly,
(Sgd.) R. J. Graham.

WAR MEMORIAL

Belleville, April 26, 1930.

Editor, Ontario Intelligencer,
Information Wanted

Will you kindly inform us through your columns if the $10,000 voted to Memorial Hall when it was purchased was paid? At that time I like many others thought that was to be considered as a memorial. We understood at the time it was preferred to give the money to the hall instead of a monument on Memorial Park. In your issue of Friday night I read Mr. J. W. Day's request of a remittance of $61.00 taxes on the above hall, which was passed by the Council. I also read the lowest tender for the fireman plant is practically $114,000., together with about $60,000. for the bridge. Can you inform us where are our taxes going to now if we are burdened with more this year?

A WORKING TAXPAYER.

'Picturesque Yukon House Has Bottles in Window

THIS is a house of hospitality whose owner combined his extravagance in entertainment with an innate modesty in home economy by using the bottles left after his guests had departed to make a substantial and unique filling for an empty window frame. Window panes were scarce in the Yukon in those days of the Gold Rush and the chances are that before the bottles were placed in the opening, paper or boards had used to let the cold in and keep its warmth.

The Yukon and Alaska are alive with memories of a past that is dead. Each summer thousands of tourists from the United States and Canada, and many from overseas as well, take the colorful journey across the continent through the great wheat fields of the prairies and by Jasper Park and Mount Robson in the Canadian Rockies—Mount Robson is the highest peak in the Rockies—to Vancouver and Prince Rupert where steamers equipped with every modern detail take them through the Inside Passage to the glamorous land of the Midnight Sun.

The lower picture shows the Prince Henry, newly constructed ship of the Canadian National Steamships, which will make its first voyage on this popular run from Vancouver on July 4. Launched by Isabel MacDonald, daughter of the British Prime Minister, it is the first of three new steamers for the Canadian National Pacific Coast Service. Two others, the Prince Robert and the Prince David will ply between Vancouver, Victoria, and Seattle.

The Prince Henry will supplement the Alaska service already afforded by the CNS Prince Rupert and Prince George of the same line which have become widely known among travellers on the Pacific Coast.

Printed Silks

Beautiful designs have been developed in the season's Silk Crepes, Georgette and Rayon Prints. Georgettes in large floral effects are offered in dress lengths of a pattern and are moderately priced at $3.00 yard. All Silk Prints and Rayon Prints show smart patterns as well as the new polka dots. Qualities to suit every purse. Priced

75c to 3.00 yard

Children's Coats

Girls of all ages up to 14 will like the smartness of these dressy tweed Coats. Coats with style, in good qualities of material are offered in a good variety. For boys of 1 to 9 years, are plain and pinch-back coats on reefer lines. They are chiefly in good tweeds and fit as though made to measure. Prices

3.50 to 11.95

Confirmation Veils

Confirmation and Communion Veils in 54 and 72-inch sizes, are shown in various qualities, with and without motifs embroidered in corners.

75c to 2.00

SINCLAIR'S

Earle & Cook Co.

Sale of
Ladies' Coats

We place on Sale Ladies' Coats in Newest Spring Styles, in Fancy Tweed, Tricotine and Poiret Twill, at Greatly Reduced Prices.

LADIES' COATS $9.95—On Sale at .... $ 7.79
LADIES' COATS $14.95—On Sale at $11.95
LADIES' COATS $19.95—On Sale at $13.95
LADIES' COATS $25.00—On Sale at $17.95

PURE ICE

—delivered at your door or in your refrigerator.
Courteous, Prompt Service

HARRY SMITH

Phone 697

JAMIESON BONE & COMPANY

Orders executed on leading stock exchanges. Full Quotation and Bulletin Service on Winnipeg Quotations and Bulletin Service on Winnipeg and Chicago Grain.

Stock Brokers

Offices and Board Room, Chamber of Commerce Bldg. BELLEVILLE

Direct Private Wires. Telephones 1364, 1365, 1366

The type of shoulder blade a person possesses may hold secrets of value in the study of factors underlying health, the length of life and adaptability.

A new type of X-ray tube which students can dismantle and put together again in fifteen minutes has been developed.

TRENTON AND DISTRICT

WILL CONSTRUCT MODEL VILLAGE AT AERIAL CAMP

Work is Suspended For a Few Days—Lay 32 Miles of Tile

Trenton, Ont., April 28 (Special by Staff Reporter)—Few signs of activity are noticed about the new Airport east of Trenton at present, as work has been suspended until after the tile has been laid. To drain the field properly so that planes may fly about a half hour after a heavy rainstorm thirty two miles of tile will be laid. This work will be started in the near future, and will be done by three large tilling machines. The machines dig a trench just wide enough for the tile, and two laborers follow behind, dropping the tile into the ditch and connecting the ends. Two of the mach ines are already here and the other is on its way.

The Point of land south of the High way which is being levelled off is almost completed now. In another two weeks it will have disappeared the earth thus obtained having gone in the marsh between. Two large steam shovels have been working at this point since last fall, and it was here that a man was killed by a dynamite explosion during the winter.

Workmen are burning brush in the northern part of the field but this work will be completed within a few days. It is now a certain thing that as many men as was thought to be required, will not be needed, and any extra help will be taken from Trenton or Belleville. For several weeks hundreds of men flocked to Trenton with the object of getting work there only to be doomed to disappointment.

Large piles of lumber south of the Highway lead one to believe that work on the many new buildings will be started this summer. When completed there will be a regular model village just outside Trenton. It will have its own electric lights, running water system, fire protection system, sewage disposal system, and everything else a modern city has.

STUDENTS BACK SCHOOL TODAY

Cadets Prepare to Undergo Annual Inspection Soon

Trenton, Ont., April 28—(Special by Staff Reporter)—Between seven and eight hundred pupils of the various public schools and the Trenton Collegiate returned with many a heavy sigh to their studies this morning, it being the date set for the re-opening of school after the Easter holidays. School closed on Thursday evening, April 17th, so the pupils had a week and four days outside the cloistered halls. Many, however, will not mind returning as much as they might, as beside their school work, a period of intense activity now commences. Cadet Inspection will be held this week or ten days, baseball teams will be organized around the various schools and all kinds of sport revival will prevail. So the average healthy pupil finds, he or she can spend five and a half hours in school without it being too much trouble.

PLOWING SUMMER-FALLOW

How deep should summer-fallow be plowed? The answer to this important question in respect to prairie farming is provided by the Dominion Experimental Station at Scott, Sask., where after fourteen years of careful investigation it has been found that there is no advantage in plowing summer-fallow deeper than four inches deep. Not only is this sufficient for the proper detention of moisture, but a considerable saving in time and labor is possible, and is assists the work of cultivation for weed control. Plowing at depths ranging from three to eight inches was studied throughout the period of the test.

Miller's Worm Powders are complete in themselves. They not only drive worms from the system, but repair the damage that worms cause and so invigorate the constitution that it speedily recovers from the disorders of the digestion that are the result of the work of these parasitic intruders. They do their work thoroughly and strength and soundness follow their use.

Whaling in the Antarctic last season was highly successful.

NEW MAID (On a Scotch Hou echold): "I haven't seen a newspaper sent out here since I came. What do they do with them—have 'em bound?" —The Humorist, London.

SPLENDID PRICES ON TRENTON MARKET

Trenton, Ont., April 28 (Special by Staff Reporter)—One of the largest markets since the New Year was held here on Saturday last, with good prices on practically everything offered. Potatoes were up, selling for $2.75 per bag, while eggs went from 25 to 28 cents per dozen. Butter was 38 and 40 cents, and some two pound rolls sold for 75c. Maple syrup was plentiful, and was sold rather slowly at $2.50 per gallon. Apples went for 25, and 30 cents a peck, while dried apples, (spies) sold for 7 cents the berry box. Green onions made their appearance at five cents a bunch, while last year's comb honey sold for 2 squares for 25c. Chickens went for $1.50 or an average of 35 to 40 cents per pound, while white beans were 20 cents per quart.

TOURIST TRAFFIC IS OPENING NOW

Service Stations Ready for Summer Trade—To Widen Road

Trenton, Ont., April 28 (Special by Staff Reporter)—Preparations for the tourist season, which has in a small way already commenced, are about finished as far as the many new gasoline stations along the Trenton to Belleville Highway are concerned. Only the odd stroke of a paint brush now remains to complete these hotels of refuge for their first years work of serving the motoring public. A few of the old service stations have already opened up for the summer but within a month the tourist traffic will have reached such proportions that all will be doing a land office business. With the advent of the new Airport, many visitors can be expected for that section, and two enterprising men have erected service stations, one at each end of the Aviation area. In addition, surveyors are going over the road with a view to having it widened at this point, to accommodate the many visitors who will undoubtedly stop to watch Canada's fighting pilots in training. The street is not expected to be finished for another two years.

PICTON BOAT OPENS NAVIGATION SEASON

(Special by Staff Reporter)

TRENTON, Ont., April 28.—The steamer "The Glen Allen" left Trenton toda yon her first run of the season to Montreal and return. Trenton is the most westerly port visited. The "Glen Allen" will make two trips from Trenton to Montreal weekly, carrying all kinds of freight, but dealing for the most part with canned goods.

New York City's minimum taxi fare has been fixed at 15 cents.

DRIVER ADMITS HIS GUILT IN TRENTON COURT

(Special by Staff Reporter)

TRENTON, Ont., April 28.—Harry Croff, of Twelve O'Clock Point, pleaded guilty to failing to return to the scene of an accident, before Magistrate O'Keefe in Trenton Police Court, and was assessed the minimum fine of twenty-five dollars and costs. Mr. Croff was the driver of the car which struck the Toronto bus, badly damaged a fender, and then departed without leaving his name, address, or anything. Fortunately some one took the number of his car, and he was easily traced. Croff stated in his defense that he had stopped about a block up the street, but admitted that he did not go back to the scene of the accident, which occured on Trenton's main street last Wednesday evening.

BORDEN BROADCAST WAS WELL RECEIVED

(Special by Staff Reporter)

TRENTON, Ont., April 28. —Radio listeners on Saturday evening tuning in on Toronto heard the Borden's Milk hour, which was a high class and entertaining hour of music. It was put on through the courtesy of the Borden Milk Company, which has a factory at Trenton. The Trenton factory was mentioned in the broadcast, and an invitation extended to any who had not visited the plant to inspect it. No doubt this will be accepted by many local residents.

SOFTBALL FIELD MUST BE RAISED

Trenton Diamond is Almost Under Water—Ten Teams in Loop

Trenton, Ont., April 28 (Special by Staff Reporter)—Bay Shore Park, where the softball games are played in this town, will have to be raised before any games can be played on it this year. The water level in the Bay of Quinte is so high th's year that barr'y a foot separates the level of the field from that of the bay. It is expected that the Town Council will have this filled in, as the park is close to the downtown section of the town, and is an ideal place for a soft ball game. If the park is not ready for use when softball gets under way here it is expected that the College Street school grounds will have to be used. A fine softball league is had every year here, and this year it is expected to be even bigger and better than ever. Last year there were ten teams in the loop, and it looks as though there will be even more this year.

NORTH AMERICAN LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY

Solid Continent

ASSETS $42,134,903 SURPLUS $7,298,630

"Do It Now" is the title of a free booklet featuring the North American Life Advance Protection Policy — a special low-cost form of Life Assurance. Send for it today.

HEAD OFFICE: TORONTO, CANADA

District Office
30 Bridge St.
Belleville, Ont.

Y.M.C.A. CIRCUS HELD THIS WEEK

Many Novel Features Staged on Tuesday and Wednesday

This year's Circus which will be put on by the physical department of the Y.M.C.A. Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of this week will be one of the most varied performances to take place at the Campbell Street Gymnasium. There will of course be some of the regular features such as drills, exercises on apparatus, tumbling, pyramids, etc., but in addition to these there will be added attractions seldom seen at the local Y circus performances.

Dancing pupils of Miss Esther March, who conducts dancing classes for girls at the Y twice weekly, will be seen in a variety of dance numbers of an attractive nature. A wrestling exhibition put on by a member of the Association who formerly wrestled for his University and by an ex-member of Toronto West End Y.M.C.A. Wrestling Club, promises to be replete with thrills and spills. Both wrestlers are well versed in the mat game and this exhibition in itself will be well worth coming to see. Another of the special features will be a scene depicting a boxing training quarters in which a number of the outstanding local club men will participate. These boys will show some of the varied exercises in which they indulge in order to attain that conditioning and skill demanded in this branch of physical activities. The act will conclude several rounds of boxing by those taking part. An exhibition of indoor high jumping by two members of the senior basketball squad, who are quite proficient in getting up there will no doubt be an eye opener to the majority of the audience. These boys are both over six feet mark and what they will not fall far short of clearing their own height. Take precaution then not let them come down on top of you.

These along with other regular numbers will go to make up an evening of real entertainment that both young and older people may enjoy and everyone should endeavour to be present on either Tuesday or Wednesday evening.

2 MEALS DAY, PLENTY WATER, HELP STOMACH

"Since drinking plenty of water, taking 2 good meals a day and taking Adlerika, I've had no trouble with my stomach or bowels."—DePriest.

Even the FIRST spoonful of Adlerika relieves gas, on the stomach and removes poisonous amounts of old waste matter from the system. Make you enjoy your meals and sleep better. No matter what ails your stomach and bowels, Adlerika will surprise you. McKeown's Drug Store.

RADIO FANS CORNER

Ed ...or old acquaintance Mr. Daylight-saving Time is back again. Now things are in a mix-up in the realm of Radio. Everytime we want to get a certain programme we have to indulge in a little snappy mental arithmetic and then the answer isn't always right. Last night's reception was better than Saturday night by a long shot.

If we start out on the right foot tonight we may finish the evening even with the programs we want to get out a mistake at the start would be fatal. Let's see now, at 7.30 comes Rory and stay that translated into our time would be 6.30. Check. Miss Lucille Fields contralto will be the featured artist.

The Ceco Courtiers present on of living Berlin's latest pieces "To My Mammy" during their-program tonight at 7.30 our time. This tune is from a Johson's latest picture "Mammy".

Rettinug and Platt present a medley of popular theme songs tonight during the program of the Maytag orchestra from WJZ at 8 E.S.T.

"Little by Little" and "Happy Days are Here Again" are included in the selections to be played by Guy Lombardo and his Royal Canadians during the latest Burns' program broadcast, tonight over WABC at nine o'clock E.S.T.

"Rael Folks" will be heard by Belleville fans at 8.30 to-night instead of 9.30 WJZ as formerly.

The biggest change of all will be Amos 'n' Andy at 6 o'clock to 6.15 instead of the usual time. Don't forget this change now.

YOUNG HILLIER BOY IMPROVED

Hillier, April 28 (By Mail)—Little Douglas Palmer, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Palmer met with a painful accident Tuesday. He was at Mr. Chas. Cassidy's car for from home and with one of the Cassidy boys was trying to operate a large grind stone. In some way Douglas' hand was caught in the wheels and so badly crushed that his parents rushed him to Belleville hospital. Dr. Meade found it necessary to amputate his thumb but hoped to save the fingers. Fortunately it was the left hand that was injured.

Both Douglas and his parents have the sympathy of the community who trust that his accident should have happened to this bright little boy.

Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Jordon visited Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Palmer and called on other relatives Tuesday.

Mr. Will Nethery of Columbus, Ohio was a recent guest of the Misses Young at the Homestead.

Mr. Edwards who has been employed on the Hillier section of the C. N. R. has gone to Smith's Falls. Gerald Pritz has taken his place until the position is permanently filled.

Mr. Mallory was in Trenton Friday.

Muriel and Myrtle Hubbs came over from Trenton Monday to spend Easter holidays with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Palmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Armstrong of Warkworth called on their cousins Mr. and Mrs. Levi Palmer Wednesday. They also visited Mrs. Phillip Haight and Miss Annie Haight in Picton.

Miss Clara Friar's friends are very sorry to hear that she is very ill. Dr. Reid of Wellington is in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Palmer and Mr. and Mrs. W. Jordan spent Monday evening with Mr. and Mrs. John Palmer and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Adams, South Lake-side.

Mr. Fred Clark has been moving his hen houses from his farm on the cross road to his present home on Pleasant Bay.

Marion Alexander is staying with Clara Friar during her illness.

Mr. J. D. Campbell visits Mr. Levi Palmer every other day and does his chores for him.

Mr. Frank Wannamaker is drawing bay for Mr. A. Mclean.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Wilson spent Sunday in Colborne with Mr. and Mrs. R. Wilson.

Mr. Leslie Jones has been busy shingling his barn. Gerald Pritz helped with the work.

The Pie Social in the Town Hall Wednesday evening under the auspices of the Anglican Guild was one of the pleasant events of the week.

Oak Hills

Oak Hills, April 28 (By Mail)—Mr. Erle Horton is busy drawing hay from Mr. Broadworth's barn.

A number from here attended the Tennis at Foxboro on Tuesday night last.

Mr. Charles Belcour and family spent Easter Sunday at Mr. Charlie Prest's.

Miss Grace Connor is spending her Easter holiday under the parental roof.

Miss Irene Frederick and Miss Marjorie Belcour spent Wednesday afternoon and evening with Mrs. J. Campbell Jr.

Mr. Will Detlor has installed a new milker recently.

Mr. Roy Belcour had the wood saw on Tuesday last.

Mr. J. Connor has his tractor busy on the land again.

Mrs. Hedley Shaw of Eldorado spent a few days with Mrs. J. Campbell last week.

Mr. Burt Sarles entertained company recently.

The cold spell has disappointed a number of farmers, who have some seeding started.

Mr. The Passing Show, London.

Douglas' Keyptian Liniment is unrivalled for speedy relief in muscular rheumatism, sore back, inflammation, burns and felons.

McIntosh Bros.

Little Boys' Serge KNICKERS

Navy Serge Knickers, made with button holes for attaching to child's waist, for children 3 to 7 years.—Pr. 50c

Silk CARRIAGE COVER

Embroidered or Printed Silk Designs. Pink or blue. Reg. 1.49 and 1.69 Clearing, at 1.00

LADIES' RAYON HOSE

Ladies' Rayon Silk Hose, in shades of black, suntan, allure, mystery, flesh, hoggar, pearl blush, evenglow, dove grey, champagne, Lt. gunmetal, white sesan, and moonlight. Special—Pair 50c

Misses' PULLOVER SWEATERS

Pure Wool in shades of sand and grey. Finished with wide stripe around waist. Sizes up to 14 years. Special 1.00

Children's Tweed REEFER COATS

In fawn and brown coats, in sizes 2 to 6 yrs. mixtures. Well made Special. at 4.59

LADIES' GINGHAM DRESSES

Good Quality Gingham Dresses, in sizes, small, medium and large. Short sleeve style. 59c
Very Special—Each

McIntosh Bros.

BANISH MUSIC?

"PLEASE don't," plead millions of theatregoers.

"Better not," warn wise showmen.

"Here we will," declare industrialists who control canned music in the theatres. "The public can learn to like records so well as orchestras. Anyway, that's what they're going to get."

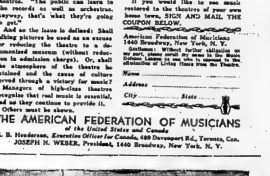
And so the issue is defined: Shall talking pictures be used as an excuse for reducing the theatre to a demoralized museum (without redu tion in admission charges), or shall the atmosphere of the theatre be retained and the music of millions served through a victory for music?

Managers of high-class theatres recognize that real music is essential and they continue to provide it.

Others must be shown.

The Music Defence League, organized to safeguard the public's right for real music, is approaching 2,500,000 membership. Each welcomes more today than ever before.

If you would like to see music restored to the theatres of your own home town, SIGN AND MAIL THE COUPON BELOW.



American Federation of Musicians
1640 Broadway, New York, N. Y.

Gentlemen: Without further obligation on my part, please send me a copy of your booklet, "Banish Music?" and the application of Living Music from the Theatre.

Name .....
Address .....
City ..... State .....

Others must be shown.

THE AMERICAN FEDERATION OF MUSICIANS of the United States and Canada
G. B. Henderson, Executive Officer for Canada, 489 Davenport Rd., Toronto, Can.
JOSEPH N. WEBER, President, 1640 Broadway, New York, N. Y.

The Portal of Ten Thousand Shriners: The entrance to Temple Park, the Canadian National Railways' coach yards, at Toronto, where 10,000 Shriners and their wives will live just as they would in some unique city ever constructed. Temple Park will be a city on wheels and nearly 500 Pullmans will be housed therein to accommodate the Imperial Council visitors of the Mystic Shrine. Temple Park has its own post office, barber shops, beauty parlors, telephones and telegraph, stores and airdrome. It even has two hospitals on wheels and is truly a city within a city.

Numerous counterfeit $20 bills have appeared in Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

Kick of a horse proved fatal to Harry Speaker, Sandyville, Ohio.

Woman, aged 31, suffering from leprosy, has been found in Indianapolis, Ind.

Frank P. Lenahan, member of Lorain, Ohio, police department for 22 years, was dismissed for violation of rum rule.

Alliance, Ohio, labor will celebrate "Mother" Jones Day May 1.

Ten cases of smallpox were reported near Fremont, Ohio.

There are 1,250,000 telephones listed in Ohio.

One hundred motorists were fined for violating traffic rules in Massillon, Ohio, during three days.

At the age of 98 John Thomas, of Kent, Ohio, has given up his work at the Erie shops.

The village of Orsal, in Arizona, is known to have been inhabited since 1370.

THOMPSON FUNERAL SERVICE
Our policy of lower priced Funerals continues indefinitely
UNEXCELLED SERVICE
Thomas C. Thompson
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
288 Front Street. Phone 62
Private Funeral Parlor. Night 1313

IMLAH & ARMSTRONG
MANAGERS BELLEVILLE BURIAL CO.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
14 CAMPBELL STREET, BELLEVILLE
Day Phone 7170 Night Phone 1078 and 1742

TONIGHT'S MEETING DECIDES WHETHER THREE OR FOUR TEAMS WILL CONSTITUTE C.O.B.I.

Peterborough Club will Meet Tonight to Decide Whether to Play or Not—Kingston, Oshawa and Belleville Will Play—League Financially in Good Shape Annual Reports Show.

Baseball fans in Central Ontario will enjoy their favorite summer pastime for on Saturday the annual meeting of the Central Ontario Baseball League was held in the Y.M.C.A. in Belleville and the delegates present expressed the view that the League should continue. Whether the league will operate as a three team loop or a four will not be decided until Wednesday night of this week, when the Peterboro Ball Club and arrange for the schedule. The delegates were informed before the meeting was adjourned on Saturday to come prepared to complete all details for the opening of the League on the 24th of May. It was a most enthusiastic meeting and credit must be given to those who have worked so faithfully through the many years to keep alive senior baseball in this district. R. A. Elliott, represented the Peterboro club, Reg. Fair, Walter Schultz, Hales Barker, Wilson Gamble, and Scott Hubble the Oshawa club, J. G. Murray, the Kingston Club and Walter Gerow, Ed. A. Thomas and Major W. Ponti, the Belleville Nationals. There were others in attendance and took part in the discussion for the good of baseball.

Situation of League

R. A. Elliott, Deloro, president of the League and president of the O.B.A.A. explained to the meeting the position not the league. He shortly reviewed the activity of the past season and judged it a successful one although the entrant from this league did not go as far in the post season playdowns as the former year. He explained the position of Peterboro will regards to entering the league and stated that a general meeting would be held on Monday night in the Lift Lock City and then a definite announcement could be made. The C. O. B. of that city at first were tempted to enter the team in the C.O.B.L. but later joined the East Peterboro League. A canvass was then made of the boys who had formerly played senior ball and the majority were unanimous that Peterboro should again be included in the league. With this expression in view those behind the scheme have called the meeting for Monday night. It is altogether likely the Peterboro Club will be represented when the umps call play on the 24th of May.

Ball in Oshawa

Scott Hubble of Oshawa, explained the position of Oshawa, stating that the baseball fight was in progress in the Motor City to again put senior ball on its feet. "There is much to contend with," said Mr. Hubble, "and only through the efforts of a few stalwarts are we able to come to the meeting with an idea of success. Some concessions will have to be made to the Oshawa club before they will consider entering the league now being that the Motor City team be given the first two games at home."

This was readily acceded to by the other delegates present. As for a three team loop it might not be looked on with favor but he thought the team would operate for the good of ball. It means if the league is allowed to close its door this year, it will be a long time before it will be operated again. The fans of Central Ontario are entitled to first class senior ball and if Oshawa enters they will have a first class team.

Kingston is Ready

Walter Gerow speaking for the Belleville Club stated that a three team loop was not a satisfactory answer to good ball but it would be better to operate with three teams than allow the league to go out of existence. Mr. Murray of Kingston was the most congenial man at the meeting. He stated the Kingston Club was ready to play whether with three teams or four and the Kingston club would do all in its power to help promote senior ball in this district. Mr. Elliott thanked Mr. Murray and his club for the position they took last year and played the game. Kingston is to be congratulated on their sporting spirit and will be welcomed back with open arms.

Financial Statement

It was finally decided after some discussion that the dates for the year should be elected and that if Peterboro came in the full executive could be arrived at when the adjourned meeting took place on Wednesday night. Newton Thompson, efficient secretary of the league read the financial statement showing a balance on hand of $88.64 the largest balance in some years. The receipts of the league were $314.51 and the total expenditure $226.07. .

R. A. Elliott Re-elected

Then followed the election of president and it was the wish of the meeting that R. A. Elliott of Deloro, retain the chair for another year. It was expressed that Mr. Elliott was in close touch with the situation and his heart was with the game and that he could be relied on to rule impartially even though president of the parent organization and the league would be under no fear of grief with a strong man at the helm. Mr. Elliott did not wish the position but was willing to do all possible for the good of the league. The delegates. There were no other nominations for the position and R. A. Elliott of Deloro was elected by acclamation. Again guide the destinies of the Central Ontario League. Three were nominated for the position of first vice-president, Edward A. Thomas of Belleville, Tom Carson of Kingston and W. J. Mitchell of Oshawa and three delegated were balloted upon. Mitchell was elected to retire and agree on a suitable man for the position. They reported shortly that W. J. Mitchell was the choice and he was elected accordingly. The position of secretary-treasurer was given to Newton Thompson without discussion as he has most ably filled that position for many years. Newton is an enthusiastic baseball fan and most impartial in his decisions. He knows the routine of the office and an invaluable aid to the executive.

Vice Presidents

It is to be hoped that Peterboro can see its way clear to come into the fold and that on Wednesday night the full executive will be announced and the schedule drawn acceptable to all teams in the league. Games will be given the 24th day of May as an opening date most likely with Peterboro and Belleville will entertain Kingston at home on the 26th the holiday being celebrated on that date. From all angles it looks like a successful year with competition of the keenest. Every team will be strengthened from last year.

First Baseman Clancy Makes Unique Record

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 28.— The Chicago White Sox defeated the St. Louis Browns, 2 to 1, yesterday in an extraordinary game that saw Clancy, Chicago first-baseman, go through the entire nine innings without an assist or a putout, a feat not recorded in organized baseball for 39 years. McCauley, playing first for the old Washington American Association club, performed a similar feat, Aug .6th 1891.

The excellent mound work of Alphonse Thomas and McKain gave Chicago the game. They struck out eight batters, and allowed only five hits. Thomas, who started, retired in the seventh inning, after injuring his arm.

Family longevity record of the world is claimed by L. O.-Roper, of Rushford, Wis., who boasts total of 477 years for himself, a brother and four sisters.

Baseball Results

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Baltimore	7	3	.778
Buffalo	7	3	.714
Newark	4	3	.571
Toronto	3	4	.500
Rochester	2	4	.500
Reading	3	5	.375
Montreal	3	6	.333
Jersey City	2	7	.222

Yesterday's Results

Toronto, 6-x7; Jersey City 0-5.
x Eight innings.
Montreal, 6; Reading 2.
Baltimore, 10; Buffalo, 9.
Newark, 2; Rochester, 1.

Saturday's Results

Jersey City, 8; Toronto 2.
Rochester, 10; Newark 2.
xBuffalo 11; Baltimore 8.
Reading, 4; Montreal 3.
x Ten innings.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Washington	6	2	.750
St. Louis	6	4	.600
Chicago	4	3	.571
Cleveland	5	4	.556
Philadelphia	4	4	.500
Boston	3	6	.470
Detroit	4	8	.333
New York	3	6	.250

Yesterday's Results

Boston, 8; New York 7.
Detroit 7; Cleveland 1.
Chicago, 2; St. Louis 1.
Washington 11; Philadelphia 6.

Saturday's Results

New York 8; Boston 3.
Washington 6; Philadelphia 4.
Cleveland 11; Detroit 4.
St. Louis 12;; Chicago 0.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

	Won	Lost	P.C.
New York	7	0	1.000
Pittsburg	3	1	.889
Boston	4	2	.571
Chicago	3	3	.462
St. Louis	3	7	.417
Philadelphia	3	6	.333
Brooklyn	2	7	.222
Cincinnati	1	7	.222

Yesterday's Results

New York 10; Brooklyn 4.
Boston,7-1; Philadelphia 4.
St. Louis 10; Cincinnati 5.
Pittsburg 9; Chicago 5.

Saturday's Results

New York 13-7; Philadelphia 3-5.
Boston 2; Brooklyn 1.
Pittsburg 9; St. Louis 7.
Cincinnati 1; Chicago 0.

FORWARD PASS QUESTION STIRS RUGBY OFFICIALS

Al Ritchie, Great Western Coach Will Oppose Onside Pass

WINNIPEG, — The Battle of the Forward Pass has swung into a new phase.

Whether the west really wants the play, ostracised from Canadian rugby by the Dominion governing body, remains even now to be in doubt. Walter "Bush" Ross, president of the Western Canada Rugby Union, is one who insists that the aerial toss, introduced with great success into the game last season, be retained. He has already received permission, he declared recently, from the Canadian Union to keep the pass in Western Canada, though it will not be allowed in the play-off between eastern and western champions.

It is on just that point that many critics balk. Al Ritchie, famous rugby and hockey coach, declares will oppose continuance of the onside pass because western teams won't be allowed to use the play in east-west championship battles. Howie Miller, mentor of the Regina Roughriders, the prairie champions these past four years is of the same opinion. Regina looks to something more than supremacy in the west, in addition. It has been once by Ritchie's junior Pats in 1928, —in the aim of Regina's gridders.

"To counteract the ban the forward pass through the long grind in the west and then have it come in the Dominion final is nothing short of suicidal to the west's chances of ever overcoming dictatorship of the eastern teams. That is Al Ritchie's belief, expressed recently. "We've got the boys who can make the onside wings on the pass, so why keep it in the western game?"

Coach Preside" ~ has declared in Calgary, his home, that he will fight for the aerial play. Further, he insists that the Western Canada and Canadian Union, whom they threw out the play, knew the west's wishes in this regard. He had forwarded a recommendation that the pass be continued, he said. This announcement was in direct contrast to statements credited to Jack Hamilton, of Regina, that the committee had not been informed by the western body.

"This feature play which was the means of boosting our gates last fall and made rugby worth while, is here to stay and even if we had not received permission from the C. R. U. we intended to put it into force again during the 1930 season," said Mr. Ross.

The Alberta Union already has decided to put the forward pass into its new rule books. But Saskatchewan and Manitoba bodies have not yet met. With Ritchie and Miller opposing the play in Saskatchewan, it is thought likely that provincial organizations will stand behind the C. R. U. rules' committee decision. A split west with playdowns between provincial winners a matter for board-room battles before the athletes even step on the field—is considered a possibility.

FISH DINNER AND DANCE, RESERVE

Mohawk Branch of Women's Auxiliary Held Unique Affair

Tyendinaga Reserve, April 28 (By Mail)—The Mohawk Branch of the Women's Auxiliary held a fish dinner and dance at the Council House on Friday, April 25.

The W. A. orchestra furnished the music, which was enjoyed by all.

There were between 275 and 300 people present and the affair proved highly successful I newsy way. The tables were very lovely with red and white flowers, being the colors of the W. A. The ladies of the Mohawk Branch were complimented for the tempting spread offered to suit everybody's taste.

Prizes for step dancing, ages 8 to 13 for girls was won by Gladys Brant.

Prizes for ladies and men, ages 18 to 35 were won by Miss Ethel Brant and Mr. Gordon Maracle.

First prize for the oldest couple on the floor, Mrs. Stephen Maracle and Mr. Wm. Martin.

1st prize for the oldest lady and the oldest man step dancing, was won by Mrs. R. Clement and Mr. Jim Maracle.

Door prize was won by Mr. Leo Hill accords amounted to one hundred and forty-two dollars with expenses to be paid from same.

LITTLE BENNY'S NOTE BOOK

FRED FEERNOT IN THE BANK
(A Play by Benny Pelts)

Act 1

Scene, outside of a bank.
Fred Feernot, O, that's a good idear, I theere I am.

Act 2

Scene, inside of the bank.
Fred Feernot. Is any of the officers of this bank around, such as the president?

Cashier. Yes, there he is now, leening against that marble piller.

Act 3

Scene, the same.

THERE IS DISTINCTION IN OUR

Spring Topcoats

HAT the well-dressed man will wear this season, in the way of topcoats is shown in our Spring display. Our models emphasize what's correct in styling and material and morever, are cut and tailored to fit perfectly.

QUICK & ROBERTSON
CORRECT CLOTHING FOR MEN

Fred Feernot. Are you the president of this bank, I bleeve?

President. I am, but I dont bleeve I have the honor of the privlege of your acquaintance. Anyways, what can I do for you?

Fred Feernot. I would like a little information. How much is the interst of a hundreed and fifty dollers at 6 per cent for a year and a shalf?

President. 13 dollers and 50 cents. Wheres the hundred and 53 dollars, please?

Fred Feernot. Nowheres. Its just a example I had to do for Scotch and Im not very good in arithmetic.

President. Ha ha ha thats a good one. Your the kind of a boy I been looking for. When you get through skool come in any time and Ill give you a job. Yo wont half to do any arithmetic, you can just sit around and have likers.

Fred Feernot. Thanks just a same but I expect to leed a life of adventure.

President. Well, good luck anyways.

The end

CANNIFTON

Cannifton, April 28 (By Mail)—Mr. and Mrs. John Webb and son Clayton motored to Toronto on Friday to meet their son and his bride, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Webb, Buffalo.

Miss Grace Pound, Toronto, spent Easter at her parents Mr. and Mrs. John Pound.

Mrs. Leeter, Toronto, Dr. and Mrs. Latta of Kingston were guests at Easter at Mrs. Scott's.

Miss Grace Mills, was the guest of Mrs. Black a couple of days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. V. Booth, and Miss Allan Leslie, Oshawa visended the Campbell-Mills wedding also Miss Doris Gould, Toronto.

Mr. and Miss Boyce, Brighton spent Easter with their uncle Mr. H. Boyce and aunt Mrs. Maiher.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kerr of Toronto were Easter guests at Mr. Tom Smith's.

Mr. Ernest Smith has treated himself to a new car.

Miss Betty Callery visited her brother in Kingston, Sunday.

Mr. Biegh and family motored to Cananoque on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Reid entertained his father and mother and sister, Oshawa on Sunday also Mr. Harold Elliott and Mrs. Macann.

Mrs. W. Post and Edna Demill visited in Toronto over the week end.

Mrs. C. A. Callery is visiting in Toronto this week.

Mrs. Black spent Wednesday with friends Mr. and Mrs. Farnham, Belleville.

Mrs. Mather and Mary visited at Colborne over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. V. D. Ebsery and son John Milton were visitors this week at his brother's J. Bi Ebsery.

Miss Fanny Fawcett of Cananoque is visiting at Mr. Slight's.

A safe and sure medicine for a child troubled with worms is Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator.

Appleton, Wis., will have a special school for crippled children.

On the Sport Trail

Delegates to the annual meeting of the Central Ontario Baseball League were here for action and not for words. All were imbued with the idea of fostering ball in this district and not allow the old league to pass out of existence. Too many records would go into the scrap heap if this was allowed. The men behind the league deserve the praise of all ball fans and everyone should boost their efforts. Sacrifices are made by these moguls every day for their business suffers, when attending to league affairs, but in the long run our sport is above mercenary principle. If they make a mistake, to err is human and let the four cities in Eastern Ontario get behind their league and boost.

* * * * * *

It was a wise choice of the meeting in selecting R. A. Elliott, president of the Ontario Amateur Baseball Association as prexy of the league for the coming year. He has a love for baseball and knows his baseball and there is no doubt his decisions will always be made in fairness to the clubs implicated. Mr. Elliott did not wish the position as probably something during the year acting for both organizations a decision would be made that would be displeasing but the delegates were unanimous in the choice and Mr. Elliott is in the game for the season. He will have a hard workout as executive when the final choice is made and the Central League should be the strongest in years.

* * * * * *

Oshawa enthusiasm for the league was stronger than at any time since they have been members. The delegates sent from the Motor City are workers and with real leadership baseball can be made a paying proposition in Oshawa even with the many counter attractions. There are a number of real ball players in the Motor City and if they can be induced to play, Oshawa will take a back seat from no team in the league.

* * * * * *

The situation in Peterboro is doubtful but it is believed the Lift Lock squad will be in the fight when the Dogs call play. The boys in Peterboro desire to play senior ball but effective leadership of the team has been sadly lacking in past years. The good players are not all playing senior ball and that is a mistake, that often occurs in cities. A real entrant should come out of Peterboro and the other teams should give way to the seniors and field the best possible team. The club is not representing the Ball Club but are representatives of Peterboro City. Let us have Peterboro in the league and renew the friendly but bitter battles with the Nationals of this city.

* * * * * *

In Kingston the ball situation is the best for years. There is a prospect of a real team and the management is of the best. The difficulties in former years have been smoothed away and the Penlies will be a threat from the opening game. The delegate, Mr. Murray was agreeable to any arrangement that could be made and was willing to wave some concessions in order that the League might operate. This is the spirit that will make the league go and Kingston will be welcomed back as a regular entrant instead of coming in at the end of the season.

* * * * * *

Belleville delegates did not wish to operate the league as a three club affair but were willing to wave their views in order to keep the league alive. The Nationals will present much the same lineup as last year with the exception of a good right hander to help Alex. Weir in the pitching duties. George Scott will take over the shortstop duties left by Harry Blakely and should be able to come through if he plays the ball he was playing at the end of last season. The outfield is causing some concern but Walter Gerow can be depended on to line up a real team for the season.

PAINTS
—ENDURANCE PAINT
—VARNISHES
—VARNISH STAIN
—QUICK DRYING LACQ
Assorted Sizes

McKEOWN'S
DRUG STORE

S-T-O-P!

And see the New Spring Styles at

CHAS. J. SYMONS
MEN'S STORE

Yes, Sir!
a five cent cigar!
Full size—long filler —choice Sumatra wrapper—with its fine flavour and freshness protected by the foil wrapper.

ARABELA
CIGAR
5¢ foil wrapped

Business Directory

LEGAL

E. J. BUTLER, K.C., BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary Public. Money to loan. Offices: Corner Front and Bridge, 30 Bridge Street East. Telephone 1260.

WALLBRIDGE, CAMERON AND CO. (Successors to the late F. S. Wallbridge), Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, Money to loan. Dominion Bank Building, corner Front and Bridge streets. Offices: Belleville.

COLLINS AND CURRIER, K.K. COLLINS, P. G. Collins, Barristers and Solicitors. Office: Royal Bank corner, Front and Campbell street. Phone 1260. Money loaned and private funds to loan on first mortgages.

R. G. DONNAN, COUNTY CROWN Attorney, Barrister, Solicitor, Notary Public, etc. Office: Court House Building, Picton, Ontario.

PORTER, PAYNE AND ARNOTT, Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, etc. Solicitors for Royal Bank. H. Grant Porter, K.C., Chas. A. Payne and H. D. Arnott. Money to loan on mortgages and investments made. Offices: 218 Front street, Belleville, Ontario.

MALCOLM WRIGHT, BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary Public, etc. Office: Campbell street, Belleville.

PONTON, PONTON AND GRAHAM, Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, Commissioners, Etc. Office: 39 Bridge street east, Belleville. Bank of Montreal. Money to loan on mortgages. W. N. Ponton, K.C., H. R. Ponton, K.C., H. J. R. Graham. Office, Belleville

FRASER AYLESWORTH Ontario Land Surveyor and Registered Professional Civil Engineer Land Surveys, Plans and Subdivision etc., promptly attended to PHONE 8-J-2-Y, BOX 40 MADOC, ONT.

DENTAL

DR. O. A. MORTON, DENTIST, X-Ray Equipment. Office: Burrows Block, Front street, city. Phone 682, Belleville.

FARM INSURANCE

Rates very reasonable/sail and see us before renewing policy. We save you money.

THE

H. F. KETCHESON COMPANY

30 BRIDGE ST., BELLEVILLE

INSURANCE

BEFORE PLACING YOUR ORDER for Fire Insurance with W. J. Hall and H. F. Ketcheson. Queen Insurance Co. fire and every first class company represented. Phone 561, 378 Front St. Phone 730, Belleville.

MEDICAL

J. F. Farnsworth, M.D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
16 Victoria Crescent. Phone 2127
Residence 1724w

R. S. GIBSON, M.D.C.M.
Physician and Surgeon
278 Coburg St. Phone 2100

DR. G. J. FORSTER, SURGEON, 17 Bridge East. Office Hours: 2 to 4 and 7 to 8 p.m. Residence 968-J. Hours: 1-3 p.m. 7-8 p.m. or by appointment. a14-tf

DeSRMC reary, B.Sc.
Physician and Surgeon
X-Ray & Specialties
Over Bruce Shoe Store, Belleville
Opposite City Hall
Office Phone 1030 Res. Phone 2078

RADIUM TREATMENTS

ARCHITECTURE

JOHN E. PARKER, CARPENTER AND Contractor, Store Ghosts, Modernize Cabinets, Trays, etc., a specialty. Quotations freely given on laying and finishing hardwood floors. Estimates on all class of buildings furnished free. Over 100 designs of bungalows, houses, etc. Agent for the Chamberlain fastest window in the Sun. 30 Charlotte St. Phone 1853, Belleville.

ASELTINE'S MOTOR SERVICE Auto Livery, Tweed 284 Belleville: Leave for lines Tweed at: 7.45; leave Belleville at 2.15. Phone 220, Belleville.

Public Accountant

Audits and Investigations made; income tax returns prepared; financial statements drawn up; accounting systems installed, books opened, written up monthly, and closed. Hugh K. Middleton, c/o Belleville Looators. Phone 861.

BELLEVILLE AND MADOC MOTOR BUS NOW RUNNING

Leaves Belleville 7 a.m. and 2.30 p.m.; leave Madoc 11 a.m. and 7.30 p.m.; Parcel express daily. Leave Belleville 2 p.m. and 4 p.m. Orders called for and delivered. Phone 716.

E. STAPLEY, Proprietor.

Chiropractors

H. R. and VERA B. PITCHER
Chiropractors
LICENSED PRACTITIONERS
Phone 2315 Phone 58 E.
Belleville, Ontario

Wm. P. Redick
Licensed
CHIROPRACTOR and DRUGLESS THERAPIST
WINA M. REDICK
by Appointment only
Phone, 998 282 Coleman St.

FOR SALE

NEW BUNGALOW, 58 BLEECKER Ave., 6 rooms, 2 piece bath, furnace, oak floors, built in kitchen fit for trimmed. Garage. Terms arranged. H. D. Mott, 61 Station St. a28, 30, 30; mtf, 2, 10

CORED WOOD AND STOVE WOOD. Reasonable price. Apply Trent Valley Fur Farm, 2 1-2 miles East Trenton. a28-tf

RUG, NEARLY NEW. APPLY 219 Dundas St. Phone 1703J. a28-2d

BICYCLE, GOOD CONDITION, NEW tires. Apply 189 Albert St. a28-1td

LEASE OF TICE'S RESTAURANT, all furnishings and summer wood. Good business. Apply Box 'Restaurant' Intelligencer. a28-3td

FURSE BETWEEN BELLEVILLE and 4th Concession Thurlow, 4 miles east Centreville. Finder please phone J. W. Yelland, R.R. 1, Corbyville, Ontario. a28-4td

IN EATON'S STORE ON FRIDAY purse containing money, keys and linen cloths. Finder kindly return to Ontario Intelligencer. Reward. a28-1td

WILL THE PARTY WHO TOOK A brown fur from the Capitol Theatre Saturday evening please return to Rex Drive and save further trouble. as they are known. a28-1td

BUSINESS LINERS

Furs stored and insured against loss by moth, fire or--theft. The Hyman Fur Co., Ltd., for 80 years, Belleville. Qui-tf

Repairing and restyling of Furs attended to now at lowest prices. The Hyman Fur Co., Ltd., for 80 years Belleville, Ont. Qui-tf

BIRTH NOTICE

WISHART—At Belleville General Hospital, April 26, 1930, to Mr. and Mrs. George Wishart, 312 Dufferin Ave., a daughter. a28-1td

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Savage wish to thank their friends and neighbours for their kindness and sympathy during their recent bereavement, also for floral tributes. a28-1td

MASONIC FUNERAL

The Brethren of The Belleville Lodge No. 123, A.F. & A.M. are requested to meet at 181 Charles Street, for the purpose of attending the funeral of our late Bro. J. L. Thain, Tuesday, April 29th, at 2 p.m., Services at the Thomas Church at 2.30 p.m. Interment Belleville cemetery. Sister Lodges cordially invited.

By order of the W. M.

JOHN McCARTHY,
Secretary.
a28-1td

DEATH NOTICE

POLLWELL—In Belleville General Hospital on April 26th, 1930, Edwin John Pollwell, in 57th year. The funeral will be held from his late residence 61 Otter Street, on Wednesday, April 30th. Service in the house at 2 p.m., service in Christ Church at 2.30. Interment Belleville cemetery. a28-1td

FARM INSURANCE

We have the cheapest and Farm Rates, obtainable. Good Companies, all of which have been doing business in this County for a great many years. Prompt and liberal settlements. We guarantee it would pay you, to let us talk it over with you, before your Policy expires.

If you insure everything, insure with Phone, write, or call at our office.

S. J. Fisher & Son
Insurance and Auctioneers
202 Front Street Phone 123

WANTED

MALE HELP WANTED

COMPOSITORS, VERSE OR MUSIC. Write me at once. Brilliant opportunity. Address Harry Wallbaum, 1282 McClurg Bldg., Chicago. a28-1td

BOARDERS. PHONE 747W. a28-3td

BOARDERS WANTED

BOARDERS WANTED—COMFORTable rooms and good meals in private home. Mrs. W. J. Johnson, 32 Earl Street. Phone 1705. a28-2td

GIRL FOR GENERAL HOUSEWORK. Must be able to cook. Apply between 7 and 8 p.m. 103 Dundas St. a28-2td

MAN FOR SALES AND COLLECTION work. Must have car. Apply C. H. Clow, London Life Insurance, 2 to 5 tonight. a28-2td roof and barn paints is wanted by roof and barn paints is wanted.by a well known Toronto manufacturer. Good commissions for full or part time work. Accustomed to selling farmers in your locality essential. A. E. Adam, 330 Carlaw Avenue, Toronto. a28-3td

SALESMEN WANTED

WOULD YOU LIKE TO HAVE A business all your own where you alone make all the profit. Here's your opportunity. We have a vacancy in Belleville City and one in Hastings County for men, to establish a business of their own selling Tea, Coffee, Spices, Extracts and Toilet Preparations. Protected territories. One furnished per cent discount-to start. Write quick for Red Bird Products, John South, Hamilton, Ont. a28-3td

A GOOD ROMAN CATHOLIC HOME for a boy, aged 12. Apply Thos. D. Huston, Supt. Children's Aid Society, 28 Cedar St. a28-2td

MAID. THREE IN FAMILY. APPLY Mrs. W. H. Reeves, 156 Bridge St. E., Belleville. a28-2td

WILL SHIP HOGS AND CALVES AT Lowest Cash prices. Cattle bought on Thursday, May 1st. Highest market prices paid for all stock. Russell & Harrison.

BY JUNE FIRST, COMPETENT girl for general housework. Apply giving age, references, wages expected to Box "N" this office. a28-1td

GOOD HUME. ROMAN CATHOLIC, for bright little girl, age 10½ years. Apply Thos. D. Huston, Superintendent C.A.S., 28 Cedar St. a24-tfd

CAPABLE AND EXPERIENCED general maid with references. Small family, good wages. Phone 1148. a24-tfd

MARCELLING

MRS. WM. MOORE, 222 FRONT Street. Phone 2136W for appointments. a14-tf

COOK, HIGHEST WAGES PAID TO competent cook. Apply 29 Queen St. Phone 1413. a14-tf

WANTED — WILL BUY FURS, hides, wool, junk, poultry and feathers at best prices. Apply A. Fraser, 403 Front St. Phone 1097-W. a20-tf.

About 112,000 has been contributed by Lancaster, Canadians to relieve the Russian refugees emigrating to Parsguay.

Many women are taking out fishing licenses at Manch Chunk, Pa.

Minnesota highways will soon bristle with sign posts marking historic spots.

Mrs. Avery Hagreas, widow of citizen owner, gives $50,000 for school at Peru, Ind.

Five downtown stores in Canton, Ohio, were damaged by fire.

Men in search for jewelry have opened nine graves in Racine, Wis., cemetery.

Four days will be clipped from present eleven day air mail delivery between New York and Montevideo.

TO-LET

PASTURE APPLY MRS. JNO. Ellis, College St. Phone 404M or Seymour Bushel, Donald St. a28-2td

TWO FRONT ROOMS FURNISHED for light housekeeping. All conveniences. Private entrance. Garage. Apply 71 Everett St. a28-2td

PASTURE FOR CATTLE—WELL watered and well fenced. Apply Trent Valley fur farm, 1 1-2 miles East Trenton. a28-2wd

NEW GARAGE, NEAR ARMY AND School. Phone 806J. a28-2td

LARGE ROOM, WELL LIGHTED. Could be divided. 204 1-2 Front St. Arthur McCoin. Phone 276. a26-3td

DESIRABLE 1 ROOM HOUSE, NO. 391 Pinnacle St. All conveniences except furnace. Phone 535 or 307 William St. a26-3td

ONE EXTRA LARGE FURNISHED front room. Complete for light housekeeping. Apply 29 Charlotte St. Phone 1191J. a26-3td

SEVEN ROOM SUITE IN MARSHALL Apartments cor. Bridge and George Streets. Garage. Apply 144 Bridge St. E. or to Dr. Marshall.

TOP FLOOR APARTMENT No 14. Possession 1st of May. Belleville Apartments, T. S. Graham, 311-tf

108 CHATHAM ST. WITH GARAGE. Possession May 1st. Apply 265 Main St. a28-3td

THREE ROOMS UNFURNISHED and furnished for light house keeping. Also large room for rent. Apply Box "S" Ontario Intelligencer. a28-tf

SOME NICE FLATS OVER 260 Front St. Apply M. R. Foyle. m19-tf.

MEDIUM SIZED FRONT STREET store, very central. Apply to Ontario Intelligencer.

HOUSE NO. 161, W. MOIRA ST. Has 3 bedrooms, garage, all conveniences. Apply Dr. Campbell St. Apply Dan Doyle, Doyle Hardware, 265 Front St. Phone 668. o13-tf

NOTICE TO CREDITORS AND OTHERS

IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTATE OF John English, late of the Village of Stirling, in the County of Hastings, Retired Farmer, deceased.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN pursuant to the Revised Statutes of Ontario, 1927, Chapter 150, Section 56, that all creditors and others having claims against the Estate of John English, late of the Village of Stirling, in the County of Hastings, who died on or about the eighth day of March, A. D. 1930, are requested to forward their claims duly proven to the undersigned, on or before the seventeenth day of MAY, A. D. 1930.

AND NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that after the said date the executor will proceed to distribute the estate among the parties entitled thereto having regard only to such claims of which he shall then have notice.

Dated at Belleville this 12th day of April, A. D. 1930.

Wallbridge, Cameron and Co., Barristers, &c., Dominion Bank Building, Belleville, Ont., Solicitors for the Executor. a14,21,28

William Body, of Calton, Ont., celebrated his 94th birthday by spading his garden.

Dulles an anesthetic for extraction of teeth, Grand Rapids, Mich., is of New York, died in dentist's chair.

Milwaukee man has sausages as only asset in bankruptcy.

"John Shrunk and Son. Bodies searched for in Ohio River." So read the classified card of a new concern in Bellaire, Ohio.

Sixty-two Ohio villages show loss in population over 1920 figures.

Purse dropped from an airplane last autumn while flying over Richmond, Ind., was found by boy.

Here and There

(608)

"England is intensely interested in reciprocal trade possibilities with the Dominion. Although a satisfactory trade between England and Canada has been carried on in the past, an even greater interest is being shown by well-established firms in Great Britain in Empire trade," said R. R. Galbraith, British exporter, at Saint John recently on landing from S.S. Duchess of Richmond. Mr. Galbraith is touring Canada in the interests of his firm.

"There is no feeling of resentment against the Canadian West Pool in Great Britain," stated Right Hon. Lord Eustace Percy, seventh son of the seventh Duke of Northumberland, on landing from S.S. Duchess of Athol at Saint John recently. "The consensus of opinion in the British Isles is becoming increasingly conscious of a serious economic problem which both British and Canadian farmers are called upon to face," he added.

Covering nearly 90 miles, leading into rich agricultural country in Saskatchewan, and Alberta, the Canadian Pacific Railway has just let contracts for grade construction of four branch lines, it announced by D. C. Coleman, vice-president in charge of western lines. Three branches cover less than half the railway's present grading program.

Receipt of the first entry in the world's grain exhibition and conference to be held in Regina in 1933 has been credited to William Hudson of Kathryn, Alberta, with an exhibit in 1929 of a sheaf of wheat. Mr. Hodson, who has been exhibiting successfully in provincial fairs in the past three years, came to Canada from the Old Country in 1913.

Announcement is made by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company that on and after Monday, April 9, they will accept shipments of freight at eastern points destined to points in the north-west, via Port McNicoll, and Fort William rail route, subject to delay at Port McNicoll pending the first sailing. There will be five steamers in the company's lake service between Port McNicoll and the head of the Lakes during the coming season.

Homestead entries in the four western provinces during January and February this year numbered 1278 as compared with 1416 for the corresponding period of 1929. Alberta and British Columbia accounted for most of the decrease while both British and Canadian farmers are called upon to face," he added.

Covering nearly 90 miles, leading into rich agricultural territory in Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Canadian Pacific Railway has just let contracts for grade construction of four branch lines, it is announced by C. Coleman, vice-president in charge of western lines. Three branches cover less than half the railway's present grading program.

Receipt of the first entry in the world's grain exhibition and conference to be held in Regina in 1933 has been credited to William Hudson of Kathryn, Alberta, with an exhibit in 1929 of a sheaf of wheat. Mr. Hodson, who has been exhibiting successfully in provincial fairs in the past three years, came to Canada from the Old Country in 1913.

Here and There

(608)

"England is intensely interested in reciprocal trade possibilities with the Dominion. Although a satisfactory trade between England and Canada has been carried on in the past, an even greater interest is being shown by well-established firms in Great Britain in Empire trade," said R. R. Galbraith, British exporter, at Saint John recently on landing from S.S. Duchess of Richmond. Mr. Galbraith is touring Canada in the interests of his firm.

"There is no feeling of resentment against the Canadian Wheat Pool in Great Britain," stated Right Hon. Lord Eustace Percy, seventh son of the seventh Duke of Northumberland, on landing from S.S. Duchess of Athol at Saint John recently. "The consensus of opinion in the British Isles is becoming increasingly conscious of a serious economic problem which both British and Canadian farmers are called upon to face," he added.

PHONE 1911
FOR YOUR WIRING REQUIREMENTS
City Electric Co.
64 BRIDGE ST.

Hello? Yes, this is Frank's phone 314
O.K. I Have Your Order for Cat
Calls 25c Albert St.

F. C. Maughan
PAINTING PAPERHANGING
All Kinds of Decorations Undertaken
PRICES MODERATE
Phone 2128

W. TURNER
Decorating, Paper Hanging, and Painting a Specialty. Phone 1742-W.

THIS IS THE TIME FOR HOUSE CLEANING ORDERS. Paper hanging and paper hanging done by CHAS. COCHRANE. Orders left at Thos. Walters, 269 Front St.

Modern Window Cleaners
WINDOW CLEANING
Stores, Offices, Dwellings and Stores, House, Apartments.
F. G. CLARE
Phone 727W

Tillie the Toiler
By Russ Westover

Bringing Up Father
By George McManus

MADOC YOUTH HAD EARLY SWIM

Fire Engine Was Called Out to Extinguish Grass Fire

MADOC, April 28.—(By Mail)—Madoc High School Boys are out for a record. Several of them, tired of waiting for a long-delayed spring to arrive decided to rush the season at bit by staging a bathing party on Good Friday. In Nature's garments they took their dip in Aylesworth's Creek north of the village. It is a safe bet that the swim was short and full of thrills.

Good Friday and Easter Day were observed in the Mission of Bannockburn by special services throughout the District. Under the direction of Mrs. Sperling, the choir of Bannockburn sang "The Crucifixion," by John Stainer. The soloists were Mrs. John White, Mrs. Dooly and Messrs. J. White, H. Lloyd, and H. Cawley. Miss Ina Bandingil presided at the organ.

On Easter Day there were celebrations of the Holy Communion in all the churches. The altars were beautifully decorated with Easter lilies and other flowers. At Millbridge the choir were their new robes for the first time. The robes are the gift of the Women's Auxiliary and will add greatly to the dignity of the worship of the church. At the evening service in Bannockburn there were two baptisms. After the sermon, the choir sang an Easter Anthem, "Why Seek Ye the Living Among the Dead?" Sunday was one of happy, glorious worship to the risen Christ.

A grass fire which threatened the home of Mr. W. E. Connor gave the chemical engine a run on Tuesday morning. The fire was extinguished, and little harm was done.

Miss Harrison of M. H. S. staff is spending the holiday in Toronto.

Miss Lancelot West of Queen's University, Kingston, is spending the Easter Holidays at her home here.

Mr. Charles Hill of Cooper Cliff, spent Saturday and Sunday as guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hill in Madoc.

Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Smith and daughters, spent Sunday in Belleville.

Mrs. A. Thompson has been spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Stanley Morton in Kingston.

Mr. Douglas Ashley spent Easter Sunday in Kingston.

Mrs. S. Wellington and Miss Irene spent a few days in Toronto last week.

Mr. Alex. Robinson of the Hydro spent a few days at his home in Madoc.

Mr. Hugh Swanson spent a few days (the week-end) with his parents in Millbrook.

Mrs. T. J. Ivy of Toronto, is visiting friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Loomis Reeves and Mr. D. McKenzie were visitors in Cobourg lately.

Mrs. Woods has returned to Toronto after spending several months with Mr. and Mrs. Wallbridge.

Mr. Donald McKenzie, formerly of the Review staff, Madoc, left on Sunday for Toronto. He intends to go on to Niagara Falls, after a few days spent in Toronto.

Mr. J. Belcher and Miss Josephine Belcher are spending the Easter vacation with Miss Elsie Belcher Robinson in Dresden.

64gc-2M 10S Nov-LLoe

12 Year Term in Portsmouth Given

Toronto, April 28 (C.P.)—Convicted of manslaughter in connection with the death of 75-year-old Patrick Shearn following a brawl at the Canada Steel Products plant, Jack Jackson was yesterday sentenced by Mr. Justice Kelly to 12 years in Portsmouth penitentiary. The day following the brawl police found numerous cans which had contained canned peas with they believed had been consumed by Jackson, Sears and his 21-year-old brother who was also injured during the altercation.

EXCLUSIVELY CANADIAN

Canada is the only country in the world so far to require the quality of canned goods to be clearly marked on the label so that the housewife can buy, with the assurance that she is getting what she wants. Under the provisions of the Meat and Canned Goods Act, administered by the Fruit Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, there are four quality grades "Second", "Always buy by the quality mark" is a slogan can now be applied to home buying with a real value

Fawden Balm imparts a rare charm and distinction to the woman who uses it. Fragrant as a flower, delicately cool to the skin. It always results in complexions delightfully young and lovely. Indispensable to every dainty woman as a powder base for oily-textured skins or as a beautifying lotion. It is unrivalled. Tones and stimulates the skin. Recommended also to soften and make the hands flawlessly white.

Prince Edward Family Ageing

Novel Contest Is Being Staged In Ameliasburg Township

Picton, April 28 (By Mail)—The Mitchell family, all of whom reside in Prince Edward County, with the exception of Shedrick Mitchell, who lives at Wooler, have attained remarkable ages. The total years of the five living members of the family being 411. Their names and ages are: Shedrick Mitchell 92; William Mitchell 82; Mrs. Mary Ann Johnston 81; Mrs. Elizabeth Steenburg 76; and Robert Mitchell 70.

Miss Theda Cowan is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frank (Duke) Smith, Belleville.

Thousands of tomato plants are now being transplanted in all parts of the county.

A novel contest is being staged in Ameliasburg township. Sides have been chosen for a sparrow, mouse and rat hunt. The losing side provides a banquet at the end of the season. In this contest a mouse tail counts one point, a rat tail two points and a sparrows head one point.

Two years ago a contest was held and hundreds of sparrows were done away with.

Navigation opened in Picton harbor Thursday night when the C. S. L. freighter, City of Kingston came in for canned goods. She left Friday for Montreal.

CIRCUS PROFITS BUILD MUSEUM

John Ringling's Home Town Benefits From Huge Profits

Sarasota, Fla., Apr. 27—Circus profits have helped build one of the world's finest art museums in the city winter home of John Ringling, king of the tented world and connoisseur of art. It is to be opened to the public next winter.

While lions roar at the winter quarters of the circus in one section of Sarasota, over the way along the shores of Sarasota bay, a majestic building presents the circus man's other side. The building and its art treasurers — estimated to have cost $2,000,000 — form the noblest of what may become the United States' greatest art centre.

Only art critics and distinguished visitors from America and Europe have been admitted to the John and Mabel Ringling art museum so far. Ringling himself is still arranging the collection of the treasure house until it is complete in every one of the niceties he finds necessary to make that side of his nature which is art.

Near the museum the circus magnate plans a great art school where students will be only a few hundred yards from works of the masters. the museum takes its name from Mr. Ringling and his late wife, whose death intensified his determ nation to build what he has told intimate friends will become the art centre of United States.

There, are for example, four great paintings of biblical subjects and two tapestries by Peter Paul Rubens, the Flemish artist, which with other of his works fill one room. In a Rubens collection is said to be unequalled in the world. Then there are Rembrandt, including his "Descent From the Cross" and works of Van Dyck and Frans Hals.

Velasquez, Murillo, El Greco and Goya, Spanish masters, are also represented in another section graced by Velasquez portrait of Philip IV and his queen. Works of Raphael Holbein, Titian, Raphael, Del Sarto, Veccio, Uccello—to mention only a few, are grouped in another section. English galleries present work by Gainsborough, Reynolds, Ramsay and others and there is a collection by French artists.

The museum is of striking beauty, a reproduction of the Doges' palace. The entrance is a great archway. Wings extend 400 feet on either side. Eighty-eight sculptured columns, the space between the rim of the building and the patio. Here are sunken gardens, statues, fountains and lone Carrara pines. Columns of the patio are of the twelfth and fifteenth century, brought from Italy. Exact reproductions of Father Time and Father Nile from the Vatican flank the Angelo statue and close the cloister from the southern end.

Beneath the dome of this quaint-looking museum there is being built a crypt in which will be laid the bodies of its patrons—Mabel Ringling, who has preceded her husband in death and the one-time circus wagon driver whose shrine is beauty.

Chicago motorist arrested for speeding and did not have $52 for cash bond, left his watch as security while he hunted up the bond money.

C.D.S. Prices are Cash Prices

THE CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES LIMITED

Prices Demonstrate Daily the Economy of Cash Buying and Selling.

Compare Our Values and Assortments

Thousands of Yards of Fabrics

In a Big Feature Presentation - Tuesday!

SPRING—and the whir of busy needles is heard in the land . . . new clothes are in the making . . . the wonderful fabrics at the C. D. S. inspire the new Spring outfits and in the windows, on the counters and draped from stands are fabrics to meet most needs . . . silks and cottons, tweeds and woollens . . . gathered to greet Spring in the enthusiasm of loveliness . . . not forgetting that "it needn't be expensive to be smart." A magnificent fabric presentation takes place tomorrow . . . interesting displays have been arranged and you should come and see.

Special Value in Lovely Silk Chiffon, Tuesday!

A lovely quality, so fine and sheer—a firm, service weight in a delightful weave with a choice of either light or dark grounds. Navy, red, ivory and black grounds show gay floral patterns while are in elaborating tones. Fully 38 inches wide—with their lovely priced patterns, one of the most fashionable fabrics for the Spring and Summer seasons. Special value, yard 1.69

New Rayon Voile

In Washable Shades

A delightfully sheer weave, in dainty flowered and figured effects that make all on green and spruce, black and gold, sand and green and blue and green grounds. Each color is guaranteed color fast to sun and tubbings. A yard wide. Priced, yard 98c

Chiffon Voile of Rayon

Will be Very Popular!

Because of its fine weave which makes it very cool and comfortable in warm weather. Very firmly woven and dyed in washable colors of navy and yellow, mauve and white, sand and copen, yellow and rose, patterned with floral motifs, in modern mode. About 36 inches wide. Yard 1.35

Dotted Chiffon is a Good Choice

A very smart choice for the coming warm weather, beautiful voile of the rayon fabric with a lustrous finish that makes it appear almost like silk, and the colors are washable, too, which makes it doubly attractive. The polka dots in white and blue, white and green, and white and black and sand and brown. A yard wide, yard 1.50

Everfast Dimity

Very dainty and sheer of weave, a fabric that will be used extensively for blouses, underwear and frocks for wee ones this summer. A firm weave with a self-toned cord, light grounds in white and blue, red, green, mauve, etc. Patterned with floral, dot and ring patterns. Everfast make 49c

Zeppelin Printed

Chiffons

So finely dainty are these fabrics that they at once suggest the warmer weather, delightfully patterned with gorgeous floral and quaint motifs and figured effects in the newest of cedar leathers. Many are two-toned grounds, with a soft, lustrous finish. Navy and flame, grey and blue, tan and brown, mauve and cadet and green and blue. A yard wide. Yard 1.75

Crisp Spring

Prints

Only arrived have these new, sturdy and fresh looking prints for Spring, in a dependable weave, light grounds with small, neat and sprightly flower designs in gay, fast colors. A host of shades to numerous to mention here. Yard 35c

Batonia Gingham

A crisp, firm weave of the name Batonia at once setting your mind at ease that the gingham seen and good wearing qualities. Plaids and checks in all sizes, for kiddies and grown-ups, about 32 inches wide. Extra value, Batonia, yard 24c

Wool Crepe

Very Popular for Spring

Fine, evenly woven light weight wool crepes that have been fashionably decreed for Spring and early summer wear. Made from all wool yarns, in pleasing tones of sand, cadet, national and black. 54 inches wide. Yard 2.25

Introducing a New Wash Fabric

The GENUINE Everfast

REG. U.S. PAT OFF.

We're presenting the new Everfast wash fabric on Tuesday! They're new and smart and Fast to Sun and Suds. Boil them, expose them tauntingly to the elements—if Everfast fabrics fail to live up to their name—the Everfast guarantee refunds your money and the cost of dressmaking. The patterns are distinctively original and the colorings exquisitely new. Choose Everfast fabrics for all manner of summer frocks and dresses. See the window displays.

Everfast Trellis Voiles

Very Dainty!

The popular Everfast make in a delightfully fine, sheer weave that is remarkably serviceable and good wearing. In new trellis weave patterns. Of course all patterns are guaranteed fast absolutely, and the shade choice includes Everfast as green and white, black and rose, mauve and white, black and white, red and white, and blue and white. Yard 75c

Everfast

Prints

Crisp, sturdy and smartly patterned are the new Everfast Prints for spring and summer—the weave is strong and firm and the colors as fresh as the seasons themselves. Neat floral and figured patterns, 32 inches wide. Yard 42c

Rayon and Silk

Crepe 1.98

Fancy crepe in rayon and silk, a variety of weaves in various weights. Floral and figured effects in green and sand, brown and sand, navy and red, black and white, etc. About 36 inches wide. Yard 1.98

All Wool

Tweeds

New tweed fabrics that will delight the fashion wise woman, firmly woven in a variety of interesting weaves and patterns which are smart for this season. Check, diagonal and basket designs, in tan, green, brown and red. 54 inches wide. Yard . . . . . 2.25 and 3.95

Take the Kinks Out of Your Mind

Make Your Habits Serve You—Bisch

A great deal of time is wasted each day in trying to think of fitting into the routine things that everybody has to do.

Arising, the several duties connected with getting ready for breakfast, the many activities that repeat themselves daily—all these can be expedited if planned ahead and carried out faithfully according to the letter of the programme.

But many people start their day with confused and jumbled minds.

They know exactly what each situation requires, they have again and again gone through the same pattern once, yet inevitably valuable time is lost, not on the performance of the task, but in remembering and rearranging their plan.

One commuter hurries and worries every single morning how he is going to square in the time to shave.

Another frets and fumes because night after night he remains engrossed in a novel, in consequence of which he doesn't turn in early enough and so unnecessarily feels the morning effect of loss of sleep.

We hear so much about bad habits that we tend to think of all habits as pernicious. But, habits, can, and should be turned to valuable personal assets.

Habits can, and should be made to serve us!

Habits are more or less automatic reactions.

So why can they be time-savers?

If you do a thing by habit, you do it easily, naturally and spontaneously.

Comparatively little energy is expended.

Therefore, establish habits in connection with daily routine activities.

You know what you have to do—what you cannot escape.

It may be boresome or irksome but if it's done day after day, why not do it as complacently as possible?

First, arrange these everyday duties until they follow each other in the most convenient and effective way possible!

Then repeat them in exactly that order until a habit has been definitely established!

In such a method hours can be saved each week.

We usually think of habits in terms of bad habits.

Uproot the bad ones and substitute good ones.

Don't let time-wasting habits overwhelm and disconcert you.

Make good habits work for you!

Among the habits that save us valuable minutes are punctuality and orderliness.

Many a business man wastes an hour or more a day because he keeps his desk untidy; does not keep tabs on his correspondence, or has a secretary or filing clerk in his office who does not know where her job.

Make a list of the habits which hold you back. Do this without fear and without favor to yourself.

Then overcome these wasteful habits if it is the last thing you do.

THE TEST SUPREME

Something more than appearance will be necessary for grain to win a prize at the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference being held at Regina, Sask., in July. The biggest thing of its kind ever attempted awards at the Regina Show will have a tremendous bearing on the future of the grain growing industry.

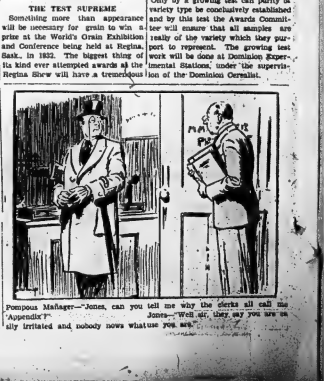
An Oil That Will Last 3000 Miles

You wisely change your oil in your car every 500 miles.

A watch balance wheel turns 300 times a minute or equal to travelling 3100 miles a year. Your watch should not be allowed to run until the bearings seize up.

You would not to neglect your car.

BE FAIR TO YOUR WATCH.



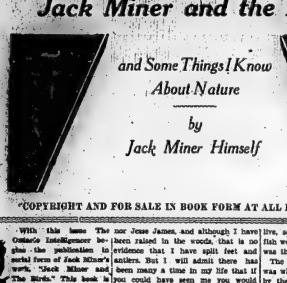
Have it cleaned and oiled at least once a year.

Come in and have our Expert Examine yours.

++++++++++++++++

Angus McFee

Jeweller 217 Front Street



TEN PAGES

The Ontario Intelligencer

SECOND SECTION

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, MONDAY, APRIL 28, 1930.

Jack Miner and the Birds

and Some Things I Know About Nature

by

Jack Miner Himself

"COPYRIGHT AND FOR SALE IN BOOK FORM AT ALL BOOK STORES"

With this issue The Ontario Intelligencer begins the publication in serial form of Jack Miner's work, "Jack Miner and the Birds." This book is copyright and is published with the consent of the author.

In the story of his relations with the bird-life of Canada, Jack Miner reveals that love of the feathered creation which places him in a peculiar class. It contains romance which is as true as life because it is life. Nothing like it has ever appeared before.

Instalments of the book will be published until the entire work is issued in this form.

INTRODUCTION

My reason, dear reader, for writing this book, I will assure you is not to expose my A. B. C. education, but simply because my many friends have requested me to put into book form at least a portion of my interesting experiences.

For years I have simply ignored such requests; but the more I thought about it, the more seriously it appealed to me. So this morning I loaded up chair, stove, tent, etc., and made my way to the woods, where I am at home, and away from the wires of communication and the honk of the automobiles, and even the enquiring voice of my little boy. I have run away from them all and have pitched my tent in the woods.

As I was out gathering wood for the camp-fire I quietly looked around, and a few remnants of old stumps are still visible where I helped to cut the virgin timber, the forest that provided a home and shelter for the raccoon that I once hunted by night, and the birds, from quail to the wild turkey, that I hunted by day. About one hundred yards to the east of where I am sitting is where I split my last rail with a nine-pound broad-axe while hewing railroad ties when I was but fourteen years of age. But Nature is helping me to replace a little, and the second-growth trees are from thirty to fifty feet high.

A hawk has distressed the Bob-Whites that are increasing in numbers very rapidly, and the sweet tones of their familiar voices are making this old spot fairly ring. In fact the very atmosphere seems so full of cheer that when I entered the tent and sat down to write, I first whispered a few words of silent prayer of thankfulness, and asked God to guide my untrained hand so that you will understand my meaning.

Let me assure you I will be as brief as possible. And while I am very thankful to my many friends who have offered to write it for me if I would only dictate it, yet I firmly believe the majority of readers will enjoy these facts right from the awkward hand of Jack Miner better than if they were polished too much. While it may read very unreasonable, yet please don't forget that outside of a little joke I may attempt to crack, the rest is all facts gathered from personal experience and observation, and I assure you these views are not second-hand as I am a very poor reader and have never read a book through in my life.

Jack Miner and the Birds

Chapter I.

Who is Jack Miner?

Now, as you have this book in your hands and have looked at the name of the writer, and possibly flipped over a few pages, glancing at the interesting illustrations, etc., I imagine I can see you raise your heads, as your eyelids come down for an instant. "Who is Jack Miner? Who is Jack Miner?" This thought repeatedly flashes through your mind.

Well, let me assure you of this fact, that Jack Miner is not Old Bill Miner, nor Jesse James, and although I have been raised in the woods, that is no evidence that I have split fence and antlers. But I will admit there has been many a time in my life that if you could have seen me you would have thought you were looking over Maw's line-fence.

However, just who I am is a question I am not prepared to answer, as it is not a history of my life I am supposed to be writing; but in a few brief words will say that my dear mother's people that are in America are a good, self-sacrificing, respectable, God-fearing people. And my father never had but one full sister; yet, he said, where he lacked in quantity he made up in quality. Father and mother were both born in Leicestershire, England. As to my father, I know he was a truthful, honest man, and, according to his own story, he was raised on the toe of a step-father's boot. A few years after he graduated from this lofty position, he followed mother and her people to America, and eventually overtook them in the good old state of Ohio, and on the 10th day of April, 1865, I was born, barefoot. According to my oldest brother's statement, father was at that time quite down-hearted over the fact that his old favorite yellow tom-cat had been coming home absent for about two weeks, and he had given up all hope; but as soon as I arrived and he saw my complexion, he took me out and laid me in brother's arms, and as he raised up he clapped his hands together, quite cheerful, and said, "Ted, we'll call him John Thomas." John Thomas it really is. Fortunately, my friends have shortened it down to just Jack.

We were very poor financially, and as I was second-oldest boy in a family of ten children, I had to put a shoulder to the wheel and help roll the bread-wagon. The result is I was educated for hitching, cutting cord-wood, and splitting rails. In the spring of 1878 father decided to migrate, and at the age of thirteen I was liberated here in California, a sportsman's paradise. I took to the woods as naturally as a park hare, and I know I was father's favorite because he always called me to build the fire in the morning, and when the other boys would bogle a tree I have often heard him shout, "Come out and come away from it! You'll get 'urt! Leave it wile Jack comes; 'e'll go hunder and cut it down." If we were splitting rails, father always set the wedges permitting me to handle the maul.

Father and mother enjoyed life together nearly sixty years and put up with mingled enjoyment and annoyance of us ten children. How some of father's teaching still rings in my ears. When I have gone to him with complaints about others, he has often said, "Shut up; I don't want to hear it. But if you have some of your own failings to tell, lets 'ear 'um." Yes, he was always short but to the point. One piece of advice that he gave us boys I have always tried to practise; that was: whenever we grabbed hold of anything and found it was red-hot, to drop it.

But now let me lay these smiling facts aside for a few seconds and close my introduction to you in real earnest. For, outside of unavoidable sadness, my life has been one continuous round of enjoyment made up of failures and disappointments and dark, stormy clouds, which have been completely trampled out of existence by success that in every case exceeded my expectations, and has caused the sun to shine so brightly that it has illumined my path clear up to the Great Divide, and given me an imaging ary glimpse of the beautiful Beyond.

Chapter II

My First Pets

Well, the first pet I can remember having was a young blue jay. I was, of course, very anxious that he should live, so I filled him to the top with fish worms. The next morning the blue was there, but the jay was silent.

The next I have any recollection of was when father took our pet 'possum by the handle and wound it around the corner of the old stable, to settle a quarrel which arose between my brother and myself over its ownership.

I remember I started one spring with a pair of white rabbits, and when fall came, I had every box on the premises full; even father's old saw-box was turned up-side-down with a snarl of rabbits under it, and when he used the box my troubles were many. As I knew how to set traps around my rabbit pens I am strongly of the opinion that some of the neighbors' cats haven't gone home yet.

How well do I recollect seeing the wild geese, and hearing their "Honk! Honk!" as I strained my young eyes to see them 'way up there, often having to look twice before seeing them, as they passed in spring and fall, over the good old State of Ohio on their migrating trips. Oh, how I used to stand with clenched hands and wish I were a man so I could follow them somewhere and secure one, but not until I got to Canada did the real fun begin.

All kinds of game, and such a variety of pets as I had; squirrels, coons, foxes, crows and ravens, and I even got a nest of young hen hawks and kept them until father found it out. You know in those days there was one day in the week that we did not work, and I made every minute count; and although I had miles and miles of woods to roam through, night and day, yet my ambition was a little higher. So I secured a pair of tree-climbers, and then there was no tree high enough for Mrs. Crow or Mrs. Hawk to raise her young so as to be out of my reach.

Well do I remember stocking my first deer, and how I burglarized the top shelf of the pantry to get one of my mother's old pewter spoons. This spoon had a great handle to its history, being handed down from somewhere this side of Noah. I pounded it to remove the ancient look, melted it and ran seven small bullets, while my unsuspicious mother looked on at the operation of melting and moulding. By daylight the snow had ceased falling, and I put the seven balls in the "thumb-hand" barrel of the old shotgun and started on my first deer hunt. By noon I was back with a fine deer, and if I had a settled spoon in the other barrel I surely would have killed two.

(To Be Continued)

SCHOOL REPORT

S. S. No. 11 Tyendinaga, Melrose (Names in Order of Merit)

V Class—Helen Murphy, Marion Smith.

IV Class—Kenneth Badgley, Helen Shaughnessy, Joseph Shaughnessy, Bertha Smith, Bruce McKinney.

III—Evelyn Badgley, Angela Shaughnessy, Mary Murphy, Felix Murphy, Don Macfarlane, David Crawford.

II Class—Clare Weese, Frances Shaughnessy, Bernard Shaughnessy, Don Kimmett.

I Class—Bernice Murphy, Beatrice Macfarlane, Douglas Kimmett.

Sr. Pr.—Florence Sullivan, Frances Macfarlane, Marie Crawford, Vernon Pascoe.

S. MacFarlane,

Teacher.

Notes from a cat, with its head trapped in a coffee can, caused police to investigate an empty house in Philadelphia.

Henry Hooper, 63, of Galesburg, Ill., was injured badly by a hawk.

Belleville, Ill., stenographer, confessed selling fire several times to store works "for the thrill of it."

OFFER PRIZES TO THE PRAIRIE GRAIN GROWERS

More Than Fifteen Hundred Industrial Awards Offered

REGINA, Sask.—One-fifth of a million dollars is the total reward offered to growers of the world at the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference, to be held at Regina in the summer of 1932. More than 1,500 individual prizes are offered in a host of classes including cereals, grasses, clovers and vegetable seeds.

Though the agrarian gathering at the Saskatchewan capital is more than two years away, extensive preparations have already been made by industrious executives. Every country on the globe has been requested to appoint a national committee through which preliminary arrangements for entries may be made.

Appropriately, in view of Canada's position as a wheat-producing country and the importance of wheat production throughout the world, a total of $40,000 is offered for prize - winning samples of the golden grain. The awards, 775 in all, are to be allocated for hard red spring and winter wheat, soft red and white winter wheat and Durum wheat.

Fifty-pound exhibits are requested in the wheat classes. A special class for hard red spring wheat, however, asks ten-bushel samples. An aggregate of $10,000 is offered in this special class, to be divided among 28 exhibitors.

To winners in oats, barley, corn and rye classes go the most generous of the remaining awards—a total of $23,500 in the four branches. Oats and barley classes are allowed $27,500 and $12,000 respectively; $19,00: is set aside for corn awards and $10,0 0 for rye.

Farmers whose work centres about other cultivation than that of the five major grains, however, are proffered ample opportunity for honors at the Regina meet. The prize list, recently issued from the office of the Conference Secretary at Regina, includes 16 additional classes of farm products.

These 16 branches and the total prize awards are: Field peas, $7,000; clover, ..8,500; hemp, $5,000; grasses, $4,500; flax, $2,000; field beans, $3000; buckwheat $2,50 ; rape, $2,000; millet, $1,000; soy beans $2,000; alfalfa, $2,000; field roots, $1,500; growers' collections of garden vegetable seeds, $1,-0 0; and sun flowers, $500.

Under the general rules of the Exhibition, any grower in the world may enter in as many classes as he wishes, though not more than one entry must be made in any single class. No restriction is placed on exhibits as to the year in which they have been grown, but each must be bona fide property of the exhibitor, grown under field conditions.

The first day of March, 1932, is placed as deadline for the arrival of exhibits at Regina, though the Exhibition is to extend from July 25 to August 6. For exhibits from countries other than the United States, the city of Regina will be declared a port of entry; al lentries, it is ruled, must be shipped in new cotton bags and must be accompanied by a certificate of health, in order to comply with Dominion laws.

Refused admission to High School because he had not been vaccinated, Franklin Archbist, of Dayton, Ohio, carries fight to court.

FRUIT IS STILL POPULAR

While the consumption of fruit per capita in Canada today is as great as is ever was, there has been a definite shift of popular favour from Canadian fruits, particularly apples, to imported citrous fults and bananas. Statistics compiled by the Fruit Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture show that the larger urban centres in Canada during the year 1929 handled 75 per cent more citrous fruits and bananas than they did of apples, 8,819 carloads of the former being used as against 2,371 carloads of the latter. With 431 carloads of imported apples deducted the preference for imported fruits would appear to be 18 to 1. Apple consumption in Canada in 1910 was 64 pounds per capita; it is now less than half that amount, being 31.6 pounds per capita. With as much fruit being used today as ever before, the present situation is really the challenge of a new opportunity to the Canadian fruit grower.

Fish found in barrel after rainstorm puzzles inhabitants of Lancaster, Pa.

Coal mine at West Frankfort, Ill., has operated five years without a fatal accident.

Your Opportunity to Save Money on Your New Car

We are offering at greatly reduced prices a number of Big Six Pontiacs manufactured previous to the current model—all brand new and backed by the regular new car guarantee. These cars may be purchased on the G.M.A.C. plan of easy payments.

Sedan - $ 985
Coach - 915
Coupe - 895

BELLEVILLE DELIVERED PRICES

Above prices include all government taxes, standard catalogue equipment and spare tire, tube and cover, Lovejoy shock absorbers front and rear, spring covers, bumpers and bumperettes, and full tank of gasoline. License extra.

CLAPP MOTORS

118 Front St. Belleville, Ont.

The Feminine Viewpoint

Reno Is Gretna Green of Divorce

More Than Two-Thirds of City's Population Wed Early

Reno, Nevada, April 28 (SNS) — Reno, as the divorce mill is a hardly perennial event. Reno as the honeymoon marriage centre for the state of California is the new sindelous in this state's flower show.

In Reno and California, they call them "Gin Marriages," and there are more than 40,000 of them a year. All the rely of 500 a month, Californians are flocking to Reno to get married. With only 12,000 permanent population, Reno not only boasts approximately 2,500 divorces, but more than 4,000 marriages a year. Figures show that 75 per cent. of these marriages licenses and certificates are granted to California couples.

At first, it was difficult to understand why there were so many flower stores in Reno until the favorite fashion of the male section of the community at least, seemed to be the cajoler. In almost every block, however, of the exceptionally large and well-appointed business section, seems to be a thriving florist. As can almost as the outdoor, street corner display of the flower sellers of San Francisco, reported a shop in every Riverside hotel where gin marriage parties as well as divorcees, congregate the language of the florist shop in the Riverside hotel," in emancipated Reno there is no symbolic preience that marriages are made in heaven. They are authorized next door, at the famous Pashoe county courthouse.

The girls are of these flower stores laughed when she was asked the reason for all the flowers. "Already, this morning," she said, "we have had six marriages."

Gin marriages? Everybody calls them "gin marriages." Nowhere in the state of California, nothing was easier than marriage. You simply sailed and paid for a license and you got it. Mere children, after boozing gins, waknne dup to find that part of the prank had been marriage. Marriage annulments of minors grew to scandalous proportions. California legislated. Each day for three days prospective brides and bridegrooms now have to advertise their determination in the newspapers. The fourth day a marriage license is granted and, on the fifth day, the embarrassed couple may make their way before a minister or a justice of the peace.

In Reno, where the new moral city and commercialism seem to be nearly synonymous, preparations were made to save Californians from the shegin of some publicity. For two dollars a couple in Reno they would marry anyone, drunk or sober. It was just at the end of 1927, when Reno was once again undercutting the divorce market. From six months to three they had just reduced the residence term for divorces. Like a dispensation from Lady Luck herself came the amendment of the California gin law, and Reno business men, figuratively, hung out bunting.

In California the slogan became the smart set candidates for marriage was, "On to Reno." Reno rejoiced at the turnout. In the old days they would have come in covered wagons. In the new rush they came by aeroplane; whole marriage parties; by train from San Francisco brings its excited quota. Every train takes them away.

On our train going down to San Francisco four newly married couples at last account, the sediment from the froth of divorcees. The whole four couples happened to be concentrated in one Pullman. Everybody have killed a cat, but the dread recollection excpied no restraining force on a bumbastic passenger, who had a souvenir incident from Reno. Down the aisle they filed with furtive glances. For their benefit, especially for the delectation of a gentleman from Boston, the happy eight from San Francisco put on their show gin. Confident that the success of all witness could be based on Reno osmulation Boston's self-set on the observation car, confessed to members of a moving picture troupe that words entirely failed him to describe it.

To Reno the familiar quotation: "Married in haste, we may repent at leisure," means only better business. At any rate, Reno has not only provided for the repentance, but has reduced to a minimum the leisure. As for better business everybody in Reno is jubilantly optimistic. In one year from 1,000 marriages the total has jumped to more than 4,000.

Twenty gypsies were ordered to leave Marion, Ohio.

Fashionably Speaking

By Lucille

Dear Reader:—

Several days ago I had the pleasure of being a guest at one of the most beautiful homes in this city. The furniture was some of it fragile as well as expensive, the china was exquisite and ecstly, and my hostess possessed a number of antiques which she greatly prized. How it occurred in me as I gazed at these different objects how easily breakable they were, and what a dreadful amount of damage a careless servant or child could do.

Even the most ordinary of homes contains a few articles which are dearly prized by their owner. Perhaps it is a wedding gift or chest of drawers left by grandmother. Perhaps it is only a very ordinary object, but with associations dear to your heart. All these things you will naturally want to keep whole, and what a dreadful feeling you get when through carelessness or accident they are destroyed. Children for the most part are the greatest offenders, and it is hard to know just how to impress upon them the value of such articles. They adventure into little unintentional mischief and the damage they commit is purely innocent and characteristic of the child. For instance a baby minds even though you may not be able to use the same methods. If nothing attracts their attention; for instance a bright, piece of china, take it from its place carefully and put it into their tiny hands. Let them look it over and inspect upon them how pretty it is and how carefully it must be handled. After they are satisfied put the article back in its place and the child will be content.

In the case of servants, their carelessness can usually be traced back to their ignorance of the value of the articles they destroy. A plan which saves happenings of this sort is to explain to your helpers the value of the articles with which they must deal in cleaning or dishwashing. A is tactfully as possible you may say "This chest of drawers belonged to grandmother. See how beautifully it has been done over. I'm sure she would be pleased to see how well we are taking care of it." Or: "The girls bought this music stand with their own money and they are so anxious to keep it nice." Or again, "This piece of china is among my most prized possessions, I brought it all the way from England." Such tactful remarks as these can be made without hurting your helper's feelings, and she will surely respond by using great care in the handling of the objects you have mentioned. Try this little scheme before you suffer the loss of many further prized objects dear reader.

Fashionably yours,

LUCILLE.

Today's Poem

GOD LOVED THE WORLD —DO YOU?

"For God so loved the world, not just a few
The wise and great, the noble and the true,
Or those of favored class or race or hue,
God loved the world. Do you?

"God loved the sinful world, not just the good,
Ah, some were good till they had understood
His love for them, and felt the power that could make all life anew.

"God loved the world. He saw that we might be Made like himself. He stopped to set us free
And did not spare the cost of Calvary
God loved the world. Do you?

THE BEAUTY BOX

Old-time hairdressers who know their coiffures and that every seven years there is a change in styles. Not innovations, but radical hirsute upheavals. We are about due for some kind of coiffure revolution. As conditions are the short bob is good style, but it must not be worn close at the back. The shoulder length wopse is going strong and offers itself to interesting variations with sculptured ends, small curls and bow and then a fluttering ringlet. Yet, always it must show restraint. The scrambled head effect is out and does not flatter. Just tried to put it over for nearly a year.

Various lights and rays are used scientifically results in treatment of acne. Acne thrives best in the oily skin in which the glanders are busiest. That is why young persons suffer from it and old ones don't. In middle life and old age the skin is dry. The sebaceous glands are all tired.

Deep scars can be removed only by the surgeon's knife. Light scars of recent appearance may be removed by every night with ointment of zinc oxide. Smallpox pittings are successfully treated by plastic surgery. Only a reliable medical man should do the work.

HOME OF PRINCE HOUSE-CLEANED

London, April 28—One of the last of the Royal residences to receive its spring housecleaning is Fort Belvedere, the Prince of Wales' cool-of-town house, this having been left to the last in order that the house might be as spick-and-span as possible when the Prince returns from his African trip. During the absence of the Prince the Queen has been keeping an eye on things for him, and has twice visited Fort Belvedere to see that everything was running smoothly there.

The Prince's special treasures, such as the trophies he has gathered during his visits to various parts of the world, the picture he has had specially painted of his aeroplane in flight, and the plain mahogany desk at which he writes, have been her Majesty's particular care. All these are gathered together in the Prince's study, and the Queen has inspected them carefully during her visits.

Sixty thousand small trout arrived at Scranton, Pa., to be placed in local streams.

ENGAGED GIRLS MAY DANCE WITH MEN

By Mrs. Cornelius Beekman

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

A young man I know and I have had an argument which we would like to have you settle. He says that it is proper for an engaged girl to ask a young man to dance, providing she knows him, and that it is not proper for him to ask her to dance. Recently me met at a dance and he, not knowing my fiance very well, did not ask me to dance, later giving me the above explanation. I cannot agree with him because I have always expected a man to ask a girl to dance, whether she be single, married, or engaged. My opinion is that the young man should ask the girl to her fiance's pdesence and then ask his permission. We will appreciate it if you will settle this argument for us. E.B.

You are entirely right in your point of view. The gentleman asks the lady to dance with him, and then asks permission casually, of course, of her fiance——"Do you mind, Mr. Carlyle?"

(Mrs. Beeckman will be glad to answer questions on etiquette submitted by readers.)

Paris, Ill., boy had both legs broken when he dropped lighted match in an abandoned gasoline tank.

LITTLE BENNY'S NOTE BOOK

I was going an errand this afternoon and Lucky Leroy Shooster was sitting on his frunx steps, me saying. Come on with us, Lucky, don't be such a lazy bun.

Being sipposse to be more of a compliment than a insult, only he took it more for a insult, saying, Whose a lazy bum, you funny looking dish of scrambled eggs?

Being a pure insult, so I had to insult him back, and we kepp on insulting each other a while and I went to the store and came back out of the store with things including a box of dry raisins.

Giving me a ideer, and I opened the box of raisins and dropped in frunx of Leroys steps and started to eat them with a expression as if I was having the best time of my life. Leroy Shooster just sitting there looking at me without saying anything and then keeping on taking raisins out of the box and sticking them in my mouth without saying anything back, thinking, O boy, I bet his mouth is watering at me, I bet he thinks he insulted the wrong person this time.

Wich just then his mother came out of the house with her hat on, saying, I want you to stay here till I come back, Leroy. Just look at Benny eating raisins, why cant I ever get you to eat raisins when you know their so good for you? If theres one thing Leroy wont eat under any circumstances raw or cooked, is raisins, she sed.

Me thinking, Heck, gosh shang the luck. Me not thinking so much of dry raisins anyway. And I got the doocr and 3 slaps from me when she saw how much there wasent left in the box.

Proving theres no use drying to get even with a guy when he's naturelly lucky.

NURSES SHOULD NOT READ PRESCRIPTION

Toronto, April 28 (CP)—An armed man, presumably in search of narcotics was surprised last night in the act of rifling the medicine cabinet of York Hospital by nurse Aldora Reid and junior nurse M. Newsome. Dr. Perrest attracted by the nurses' screams, pursued the invader to the street but was unable to distinguish the license number of the sedan in which he made a successful getaway. Through the occurrence nurse Reid carried a tiny baby in her arms. "I almost think he would have shot if it hadn't been for the baby," the nurse said.

OBITUARY

MRS. ABRAM MARACLE

There passed away at her home near Shannonville, an aged and highly respected resident, in the person of Mrs. Abram Maracle, on Tuesday April 22.

She leaves to mourn her loss three daughters, Mrs. Timothy Courter of Washaunene, Mrs. Peter Claus of Midland and Mrs. Harry M. Hill of Tyendinaga. Her husband predeceased her by quite a number of years.

The late Mrs. Maracle, who was eighty-two years of age was esteemed for many kind qualities.

The funeral which was largely attended was held on Thursday afternoon to All Saints Church, where the Rev. Herbert Pringle conducted the services, and spoke feelingly of the kindly nature of the deceased to which the beautiful array of flowers attested.

Her favorite hymn, "Nearer My God to Thee," was sung in Mohawk.

The bearers were Messrs. Maxwell, Clarence and Floyd Hill, grandsons. Herbert Brant, Frank Maracle and Russell Maracle. Interment was made in All Saints Cemetery.

Census takers must talk 33 languages at Waterville, Ill.

State hospital inmates increase 800 per cent. during 10 years in Dixon, Ill.

Always an Inspiration

FOR desserts—you'll find that genuine Jell-O meets the gayest, most light-hearted ones that ever topped off a meal. Choose your favourite from many delicious flavours. Be sure you get the genuine.

Made in Canada

Canada's most famous dessert

OUR DAILY SHORT STORY

WOMEN AND BANKERS

by Guy Swaringen

(Copyright, 1929, International Features Service, Inc.)

Old Doc Blair hadn't paid all his taxes. So this morning, having to go by the courthouse anyway, he stopped in to see fat deputy Dave Turner.

"Some scan-lous going on last night, eh, Doc?" Turning through receipt books with one hand, Dave scratched a plump unshaved cheek with the other.

"What gains on? Think we working men haven't got nothing to do but sit up nights and talk scandal? I have to sleep."

"Yeah, I'd like to sleep some, too. But sheriff phones me to get here at this morning early. Said he was goin' on the warpath, and for me to get here and get the office open. Said he'd been called up and told that Oliver Parks had left Minnie; that old man Beckham was rapin' round seekin' whom he might devour; and that the First National Bank was entered last night."

"W-what?", Old Doc goggled foolishly. "Ollie Parks done left Minnie?"

"Nobody said she'd done anything but leave Minnie. Here's your receipt."

"No wonder he left!" snorted Doc. "Minnie's a nice girl—if she ever grew up—but spoiled. Ollie ought, by rights, to have spanked her ever since he married her. Beckham doesn't use a strap. Just because he's rich and Ollie's poor, he thinks—"

"He wouldn't if he's been readin' about the crime wave that's said to be running in the country, and romantic notion. Anyway, he went and rigged up in the bank one of those chicken traps. A man sat with an him, ought to've retired from bein' assistant cashier long ago! Some time this morning policeman Long heard an explosion, and rushed around to the bank. The door was locked. But he turned on his flashlight and saw through the window where the gun had gone off and splattered the wall with shot. So Long up and busted a glass of the front door, reached in and turned the latch. Nothin' was missin' that he could see, but there was a few drops of blood scattered around. Long strained his week mind tryin' to figure it out; then called up the sheriff."

"Huh. How had the burglar got in?"

"That's it. He must have had a key. Because when Long got there nobody was in sight, everything was locked up, and the safe hadn't been tampered with. Nothing seemed gone except a glass flower vase that had stood on the desk in the lobby. It might have been jarred down by the gun goin' off."

"Silly sort of a burglary!" mused Doc.

"That's the story so far," grinned Dave Turner. "Believe what you like. As for me, I think Beckham's dumb."

"Account of that shotgun trap? Yes, it was a dumb idea. But not a bit dumber than his keeping Minnie and Ollie on with him after they married. I know Ollie's sort of wild, but he's not bad at heart. Any man can do better with his own wife instead of their own home. Well, I gbt to get on."

So Old Doc got into his car and got on He had not told Dave that he was called out in the country to the home of Ollie Parks' parents, one that he had been asked to bring along surgical instruments and bandages.

Funny! Ollie was an honest boy. A bit revengeful, maybe, but—

"Humph!"

Doc hurried, and was presently met in the yard by Sam Parks, a dried-up little man with pale blue eyes that just now were pretty scared.

"Ollie's had an accident, Doc. He was hunting, and his gun went off somehow or other.—A couple of shot nicked him. But he seems to be most-ly sort of shrill-shocked or something. Won't even talk. Come on in, Doc!"

"All right. Here!" Doc took from his pocket a tiny box, and from the box a tiny tablet. "Take this. Your nerves are all upset. Take it now, or I'll cram it down your throat!"

Doc went into the living room. Ollie Parks sat in a shabby rocker, his fair mother hovering near like a pale ghost. He was a slim young man, with pale blue eyes set in a narrow face now tense, drawn.

"It was an accident!" He shot the words at Doc fiercely.

Doc nodded without apparent curiosity, and deftly ripped out the side of Oliver's shirt where blood-stains showed.

"Um! Not so bad. Couple of ribs barked. A few inches to the right might have got your heart, though. Where's your arm?"

"Had it raked." Then Oliver repeated even more firmly: "An accident. I went out early to shoot some squirrels. Loaned my gun against a fence to take down a rail. It's one of those automatic-ejecting jobs. I had gpned to knock it down and it fired."

Doc nodded indifferently, hiding his triumph as to why the gun was so insistent. Had Oliver really tried to kill himself? His apparent lack of interest was the spur needed to goad Oliver into exploding forlornly:

"I wish it had killed me."

"Ollie!" wailed his mother; but Doc silenced her with a look.

"Wish it had killed me! I had to leave Minnie. Don't!"

But Doc merely nodded again, applying an antiseptic that elicited a moan of anguish. "Ought to have kill'd you!" agreed Doc. "Man with no more grit than to——"

Then Minnie Parks came into the room. She was a little thing, blonde and dainty. But her grayish-green eyes were brilliant with scorn.

"I thought you'd be here!" she was saying as she entered. "I wanted to tell you you needn't—Ollie!" A catch in her breath; and the next color; then she was kneeling beside him. "Ollie! What have you—"

"Nothing—just an accident. I'm all right," Doc was astounded at the brightness of Oliver's face. "Can't we come back, Minnie?"

"No," said Minnie. "I'll go live somewhere with you!"

A cough from the door drew Doc's attention to Sam Beckham, beckoning at him with jerks of the head. Doc followed him outside.

"Put my hand, Doc." He held out a clumsily bandaged member. "I—Don't you tell that! Folks would laugh at me and—and I happened to wake up last night, and I thought I'd left that old safe open at the bank. Couldn't go back without going to see. Well, I went. Knocked over a vase while I was there and cut my hand. Couldn't get it open, and, silly to have it there, I guess. Doc, don't you tell this on me."

"I won't," Doc agreed regretfully.

Beckham nodded towards the house. "Minnie," he said bitterly, "made me come out here with her just to tell Ollie she's through with him — and now look at them! Aren't women dumb?"

Twenty-six million dollars is the price paid by farmers and poultry raisers for loss through diseases in poultry flocks annually according to recent estimates. Most of this loss is caused by internal parasite and according to F. C. Elford, Dominion Poultry Husbandman, much of it is unnecessary. A good deal of it, he points out, can be eliminated by keeping young chicks away from adult birds and on absolutely clean soil.

To dye rich blue or true black, Sunset gives the very finest results

Full deep shades on all fabrics in one dye bath. Dyes heavy goods as well as light fabrics. They're quick and clean to use—they're easy! Ask your dealer to show you the Sunset Colour Card.

SUNSET-HOUSE DYES
MADE IN CANADA

District News Gathered by our Correspondents

Honour Sunday School Teacher

Miss Dorothy Alger, Bride-elect Recipient of Many Gifts

Stirling, April 28 (By Mail)—Mr. A. S. Heyworth, a nephew of Mrs. George Reynolds is visiting his aunt enroute for North Bay, from Tarpon Springs, Florida, where he has spent the winter.

The "Cheery Classmates" Bible Class of whom Mrs. (Rev.) Rowland is teacher and Mrs. Remington was assistant teacher met at the home of Miss Libbie Kingston on Tuesday, April 15th, in honour of Mrs. Remington in a social way. Contests, games, music, etc., was indulged in and later Mrs. Remington was presented with a leather satchel purse, with which the recipient was much delighted and thanked the class most heartily. A dainty lunch was then served and the meeting broke up with singing, "Blest be the tie that binds our hearts in Christian love."

Mrs. A. D. McIntosh is visiting her son Mr. Sheldon McIntosh through the Easter holidays.

Mr. Allan Meiklejohn has returned home from Queen's University, his parents motoring down for him to Kingston on Tuesday.

Miss Dorothy Morton and Miss Irene Bailey are home from Queen's University.

St. Andrew's Guild met on Monday evening with a fair attendance. Leader Willmore Morton and the program was in charge of Mrs. Nolan. The program was an Easter one, Mrs. Roger Meiklejohn taking the topic, "The Resurrection, Mrs. Hammond read the Scripture lesson. Misses Smith and Matthews sang a duet which was much enjoyed by all. Easter hymns were sung by various groups and the Mizpah Benediction pronounced.

Miss Burch, B. A., spent the Easter week end with Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Martin and she left on Monday for Toronto to attend the O.E.A. Convention.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Tammond and Mrs. James Sarles were in Belleville on Wednesday.

Rev. E. W. Rowland, Mr. W. S. Martin and Mr. K. C. Martin attended the April meeting of Belleville Presbytery, held in Belleville on Thursday, April 24th.

Laurel Rebekah Lodge No. 211 met in the lodge room on Tuesday evening April 22nd, it being their regular meeting, yet a most unique one by reason of men providing the lunch and also the program, imaginative vision of the men slaving and broiling over the hot stove while the men were preparing the menu floats before the eyes of the women, however a very dainty lunch was provided however it was done. After the business was transacted, the following program was put on:

The first item was a vocal solo "That Old Mother of Mine," sung by Mr. J. F. Baker of Roseview, Sis. Maud Butler sang "Friend of Mine," followed by a piano solo. "Hawaiian Echoes," by Sis. Vera Pyear another solo "Just a Cottage Small," by Mr. J. F. Baker brought forth hearty applause and he responded with "Lassie O' Mine," on request. Sis. Maud Butler then rendered beautifully "Wake Up" Mr. R. A. Williams gave a violin solo, "Defenders of the Flag," and as too bad to respond to an encore, "Peggy Band," he was accompanied by Mrs. Williams.

Mr. Baker again favored the members with another solo, "Well I swan" and for an encore "I got Mine." These numbers were heartily enjoyed by all. Mr. Williams again rendered a piano solo, "When Jack comes Home," which was well received. Bro. Ellis closing number after which a dainty lunch was served, the men acting as waiters. All spoke of spells at home which was pleasant to see.

Mr. and Mrs. George Legrow are spending a few days with friends in Keene.

Mr. Spinks, B. A., principal of Ernestown High school has been engaged as principal of Stirling High school and the four assistant teachers, Misses Saundercoke, Harkness, Burah and Monday, have been re-engaged at a considerable increase in salary.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Eggleton and Margaret were in Stirling on Good Friday.

Mrs. (Rev.) Budd of Hagersville is spending a few days with her daughter Mrs. A. S. Murdoff.

Misses Bernice, Annie, of Toronto and Mary Haggerty of Kingston accompanied by their brother Barton of Toronto spent the Easter holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Haggerty of West Huntingdon.

Mrs. G. H. Kingston and Robarts are visiting in Derweyville this week.

Mr. Frank Gould of the Royal Bank staff of Warkworth spent the week end with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Ted Gould.

Mr. Merle Todd of the Public School staff of Toronto is spending the Easter vacation with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Ed Todd of Wellman's Corners.

Reeve Montgomery is not so well and is confined to the house through illness and soreness in his knee.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Buckingham and family of Toronto spent Good Friday with the latter's father, Dr. Zwick.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Montgomery Dorothy and Shirley of Toronto spent the week end with the former's parents Mr. and Mrs. James Montgomery.

Mr. Ben Osborne of the Bank of Montreal staff, Brampton, spent the week end with his parents Mr. and Mrs. John Osborne.

Mrs. Roscoe Wright underwent a serious operation successfully in Belleville Hospital.

Mr. George Tulloch of Hamilton was home for the week end.

Murray McGee of Toronto spent the holiday with his parents Mr. and Mrs. C. McGee.

A unique shower was held on Thursday evening last at the home of Mrs. Dobbie assisted by Mrs. Rosswell Coulter in honour of Miss Dorothy Alger whose marriage will take place early in May. Some twenty-six ladies were in attendance and the gifts were of a linen nature.

A short play, "A Court Scene" brought on the shower first Dorothy was crowned Queen. Her pages were Isabelle Dobbie and Betty Rich. later the Queen commanded her subjects to hunt for hidden treasures. After the gifts were found and opened, pictures were arranged as a bride's book then a dainty lunch was served and the party broke up by singing "She's a Jolly Good Fellow." The gifts were very beautiful and costly showing the esteem in which Dorothy is held.

Mrs. J. D. Norrie, Dollie and Norman of Toronto spent the week end with the former's daughter Mrs. P. C. McGuire.

Mrs. Walter Wright and Mr. Roy Eggleton won prizes of $175 and $25 respectively in the Durant competition last week.

The following officers of the Ladies Bowling Club were elected at a meeting held on Wednesday evening:

President Mrs. W. Whitty.

Vice-President Mrs. J. Lagrow.

Secretary Mrs. R. W. Meiklejohn.

Treasurer Mrs. R. Coulter.

Entertainment Committee Mesdames Whitty, W. Wright and Miss Wescott.

Auditors Mrs. George Lagrow and Miss J. Wescott.

Lookout Committee All the members.

The Treasurer reported $11.86 from last year.

Dr. E. A. Carleton has been appointed Coroner for Hastings County.

Mrs. H. G. Martin, Ivan and Ruth spent Thursday the guests of Mrs. Gibbard of Napanee.

Rev. F. J. Jobbin attended the Presbytery meeting in Napanee on Thursday.

Mr. J. S. Martin was chosen by ballot to represent the Belleville Presbytery at the General Council in London this year.

Dr. F. E. Bissonnette and Master Julien Bissonnette left for Hartford, Conn., early Saturday morning, April 26th.

Mr. and Mrs. Alyea and Children of Allandale spent the Eagler week end with the latter's mother Mrs. Smith and sister Miss Lillan Smith.

READY TO ACTION

BOMBAY, India, April 26.—The authorities of British India are "clearing the decks" for action and hoping it may not come. The Government admits that all news going out of India be subject to strict censorship.

New York customs inspector for 23 years was dismissed for accepting $5 tip.

listen and taste!

You've never known such a cereal. Rice Krispies are so crisp you can hear them crackle in milk or cream.

Toasted rice bubbles. Golden crisp. Wonderful for breakfast or lunch. Fine for the children's supper. So easy to digest. Use Rice Krispies in macaroons, candies, ice cream. At grocers. Oven-fresh. Made by Kellogg in London, Ont.

Kellogg's RICE KRISPIES

Wallbridge

Mr. and Mrs. M. Trumpour spent the week end at Tilsonburg guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. Trumpour, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Lawson spent the week end in Trenton guests of Mrs. A. Kirke.

Mr. Hugo Johnston, Vancouver, visited Mr. and Mrs. Albert Weir on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Weir motored to Plainfield on Monday last and Mrs. Weir spent the day with her parents, Md. and Mrs. Robert Weir.

Mr. Weir spent the noon hour with Mr. and Mrs. Norman Alexander.

Mr. Davis, Colborne, was through the surrounding country on Saturday with certified seed potatoes which he offered for $2.75 per bag.

Miss Bell Gilmour, Redneresville, who is spending a few days with her grandmother Mrs. T. Johnston and other relatives was a noon hour guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnston on Monday.

Mr. P. E. Terry B.A., Toronto, and family spent a few days at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Terry and other relatives before going to Kingston where they will visit Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hughes.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Fleming, Toron to were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Terry.

Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Terry and family, Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Fleming, Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. E. Terry Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Palmer and family, Mr. and Mrs. King Terry and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnston were noon hour guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McQuinn on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Huyck, Mr. H. Huyck motored to Newbury on Friday last where they visited Rev. T. H. P. Anderson and Mrs. Anderson at the noon hour. They were tea hour guests of Mr. R. B. Allan, Napanee.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Campbell Jr., spent the Easter holidays at Montreal.

Misses Marion Bisson and Dorothy Bisson, Rowland, B.C., who are attending McDonald Hall, Quebec, were Easter visitors of Miss Winnifred Fearce.

Mr. and Mrs. Wishart, Toronto, visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Monoghan during the Easter holidays.

Mrs. Rufus Howe is spending a few weeks with her nephew Mr. W. A. Davern and Mrs. Davern.

Miss Helen Davison of Picton general hospital is enjoying the holiday season with her parents Mr. and Mrs. E. Davison.

Miss Grace Saunders, Mt. Road, is spending the Easter holidays at her home here.

Mrs. Wilmot Bishop who has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. E. Minns, at Oshawa, has returned home.

Mrs Rena Tait, Toronto, is spending the holidays at the home of her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram McDonald were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herb McDonald, Orno.

Miss Kathleen Woodley, Toronto, formerly of Belleville was a recent guest of Mrs. Morley Stevenson.

Miss Helen Brooks has returned home to Brighton after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Wannamaker; she also visited Mr. and Mrs. McCoy, Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Tinkey attend ed the funeral of Albert Rowe in Aurora on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Burley, Belleville were recent callers in town.

A pleasing event was a surprise party given by the Young People of Rose Hall in honor of Rev. J. R. Smythe at the parsonage.

Mr. Raymond Dennis is leaving Wellington and has accepted a position in Toronto. At the close of the practice on Wednesday evening at the United church the members of the choir presented him with a gift and Mr. W. O. Wilson on behalf of the choir expressed regrets at his departure. Mr. Dennis replied.

The Minster Band was entertained at the parsonage on Friday evening last by Rev. W. J. H. Smythe. The President, Miss Greta Bishop opened the meeting with a worship service. The secretary, L. Quaiff read the minutes and the treasurer Hilda Harris gave the financial report, after the business was transacted the young people enjoyed games conducted by Mr. Smythe, Misses Nash and Hendry. Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Misses Florence Nash Beatrice McCulloch, Jean Green and L. Hendry.

Miss Gladys Mack became the bride of Mr. Stewart Reilly on Friday April 25th at the home of the bride's sister Mrs. Wm. Young, Consecon Street. Rev. Harry Parry officiating. Congratulations.

Police dog lost for two weeks was found alive hanging by his hind feet from a wire fence near Lancaster, Ont., but had lost twenty pounds in weight.

THEY WERE A GREAT BENEFIT TO HER

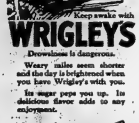
SAYS NOVA SCOTIA LADY OF DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

Mrs. Geo. Weatherbee Suffered With Kidney and Bladder Weakness

Greenville, N.S., April 26 (Special) —"I have used Dodd's Kidney Pills for kidney and bladder trouble," writes Mrs. Geo. Weatherbee, a well known and highly respected resident of this place. "Before my first baby was born I was troubled with kidney and bladder weakness. One day I read in Dodd's Almanac about Dodd's Kidney Pills so I purchased four boxes and they certainly helped me. I can recommend them to all who suffer as I did."

That Mrs. Weatherbee's trouble came from her kidneys is evidenced by the relief she got from Dodd's Kidney Pills. They are purely and simply a kidney remedy. Many women suffer periodically with backache, and, as middle age approaches, the pain increases in severity. Rest may give temporary relief, but Dodd's Kidney Pills do much more than this. They strengthen the weak kidneys and remove the cause of the pain.

EGG-BREAKING GROWS



A marked increase in egg breaking of Ontario egg trade is shown in the 1929 review of the Canadian egg and poultry markets prepared by the Poultry Division of the Dominion Live Stock Branch. Importation in 1929 amounted to 2,020,733 pounds, and while consumer volume has been maintained importations for 1930 were only 560,061 pounds. Most breaking is done in low-grade eggs with resultant loss fit to general market conditions.

Weary miles seem shorter and the day is brightened when you have Wrigley's with you.

In sugar pops you up. In delicious flavor adds to any enjoyment.

A five cent package is widely instructive

Aids digestion, and keeps the teeth clean speed . . .

silence . . .
smoothness

on the RED INDIAN trail!

As the Red Indian took the lake trail . . . make your car take the road—with speed . . . silence . . . smoothness! Marathon Hi-Test Gasoline, Cyclo Gas (No-Knock) Motor Fuel and Red Indian Motor Oil—these standard McColl-Frontenac products minimize engine trouble . . . ensure economy of operation . . . and give maximum power on grades and bad roads! On any road you are always near a Red Indian station. Fill up at the next one, and . . . speedily, silently, smoothly eat up the miles!

Cyclo Gas NO-KNOCK MOTOR FUEL
A new motor fuel with drive — pep — and punch a-plenty!

MARATHON GASOLINE
A straight-run gasoline . . . economical . . . uniformly clean and reliable!

RED INDIAN MOTOR OIL
Provides a perfect film of protection between all working parts of the engine!

McCOLL-FRONTENAC
McCOLL-FRONTENAC OIL COMPANY LIMITED
Offices and Plants at Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary, Vancouver, Toronto, Moncton and Montreal
Distributor Warehouses at other convenient points

APRIL ESCAPADE

BY KATHLEEN NORRIS

—Well, there's one thing, I never can tell them I'm sick," Mary Kate decided brushing her hair severely, washing her face and hands as if she tried to wash her very thoughts away. "I never can make a joke of this. If Cass ever heard of it—if Mother ever heard of it——"

In bed at last, with the room darkened, and the unfamiliar country dark ness alarmingly still and black outside, she had to reconcile herself to thought. She could not sleep.

She saw herself, the next morning, gruesomely trying to decline the chunk, and her cheeks flamed with self-contempt. To get oneself into a predicament like this and then attempt to play the gentlewoman attempt to be dignified and haughty.

"Oh, no, thank you, Mr. Steynes," she could imagine herself saying, "it's been most amusing, and I was only too glad to do it for a friend of Mr. Rountree. But I positively won't take money——"

That would be ridiculous. No, her only hope was to go through it with perfect self-possession, gathering about her what remnants of pride remained to her.

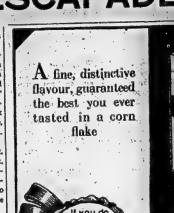
Gordon Rountree. Fat and soft and spoiled, and laughing himself out of everything. She hated him, too. But most of all, burying her head in the pillow, twisting suddenly over on her back, sitting up dazed and weary on the edge of the bed, to pour herself icy cold water from the thermos bottle beside her,—most of all she despised herself.

CHAPTER XXI

This man had hired her, as he might have hired any poor little street walker, to play a part. Rich and idle and perfectly willing to run all sorts of risks himself, he had needed a pretty girl for a few hours, and without the slightest difficulty he had found bottles had found her willing to take chances so much heavier than his own!

Well, in a few hours she would be home, this secret shut forever in her own heart; she would be home again, wiser and older and sadder, and ready to forget the past, and turn only toward the future —towards being everything that Cass and Mother and Mark and the children could ever want her to be.

And meanwhile she told herself bitterly, she had the satisfaction of knowing that everything that these scoffed young men believed of poor girls was true. They could be bought, they had no pride, they might be laughed at with perfect impunity.



"And I have a stain against my name forever!" she said aloud, in the dark.

But it couldn't be quite as bad as that. Soon people, mother and Mark, if they ever found out, would surely believe her story. They would know it was only the appearance of things that was against her.

"But you didn't deliberately pack your things—and lie to me—and go down to that man's house, Mary Kate," she could hear her mother say. "You knew better than that, dear. You knew that that was wrong?"

Suppose Mary refused to touch money made this way? Suppose Mart drove her out of the house——

He couldn't do that! Mother wouldn't let him.

She got out of bed, and knelt down in the dark, and prayed, her hands over her face.

"Please get me out of this. Have me safely back at home, and none of them angry to me. I didn't mean to do that I thought—I only thought——"

What she had thought was already vague and far-away. She could not recall it. Her mind drifted idly, while she remained on her knees, went to and fro in a wonderous weaving with no beginning or coherence or end.

The ivory dress—the spring-flushed countryside from the train——a parrot in a perch——food, drink, and silence, and normality once more,—the bridge game, and herself so fatuously satisfied with her make-believe position and her jewels——!

She was still kneeling when a faint sound stopped the blood in her heart. She waited the salt water to her mouth. Her fingers— her spine, grew cold: her very brain seemed frozen.

This for an endless second. Then her heart began pumping so violently she thought it would suffocate her. She remained absolutely motionless, not making a sound, not moving, by the faintest hundredth part, a fiber of her being.

Somebody was fumbling cautiously with her window shutter. Like a blind ing flash of light she considered it. Just a latched shutter, with a bolt; a string, cleverly inserted might lift that bolt, and if it were lifted, it would make just that faint scratching sound—that shadow of a sound——

Mary Kate's starting eyes were turned toward it, in the dark. Her fingertips were pressed against her cheeks, her mouth open. Outside, the black garden, and the country night. Behind her, as she knelt here on the floor beside the bed, the mysterious unfamiliar passage of the Mare house. Where was Christ? Had he come back? Where were the servants?

She could not move. She dared not make a sound. She had locked door behind her, and stumble blindly through the dark house, screaming for help, with perhaps this murderous housebreaker's hands throttling her even while she screamed——

Something was being slick spirit tried to say, deep within her. "Oh, my God, save me! Oh, God, help me! Oh, get me out——"

The shutter clicked audible; this was not imagination. Swallowing with a dry throat, only determined to faint, Mary Kate rose to her feet, stumbled backward toward the door without daring to turn her back to the shutter, and put shaking hands on the key.

This without a sound. She could hear her own heart pounding; nobody more.

And as she stood there, half-turned toward the room, panting, she saw the shutter swing slowly out. The figure of a man was silhouetted against the night.

There was no moon; a heavy fog had crept in with the turn of the night, and had shut out the stars. But there was a faint glow from some distant roadside lamp, in the side garden, and it penetrated through the trees and shrubs enough to show her the moving figure—a figure that was busy now with the shutter, opening them back noiselessly, securing them against the wall, where they would make no sound.

She turned the key in the latch, the door was open. In a nightmare of panic she reached the lower hall, and was groping with shaking hands for the passage that led toward the sitting room —toward the stairs.

To escape from the house was unthinkable, she must rouse someone before she must get to Chris.

Barefooted, clad only in her nightdress that she had washed and ironed herself for the great adventure, she went swiftly, hardly breathing, along the passage. To call, prematurely, to risk even a second light, might be to bring upon her own destruction. The fingers of the murderer seemed clawing at her hair as she went.

The stairway! It was a narrow, iron-balustraded stairway that climbed beyond one of the plain white-plastered walls its balustrade was only a heavy tasselled red rope, supported by filagree posts. What was above, Mary Kate had no idea, but Christopher must be up there—he must be up there, or she would go shrieking mad with terror!

At the top of the twisted flight was a narrow hall, in which a low red light was burning. Mary Kate tried a door—piles and piles of linen. Another door, giving upon a dark empty room full of books—somebody's study. The third door was Christopher's bedroom and at her first whispered "Christ!" he was awakened, had turned over in bed.

She was beside him, sitting on the bed, holding his hands with her own frozen, trembling fingers. The blessedness of finding him, of finding someone living, warm, familiar ,protecting, almost robbed her of speech.

"Yo—don't fight the light——"

"Mary for God's sake, what is it! 'Don't, light the light!'

"But what is it?"

"Chris!" she bowed over him, fighting for breath, cawing in her dry throat. "It's a man!"

His hands were gripping her arms tightly, reassuringly; he was still lying on his pillow.

"You're dreaming!"

"No, no, no, I'm not dreaming! It's a man——"

"Nonsense!" Chris persisted, but in a whisper whose inaudibility matched her own.

"Down in my room—it must be the study," she breathed.

"You saw him?"

"Oh, clearly. I had—I had looked from the bathroom because of the porch windows. But the windows—where the shutters are—wasn't locked——"

He was out of it all right. I'll call—I'll get the police. He won't come upstairs——"

By the dim light in the room she saw him reaching for the telephone that rested on a little rack beside his bed.

"Chris, wait! Wait! He may go away! Don't risk his—he might have a gun—"He may be only a drunk".

Mary Kate had leaned enough to give him room to sit up and put his feet on the floor, now he reached for a dressing gown, and to this she could see him sticking his long arms into the sleeves. Barefooted, without making a sound, he crossed to the door, and quietly drew out an upper drawer, The gloom.

Chris came back to the bed and breathed into her ear:

"I think you were dreaming," he said. "But just the same I'm going to look around. It mightn't do any harm to take that little telephone. And tell Peters I want him and Tony and any one else right away—tell 'em to get in the back door—Mrs. Peters has the keys—ring that bell twice, with your finger—is 'you't, make any sound—"

There was a second's silence. Then from downstairs came a muffled sound the sound of a chair falling.

"Hello!" Chris said, gripping her wrist. "You're right! He's in. He's in the dining room, probably. Get Peters if you can——

The little flat, double-disked receiver quivering in her hand, the girl placed it, at mouth and ear.

"Did you ring twice?"

"Yes——"

"Make it snappy," said the whisper at her ear. "Unless he starts up the stairs he won't hear you."

"You talk!" Mary Kate quavered in the very shadow of a voice. She surrendered the instrument, and Chris leaned heavily on her shoulder as he talked, in a sharp, resping breath.

"Peters? Man in the house, Peters. Rouse Tony, and get over here as fast as you can—No, I'll call the police, you get over here——"

And instantly he was speaking through the other telephone, hardly above a whisper, she could hear the click of some alarmed reply.

"Hello, operator, look alive, will you? I'm reporting a burglary—the man is in my house—yep, now. Yep. Will you? This is the Berringer house—up beyond the club—tell 'em to move fast, will you? Steynes, Steynes. In the Berringer house——"

CHAPTER XXII

He hung up, without a sound. He gripped Mary Kate's arm, and she moved back with him toward the door in the darkness.

"S—sh! Co easy. I'm going to have a look around, Mary Kate——"

"Oh, please—please, Chris!"

"I'll only be a moment before Peters gets here. Sh—sh! Now, um, unless he makes a run for it. And I'd like to be near enough to pop him, if he does!

There was another angled dim light and shadow in the room, from the garden to show the upper hall, when the door was open; Chris's lips were close to Mary Kate's ear.

"Did you put out this light?"

A sickness of absolute horror shook her.

"No—no, I'm sure I didn't! It was —it was lighted when I came up."

"I want to be put out from below," he breathed.

"Why—why would he come up!" In the dim nightdress, barefooted, she shuddered like a person in a chill, as she leaned against him.

"If he gets his head above the stair level—" Chris whispered.

"Oh, Chris, why should he come up!" "Why! I don't know these people—he probably did, if he was hanging 'round, he'd thing you were upstairs—"

They were clinging together, half crouching, half kneeling. In the door way ,Chris had his arm tightly about her, the pistol glinted in his free hand. All about them the shadowy house was very still.

"There may be more than one of them, that!"

"Maybe."

"Have you got another pistol?" "

(To Be Continued)

GIRL UNAFRAID

BY

Gladys Johnson

Her first thought was that Ken had been speaking in excess. His face was bluish, his eyes wild. It was his will alone which was holding him together.

"I shouldn't be here, of course," he began in an unnaturally calm voice. "But I had to come. You see.... he died. The baby."

"The baby! Oh, Ken.....—

He nodded very gravely. "Poor old Colonel. Such a little thing. So little, Ardeth.'

"When?" she asked gently.

"Two days ago. They buried him yesterday. Such a tiny casket. I never realized that babies took such little room."

"Where is Cecile?" her voice was sharp.

"Cecile? Oh..... She's gone away. Her nerves, you know. She's awfully nervous. She went on a trip. It was the last straw, losing the baby. And there wasn't any use staying here, you see. She—she couldn't change her mind..... So—it's good. Last night, I think it was. I'm sort of mixed on dates. Days and nights get tangled——"

Ardeth put the key in the lock and pushed him gently ahead of her into the dark shop.

Walking—Just Walking

She lit the lamp in the back room and looked at Ken. She saw then that he was dazed with fatigue. His face was white and it shone moist in the dim light.

"What have you been doing, Ken?" she asked gently as she pushed him toward the couch.

He looked up in weary surprise. Wrinkled his forehead. "Waiting. I think I walked all over the city. Any sort of helps to walk. Shouldn't have come here— He made an effort to pull himself together. "Get you if—now if people saw..... But I couldn't get you out of my mind. You liked the little fellow. I wanted to be with someone who—who liked him."

He sighed deeply. Leaned over and planted his elbows on his knees. Wistly. Ardeth let him talk.

"You called him pretty— Ken's low voice. "He wasn't, of course— But like other babies. But I guess even a baby likes to be called pretty. And he was awfully bright. An awfully bright little fellow. Funny, isn't it, it helps to talk about him."

A Lonely Soul

"Do you" said the girl softly. She had slipped out of her coat and hat and seated herself on the couch beside him. "Tell me some more, Ken."

He leaned a weary blue glance up at her. "Gee.... you're sweet, Ardeth. Well..... he had a lot of personality. Not like a baby. Like an older person, you know."

Remembering the old soul which had looked out of those baby eyes, the girl nodded.

"I had an idea he was lonely." Ken went on. "He seemed to like to be with me. And so good all the time! Hardly ever cried. That was the trouble. Lack of vitality, the doctor said. He seemed to come into the world tired. But somehow, I never thought about him dying. He was so cold..... Strange to see death in a baby..... Why, you're crying aren't you, dear."

He leaned over slowly and laid his lips for a moment against her wet face.

"Never thought a little fellow could knock me out like that. And I thought of you. I wanted to see you. I knew you'd understand how I feel—" His voice a long weary sigh.

Ardeth rose "I'm going to make you some hot tea, Ken. You're shaky with chill. Lean back against the pillows, dear. Put your feet up. That's it——"

She put a small pan of water on the gas jet which stood behind a screen. Put tea in the blue pot. Took a cup and saucer from the cupboard.

When she came back to the couch with the steaming cup. Ken was asleep.

For a moment she stood motionless looking down at his unconscious face. Relaxed like this, something of the bleakness had faded from his face. There was something of the gay Ken she remembered.. She put out a hand and smoothed back the damp brown hair.

The Frying Eyes

So intent, she was, that she did not see the face pressed to the alley window. The palm which Jeanette had put on it when she planned the Smoke rie, had worn thin from many washings and the yellow theatrical gauze which draped it did not hide the room from one looking in from the dark alley.

Unaware that she was watched, Ardeth flung a blanket over Ken's long figure. Then she reached over and pulled the cord of the floor lamp. The room blinked into a darkness relieved only by the dim rose glow of a night lamp.

Ardeth sat down in the big chair and closed her eyes. But not to sleep. She sat in the stillness broken only by Ken's weary breathing and now and then a trouble mumble.

Too tired to think..... only pictures of the night came crowding back on her. Pictures like the troubled fragments of a dream.

And Then—Tears,

Neil and old Creamy in the red car. Ah, the past was closed to her. Nothing for her there. Not even if she would, could re-enter. And the future..... ? A future where she could not follow Ken, even to comfort him. That Ken should turn to her for comfort for the dead child! The irony of life.

A wave of pitying love went from her, leaving her weak and sick. This moment—snatched from fate. These quiet hours, hidden from the world. Ken and herself..... Ken, more truly her own than he had ever been. For this brief time she had him—had him to comfort—to strengthen. A fierce, protecting ownership welling up in her heart.

She went over to kneel softly beside the couch. Ken and herself, in this stolen hour. Hidden in the darkness of the city. Ken, close to her, a refuge..... She felt unshed tears in her throat.

She studied his face. So thin..... The sensitive mouth compressed in sleep as though he still held himself together by sheer force of will.

Her own. This proved it, didn't it? This instinctive turning to her for comfort? They belonged to each other a thousand things proved it!

The tears were hanging on her lashes now. One splashed to his face.

And suddenly his eyes were open. Looking steadily up into her own, very wide and dark in the dim light.

His arm went about her neck, drawing her face down on his own.

(To Be Continued)

—the trip of golden experience. An "inland ocean" cruise, between towering glaciers, totem-poled isles. Shores to close you look in on giant Indian villages. Dozens of glaciers flashing rainbow colors in the midnight sun. Six fascinating ports of call. Mysteries of the Klondyke. Greatest trip in America for the money—we believe.

As low as $90.00 from Vancouver Victoria, Seattle—to Skagway and return—including meals and berth en route, except in Skagway. On luxurious Princess liners—largest, fastest to Alaska.

Make your reservations now while the choice of Princess cabins are available.

Vancouver Island

West coast cruises. 7 days. Meals and berth enroute. Minimum $39.00.

Full information from any agent Canadian Pacific office (ticket agent, or W. Fulton, Assistant General Passenger Agent, Toronto.

Canadian Pacific

See Banff and Lake Louise on the way

"Vogue for Colour in Dishes demands modern dishwashing,"

by

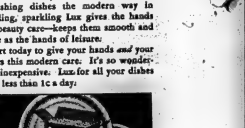
RUTH WASHBURN JORDAN

Home Economics Expert

IT'S colour everywhere—from fragile imported china in Fifth Avenue shops to the gay cups and saucers at the "five and ten!" And best of all, the salespeople tell you, these lovely new tints are easy to care for.

As one of the foremost experts on china, F. J. Cuthbertson, President of the famous New York china house of Wm. H. Plummer Co., said:

"We have always warned against harsh, strong soaps for the new china: But Lux is perfectly safe!"



Saves colours—saves hands

The gentle, bland Lux suds that modern homemakers everywhere have adopted to save the beauty of fine things save, too, the delicate colours of these new dishes.

If ordinary, coarse soaps dull the beauty of your dishes, think what they do to your hands! And red, rough dish-pan hands are so unnecessary!

Washing dishes the modern way in bubbling, sparkling Lux gives the hands real beauty care—keeps them smooth and white as the hands of leisure.

Start today to give your hands and your dishes this modern care. It's wonderfully inexpensive. Lux for all your dishes costs less than 1c a day.

LUX in the dishpan keeps your hands lovely for less than 1c a day!

Lever Brothers Limited, Toronto—Soap-makers by appointment to their Excellencies the Governor-General and Viscountess Willingdon

L2449

Acidity Vanishes Indigestion Goes

Almost instant relief from ALL your indigestion, Gas, Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Nausea, Dizziness, Constipation, by taking ONE Phillips Milk of Magnesia Tablet with water. If you get your money back. Start now with it.

MCCALL'S LINKS FOR INDIGESTION

Obtain the Druggist and all Good Drug Stores

TWELVE PAGES

The Ontario Intelligencer

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, TUESDAY, APRIL 29, 1930.

Moderate to fresh east and southeast winds, rain today and Wednesday, not much change in temperature.

Patterson Co. Awarded Filter Contract

PATTERSON COMPANY AWARDED CONTRACT FOR FILTER PLANT

Lowest Tender for Main Contract Accepted for $118,963.92—Equipment Tenders Yet to Be Reported Upon—Report of the Consulting Engineer.

William Storrie, consulting engineer for Messrs. Gore, Nasmith and Storrie, of Toronto, experts in the construction of filtration plants recommended to the city council at their regular meeting last night, that the tender of the Patterson Construction Company of Belleville for $118,963.92 for the construction of a water purification plant for this city be accepted and accordingly the city council passed a by-law authorizing an agreement to be entered into by the Patterson Construction Company and the Corporation for the construction of this work. There were 16 tenders put in on the main contract and all were closely checked by Mr. Storrie. There is still checking to be done on the equipment contracts and a report on these will be given to the Council as soon as finished by Mr. Storrie. The letter received from Mr. Storrie concerning the tender was as follows:—

"His Worship the Mayor, and members of the City Council.
Gentlemen:—

Re Water Purification Plant Tenders

"Acting on your instructions we have made a study of the tenders received for the construction of the water purification plant and now have pleasure in submitting our report as follows:

"In all 16 tenders were received for the main contract. One tender was returned unopened owing to its being received a day later than the time specified for receiving tenders and the tender from the Richardson Construction Co., Toronto, amounting to $118,703.84 has to be declared informal in that it omitted to fill in any price for Item No. 15. The remaining fourteen tenders are as follows:

Patterson Construction Co., Belleville $118,963.92.

Russell Construction Co., Toronto, $119,936.40.

R. H. McGregor Construction Co., Toronto, $123,963.92.

E. P. Monte Ltd., Toronto, $128,011.40.

Yates Construction Co., Hamilton, $128,126.80.

Goldie Construction Co., Toronto, $138,263.80.

Nelson River Construction Co., Toronto, $139,548.05.

James A. Wickett, Ltd., Toronto, $130,674.80.

George B. Mogk, Weston, $131,312.00.

McGuire Contracting Co., Toronto, $133,538.80.

T. A. Brown Co., Toronto, $137,850.70.

Provincial Dredging Co., Toronto, $139,838.86.

(Continued on Page Six)

JOINT MANAGERS APPOINTED TODAY

MONTREAL, Que., April 29.—(CP)—W. A. Bog and Jackson Dodds were today appointed joint general manager of the Bank of Montreal.

In this step which is believed a new departure in banking circles in this country, directors have adopted a policy which has successfully been put into practice by a number of large banks in the United Kingdom.

IN PRISON, IS ELECTED MAYOR

Calcutta, April 29 (CP)—J. M. Sen Gupta, who is now serving sentence of six months' rigorous imprisonment for seditious and conspiracy, arrived out of the civil disobedience campaign was today unanimously elected Mayor of Calcutta. This will be his fifth term.

Council Decides to Pave N. Front St. With Asphaltic Macadam

COLEMAN WARD'S NETWORK PAVED ROADS FAVORED

City Engineer Recommends North Front St., East and West Moira Paved

MAY EXTEND STREET

City Council Decide to Inspect Fire Hall Site Wednesday

Attention of the City Council last night was concerned with a communication from City Engineer Charles A. Mott recommending that North Front Street be paved from the Upper Bridge to the north side of Earl Street. This is a much travelled highway, in fact it is the main artery of traffic from the north of the County, and it costs considerable to keep the road in a good state of repair. The City Engineer estimated the cost, which is not final, at $12,000.00, the top being placed on a macadam base instead of concrete, which has been used on other paving work in this city. Toronto and other large cities are using this macadam base and they have found it to be very satisfactory. The city's share of the work would be $6,620.00. Mr. Mott also recommended the paving of East Moira Street from North Front to St. Charles Street and West Moira Street from North Front to Howard Street. A recommendation was passed by the Council "that a permanent asphalt pavement on macadam base be con-

(Continued on Page Three)

HAD PHOTOS TAKEN

Leavens Brothers, Belleville's aerial navigators are planning the most successful season since they opened their airport three miles east of the city. Four planes which compose the squadron have been given a complete overhauling and are ready for flying. Yesterday the planes and the pilots were photographed before a group of interested spectators. "Mike" Sinclair, mechanic is still a part of the Leavens' Brothers' service. Walter and Arthur Leavens are planning several barnstorming expeditions as soon as the weather permits.

STOCK MARKETS

Jamieson Bone & Co., by direct wire to C. P. O'Hara & Co.

Liquidation continued today in all markets with practically every class of stock making new low records before the afternoon however was to the effect that all stocks are cheap particularly the Utilities, and with the possible exception of the Coppers. Nickel and Noranda made new lows at 124 and 120. Quotations at 3 p.m. were as follows:

New York

Anaconda 40 1-4; Am. Can. 143 5-8; Chrysler 35 3-4; Colum. Gas. 80 3-4; Cons. Gas. 129; Cent. Elec. 84 1-2; Gen. Motors 46 1-4; Hudson 46 1-8; Kennecott 46 3-4; Radio 61 1-4; G.O.N.J. 32; Stew. Warner 39; Westinghouse Elec 184; Y. S. Steel 61 1-8; Radio-Keith 42; Paramount 68 1-2; Natl. Air. Trans. 27 3-4; Un. Gas. Improv. 40 1-4; Curtiss Southern 18.

N. Y. Curb

Elec. Bon Share 111; Niagara Hudson 23 1-4; United Gas Co. 39; Ward. Baking B 10 1-2.

Toronto

B. A. Oil 19 1-4; Beat. Pref. Oil 26 1-4; Int. Pete. 2 21-4; Bell Tel. 150; Brazilian 50 1-2; Ford A 35 1-2; Pam. Play. 24 3-4; Ind. Alco. 8; Walkers 12; Massey Harris 33 1-2.

Grain

Winnipeg, Wheat, July $1.08 3-4; Oct. $1.12; Chicago, Wheat, July 1.02 7-8; Sept. 1.06 3-4.

Mines

Abana 66; Amulet 87; Ajax 133; Big Missouri 6; Base Metals 1.40; Dome 8.65; Falconbridge 3.05; Hollinger 8.45; Home Oil 7.50; Howey 70, Hudsons Bay 9.00, International Nickel 34.75, Kirkland Lake 65, Lake Shore 23.00, McIntyre 19.15, Mining Corp. 1.50, Noranda 30.50, Pend Oreille 1.07, Sherritt Gordon 1.86, Sudbury Basin 1.63, Teck Hughes 8.50, Ventures 1.25, Vipond 1.00, Wale Ackerman 2.50, Wright Hargreaves 1.92.

HOW ENGLAND'S UNEMPLOYED ARE PUT TO WORK

Unemployed miners of England are pictured above digging new roads at Parkshone. A new roads programme has been instituted throughout the country and thousands of men who would otherwise have been without work, are busily engaged improving the highways and constructing new ones.

INCOME RETURNS COMING IN FAST

Advertising By Department Has Good Results This Year

Tomorrow is the last day to hand in the income tax returns A. A. McGrory, local collector, stated to the press this morning. Due, he stated, to extensive advertising on the part of the department, the public has co-operated this year in a splendid manner, and the returns have come in earlier than usual. This means that pressure during the last week is considerably relieved.

It is too early yet to tell whether the returns will be larger this year than last. The reporter put forward the suggestion, that due to the market slump, the returns would be smaller than usual, but Mr. McGrory was of the opinion that they would be larger.

To all who have to pay an income tax it would be advisable to whisper a word of caution—get the returns in. Five per cent. of the taxable amount is charged for tardiness and interest is added for each day past the end of the month.

LIQUOR'S SPLASH DIRGE WITHOUT WORDS

The scene was near Front St. on Campbell St. The time was about five o'clock last night. The characters were three men, each with a suspicious bulge on each hip and each patiently endeavouring to conceal that bulge from the eyes of the inquisitive populace. Slowly and sedately they walked along all in step, and saying not a word. Suddenly, without warning, a black bottle slipped from one hip pocket, crashed on the pavement, and caused fifty people to turn and stare. But the "Three Musketeers" never so much as batted an eyelash. They continued their walk at the same sedate speed, and did not so much as turn to whisper farewell to the "broken soldier."

"SMOKE OUT" IDLE MEN IN PEN IS NEW POLICY

Columbus, Oh'o, April 29— Having virtually put down threats of open hell'ity within the walls of the Ohio penitentiary, Warden Thomas today adopted a new policy to meet "passive resistance" campaign started by the convicts after the fire last week. Instead of attempting to force the mutinous prisoners back to work as had been planned, the warden decided to "smoke out" the idle men by making no provision for their employment.

LIVESTOCK MARKET

Toronto, April 29—Livestock—Receipts 1088, trade dull. Heavy beef steers 10 to 1125. Butcher steers, good to choice 1075 to 1125. Butcher cows medium 700 to 850. Calves, good to choice 10 to 11. Hogs select oil. Good ewe lambs 11 to 1150. Feeders 9 to 950. Stockers 850 to 9.

SENATE SPEAKER H. BOSTOCK DIES

Long Career in Public Service Ends With Death at Monte Creek, B.C.

VANCOUVER, B.C., April 29.—CP—Hon. Hewitt Bostock, speaker of the Canadian Senate, died late last night at his home in Monte Creek, B.C., according to word received here. Senator Bostock was unconscious for some hours before his death. The cause of death was uraemia. Mrs. Bostock, his two sons and three daughters were with him at the end. The Senator was ill upon his arrival at Monte Creek from Ottawa, Saturday, and had to be assisted from the train, but it was not until late yesterday that the seriousness of his illness became known to the public.

One of the leading figures in Canada Parliamentary circles is removed by the death of Senator Bostock. Entering the House of Commons as the Liberal member for Vale Cariboo, B.C., 34 years ago, he gained popularity fro mthe first and was soon in power in the Liberal Party. He was the Government Minister and Liberal leader in the Senate before the appointment as Speaker of the Upper Chamber.

EVANGELISTS IN CITY

A. J. Terrier and Walter Mallence, evangelists of Pontiac, Michigan, and J. G. Phillips of the Church of God, Assembly Hall of Trenton, have been visitors of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Sanford, South Front street.

FIND WOMAN'S HEAD BATTERED

Mrs. William Morrison Dies In Hospital At Oshawa

Oshawa, Ont., April 29—(CP)—Her head badly battered with a hatchet, Mrs. William Morrison was found dying in her bed today, by Mrs. William Harmer, neighbor. Mrs. Harmer summoned the police but the injured woman died within a few minutes of their arrival.

William Morrison, 35, her husband former employee of General Motors of Canada, could not be located here.

Police began an intensive search for Morrison, who was last seen by neighbors, laughing and chatting with his wife last evening. Morrison according to information given by the neighbors to the police, had been depressed recently because of his inability to secure employment.

Mrs. Morrison was probably attacked shortly before noon, according to coroner Dr. F. J. Bundle, and Dr. J. A. Brown, who were called to the home. They were unable to state, however, any definite time.

ORATORS FOR DISTRICT MEET

Belleville, Picton, Napanee School Winners To Compete Here

Tomorrow night in the Belleville Collegiate Institute auditorium an annual event of great interest will take place, when Belleville, Picton and Napanee collegiates meet to engage in the district oratorical contest. In addition to having oratorical contestants present, each school will take part in a program. The Picton collegiate will put on a short play "Midsummer Night's Dream". The Belleville collegiate will put on a performance by the Boys' Band and possibly the Girls' Glee Club Rev. Dr. Charles Bishop, principal of Albert Collegiate will be chairman for the evening, and Mr. G. P. Stewart, has been appointed as the local judge. Each of the other collegiates represented will also bring a judge. Miss Lorine Adams who won first prize in the Belleville Collegiate oratorical contest, staged several weeks ago, will represent Belleville tomorrow night.

CLOSE BRIDGE IN DAY OR TWO

Traffic Will Then Be Routed Via The Upper Bridge

By to-morrow or Thursday the lower bridge will be closed to traffic, engineers in charge told The Ontario Intelligencer this morning. This will necessitate all traffic being routed over the upper bridge.

This morning men were working on the coffer dam near the bank, on the east side of the river. Considerable difficulty was experienced in trying to pump the water from the dam.

Mrs. Hugh Ferguson of Montreal, (nee Miss Ivy Oliphant of this city), is spending a few days the guest of her parents Mr. and Mrs. William Oliphant.

Mr. Tom Latta of Queen's University is spending a few days in the city, the guest of friends.

MORE BLOODSHED IN OHIO STATE PRISON TODAY

Prisoners Release Guard After Persistent Pleas By the Officials

WINDOWS SHATTERED

Dissatisfied Convicts' Efforts to Escape Were Foiled

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 29.—(CP)—Shooting broke out in the Ohio State House of the Ohio Penitentiary today. Convicts confined in this cell block have been in revolt since the fire last Monday, when 320 men were burned to death. Guards, stationed in the guard room opening into the White City, were shooting into the cell block. Prisoners made a concerted effort to rush the guard room and gain the main entrance. They were trying to break out from other doors also. Guards opened fire when a mass of convicts made a break for liberty. More than two hundred rounds were fired into the block from automatic rifles. It was not known, if any of convicts had been killed or wounded. All prison guards were immediately armed with automatic rifles, shot guns and side arms. Shortly after, the commander of National Guard ordered that shooting be stopped. Convicts were reported to have captured Capt. Boyles, a guard, and were holding him prisoner. National guard officers demanded that Boyles be released at once. Practically all windows in the White City or Idle House were shattered by bullets.

Convicts were screaming and howling at top of their voices. All was disorder within prison walls. Convicts released Captain Boyles, but were reported to be holding the guard, Captain Henderson in cell block. Later he too was released. Two wounded prisoners were removed from cell block and carried into the guard room.

SPRING WORK IN FULL OPERATION

The favourable weather of the past week has given farmers of Prince Edward county a busy time. Mr. James R. Anderson of Mountain View, one of the leading farmers in Prince Edward, was a visitor in the city yesterday and when asked concerning the conditions of farming, stated that agricultural operations are now in full swing. The first seeding on Mr. Anderson's farm took place yesterday and he reported that the soil was found to be in favourable condition to receive the seed, and all that was required was warmer weather to promote quick growth.

COMING EVENTS

AFTERNOON TEA AND SALE OF HOME Cooking, John St. Church Hall, Wednesday, April 30th, 3 to 6. 4-29-3cd

LIBERAL RALLY AT SIDNEY Town Hall, Friday, May 2nd, at 8 p.m. for organization purposes. Prominent speakers will be in attendance. All Sidney and Frankford Liberals are requested to be present. 4-26-4cd

MOOSE LEGION EUCHRE AND Dance in the Moose Auditorium on Wednesday, April 30, Cards 8.15. Dancing 10-2. Reg. Brockhurst's Orchestra. Ladies Draw Door Prize. Good Euchre Prizes, Special Dance Novelties. A good time assured for all who come. Admission 40c plus 2c tax. 4-29-3cd

YOUNG MEN 16 TO 25 YEARS OLD are cordially invited to a meeting in the Orange Hall, Belleville, on Wednesday, April 30th, at 8 p.m. Representatives of the Young Citizens' Bureau will be present to arrange for the organization of a Young Britton's Lodge here. Also musical program. By order of Grand Master. 4-29-2cd

COME TO THE AFTERNOON TEA and sale of homecooking and needle work in St. George's Sunday School, Thursday, May 1st, from 3 to 6. 4-25, 29 3c

RUMMAGE SALE AND SALE OF homecooking under the auspices of St. Paul's Ladies' Guild will be held in the Thomas Parish Hall, Saturday next at 9 a.m. Anyone wishing to donate clothing, please phone 1591J or 2046 and articles will be gladly called for. 4-29-3cd

AFTERNOON TEA IN ST. THOMAS' Parish House, Friday afternoon, May 2nd, from three to six, auspices of Women's Guild. Home-cooking and needlework. 4-29-3cd

ALEXANDRA ROSE DAY—PLEASE send all articles to Alexandra Girls' Order Daughters Empire by buying roses May 3. Their work is commendable. 4-29-1cd

SCOUT MOTHERS' AUXILIARY Card Party at the home of Mrs. Bellamy, 19 Dufferin Street, Thursday evening May 1st. 4-29-2cd

THREE ACT PLAY "JUST SUPPOSE" by The Albert College Players, Albert College, Friday, May 2nd at 8.15. Tickets 35c including tax. 4-29-3cd

DISTRICT ORATORICAL CONTEST, Belleville Collegiate Auditorium, Wednesday, April 30, at 8 o'clock. Contestants from Picton, Napanee and Belleville Collegiates. Miscellaneous programme contributed by each school. Admission free. 4-29-1cd

Hon W. P. Jones, K.C., who has been elected leader of the Liberal Party of New Brunswick for the forthcoming Provincial election.

NEW LIBERAL LEADER

Blending Red Rose Tea is an art. To obtain the fine flavor and full-bodied richness required years of experience. Every package guaranteed. 81

RED ROSE TEA "is good tea"

RED ROSE ORANGE PEKOE is extra good

THE BULLETIN BOARD

Mainly About People You Know

HASTINGS COUNTY BOWLING

It is expected that the Hastings County Bowling League will hold their banquet and re-organization meeting in this city on Wednesday night of this week. The Belleville Club will receive the $25.00 prize for winning the highest points in last year's play. The Hastings County League was organized last year and enjoyed a very successful season. The league included the following clubs: Belleville, Deseronto, Stirling, Tweed, Madoc and Delora. Belleville finished the league in first place with Deseronto a close second. The league is meeting plans for an outing to be held at Camp Summerside on May 1st. Last year the season was officially opened the first week in June.

Peterboro 7 16

EXPLIFYING DEGREE

Members of the I.O.O.F. Society degree team of this city will on Friday evening visit Cobourg Lodge, where the second degree will be exemplified. A number of the members will accompany this team on this visit.

WILL APPEAL TO CITIZENS —

St. Jules Chapter, I.O.D.E. of this city will make an appeal to the people of Belleville and district on Saturday of this week, May 3rd., the annual Alexandra Rose Day. This organization has been carrying on a worthy work here for many years past and, as a result several local institutions, chief by the Belleville Home for the Aged, have benefitted considerably. The officers of the Chapter of which Mrs. A. R. Symons is Regent, depend largely on the receipts from Tag Day to carry on during each year and it is to be hoped that the citizens will rally on Saturday to this worthy cause.

EUCHRE SEASON ENDS

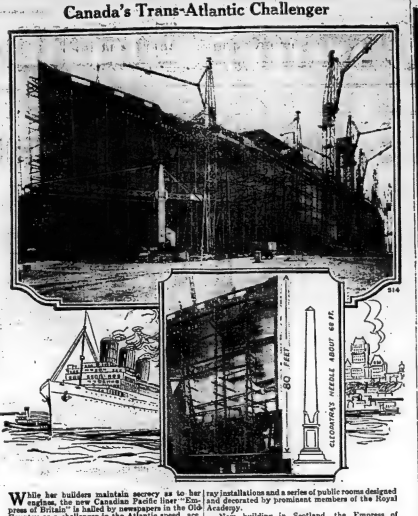
The last Orange euchre held last evening was well attended. The local branch of the Orange lodge have enjoyed a most successful season both from a financial and social standpoint so far as the card parties have been concerned. The following were the prize winners last night: Ladies First, Mrs. George Mossman, 2nd., Mrs. Eugene Kerr; 3rd Mrs. Armitage. Gentlemen 1st, Mr. Fred Gray; 2nd., Arlington Bell; 3rd. Chas. Reid. Rummy 1st. Miss Cook, Mrs. Broad.

ENTERTAINED CLUB

Mrs. H. C. Earle, 224 Ann Street, entertained the members of the Presto Musical Club at her home last night. An enjoyable musical program was put on contributed by Miss Helen Luscombe, Mrs. McKinnon, Mr. Anglin, Mr. Ara Gordon and Miss Helen Potter. A dainty luncheon was served before the gathering broke up.

ATTENDED BANQUET

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Skinner, London Street, were in Ottawa Saturday night and had the pleasure of attending the 25th anniversary banquet of Companion Court, Ottawa, of the Independent Order of Foresters. Mr. Skinner is a member of the High Standing Committee of the High Court of Eastern Ontario. Some very fine speakers were heard at the banquet and Mr. and Mrs. Skinner report an enjoyable time.



Y.P.S. ENTERTAINED

The young People's Society of Holloway street church journeyed to Trenton last night where they were royally entertained by the Trenton young people at Grace United Church. Five happy car loads made the trip. The enjoyable program was put on by the local society and consisted of solos, readings, and devotional exercises conducted by Rev. L. S. Wight, minister of Holloway street church. Mr. Sidney Howard of Trenton opened the meeting and welcomed the guests. After the program the guests were treated to a delightful luncheon, and returned home feeling that they had been entertained royally.

Miss Alice Peets, 97 Canham Street, was shower at a delightfully arranged miscellaneous shower, held last evening in honour of Miss Helen Blakebride-to-be. About thirty friends of the popular young lady were present and an enjoyable evening was spent in euchre. The prizes were won by Miss Bernice Horrigan, first, and Mrs. Alex McGlashan, second. After cards, a huge basket of gifts was presented to Miss Pinkie who received many beautiful articles in linen, glass, china, etc. Miss Pinkie thanked the guests charmingly for their surprise. Refreshments were served before the party came to a close.

Officers of military, naval and police forces of Italy have formed a co-operative buying society.

Canada's Trans-Atlantic Challenger

While her builders maintain secrecy as to her engines, the new Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of Britain" is hailed by newspapers in the Old Country as a challenger in the Atlantic speed arena. The London Daily Chronicle declares that "she will prove a formidable rival of the Bremen, and in any case will set up a new Atlantic speed record, for the journey from Southampton to Quebec will be made in five days or less."

So far the Canadian Pacific has made no claims for the new liner beyond the statement that she will bring Canada one and a half days nearer to England and will be the most luxurious liner on the seven seas.

Every first class cabin is to be an outside room with natural light and air and the room without bath attached will be unusual. Other ways in which the $15,000,000 the new ship is costing will be spent includes two stages fully equipped for theatrical performances, Turkish baths, swimming pool, squash racket court (the first on an ocean liner), full size tennis court on sports deck, beauty parlours, violet ray installations and a series of public rooms designed and decorated by prominent members of the Royal Academy.

Now building in Scotland, the Empress of Britain will enter service early in 1931. The sixteenth vessel of a building programme totalling 216,000 tons launched in a three year period, the Empress of Britain is designed to accommodate 1,100 passengers in First, Tourist Third and Third classes. A comparison of her tonnage of 40,000 with the 20,000 gross registered tonnage of the "Empress" class which accommodates 1,600 passengers, indicates the lengths to which the company has gone to make spaciousness an outstanding feature of the accommodation.

In addition to her position as Speed Queen of the St. Lawrence route to and from Europe, the Empress of Britain will have the distinction of being the largest liner making round the world cruises, achieving this by the comfortable margin of 8,000 tons.

Y.M.C.A. CIRCUS

The Greatest Show on Wood

April 29 and 30

8 p. m.

Drills, Gymnastics, Tumbling, Dancing, Wrestling, Clowns, Etc.

Fun for everyone, don't miss it

Admission 25c

Personals

Mr. John Cooper, Miss Helen and Miss Elizabeth Cooper, have returned home after spending the past week in Toronto.

Mr. L. S. Prescott of the General Motors staff in this city, spent the week end at his home in Napanee.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred McEwen and daughter Margaret, of Woodstock, Ont., were visitors in the city over the week-end

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil James have returned to the city after spending Easter week with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Paterson of Toronto.

Mrs. Frank Parks and son of Wapanee are visiting her grandmother, Mrs. W. Ellis Pinkoro.

Repairing and restyling of Furs attended to now at lowest Prices. The Hyman Fur Co., Ltd., for 60 years, Belleville, Ont. a29-1t

Commencing Tomorrow at the Belle Theatre -- Greta Garbo Talks and the World Rejoices — a New Art is Born

A New Delight is Yours!

We have the honor to be the first Theatre in Ontario to present destined to win the photoplay Gold Medal as the outstanding Talkie 1930.

"ANNA CHRISTIE"

Added Features

THE BRATS

STAN LAUREL-HARDY

TALKOMEDY SCREAM.

Talking Newsreel —

Superior Screen Vaudeville

GRETA GARBO

in her first TALKING picture

Anna Christie

with CHARLES BICKFORD, MARIE DRESSLER

It is with pardonable pride that we announce the Ontario premiere of Greta Garbo's first talking picture. Here is, indeed, an event in the annals of the screen. The voice of the whole world has been waiting to hear. From Eugene O'Neill's magnificent play, directed by Clarence Brown, the man who made Garbo's "A Woman of Affairs" and "Flesh and the Devil."

ENDS TONITE 7.15 9.15 LORD & BYRON BROADWAY

NEW THRILLS, NEW THROBS Where there's a girl —there's a way. You must see Young America's Boy-Friend in this thrill-throb hit.

CHARLES (BUDDY) ROGERS

"Half Way to Heaven"

JEAN ARTHUR

A Paramount Picture

MACK SENNETT COMEDY.

FOX NEWS — TOPICAL

R-E-G-E-N-T

BEGINS TOMORROW

NEW POLICY AT BELLE THEATRE

Three Changes of Program Commencing Next Week

Manager Forman of the Belle Theatre has just returned from a business trip to Toronto and announces, commencing next week, a new policy of three complete changes of talkies every week; programs changing on Saturday, Tuesday and Thursday.

Announcement is also made of the booking of a wonderful line of talking features for May including: Charles "Buddy" Rogers and Jean Arthur in the new air epic, "Young Eagles"; Dennis O'Keefe and Jeanette MacDonald in "The Vagabond King", this attraction to be exhibited for four days; "Hollywood Revue of 1929"; Joan Crawford in "Montana Moon"; Gary Cooper in "Seven Days Leave"; Alice White in "Show Girl in Hollywood"; Harry Richman in "Puttin' on the Ritz"; Lon Chaney in re-created version of "Phantom of the Opera"; Maurice Chevalier in "The Big Pond" and William Boyd, Irene Bianwyck and Noel Lalonde in "The Locked Door." A selected program of excellent comedies, Talking Newsreels, Screen Vaudeville and novelties will be exhibited with th above feature offerings.

OBITUARY

LATE JOE CORR

The funeral of the late Joe Corr, second son of Mrs. J. Corr, who died at the Belleville General Hospital, on Saturday morning was held on Monday afternoon at Christ Church, where Mr. M. Lavole, as deacon, conducted the service with the choir of which the deceased boy was a member. As Joe was a member of the junior branch of the auxiliary and a member of the Choir branch of Christ Church, many members of these organizations attended the funeral, the boy having been a favorite with all who knew him.

The pall bearers were six chums of the deceased Freddie Robinson, Ken Calloway, Ray Westcott, Tom Bladd, Cecil Day and Bill Whalen.

The floral tributes were—Cross, sister, Margaret; Sprays—Uncle Bruce Jones and family; Christ Church Choir; Junior Branch Woman's Auxiliary, Christ Church; Mr. Lawson's Class, Queen Mary School; Mrs. Dalrymple; Mr. and Mrs. DeVault; Mrs. Richardson, Grace and Kathleen; Mr. Petzer; Mr. and Mrs. Scullion; Ken and Lorne Kellaway; June Bone; Owen and Audrey Tompson.

The deepest sympathy of all citizens is extended to the bereaved mother, the brother, Leo, the sisters, Eva, Anna and Jean at home, and the elder, Margaret, who resides in Chicago.

Burial took place in Belleville Cemetery.

LATE DONALD G. BLEEKER

Many citizens were present at the obsequies of the late Donald G. Bleeker, which took place from the family residence, East Moira Street, yesterday afternoon. There were noted in the cortege many from the Bay of Quinte district to which the deceased was well and favorably known. The service was held under Masonic auspices and it was the largest gathering of the Craft which has taken place in some time. The late Mr. Bleeker was an ardent Mason and a constant attendant at all the meetings. The service in the home was conducted by Rev. Dr. H. R. Bell of Bridge Street United Church assisted by Rev. L. S. Wight of Holloway St. United Church. Dr. Bell delivered an impressive address extolling the virtues of the deceased and the lessons which could be taken from his life. At the conclusion Wor. Master J. W. Cook of Moira Lodge assisted by Rt. Wor. Bro. J. W. Barlow and Very Wor. Bro. Geo. Dulmage conducted the last rites of the Order.

The funeral cortege led by the brethren moved along Front Street, many of the business places having blinds drawn in respect to the departed. A large number proceeded to the Belleville cemetery where interment took place, the same officials of the craft taking part assisted by Dr Carleton of Stirling. A wealth of floral tributes from business houses, fraternal organizations, intimate friends and immediate relatives were mute testimony to the esteem in which the deceased was held. The bearers were John S. McKeown, Rev. A. L. Geen, Percy E. Cleer, A. R. Schryver, druggists of the city, and C. B. Scantlebury and Hope McClintis.

WILLIAM ROBERTSON

Word was received in the city today that William Robertson, an old Belleville boy, had passed away in Chicago yesterday. He is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Will am McCole, Mrs. H. E. Fairfield and Mrs. Edward Wright —one brother Mr. John Robertson of Calgary, Alberta, as well as two son, Kenneth, in Chicago.

RADIO

RADIO REPAIRING and SERVICE

All Makes

Phone 132

THE JOHN LEWIS Co., Ltd.

Stage and Screen Presentations CAPITOL THE HOUSE OF HITS!

WHERE SOUND SOUNDS BETTER

The World's Greatest Amusement-The Stage Play "There is Nothing Like it"

TONIGHT

The Graham STOCK COMPANY

Present

"DETOURING WIVES"

That famous Broadway success which has made such a hit here. Also

The sensational musical smash

"SPRING IS HERE"

With Alexander Gray, Bernice Claire, Ford Sterling.

TOMORROW

The Graham Stock Co.

will present

The funniest of all stage plays

"Polly of the Follies"

Also

Thomas Meighan's FIRST TALKING PICTURE

"THE ARGYLE CASE"

The screen's new voice! The favorite of millions cloaked in an entirely new personality. He'll thrill you in his greatest dramatic role. With LILA LEE and H. B. WARNER.

This is not a trial picture but a sensational detective drama!

REGULAR ADMISSION

R. J. GRAHAM'S AFRICAN TALK WAS INTERESTING

Local World Traveller Gave Illustrated Lecture at Y's Men's Club

R. J. Graham, delighted the members of the Belleville Y's Men's Club with one of his travel talks at their weekly luncheon held in the Y.M.C.A. last night. Mr. Graham who has travelled in many interesting countries of the world, chose as his subject last night, "Africa". He pointed out the outstanding features as he saw them in the dark continent, while his lecture was made particularly instructive and fascinating by several reels of film taken while Mr. Graham, his daughter Grace and his son Bruce were babysaying in the great game hunting areas of this wonderful country.

Mr. Graham described the Zulu War dance as one of the most picturesque scenes he had ever witnessed. He cited the splendid discipline in the ranks of the Zulus and mentioned one particular instance where the tribe was ordered into a raging fire to stamp it out with their bare feet. Of two thousand men who entered the inferno only one has'nt returned. The others succumbing under the terrific heat. "No General ever succeeded in training his warriors as he did" remarked Mr. Graham.

Had a Great Vision

The speaker characterized Cecil Rhodes as "the greatest Empire builder Africa." The speaker characterized Cecil Rhodes as "the greatest Empire builder Africa." "He visioned the British Government from Cape Town to Cairo and proposed a great continental railway. Cecil Rhodes, before he died, added two Provinces to the British rule, the two Rhodesias."

Mr. Graham pictured his unique tomb built in solid rock at the top of a huge mountain. Victoria Falls, two and a half times as high as Niagara was vividly outlined by the speaker who also told of the great continental railway over which it takes seven days to travel. Mr. Graham was a visitor to the spot where the two great African explorers, Livingstone and Stanley met, both of whom were bent on seeking the source of the Zambesi River. He referred to the very splendid agricultural areas along the Nile, Zambesi and Congo Rivers.

Mr. Graham devoted some time to a description of the big game hunting plains. "The expedition go in long columns and every pleasure is provided, they drive in motor cars and expert attention is given your welfare by a retinue of servants," he said.

Game Hunting

Mr. Graham in his illustrated lecture took the members of the club through parts of the jungle, picturing the wild animal life including tigers, lepers and giraffes besides innumerable types of birds. The giraffes did not prove camera-shy as did the others and the Graham party were able to get excellent "shots" of these elongated animals which were shown eating from the top of large thorn trees. The reels also depicted the various tribes in their war dances with their garb symbolic of the tribes.

Mr. Bruce Graham operated the film machine and at the close of the meeting a great vote of thanks was passed to both Mr. Graham and his son.

"Army" Armstrong occupied the chair last night and a splendid musical program preceded the speaker. Vic Gordon rendered two piano numbers in his own inimitable style while Jack Silver, a member of the club brought down the house with two following renditions.

The members were reminded of the Y.M.C.A. circus tonight and the dinner at the Quinte Country Monday night at which Hon. E. C. Drury will be the speaker. He will speak to the Belleville Gyro Club on "The St. Lawrence Waterways."

Charlie (Buddy) Rogers, Jean Arthur in "Half Way to Heaven" at Paramount Picture

Young America's boy friend in his new throb thriller, commencing at the Regent Theatre tomorrow, matinee daily, with a Mack Sennett Comedy, Fox News and new topical offering.

Coleman Ward's Network

(Continued from Page One)

stituted on North Front Street from the Upper Bridge to the north side of Earl Street, said pavement to be 27 feet wide and to include all necessary curbs and gutters, storm sewers, water, sanitary sewers, gas renewals and extensions and that the City Clerk be authorized to advertise the construction under section 8 of the Local Improvement Act." When the work is advertised, the residents on the street affected, may appeal to the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board if they do not wish the work completed.

Fire Hall Situation

The situation respecting the improvements or the building of a new fire station to house all the equipment under one roof is still in abeyance but the matter will be considerably cleared up, when a report is brought in by the whole council. Tomorrow evening, the whole council will meet as a committee at the City Hall and journey to the two fire halls to closely inspect them and then recommendations will be submitted to the regular meeting on that inspection. This meeting coming as the result of a letter received from the Parks Board objecting to the council negotiating for the sale of the lot commonly known as "Firemen's Park." The Parks Board consider it would be a wrong move to sell this lot for the erection of a gas service station, as the park is used extensively by the children during the summer months and also by the citizens for a resting place. It forms the entrance to Victoria Park and the members feel the beauty of that spot would be lost if the sale was made. It is not likely, that the Council will entertain the sale of "Firemen's Park.

Extend Lingham Street?

A letter was received from William Rosevear, 35 North Front Street, asking permission to erect a gas service station on the southeast corner of North Front and Harvey Streets. The City Engineer recommended the site and the building conforms to the building by-law of the city. The matter was referred back to the Chairman of Public Works, Ald. McMillan and the City Engineer for a report. The manager of the Water Works was instructed to proceed with the laying of a water main on Parker Street. Alderman McMillan and City Engineer Mott were appointed a committee to investigate and report re opening Lingham Street through to Emily Street. The Belleville Hydro Commission were instructed to place a number of poles and some lights in different sections of the city.

Parking Laws

Rules were suspended for the introduction of many by-laws and the council was occupied with the passing of these by-laws for some time. A by-law to confirm the agreement between the Rawson Bus Line and the City of Belleville was passed. The most important by-law was the one providing a clause of the traffic by-law and the adding of a clause to prohibit parking on Coleman Street, while the reconstruction of the new sewer there is in progress. The tourist traffic will be routed up Coleman Street and it will be necessary to prohibit parking on the street. A by-law to adopt the assessment made and revised in 1929 to be assessment for 1930 was passed and consent given to the C.P.R. to cross McDonald Avenue with their south passing track. By-laws for the issue of debentures of $40,000.00 for Suburban Roads and $6,830.36 for certain local improvements were also passed.

Mourn Ex-Alderman

Under motions Alderman Charles L. Hyde introduced one expressing the regret of the Council on the death of Donald G. Bleeker and extending sympathy to the sister and the bereaved family. The clerk was instructed to send on this letter of condolence to the family. There being no other business to transact the council adjourned.

BUSINESS BETTER THORNTON STATES

NEW YORK, April 28.—Business activity in Canada is steadily increasing, and normal conditions may again prevail by August, Sir Henry Thornton chairman and president of the Canadian National Railways, declared upon his arrival from Montreal.

"Traffic on the Canadian National continues well below a year ago, but it is better than it was earlier this year The present quiet period in industry, which followed the Autumn stock market decline, probably will prove to be only temporary," Sir Henry asserted.

"Mining activities in Canada are holding up substantially to last year's high levels. Reflecting this activity, ore loadings on the Canadian National so far this year have been practically as large as a year ago.

You'll be Surprised -just as I was!

When I first investigated Plymouth, I had a big background of experience with low-priced motor cars. Frankly, I was amazed then, and I am more amazed now at the things Plymouth offers for its price.

Take a look at them. See if you can match them. Think alittle about what they mean in satisfaction.

—More Roominess.
—More Comfort.
—Bigger Frame.
—Chrysler Engineered,
—High Compression Motor.
—Chrysler-type pep.
—Chrysler Precision Craftsmanship.

—Outstanding economy of operation and maintenance.
—Weatherproof 4-wheel hydraulic brakes.

A few years ago, only out-and-out expensive cars offered you such luxuries. Today you can secure them at a price right down among the lowest in the world.

Come in and see the Plymouth. Drive it and compare it. I know you'll thank me for calling its greater value to your attention.

BOYCE DREW,
Sales Manager Belleville Motors

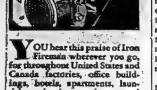
$875

ROADSTER $885.00
COUPE $860.00
DE LUXE $935.00

BELLEVILLE MOTORS

Phone 2200 Pinnacle Street

"This is a great machine, Bill . . .



It's saving us a lot of money"

YOU hear this praise of Iron Fireman wherever you go, for throughout United States and Canada factories, office buildings, hotels, apartments, laundries, schools, greenhouses and homes are turning to it as a source of profit, comfort and convenience.

If Iron Fireman did not do all its manufacturers claim for it, users would be less extravagant in their praise of the machine when talking to neighbors and friends.

Iron Fireman "Forced Underfiring" has ushered in a new era in coal firing . . . . Complete combustion . . . . Smoke nuisance abated . . . . Labor costs of hand firing cut . . . . Consistent annual savings of 15 to 50 per cent in fuel costs . . . . Even temperatures, day and night . . . . And no fires to build on cold winter mornings.

WASTEFUL Fuel from above. SCIENTIFIC Fuel from below.

An Iron Fireman engineer will gladly call and survey your plant and render a report that fairly and accurately contrasts your present results and costs with results and costs you may expect from an Iron Fireman. Ask us for this service. It is free.

Iron Fireman can be purchased on convenient terms.

J. B. BOYCE
344-346 FRONT STREET
IRON FIREMAN

The machine that made coal an automatic fuel

Human behavior is usually the result of habit.

RADIO FANS CORNER

Well now last night's reception was something like what it should be at all time but try and get it. Last night it was possible to pick up distant stations which we haven't been able to do for quite a while.

Heard Gus and Lena last night for the first time in many moons and they sounded good to my hungry ears. believe me! Oh well maybe "better times are coming" as a current popular song says.

I heard of one or two isolated cases last night of fans missing Amos 'n' Andy just because they forgot all about Daylight Saving but I'll be willing to bet it won't happen again. Andy was in danger of going much deeper in the mire of trouble that has surrounded him of late but just at the crucial moment Amos walked in. Where that coloured boy would be without Amos is a hard "propolition" to figure out.

One good thing about this Daylight Saving everybody gets to bed an hour earlier and yet doesn't miss the good programs that come on the air late in the evening.

Lew White offers us an organ recital tonight at 6.30 E.S.T. and will be heard over CKGW as well as the key station WJZ and its chain.

Well, well listen to the treat that is in store for us tonight. At 11 E.S.T. from WJZ will come the American Arbitration Association theatre party with De Wolfe Hopper as master of ceremonies. Among those present will be Amos 'n' Andy, Mme. Schumann-Heinck, Gertrude Lawrence, Will Mahoney, William Gaylon, Grace Dubey and Genevieve Tobin. Several outstanding speakers are also on the program.

From WEAF at 7.30 to-night we'll hear the famous Coon-Sanders' orchestra in the Florsheim Frolic program. Happy Wonder Bakers at 8, E.S.T. and they promise a snappy

ECLIPSE PROVES DISAPPOINTMENT

Scientists in Far West Believe it was Not Absolutely Total

SAN FRANCISCO, April 29 — Strange violet-tinted midnight visited northern California and parts of Nevada at midday yesterday, when the moon passed between the earth and sun, bathing a narrow one-half mile strip in darkness.

It was not totally dark, however, but more like a half-moon glowing through a tropical night. The sight was program for us.

Radio Keith Orpheum hour tonight at nine-thirty over WEAF and it holds many surprises in store for us that they are at present not divulging. Phil Spitalny's orchestra at 10.30, too, tonight over WEAF, so let's go.

thrilling and inspiring to laymen observers but was a disappointment for learn'-working scientists who had hoped to photograph the lotal eclipse.

There were light leaks through the deep ravines and valleys that groove the moon and for that reason the eclipse may not have been total.

The irregular surface of the moon let some of the piercing rays of the sun filter earthward but that did not make sufficient difference to anyone except trained astronomers.

The eclipse, starting near Butte, Mont., ran across Nevada and nine northwestern counties of California. It lasted one-100th of being total in San Francisco and nearby points.

Just a suggestion of an obstruction closed over an edge of the sun at 9.36 a.m. Pacific time, but the eclipse was not plainly visible through a smoked glass until 10 a.m., and then it started getting dark until at 10.58 there was merely a suggestion of a faint glow of light around the dark blot that hid the earth from the sun.

Scientific men in camps along the path of the eclipse flew through the dimming skies in airplanes but this racing with the rushing shadow of the moon was a joke. The airplanes roared along at more than 100 miles per hour but the shadow of the moon was much faster—its speed being between 1,300 and 1,500 miles per hour.

After 10 Years of Sickness Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy proved the only relief for one grateful user, and this is but one case among many. Little wonder that it has now become the one recognized remedy on the market. It has earned its fame by its never failing effectiveness. It is serving it today, as it has done for years. It is the greatest asthma specific within the reach of suffering humanity.

QUAKE IN ITALY

SALERNO, Italy, April 28.—A severe earthquake was felt in several towns north and east of Mount Vesuvius Monday, plunging the inhabitants into panic.

Not a single house escaped damage in Torelli Di Castel San Giorgio, a section of the town of Sicano. The earth movement was strongest there, at 2 a great number of separate shocks.

Petroleum production in Venezuela has increased to a monthly rate of about 12,000,000 barrels.

We recommend

London Realty Company, Limited

6½% First Mortgage 20-year Sinking Fund Gold Bonds

Dated May 1st, 1930 Due May 1st, 1950

Legal Investment for Life Insurance Companies under the Insurance Act of Canada

This issue represents a First Mortgage on all the land, buildings and equipment of the Company. When the contemplated addition to the present building is completed, this issue will represent less than a 50% Mortgage on the depreciated appraised value of the fixed assets. In addition it constitutes a first floating charge on all other assets. Net earnings amount to over twice annual interest requirements.

In our opinion, investors seeking a permanent investment to yield over 6½% with safety of principal and established earning power cannot do better than place portions of their funds in these bonds.

Price: 99½ to yield over 6.50%

R. A. DALY & CO.
LIMITED
80 KING STREET WEST
TORONTO
W. E. SCHUSTER, Representative, Belleville.

THE ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER

THE DAILY ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER is published every afternoon (Sunday and holidays excepted) at The Ontario Intelligencer Building, Front Street.

RATES—DAILY EDITION:

Year, delivered in city $7.00
Year, by mail to rural offices 3.50
Year, to U.S.A. 3.50

Toronto Representative—D. O. McKinnon, 41 Victoria Street

W. H. MORTON, Publisher

HOW TO CLEAN UP

That time of year is at hand when clean-up is the watchword. The notice has already gone out to clean backyards and premises. That the notice is necessary is evident from a casual glance around some places but things are not what they used to be. There is not now the real job in the clean-up that there used to be before the garbage collection system was instituted.

There is another field for clean-up. With the coming of the motorcar, the disappearance of the horse largely, and the restrictions which have practically put other animals out of bounds within the city, there has come a time when few small buildings, sheds, and barns, are needed. Today most of these stands as mementoes of the past, they are many of them in a state of half demolition and little would ge required in the way of work to remove them. They are readily replaced by new ones which is a real need of this day not only as a housing place for cars but also as a place wherein implements required about a home may be placed.

The removal of hundreds of these old sheds and barns would be a boon to the city. It would make for a more cleanly city to remove them for these places are made collection spots of all kinds of refuse. It would make for a more beautiful city. Fences have lately gone and the lawns and gardens look the better for the present day condition. Absence of tumble-down sheds would make possible beautification on every lot, with the backyard made into lawn or garden.

There is a great field here in this regard. The past few years have seen the disappearance, in accelerating numbers of barns. Let the movement be kept up until only the essential buildings remain.

OLIVER CROMWELL

The Montreal Gazette devotes considerable attention to the life and career of Oliver Cromwell, the Great Protector, who was born 331 years ago this month. The Gazette pays a fine tribute to his place in British history:-

"The Protectorate of Cromwell began in 1653. It lasted five years. The self-denying ordinance and the reorganization of the army were conspicuous features of the new Government. It was a confused and vociferant period, what with the Levellers and Fifth Monarchy Men, the Parliament at odds with the army and the army at odds with itself. The cause of the Commons passed under the harrow of a militant oligarchy. Reactions set in, which the Royalists deemed in their favor. Cromwell read in the signs of the times the urgent need for a dictator. And he played the part with a resolution, promptitude and vigor that bespeaks the born leader. His policy achieved the union of England, Scotland, and Ireland. British prestige, as regards her foreign policy, was never more higher than when Blake swept Rupert from the seas and had command of the Mediterranean. For the first time in English history, the House of Commons met with its personal representative of the United Kingdom. And the formal and distinctive pronouncement that the will of the Commons is supreme in the political affairs of State still forms the pattern upon which the governmental function is modelled. As this we remove, we can better appraise the blasted dictum of Peter Heylin that 'a few tares sprang up which caused a disorderly usurper to take the harvest for himself,' or again, the jibe of Burnett that Cromwell dies with his arts and his faculties exhausted. The Protector made mistakes. He could stamp his foot and make the British mace, 'that bauble,' jingle whilst alarmed spectators 'howled.' But 'Oliver' was stout of heart and a lover of freedom, and as one of the most valiant and greatest of English Commoners, we have reason to honor his name. He fought a good fight!"

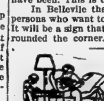
OPEN AIR

There is an unmistakable sign that the people will sooner or later come to realize that the open air life is the best and that it is in reality the life for which nature intended us. The motor car and the summer resort, outdoor sport, the constant reiteration in the press by special articles dealing with ventilation and life of the open are bringing results.

Houses are being built to provide a maximum of air and fresh air. That is nature's intention in the lives of men and women.

Were people of the present age living as they ought to live there would be in the rear of homes small parks where there would be the opportunity for small groups formed for games, where the sunlight and the fresh air might be enjoyed. Indeed the idea might be carried farther to reserve small acres of land in the rear of all properties for the purpose of small breathing places in which children and even adults might profitably spend a part of their hours of leisure, for all people have leisure or should have leisure.

The natural attitude will triumph but a little organization along these lines among neighbors would undoubtedly help the movement along.



THE SCREEN DOOR

Screen doors are having a long rest. Winter is so persistent in its traces. When the weather gets warm enought the screen door will come forward to its accustomed place but it seems so long since the zephyrs came through it.

With the eclipse of the sun out of the way people are wondering if spring weather will set in in earnest.

Weather plays a more important part in business and in the happiness of men and women than is generally realized. Bad weather ties up trade, it prevents any concerted thought along the lines of improving one's appearance by the purchase of new clothes and house furniture. There are such things as the seasonable things too. If weather stays inauspicious beyond a certain date not all the warmth of a boiling sun can redeem business to what it ought to have been. This is the kink in the weather.

In Belleville there are thirteen thousand persons who want to see the screen door again. It will be a sign that the weather has definitely rounded the corner.

SIDELIGHTS

HOMESICK

Sometimes I grow so homesick for the old hills of home,
The high hills, the green hills, that wait there for me yet;
I never have forgotten them, though far my feet might roam—
The blue hills, the true hills—how could my heart forget?

Here in the loud-voiced city there are no kindly hills—
Only hills of iron, great honey-combs of steel
That sing no song for my worn soul like the happy hills
That grain below the hills of home—dear hills that bless and heal.

Oh, for a day in the ancient hills!
Oh, for an afternoon
To lie upon their velvet side and watch the clouds of foam,
And twilight, and pale evening, and then the solemn noon—
But I am pent in the city, ye far blue hills of home!

—Charles Hanson Towne.

* * *

"DADDY" ALLEN was just one citizen of a comparatively small community in Ohio. Just a plain ordinary citizen, not different from any other good citizen, except in one particular, he took a great interest in the welfare of crippled children and did everything he could to make life easier for them. Hence the name "Daddy" which he wears as a shining crown of honour. Along came the Rotary movement, and "Daddy" communicated his enthusiasm for crippled children to his own Rotary club. In time he was devoting his life and wealth to the movement which has now grown Rotary alone and is now worldwide in scope. All goes to show that big men don't have to be born and raised in big towns. Mayo Brothers, whose father was a country doctor of the old school started a medical institution in a small town which is now world-famous; Jack Miner erected a pond on his farm and now the whole world knows about it; Edison did his greatest work in his rural laboratory; and other instances might be noted where the spark of genius in small communities started a blaze which was reflected round the world.

* * *

SPEED seems to be the order of the day but it is to be hoped that speedy motorists will not try to make these new fast trains at the crossing. It may take less than a minute to go a mile but it takes less than that to go to eternity.

* * *

SIX O'CLOCK DINNER has been changed to 6.15 on account of Daylight Saving and Amos 'n' Andy.

* * *

DAYLIGHT SAVING on the radio means that father gets to bed an hour earlier.

* * *

SWIFTER AND SWIFTER runs the current of life in Canada. Automobiles are quoted on their ability to go seventy miles an hour or better and the passenger trains are also speeding up to keep pace with the rush of modern life. Beginning Sunday passenger trains are running to Chicago from Montreal and back again on schedules from which an hour or two had been clipped. Trains go farther in an hour than travellers used to go in a day in the older times and everything is keyed up to this mad rush to get nowhere. I have known motorists to rush madly in their cars around the streets of the city then far out in the country only to stop somewhere for an hour or two and try to make up their mind where they were going and why. Motor madness and hysteria are akin, seems to me who walk.

* * *

MODERN ETIQUETTE

By Roberta Lee

Q.—Should toothpicks be used at the end of a meal?

A.—No, they are never used and should never be offered.

Q.—Should an applicant or a prospective employer offer to shake hands first?

A.—The employer.

Q.—What trait of character does it show when a man merely touches his hat when greeting an acquaintance, in place of lifting his hat?

A.—It shows that he is unmannerly and lazy.

COULD NOT DRESS HIMSELF

Had to be Helped out of Bed

NOW FEELS TWENTY YEARS YOUNGER

Rheumatism Gone

Just think of it! Could not rise from bed without assistance and had to be helped into his clothes! One month later he was active, free from pain and feeling 20 years younger. Read how he did it:—

"I am 69 years of age. Four years ago I had a severe attack of Rheumatism and Lumbago, which continued for six months, and for some time I was quite unable to dress myself or rise up from my bed without assistance. After reading about Kruschen Salts I commenced taking a half teaspoonful of Salts in a glass of hot water first thing in the morning for about three weeks and I began to improve. Afterwards I took a small dose, every day, to cover a sixpence, every morning in my first cup of tea, and in a month's time I felt quite well and have not since had an ache or pain and feel 20 years younger. I am still keeping to the small dose in the tea every morning. I am thankful to say it has cured me and I feel it." H. H.

It is common knowledge that Rheumatism and lumbago are caused by needle-pointed uric acid crystals getting lodged in the muscles and joints.

Kruschen Salts dulls the sharp edges of these crystals and then dissolves them away altogether. Afterwards, Kruschen flushes the system clear of every trace of these dissolved crystals. Furthermore, Kruschen prevents uric acid from ever forming again. How? Simply by assisting the body to expel every day all undigested food which produces uric acid and other body poisons which undermine the health. Kruschen Salts is obtainable at all Drug Stores at 65c and 75c, per bottle, and is manufactured by: The Kruschen Chemical Company (Established 1760), Importers: Medici-way Bros., Ltd., Toronto.

GOTHAM SHOCKED BY SCULPTOR'S SPRING DANCE

Bolsterous Spring Ushered In With a Unique Flourish

New York, April 29.—About this time of year one begins to see in some maple trees and pools. Grass turns green and rivers torpid. The wan winter sun faintly smiles, and in the Latin Quarter, Greenwich Village and Soho, painters and sculptors and scribblers crawl to their dormer windows to thaw inspiration in the balmy effulgence of the vernal season.

In Brooklyn the tradition is different. Perhaps there are no dormer windows. Anyway, in Brooklyn spring comes in with a zip and a scowl, a yell and a bell at a ballooshoo, frightening little maids on the way to school, stopping stolid trolley cars dead in their tracks, filling the streets with excitement and confusion and calling out the police.

Bolstering spring romped through an open window in the Columbia Heights section of Brooklyn and made a playfellow out of Ella Dartois. Ella is a sculptor who has experience of all springs, all of them about the same—except this one. This spring grabbed him around the waist and whirled him round and up through the skylight of his studio to dance a gay fandango on the cornice.

The cornice and roof are only four stories above the earth, so when Ella insisted a pause was in order spring let skip along the edge of the roof he attracted attention from the street. Then one, then two, then a dozen and finally about two thousand people joined the street in front of the studio watching the young sculptor invoke the spirit of springtime.

As the spirit of the thing began to grow on him he made offerings to the spring. First his shoes—each one removed while teetering on one leg on the edge of the roof—then his coat, shirt, socks. He flung them to the breezes, skipping and dancing as he unbuttoned. In five minutes he was down to shorts and undervest. Then flung his arms in a shower of kisses to the crowd below and pranced off the stage to his model dressing space afforded by a chimney. And then he made his reappearance — this time dressed only in his short and saucy undershirt.

The crowd set up a roar of encouragement and Ella clasped Spring in his arms and danced with the more abandonment. He vanished for an instant and reappeared without the undershirt. The crowd cheered and surged. Two score of little girls, trudging by on the way to a nearby school, had stopped in open-mouthed wonder to gaze at the funny man on the roof. Matrons in the crowd hurriedly turned the little girls around and started them off to school with admonitions not to look back. One young lady screamed and almost fell in a faint.

"O Spring! O Goddess of the flowering bough" intoned Ella, abandoning the dance for the lambic pentameter "Olimpe Spring Three-One Hundred!" some one down below was intoning into a telephone at the same moment. The line did not scan, but it involved police headquarters and patrolmen masterminded within a few minutes. They called more men to clear away the crowd. They gained the roof by way of a fire escape and crawled across it, edging closer and closer to the sculptor who was still manufacturing poetry and new dance steps without a thought to custom or costume.

They grabbed him with sudden rushes and carried him away from the brink of the roof, scratching and kicking. For fifteen minutes they struggled and had him subdued sufficiently to wrap him in a piece of canvas when he broke loose again and ran back to the edge of the roof.

This time ten stout citizens were called up and Ella Dartois was carried away in a waiting ambulance from Kings County Hospital. Dr. Gardner of Long Island College Hospital took a look at him and suggested the observation ward. They will know shortly whether his inspiration mercifully thawed too quickly or whether every succeeding spring is going to affect him the same way.

NASSAK DIAMOND IS CAUSE OF LAWSUIT

Washington, April 29.—Whether the 78-carat Nassak' Diamond, which once was the cyclopean eye'of the Goddess Siva in an Indian temple, is "artistic," or just an "antiquity" is to be decided by the United States Court of Customs and Patent Appeals. Attorneys argued the artistic qualities of the Nassak before the customs and patent appeals court exhibiting the shallow triangular stone to the judges and spectators. A decision is not expected for some time.

When G. Maubousin of Paris imported his diamond into the United States in 1927 he contended it came under a congressional tariff ruling which provided for the free entry of "artistic antiquities" more than 100 years old. The Nassak was admitted duty free. Then a New York firm intervened, claiming the diamond was not artistic and hence dutiable. Attorneys for the New York firm contended that the triangular gem was first cut to express the ideal of the lapidary and for that reason was not artistic.

The Nassak, part of the English East India Company booty when the last Prince of Peishwa surrendered in 1818 had been the central figure in the sacred statue of the Goddess Shiva, in a temple near Nassak on the Upper Godavery river. It disappeared for a time and later became the property of the Duke of Westminster who had it placed in the hilt of a sword. Maubousin purchased it from the Duke of Westminster's family and imported it to the United States. The triangular gem is one of the largest to have been found in India. The great Mogul, Nadir Shah, had only a 90-carat stone. The Cullinan diamond, however, found in the Transvaal of South Africa in 1905, was the largest, weighing 3,025 carats in the rough. It was cut into 105 stones, the largest, 516 carats.

If the Nassak is held not to be "artistic" its importer must pay a twenty per cent. duty on a value of more than $250,000.

CANADIAN SOLDIER HEARD OVER RADIO

Miami Beach, Fla., April 29.—Pain Bill Williams, a Canadian infantryman during the war, with a mental library of 1,200 lyrics and scores, is "Old Man Sunshine" to the radio audience with its range of Station WIOD. He likes to play and sing old-fashioned sentimental songs and ballads. He cannot put his heart into modern melodies.

He was plain Bill Williams as a "pal" read telegrapher, structural iron worker, Canadian infantryman during the world war, dirt track automobile racer and licensed pilot. He gained his sobriquet when he answered the request of a Birmingham, Ala., tot to sing. Several days later the youngster called him "Old Man Sunshine" in a letter of thanks.

Before he was a radio entertainer, Williams lost his right leg in the battle of Ypres as a member of the 126th Canadian regiment. Leaving army hospitals to rebuild his health, he also built his personality as a conveyor of cheery messages and songs over the radio. "I'm a sort of radio psychiatrist," Bill explained. "I started at WHAC, Lansing, Mich., when our equipment was a 50-watt set screwed on a kitchen table."

During the 1928 election Williams broadcast returns for nine hours straight. When results ran out he ad-libbed with songs and piano playing. He now holds a permanent berth at WIOD here. Broadcasting, however, is not all of Bill's radio work. He likes to tinker with the apparatus that throws his "whispering baritone" songs over the south. The one-legged artist recently scaled the 250-foot tower of WIOD's transmitting station and painted them "just for the fun of it."

There are eleven muscles in the human tongue.

Curtain Fabrics

Housecleaning will find many curtains that have to be replaced. Cotton and rayon Marquisettes and pretty designs in nets are offered in variety in low and medium priced qualities at ..... 25c TO 1.00

Cretonnes

Cretonnes for every purpose, will be needed; for upholstering, cushions, curtains; you will find clever designs in new colorings, 32 to 50 inches wide, some reversible. Some as low as 25c yard, others to $1.00.

Lovers' Form Corsets

We extend you a cordial invitation to meet

MISS KATE J. NICOL

who will be with us

Thursday May 1st and Friday May 2

DEMONSTRATING

Lovers-Form, Luckee Girl, Moy-May, Bodigidget and Glovette Corsets and foundation garments for all types.

Avail yourself of the opportunity to see what these modern corsets can do for you. You will be delighted.

SINCLAIR'S

Earle & Cook Co.

Sale of Ladies' Coats

We place on Sale Ladies' Coats in Newest Spring Styles, in Fancy Tweed, Tricotine and Poiret Twill, at Greatly Reduced Prices.

LADIES' COATS $9.95—On Sale at ... $ 7.79
LADIES' COATS $14.95—On Sale at $11.95
LADIES' COATS $19.95—On Sale at ... $13.95
LADIES' COATS $25.00—On Sale at ... $17.95

JAMIESON BONE & COMPANY

Orders executed on leadig stock exchanges. Full Quotations and Bulletin Service on Winnipeg and Chicago Grain.

Stock Brokers

Office and Board Room, Chamber of Commerce Bldg. BELLEVILLE	Direct Private Wires. Telephones 1264, 1365, 1366

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS
BACKACHES HEADACHES RHEUMATISM
BLOOD PRESSURE
KIDNEY DISEASE
1097 THE PROVINCE

GIRL UNAFRAID

BY

Gladys Johnson

Something desperate in that kiss. Reaching down into her heart, drain-ing it of courage, filling her with bit-ter rebellion.

When their lips parted, she did not lift her head. Instead she pressed her lips with a sort of hungry ferocity on his forehead, as he closed eyes, cover-ing his face with kisses.

The man suddenly thrust her away; swung upright. His hands trembled as they gripped her shoulders. His voice shook.

"No. No, darling. I can't stand it!"

she swayed back and crouched, hands pressed tightly over her face as though she would shut out reality.

Ken's face was white. He swallowed, drew a deep breath.

"I've been asleep, haven't I? What time is it? He drew out his watch, frowning down at it through the pink light. Alarm leaped into his eyes.

"Good Lord! it's three o'clock! Ar-dath, I must go."

He stood up, reached for his over-coat, then stood motionless, one arm half in the sleeve. Suddenly dropped the coat and reaching down, pulled her up to him. His voice was a groan.

"Oh, darling..... to have to leave you...."

Lassies Disappears

The dash of caution in his mind crashed down and the suppressed longings of the years rushed out.

He crushed her face to his. "Sweet-heart—sweetheart!" he was whisper-ing.

The loneliness, the sorrow of the past months only added fuel to the fire. Pain and denial only made this moment the more precious. His the right, now, to snatch happiness at the ex-pense of everything—even at the ex-pense of this Wender, unresisting girl in his arms.

Her eyes were closed, her wet face upturned to him. The barrier had gone down in his own mind as well. She was aware of only one thing—she was with him. This was Ken hold-ing her. Ken feeding the heart-hunger that consumed her.

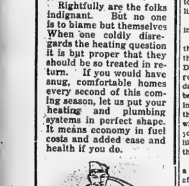
The man kissed a finger, gently wiped off a tear.

"Crying. I'm making you cry, sweetheart....."

"No! Don't go away, Ken..... Oh, darling....."

"It's wake up, like that, and find you near me! Ardath, I love you, so."

"I love you. Oh, I love you!"



"I know. God, it's ironical, isn't it. To ought like this—in a web. I can caught Ardath. I can't get out."

She lifted her hands and pulled down his face to her own.

"Don't think, dearest. I've thought so much. Nights, when I couldn't sleep. Lying here in the dark. Wak-ing. Always waiting. As though that would do any good. Isn't that silly?

"I know. I'm awake in the dark too. Thinking. Hating the whole miserable scheme of things."

"I don't hate that..... because you're in it. It's even worth the pain —having known you. I wouldn't Rightfully are the folks indignant. But no one is to blame but themselves When one coldly disre-gards the heating question it is but proper that they should be so treated in re-turn. If you would have snug, comfortable homes every second of this com-ing season, let us put your heating and plumbing systems in perfect shape. It means economy in fuel costs and added ease and health if you do.

Chas. L. Hyde

THE STOVE KING

Plumbing and Electrical Heating Specialist

PHONE 38

Former Army Capt. Lauds It

CAPT. G. SUTHERLAND

"I had no end of troubles with in-digestion, constipation and attendant ills. It was common for me to suffer for hours after my evening meal, and by dark degrees my mental condition was worn threadbare. After taking 5 bottles of Sargon I can hardly be-lieve that I ever suffered with indiges-tion. My whole system has been strengthened and invigorated. Sar-gon Pills accomplished wonders in overcoming my constipation."—Capt. G. Sutherland former officer of Com-pany B, 110th Irish Regiment, 14 Rivercourt Boulevard, Toronto.

Sargon may be obtained in Belle-ville at Dolan the Druggist, Front Street.

chorus happiness without you. I couldn't, wouldn't be happiness."

What of the Future?

He had cupped her face between his two hands, holding it upturned like a flower. Studying its flushed sweet-ness, the dark anxiety of her eyes.

He shook her head slightly, a little bitter smile on his lips. "Darling what are we going to do? When I want you, you....."

"Hush. Don't think!"

He jerked his head back nervously. "Think!" his voice was rough. "How can I help it? Wanting you! Years and years stretching ahead..... What about the years ahead, Ardath? What about them?"

The roughness of that throbbed through her mind mingled pain and joy. She was listening to his voice, not his words.

"Ah, woo, Ardath. I can't get out. Did you hear that? Not a chance. She said that—Cecile said that—"

"Cecile?" That startled through to her hearing.

"That other time when—when I brought the poor little fellow here. Remember—he broke your chain? That tiny pearl chain? The nurse found one of the little flowers in his hand. She got it back to Cecile. Cecile recognized it.

Ardath pushed him away as sudden blinding rage swept down on her. Scorching her. Shaking through her body. In that moment she could have killed Cecily. Could have killed herself at that beautiful cold face, tearing it with her hands.

"Oh, she's wicked! She has every-thing—and she takes you! And you're mine! You always were mine. And you knew it! She tricked me—because you wanted me. I know! Mary told me. Not love—it wasn't love with her! It was gold! Why do we let a woman like that ruin our lives..... Just for spite! We have a right to happin-ess!"

He was gripping her shoulders hard. "Ardath—No! Hush, sweetheart, you're wrung yourself out!"

She flung off his hands. "We con-sider her! We're fools! Fools! Let's do as we please. Let's go away—any-where, just so we are together."

Ashen misery in his face. He tried to draw her to his side. "Don't dar-ling."

"Oh, you don't care! You're think-ing of her out of me!"

His mouth twisted. His eyes blazed through the dim light. "Lord!..... To think that! You know it's you! Don't you think it would be easy to go away with you? To leave this damned miserable existence? God! to be free..... Nothing matters—noth-ing matters but you. I tell you. No, that isn't so! You matter! That's why I mustn't. You—nothing in it for you but misery. The world isn't run like that, Ardath. I mustn't forget that."

She was crying, clinging to him like a child. "Ken, take me. I'm not afraid—"

"I'm not afraid either, Ardath. Ex-cept of hurting you. Don't make me a d'avorce. She said so. It will only end in hurting you."

"Nobody would know if I go or not, Ken. I'm not afraid."

The Lurking Figure

Ken was holding her close, so close she could feel the thumping of his heart. Holding her tightly, long after she had relaxed into quiet cryng.

A little while passed..... a mom-ent like a breath of eternity. The dim hall beside them was very still. Ken stirred. Sighed. Put her gently away. "Have to go, Ardath. It's very late."

A nervous trembling had seized her. This was losing Ken all over again. She wanted to protest, to cry out against his leaving, but she only closed her eyes and whispered, "Please...."

"I was wrong to come, sweetheart. You comforted me and now I leave you unhappy—"

Out through the shop where the dim reflection of the street light on the corner gleamed coldly on the front of the glass case, on the shiny top of the teakwood tabourette.

He kissed her gently, tasting the salt on her lips. She was still murmur-ing "Please..... please....." when he let himself out of the front door.

Neither of them saw a dark figure lurking in the shelter of a doorway across the street.

(To Be Continued)

HOW TO GET RID OF AGITATORS

Geneva, N. Y., April 29—Isadore Moscowitz and the unemployment and communistic problem arrived in this city at the same time. Thanks to Pa-trolman Eddie Hill, six feet two and rough, Izzy was on his way out of town a short time later and Geneva's com-mon communist demonstration had been quelled.

Patrolman Hill was walking down Main Street, ready to "happen along" for any emergency when loud voices and a crowd drew his attention. "I need a job and some of these men must give me one. The world owes me a liv-ing and it is up to you people to see that I get it." Izzy was demanding from merchants and passers-by.

"I'm a matter for the judge," Pa-trolman Eddie decided. Before the court, Izzy enlarged on his communis-tic doctrine and harangued the judge. Two of the merchants he had selected as his employers, and the po-liceman. Something had to be done about it. The store proprietors ad-mitted a failing for liking to patronize own help and the judge didn't like the first communist he had seen.

"If we pay your fare to Rochester will you leave town?" the merchants offered their solution.

Rochester; I don't like the town. Buffalo, now, perhaps I might like it," was the qualified acceptance.

"Hold," was the reply. "Do you Izzy ought to be there by now.

ROYAL PAIR WILL SHARE "DIGGINGS"

Sunningdale, Eng., April 29—Prince George was the Prince of Wales' most closer pals than ever when the latter returns from hunting in Africa. The Prince Prince has developed a very deep affection for his "kid brother" and now that Prince George is about to take the Persian Office, which he entered less than a year ago after leaving the Navy, because of ill health, the Prince of Wales has made arrangements for him to share his "digs" here at Fort Belvedere.

Prince George has recovered from the digestive complaints from which he has been suffering for many months but his physicians have prescribed three months for him. The two royal brothers are going to live together here. A special suite of rooms has been made for Prince George on the first floor. Prince George is de-sirous by many to be the best look-ing of the King's four sons. He has deep-set eyes, is fairly tall and incred-ibly slender.

He is a graceful dancer and is very popular in his own and the Prince's set. He is the only one of the King's sons who is really fond of music and he plays it well. He is also the best read of the royal princes and is a col-lector of first editions.

Says! Tanlac Without Equal For Stomach and Liver Troubles

Nurse Gives Remarkable Endorsement

Tanlac may seem miraculous in its action to millions who ended stom-ach, liver and kidney troubles as well as rheumatism, pains in the back, sides, joints and muscles from its use —but the truth is every drop of Tan-lac is a strong potent medicine while most other medicines are weak and ineffective. Mrs. B. Piccord, a nurse with many years experience, is one who ought to know. She says, "In 10 years active nursing I've found Tanlac without an equal as a remedy for stomach and liver troubles and I can certainly promise people wonderful results in view of my long experience with this medicine. I had long stomach troubles for years, could eat scarcely anything without suffering, never any appetite, always nervous and run-down. But as soon as I be-gan Tanlac it started to build me right up. All stomach troubles were routed and never any pain, distress or gases since. Now I eat everything with perfect safety." Many "patent medicines" make glowing promises that may tempt you to buy them but remember Tanlac is a REAL medicine that backs its claims with a guaran-tee. Do not accept a substitute. At all druggists.

OUR DAILY SHORT STORY

THE BARGAIN

by

Bertha R. McDonald

Copyright, 1930, International Feature Service, Inc

Lucile Andrews had read and been told that love is quite as apt to come to a person suddenly and unannounced, as it is to creep upon one subtly through a slow awakening process.

She was forcibly reminded of this the day she first met Richard Barnes for she knew almost the moment she looked at him that this was the real, electric something which burned through her chaste, young heart, that he was the man she'd like to marry.

Nor was Richard wholly oblivious of Lucile. He seemed to enjoy her so crisply cool, fresh and first summery in fact, it was Lucile more often than otherwise who was his choice of part-ners for various functions to which both were bidden. When he met Kitty Claridge, after she came home from her summer vacation, however, things began to take a decided turn.

Barnes held a salaried position with a reputable firm of lawyers in Cam-bridge, with a view to partnership later on. Kitty was the daughter of the town's richest banker, a beautiful irresponsible, vivacious bit of girlish thistledown. The only child of a fond, doting father, she had her own way in life was to have a good time. Ac-cording to Kitty's philosophy, it was no reputable fun to think of sense or consequences. If one wanted to do a thing, why not do it?

The first romance of Dick's de-flection toward the brilliant new star which was suddenly thrown across his horizon was the time he gave a dinner party

ORGANIZE YOUTH INTO HARD BALL LEAGUE IN CITY

List Circulated for Players of Age from Twelve to Twenty

PLANS UNDER WAY

From all indications hard ball will receive a big boost in Belleville this year if the proposed leagues are carried out as planned in a letter written to the press some time ago. The argument offered against hard ball previously was that sufficient teams could not be secured to form a league. However it now rests with the boys themselves as teams, etc. will very likely be formed in number sufficient to take care of all who wish to play. Walter Gerow Sr. and Allan Meagher have so far interested themselves in the boys as to circulate lists getting signatures from all boys over 12 and under 20 who wish to play and these are to be returned to either of these gentlemen who will be in a position to hand same over to those who are sponsoring the game when an organization meeting is arranged. If the boys will inquire who have these lists which are out in plentiful numbers they can sign up at once before they are returned on May the 10th. They are advised to make haste and if sufficient interest is shown no doubt the future hopefuls will get their big chance this year. It is hoped that every boy will have a chance to play if he wishes to do so.

Here to stay!

20 FOR 20¢

BRUNETTE

5¢ LESS

—and just as good

Baseball Results

	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Buffalo	6	2	.750
Baltimore	7	4	.700
Toronto	6	6	.600
Rochester	5	4	.556
Newark	4	4	.500
Reading	4	5	.444
Montreal	3	7	.300
Jersey City	2	8	.200

Yesterday's Results

Toronto 1; Jersey City 0
Buffalo 8; Baltimore 4
Rochester 3; Newark 2
Reading 7; Montreal 5

AMERICAN LEAGUE

	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Washington	9	2	.818
Chicago	5	3	.625
Cleveland	5	4	.600
Philadelphia	5	4	.556
St. Louis	6	5	.545
Boston	4	7	.364
Detroit	4	9	.364
New York	2	7	.222

Yesterday's Results

Cleveland 3; St. Louis 1
Chicago 9; Detroit 7
Philadelphia 5; Boston 4
Washington 6; New York 5

NATIONAL LEAGUE

	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
New York	7	3	.875
Pittsburg	8	3	.800
Chicago	7	7	.500
Boston	4	4	.500
St. Louis	6	6	.462
Philadelphia	4	6	.400
Brooklyn	3	7	.300
Cincinnati	3	8	.272

Yesterday's Results

Philadelphia 7; Boston 4
Brooklyn 6; New York 4
St. Louis 8; Cincinnati 3
Chicago 7; Pittsburg 4.

PAINTS

GLIDDEN'S

—ENDURANCE PAINT
—VARNISHES
—VARNISH STAIN
—QUICK DRYING LACQ

Assorted Sizes

McKEOWN'S
DRUG STORE

S-T-O-P

And see the New Spring Styles at

CHAS. J. SYMONS
MEN'S STORE

PETERBORO WILL NOT PLAY BALL IN SENIOR LOOP

Lift-Locken Drop Franchise For The 1930 Season

Peterboro Baseball Club will not be represented in the Central Ontario Senior League this year. This information was conveyed to the Ontario Intelligencer from Peterboro this morning. The Peterboro Club asked for a few day's extension of time in order to make a definite decision at the Central Ontario meeting here last Saturday, and it was hoped that sufficient enthusiasm could be mustered in the Lift Lock City to field a team.

However, a few of the more ardent supporters met last night and after a round-table conference they agreed that further action was useless as there did not appear to be sufficient backing to warrant holding a berth in the O.B.A. Most of the available players have already identified themselves with the City League or the East Peterboro League while many of the veterans including Johnston, Swanston, Ashe and Holyman have announced their retirement. "There is absolutely no hope whatever of Peterboro being included in the Central League," was the ultimatum received here this morning. The fans present at the meeting were quite confident that with the material to be developed, Peterboro will be represented in the C.O.B.L. next season.

Therefore the C.O.B.L. will likely be composed of three teams, Oshawa, Belleville and Kingston. Another meeting of the Central League will be held here at the Queen's Hotel on Wednesday night of this week when the schedule will be drawn up and final matters adjusted previous to the opening of the season. It is unfortunate that the League will be forced to carry on with three teams but the officials felt that rather than disband it was the better plan.

To encourage the use of tractors on farms the Polish government is rebating 75 per cent. of the import duty paid by the purchasers of machines.

STUART LEADS GUELPH TEAMS

Coach George Ormé Lines up Strong Team for Inter-County

Guelph, April 29.—Completion of the organization of the Guelph professional baseball club, which is entered in Knotty Lee's Western Ontario League, has been effected and a strong addition of officers elected to guide the affairs of the organization.

Several players are to be given a tryout with the team are expected in the city this week and will start training under Coach George Orme of Indianapolis, who should be here by Wednesday. Clare Hoove, former Toronto Osler catcher, who has been named playing manager, left for Cleveland to-day to land two or three more prospects, while he will also stop off at Buffalo on his return, to interview a couple of players who are anxious to come to Guelph. One of these is Bill Pryor, hunky trimber from the University of Buffalo, who distinguished himself with the Osler team when they made the trip West last summer. Six Toronto players, Stan Lucas, Al Noble, "Yank" Boyd, Hewitt, Rice and Holly Commacher are slated to come to the new league, and the local management is hoping to land at least two of the group.

HUGE ROYALTIES PAID PLAYWRITERS

Washington, April 29. — Royalties paid authors of successful plays with reward them for their work, their shares often running into hundreds of thousands of dollars, Lee Shubert, New York theatrical producer, told the House Patents Committee Mr. Shubert, accompanied by A. H. Woods, also a producer, and representatives of publishing firms, appeared before the committee to protest against the enactment of the automatic copyright bill, which would permit authors to dispose separately of book, play, motion picture and radio rights. Mr. Shubert gave a list of plays upon which large royalties had been paid. The highest amount, $573,000, went to the authors of, "The Desert Song," a musical comedy play, which ran last year. For writing "Beggar on Horseback," Marc Connelly and George S. Kaufman were paid $104,722. Bayard Veiller, author of "The Trial of Mary Dugan," received $312,500. "The Shanghai Gesture" brought dramatist Shipman $138,000, and Michael Arlen received $240,000 for "The Green Hat."

So far, R. C. Sherriff, author of "Journey's End" has received $13,000 and Ring Lardner and George S. Kaufman have been paid $222,000 for their royalties of "Once in a Music." Fred Ebsting and George Abbott, who write "Broadway," were paid $300,000 in royalties, while Mary Roberts Rinehart received a like amount for writing "The Bat."

As the present law stands, an author gets full rights to a play that does not run for twenty-eight successive performances. Over that number, however, the producer has a half share in motion picture rights, book rights and the like.

TOLD STORY OF DADDY ALLEN

Founder of Care For Crippled Children Movement Was Eulogized

"Daddy" Allen, father of the world-wide movement in behalf of the treatment and cure of crippled children, is a character of compelling interest to all who have given this movement active consideration. He is Edgar P. Allen, of Elyria, Ohio, and by reason of his active interest in behalf of crippled children there has gone out from that comparatively small community an influence which is making itself felt in all parts of the world. Belleville Rotarians were given an insight into the life and works of "Daddy" Allen by Dr. Symons who represented Belleville Rotary Club at the recent convention in Toronto of the International Society for Crippled Children. Rotarian Symons has been the leader in the crippled children work of Belleville Rotary Club and the great success achieved has been largely on account of his energy and enthusiasm.

Reporting his impressions of the convention Rotarian Symons said that this international movement originated with Rotarians but was thrown open to all service clubs and organizations in sympathy. Ten thousand crippled children are being treated in hospitals everywhere for the purpose by the order of the Mystic Shrine; the Kins of New Jersey raised a fund of $1,000,000 for crippled children work, and Kiwanis and other organizations are assisting.

At the convention in Toronto many countries were represented either in person or by messages and Germany was represented by a doctor. There are 600,000 crippled children to be helped and the increasing interest in the movement is encouraging.

One feature of the work of the Ontario Society for Crippled Children described by the speaker was Wellesley Island, in Toronto where fifty one crippled children are being educated. They are taken to and from school and their meals by T. T. T. busses, the expense being financed by the society and Toronto Rotarians.

One of the speakers at the convention drew attention to the need of careful supervision of the food of children, citing an instance where children, all from one family, were sent to hospital suffering with tuberculosis. Investigation developed that unpasteurized milk from certain Bermuda cows was responsible, all the milk used by these children coming from one milkman who did not pasteurize his milk.

Rotarian Symons gave some very interesting facts in relation to the work being carried on in Belleville showing that the work is larger than the convention financial support and is worthy of all sympathy and active encouragement.

Persian Balm imparts a rare charm and distinction to the woman who uses it. Fragrant as a flower, delicately cool to the skin, it always results in complexions delightfully young and lovely. Indispensable to every daintily woman. As a powder base for oily-textured skins or as a beautifying lotion, it is unrivalled. Tones and stimulates the skin. Recommended also to soften and make the hands flawlessly white.

Patterson Company Awarded Contract

(Continued from page 1)

Canadian Engineering and Construction Co., Ltd., Hamilton, $144,419.50.

Randolph MacDonald Co., Toronto, $154,112.00.

The tender submitted by the Patterson Construction Co. of Belleville, is correctly extended and added, fulfills all conditions and the prices indicated for the different items making up the tender are well balanced.

We recommend the acceptance of this tender subject to the necessary contract bond being furnished and the agreement signed and sealed to the satisfaction of your City Solicitor.

It will take some time yet to thoroughly examine the various tenders submitted for the eight equipment contracts, but this will be done as soon as possible and our findings placed before you for approval. At the same time we will submit recommendations covering the resident engineer and inspector that will be required for this work. Once we are ready to report to you the writer will attend the council meeting in case there are any matters the members of council would like to enquire about.

Yours very truly,

"Gore, Nasmith, and Storrie,

"(Signed) "William Storrie."

ARMED GUARDS REMOVED FROM CHINA SHIPPING

Protest Proposals of British Govt. to Do Away with Protection

Hong Kong, April 29.—Proposals of the British government to remove the military guards from merchant vessels operating in Chinese waters have been received with a storm of protest from Hong Kong shipping concerns. Too many piracies occur every year to make the step of removing British guards from the coastal boats a wise one, the shippers argue, even though native guards are substituted by the shipping firms themselves.

Ever since British shipping became an important factor commercially in the waters of southern China, the government has supplied all vessels flying the British flag with an armed guard, usually a squad or two of soldiers. The mere fact that these soldiers have been aboard has served to keep pirates from attacking a vessel and for this reason, special detachments of "Tommies" have been kept in Hong Kong ready for quick call aboard ship at a minute's notice. If the British soldiers are removed, even the least the safety of foreign ship's officers will be placed in unnecessary danger, even if a substitute guard is arranged.

In this respect, the owners point to the piracy of the steamer Anking last September as an example. During this incident two foreign officers were killed together with a Chinese member of the crew, all because there was no guard aboard except a few armed natives. The captain and third officer were wounded while the pirates carried off seven passengers for ransom. The accident stirred the foreign residents along the China coast and yet it is only four months later, at Swatow, before, when the owners of a vessel and its foreign officers came to grips over the subject and the latter refused the second berth. The ship was leaving Singapore for China with a heavy passenger list of Mohammedan laborers. Not after several months' work in the Straits Settlements and likely plunder for pirates.

The above sailing time came, the foreign officers demurred at lifting anchor and getting under way without a guard and made representations to the owners to that effect. After much wrangling a guard was provided, but the ship had been delayed some few hours in sailing. This piqued the owners to such an extent that they demoted all the officers and then removed to smaller ships. The result is that each side is somewhat apprehensive of the other and unless guards of some description are maintained, there is bound to be bad blood.

The number of piracies of importance that were committed last year reaches the amazing total of 600. Most of the victims were large Chinese junks carrying cargo from and to coastal ports. Only 11 large steamers were attacked by the sea-wolves but this number was sufficient to cause serious thought among the owners.

In literature, thought is always the handmaid of emotion.

Cargo through the Panama Canal in February showed a decrease of 172,559 tons.

Leishman Clothes

Two Men Choose Leishman Clothes

— or rather two groups of men — those who are free to choose their apparel without regard to expense and those who purchase economically.

Whichever group you belong to, if you are moved by a desire for that correctness and conservatism which adds to one's appearance, you will find your ideal to perfection in our Leishman spring and summer styles.

QUICK & ROBERTSON

CORRECT CLOTHING FOR MEN

GEEN'S

COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPOPHOSPHITES

A NERVE AND TISSUE FOOD

Especially valuable in treatment of general debility, lack of Energy, Sleeplessness, etc.

Geen's Drug Store

Phone 131 We Deliver

FILMS, DEVELOPING AND PRINTING

Do You Know That We Sell

Paint and Varnish

And we don't make outlandish statements about the quality of varnish at 75c a quart. Don't be fooled by foolish ads, and spoil your floors with trashy paint and Varnish. Call and see us about Lowe's Paint and Varnish before starting your work. We will tell you the truth about them.

DOLAN the DRUGGIST

PHONE 138

PERFUME STREET IS NOW IDEA

Get Rid of Noxious Odours on Great White Way

New York, April 29.—George Klotz, head of a Parisian perfume Company, complains about the bad odor encountered off the sidewalks of New York. He suggests a remedy for overcoming the noxious smells induced by motor car exhausts and smoke from factories and the like. The remedy, M. Klotz declares, is to perfume the streets.

The Klotz plan calls for transportation of street hydrants into gigantic atomizers, each of them equipped to spray some sweet and appropriate odor upon the pavement and in the air when they are not vulgarly used to extinguish fires, of course. The greatest care would have to be exercised in the selection of the perfume for the various city districts. It would never do, for instance, to spray Park Avenue with musk. That would offend even the gold-braided doormen of that region.

In the roaring forties there might be a basic alcoholic smell to the perfume—perhaps a dash of bitters and some grenadine for the sake of color. An infusion of brandy might do, especially if the spraying were done after dinner hour. Broadway suggests that something strong and rich be used even to musk or ambergris. Something heady. On the lower East Side a trifle of onion juice would blend splendidly with the natural perfumes of the section. Mr. Klotz is quite serious in his suggestion. He says:

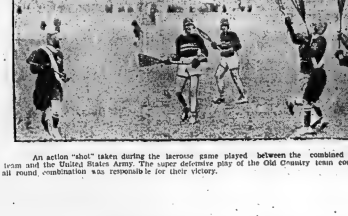
"Even the Greeks were aware of the psychological value of perfume. They scented their towns by releasing doves trained in processions to soothe the emotions.

"Much of the jar and jolt the nervous system endures through contact, exposure to the city's noises could be overcome by the soothing influence of balmy perfumes, injected into the atmosphere from public fountains wafted in the air by the garments of women. Every European city has its characteristic and historic perfume, the soft aroma of its public gardens.

Freak pig born in Robinson, Ill., had two mouths, two noses and one neck.

With the Methodists and Quakers were first so called in contempt.

$24.75



BULOVA

An accurate, dependable watch of lasting beauty and charm. A smart watch at appealing prices.

J.O.R. McCurdy

Phone 318 324 Front street

BRITISH TEAM DEFEATS UNITED STATES, ARMY PLAYERS

An action "shot" taken during the lacrosse game played between the combined Oxford - Cambridge team and the United States Army. The super defensive play of the Old Country team coupled with a better all round combination was responsible for their victory.

Business Directory

LEGAL

R. J. BUTLER, K.C., BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary Public. Money to loan. Offices: Ontario Hall, Belleville. 80 Bridge Street East. Telephone 648.

WALLBRIDGE, CAMERON AND CO. (Successors to the late F. B. Wallbridge), Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, etc. Money to loan. Dominion Bank Building, corner Front and Bridge streets, Belleville, Ontario.

COLLINS AND GIBBONS, A. B. COLLINS, B.C.L. Cobalt, Haileybury and Belleville. Solicitors, Barristers and Solicitors, Office: Royal Bank, corner Front and Campbell streets, Belleville. Cobalt and private funds to loan on first mortgage.

B. C. DONNAN, COUNTY CROWN Attorney, Barrister, Solicitor, Notary Public, etc. Offices: Court House Building, Bathurst, Ontario.

PORTER, PAYNE AND ARNOTT, Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, etc. Solicitors for the Royal Bank, F. E. Chas. Porter, K.C., Chas. A. Payne and R. D. Arnott. Money to loan on mortgages and investments made. Offices: 218 Front street, Belleville, Ontario.

MALCOLM WRIGHT, BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary Public, etc. Office: Campbell street, Belleville.

PONTON, PONTON AND GRAHAM, Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries Public, Commissioners, Offices: 28 Bridge street east, Belleville. Bank of Montreal. Money to loan on mortgages. W. N. Ponton, K.C., R. D. Ponton, K.C., R. J. E. Graham. Office, Belleville.

FRASER AYLESWORTH Ontario Land Surveyor and Registered Provincial Land Surveyor, Land Surveys, Plans and Descriptions, etc., promptly attended to PHONE 6-R. P. O. BOX 10 MADOC, ONT.

DENTAL

DR. G. A. MORTON, DENTIST. X-Ray Equipment. Office: Surrows Block, Front street, city. Phone 462. Belleville.

FARM INSURANCE

Rates very reasonable and see us before renewing policy. We save you money.

THE

H. F. KETCHESON CO., LIMITED

30 BRIDGE ST., BELLEVILLE

INSURANCE

REPORT PLACING ORDER for Fire Insurance see W. J. Hall and H. R. Ketcheson, Queen Insurance Co. and several other first class companies, 278 Front St. Phone 780, Belleville

MEDICAL

J. F. FARNSWORTH, M.D. PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON 16 Victoria Ave. Phone 2137 Residence 1736w

R. S. GIBSON, M.D.C.M. Physician and Surgeon 178 George St. Phone 2160

DR. G. J. FORSTER, SURGEON, 17 Victoria Ave. Phones: Office 958-W, Residence 958-J. Hours: 1-3:30; 7-8:30, or by appointment. a14-tf

DR. SARA GREGG, B.Sc. Physician and Surgeon X-Ray and Specialties 178 Front St., Belleville Opposite City Hall Phone 2720

RADIUM TREATMENTS

ARCHITECTURE

JOHN E. PARES, CARPENTER AND Contractor, Store Fronts, Medicine Cabinets, Trays, etc., a specialty. Quotations freely given on large and finishing hardwood floors. Estimates in all class of buildings furnished free. Over 100 designs on bungalows, houses, etc. Agent for the Chamberlain famous Metal Weather Strip. 20 Charlotte St. Phone 1852, Belleville.

ASELTINE'S MOTOR BUS AND Auto Livery, Tweed and Belleville. Motor bus leaves Tweed daily, leaves Belleville at 3.15. Phone 229, Belleville.

Public Accountant

Audits and investigations made; income tax reports prepared; financial statements drawn up; accounting systems installed, books opened, written up monthly, and closed. Hugh K. Middleton, c/o Belleville Loctstors. Phone 861.

BELLEVILLE AND MADOC MOTOR BUS NOW RUNNING

Leaves Belleville 7 a.m. and 3.30 p.m.; leaves Madoc 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. Parcel express daily. Trips 8 a.m., 1 p.m. and 7 p.m. Orders called for and delivered. Phone 1366.

E. STAPLEY, Proprietor.

Chiropractors

H.R. and VERA B. PITCHER Chiropractors LICENSED PRACTITIONERS Phone 1374 421½ Bridge St. E. Belleville, Ontario

Wm. P. Redick

Licensed CHIROPRACTOR and DRUGLESS THERAPIST WINA M. REDICK by Appointment only Phone 959. 288 Coleman St.

FOR SALE

WHITE ENAMELLED DRESSER, Stand and Bed, complete $5.00. Apply 71½ South John St. a29-1td

SEVERAL DIFFERENT MAKES OF Phonographs in splendid condition with records included. These are real bargains. Heintzman Co., 346 Front St. a29-2td

FORD SEDAN, CHEAP. APPLY 24 Sinclair St. a29-1td

PEERLESS RANGE, THIRTY GALlon oil tank with pump, sixty gallon gas tank. Pure Gem & O. white leghorn baby chicks, 2 weeks old, 10c each. Apply Bert Kiser, South Foster Ave. a29-2td

NEW BUNGALOW, 58 BLEECKER Ave., 6 rooms, 3 piece bath, furnace, oak floors, bath in kitchen tile, fireplace, veranda. Terms arranged. E.D. Mott, 41 Station St.

a28, 29, 30, mt 8, 9, 10

CORD WOOD AND STOVE WOOD. Reasonable price. Apply Trent Valley Fur Farm, 2 1-2 miles east Foxboro. a28-1tmd

RUG, NEARLY NEW. APPLY 219 Dundas St. Phone 1795J. a29-2td

LEASE OF TICE'S RESTAURANT, all furnishings and summer wood. Good business. Apply Miss Flint, for selling. Apply Wm. Tice, 180 Front St. a28-3td

CHESTERFIELD SUITE, 3 BEDroom suites, two extra chairs. Piano or leaving city. 114 Bridge St. E. a28-3td

MAN AND GRAVEL FOR SALE — good building sand and good cement gravel; 2 miles north of Foxboro, on premises of John Roy Harry, Lot 9, 3rd concession Sidney. John Roy Harry, Trenton, R.R. No. 7.

a29-4td

AT POINT ANNE QUARRIES, WOOD team and $2.00, single load $1.00 also lumber, shelving and timber. Apply at the Quarries or A. Safe Co., 52 Station St., Belleville. a14-tf.

MELLOTE CREAM SEPARATOR. Lister Lighting Plant. Windmills, Engines, Lightning Rods, Pumps, Wood and Iron Pump; some good used Separators for sale cheap. W. K. Oarley, Pinnacle Street. f26-tf.

REFRIGERATOR 50" x 40" x 20". Apply to Hotel Bedford. a27-tf.

FOR SALE—220 CHARLES STREET (between Bridge and Queen Sts.) one of the finest locations in the city, it is a Cottage, absolutely modern, four bed rooms, four good grates, centre hall, also four excellent garages, with lined furnace room above. The garages and storage pay the interest on the value of property, private drive off Ann St. Property absolutely by appointment only with Belleville Realty Corporation, Phone 961. Office 25 Bridge St. East. a29-4td

LADIES' BABY SPRING COAT size 38, in good condition. Apply evenings at 234 Charles St. a28-3td

FORD ONE TON TRUCK WITH stake body in good condition cheap. Harry Grills, 2nd Thurlow, R.R. 8, Belleville. a25-1mtf

FOR SALE RESTRICTED BUILDing lots on the highway both North and South of Belleville, Belleville Club Exec and West. I have decided to sell off my holdings consisting of Lots with 100 ft. fronts suitable to County homes, and will be provided with water, sewer and electric light service, even at present these conveniences; prices to suit location. R. J. Graham. a25-1mtf

"BRED TO PAY" BABY CHICKS — White Leghorn and Barred Rocks; Hollywood Reds, Anconas, Buff Orpingtons, R.O.P. and pedigreed; Breeders culled. Rocks 15c; Leghorns 12c; after May 10th, Rocks 17c; Leghorns 16c. Prince Edward Poultry Farm, Consecon, Ont. Buy from a flock with a real breeding plant. s1-tf-3w

SEVERAL FARM PROPERTIES from 50 acres to 300 acres. Insurance dwellings and outhouses at reasonable prices. R. J. Graham. a12-1z-tf.

FOR SALE

GROCERY STORE with Five living Rooms and Bath. Good business in East End, residential section. As owner wants to retire, this can be bought right for cash or small house taken in part payment. Investigate this.

Apply Box "T" Ontario Intelligencer Office.

FOR SALE

MOFFAT CABINET ELECTRIC range in excellent condition. Apply 73 Catherine St. a29-2td

C. C. M. BICYCLE IN GOOD CONdition. Apply 280 Coleman Street for further particulars. a29-2td

RUSINESS LINERS

Horse and school bells of all kinds at The James Texts. a29-1td

Perennial Flower Plants in assorted varieties, large clumps ready for planting. 10c each. Bishop's Seed Store. a29-4td

MARCELLING

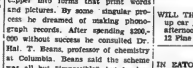
MRS. WM. HOPPING, 323 FRONT Street, Phone 2186W for appointments. a17-2w

Watch Paper for your garden seeds boosting observes nobiator. Increase your yield and hasten maturity, 90 ft. rolls $4.00. Bishop's Seed Store.

a29-4td

FARM INSURANCE

We have the cheapest Farm Rates available. Good Companies, all of which have been doing business in this County for a great many years. Prompt and liberal settlements. We guarantee to work pay you, to let us talk it over with you, before your policy expires.



"We insure everything Insurable" Phone, write, or call at our office.

S. J. Fisher & Son

Insurance and Auctioneers

282 Front Street Phone 183

BELLEVILLE

MOTOR BOAT AND BOAT HOUSE FOR SALE

SEALED TENDERS, marked "Tender for Boat and Boat House," will be received by the undersigned until 12 o'clock noon (Daylight Saving Time) on Monday, May 12th for the purchase and removal of one frame boat house and one gasoline driven motor boat thereon, at the Ontario School for the Deaf, Belleville.

Specifications, tender forms and tender envelops may be obtained at the office of the Bursar at the Ontario School for the Deaf, Belleville, or at this Department.

An accepted cheque for the amount of the tender, payable to the Honourable the Minister of Public Works and Highways, shall be attached to each tender.

The highest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

GEO. HOGARTH,
Deputy Minister of Public Works, Ontario.
Toronto, April 25th, 1930.

a29-1td

NOTICE

Members of Belleville Lodge 1004 Loyal Order of Moose, are requested to meet at 61 Grier Street for the purpose of attending the funeral of late Brother E. J. Follwell, Wednesday, April 30th, at 2 p.m. Service at Christ Church at 2.30 p.m.

T. O. Wells, Sec.

a29-1td

NOTICE

Members of Belleville Lodge 1004 Loyal Order of Moose, are requested to meet at 61 Grier Street for the purpose of attending the funeral of late Brother E. J. Follwell, Wednesday, April 30th, at 2 p.m.

T. O. Wells, Sec.

a29-1td

WANTED

GIRL FOR GENERAL HOUSEWORK Apply 161 Ann St. Phone 761F.

a28-1td

YOUNG GIRL FOR LIGHT HOUSEwork in small family. Phone 2074 or apply Box "R" Ontario Intelligencer. a29-1td

WANTED—ALL KINDS OF SEWING. All work neatly and reasonably done and specializing on slip covers for furniture. Phone 2086J. a29-1td

ROOM AND BOARD IN PRIVATE home, central location. Apply Box "A" Ontario Intelligencer. a29-1td

BOARDERS. PHONE 747W. a28-2td

BOARDERS WANTED.

BOARDERS WANTED—COMFORTable rooms and good meals in private home. Mrs. W. J. Johnson, 23 East Street. Phone 1784. a29-3td

GIRL FOR GENERAL HOUSEWORK. Must be able to cook. Apply between 7 and 8 at 103 Dundas St. a28-2td roof and barn paints is wanted by roof and barn paints is wanted by a well known Toronto manufacturer. Good commissions for full or part time work. Application with farmers in your locality essential. A. E. Odlum, 230 Carlaw Avenue, Toronto.

SALESMEN WANTED

WOULD YOU LIKE TO HAVE A business all your own where you alone make all the profit. Here's your opportunity. We have a vacancy in Belleville City and one in Hastings County for men to establish a business of their own selling Fruit Trees, Shade trees, Shrubs and Toilet Preparations. Protected territories. Hundred per cent co-operation. Write giving age Reid Bird Products, John South, Hamilton, Ont. a28-2td

A GOOD ROMAN CATHOLIC HOME for a boy, aged 12. Apply Thos. D. Hanlon, Supt. Children's Aid Society, 28 Cedar St. a26-3td

CAPABLE AND EXPERIENCED general maid with references. Small family, good wages. Phone 1198. a24-tf

WANTED — WILL BUY FURS, hides, wool, junk, poultry and feathers at best prices. Apply A. Rebner, 403 Front St. Phone 1097-W. f20-tf.

FLEXIBLE RECORDS FOR PHONOGRAPHS

NEW YORK, April 29—An explosion has shown how to make phonograph records that bend like paper. This blow-up in a Columbia university chemical laboratory, came queerly enough not from expansive but sudden contraction. It led to the discovery of a new substance during that produces a phonograph record as flexible as paper, but as hard it does not scratch or break under a hammer blow.

The "accident" was no lucky break, but the climax of many days of work began with the idea of a New York manufacturer, Joseph Reilly. Reilly's business included phonograph records, a process that hardens a thin film of copper into forms that print words and pictures. By some singular process he dreamed of making phonograph records. After spending $200,000 without success he consulted Dr. Hal. T. Beans, professor of chemistry at Columbia. Beans said the scheme was all but "impossible", but he was willing to experiment with it.

He believed the secret of the process to be in certain synthetic resins that harden when heated. He coaxed nearly 900 tubes, but none hardened fast enough. Then, as heat penetrated another tube, the resin gave way a sharp hiss, and some of the liquid was driven to the ceiling. The resin had hardened at indelible record.

TO-LET

FIVE ROOMED APARTMENT, 308 Coleman St., all conveniences. Apply Bevidere Hotel. a29-3td

HOUSE TO LET WITH ALL CONveniences. Also garage. Phone 1594M. a29-3td

TWO BRIGHT ROOMS FURNISHed. Suitable for light housekeeping in home with all conveniences. Garage. Phone 1122. a29-1td

APARTMENT TO LET—5 BRIGHT rooms, heated, all modern conveniences, including gas stove, rent, including light bill $40 monthly. Immediate possession. Phone 2074. a29-2td

TWO SUNNY, PRETTY, FURNISHed board apartments, one large bed sitting room, heated, ground floor, one house. Possession at once. Apply 215 Corbett. 13 Queen St. Phone 1663. a29-1tf

TO LET—HOUSE. MODERN. 6 rooms, all conveniences. Immediate possession. Phone 1831J. a29-1td

HOUSE IN BRICK TERRACE, ANN Street, near Victoria Avenue, $16.25 monthly in advance including water. Dominion immediate. Also half of Stone House on Bay Shore near G.S.D. Suitable for quiet family only, $8.00 per month in advance. W. N. Ponton. a27-3td

PASTURE — APPLY MRS. WM. Evans, College St. Phone 401M or Seymour Bisbel, Donald St. a28-3td

TWO FRONT ROOMS FURNISHED for light housekeeping. All conveniences. Private entrance. Circle. Apply 71 Everett St. a28-2t.d

PASTURE FOR CATTLE—WELL watered. Apply Mrs. Ernest Hart Trent Valley fur farm, 2 1-2 miles east of Foxboro. a29-1td

NEW GARAGE, NEAR ANNE ST. School. Phone 666J. a29-3td

LARGE ROOM, WELL LIGHTED. Could be divided. Apply 211 Bridge St. Arthur McCue. Phone 376. a26-3td

DESIRABLE 7 ROOM HOUSE, NO. 221 Pinnacle St., all conveniences except furnace. Phone 535 or 267 Front St. a29-3td

ONE EXTRA LARGE FURNISHED front room. Complete for light housekeeping. Apply 28 Charlotte St. Phone 1191F. a26-3td

TOP FLOOR APARTMENT NO. 14, Queen Mansions. Bright Modern Apartments. R. J. Graham. a11-tf.

108 CHATHAM ST. WITH GARAGE. Possession May 1st. Apply 282 Front St. s15-tf

THREE POOMS HEATED AND furnished for light housekeeping also garage and garden if desired. Apply Box "P" Ontario Intelligencer or phone 1723-W. a28-1t

SOME NICE FLATS OVER 283 Front St. Apply R. Doyle. m18-tf

MEDIUM SIZED FRONT STREET store, very central. Apply 2 Ontario Intelligencer. a29-1td

HOUSE NO. 16½ W. MCIRA ST. Also 3 Sherwood garages No. 25 Sherwood. Mary Hughes, moved to Lewis Hardware 99 Front st. phone 869. 012-tf.

LOST

WILL THE PARSON WHO PICKED up car jack on Front Street Wednesday afternoon kindly return same to No. 12 Pine St. a29-2td

LOST

IN EATON'S STORE ON FRIDAY, purse containing money, keys and linen doyle. Finder kindly return to Ontario Intelligencer. Reward. a29-2td explosion speed. The riddle was solved. Heavy paper is coated with this resin from three to five thousandths of an inch thick. The touch of a hot iron will instantly transform it into an

TO-LET

PHONE 1911
FOR TOUR WIRING REQUIREMENTS
City Electric Co.
64 BENJAMIN ST.

Hello? Yes, this is 314
O.K. I Have Your Order for Car
Calls 25c
216
Albert St.

F. C. Maughan
PAINTING PAPERHANGING
All Kinds of Decorations
Undertaken
PRICES MODERATE
Phone 2186

W. TURNER

Decorating, Paper Hanging, and Painting. Also Kalsomining and Hanging a Specialty. Phone 1703.

THIS IS THE TIME FOR HOUSE CLEANING ORDERS. Your painting and paper hanging done by CHAS. COCHELAN. Leave orders at Thos. Walters, 209 Front St.

Modern Window Cleaners
WINDOW CLEANING
Sierra Windows Removed
Stores, Banks, Apartments, Factories
F. C. CLARE
Phone 722w

BIRTHS

STEWART—In Belleville, on Friday, April 25th, 1930, to Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Stewart, 275 Albert St., a daughter, (Jeanette Elizabeth).

a29-1td

Death Notices

TICKELL—On Sunday, April 27th, 1930, at his late residence, 181 Charles Street, Belleville, Joseph Leabon Tickell, in his 64th year. Funeral from above address for service at St. Thomas Church, Thursday, 2.30 p.m. Interment Belleville cemetery. a29-1td

HOWATSON—In Ameliasburg Township on [illegible], April 26, 1930, Margaret [illegible] Howatson, widow of the late [illegible] Howatson, aged 79 years.

Funeral service will be held from her late residence, Massassaga, Prince Edward County on Thursday, May 1st, Service at the house at 2.30 p.m. Interment Belleville cemetery. a29-1td

FOSTER—In Belleville, Sunday, April 27th, Mary Hughes, beloved wife of John Foster, in her 62nd year.

The funeral will take place from her late residence, 136 Albert Street, on Wednesday, April 30th, at 2.30 a.m. to St. Michael's Church for Solemn Requiem at 9 a.m. Interment St. James' cemetery.

L. E. WALMSLEY, Secretary. a29-1td

FOLLWELL—In Belleville General Hospital on April 28th, 1930, Edwin Follwell, in 67th year.

The funeral will be held from his late residence, 61 Grier Street, on Wednesday, April 30th. Service in the house at 2 p.m., services in Christ Church at 2.30. Interment Belleville cemetery. a26-2td

Fifty thousand paper cartons can be made from rolls of paper in an hour and printing with a new machine.

CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAYS

GOING EAST

	Arrive	Leave
North Bratton, No. 18	12.30 a.m.	—Mail
North Bratton, No. 30	1.10 a.m.	—Express (mail daily, except Sunday)
South Bratton, No. 2	2.22 a.m.	—Express
North Bratton, No. 16	3.05 a.m.	—Maple Leaf, Fast, limit, parlor, coach
South Bratton, No. 10	11.22 a.m.	—Mail
North Bratton, No. 14	12.05 noon	—Express (mail daily, except Sunday)
North Bratton, No. 34	5.05 p.m.	—Express (mail daily, except Sunday)
North Bratton, No. 36	8.00 p.m.	—Express (mail daily, except Sunday)
Night Express, No. 8	11.45 p.m.	—The Maple Leaf, daily
North Bratton, No. 20	3.55 p.m.	—Express, Sunday only
North Bratton, No. 22	8.00 p.m.	—Express, daily, except Sunday
South Bratton, No. 9	3.28 p.m.	—Mail and Express
North Bratton, No. 15	7.00 p.m.	—International Limited

BELLEVILLE AND PETERBORO

Going West
	Arrive	Leave
Mail	Belleville	Peterboro
	9.10 a.m.	9.30 a.m.
Passenger	7.30 p.m.	7.50 p.m.

Going East
	Arrive	Leave
	Peterboro	Belleville
Passenger	11.10 a.m.	8.35 a.m.
Mail	4.15 p.m.	4.35 p.m.

Belleville and Peterboro service, daily, except Sunday.

BELLEVILLE AND MADOC

Going South
	Leave	Arrive
Mixed	Madoc	Belleville
	6.30 a.m.	9.15 a.m.
	2.50 p.m.	4.15 p.m.

Going North
	Leave	Arrive
	Belleville	Madoc
	9.30 a.m.	12.15 p.m.
	4.35 p.m.	7.15 p.m.

Belleville and Madoc service, daily, except Sunday.

TIME TABLES CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY

GOING EAST

South Bratton, No. 42	12.45 a.m.	—Daily.
South Bratton, No. 32	11.42 a.m.	—Daily.
South Bratton, No. 34	3.35 p.m.	—Daily.
South Bratton, No. 36	4.59 p.m.	—Daily.
South Bratton, No. 38	7.50 p.m.	—Daily.

GOING WEST

North Bratton, No. 31	8.15 a.m.	—Daily.
North Bratton, No. 33	1.20 p.m.	—Daily.
North Bratton, No. 35 (conditional stop)	6.10 p.m.	—Daily.
South Bratton, No. 37	1.30 p.m.	—Royal York—Daily.
South Bratton, No. 39	7.37 p.m.	—Canadian—Daily.

NOTICE

Canadian Legion Post No. 99, ex-service men are requested to attend funeral of late Comrade E. J. Follwell, Wednesday, April 30th, 1 o'clock at the Armouries. 1 o'clock at 61 Grier St. Medals to be worn.

FUNERAL NOTICE

The Sentinel of Eureka Lodge No. 283, G.R.O. A.F. & A.M. and the Sister Lodges are hereby requested to assemble at No. 61 Grier Street on Wednesday afternoon, 30th inst., at 2 p.m. sharp for the purpose of attending the funeral of our late Brother E J Follwell. By order of the Worshipful Master.

L. E. WALMSLEY, Secretary. a29-1td

CARD OF THANKS

The family of the late Mrs. Dozier wish to thank their many friends for kindness and sympathy during the illness and death of their dear wife, also for the beautiful floral tributes.

a29-1td

Furs stored, and insured against loss by moth, fire or theft. The Hyman Fur Co., Ltd., for 60 years, Belleville, Ont.

a29-1t

TRENTON AND DISTRICT

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

HOUSE TOTALLY DESTROYED IN MYSTERIOUS FIRE

Arthur Shore of Stirling Is Loser in Early Morning Fire

Stirling, Ont., April 9 (Special by Staff Reporter)—A mysterious early morning fire which broke out about 3.30 a.m. last Sunday morning totally destroyed the frame house and contents owned by Mr. Arthur Shore, of this village, Mr. Shore, with his family had been away for several weeks trapping, and was to have returned last Sunday. He had left instructions with a neighbour, Mr. George Keegan, to light affre in the stove on Saturday night so that the house would be warm when he returned, and this Mr. Keegan did. Everything was all right when this task was completed, but about three thirty in the morning Mr. Orville Jackson, who lives over half a mile away, was awakened by the flickering flames as they burst through the roof of the doomed house, and he accordingly gave the alarm.

Although a large number of men quickly gathered around, there was nothing that could be done as the fire had had too much headway, and it burned right to the ground. Mr. Shore claims that there was between one hundred and fifty and two hundred muskrat skins stored in the house, as well as other fur. Although his loss will undoubtedly be heavy it will be partially covered by insurance, it is understood.

MANY TRY OUT FOR BALL TEAM

(Special by Staff Reporter)

TRENTON, Ont., April 29.—Baseball practise started here last night, several candidates for the entry in the Bay of Quinte League being out at the College Street School grounds shortly after six o'clock to untimber their muscles after the long lay-off. Several softballers were on deck as well, but as no schedule has been drawn up for them, they will not be at it as hard as the Quinte League team, whose schedule starts on the 16th of May. That is only a short two weeks away, and the boys will need all their time to get in shape for the opening.

CONSTABLE ROSE NOW RECOVERED

(Special by Staff Reporter)

TRENTON, Ont., April 29.—Constable Rose of the Trenton Police force has recovered from his recent fall, and yesterday morning set out on his summery work of patrolling the streets of Trenton for traffic violators on his motorcycle. Last summer Constable Rose was a member of the Belleville force as traffic officer and due to the work Belleville streets were practically cleared of reckless and speedy drivers. Those who have been in the habit of speeding on roads leading in and out of Trenton from now on will have to watch out, unless they wish to have to be hailed before the magistrate and part with some coin of the realm.

VICIOUS FISH

LINCOLN, Neb., April 29.—Something new in fish stories, and this one is vouched for by Frank O'Connell, a state game warden. Black bass, brought from the sand hill region of western Nebraska to the receiving station operated by the state game department are so wild that O'Connell has ordered picking placed around the edges of the concrete tank to keep them from injuring themselves as they strike furiously against the tank sides.

BEETLE BOUNTY

BRISBANE, Australia, April 29—The world's beetle hunting championship is claimed by two Brisbane residents who have earned more than $1,000 in ten days by catching stray grubs or grey back beetles. The government pays a bounty of 25 cents a pound for the bugs which do great damage to sugar plantations. In one district alone last year the pests caused a million dollars worth of damage.

Douglas' Egyptian Ointment is unsurpassed for speedy relief in muscular rheumatism, lame back, inflammation, burns and felons.

CAR STRUCK BY NORTHERN TRAIN

Light Sedan Was Struck Broadside at Trenton Crossing

(Special by Staff Reporter)

TRENTON, Ont., April 29.— When the Junction train, running on the C.N.R. Line from Trenton Junction to the depot in Trenton struck a car owned and driven by Citizen Donelda yesterday morning, about ten thirty, Mrs. Donetta was badly cut about the face and received a severe shaking up, while the car was badly damaged. Mr. Donetta escaped with only a severe bruise on one leg. The train, which was travelling south, and was in charge of Engineer J. Lowe of Trenton, and Conductor William Miller, struck the car at the level crossing just north of the C.P.R. overhead bridge. The Donetta car was travelling north, and the driver had a clear view of the track in the direction from which the train was coming.

Following the accident, Mr. Donetta declared that he did not hear the train whistle, and saw it only when it was just a few feet away from his car. "I gave it all the gas there was, and if there had been another second or two the car would have been over the tracks," he stated. As it was the light sedan was struck almost broadside, the left side being badly damaged and torn, and two wheels being torn off. Mrs. Donetta was injured by flying glass, Dr. Farley who was immediately called dressed her wound and stated that there was nothing seriously the matter with her. Trenton police investigated the accident.

FARMERS SEEK DOG POISONERS

(Special by Staff Reporter)

TRENTON, Ont., April 29.—Farmers in the district between here and Consplaining of their dogs being poisoned and if police can find the person or persons who have been guilty of the offence it will go hard with them. Several farmers north of Trenton have lost their dogs while a few others have noticed the animals to be sick, but they have recovered. No doubt there are others which have not been heard from.

In the vicinity of Bloomfield the Provincial Police are dealing with a similar case, and it is to be hoped that these responsible are apprehended and given a severe sentence.

TWELVE MORE BIRDS ARE REPRODUCED

A second series of twelve Canadian birds has been issued in the form of a calendar by the Howard Smith Paper Mills Ltd., of Montreal. Two years ago a calendar of pictures of twelve birds reproduced from paintings of Major Brooks in the Wallace Robb collection in the Royal Ontario Museum of Zoology was issued. Recently Mr. Robb made another selection of a dozen more of the paintings and it is these which have now been issued. For those desiring to frame these reproductions there is a limited quantity of the illustrations only which will be forwarded on receipt of one dollar by the Howard Smith Paper Mills Ltd.

Praise men and flatter all women and you won't lack friends.

MURRAY TOWNSHIP FARMER IS BURIED

Prankford, Ont., April 29—(Special by Staff Reporter)—The funeral of the late James Henry Sullivan, who died at the home of his sister, Mrs. James Jordan, Prankford, a few days ago, was held yesterday from St. Francis of Assisi Church to the Prankford Catholic Cemetery, Rev. Father O'Farrell conducted the requiem mass, and also the service at the grave. Mr. Sullivan was in his 76th year at the time of his death, and was survived by one sister, Mrs. J. Jordan. He was a well known farmer of Murray township for many years, but lately had been living a retired life in Prankford.

YOUNG FARMERS ACQUIRE HEIFERS

Club Competitions Will be Held in Connection with Local Fairs

(Special by Staff Reporter)

STIRLING, April 29. — Ten young men of the Foxboro district are purchasing pure bred Holstein heifers under the Federal and Provincial Beef Cattle Club Competitions. The heifers have been received and Mr. J. Wilson, Agricultural representative and member of the Livestock branch are purchasing two year old heifers for applicants under the Heifer Club policy.

Cattle clubs may be formed in any community with a minimum membership of ten and each member will be allowed one heifer. These will cost approximately $200.00 and will be entered in the record of Performance as soon as they come into milk.

Club members will be under the supervision of the Department and will receive assistance in feeding, breeding and management of the cattle.

Club competitions will be held in conjunction with local fairs each year and special prizes will be donated by the Department of Agriculture and local fair boards so that every encouragement will be given to the members to exhibit their stock in a business like way.

The objects of the Club are to stimulate an interest in good stock and to encourage the members to make record farms. Clubs of this kind are of great importance in communities in the breeding of pure bred livestock, and some districts of Ontario today owe their prominence as live stock districts to clubs of this kind. Where necessary the Provincial Department of Agriculture will supply a bull, free of charge to the members. The boys entered in the Foxboro district club are—Arthur Reid, Hallowy, Roy Rose, Hallowy, Orrel Longwell, Foxboro, A. R. Mallory, Prankford, R. R. No. 2, Harold Thrasher, Belleville, R. R. No. 2, Wm. Cray, Foxboro, O. M. Ketcheson, Foxboro, Clifford Ray, Hallowy, Percy Ray Hallowy.

Miller's Worm Powders are complete in themselves. They not only drive worms from the system, but revale the dyspepsia that worms cause and so regulate the constitution that it speedily recovers from the disorders of the digestive tract are the result of the destruction of these parasites. Try them as their work thoroughly and strength and soundness follow their use.

There are now over 2,750,000 horses in Australia; in 1788 there were five —one stallion three mares and a colt.

The horseshoe idea is credited to Leonardo da Vinci, 15th century mathematician, scientist, painter and sculptor.

Marmora

Marmora, April 29 (By Mail)—Deloro Hall was filled to the doors on Wednesday evening on the occasion of the annual mass meeting which is arranged by the energetic Safety Committee. Not only were a large proportion of employees in attendance but of the village and interested adults of the male sex, resident in the vicinity, helped to swell the number. The event as in the past years took the form of a smoker, and was presided over by E. A. Elliott, chairman of the Safety Committee. At the outset the chairman reviewed the activities of the organization since its inception for the benefit of the visitors.

Exhibition Bouts

Two exhibition bouts of boxing were then staged. Ray Loveless meeting Percy Gray in the 160 pound class and Fred Callery and Lawrence Paquet showing their powers in the 150 pound class. These lads were chosen out of a number who have been trained this winter by William Kerr, jr., and Jules Ethier. Each bout consisted of 3 two minute rounds with one minute intermissions and for juveniles the boxing was exceedingly good. William Simmons, sr., acted as referee and Frank Leal was the timekeeper. The first half of a two reel comedy, having been shown, Sandy Hunters of Belleville introduced the Radio Quartette and Leo Riggs, pianist of the evening.

The audience listened with intense pleasure to two numbers after which the speaker of the evening was introduced.

In A. G. Greenwood, director of personnel of the Christie Brown Company of Toronto, safety first organizations have come to recognize a very earnest and forcible speaker who knows how to get his message across. The Dixon Committee, knowing that Mr. Greenwood was billed to speak the following noon at the large Safety Convention at the Royal York hotel, Toronto, felt they were indeed fortunate to secure him for their rally and in looking for a timely message from him they were not disappointed.

Mr. Greenwood in coming to his subject said he always felt at home at a safety meeting, "accidents prevention," he said, "could be regarded as common ground for work. Luck doesn't enter very much into accident prevention work," he declared. "Accident prevention is more like gardening than fishing, you reap what you sow." He stated in many cases where accident prevention had resulted in profit to the firms giving it their closest consideration. He also congratulated the management and employees of Deloro on the progress made along the lines of safety first. Comparing the Deloro plant with that of the firm which he represented, he showed how they had each attained much the same first aid and foremost the movement had saved life and limbs and lessened suffering. Then it had saved time and increased production. It had also saved money for the companies and workmen and besides it had created loyalty and better conditions.

Mr. Greenwood then followed with an outline of the movement as identified with the plant to which he belongs. After six fatalities had occurred there within six years, he received what he termed a swift jolt when at the sixth inquest the coroner put the question to him. "Do you realize that a fatality has become a habit around your plant?" he asked. A year of honest effort, though strange to say, accidents increased there 16 per cent, they became less in number but more severe. Started in 1921 and last year this firm with an average of 600 hands working 44 hours per week, only five minor lost time injuries and seventeen lost days, to report. Speaking in general terms as he continued, first consideration must be given to get wholehearted support to ensure success.

It was of vital importance too, that every man in authority should give their time and ability to safety work, where as before the inauguration of safety movement in the Toronto plant, only two per cent of the injuries received there resulted in blood poisoning, he was pleased to say that a single infection had been reported for the past five years. His advice to all was "Have a dressing applied to all small cuts, scratches and puncture wounds."

Further he urged "pay strictest attention to the new man. Be as good to you not only make a friend of him, but you take away that nervousness which is always present when a man is on a new job." Safety work should be extended through the foremen who are the key men of the plant, was also his opinion.

In conclusion the speaker said, let us leave this rally full of enthusiasm and this whole week devoted to safety on and obligated to our fellowmen, let us each ask, "Am I my brother's keeper?" and reply, "I am my brother's keeper." Mr. Webster, inspector of the Bureau of Mines, who chanced to have inspected the Deloro plant that afternoon and was present at the meeting declared, "I have but one message to give. It is that the work that has been done at the Deloro plant is having its effect throughout the industry. The handwriting is on the wall throughout the province. You have written a book which will never grow old."

The Radio Quartette were again applauded for their singing. The second half of the comedy film having been shown Sandy Burrows, rendered "Brown October Ale." S. B. Wright, general manager of the Deloro Smelting and Refining Company was called upon for a few words and mentioned that it was far the best rally attended in Deloro.

He congratulated the men, the chairman and committee for the splendid co-operation which they had furnished. He assured the committee that it would continue to receive the hearty co-operation of the management. F. A. Eaby addressed most of his remarks to the juveniles present. He hoped they would profit by what they had heard and institute as it were a junior Safety League. Dr. Haffner tenor member of the quartette took well with the audience as he sang.

In the drawing which followed Frank Leal and Eugene Brady received first and second prize respectively. After the final number, "God Save the King," a theft-proof display rack has been patented for lead pencils and other small articles in stores.

The Oil of Power.—It is not claimed for Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil that it will remedy every ill, but its uses are so various that it may be looking upon as a general pain killer. It has achieved that greatness for itself and its excellence is known to all who have tested its virtues and learned by experience.

THE CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES LIMITED
Prices Demonstrate Daily the Economy of Cash Buying and Selling.

GYREX ELECTRIC WASHER
$89

The electric washing machine that offers you more per dollar than any other on the Canadian market, is waiting to prove itself to you in your own home. What can the Gyrex offer? It offers to efficiently do a maximum of wash in a minimum of time—and the price of $89.00 is a revelation in value. Compare it with others. See it in operation! Ask for a demonstration in your own home—let it do a week's washing without charge, without obligation. Let the Gyrex prove itself.

—Extra size Gyrsbay tub.
—All metal wringer.
—Reversible roller.
—Full 1-4 h.p. motor.
—Gyrator Principle.

Centre post with overhead drive prevents tub leak.
Quick action safety release.

The Gyrex may be purchased on the Deferred Payment for $8.00 down and the balance in ten monthly payments of $8.57 each. Total D. P. price is $94.00.

—Basement

Handsome Solid Oak Kitchen Cabinet

A very handsome and sturdy piece of furniture for the kitchen—made of solid oak, richly polished and showing the natural grain of the wood. Top is of white porcelain and is guaranteed. About 42 inches wide. Other notable features are flour bin, flour sieve drawer, sugar and spice jars, chrome black cutting board, lift top cook, baking board and tin bread box. It is priced at 43.00

—Basement

Economies from the Second Floor

Special in Good Quality Bath Towels

A splendid weight for everyday use—softly and thickly woven with neat fringed ends. A fine English make that is very absorbent—natural grounds with colorful stripe patterns of red, gold and blue. A large size of 18 inches by 37 inches. Extra special for the early shopper, Wednesday, pair 39c

—Second floor

New Light Weight Colorful

Dress Crepes

Lovely, fine light weight weaves of soft dress crepe, woven from spun and cotton yarns, with a special lustrous finish—in washable colors of navy and sand, red and sand, sand and green, black and red and sand and navy. A good width of 35". Priced, yard 79c

—Second floor

Spreads of Rayon

Lustrous, softly gleaming spreads made of rayon yarns will do much in adding to the well appointed appearance of your bedrooms. They are finely woven and finished with scallops all around the edge. Very silk like in appearance, in colors of rose, blue, green, mauve and gold. A large size of 80 x 100". Special each 3.49

—Second floor

Watch To-Morrow's Paper for a Special Big Event of Interest to Everyone

A LOCKED DOOR

Haverhill, Mass., April 29—A certain enumerator wreatly climbed the stairs to the third floor of a three-decker apartments house in this city. At the top of the stairs he pounded on the door the last apartment in the building.

"Come in," said a voice.

The enumerator turned the knob and pushed. The door was fastened. He hammered again.

"Come in," shouted a voice.

Again he tried the door—and with the same result.

A third time he brushed his knuckles against the panel. A third time the voice said: "Come in." A third time the door refused to budge.

Angry, he walked down to the ground. At the first, apartment he stopped.

What kind of a family is that up there?" he queried.

"There's nobody home," he was told, "except the parrot."

Capable of throwing a float attached to a Lifeline 100 yards, an ordinary rifle fitted with a rocket attachment recently was demonstrated in South Africa.

The touch that is modernizing thousands of dear old homes

Sold in Belleville by ARTHUR A. SILLS

SEAMAN-KENT HARDWOOD FLOORING

TWELVE PAGES

The Ontario Intelligencer

SECOND SECTION

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, TUESDAY, APRIL 29, 1930.

Jack Miner and the Birds

and Some Things I Know About Nature

by

Jack Miner Himself

"COPYRIGHT AND FOR SALE IN BOOK FORM AT ALL BOOK STORES"

CHAPTER III

Market Hunting

As quail and grouse were so very plentiful and good warm clothes were scarce, the second fall we were here my brother and I started to hunt for the breakfast. This caused us to study the nature of game. I soon found myself practising the call of Bob White. I would call early in the morning, when the country was silent, and listen to the echo come back from the woods, until I could call Bob right up to me from as far as he could hear the faintest sound of my imitative note. Yes, many a time during the nesting season have I called five or six male birds up near where I was sitting, then see them have a scrap. I tell you they are gamey little fellows. And what fun it was to be back in the field, hid in a bunch of goldenrod, with my old smooth bal tucked in my pants pocket, blowing my long hair and freckles to blend with the surroundings, and watch these plump little beauties come together in battle, sometimes striking each other so hard they would go fully six feet in the air and come down facing each other. I have had them so close I could almost feel the breath of their wings; and possibly three or four rods away, was another one, picking the earth sidewise, apparently challenging the fourth who was sitting on a stump as if he were reflecting.

I tell you, life, in the country was so sweet to me. I would have agreed to stay here longer than it would take a raft of detectives to find my great-grandmother's pewter spoon.

But the grouse was a hard fellow to call. This however, did not prevent our success; for as soon as we got one we would examine its crop and find out just what it was feeding on; if it contained buds, then what kind they were, etc. And you could rest assured that ninety per cent of the grouse in that country were feeding on this same variety of food. Then as we would walk through the woods with the dogs at our heels and our faces as nearly on the tops of our heads as possible, the grouse became very easy. I have shot five out of the tiptop of a cotton-wood tree where nine out of ten men would never think of looking. But if the crop contained seeds from the ground, the dogs were put to work where these seeds grew. As practice makes perfect, we soon became expert shots and the result was we left a bloody trail behind us.

We would walk miles away in the morning and start to so as to be near home at night with our heavy loads. Once or twice a week we would have our game up, and when the road was fit we would wheel it on a wheel-barrow up to the old stage line.

For at least five miles around, these birds appeared to fear us, and fly and scream as though Satan himself was after them. Brother and I often remarked: "Why did they just fly over the fence from the farmer, and ten minutes later, when we arrived, fly a mile or more from us?"

During the summer months these birds seemed quite tame; in fact, they did not seem to be a bit more frightened of us than they were of the other residents of the country.

However, we soon found that every grain of sport had vanished, and we were in a financial business. So, speak her from actual experience, I know that market-hunting is not sport; that it is murder in the first degree, and no principled sportsman will practise it. For one successful market-hunter will deprive twenty-five real sportsmen of their enjoyable recreation and outing.

I am pleased to say that we two boys soon outgrew this murderous practice, and hunted for pleasure only. And as we kept two well-trained dogs, many breathed the pure air of a new-born pleasant hours' recreation have we enjoyed with some of the best gentlemen this earth can produce, returning home with an appetite for anything and stomachs that would almost dispel railroad iron; then about nine p.m. we would roll in and sleep a hole right down through the bed.

Next morning, when you awake after such an experience, you will usually find your eyes are open, and more in focus.

CHAPTER IV

Our Faithful Dogs

While I would not advise any person to keep a dog unless he needs one, yet one of the most faithful animal friends man can have is an educated dog. Our two bird-dogs were full brothers, and though my brother and I were always together, yet the dogs knew us apart. If I went to the barn alone, my dog would follow me; yet if we both started to the road together, both dogs would follow us and would not come farther unless they were invited. If we threw our coats down, each dog would lie on or near his master's coat.

I never knew the cries was my dog's name; to disobey orders but once; that was when he was about eighteen months old. Brother and I had started from home before daylight to walk about eight miles, to hunt deer. When daylight came we were about five miles on our way, and I looked around and here was Set following. I at once gave him a right down good scolding, and told him to start for home, but he hesitated. That minute, a snarl of "just dogs" came yelping out from a settler's buildings, and Set took leg bail for home with this bunch pow-wowing in pursuit. Just then brother looked at his watch and it was fifteen minutes past seven. When we arrived home at night my first question was "What time did Set get homer" Mother looked over her glasses and said, "He got here just sewer o'clock." Now I knew he was going some, by his actions, but just where he gained the fifteen minutes still remains a mystery.

On one occasion three sportsmen came and wanted a hunt, but I could not go; so I introduced Set to them, and as they had guns he eventually consented to go along. In about an hour he pointed a large bevy of quail in a weed field. The three sportsmen lined up and pressed forward, and as the birds buzzed up in front of them, ceived us—side by side in one coffin and out in the open. And not a bird was touched. Dear old Set looked around in disgust, turned, and came straight home.

Well, it wasn't long before our faithful dogs were getting a year older every twelve months, but still they clung to us, though life had become a burden. Dear mother, unbeknown to us, got a man to chloroform them. When he started to dig their graves we caught on, and both of us men, stopped work and made a box and laid our faithful friends—friends who had never deceived us—side by side in one coffin and buried them under a shade tree on the old homestead. As we pushed the earth on the box I felt ashamed to look up at brother, but when I did I found there were tears in his eyes, too.

Chapter V

Bob White Quail

Now as I had grown from boyhood to man and had become the father in a little "home sweet home" my responsibilities naturally caused me to take life a little more seriously. But, as a boy loves to go bare-foot and play marbles in the spring of the year, when fall came my whole body seemed to reach out for just one sup of pure, unadulterated nature, and many and many a morning, after I have been over fo the factory and built a fire under the boiler, have I taken a stroll by twilight, before breakfast, and stepped up into a fence corner, leaned against the old rails and stood and listened to the pure air of a new-born day. Possibly the whish-sh-sh-sh of a flock of small wild ducks might be heard overhead as they darted their way southward; the note of the wood-thrush might also be noticed, and the flutter of the dear old woodcock's wings have sometimes almost caused me to flinch. Then as the last stars were closing their eyes for the day and the white frost of the early-October morning became visible on the top rail, away to the east would come the faint call of the quail. That voice would hardly die out before the father of another family would start calling the roll, right in the next field; then one to the south; another bevy, near the woods, to the north; and again to the west would come these cheerful notes; until the frosty air would fairly ring, all around me, with the melody of Bob White's roll call, the head of the family calling and each member answering. And if all is well, and none is missing, in about three minutes all is still and one would not know there was a quail in the country, unless a hawk happened to dart among them; then a shrill alarm is given, and all hoss for cover.

Now it is said that there never was a tribe of heathen discovered that did not worship some kind of idol. This I am not prepared to prove. But I will say that: That no intelligent man can live in this great, great out-of-doors and study the creatures that occupy it before man has any control over them, combined with the regularity of the sun, moon and whispering stars, without being compelled to believe that there is an over-ruling Power. And although I had not read a word on the value of our quail, this thought often presented itself to me: "What did God put them here for?" Yes, I can recall time, and time again, when, after I had emptied the quail out of my hunting-coat pocket I have gone to the kitchen door and thrown out by the handful the weed-seed that had worked out of their bursted crops; and how often, in the summer, I have seen them picking insects, as they strutted to the table-place! Now, I am proud to say, I have not shot a quail in nearly twenty years, and I am still proudof to say that I have this much confidence in humanity, that today there wouldn't be one quail shot where there are five, if these shooters would first consider their cheerfulness, beauty and value while alive. For one Bob White sitting on the top rail, sounding his beautiful note, brings more gladness and more cheer to more people than twenty-five will in a bloody game sack.

(To Be Continued)

WOULD-BE SUICIDE WON'T PAY RESCUER

Berlin, April 29—Is a person who attempted suicide obliged to pay the doctor who resuscitated him against his will, for medical services rendered? That is the question which has been occupying the minds of Berlin lawyers since the refusal of Walter Blohm to come across after having been brought back to this vale of tears.

Determined to end his existence, Walter stretched out on his bed with an open gas hose in his mouth. Other tenants, noticing the odor, forced the door and summoned a doctor who restored him to life after an hour's work. But far from being grateful, glohm went for the doctor "for meddling in what was none of his business" and bringing him back from the great beyond against his, the suicide's wish, and refused to pay a fee. His wife fully supported him in this attitude, she also claiming not to have any interest in her husband's continued existence.

The doctor refused to bring suit. But the case aroused interest among lawyers, who since have been stating their opinions in the newspapers.

ONE THOUSAND MASSACRED

Shanghai, April 28 (C.P.).—Chinese press despatches received today state that one thousand men, women and children, Chinese country folk, were massacred, and a thousand more captured by bandits who looted and burned the town of Kingsuchen.

AN ELECTRIC CHAIR FOR ALL INSECTS

Stamford, Conn., April 29—An "insect electric chair" has been invented at the Hartford Tree Research laboratories here. It is a new device for killing insects. Heretofore they have been sprayed, drowned, swatted and caught in traps.

The electrical device resembles a large ornamental lantern of square, wide bottom. Two of its sides are made of fine wires, charged with electricity to kill insects lighting on them or attempting to crawl through. Though fatal to many insects, the current cannot be felt by a person placing his hand on the wires, and is not dangerous to human beings. It is an ordinary house lamp current, run through a transformer.

The lantern is made to hang on trees, screen doors, or wherever insects congregate. It works 24 hours of the day. Its daylight bait inside the lantern attracts the insects, and at night an electric light bulb lures them. Dr. E. Porter Felt, who is conducting experiments to determine the usefulness of the new "chair," says that it has killed flies, beetles of some sorts, locusts and lady bugs. Death apparently is instantaneous.

LIPTON'S TROPHY FOR FASTEST MOTOR BOAT

Above is the beautiful Lipton trophy donated by the famous English tea king, Sir Thomas Lipton, to be competed for by some of the fastest power boats on the continent. The race will take place at Long Beach, California, and will be the longest "blue water" race on this side of the Atlantic.

HOW TO GET RICH

Bowie, Md., April 29—Douglas C. Turnbull, general inspector and Thomas A. Birney, assistant, of the Maryland Racing Association, operators of the Bowie track, are authorities for this grri rich quick scheme.

A man, accompanied by a woman, approached the $50 pari-mutuels ticket seller's window and slapped down $900.

"I want to play a horse," the man asie.

"What horse?" Fred Lamb, the seller asked.

"Any horse," the man replied.

Lamb gave the man $900 worth of tickets on Squab, winner of the first race and the "any horse" better won $2,250 and got his original $900 back. Squab paid $2.45 for $1.

Officers of military, naval and police forces of Italy have formed a co-operative buying society.

IS KILLED WHEN CAR STRIKES BUS

Street Bus in Kingston Hit By Car Whose Driver is Killed

Kingston, April 28—A collision between an auto and a bus of the Colonial Lines, operating in lieu of the local street cars, at Collingwood and Earl streets about 9 o'clock Saturday night resulted in the death of the driver of the car, Neil Tysick, aged 50, Victoria Street.

Mr. Tysick was driving along Collingwood street as the bus came down Earl, and, according to witnesses, he crashed into the bus, which was sent into the ditch. The auto was badly smashed in the collision and Mr. Tysick was thrown to the road. The injured man was picked up in an unconscious condition and removed to the General Hospital, where surgeons found that he had suffered a fracture of skull and neck. Death ensued at 3 o'clock Sunday morning.

CLOCK FALLS IN CUT KILLS LITTLE GIRL

Chicago, April 28 (C.P.).—Adora was still quiet in her crib after her father, James Padgett, had uttered off in alarm, dressed and eaten breakfast. It was strange, she was usually lazy by this idle, as active as any four-months-old baby girl. The father leaned over the crib. Adora was dead. Her father, upon arising, had knocked the clock into the crib and the blow had fractured her skull.

Oklahoma now has sixty-one airports.

MORE PEOPLE RIDE ON GOODYEAR TIRES THAN ON ANY OTHER KIND!

GOODYEAR

TIRES

Selected Dealer

I'LL GIVE YOU MORE FOR YOUR TIRE MONEY

I'M in the happy position of having been chosen to sell . . in your community . . The Worlds Best.

I specialize on this make—Goodyear—because they have proven themselves best in the only three possible tests of tire quality: 1. In the laboratory. 2. On test fleets for millions of miles. 3. For the many millions of miles of all-weather all-road driving on users' cars.

I recommend them to you because they are the only tires with the famous All-Weather Tread—the tread with traction in the center, where it belongs—and because they are the only tires made with Supertwist, the extra-elastic patented Goodyear cord which springs and recovers instead of breaking when your tire strikes a bump or a rough road.

Because I specialize I can carry a full stock which turns rapidly. Thus you save time; you get fresher stock, better value and low cost.

I'm in your community . . my signs and my local advertising identify me. See me first when you next need tires.

I am the Goodyear Selected Dealer!

T71-30

GOODYEAR MEANS GOOD WEAR

APRIL ESCAPADE

BY KATHLEEN NORRIS

"No. Can you fire one?"

"I could!" she answered, with chattering teeth.

"Sure—take this——" He was withing out of the dressing-gown. "You'll be ill. Take it! Go on. Slip it on."

She gratefully got into the thick, warm, flannel garment, resumed her former position.

An interval of watching, of complete silence, intervened.

"Could he have got away?"

"In that case, what would they do?"

"Chase' him, probably."

More silence infinitely reassuring. "We didn't count on this, did we?"

"I'll say we didn't!"

"I'm only sorry you got the scare."

"You really think he's gone?"

"It sounds like it, doesn't it?"

"But he hadn't had time to get anything! Silver, or anything."

"Where'd you leave the pearls?"

"I put them back in the case, and in to the bureau."

"What the deuce is he doing? I wish to goodness——"

Silence.

"Has he gone?"

"I'll be damned if I know!"

Christopher straightened up, and she stood up beside him clinging to his free arm. They moved across the upper hall. Mary Kate feeling invisible fingers clutch at hair and ankles as she went.

"I think he's beaten it!" the man whispered.

Then suddenly Bedlam broke loose. Mary Kate heard Christopher shout: "Blah—look out there and felt him jerk his arm away from her fingers. He ran a few steps forward, she could not see just where, in what was all darkness and strangeness to her, and called downward as if he were leaning over the stairway head, "Turn round there!"

Below, meanwhile, here was the horrible sound of pounding feet, silence no longer necessary, and a ruddier angle of hideous light on the stair way wall, and a babbly of voices.

Then the revolver cracked, and something fell—pitched on the stairs — groaned, Peter's voice came above the confusion.

"You got him, sir! It's all right—you've got him. The police are here sir—we've got him!"

Then the babble again. A woman's voice in a long pitying "Ah-h-h!"

"Ah-h-h! That's the time we got him. Stand aside. What is it? Hold his head up. He got him all right, officer; look here at my hand, sir. He's bleeding, under the arm there, sir. He's badly hit, all right! He's the man we have been after for some time. Stand back, will you!"

Christopher ran down the stair, Mary Kate crouched against the wall, in the upper hallways, her hand over her eyes. She felt the cool plaster against her temples. Her senses swooned, revived, swooned again.

"Oh, my God!" she whispered, now and then, in a vague, dull tone. "Oh, my God! Oh, God have mercy on him—"

Had she expected them to club him to death? She did not know. She only knew that it was a relief when the grey clear voice of Christopher said: "Hold his head up there, officer. He's coming 'round."

"He's off again. He's gone, poor fellar," the richly sympathetic slow Norse tones of Mr. Peters interposed.

"He's got what was coming to him."

"How'd he get in, sir?"

"Through the spare room window there."

"There was half-a-dozen of them on this job."

"There was more than one, all right."

"It looks like an inside job."

"Na, it's not an inside job! This was Christopher, laughing. Laughing incredulously and mirthlessly, it was true. But he would laugh at anything.

"You've got the revolver, sir?"

PAIN
so easily relieved
How to treat
Headaches
Neuralgia
Neuritis
or check a Cold

WHY are some women so patient with pain? Shopping with a head that throbs. Working when they ache all over. Sometimes it's hours before they take Aspirin and get relief! Most men take these tablets the moment that some sudden ache or pain threatens their comfort and so should you. Aspirin is perfectly harmless; it cannot depress the heart. The tablets stamped Bayer are always genuine Aspirin; always the same, always safe. So it isn't sensible to suffer with a headache, a cold, neuralgic pains, or anything else that these tablets relieve almost as soon as swallowed. Buy by the bottle and save money. Any druggist has the 100-tablet size.

TRADE MARK REG.
ASPIRIN

"I left it in my room."

"He's done for, all right."

"Did anyone telephone for an ambulance?"

"Yes sir. Coming right away, sir."

Voices. Voices. Voices. Then suddenly a head and shoulders appeared in the stairway opening and a fresh-faced young policeman was here in the upper hall, looking at her. She was on her knees, crouching. Mary Kate took her hands down from her face, and looked at him a long time.

"I beg your pardon Madam."

She tried to speak, for throat, her mouth were dry. No sound came forth.

"Do you know which door is the door of Mr. Steynes's apartment?"

A gesture of her head toward the door.

He still hesitated. Then he asked respectfully.

"Were you here at the time of the shooting, Madam?"

A desperate deep quiver of mirth shook her. Where else, indeed? But she could not speak. Her sunken, haggard eyes did not move from the tired, young concerned face. She nodded, swallowing.

The officer was plainly puzzled. He looked toward Chris's bedroom door, looked at Mary Kate, and finally, turning back toward the stairway, blew a brief, light note on his whistle.

Instantly an older officer appeared as he had done, in the stairway vault.

"This lady was here, sir."

"You're Mrs. Steynes, madam?" the constable asked.

"No, sir."

"A relative of Mr. Steynes?"

"No."

A pause.

"If you'll give me your name, Madam? There need be no publicity about it," the older man said, as she remained silent, staring blankly at them, her eyes glittering in an ashen face.

Christopher was suddenly beside her. He raised her to her feet, and straightened the heavy dressing-gown in which she was half-wrapped.

"Here!" he said, flattening the collar. He smiled gaily at the officer. "My name is Christopher Steynes, address Players' Club, or Steynes and Bonnington Bank, New York City," he said. The officer wrote it down. "Tell them your name, it's a mere formality!" he said to Mary Kate.

O'Hara, she said slowly, the deep color suddenly flooding her white face. "Mary Catherine O'Hara."

"And your address, Madam?"

"They won't use it," Chris assured her. "They're doing the same with Peters and Tony."

She gave the O'Farrell street number.

"You were in that bedroom downstairs, Miss O'Hara?"

"Tell me your own name," Christopher said ,"I hate to call anyone 'sir'."

"Constable Browning, sir."

"Well, now, look her Mr. Browning, be less——

"But just one moment, sir. This is a mere matter of form. The young lady was in the downstairs bedroom?"

"She was."

"She was in the room the thief entered, sir?"

"She was."

"You had latched that window, Miss O'Hara? You had locked it?"

"No. Well, yes, in a way I had.. But the glass part was open.

CHAPTER XXIII

The constable looked at the notes in his book, and appeared to consider.

"We have been looking for this gang for some time, Mr. Steynes," he said then, with apparent irrelevance.

"Well?" Christopher asked, almost with a sneer.

His stance seemed to nettle the other man.

"It is all a matter of protection to your property, sir," he said sharply. "We don't have this sort of thing going on—this is the seventh this year. We know they have plants——

"I don't know what you're talking about!" Christopher said, in a pause.

"We don't know there's a woman in the gang," the officer went on. "We don't know there isn't. I want to ask the young lady a few questions. I want to know if she ever——" He referred to his book. "If she ever heard the name of Tony Moodyr?" he asked.

"Who's he?" Christopher demanded. Constable Browning jerked his head toward the hall, and the group downstairs.

"The fellow I got, Huh?',

"That's the one sir. Did the young lady ever hear that name before?"

"Look here, Mr. Browning, Miss O'Hara's been Mr. Gordon Rountree's secretary for several years——"

"That wasn't what I asked, Mr. Steynes."

"Did you ever hear that name before Mary?"

Her wearied, despairing eyes moved slowly to his.

"What name?"

"Tony—what was it? Tony Moody?'

"Why no" Mary Kate said, wetting her lips, swallowing.

"That's all," said the constable. "We'll want you in the morning, both of you. If he dies, there'll have to be a coroner's investigation."

"We'll be here in the morning, of course," Christopher said curtly after a moment's hesitation.

"O.K., then," said the officer of the law. "Goodnight, Miss."

He ran downstairs, Mary Kate said no answering goodnight.

When the injured man had been taken away in an ambulance and the police officer, after some tramping about the grounds with the discovery of confederates in view, had all gone away, there still seemed to linger a strange agitation and emptiness in the house. The flashlights stopped waving, like searchlights, over the garden, the pound of heavy boots died away, and police-station car shugged away down the road.

Peters made a fire, and Mrs. Peters came in from the kitchen with coffee, but everything was weariness and queer; Mary Kate felt as if she were in a nightmare, of which this unfamiliar Spanish furniture, these lavishly distempered plaster walls, this hideous twisted stairway with the thick loop of red cord for its illustrate were forming a background never to be eradicated from her eyes.

She had been looking at it forever; a wood fire started on a base of hardly-cooled ashes, a room still in its even ing disorder of cigarette stubs and scattered books and papers. Chris that man, in his pajamas and dressing gown was the bizarre—the least believable detail of it all. His yellow hair was rumpled he still——after this insuf ferably-cooked flushed and drowsy with sleep.

The clock's hands stood at ten minutes past four. But to Mary Kate it seemed days—weeks since she had said her prayers. Chris and Don Archbield in this room, not much more than two hours ago. She had felt humiliated and angry then, but this was nothing to what had developed now. Now she was no longer occupied with young pride and superficial social niceties; she was a witness in a murder case, she was being held by the police!

And if it had been a girl who had talked with the two men in this very room, so short a while ago, it was a wo man who sat here now, drinking her fee coffee, listening to Chris with her weary head propped on her hand. Her wicked, patient blue eyes fixed on his face her answers or suggestions made quietly and practically, without any of the flash and vitality that had always been a part of Mary Kate.

She still wore the heavy big dressing-gown he had given her in the first alarm; a soft, furry checked brown-and-cream dressing-gown, tied firmly about her with a tasselled silk cord.

HAWES' Lemon Oil
for CLEANING and POLISHING FURNITURE PIANOS, RADIOS & INTERIOR WOODWORK ETC.
ASK FOR IT BY NAME — HAWES

Its bigness made Mary Kate seem little, somehow, seem very slim and helpless and young, as she sat in the big chair and the whiteness of her face the strained look in the blue eyes that were set in deep rings of violet paled somehow accentuated the impression of youth and desolation afresh. In this unnatural, unearthly night hour, she had crushed and broken; the moth that had ventured once too often toward the flame.

Her bright hair was disordered and flattened, her own feverish hands had pushed it carelessly from her face head more than once; she neither knew nor cared how she looked. The world, the future, were utterly black before her.

"Now, listen, it's only four o'clock," Chris was presently saying briskly. "You're got to get some sleep——they won't be 'round here until ten or so in the morning——

"Mr. Steynes what can they do?"

"What can who do?"

"The police?"

"Why, my child, you're not worrying about the police?"

Her eyes, tear-marked already, filled with fresh tears. She could not speak. She nodded her head.

"Why listen," he said "All they want is to clear up the case for their records.

"Oh, my God!" Mary Kate whispered She put her hand over her eyes.

"They're not going to ring you for the criminals' gallery!" Chris assured her, amused and kindly. "It's a clear case of house-breaking, and the fellow was armed—Browning, the constable, 'member?—Browning said he could get twenty years. Well, he won't he'll get about five, if he lives."

"Did he fire?"

"No. He didn't have his gun out, even."

"And he was hit——"

"I shot him through the lung. He'll never get out of the hospital, probably. And all they want to do is clear it up, be sure he wasn't in conspiracy with Peters, or what not——"

He saw she was not listening. Her anxious eyes were fixed on space. The hopeless, tragic apathy of her manner did not change.

"Will the papers have it Chris?"

"Sure they will. But that does not have to worry you."

Her somber eyes moved to him trustingly; she did not speak again for a long time.

But she knew now what might have changed the whole course of her life had she known it a dozen hours before. She knew that she must depend only on herself, in this crisis, that she could find no help from Chris , or from anyone else. He might be sympathetic, he might want to be helpful. But his standards were not her standards, por his code her code.

There was one code, indeed, for a rich young man, and another for a penniless girl. Perhap he had not betrayed his code, in this adventure but how she had demolished her own!

"I suppose I'm thinking of Mother," she said simply, after a while.

Chris regarded her for a few seconds, uneasily.

"You can explain it. She'll believe you," he said then, without much assurance.

"Oh, maybe!" Mary Kate said wearily, with a shrug. Her lip trembled and here eyes filled again.

"Drink your coffee!"

"I am."

"It's just one of those damn' things Chris mused, unhappily. "It's no bed. I'm awfully sorry!"

Yes, she reflected bitterly, he might be awfully sorry, and it was becoming and generous in him to be so. But that didn't involve him in anything; shameful, that didn't mean that he could take any share of her punishment.

"I don't think there's any question that we can keep your name out of the papers," Chris said, pondering. "Gordy surely can do that."

Gordon Rountree. She had forgotten her nervously laughing, cynical employer, the man of whom she had sometimes thought as a spoiled baby, unwilling to take responsibility, anxious only to escape from every situation with his own skin safe. Well, it was he who had gotten her into this, and he was once more to be let off scot free.

But no, she had to interrupt herself heroically. Nobody ever got a girl of twenty into trouble except the girl herself. And here she was "in trouble", up as surely in trouble as any poor little loving fool who ever found herself robbed of a reputation overnight. Hundreds of girls got away with breaches of the moral law that bind a woman so tightly, and exist not at all for men. But she, Mary Kate who had always held her head so high, who had always been above suspicion, much less reproach—she before whom the other girls in the office, wouldn't even tell a shady story, or use a coarse word—she was going to be known, from now on, as the girl who was down in a country house with a young wealthy bachelor, from New York, on the night a burglar was shot.

"You look all in," Chris said, watching her.

"I'm merely——" She gave a forlorn little laugh. "I'm merely wishing I was the one who was shot!" she said.

"Ah, no, no; you'll see it all differently in the morning!" he promised her

But she did not brighten, she did not smile. Putting aside the half-emptied cup, she slipped down into her chair again. Her slim wrists, emerging from the grotesque sleeves of the dressing gown, looked thin and childish; her slim, childish fingers were tightly locked. She stared dully into the dead fire.

"What'll they do in the morning?"

(To Be Continued)

All the Quiet Splendor of Rich Eastern Colorings

THE BARISTAN is peer of the widely celebrated BARRYMORE line of fine rugs. It is a domestic Oriental with the exquisite features of the finest antique oriental rug . . . the same lustrous sheen and bloom . . . soft light and shadow. It is woven seamless with a thick, heavy pile that yields luxuriously to the tread. All sizes, designs and colorings. Now on display at leading stores from coast to coast.

BARISTAN Rugs are the exclusive creation of the Toronto Carpet Manufacturing Company, Limited manufacturers of the famous BARRYMORE Guaranteed Rugs.

Pattern 101

BARISTAN RUGS

Designed, Woven and Guaranteed by TORONTO CARPET MFG. CO., LIMITED

Established 1891 2179 King St. West Toronto

READ OF A CASE LIKE HER OWN

Decided to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Moncton, New Brunswick—"Before my last baby was born I was very weak, nervous and discouraged. I saw an advertisement in the paper about a woman who had been like me and bought a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took three bottles and it carried me safely through that critical time. I have three children to care for and I feel well and strong. I have told two other women about your medicine."—Mrs. Gus Amirault, 29 Albert Street, Moncton, New Brunswick.

QUICKLY BUILDS UP THIN SCRAWNY WOMEN

Would you like to quickly add pounds of firm, attractive flesh—banish nervousness and irritability—fill that tired out body of yours with amazing strength and energy?

Do you want to bring out your hidden beauty—acquire a smooth and clear skin—bright eyes reflecting your glorious health within?

Then take McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets—just check full of powerful flesh-adding, strength-creating, nerve-toning and health-building elements.

What's ever think the liver of lowly Codfish would yield such vital health essentials yet they do and for years doctors and world's greatest medical authorities have prescribed them for underweight, rundown men, women and children.

You can get McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets at Doyle's Drug Store or any drug store, 60 super coated tablets 60 cents and if you don't gain at least 5lbs. in 30 days—money back.

District News Gathered by our Correspondents

Tweed

Tweed, April 26 (By Mail)—Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wilson of Toronto are visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Joe Quinn.

Misses Patricia Quinn and Kathleen Dorna of Notre Dame Convent are spending their Easter holidays at their homes.

Miss Helena McGee of Toronto is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. S. B. McGee.

Miss Alice Quinn of Toronto and Mr. Thomas Quinn of Renfrew are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Quinn.

Mr. Bill Bowers of Kingston spent the week end at his home in Sulphide.

Miss Margaret LaBarge of Toronto spent Easter with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pete LaBarge.

Misses Nora and Marian Feeney of Toronto are spending their Easter holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Feeney.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ryan and son Jack of Windsor, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jas Ryan.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. O'Keefe of St. Catharines are spending a few days with their son Mr. Neil O'Keefe.

Dr. Chas. Quinn of Schenectady is visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Quinn.

Miss Rita Cogniewya of Toronto spent Easter at her home in Bogart.

Mr. Stan Quinn spent Easter at his home here.

Miss Florence Clare spent the week end with her sister Miss Margaret Clare. They both left Monday to spend their holidays at their home in Nerbam.

Messrs. Borden Rollins, Bill Burgoyne and Gilbert Coody of Queen's are holidaying at their homes here.

Miss Dorina Cohan of Marmora spent a few days this week the guest of Mrs. Jas. Feeney.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Mahar and family of Kingston spent Easter with relatives in town.

Mr. Fred Rashotte spent Easter with friends in Newburg.

Miss Elva Clark of Toronto is holidaying with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Clark.

Mr. Maxwell Cotton of Peterboro is visiting friends in town.

Mr. Jas Ryan is visiting friends in Cobourg.

Mrs. O. Bray of Toronto and baby are visiting her mother Mrs. Geo. Way.

Mrs. M. Bradley of Nerbam and baby Lorne are visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. S. H. McGee.

Miss Velva Thompson of Northbrook is visiting friends in town.

Miss Marjorie Bowers of Montreal spent Easter at her home in Sulphide.

Mr. Morton Sayers of Hamilton spent Easter at his home here.

Mr. Dan LaFontaine of Queen's is visiting at his home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Froad and daughters Nancy and Joey of Smith Falls spent Easter with Dr. and Mrs. Paul.

Miss Ruby Tufts of Toronto is holidaying at her home here.

Mr. Frank Foster was taken to King ston Hospital on Wednesday to undergo an operation for appendicitis.

Mr. Jim Mills returned from Peterboro Hospital Wednesday after an operation for appendicitis.

Mr. Stan Selder was taken to Kingston Hospital this week with pleurisy.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Aboud of Havelock spent the week end with her daughter Mrs. Lew. Courie.

Miss Ina Cronkwright of Belleville is visiting friends in town.

Miss Lois Ketcheson spent a few days the guest of Ann Carney of Belleville.

Miss Elizabeth Ketcheson spent the past week with her uncle Mr. F. Harris of Toronto.

Mrs Cora Kingston returned on Sunday to her home in Toronto after spending a week with her aunt Mrs. John Kingston.

Miss M. Kerr of Peterboro spent a few days in town.

Mrs. Burns of Buffalo is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Syd McIlroy.

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Bowling was held on Thursday evening last. April 17th in the council chambers.

The secretary and treasurer read very satisfactry reports for the past year.

Officers elected for 1930:

Hon. President Mrs. Bowlby.

President, Mrs. A. Donnelly.

Vice resident Mrs. S. B. McGee.

Secretary Mrs. Geo. E. Clark.

Treasurer Mrs. F. Hunter.

Games Committee Mrs. C. M. Reeves.

Convener Mrs. E. Wagner, Miss J. Wright.

Skips, Mrs. C. M. Reeves, Mrs. S. B. McGee, Mrs. D. H. Morrison, Mrs. E. Wagner, Mrs. F. Hindle, Mrs. Geo. E. Clark.

Membership Committee to be Hon. Pres., Pres., Vice Pres., Secretary and Treasurer.

Refreshment Committee to be divided in groups and managed alphabetically.

At twelve o'clock on Tuesday evening last fire completely destroyed the house and contents of the late Wesley Rodgers, John St. The house had not been occupied for a couple of weeks.

Madoc

Madoc, April 29 (By Mail)—Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Munro and Wellington were visiting relatives in Montreal.

Miss Lillian Rivers of Toronto is visiting her parents Rev. O. W. and Mrs. Rivers.

Miss Mary McGhee of Parry Sound spent the holidays with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Robert McGhee.

Mr. John O'Connell of Queen's University is spending the holidays in town.

Mrs. S. Wellington, Irene and Mrs. Vernon Reid spent a few days in Toronto recently.

Miss Eva Rupert of Sidney is spending the holidays in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Christie of Toronto were visiting Mrs. M. Christie.

Mrs. T. Ivy of Toronto was visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Wright.

Mr. Charles Rollins of Coe Hill has been visiting relatives in town.

Miss Viola Avery of Kingston was visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. G. Avery.

Mrs. Ezra Smith of Arnprior is visiting Mrs. H. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Braskell of Medicine Hat are visiting Mrs. Braskell.

Mr. Alex Robertson is spending a few days in Coe Hill.

Mrs. Bishop of Rouyn, was visiting Miss Ida Brown.

Miss Jean Harrison is spending the holidays in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. G. LaBrash of Toronto were in town on Friday.

Mr. Donald Whytock, who has been attending Queen's University is spending the holidays at his home.

Mr. Campbell Wallbridge of Toronto is visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. C. Wallbridge.

Miss Margaret Nickle of Belleville spent the holidays at her home.

Mr. Jack Ross spent a few days in Toronto recently.

Mrs. E. Morrison is visiting relatives in Toronto.

Marmora

Marmora, April 29 (By Mail)—Miss Mary Dunn is visiting relatives in Peterboro.

Mrs. Fred Eley of Kingston is visiting relatives in town.

Mr. William Flynn of Petrboro is spending a few days in town.

Mrs. Crawford of Kingston is visiting Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Crawford.

Mr. Robert Gordon of Detroit motored to Marmora on Saturday. Miss Merle Bedore returned home with him on Sunday to visit her sister Mrs. Gordon who underwent an operation for appendicitis last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nathen and family spent Saturday in Belleville.

Miss Ida Gillen of Cobourne is visiting at her home here.

Misses Bernice and Doris McIlroy are visiting relatives in Campbellford.

Mr. and Mrs. John Finnigan and family spent Saturday in Peterboro.

Miss Frances Crawford, daughter of Dr. Crawford went to Peterboro on Friday to undergo an operatdn for appendicitis.

Mr. J. P. Martin of Belleville and niece Frances visited friends in town on Saturday.

Mr. Charles Auger, Mrs. S. McWilliams, Mrs. Gordon McWilliams and the Misses Margaret and Clara Sullivan spent Friday in Belleville.

Miss Mary Crawford of Stirling spent last week the guest of Miss Rita Deacon.

Mrs. E. Shannon and daughters have returned home from a visit in Iroquois.

Misses Anna O'Connor, Dorena Gehan and Merle Bedore spent Saturday evening in Belleville.

Mr. Thos. Hughes of North Dakota and Mr. Edward Hughes of Belleville were in town on Sunday.

Madoc

Madoc, April 29 (By Mail)—Oakdale Rebekah Members gave a very enjoyable Euchre in their hall on Thursday evening. Owing to the busy week and many absentees the numbers were not large, but all enjoyed a pleasant evening. Prize winners were Mrs. T. Bliss and Mrs. R. Wellman.

The Minstrel Show put on at the Empire Theatre, Madoc, by several of the local young Artists was a most successful and popular affair, and all join in congratulating the young men on the variety of the programme and the excellent ability displayed by one and all. It was as advertised, "A sure cure for the Blues." The following cast gives a good idea of the talent shown and the versatility displayed. Interlocutor, Charles Phillips, who needs no introduction; Amos Jones, Jr., Master Billy Hawthorne, "The boy dancer;" Andy Brown, Jr.; Master Tommy Ross, "The boy lecturer;" The Alabama Quartette—Kelly, W. Hawthorne; Jolly, C. I. Ross; Pete, C. Tummon; Sandy, D. Wellman; Lightnin', J. R. Black, "The violin smeek;" Chubby Parker; M. Caverely "The banjo wizard;" Ben Hokey, H. Gwanette, "The harmonica devil;" King Plah Geo. Alore, "The step dance wonder;" Professor Butts, J. Mantle, "Musical director and front tickler." A varied programme was given which was immensely enjoyed by one and all. Attendance about one hundred. Receipts very nearly $120.00.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Switzer and daughters spent the holidays with friends in Delora.

Messrs. P. H. Young and C. M. Mitchell of the Madoc Creamery spent Easter at their homes in Peterboro.

Mr. Lorne McConnell of the Bank of Commerce Staff, Cannington, spent the holidays with friends in Madoc.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Wellman and children spent Sunday in Belleville.

Mr. John Campbell, of Kingston University is at home for the holidays.

Miss Frances Kinch of Toronto spent the week end with Mrs. S. and Miss Irene Wellington.

Mr. and Mrs. Gavin Wallbridge have returned from spending a few weeks in Atlantic City, U. S. A.

Mr. Wm. Brooks of Belleville spent Friday in Madoc.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hough and son Douglas spent the Easter holiday in Stirling with relatives.

Miss Beatrice Avery of Toronto spent the Easter holidays with her parents in town.

Miss Ethel Wicks, of Toronto has been spending a week at Hazard's Corners with friends.

Mr. Kart Whytock and Mr. Donald Whytock, of Queen's University, Kingston are at home for the summer vacation.

Mr. Dan McGillivray is spending a few weeks with his daughter in Ottawa.

Miss Viola Avery, nurse-in-training at Kingston General Hospital, spent a few days with her parents during the week.

Mrs. M. Bristol spent a few days in Belleville last week.

Miss M. E. Nickle of Belleville is spending Easter week at her home in Madoc.

Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Ashley spent Easter with friends in Stirling.

Mr. Archie Ashley of Queen's has arrived at home for the summer vacation.

Miss Anna Eggleton, of Toronto, was an Easter visitor in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Poole, of Norwood spent Easter with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Foote in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sills, of Campbellford, spent the Easter Sunday with friends in Madoc.

Mrs. Olive Wilson is spending a few days with friends in Belleville.

Mrs. A. L. Connor, of Belleville, is in Madoc for a few days.

Melrose

Melrose, April 28 (By Mail)—The service in Union Church on Easter Sunday was well attended. The choir rendered special Easter music and the pastor also gave an Easter message.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Holmes of Sidney and Mrs. L. English and Miss H. English, Foxboro were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. English.

Mrs. F. D. Pringle spent several days this week with her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. Hill, Shannonville.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilson, Toronto were over the week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. Bennett.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Hines spent a few days recently with Mr. and Mrs. B. King, Oshawa.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Badgley visited relatives at Napanee on Easter Sunday.

Several from here attended the W. M. S. Easter meeting at Salem on Sunday evening.

The stone crusher commenced its season's work on Wednesday.

ESCAPES BANDITS

Toronto, April 29.—Rev. C. A. Bridgman of Winona, Ont., the Canadian missionary who was captured by Chinese bandits on April 8, has succeeded in making his escape and has presumably reached mission headquarters at Chungking.

A safe and sure medicine for a child troubled with worms is Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator.

Good light increases the speed at which the eye may see objects. Factories have discovered that good lighting increase shtir output.

ENDS OVEN WATCHING

Hotpoint Super-Automatic Control Cooks Meals in Your Absence!

YOU can be miles from home yet your Hotpoint Super-Automatic Range will turn the oven current on at any time you say and off when the dinner is perfectly cooked. And it will keep the meal piping hot until ready to serve.

You will be proud of Hotpoint's cream white and dove grey enamel finish. You will appreciate the convenience of its indestructible Hi-Speed Elements (fastest by test) and its ultra-modern Economy Cooker. And years from now you will be grateful for its sturdy All-Steel Construction.

These are exclusive features of the Hotpoint Hi-Speed Range. Let us explain how easy it is to own a Hotpoint on our convenient terms ... and at prices as low as $85.

Hotpoint HI-SPEED RANGE

For Sale by JOHN LEWIS and CO.
265 Front St., Belleville

CANADIAN GENERAL ELECTRIC CO.
Head Office Toronto
88-19-B

"I paid for it myself!"

"I GOT a job delivering parcels after school and on Saturdays. It didn't take me long to pay for it."

"Gee, I'd like to own a bike like yours, Bert! It sure is a snappy one."

"It's the new C.C.M. Motorbike "6" Superb, Tom. See the new idea in wheels. They make you sit closer to the ground. If you have to stop in traffic you just sit in the saddle and rest your feet on the ground. It's easier to start again, too. You have better control. I never felt so comfortable on a bike before."

"That's great, Bert! That's the bike I want. And I'm going to earn one, too."

"You'll get a job easy, Tom. There are heaps of stores, offices, factories that want bicycle messengers. And the C.C.M. dealer will gladly let you pay for your bike on easy weekly or monthly instalments. C.C.M. prices are down, too—the dealer told me they're the lowest in 30 years!"

Your nearest C.C.M. dealer will give you the new 1930 C.C.M. catalogue, or write to Canada Cycle & Motor Co., Limited, Weston (Ontario), Montreal, Winnipeg or Vancouver.

Here's the New Motorbike "6" Superb

A lower, smarter, more compact bicycle of "motorbike" design.

New 26" wheels.

Motorbike handlebars with brilliant C.C.M. 20-year Nickel-Plate.

Rigid frame of English seamless tubing, rust-proofed, and then given three coats of sapphire blue or maroon enamel enlivened with gold striping.

Big, comfortable saddle.

Famous, easy-running C.C.M. Triplex Crank Hanger.

C.C.M. Hercules Coaster Brake.

Gibson Pedals.

Dunlop Tires.

C·C·M Bicycles

also C·C·M Tricycles for Children

78

Your Nearest C. C. M. Dealer

Stephen Licence

BICYCLES AND SPORT GOODS — 299 FRONT STREET

Your Old Bicycle Taken as Part Payment on a New C· C· M.

To clean greasy pots and pans

Just use a teaspoon of Gillett's Lye in about a gallon of cold water* and you have a mixture that will instantly clean even the greasiest pots and pans.

GILLETT'S LYE

HAS HUNDREDS OF DAILY HOUSEHOLD USES

It cleans and disinfects sinks, drains and closet bowls ... effectively removes old paint ... cleans floors, etc., etc.

Send for our booklet on household cleaning. It will show you the many ways Gillett's Lye can be used in your home to make cleaning easier.

*Lye should never be dissolved in hot water.

STANDARD BRANDS LIMITED
GILLETT PRODUCTS
Toronto Montreal Winnipeg

When you want

BETTER BRAN FLAKES

ask for

Kellogg's PEP BRAN FLAKES

'Tis sure you eat the more you'll agree that these are better bran flakes.

They have all the famous PEP flavor, just enough bran to be mildly laxative. And the nourishing elements of whole wheat. More vigor for work. More pep for play. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

Fashionably Speaking

By Lucille

DEAR READERS:

With this uncertain weather it's mighty hard trying to decide what is wisest to wear so as to be in keeping with the temperature. And for this reason the knitted suit has made a triumphant "come back" into Fashion's favor. It, is so adaptable, especially with the addition of several blouses to your wardrobe.

The knitted suit is nothing if not versatile. It appears this year in all kinds of charming conceptions. There is the skirt, and pullover sweater, combination, the latter having a dashing note of contrasting color as trimming. These little sweaters, this year, are worn tucked in, to show that they are quite the latest fashion.

And before we go any further, it must be explained that the term of "knitted" suit includes jersey cloths which lead the vogue in sports wear.

Newer than the pullover and skirt idea is the three piece suit. This consists of a trim little skirt with cleverly arranged pleats in the front, pull over sweater in a different shade or trimmed with a deeper tone of the ensemble, and cardigan jacket. Sometimes the pullover is sleeveless. Often it, too, has sleeves. Then when you are tired of wearing both sweaters you can wear one of those fascinating blouses under your cardigan.

This soft lines of a knitted or jersey suit makes it becoming to most people. But, please, dear reader, unless you are as slim as a sylph, choose the suit with the cardigan. The slightest suggestion of plumpness is emphasized, distressingly, in a pullover sweater.

I have seen some very pretty suits in the stores this spring. One, I remember, was in jersey, of a warm hunter green shade. The pullover achieved distinction by being white with a band of the same green at the bottom, and just higher up a band of a soft yellow tone. This suit would be a particularly good buy, as the white sweater could be worn in the summer with a white skirt, when you wanted a change.

Yes, the knitted suit is very good. It is a wise acquisition for there are many cool days in the summer, when your coat is too warm, your frock too light, and a knitted suit would be more than welcome.

Fashionably yours,

"LUCILLE"

Today's Poem

DEPARTMENT

She can laugh
And she can whistle
Though her hours
Prick like thistle.

Wise, she keeps
Her hands behind her
Lest Eve come again.
To find her.

A small cap with
A perky feather
Her heart puts on
For any weather.

And no man knows
What lies behind
The jaunty ramparts
Of her mind.

—Frances . Frost, in the New Yorker

Princess Mary Favours Blue

London, April 29.—Princess Mary's taste for the delicate shade of blue which she has done so much to popularize among British women extends even to her new home, Harewood House.

In the house, recently decorated under the princess' own supervision, the shade of blue predominates.

Princess Mary's idea of the ideal home are distinctly modern, and as a result several walls have been removed in Harewood House to provide lighter, larger and airier rooms. During the course of rebuilding the princess has made at least three trips a week to Harewood House to supervise the work.

One of the principal interests in the nursery on the top floor, also painted blue, where her two little sons will play. Tiny hunting scenes will decorate the nursery walls.

Nine persons were killed and 20 injured when a mining train crashed into a passenger bus near Oviedo, Spain.

There are 26,301,443 motor vehicles in the United States. New York leads with 2,263,256.

THE BEAUTY BOX

Beauty of movement distinguishes a woman as much as beauty of features. There are women who walk so lightly and beautifully that they seem to float through the air. Grace is natural to some, but any woman with a seeing mind and a will to improve can acquire it. There must be spring in the step, the body must be held splendidly, movements should be easy. There must be no tight muscles yes every muscle should be strong and resilient. By joining a gym class a woman can gather helpful ideas.

* * *

Needle-point scissors, used for snipping off hangnails—the meanest thing that grows—should be of the best grade of steel; otherwise they are worse than useless. They are expensive, but they never wear out. To have them sharpened take them to a barber supply shop. The umskilled scissor grinder will ruin them. The nail file as well should be of good steel with fine grain and flexible.

* * *

An appreciation of beautiful colors is a great help to the woman who would dress herself pictorially, who would look her best and be in the mode. The effect of luscious hues upon the spirits is not to be denied. Drab draperies, drab thoughts. Getting out of a dismal frock and into a gay one is like going from a darkened room into sunlight and fresh breezes.

* * *

When the gums bleed, his to the dentist. He will take his little pickaxes and spades and remove tartar that has formed under the gums, causing them to soften and to lose tone. When brushing the teeth begin on the gums. As the brush descends send the bristles inward, between the teeth. Brushing crosswise of the teeth affords only a partial cleansing. Use dental floss at bedtime, but use it carefully so as not to injure the gums.

A NOVEL TRAP

New York, April 29—"Want a lift?" said Edward Smith.

"Sure," said James Brown.

"Ever ride in a wagon like this before?" asked Smith, who is the Yonkers City dog catcher.

"No."

"Don't mind that being a snap lock do you?"

"Oh, no."

Silence and driving.

"Here's where you get out."

"Say, this is the police station!"

Brown was arraigned on a charge of suspicion of felony.

Today's Poem

DEPARTMENT

She can laugh
And she can whistle
Though her hours
Prick like thistle.

Wise, she keeps
Her hands behind her
Lest Eve come again.
To find her.

A small cap with
A perky feather
Her heart puts on
For any weather.

And no man knows
What lies behind
The jaunty ramparts
Of her mind.

—Frances . Frost, in the New Yorker

Begin Early to Train a Child

At birth the child is little more than a helpless animal that has to be nurtured and taken care of in order to live it will die.

It is absolutely a dependent organism and in many ways it is a very stupid one. It is stupid in the sense that it cannot take care of itself although its inherent potential possibilities for mental and physical growth are very great.

During that time cultural traits are impressed upon the child by its parents and teachers which save it years of experience and it is set out upon life's course with certain fundamental concepts of successful living forced into its very make-up.

The lower down the scale of animal life one goes the more quickly can the offspring take care of itself.

But the human being's preparatory stage takes years.

It is evident, therefore, that the kind of a start a child gets in its early years is the most important single factor during its entire life cycle.

If poorly scorched, badly trained and carelessly reinedd it may mean the wrack of what otherwise would have been a bright career.

In the earliest days the infant is a bundle of sensations.

Most of these are of a pleasurable nature and these physical pleasures—warm milk, soft clothing, caresses and cradle songs—tend to make the child self-centered and even selfish.

In a few years, when mental faculties function beyond mere instinctive mechanisms, the child begins to realize whence come its many pleasurable experiences.

The parents, as all-powerful beings that can give and withhold pleasures then take predominance in the child's imagery, and as a result an over-ideal isation of the parents' takes place.

The early years of life, then, are a period of apprenticeship which merges from absolute dependence through the many phases of imitation, curiosity and play, in which the child feels its way about and tries itself out, until it arrives at some notion of its environment and what the world of reality is and what its relationship to it stands for.

The mind of the child is plastic and impressionable for many years.

Upon its soft, yielding mind one can fingerprint what one wishes.

It helps parents not only to understand their children but to guide them better as well if they bear in mind this absolute helplessness and ignorance in the earliest years.

For, after all, scientists claim that the first five years are the most important ones during the entire life cycle.

What is imprinted on our minds then we become, in effect, later on.

So glad that a child is a care in the beginning, for that is every parent's greatest opportunity.

* * *

The Alaska Pine Brokerage in five stations handled more than 1,000,000 pounds of salmon and halibut last season, more than three times the amount shipped in any previous year.

* * *

Nearly 24,000 bags of cement are being manufactured daily from the oyster shells in San Francisco bay, or more than 750,000 bags a month.

* * *

The Lion of Lucerne is a sculptured lion hewn from sandstone, near Lucerne, Switzerland.

DUTCHESS CANCELS ENGAGEMENTS

The Duchess of York, according to an official report, has cancelled all her engagements for the summer, as it is understood she is expecting a visit from Mr. Stork.

LITTLE BENNY'S NOTE BOOK

Saturday afternoon me and Lucky Leroy Shooster was going to wawk out to the park, and he said, I know what Im going to do, Im going to bounce this ball all a ways there.

And he took a little ball out of his pockit all made out of rubber bands. Being a swell bouncer, and I sed, G, Ill swap you my golf ball for that, its just as good as new ony its got a cuple of little cracks in it.

Like that, but I got a ideer, Leroy sed. Lets both make a will and say if either of us gets cawt in a accident and gets killed or anything why Ill will you this rubber band ball and you will me your golf ball. Ony we haff to write it down and sine it or else it wont be legal, my father's a lawer so I know he sed.

Him always bragging about his father being a lawyer, and he took a hunk of paper and a hunk of pencell out of his pockit and made up the will, being Ladies and gentlemen to whoop it may concern, this is a by sean and our dying will that if w earo found ded or permanently unconscious for any reason such as being run over by a ice waggon, huckster faggon, fire engine or truck, or falling out of windows or down elevater shafts or other holes of any shape or size whatever, or having things fall on us or otherwise come down on us like planes, ice boxes or iron safes, we here a by sertify lawful and legal that Leroy Shooster can have and possess and keep Benny Pottoes golf ball and Benny Potts can keep, possess and have Leroy Shoosters rubber band ball, amen.

And we both sined it with our names em saying, Well heck, how do I know its legal?

My father's home, Ill go in and leave him see is it for a witness, and then we'll wawk out to the wark, Leroy sed.

And he went in the house and a long while afterwards I herd a wissle up in the air and it was him sticking his bed out of the 2nd story window, Hey-ing. I sint shout out to wawk to the park or anywhere elts, my father got so nervius reeding the will hi says I haff to stay in where he knows Im safe.

Proving even the luckiest people have unlucky days.

OBITUARY

THOMAS KENNY

Mr. Thomas Kenny a well known and highly respected resident of Elevan, Sask., passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. W. Hill.

Mr. Kenny had been in failing health for some time, but was not considered serious until three days before his death when he received a stroke, and he passed away as an early hour on Good Friday morning.

Mr. Kenny was a gentleman of kindly disposition and well known in Tweed and surrounding country, besides his sorrowing wife he leaves to mourn five children, James and Edward of Kirkland Lake and William of Trenton, Mrs. E. Reeves, Tweed and Mrs. J. W. Hill, Estevan, another daughter Mrs. E. R. Kleinsasser, Picton, predecessed him about six years ago.

The funeral service was held in Estevan and was largely attended by relatives and friends. Interment at Estevan Cemetery.

He is done with the trials and troubles of life
No more on this dull dreary shore,
When he took part in the care of the strife,
For him there is peace evermore.

KAYSER

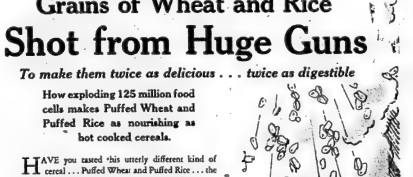
Kayser Colours Classique

Guide to Hosiery Chic . . . They're so harmoniously toned to the mode that the colour of your costume determines the shade of your hose. Aphrodite for beige . . . Juno for vivid blues . . . Diana for soft blues . . . Phoebe for an indefinite shade . . . and for the new baby colours for evening, lovely Aurora. If you desire the new, narrow French heel ask for Kayser Slendo Heel Hosiery . . . in the new shades and smart weights.

$1.95

Style No. 139x

Extra sheer . . . 45 gauge . . . all silk . . . 2 tone picot edge.



Kayser Colours Classique

APHRODITE
AURORA - DIANA
PHOEBE - JUNO

81

*Trademark Reg.—Made in Canada

KAYSER

Grains of Wheat and Rice

Shot from Huge Guns

To make them twice as delicious . . . twice as digestible

How exploding 125 million food cells makes Puffed Wheat and Puffed Rice as nourishing as hot cooked cereals.

HAVE you tasted this utterly different kind of cereal . . . Puffed Wheat and Puffed Rice . . . the crispest, crunchiest cereal on the market today?

Puffed Wheat and Puffed Rice are different because they're made differently. Choice full-flavored grains of wheat and rice are sealed in huge bronze guns. Then revolved in fiery ovens. This expands the natural moisture in the millions of tiny food cells. Then the guns are fired. Causing 125 million explosions in every grain.

Every tiny food cell is blasted open. The grains are made as completely digestible as though they had been cooked for hours. Hence Puffed Wheat and Puffed Rice are virtually as nourishing as hot cooked cereals.

These grains "shot from guns" become 8 times normal size. They have all the buttery crispness of fresh toast. They taste like sweet new nut-meats. Never before was such grain nourishment made so delectably good to eat. Order Puffed Wheat and Puffed Rice from your grocer today. The Quaker Oats Company.

5753

QUAKER PUFFED WHEAT AND PUFFED RICE

14 PAGES

The Ontario Intelligencer

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 30, 1930.

THE WEATHER
Moderate southerly winds, fair and warm. Thursday, moderate southerly winds, mostly fair and warm, perhaps followed by scattered thunder-showers.

Prepare to Keep May Day Peaceful

PARIS AND MADRID POLICE MAKE ROUNDUP ON EVE OF MAY DAY

Police of Various Cities Make Plans To Keep Demonstrations Quiet Tomorrow--Some Demonstrations Forbidden.

Police authorities in many parts of the world today made plans to keep May day observances peaceful and in some cases forbid demonstrations altogether. In Paris, police making their usual preliminary round ups, expelled two foreigners and arrested fifteen persons charged with inciting soldiers to disobey military orders.

Communists in Madrid announced they were planning huge demonstrations and police made preparations to cope with any trouble. Authorities of Athens and Lisbon prohibited all communist meetings while in Warsaw special precautions were taken against possible clashes between Socialists and Communists. Moscow was a flutter with red hunting and numerous decorations while spread plans were completed for huge demonstrations. New York communists planned to hold demonstrations.

A DIFFERENCE OF SEVENTY-FOUR YEARS

Among those who saw the two speedy Canadian National Railways trains pass through Napanee on their six-hour run between Montreal and Toronto Sunday was Sara Pringle of Napanee. Seventy-four years ago Mr. Pringle witnessed the inauguration of passenger service by the old Grand Trunk Railway, and saw the first passenger train go through Napanee. The engine was of small type, and wood was used as fuel. The train was made up of three coaches. Mr. Pringle walked several miles to see the first train pass through Napanee.

NO BREACH OF PEACE IN INDIA IN 2 DAYS

LONDON, April 30.—CP—Two full days have passed without reports of any serious breach of the peace in India. The closing of Khyber Pass, outlet from India to Afghanistan to visitors was unexplained but was regarded as a precautionary measure adopted for the protection of Peshawar which is but eleven miles distant. A committee representing various Indian newspapers in Delhi decided that after tomorrow no papers would be published until further notice. News organizations were requested to discontinue their services.

LEGISLATION ON MILK PURCHASE

J. M. Roblin, plant superintendent of the Citizens' Dairy, will be a representative at the gathering of milk producers of Ontario in the Parliament Buildings in Toronto, today. The meeting has been called on account of legislation that will come into effect this summer that states that milk bought by distributors in future will be purchased on a butter fat basis. Howard Clarke, manager of the dairy stated to The Ontario Intelligencer today:

"In the past," he said, "it was the custom to buy the milk by weight, and in a few cases, by measure. But this legislation will force all milk for distribution to be bought according to the butterfat that it contains."

This legislation will prove a blessing to some farmers. Those who have supplied the dairies in the past with milk that contained a higher percentage of butterfat than their fellows will now receive a better price for their milk than the owner of the herd whose cows produce milk low in butterfat average.

Rubber was used by the American Indians before the appearance of Europeans in the Western Hemisphere.

MACDONALD TALKS TO Ppremier SCULLEN

LONDON, April 30.—CP—Premier MacDonald today lifted the telephone in Cabinet room at Number 10 Downing street and talked to Premier Scullin of the Australian Commonwealth at Canberra, twelve thousand miles away. The conversation was in the inauguration of the telephone service between Great Britain and Australia.

SAYS C. HANSEN DIED IN FIRE

Only Canadian Officially Listed In Ohio Disaster

Toronto, April 30 (C.P.)—The Star today says:—"Among the 320 prisoners who died in the Ohio State Penitentiary fire tragedy on April 21 was Carl Hansen, Belleville, whose identity has now been established. Since Ernest Burd, who called himself a Canadian without much justification, was the only prisoner who answered that description in the first 270 identifications, Hansen is now officially the single Canadian who lost his life in the worst prison disaster in the recent outbreaks in the United States.

"The news is confirmed today in a letter from another prisoner in the penitentiary who, besides giving vivid pictures from the convict's point of view of the disturbances before and since the fire, mentions the fact that he has seen Walter Irving and Arthur Zetter, two Toronto men, serving sentences.

"Carl Hansen, of Belleville," says this man 'in his letter, which by his request was forwarded to The Star from the prison after many adventures, "was allowed to burn and another to death in the fire."

Mr. Fred Mallory, a prominent farmer on the Fourth Concession of Sidney Township informed The Ontario Intelligencer today that Carl Hansen worked on his farm for some months, about fifteen years ago. He was trustworthy and honest and we had no fault to find with him," he said, "but he was not adapted for farm work and left for the State of Michigan where I believe, he was employed as a laborer in one of the automobile factories."

Mr. Mallory stated that Hansen had trouble with one or two of the farmers in the district and decided to leave. Neither is former employer or any resident of the district had heard from Hansen since he left the district.

Hansen, a Swede came to Canada many years ago. Mr. Mallory was shocked when he learned that his former employee was burned to death in the disastrous fire at Ohio State prison last week.

ENDS JOURNEY

LONDON, April 30—CP—The Duchess of Bedford, 64-year-old aviation enthusiast today completed the round trip to Capetown and landed at Croydon airport this evening.

HUSBAND IS CHARGED WITH WIFE MURDER

Oshawa, April 30 (C.P.)—Formal charge of murder was laid against William Morrison in connection with the death of his wife yesterday. Mrs. Morrison was found dying in her bed, her skull battered in with the dull edge of a hatchet. Following a search by the police, Morrison was discovered in a field northwest of the city, with his throat and wrist lacerated. According to police, he is said to have taken a quantity of lysol before leaving his home. He is now reported to be in a serious condition in the Hospital under guard.

No Memorial Arches at Lower Bridge Decided

MEMORIAL ARCH PROPOSAL LOSES SEEK CENOTAPH

Mayor Reid and Veterans Oppose Plans For Arches

CALLED UNSUITABLE

Mayor is Asked to Bring Question of Cenotaph Before Council

There will be no memorial arches, or arches denoting victory or other forms of embellishment at the approaches to the new lower bridge. This was decided at a rather poorly attended meeting in the city hall last night, presided over by His Worship, Mayor George Reid. The meeting could not be called exactly representative for, outside of one or two public spirited citizens like W. B. Deacon, the entire attendance was made up of ex-service men and their families. Despite the fact that many influential citizens have expressed themselves either for or against the arches within the past week in no uncertain terms, these same citizens did not take the trouble to attend last night's gathering and vote either way.

Prefer Cenotaph

The main objection that the ex-service men, through several spokesmen, put forward against "Memorial Arches", was the fact that they wanted a memorial in the form of a cenotaph in some quiet spot, where families of those who had fallen in France might not have to brave the public gaze when they wished to lay a wreath or some token upon the memorial in their loved ones. In fact, one of the veterans went so far as to say that a memorial arch could not be a cenotaph, that a cenotaph had to take the form of a monument or some such

(Continued on Page 4)

Former Tramp For Laureate?

LONDON, April 30—A man who has roamed the world in care-free hobo fashion, and once was even a porter in a New York saloon, may be the next Poet Laureate of England. Indications were today that Prime Minister MacDonald would appoint as successor to the late Dr. Robert Bridges, and the name of John Masefield is most prominently mentioned. Masefield is most prominently mentioned. Masefield is most prominently mentioned. Masefield was born a seaman, ship's boy, and general ordinary hand. He went to sea when only a boy and travelled over the world. One day when he arrived in New York he decided to tramp across the United States. Eventually he returned to New York and there took the saloon job in a place called the Lake Ontario. After a long struggle for success in writing, he finally attained it with three poems—"The Everlasting Mercy," published in 1913; "The Widow in the Bye-Street," 1913, and "Dauber," 1913. His most famous novel is "Sard Harker". Masefield is 55 years old and has a wife and two children.

$10,000 SALARY FOR FISHERIES MINISTER

Ottawa, Ont., April 30 (C.P.)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King has given notice of motion providing the salary for the new minister of fisheries. Another motion standing in the name of the Prime Minister on the order paper declares that it is expedient that there shall be a new department of fisheries. The salary of the Minister of Fisheries is set at ten thousand dollars, which is identical with that of the other cabinet ministers.

EUGENE LAFLEUR, K.C. PASSES AT OTTAWA

OTTAWA, April 30—Eugene Lafleur, K.C., one of Canada's distinguished barristers, died here shortly before 6 o'clock last night from pneumonia. Coming to Ottawa from his home in Montreal the middle of last week to conduct a case before the Supreme Court of Canada,

THREE OF FIVE OLDEST SENATORS BORN SAME YEAR

Now that Hon. George C. Desaulles has passed on at the age of 102, the oldest member in the Senate is Senator Daniels (centre), who is eighty-five. Senator Daniels, who was born in January, 1845, is closely followed by Senator Belique, top, right, who was born in May, 1845, and Senator Lavergne, bottom right, who was born in December, 1845. Hon. John McLea, former left was born in September, 1846, while Sir George Foster, top, left, was born in 1847. All these aged senators, except Hon. Louis Lavergne, are physically active and in service in the Senate are among the most in dustrious and capable.

STOCK MARKETS

Jamieson Bone & Co., by direct wire from F. O'Beara & Co.

New York firmed up considerably today, particularly the Utilities. The copper situation is unsettled, and price cutting going on amongst the big steel producers. Crash opened down but closed unchanged, Nickel and Noranda inclined to further weakness .The Gold stocks were quite firm. Quotations at 2.50 were:

NEW YORK—

Anaconda 50 3-8; Ann. Can 146; C.P.R. 203; Chrysler 35 5-8; Colum Gas 62 3-8; Cons. Gas 133 1-2; General Electric 87 7-8; General Motors 47 1-4; Hudson 46; Kennecott 45 1-4; Hydro 65 1-8; S.O.N.J. 53 3-4; Stewart Warner 29 1-2; Westinghouse Elec 186; U. S. Steel 18 3-4; Radio Keith 46 7-8 Paramount 59 5-8; Natl. Air Trans 28 1-4; U .Gas Improv 48; Comw South-ern 18 1-2.

NEW YORK CURB—

Elec Band Share 114; Niagara Hudson 29 7-8; United Corps 39 1-2; War, Baldg 2 10 1-2.

TORONTO—

B. A. Oil 39 1-2; Impl. Oil 27 1-8; Int. Pete 22 1-2; Bell Tely 151 1-2; Brazilian 51 12 ;Ford A 36 3-4; Pan Players 54; Ind. Alco 8 1-8; Walkers 13 1-4.

ORAIN—

Winnipeg Wheat July $1.08 3-4; October $1.19 1-4; Chicago, Wheat July $1.04 1-2; September $1.08 3-8.

Amity 82; Anse Oil 80; Ajax 145; Base Metals 260; Demy 900; Falconbridge 325; Hollinger 65o; Home Oil 720; Howey 70; Hudson Bay 900; International Nickel 3475; Kirkland Lake 64; Lake Shore 2273; McIntyre 1900; Mining Corp 155; Noranda 2950; Pend Oreille 118; Sherritt Gordon 195; Sudbury Basin 200; Tock Hughes 665;

TURKS WATCH COL. LAWRENCE ON TURKISH BOUNDARIES

Ask "Is He Planning An Uprising in Persia or Turkey?

MARDINE, Turkey, April 30.—CP—Reports that Col. Lawrence, that famous British Asiatic agent is at Revandus, a town near the Turkish frontier in the desert region between Iraq and Persia, is unsettling Turkish public opinion and the Turkish Press Atwitter: "Is he planning an uprising in Persia or Turkey?" exasperheads demand, and the press goes on to assert that the Turkish Government is carefully watching the colonel's whereabouts and doings.

76 Degrees Was Recorded Today

Today was the warmest of the year 1930. Mercury rose to 76 degrees, the lowest being 43 degrees during the night. Yesterday's readings were 70 and 33.

APRIL BUILDING

Building permits were not excessively heavy during the month of April, but eleven permits being issued. The largest amount was that of J. Hinds ,to erect a residence at 154 Dundas street east at a cost of $3,500. This was closely followed by a permit issued to W. H. Panter, to erect a residence and garage on West Bridge street at a cost of $3,200. The record follows:

April 7 —Wm. Black, erect garage at 81 Dunbar street, $150.00.

April 9—Frank Lindsor, erect residence and garage, Charlotte street, $2,500.

April 14—Hiram Brown, erect residence, 74 Purdy street, $2,000.

April 15.—Percy Mott, alter residence, 132-4 S. John street, $200.

April 15—D. W. Doyle, erect garage, Charles street, $215.

April 19—C. Scopis, alterations to store front, Front street, $400.

April 21—J. Hinds, erect residence 154 Dundas street east, $3,500.

April 21—George Foster, erect garage, 134 Albert street, $175.

April 21—Robt. Orr, erect residence and garage, 318 Foster, $3,500.

April 24—W. H. Panter, erect residence and garage, 4 W. Bridge street $3,200.

April 28— Geo. A. Stewart, alter residence, 77 Highland avenue $600.

Suburban Area Board in Session

Members of the Belleville Suburban Area Commission held a meeting yesterday afternoon in the County Building. All members were present and Mr. Thomas Burnside of Madoc took the chair. After the regular business of the meeting had been disposed of the members motored out the Tweed road as far as Honeywell's Corners and inspected the conditions of the new pavement that was laid last fall between Corbyville and Honeywell's Corners. It was decided to erect warning signs at the Canadian National Railway crossing the other side of Corbyville and to place other signs indicating curves and turns on the road.

It is expected that the engineers of the Highways Department will make a thorough inspection of the entire pavement from the city's limits to Honeywell's Corners in the immediate future and report upon it's condition to the Suburban Area Commission.

MEMBERS ARE SUSPENDED

Toronto, April 30— H. S. Shannon and Company, mining brokers, declaulted in their clearings this afternoon and their member has been suspended from the Standard Stock and Mining Exchange.

$8,000 LOSS AS MOTOR VAN GOES UP IN SMOKE

Kingston Furniture Van Took Fire at Holloway Today

ON WAY EASTWARD

Rev. Mr. Sparling, of Bannockburn, Loses Furniture

Fire of an unknown origin, starting in the rear of a moving van loaded with furniture, owned by Robert Pattelle, of Kingston, and driven by his son, William Pattelle, completely destroyed the contents of the van as well as the vehicle early today, one mile east of Holloway. The moving van was valued at $7,000 and the furniture at $1,000, and it is understood all was partially covered by insurance. Provincial Constable Ted Hill, of Madoc, who was coming to Belleville on business, investigated the accident.

Mr. Purtelle loaded the furniture of Rev. Sparling, of Bannockburn, last night and set out with his load for a point east of Kingston, early today Nothing unforeseen was encountered until past Holloway, when a small of smoke was quite discernible. The driver was alone at the time and stopping the truck, walked to the back to ascertain the cause. The rear of the truck and furniture were a mass of flame and having no fire fighting equipment, the driver had to stand idly by and watch the truck being consumed by flames. The van was completely destroyed shortly after the fire was discovered and nothing was left but a twisted chassis. The van was of modern construction, recently having been purchased and the loss to Mr. Purtelle and his son will be heavy.

CAR TURNS OVER AT SPRINGBROOK

No Injuries Caused to The Occupants in Mishap

An accident occurred last night on the Marmora-Stirling highway, One car turned completely over in the road and was badly damaged, while the other escaped with two broken fenders and a running board. Mr. T. A. Denny, an employee of the Bell Telephone Company, was driving south on the highway, he accident taking place shortly before midnight. On coming near the centre of the highway and was, he stated, partly blinded by the lights of a car driven by Barry Lemmis of Marmora. He apparently did not pull quick enough and the cars sideswiped with the Denny car coming out of the wreck badly damaged. No injuries were received by either driver or occupants of the cars. Provincial Constable Percy Crey, of Marmora, investigated but the parties settling the damages between themselves.

COMING EVENTS

EUCHRE AND DANCE. MEMORIAL Hall, Friday evening, May 2nd. Cards 8 to 12. Dancing 10 to 1. Admission 35c. Everybody welcome. a30-2d

ANYONE HAVING DONATION FOR Ladies' Auxiliary Canadian Legion Post 99, Rummage Sale, kindly phone 21567 or 583 or 1814 and they will be called for. a30-1td

PLAY—"REBECCA'S TRIUMPH" BY Aiken's Ladies, directed by Mrs. A. M. Lawrence, Alexna Church, May 8th, 8 p.m. Admission 25c and 15c. a30dmw3

DANCE IN MADOC ARMOURIES, May 5th, under auspices of Madoc Public Library. Music by Reg. Brockhurst and his Serenaders, of Belleville. Admission $1.50 a couple. a30, m3, m5

THREE ACT PLAY JUST SUPPOSE! by The Albert College Players, Albert College, Friday, May 9th at 8.15. Tickets 35c including tax. a29-5td

LIBERAL RALLY AT SIDNEY Town Hall, Friday, May 2nd, at 8 p.m. for organization purposes. Prominent speakers will be in attendance. All Sidney and Frankford Liberals are requested to be present. a29-3td

COME TO THE AFTERNOON TEA and sale of homecooking and needle work in St. George's Parish School, Thursday, May 1st, from 3 to 6. a29-3t

AFTERNOON TEA IN ST. THOMAS' Parish House, Friday afternoon, May 2nd, from three to six, auspices of Women's Guild. Everybody welcome. a28-3td

SCOUT MOTHERS' AUXILIARY Card Party at the home of Mrs. Silcoxy, 14 Dunbar Street, Thursday evening May 1st. a28-3td

UTOPIA CLUB'S CLOSING EUCHRE and Dance, Johnstone Academy, Wednesday, April 30th. New Bon Ton Orchestra. Euchre 8.15. Dancing 10-1. Novelties and prizes galore. Couple $1.00, extra lady 25c (tax included). a26-3td

THE BULLETIN BOARD

Mainly About People You Know

U. C. CONGRESS AT PICTON

Holloway St. Young People's Society will take part on Monday afternoon next in the contest, the week-end Congress of the United Church at Picton. The contest concerns the missionary work of the church. Prizes are to be given for largest representations to be added obtaining the highest percentage in guessing of lantern slide pictures on the church's work and in the correct answers to ten questions selected from list of twenty-five based on the booklet "Atlas of the United Church." The Congress, a world service, opens at Picton on May 2nd, with a laymen's supper.

IS RECOVERING

Rev. C. E. Clarke, rector of Christ Church, is still confined to his bed as a result of injuries sustained in an accident one week ago today when he had the misfortune to fall down the stairs at the rectory. His many friends will be glad to hear that he is making favourable progress towards recovery and that he hopes to be about again in a few days. Mr. Clarke was to have been the speaker of the evening at a men's banquet at the Anglican Church, Lindsay, on Thursday night of this week. His place will be taken at the banquet by Rev. J. D. Paterson of Peterborough.

IT HAPPENED IN TYENDINAGA

There came to this office this morning two eggs, one very large and one very small, the result of the efforts of two ambitious hens to gain distinction one day recently. One laid an egg so big that all the barnyard inhabitants cackled and crowed in applause. This egg measured 2 1-2 x 2 1-4 inches. Another hen, on the self same day, in the self same barnyard, sought distinction in the opposite direction and produced an egg about the size of a small plum. Both hens are satisfied. Each achieved distinction in different ways and neither crabbed the other's act, but the hen which laid the largest egg claims added distinction in having increased food production, while the other's claim to distinction centres rather in decreased production. All this happened on the farm of O. E. Ashley, Tyendinaga.

LADYBUGS AND SPRING

Spring most assuredly has come. When the "ladybugs" fly around in such numbers that they become a decided nuisance it is a sure sign that Old Man Winter has been knocked for the well known loop. Standing over at the lower bridge it would have been possible to collect literally hundreds of the pretty little bugs, who were flying around and lighting on everybody. It is a mystery where they come from in such numbers but undoubtedly the warm weather brought them out in droves.

FINAL UTOPIA DANCE TONIGHT.

Everything in readiness for the closing Euchre and Dance which is being held in Johnstone Academy, tonight. Something unique and different in the line of novelties will be introduced and a great time is assured for all those who are planning to attend.

INSPECT FIRE HALLS

Headed by Chairman Charles Hyde and Mayor Reid, accompanied by the city engineer, the fire committee of the city council made an inspection of the two fire halls this morning. They will present a report and recommendations at the meeting of the council next Monday night.

RETURNS TO PRACTICE

The many friends of Major R. D. Ponton will be pleased to learn that he has so far recovered from his recent illness as to be able to undertake a partial resumption of his practice. He now visits his office on Bridge street for a few hours daily. Sincere wishes for a complete recovery are extended.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Congratulations today to C. F. Unwin to hundreds in Belleville as "Frank" Unwin, Mr. Unwin, who resides at 185 Church street, today is celebrating his 60th birthday, just ten years short of the Biblical three score and ten allotted to mortal man on this earth. His many friends were today congratulating him, too, upon his long service with the Bank of Montreal. For nearly thirty-six years he has been a trusted and faithful necessary with that institution and has seen many managers come and go.

B.C.I. CADET INSPECTION

The Ontario Intelligencer was this morning informed by Mr. Howard, supervisor of cadets at the Belleville Collegiate Institute, that the annual cadet inspections will take place in this city on Wednesday, May 28th. The collegiate cadets will be inspected in the morning beginning at ten o'clock and the public school will receive their inspection in the afternoon, commencing at two o'clock. Captain M. Webster, M.C., district cadet officer of Kingston, will be here and he may possibly be accompanied by General Anderson, officer commanding military district No. 3. The collegiate cadets may not be inspected on the collegiate campous as has been custom ary in the past years, as it is the intention of the board to start seeding in campus within the near future. If the campus is not available for this purpose the cadets will use either the armouries or the fair grounds.

TWO JOBS

Two men in the City of Belleville are destined to profit by the by-law prohibiting dogs to run at large without owners or tags, which was passed by the City Council several weeks ago. It was announced today that applications will be received by the position of dog catcher and pound-keeper. Step up gentlemen, this may be your chance.

CONTRACTS AWARDED

Contracts for road construction and paving totalling $1,500,000 were yesterday let by Hon. George S. Henry, Minister of Highways and Public Works. Among the contracts was that of the Belleville bay bridge which was awarded to the Provincial Dredging Company.

POLICE COURT

Michael Callaghan of this city, was arrested by the local police yesterday near the four corners. He was driving a car and was alleged to be intoxicated. Today he appeared in police court charged with being intoxicated in charge of a car and pleaded guilty to the charge. Magistrate Mikel imposed a sentence of seven days in the county jail and assessed costs to the amount of $13.50. If the costs are not paid another ten days will be added for default but it is understood the accused will pay the amount. The police stated that Callaghan was driving north on Front street and that the car was zigzagging on the pavement.

Two young men were up today for illegal fishing and pleading guilty were assessed $10.00 without costs. Neither of the boys had the amount of their fines and His Worship imposed a jail term of five days. A father of one of the boys came forward to the court and offered to pay the fine if given a couple of days. My boy was only at the river fishing for three minutes and he states he was not fishing. It was just the same to be there for five minutes as five hours. He was there for an illegal purpose, said His Worship. Two other boys were called in court for the same offence and did not answer. The Crown Attorney requested that bench warrants be issued for the delinquents. Spearing, scooping and grappling won't be countenanced by the Fish and Game Department.

Failure to stop at a "stop sign" cost a motorist $5.00 and $1.00 costs and for speeding another paid $5.00 and $5.50 costs.

BRIDGE CLOSED THIS AFTERNOON

All Traffic Will Be Routed Over the Upper Structure

This afternoon, due to the danger of workmen and hindrance of operations now being carried on, permission was granted by the city engineer to close the lower bridge to traffic and for the next two or three months all traffic will be routed over the upper bridge, both vehicular and pedicular. Although this will undoubtedly be a nuisance to those who reside on the west side of the river and work below Bridge street on Front street, it has become a virtual necessity the engineer in charge claiming that the bridge was really unsafe for traffic and that, the men were continually having to drop important work to let cars through.

Children, as well as spectators hang long around the drawbks on the bridge constitute a nuisance and they will be forbidden to loiter but when at work by keeping them off the bridge. This morning there was more than one traffic tie up as cars lined up for blocks on both sides of the bridge, waiting for levels to be pooled and operations resumed.

It is planned to leave the telephone cables and gas mains, that run along the bridge to the west side of the river, intact. It is thought that this will be possible and that any confusion to the Bell Telephone Company or the city gas department can be avoided.

Work of draining the coffer-dam must be done and end of the bridge was progressing rapidly today and it is hoped the dam will be pumped dry within the next day or so and work on the river bed commenced.

Detour signs were taken out of storage by the city engineer this afternoon and placed at points of vantage to warn incoming and outgoing traffic that the bridge on the Dundas highway is closed and that the upper bridge was the only way in which the Mohawks could be crossed.

NEW RECORD FOR MOTORLESS FLIGHT

San Diego, California, April 30. CP—Jack Barlow in a sail plane today landed at Mission Bay after today ending the flight of fifteen hours, twelve minutes duration, which constitutes establishing a new world's record for motorless sustained flight.

ANNUAL CIRCUS AT Y.M.C.A. WAS A FINE SUCCESS

Gymnastics, Tumbling, Dancing and Games Featured Exhibition

Blare of drums, sticks of candyfloss, the succulent peanuts, the pink lemonade and the bearded lady, did not herald the opening of the circus season here. Nevertheless, the circus season is open! !

Before a fair and appreciative crowd, the annual Y.M.C.A. Spring Fun Festival made its debut last night and will be concluded tonight. The Circus, this year, excells those of recent years and Messrs. Ralph Morden who has personally directed the plans for the event, and Joe Shortt, local Y.M.C.A. Secretary, are to be congratulated on the success of the affair.

Circus night at the "Y", is in reality Exhibition Night when the members display the various classes demonstrate to their relatives and friends just what they have learned in a gymnastic sense during the winter months. Dynamic building, tumbling and parallel bar work featured the presentation last night and it was all done in superlative style and reflects great credit on the physical instructor, Mr. Ralph Morden.

Of course, there were the ubiquitous clowns, played by "Skeezix" Phillips, "Stinky" Palmer, and Allan McCreary. The trio kept the crowds, particularly the younger element, in a continual uproar, and Palmer, who always was a popular favorite in this role, uncork ed a number of his old "gags" which made a hit.

One of the high-lights of the evening were the numbers given by the pupils of Miss Esther Marsh. Inimitable ballet dances, intriguing Dutch presentations and group dances were executed in well rendered and judicial ed the splendid training given by Miss Marsh.

Preps. Open Program

"The Preps" opened the evening with a number of group games which excited keen interest in the bleachers. Miss Mary Porter introduced a pleasing dance number with Miss Davis at the piano. A free hand drill by the business girls with Alex Gordon supplying the music for the movements, was well received.

Ladder pyramids by the employed boys were interesting while little Charles Bruce Parker and Betty Thompson delighted the audience with a unique Dutch number. Exercises by the Girls' groups, parallel bar pyramids by the Juniors and exercises by the Gym team required considerable skill, and the participants showed the results of long and careful practice. Miss Betty Morgan gracefully executed a pretty ballet dance.

Chair pyramids by the Juniors and a dance rendition by the pupils of Miss Marsh won rounds of applause, while a novel feature was introduced in the form of a camp boxing scene. The boxers were all local mitt artists of note and they gave the spectators an idea of just what takes place in the camp of a big boxer who is preparing for a national bout. They gave exhibitions of skipping, shadow-boxing and bag-punching. At the conclusion Messrs. Langman and Perry gave a short sparring exhibition. Milner and Angell also took part in this part of the program.

Victor White and Augus McFee thrilled the spectators with their high jumping exhibition. These two young athletes are specializing in this branch of sports in preparation for the summer meets.

"Buddy" Calder and Jack Craven, two Collegiate students, in an exhibition of tumbling won applause. Their act was exceedingly difficult and both boys are to be congratulated.

The Grand March with all the groups taking part, concluded a splendid evening. The circus will be presented for the final time tonight.

STROUDS

Week End Specials

Redpath's Gran. Sugar 10 lbs. 55c

Bananas	Nice and ripe. Per dozen	30c, 35c
Monarch Flour	24-lb. bag Special	1.09
Soda Biscuits	Fresh and Crisp 2 lbs.	25c

Choice Green Tea . . . . . lb. 52c; 3 lbs for $1.35
Good Black Tea . . . . . lb. 50c; 3 lbs for $1.35
Domestic or Easifirz Shortening . . . . lb. print 17c
Magic Baking Powder . . . . . 16 oz. tin at 34c
Good Corn Brooms 34c
Old Time Toilet Paper, regular 10c . . . . . 7 rolls 50c
Pure Castile Soap. Special . . . . . cakes 25c

YOUR ORDER WILL BE APPRECIATED
PHONE 301—FREE DELIVERY

OBITUARY

MRS. JOHN STEWART

Mrs. John Stewart, whose home was at North Cobalt, passed away last evening at New Liskeard, after being ill for some time. Deceased was 83 years of age and was born in England being a daughter of the late Mr. William Harrison. For some years Mrs. Stewart was a resident of the village of Canniffton, but of late years had resided in New Ontario. She was twice married, her first husband, Mr. George H. Bray, predeceased her many ago. Deceased was a member of the United Church. In addition to her husband, a son, Mr. Wm. Bray, of Canniffton, and a daughter, Mrs. Wm. Barney, residing near New Liskeard, survive. Deceased was a sister of Mr. Philip Harrison, a member of The Ontario Intelligencer staff.

Mary E. Onderdonk Moltes

Mrs. Mary E. Onderdonk Moltes, wife of Preston A. Moller, Jr., died in Halaya, N.Y., on Saturday morning April 26th. Mrs. Moller was born in Rosmore, Ontario, on November 5th, 1909, and was the daughter of Mrs. Lillian Gerow Onderdonk of Bellville, and the late Rees Onderdonk. Her father predeceased her five years. She is survived by her mother and husband and leaves an eight day old son. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon from the residence of her mother, Mrs. Onderdonk, Redmerville. Services were conducted at the house by Rev. Mr. Ross. Interment took place in Albury cemetery. Pall bearers were Verne Allen Meese, Albert Sager, Harold Keith and Earle Onderdonk.

Mrs Mary Foster

The funeral of the late Mrs. Mary Foster took place from her late residence 136 Albert street, this morning to St. Michael's Church for Mass. The services were conducted by Rev. Father Baker and interment was made in St. James' cemetery. Many friends and relatives of the deceased were present and many floral testimonial and floral tributes were numerous.

The bearers were Phil Allore, M. Callaghan, S. Gavin, W. Gallagher, J. Fitzgerald and M. McLaughlin

MARGARET C. HOWATSON

The sad death occurred Tuesday morning of Margaret Caroline Howatson, widow of the late James Howatson, and daughter of the late Asa E. and Martha Wallbridge, in her 72nd year. She deceased had born at Massassaga and lived there all her life, dying on the farm on which she was born. She was a faithful member of the United Church and took a great interest in all its activities. She will be missed by a very large circle of friends. Surviving are one sister, Miss Bessie Wallbridge and one cousin Mrs. A. J. Anderson, both of whom are living at the old homestead. The funeral will be held on Thursday with Rev. Mr. Knox of Amelisburg officiating. Interment will be made in the family plot, Belleville cemetery.

Personals

Mrs. J. G. Silk, Foxboro, is attending the Branch meeting of W.M.S. at Bowmanville.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Baldree and family have returned to Napanee, after spending a month with the former's parents on Lingham street.

Dr. Doyle, of New York, who has been visiting his mother, who is ill, for the past week, has returned to his home.

Mr. Norman Bamfield, Burnham St. has recovered from minor injuries received when the motorcycle which he was riding struck a pole on the highway recently.

Mrs. E. Matthews, Meiaen Bank Apartments, has returned to her home after undergoing a serious operation at the Belleville General Hospital.

Mr. F. J. Pellitt of Kingston, is a guest at the home of his son, Mr. L. W. Pellitt, Bowrell Street, for a short time.

Mrs. Wilfred Smith, 57 Everett Street, underwent a serious operation at the Belleville Hospital Monday morning. She is progressing favourably.

Mr. and Mrs. E. I. Shapiro returned to the city today after spending a few days in Montreal.

Alderman George O. Tice returned to his duties at Boyce's Garage today after a serious illness.

Miss Evelyn Stagg, one of the teachers on the staff of the Belleville Collegiate Institute, enjoyed the Easter holidays by making a trip to Bermuda.

Mr. Arthur Wilson has returned to Rochester after spending the Easter holidays the guest of his parents, Ann street.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Wollen have returned to the city after spending the past few days the guests of friends in Toronto.

Wit and Wisdom

MONEY WILL NOT BUY FRIENDS BUT IT ALLOWS YOU TO LIVE IN THE SAME NEIGHBORHOOD WITH THEM.

Money is an unquestioned blessing when it buys more Comfort, more Leisure, more Health for the home. . . Home lovers are buyers for the home and it makes them happy to shop here for practical electrical utilities.

"ELECTRIC DEPENDABILITY IS REAL ECONOMY"

WATCH FOR CARTOON NO. 13

ROBERTS
ELECTRICAL CONTRACTORS
Frigidaire

It's destined to win the Photoplay Gold Medal as the Outstanding Talkie of 1930

The Year's SCREEN EVENT

The Greatest drama Ever put on Film

GRETA GARBO in her first TALKING picture Anna Christie

with MARIE DRESSLER

Not since the fire! Movie flickered, squeaked—has there been an event so fraught with interest, and only now does the Picture take on its true significance.

SUPER ADDED FEATURES

STAN LAUREL HARDY Talkomedy "THE BRATS"

METRO TALKING NEWSREEL

SUPERIOR SCREEN VAUDEVILLE

Belle Home of Perfect Talkies

TODAY
THURSDAY, FRIDAY
2.30 7.15 9.15

NEW THRILLS, NEW THROBS
Where there's a girl —there's a way. You must see Young America's Boy-Friend in his thrill-throb hit.

CHARLES (BUDDY) ROGERS
"Half Way to Heaven"
JEAN ARTHUR, A Paramount Picture
MACK SENNETT COMEDY. FOX NEWS — TOPICAL

R-E-G-E-N-T
Today, Thursday, Friday
2.30 — 7.15 — 9.15

"It's the Talk of the City"

The Graham STOCK CO.

Acclaimed the Best Stock Co. to Ever Play in Belleville

Will present

TONIGHT

THURSDAY and FRIDAY

The funniest of all stage plays

"Polly of the Follies"

a 3-act comedy drama with a laugh every minute, also ALL BELLEVILLE HAVE BEEN WAITING TO HEAR THOMAS MEIGHEN —THEIR FAVOURITE STAR TALK !

NOW! You can hear him in an entirely new personality. He'll thrill you in his greatest dramatic role, with

LILA LEE and H. B. WARNER

This is not a trial picture but a sensational detective drama.

REGULAR ADMISSION

Stage and Screen Presentations

CAPITOL THE HOUSE OF HITS!

WHERE SOUND SOUNDS BETTER

WALKER'S Big May Sale Event

Thursday, Friday and Saturday

Women's Summer Vests

MADE OF FINE QUALITY COTTON

You will be surprised at such quality being obtainable at this low price; come to the store and see!

Women's fine ribbed Cotton Vests, made in sleeveless style, with built-up shoulder. Neat banding shoulder strap with draw tape. Sizes 36 to 44. This quality usually sells at 29c. It will be worth your while to secure several of these vests DURING THREE BIG DAYS, each

19c

Children's Panty Dresses

A splendid opportunity to lay in an early summer supply at a low price.

Panty Dresses of small pattern, Prints in new designs, and fancy Printed Dimities in light and medium colored grounds. Daintily trimmed with contrasting colored piping, lace, organdy, cording, ribbons, etc.; some with pleats and pockets. (A few in this splendid assortment without panties.) For children ages two to six years. Good value. If offered at $1.50. DURING THREE BIG DAYS each

98c

These Illustrations drawn from the actual garments. Many more styles on View at the store

Girls' Printed Dresses

For Any seven to seventeen— see these dresses early for first choice.

Girls' Dresses, made of new fancy pattern prints, fancy dimities and other materials. Many new styles, pleated effects, attractive designs and neatly trimmed with inset effects. Organdy, piping, ribbons, etc. A splendid variety from which to choose. Regular $1.50 to $2.50. Come early DURING 3 BIG DAYS, each

1.29

Boys' Khaki Coveralls

MADE OF EXTRA DURABLE COTTON MATERIAL

We shared in a great saving in price and pass it on to you.

Boys' Khaki Coveralls or Play Suits. For boys ages two to seven years. A splendid firm quality that will stand hard knocks and wear well. Red or blue binding on neck, pockets, and waist band; buttoned back; drop seat; long sleeves and long legs. Made with three pockets. Excellent value at 85c. Just note this price. DURING 3 BIG DAYS per suit

59c

Bungalow Table Cloths

Made of Japanese Crepe.

36 x 36 Inch 29c
54 x 54 Inch 89c

A Real Opportunity to Save

Japanese Crepe Table Cloths in 36 and 54 inch sizes. Hemmed all round. Large variety of border colorings in novelty Floral, Fruit, and Japanese designs. Some plain colors with printed designs; others cream centred with fancy printing and colored borders. Two useful sizes at very special prices DURING THREE BIG DAYS,

36 x 36 inch each

39c

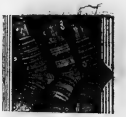
54 x 54 inch, each

89c

Attractive Lace Panels

Worth Crowing About

We shared in a wholesale cleanup, which results in this great saving for you!



Come to our store during THREE BIG DAYS and see these Curtain Panels. You'll want them!

Lace Panels measuring 40 inches wide and 2 1-4 yards long. Several new designs from which you can choose in this assortment of serviceable Lace Panels. All with scalloped ends with heavy cord fringe. Usually sold at $1.35. Note our price DURING THREE BIG DAYS, each

79c

For the Man Summer Socks, Special 19c

A Remarkable value at this price. Come early for choice of patterns during our "Three Big Days" Sale

A good quality fancy striped, cotton sock that men will like. Several very attractive fancy colorings, in grey, Fawn and Tan shades. Sizes 10 to 11. You would appreciate these at 29c. Secure your share early. DURING 3 BIG DAYS, per pair

19c

Worth Crowing About

36 inch Broadcloth per yard 22c

A surprise for your in quality at a low price like this. Come early!

A good serviceable quality broad cloth, 36 inches wide, suitable for all general purposes. In all the wanted new colors of pink, green, hello, rose, yellow, copen, peach, sand, white, navy, black, etc. Be sure and see this splendid material at our store and secure a good supply DURING THREE BIG DAYS per yard

22c

Stencilled Rag Mats 43c

Stencilled border Rag Mat with knotted fringed ends. Measures 24 inches wide by 48 inches long. Good clean Rags. A large variety of hit-and-miss patterns from which to choose. A regular 60c quality. During THREE BIG DAYS, your opportunity to save at each

43c

Worth Crowing About

3 BIG DAYS THUR.-FRI.-SAT. MAY 1-2-3.

Sale Ends Saturday

EARLY in the morning you will see Roomer Street starting, and you know that all's well with the world when the store Broadcasts Special Offerings, you may be sure that the prices are all we say about them. These "Three Big Days" Values for May stand out. When you visit the store and see them you'll feel like crowing, too! Come Early.

Damask Table Cloths Only 89c

Very Attractive in Both Quality and Price — Come and See

Bleached Damask Cloths size 54 by 54 inches, hemmed ready for use. Made in Ireland. Fine quality cloths in a variety of choice floral designs. Regular $1.35 value. DURING THREE BIG DAYS, each

89c

Worth Crowing About

Service Chiffon Hose

Full Fashioned service quality. A rare value for you in first quality hosiery.

Full Fashioned Service quality Chiffon Hose, knit from finest Silk to narrow Silk. Silk to narrow hair heel, reinforced at points of wear. Modified French heel. All first quality goods. In such colors as Flesh, Mirage, Allure, Afternoon, Muscadine, Evenglow, Light Gunmetal, Sunlace and Gunmetal. Would be good value at $1.50. DURING 3 BIG DAYS, per pair

98c

Worth Crowing About

Big Bath Towels

A Good Dryer and See What You Save

A rugged, fancy striped Bath Towel, measuring 20x40", with hemmed ends. Combination colored stripings and borders of blue-gold, green-gold and maize-gold. A good value if offered you at 50c. DURING THREE BIG DAYS

each

35c

OR THREE TOWELS FOR $1.00

A Good Big Cake of Soap, 5c

Worth Crowing About

A Great Combination — High Quality and Low Price

"Walker's Big Beauty" Bath Soap, contains full four ounces of all the qualities that make good soap. Daintily perfumed in rose and lilac. A regular 10c cake. DURING THREE BIG DAYS

each

5c

Not more than five cakes to a customer

Smart New Lisle Gloves

Good, serviceable weight, fancy Cuff Lisle Gloves. Tailored turned top and scalloped styles with dainty embroidered designs. Fancy stitched back. Colors of grey, sand and mode, in sizes 6 1-2 to 8. Extra good value at 50c. DURING THREE BIG DAYS, per pair

39c

Worth Crowing About

Special! RUBBER BALLS Low Priced, 8c

Heavy weight rubber balls, 2 3-4 inches in diameter; gas filled. White body with embossed small design and painted colored stripings. Usually sold at 15c. Get these for the kiddies early. DURING THREE BIG DAYS each

8c

Good Pillow Slips

A worthwhile opportunity to save on this everyday need—stock up now!

Hemmed Pillow Slips of good firm white cotton, in both 40 and 42" widths, by about 32" long. Will keep their shape as they are torn instead of cut. Usually sold at 25c. Note our price on both sizes. DURING THREE BIG DAYS, each

21c

TRIANGLE SCARVES In Newest Design, 98c

Worth Crowing About

A Big Savings for you on This Needed Costume Accessory

An extra weight Batik Scarf in new light pastel and monotone coloring effects. Allover designs with plain colored borders. See these at our store. You will be pleased with them. Regular value $1.50. DURING THREE BIG DAYS, each

98c

Handkerchiefs of Pure Linen, 10x10 ins., 7c

It will pay you to lay in a Liberal Supply at Our Price

We Specialize on Linens

A good value if offered you at 10c. DURING THREE BIG DAYS, each

7c

or per dozen

80c

Women's fine pure linen handkerchiefs, measuring about 10 x 10". Fine quality, smooth thread linen, with 1-4" hemstitched edge.

Women's Bloomers

Worth Crowing About

Of Fine Knit Balbriggan,

Per Pair 29c

It Will Pay You to Secure Several Pairs

Fine Knit Balbriggan Bloomers, made full and roomy with ample gusset. Free running elastic at waist and knees. In colors of White, Flesh, Mauve and Peach; in small, medium and large women's sizes. Excellent value at 49c. DURING THREE BIG DAYS, per pair

29c

Walker Stores, Limited

286 FRONT ST. BELLEVILLE, ONT. PHONE 329

THE ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER
THE DAILY ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER is published every afternoon (Sunday and holidays excepted) at the Ontario Intelligencer Building, Front Street.
RATES—DAILY EDITION:

Year, delivered in city	$7.80
Year, by mail to rural offices	2.00
Year, to U.S.A.	2.50

Toronto Representative—D. O. McKinnon, 61 Victoria Street
W. H. MORTON, Publisher

A MENACE

This begins the season when motorists who haunt the highways and streets face the menace of the small boy bicyclist carrying a second boy on the handle bars, the menace of the boys who ride and whirl about on streets in front of motor traffic causing motorists extreme anguish at times.

Offenders on bicycles might easily cause an accident by their deviating antics on the highways. A car might easily be wrecked in the effort to prevent collision with one of these cars.

The two-on-a-bicycle idea ought to be put a stop-to with the full penalty. It is a menace not only to the boys themselves but to the motoring public as stated before.

Bicyclists, many of them, realize that they owe a duty in obeying the laws as well as others, but a few of this class realize nothing at all seemingly about their duty in this regard.

SUN'S ECLIPSE

The sun's eclipse on Monday - afternoon drew after all considerable attention from the people at large. In ages ago only the total eclipse would of course have caused general consternation, but these days the partial eclipse of real mental disturbance as when the light was shut out twilight came on and night's darkest followed immediately.

In ages when the people did not know, there was real awe of the heavenly constellations. Today in place of that there is with the general knowledge of science which of course is mere pattering of the totality of scientific knowledge, there is no fear, but actual indifference. In days before science got under way there was superstition with astrology holding away over the minds of men and women.

Though man's attitude to the heavenly bodies is probably less reverent the heavenly orbs still pursue their path of duty through the space, evidence of the great divine law which is everywhere in existence. Perhaps as science has assured us that there exists no danger from eclipses, meteors, and heavenly visitants, we become indifferent and lose that reverence or sense of awe in the presence of nature. Man cannot afford to be indifferent to these manifestations of eternal law and providence.

Modern knowledge and a sense of awe at the magnitude of "the heavens" should be combined. The scientist is the profounder believer for he is diligent in his quest of truth. A little of his awe as he gazes into the infinity of space and searches the heavens would enrich the lives of every man and woman. We are so taken with our small knowledge of our own motorcar that we think not of the fact, the truest fact of life, that the motor's mechanism and the gasoline are given to man, that man has but to use them, having first found the brains of an inventor. And we often look only on the motor engine as a miracle but it was a miracle before the human race existed for the materials for modern motoring existed since the days of creation.

Man is so accustomed to the use of power provided in inventions, that the sense of wonder and of miracle is lost. Sometimes one wonders if it is not more difficult for the average man to believe sincerely todap than it was when man was not so blessed with inventions.

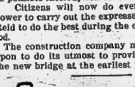
A REAL ACHIEVEMENT

One of the things for which Belleville has been striving has been a longer architectural feature plant. The contract for the main work has been let to the lowest tenderer, the Patterson Construction Company of this city.

Monday night was a red letter night in city council annals. The occasion should be remembered for long days. It means that within a few months Belleville will have purified water.

Such a thing Belleville citizens have never had before. Visitors to the city have told us that the water is not too good to taste. But that complaint will soon no more be heard. Those who have not drunk purified water will have a real occasion to celebrate on pure, clear, cool water with nothing stronger to keep their spirits mounted.

This is an achievement, one of which Belleville ought to be proud.



THE TIME HAS COME

Rapid progress is being made on the work of removal of the old tower bridge and construction of the new bridge. The company is losing no time in getting at the work as operations at the lower bridge indicate to anyone who has viewed the steps under way.

So rapid is the work being accomplished that the time has arrived for the closing of the bridge which it was stated on Tuesday might possibly take place today or tomorrow. That means that the time has come for the re-routing of the motor traffic by way of the upper bridge and the boundary bridge and for the use of the footbridge by those who have been using the lower bridge. The city council has taken all the steps required to expedite motor traffic on Coleman and Front Streets so that as little as possible interruption to traffic is to be made.

Citizens will now do everything in their power to carry out the expressed wish of Mayor Reid to do the best during the construction period.

The construction company may be depended upon to do its utmost to provide the city with the new bridge at the earliest possible date.

GHANDI'S ARMY is marching to the sea in India, Ozoey's Army will soon move on Washington, the Red Army is keeping the police busy in the great cities of the United States, and the great army of hoboes have left their haunts in the cities and seek again the great open spaces. This year the hobo army is greater because of the increase in the ranks of the unemployed in the United States during the winter. The skilled hobo will have his "work" cut out for him this year with more competition, and it may be said that his hardest work to do is to eats and clothes without other exertion than conversation.

* * *

In the great hobo army are many who started out honestly looking for work but found the going so rough, condemned at once as no good down-and-outers, weakened mentally and physically by poor meals and few of them, in addition to sleeping in box cars, and out in the open with their clothes all on, and sooner or later they graduate into the professional hobo class which fares rather well for meals, clothing and even sleeping accommodation because the real I WON'T WORK hobo has made a study of this particular thing and knows all the soft places in the land he travels over, also the communities which have set the common sign for the hobo and maintain rock piles where little stones can be made from big ones by the exercise of will power and muscle, and a poke in the back occasionally from the guard.

* * *

No doubt a vast army of city unemployed will begin their march very shortly now, but they will not be all dyed-in-the-wool "I Won't Work" hoboes, there will also be the battalions of seasonal workers who try to connect up with various jobs during the summer time, from California to Maine, picking fruit and early vegetables in the southwestern states and working through the available list till hop picking time in the fall, also potatoes, tomatoes and grape harvests, making a stake for the winter.

* * *

Few people have any idea of the vast unseen army which moves up and down the land in the darkness, travelling by night on the railways in empty boxcars, gondola coal cars, lumber flats, or the blind baggage of the express, and fast fruit trains from the south and west. Railway men know in part the magnitude of this nomadic human tide which is forever going back and forth across the land, although the furtive flitting shadows of the night take particular pains not to advertise their presence to the railway "shacks."

* * *

In this nocturnal army there are various castes, each feeling disinclined to associate with the other. There are the I WON'T WORKS, the I WILL Works, hoboes with a racket or the begging type which takes in religion and such, although these frequently ride on the "cushions." Then there are the "Gaycats" who disdain work but will turn a trick or two at petty thieving and break-ins where the risk is small.

* * *

Many other interesting features cling about this army of the night, but this is supposed to be a paragraph not a serial story. What gets me is the fact that with an army of unemployed men and men and boys roaming the country, out of work and out of hope for the most part, but human beings all told, there is no organized effort to reclaim this flotsam and jetsam of humanity. If the army gets larger it develops more and more into a menace to organized society and nations could throw millions of men into the maelstrom of war and almost certain destruction do not seem to care or are disinclined to make one constructive idea as to how to deal with this unemployed problem which is always with us.

KIWANIS HEARD SPLENDID TALK ON DRNG TRADE

Local Club Will Entertain The Kiwanis Queen's Soon

REPARTEE FEATURES

Prepare for Big Get-Togeth er at Quinte Next Monday Night

A breezy and witty address on the drug trade was given members of the Kiwanis Club yesterday at their weekly luncheon by William Morfee, Editor of a Drug Trade journal in Toronto. The attendance was not as large as at previous meetings, many counter attractions occupying the attention of the members. President Joe Imlah and secretary George Griffin were absent on business and Vice President George Cole occupied the chair in an acceptable manner. Arthur Ellis collected several fines as sergeant-at-arms while James Bankier led the community singing and Ross Hunter accompanied on the piano. Kiwanis appreciation was ably expressed by J. O. Herity.

It was announced at the luncheon that a joint meeting of the three service clubs in the city, Kiwanis, Rotary and Y's Men would meet in the Quinte Hotel next Monday night, and would be addressed by Hon. E. C. Drury, former Prime Minister of Ontario on the subject, St. Lawrence Waterways. The talented speaker is well-versed in this subject as he has made a personal study for some years. Ladies' night will be held on May 30th also at the Hotel Quinte and the committee in charge have a very interesting novel and different, when the Kiwanian Queens will be entertained. The later part of the eve ning will be occupied with dancing.

Bits of Humor

Mr. Morfitt in discussing his subject interjected some fine stories and the Club was kept in a continual state of laughter. His subject dealt with the drug trade in general and the speaker showed why the druggists resorted to the many sidelines that can be found in an up to date drug store at the present time. "Druggists as a rule," said the speaker, "are an affable class but some claim them too progressive and that they are basking into other merchants business and also that prices in an average drug store are too high."

The speaker defending the latter and his arguments had much merit. In the first instance, the patient asking for a prescription for medicine of a quantity and an ethical drug store would not pay as many have been asked to but few finished. To put a community quality drug at a nominal price side lines must be carried. Again it requires years of study to become a druggist counting his three years apprentice ship and his schooling at Pharmacy after which money must be invested to purchase a business. Again the druggist is the most important man in a community. The doctor can prescribe but it is the druggist who is able to interpret the prescription as the lives of the whole community depends on the filling.

Code of Ethics

"There is a code of ethics that must be followed in the drug trade," continued the speaker, "and in general this is lived up to continued the speaker. There are also numerous laws that must be observed religiously. Pharmacy is one of the oldest professions, known to be in existence since 1660 B. C. The speaker examined some of the drugs that have been in use for many years but the displaying of same has changed in the past ten years. Gone are the days of green glass bottles and the modern drug store has rows of shelves adorned with drug bottles with queer writing upon them but quite well designed and wall cases with all allied lines of the drug trade. The speaker defended the use of hair for the writing of prescriptions stating the hair was known all over the world and hysteria in some cases were prevented when the patient is unable to identify some ingredient of certain prescriptions. The address was closed with a poem telling of the many duties a druggist performs to his community.

Miller's Worm Powders are complete in themselves They not only drive worms from the system, but repair the damage that worms cause and so invigorate the constitution that it speedily recovers from the disorders of the digestion. Don't be satisfied with the work of these parasitic intruders. Miller's Powders will work thoroughly and strength and soundness follow their use.

Many women have had the vote on the same terms as men for the past ten years.

Experts say that the rapidly whirling wings of certain insects present an interesting counterpart of the rotating propellers of airplanes.

Memorial Arch Proposal Loses

(Continued from page 1)

article. He was quickly checked up on this point by another who tried to show that the dictionary defined a cenotaph as "a memorial to the fallen whose remains lie elsewhere" and that an arch of a bridge could fulfill that purpose precisely.

Park Site

W. Day, president of Post No. 99, Canadian Legion, stated outright that the ex-service man did not want a memorial bridge. "We want," he stated, "a cenotaph erected to our fallen comrades. I would suggest that a strong committee be appointed by Mayor Reid to bring the matter to a head as soon as possible."

Panter's Park, or, as it is properly named, Riverside Park, was suggested by Mr. Day as the most suitable spot for a cenotaph. He suggested that the park be extended to the southwest corner of the bridge and a suitable monument be erected there.

Arches for Victory

David Bradford, also of the Legion, was decidedly against a memorial in the form of an arch. "An arch is supposed to commemorate victory," he said. "I do not approve of putting a cenotaph in such a public place that mothers, wives and daughters might feel embarrassed when they came to lay their token down. They won't want to go through a public place. I have never heard of a memorial arch on a bridge, to the fallen dead. All arches have commemorated victory." Mr. Bradford suggested Corby's Park as a suitable place for a cenotaph.

It was finally moved that as soon as possible the Mayor take up the matter of a cenotaph with the council and that same be done with regard to the matter of a memorial, to be placed in some suitable place.

Mayor Reid then expressed his own views on the subject in no uncertain terms. He said that under no consideration could a memorial arch take to build both memorial arches and a cenotaph as well. It would have to be one or the other. The Legion part, he did not see how arches would be possible. At the west entrance to the bridge, he stated the new steel work was not pushed right up against McLaughlin's garage and already one or two windows in the garage would have to be removed to make way for the new bridge. There will be a thirty-six foot right-of-way for cars and two six-foot sidewalks. The Mayor stated that the arch would remove at least six feet from the roadway, and he did not wish to see this.

The Red Cross Society has $1600.00 collected some years ago towards a memorial and there are several private bequests towards the project. With the aid of the council, he said, it should be possible in the near future, to erect a suitable memorial.

RADIO FANS CORNER

Not too bad last night was it? Reception has been very much better of course, but oh well I suppose, it won't get us very far to be always throwing mud at it. Just grin and bear it.

Big party all the theatre folks staged last night wasn't it? They kept too late hours to suit me though. Away after ten o'clock when they get home. Now don't get me wrong I wasn't in at the finish but I know a man that knows a man that was. Believe it or not.

Retting and Platt the popular piano duo broadcast tonight Victor Herbert's hit ing "March of the Toys" during their broadcast over WJZ at 7 o'clock E.S.T. This will take place during the Vesta Pioneers.

With vocal interludes by Frank Luther, tenor, Leonard Joy and his all-string dance orchestra, features Herman's "Mia Cara" and Rubinstein's "Melody in Monterey" in the program to be heard over WEAF at 9.30 E.S.T. tonight.

Over WABC tonight at 8 E.S.T. we will hear the Van Heusen program featuring William Wirges' orchestra, Van Heusen quartet and Vee Lawhurst, blues singers. Good program.

Phil Spitalny's orchestra offer WJZ at 10 tonight E.S.T. of course. Everybody knows how good Phils orchestra is and with the change in time it gives you a better chance to hear it and yet get to bed early. You see I'm always thinking of your welfare this time I'm thinking of your health.

Amos 'n' Andy have a lawyer now to untangle their affairs, at least Andy has engaged the services of one but we're thinking that Amos will have to pay him. So Madam Queen is a "tough customer" well, well.

FAMILIARLY KNOWN AS "CAP" ROBERTSON

Mr. William Robertson who passed away at Chicago on Monday was a former well known Belleviliian. "Cap." Robertson as he was familiarly called, was previous to removal from the city a foreman in the O.T.R. now C.N.R. shops, under Mr. W. D. Robb, and occupied a position in the C.N.R. office at Chicago. "Cap." whilst a resident here was active in the promotion of sports and was a central figure in the old O.T.R. fire company, which took part in competition for speed and coupling of hose, winning some trophies. He was a Past Master of Moira Lodge, No. 11 A.F. & A. M. of this city. Deceased always had a warm affection for this city and was always in attendance whenever the old boy's reunion was held in addition to being a casual visitor. "Cap." was a widower and is survived by a son. His many friends here will regret to learn of his demise.

The Oil of Power.—It is oil that is claimed for Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil that it will remedy every ill, but its uses are so various that it may be looked upon as a general pain killer. It has achieved that greatness for itself and its remedies is known to all who have tested its virtues and learned by experience.

FLOUR MILLS BURN

DELHI, Ont., April 30.—(CP)—Loss estimated at fro mixity to seventy-five thousand dollars was caused early today by fire which gutted the large flour mills of the Quanch Bros. Limited, one of the oldest milling firms in the province.

Curtain Fabrics

Housecleaning will find many curtains that have to be replaced. Cotton and rayon marquisettes and pretty designs in nets are offered in variety in low and medium priced qualities at ..... 25c TO 1.00

Cretonnes

Cretonnes for every purpose, will be needed; for upholstering, cushions, curtains; you will find clever designs in new colorings, 32 to 60 inches wide, some reversible. Some as low as 25c yard, others to $1.00.

Lovers' Form Corsets

We extend you a cordial invitation to meet
MISS KATE J. NICOL
who will be with us
Thursday May 1st and Friday May 2
DEMONSTRATING
Lovers-Form, Luckee Girl, Moy-May, Bodiglove, and Glovette Corsets and foundation garments for all types.
Avail yourself of the opportunity to see what these modern corsets can do for you. You will be delighted.

SINCLAIR'S

Earle & Cook Co.

Sale of
Ladies' Coats

We place on Sale Ladies' Coats in Newest Spring Styles, in Fancy Tweed, Tricotine and Poiret Twill, at Greatly Reduced Prices.

LADIES' COATS $9.95—On Sale at .... $ 7.79
LADIES' COATS $14.95—On Sale at $11.95
LADIES' COATS $19.95—On Sale at $13.95
LADIES' COATS $25.00—On Sale at $17.95

JAMIESON BONE & COMPANY

Orders executed on leading stock exchanges. Full Quotations and Bulletin Service on Winnipeg and Chicago Grain.

Stock Brokers
Direct Private Wires. Telephones
Office and Board Room, Chamber of Commerce Bldg. 1254, 1303, 1398
BELLEVILLE

HYBRID SPECIMEN AT FREEMAN RIVER

Edmonton, April 30 (CP)—Hunters and trappers of the Freeman River district, near Fort Assiniboine, are convinced that a new hybrid specimen roams the wooded country where they seek a living. It is a cross between a deer and a moose—hitherto unknown.

William Erickson, who has most of his life hunted in the woods, killed several last winter. Several others were brought down, he said, before he was convinced that the cross had actually occurred. Thick horns, heavy neck, high shoulders like those of a moose and a body covered with dark, almost black hair characterizes the hybrid.

Throughout last winter trappers in the Freeman River district say small cow moose followed by animals answering the description of the ones described by Erickson.

ASHORE ALL WINTER, STEAMER RELEASED

The Steamer Sarnialcon, owned by the Paterson Company, Port William which ran ashore last November on the writers.

Main Ducks, Lake Ontario, was pulled off this week, under command of Capt. Thomas Reid, assisted by Miller Donnelly and Captain Grant, wreckers, using the tugs of the Tyke and Ahmic Wrecking Companies. The craft was pumped out and at the aft hatch, where the vessel was broken, she was strapped by cables. Fifty thousand bushels of wet grain will be removed to Richardson elevator and later the Sarnialco will be put in the Kingston drydock for survey to estimate damages. After the wreck the owners abandoned the steamer to the under-

Our Cash Prices Save You Money

McINTOSH BROS.
THURSDAY, FRIDAY and SATURDAY
May 1st, 2nd and 3rd

Take Advantage of Our Cash Prices

Foundation Garments

Side Fastening Girdle
A smart girdle that smoothes the figure into graceful lines. Short boning in front, back designed to give flat appearance. Made of rayon brocade and ..... for elastic 1.98

Extra Value Corset
This model, Marmola Belt, is a good fitting back lace corset. Well boned with trim figure lines. Made of fine quality coutil. Reinforced across the abdomen, semi elastic top, elastic insert in back gives flat effect 3.50

Women's Gowns

Women's O. S. Crepe Gowns
Women's outdoor Crepe Nightgown trimmed with hemstitching and embroidered medallion with tubular trimming of contrasting colors. Square or round necks in shades of peach flesh, nile, powder, blue and white 1.39

Fancy Gowns
Women's nightgowns in fancy crepe, flowered designs, round neck, tubular trimming in contrasting colors, assorted shades of maize, peach, powder, flesh and white. Special 1.00

Durale Back Laced Corset
A corset of excellent value that will give excellent service. Made of pink coutil, medium low bust and long hip. Assuring a comfortable fit 1.00

Mercerized Broadcloth Bloomers
Women's bloomers of heavy mercerized broadcloth, elastic very full, of assorted colors, mauve, flesh, peach, pink and white 59c

Novelty Rayon Bloomers
Novelty rayon bloomers with embroidered Applique on each leg, in shades of peach, flesh, nile coral and champ. 69c

Rayon French Pantie
Dainty Rayon French Panties with loose knee, deep lace and chic ribbon bows in shades of peach, flesh, coral, nile, champ, and white 69c

Lace Trimmed Nightgowns
This nightgown is good looking in its simplicity of lustrous fine textured rayon. Showing a novel use of lace and square neckline. All popular shades. 1.00

Broadcloth Slips
Women's Princess Slip in heavy broadcloth, hemstitching around top and colors of peach, sand, white, flesh and black 59c

Women's O. S. Slips
Good quality mercerized broadcloth made in built up shoulder style hemstitched around neck, armholes, silk drew strings in shades of black, white, peach and sand 1.39

For the Bedrooms

Pillow Cases
A good medium weight of cotton in a firm, even weave, promises satisfactory service in these pillow slips. Fully bleached and hemstitched ready for use. 40 and 42 inches. Pair 39c

Cotton Sheets
Sheets that will retain their original good weight, their standiness of weave, their smoothness and whiteness of finish through many months of satisfying service. British manufacture and are a combination of good quality, durability and low price. Hemmed ready for use. Size 72 x 90 each 1.19 72 x 99 each 1.39

Krinkle Spreads
This large size bed spread, 80 by 100, of fine, creamy cotton in a durable heavy weight, striped in tubfast colored thread requires no ironing. Colors, blue, rose, gold and green 1.98

Here are Values for Thrifty Women Shoppers

Women's Print Dresses
Women's dresses made of novelty paterns prints in different styles, some straight lines, some flare skirts. Be early for this number. 1.00

Women's Gingham Dresses
Women's Gingham dresses, made from good quality gingham in a serviceable, good washing quality. Sizes, small, medium and large 59c

O. S. House Dresses
Women's O. S. Dresses, made of fancy print cloth. Assorted styles with short sleeves. Sizes 44, 46 and 48 ..... 1.25

Ultra Smart Pyjamas
Prettily styled and lavishly adorned with wide heavy lace. These two piece Pyjamas of shimmery rayon are jauntily tied with ribbon at waist. Colors peach, flesh, maize, coral and black 1.95

Women's Broadcloth Dresses
Women's dresses made of fine quality printed broadcloth in a superior assortment of styles. Flared skirts, tiered skirts, etc., organdy trims; picot edge, ruffings, etc. 2.95

Curtain Net
Do not miss this offer, attractive designs in 36 inch square mesh lace edged filet net at a very low price. Makes up very inexpensive curtains 29c

One of our big sellers is this cross-over ruffled curtain of fine quality voile, finished with 3-inch ruffle, edged in rose and blue scrim top and on side. 36 inches by 2 1-4 yards. Special ..... 1.95 pair

Cotton Panels
This lace panel is 36 inches wide by 2 1-4 yards long in cream color. This is a specially good offer and we know you will be pleased with the effect of this panel 49c
Each 49c

Silk Gloves
Queen quality in gauntlets, pull on fancy turn back cuff, novel bracelet. Milanese weave, double finger tips, silk stitch points, in shades of afternoon, gull grey, build black, black and white, suntan, coppery, French nude and sand, pair 1.50

Girls Dimity Slips
Beneath summer frocks this dimity slip is cool and neat. Strap or built up shoulders, nile, nicely hemstitching around tailored top in shades of pink, peach, nile, powder and white. Sizes 6 to 14 ..... 49c
16 ..... 59c
Sizes 12 to 16

Women's Silk Gloves
Real silk Milanese weave double tipped fingers, two dome gloves. Mostly size 9 1-2 in shades of navy, dark grey, dark sand, brown, white and black. Reg. up to $1.50. Clearing, pr. 49c

Girls' Two-Piece Pyjamas
Girls tw-o-piece Pyjamas of dainty nainsook, round neck and sleeveless. Attractively trimmed with contrasting colors. The trousers gathered on elastic at waist. Shades of nile, peach, pink and white. Sizes 6 to 10 ..... 79c
Sizes 12 to 16 ..... 95c

Girls' Rayon Bloomers
Girls' durable rayon bloomers, very fine knit, double gusset in shades of peach, pink, white and sky. Sizes 59c
6 to 14 ..... 59c
VESTS to match the above 4t 50c

Misses' Balbriggan Bloomers
Misses' Balbriggan Bloomers, made of good quality cloth, fine knit. Good roomy sizes with double gusset. Peach and black. Sizes 6 to 14. Clearing, at ..... 2 pairs 25c

Girls' Rayon Gown
Rayon gowns, medium weight, tailored tops with shoulder strap edged with lace. Colors pink, peach and sky. Sizes 6 to 14 ..... 1.00

Gay Prints for Spring

English Prints
For superior wear and appearance choose this smooth, durable constructed English print. Featuring the latest designs. It washes without losing its lovliness and for utility frocks and children's togs is a satisfaction itself. 36 inches wide, yard 29c

Potter's Prints
"Tubfast colors, "Lovely as Nature's tints" are featured by this famous English prints which is a quality "par excellence." Its novel patterns express some of the latest thoughts in designing and it will have a bright and useful career when used for frocks and the season's fav-orite ensembles at 39c

English Ginghams
You would be well advised to buy ten yards of this gingham and use it for house frocks, aprons and school frocks. A wide choice of colors and designs. 32 inches wide. 18c Yd. or 3 for 50c

Printed Pique
Summer ensembles, beach coats and children's dresses all combine to respond to the gay charms of this printed pique. It is in a range of vivid tubfast colors. Will give the utmost satisfaction in wear. Yard 45c

Around the Store CLEARANCE!

English Striped Towels
Always a popular choice are the English striped towels. Firmly woven in a checkered effect of soft, absorbent yarns. A handy size for kitchen or summer cottage. Size 18 x 36. Per pair 49c

All Linen Damask Cloth
A fine quality Irish linen with a soft laundered finish. A favorite for family, hand or restaurant use. Hemmed ready for use. This cloth measures 70 x 70 inches. Special 1.95

Corsette with Inner Belt
D. and A. Corsette with wide clasp inner belt that takes excellent care of the diaphragm and abdomen. Made of Rayon striped material and elastic 1.95

Corselettes
Pink rayon striped corsette, boned, horizontally in front to flatten diaphragm. Elastic inserts in side, front. Special 95c

Corselette
This model designed to give good support, comfortable fitting inner belt, gives extra support and reduces abdomen and hips. Of pink rayon striped material. 3.50

Women's Vests
This favorite sleeveless vest is made of good quality white cotton yarns, knit in a fine, smooth stitch. The top finished with tubular trimming. Never slip style shoulder strap and has tape run at neck to adjust. Sizes small, medium and large. 25c

Boys' Overalls
This bib-and-brace Overall is a leader in comfort and economy. Made of blue and khaki denim and finished with double-stitched seams, wherever subject to extra strain. Khaki. Sizes 2 to 12 ..... 79c
Blue. Sizes 2 to 6 ..... 59c

Fitted Shoulder Style Slip
The smooth shapely fitted shoulders are shown by this splendid rayon slip. Deep shadow proof hem, picot at side. White, peach, black, French nude and flesh 1.95

Boys' Oliver Twist Suit
Trimly tailored with broad cloth top and tweed pants of grey or fawn fancy belt with buckle turn down collar with contrasting tie. Sizes 2 to 6 ..... 1.95

Children's Bloomer Dresses
Practical and comfortable Bloomer dresses, prettily patterned. Broadcloth, gingham and chambray. Short sleeve. Big assortment of shades. Sizes 2 to 5. Special at 95c

Jersey Suit
The ideal way to dress the little boy during the spring days. Two piece suit of fine knit Jersey in marl and heather mixtures includes pullover with polo collar and bloomers are fitted with elastic. Sizes 2 to 5 ..... 2.50

Around the Store CLEARANCE!

Boys' Wash Suits
Made of good wearing cotton drill. Knee pants buttoned on short sleeve, full waist band, lots of wear and laundering. Shades of tan and blue. Sizes 2 to 6 ..... 1.19
Other Suits from ..... 95c to $2.45

Drill Coveralls
These protect the little chap's clothing from head to foot. Of strong, fine quality drill, buttons down front. Two large pockets and embroidery. Aviation crest on breast pocket, back drop seat, long sleeves and turned down collar. Sizes 2 to 6 ..... 79c

Girls' Khaki Middies
Girls' regulation middy of Khaki Jean Cloth, one pocket, long or short sleeves, three rows of white braid around collar and cuffs. Sizes 8 to 14 years. Clearing 79c

Girls' Khaki Hiking Suits
Girls' khaki hiking suit, of heavy quality drill, band at knee, buttons at waist, one pocket. Assorted sizes 4 to 8 years. Clearing 79c

Girls' and Misses' Dresses
New arrivals in bloomer dresses and ensembles. Made of fancy pique, tubfast prints, voiles and broadcloth. Sizes 2 to 14 years. Prices range from 95c to 2.95

Child's Khaki Overalls
The saving on the better clothes alone is worth the price of these economical play Overalls of khaki drill. Strongly made with bib and brace style with two pockets. Sizes 4 to 10 years. Clearing 79c

Children's Cotton Vests
This comfortable vest is made of fine cotton yarns, with cumfy cut shoulder straps which do not slip down off shoulders. Fine tubular trimming with tape run to adjust. Sizes 2 to 12 years, each 25c

Child's Overalls
Loose knee style Drill Overall with pockets and red trimming for 2, 4 and 6 years. Navy only 39c

STORES AT MADOC, COBOURG,
NAPANEE, BELLEVILLE

McINTOSH BROS.

SHOP AT YOUR NEAREST McINTOSH STORE AND SAVE

SENATORS SNARE EIGHT STRAIGHT

Detroit Tigers Given Another Push Toward Cellar

St. Louis, April 30.—Cleveland Indians made it two straight wins over the St. Louis Browns by taking yesterday's game, 6 to 4. It was Walter Stewart's first defeat of the season. He previously won three straight.

Maddox's homer in the fourth with Johnston on accounted for the Indians' first two runs. Another run was brought in by Goldman's double, and two more in the sixth clinched the game.

The Browns rallied in the last of the sixth, after having trouble touching Hudlin's curves. Schulte's double drove in three runs.

Hudlin held the Browns to five hits for the first seven innings. He was taken out for a pinch-hitter and relieved by Ferrell.

Washington, April 30.—The Washington Senators ran their winning streak to eight straight games yesterday when they defeated the New York Yankees 11 to 8 in a free-hitting contest. Five errors on the Yanks' part contributed to their defeat. The Nats used three twirlers while the Yanks used five.

The visitors jumped on Hadley for four runs in the first and another in the second, Lyles relieving. Lisks was nicked for two runs and the Yanks were leading 7 to 0 as the Nats came to bat in their half.

Boston, April 30.—The world champion Philadelphia Athletics made it two straight victories over the Boston Red Sox when they pounded three Bob Burke's quite impartially here yesterday afternoon, and won 9 to 5 in a free-hitting contest.

The Athletics collected 17 hits off Ruffing, Smith and Lisenbee, who hurled for Boston.

Detroit, April 30.—The Detroit Tigers were given another push toward the cellar yesterday when the Chicago White Sox took the second successive game of the current series, 8 to 6. Both teams connected for 14 safeties, but the Sox hit more timely.

Among the extra base hits were two home runs by the slugging Sox centre-fielder Reynolds, another by Chairmen Chapman and a long drive over the fence by McManus of Detroit.

Old Urban Faber, the veteran spitballer, went the route for Chicago and George Uhle was relieved in the eighth for a pinch batsman, Page finishing.

BOXING

Belleville boys have started in training for their next bouts, May 7th, knowing that condition is everything Kid Parry, Langman, Angel and others will get into condition at the Y.M.C.A. which have the best of appliances and facilities needed.

The committee are getting together a better programme than ever. Toronto boys will again be invited down.

Douglas' Egyptian Liniment is unrivalled for speedy relief in muscular rheumatism, lame back, inflammation, burns and felons.

JAP-A-LAC
PAINTS
VARNISHES
VARNISH STAINS
Different sizes
McKEOWN'S
DRUG STORE
Phone 135
STEP RIGHT UP

and pick your SPRING TOGS at
CHAS. J. SYMONS
MEN'S STORE
206 Front St. Phone 53

On the Sport Trail

The Central League officials and Executive will hold another meeting at the Queen's Hotel here tonight. Three teams will be represented, Belleville, Oshawa and Kingston. It is indeed unfortunate that Peterboro will not have delegates here. It will be something unusual this year without the Petes. They have been one of the teams which really formed the backbone of the league. They had their lean years but always they put up a good battle and the fans will miss the good natured banter from "Shiner" Johnston, "Tommy" Holyman and the rest of the scrappy Lift Lock squad.

Peterboro have had some great teams but lack of support and poor financial assistance have had their inning and the Petes will confine their activities to the East Peterboro and the City Leagues this year. Belleville and Peterboro have had some splendid battles and many fans long for a return of the days of Jack W Hanna, Al Heckman, Jake Soleman, "Blair" Kerr, etc.

Baseball flourished in those days and large crowds turned out. Rivalry was keen and the growing popularity of soft ball have taken their toll in many centres and as a result the ball clubs have suffered.

Belleville, however will as usual be represented by a fast team in the Central League. Waller Gerow will be out fast-ball all around and he will be able to give either of the other two teams a real battle. A three team league is not altogether satisfactory but it is far better than allowing the league to lapse for one year when its resurrection could be harder than ever.

Following are a few interesting notes from the Kingston Whig Standard.

Kingston looks good for a smart team in the C.O.B.L. and already several of the players have been out at the Cricket Field getting into shape for the season.

Charlie Smith is out to make a big bid for the third base position. Charlie is a nifty fielder and last season showed that his batting is improved. Given a chance to play regularly he ought to develop into a crack thing socker.

Oshawa enthusiasm for the C.O.H.L. is stronger than at anytime since they have been members. The delegates sent from the Motor City are workers and with real leadership baseball will be made a paying proposition in Oshawa even with the many counter attractions. There are a number of real ball players in the Motor City and if they can be induced to play, Oshawa will take a back seat from no team in the league.

SKEETERS APPLY BRUSH TO LEAFS

Newark Fought Off Late Rally By The Rochester Wings

Jersey City, April 30.—Turn about being day play, Jersey City whitewashed Toronto yesterday 5 to 0. Steve O'Neill and his Leafs moving on to Baltimores with an even break on this local series but with a record of five wins in nine games on their first 1930 visit to New Jersey.

All the Skeeters' runs were harvested in the seventh inning, Clarence Fisher blowing up at that stage and permitting the tailenders to group five hits with a base on balls for the tallies.

The hero of the afternoon was Maurice Shannon, one of the Shannon twins, who smacked a triple when there was a runless in existing and when there were two men waiting to score. He was batting at the time for Manger, who has been playing a whale of a game at first for the residents but who hasn't been hitting worth a lick.

It was Jack Hopkins, who beat Frank Barnes 6 to 3 in the opening game of the series last Friday and who was responsible for the loss of the second game on Sunday, who today, gave the Leafs their second whitewash of the present pennant pursuit.

Newark, April 30— Newark fought off a late rally of the Rochester Red Wings to take the deciding contest in a five-game series by 7 to 6.

It was a free hitting affair and neither starting pitcher, Al Mamaux nor Carlton, went the route.

Mamaux retired during a five-run barrage in the fifth, after the Bisons had scored three runs in the first on Baxter Jordan's homer with two men on base, and one more in the third.

Newark scored the deciding runs with McGraw in the box and he was charged with the defeat.

Baltimore, April 30—The Buffalo Bisons won the final game of the series here in a wild contest. The score was 14 to 12.

This gave the Horde the series, three games to one.

The Birds hammered the ball for 18 hits while the Bisons obtained an even dozen.

Reading, April 30.—Reading's seven runs in the first inning were enough to defeat the Montreal Royals here yesterday in the final game of the series. The Keys copped the wins out of five with Montreal, the decision by 8 to 5, to give them four Smith, after being touched for seven runs in the first inning, bore down and gave Reading only five hits the rest of the way. The Keys scored one run in the fifth on the aid of an error, or else Smith might have pitched seven scoreless innings.

UMPIRE STARK RESIGNS

New York, April 30.— Albert D. "Dolly" Stark, known as the youngest and fastest umpire in the Major Leagues, resigned his position on the National League staff today because he felt the nervous strain of umpiring was too great. Stark's resignation was accepted by President John Heydler, with regret.

FOOTBALL

Kingston United Football team have invited Belleville to play for a cup against Kingston and Brockville teams. Kingston have already started playing and played Brockville last week in Kingston.

Last season Belleville had a pretty good team and played games with Deloro, Kingston Battery, Kingston Sons of Scotland and Kingston Sons of England.

Albert College of Belleville propose forming a soccer team this season.

Deloro however have closed down. While Peterboro have some good teams. The trouble is, the distances are too far for an amateur club.

Many Belleville players are still around; including Blaker, Taylor, Belanger, Robinson, Colcough, Pickin, Howard, Kennedy, Knott, Morridge and Hatfield, and too there may be new players anxious to try out.

Kingston are trying to arrange a game with Glasgow Rangers if at all possible. So fix up to Belleville to get busy.

Baseball Results

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Buffalo	7	2	.778
Baltimore	7	4	.636
Newark	5	4	.556
Toronto	4	5	.444
Rochester	5	5	.500
Reading	5	5	.500
Montreal	3	5	.375
Jersey City	3	8	.272

Tuesday's Scores

Jersey City 5; Toronto 0.
Newark 7; Rochester 6.
Reading 8; Montreal 5.
Buffalo 14; Baltimore 12.

Games Today

Rochester at Jersey City.
Montreal at Newark.
Buffalo at Reading.
Other clubs not scheduled.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Washington	10	3	.769
Chicago	7	3	.667
Cleveland	7	4	.636
Philadelphia	6	4	.600
St. Louis	4	6	.400
Boston	4	8	.333
Detroit	4	10	.286
New York	2	9	.308

Tuesday's Scores

Chicago 6; Detroit 4.
Philadelphia 9; Boston 5.
Cleveland 6; St. Louis 4.
Washington 11; New York 8.

Games Today

Cleveland at St. Louis.
Chicago at Detroit.
New York at Washington.
Philadelphia at Boston.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Pittsburg	9	2	.818
New York	7	3	.778
Chicago	5	3	.667
St. Louis	6	7	.462
Boston	4	5	.444
Philadelphia	4	6	.455
Brooklyn	4	7	.364
Cincinnati	3	8	.273

Tuesday's Scores

Brooklyn 19; New York 15.
Philadelphia 8; Boston 2.
Pittsburg 12; Chicago 9.

Only three games played.

BROOKLYN WIN FROM NEW YORK

Pirates And Cubs Played Poor Game In National League

New York, April 30.—Scoring 11 runs in the second inning, the Brooklyn Robins defeated the New York Giants 19 to 15 in a 3-hour and 10 minutes slugfest before a crowd of 15,000 yesterday.

It was the second defeat in a row for the Giants after they had won seven straight. Brooklyn made 22 hits and the Giants 19.

Brooklyn's big inning came within three runs of the modern major league record of 14 runs made by the New York Yankees in one inning against Washington in 1920. The Chicago Cubs also scored 14 runs in an inning in 1922.

Chicago, April 30.—The Pittsburg Pirates and Chicago Cubs put on their share of major league weird baseball here yesterday, the Pirates winning 12 to 9.

Both teams played sloppy ball, while some of the heaviest hitting that new action could hold the opposition.

The Cubs jumped off to a three-run lead in the first inning and added four more in the third when Lester Bell hit a home-run with the bases loaded.

The Pirates won the game in the fifth, scoring seven runs.

Engle, and Grantham were the big hitters, each getting four.

Philadelphia, April 30—Opening up a tremendous attack in the eighth inning, the Phillies yesterday afternoon scored eight runs before the side was retired, and defeated the Boston Braves 9 to 2.

Thompson and O'Doul, with three hits apiece were the heavy stick men for the Phillies. Hayden, Boston second sacker, hit safely three times for his side.

Smith, started for the Beaneaters, but was blasted from the mound under an avalanche of hits in the eighth inning. Seven runs had crossed the plate by that time.

"Y" Alleys

In Monday night's Intermediate League games the Super-Five took 3 points out of four from the famous Peaches and Cream. The latter rolled their score to take four points from the Ontario Pressed.

In the Travelers' mixed doubles completed yesterday Alex Gordon and Miss Ketcheson were the high bowlers and winners with 1103.

Additional practice game prize winners: Mrs. Simmons (2); J. E. Dixon (3); A. Kennedy, 2; Mr. Arter, 2; C. Westlake; R. C. Taylor; Mr. Blaker; Peg Holway; Mrs. Lauder; Pete Morden; Mrs. Mott; Mr. Fairman; Mr. Frederick; C. Wilson; Boo Dunn.

Challenge Game

Green Stars—Alma Styles 496; Miss Ketcheson, 546; Mr. Lawson 314; Mr. Frederick 853; Mr. Fairman 515. Total 2518.

Queens—Alexandra—Miss McPherson 404; Miss Potter 377; Miss Beatty 333; Mr. Anderson 471; Mr. Mott 547. Total 2132.

Junior Moose Baseball News

Deloro and the Junior Moose, Belleville, have definitely decided to form a Junior Baseball League affiliated with the O.B.A.A.

A meeting will be held early next week in which the league will be elected. It is not definitely decided but five home games each will likely comprise the number of games in the league. If necessary a eleventh game will be played.

The Junior Moose team will comprise the pick of the junior players in the city, and by the way, most of them are members of the order now.

Deloro's team comprises players from Marmora and Deloro and also two or three students. The league will provide plenty of entertainment before it is over.

The following boys are asked to report to the secretary of the lodge in regards to practice net week. Ab Young, Clayton Darrah, Gordon Booth, Hilton McKinnon, Harry Morgan, Charlie Barriage, Percy Morgan, Lorne Rowsome, Harold Meek, Arthur Meen, Leo Cuthane, Jack Bush, William White.

A few of the above must join the lodge first before they will be allowed to participate in any games.

If there are any others wishing to play, they must join.

Most likely the first practice will be called for Monday night at the Collegiate grounds. It is expected that Walt Gerow will manage the team and Jack Connell will coach.

Owing to ill health, Frank Kelleher will not be able to take part in the junior league till early in June.

The Junior Moose would also like to hear from any teams who would be willing to join an independent league (no age limit). If one could be formed it will help the fellows along in their practice and give them a better chance to go through to the finals. A suitable trophy will be offered if the league is formed.

To those juniors who have played little baseball perhaps they will be interested to play in the series sponsored by the Kiwanis, Y's Men, Alan Meagher and Walt Gerow. The Junior Moose will be composed of players not list in the above will ask for entry to the league, so if there are any Junior Moose members or others wishing to become members want to play on this team will be welcomed. The following however are asked to report. William Ashley, Jack Bears, Lorne Burke, Thos. Colden, James Cooper, Ray Flagler, George Lapum, Oscar Mangold, George Munn, Jack Reppard, Elmer Scott, Reginald Scrivner, Wilfred Twining, Victor Wardle.

This city Junior League (O.B.A.A. players barred) should go within bang. It will be a wonderful feeder for Junior O.B.A.A. baseball intermediate and even senior. The committee should not find any difficulty in getting four good junior teams with players from Deloro and the Toledo-Milwaukee game last Sunday.

Intermediate

Super Five—Torrence 515; Pailey 512; Goodfellow 476; Ewing 567; Meagher 573. Total 2717.

Peaches—V. Wheeler 562; Doe 438; P. Holway 548; S. Ford 546; E. Whalen 565. Total 2649.

Y's Men—Currie 560; Miller 605; Edwards 572; Pauley 560; Stratton 605. Total 3401.

Mixed Doubles

Mr. Cunningham 539; Miss Hegle 323. Total 862.

Mr. Gordon 568; Miss Ketcheson 540. Total 1105.

Mr. Dendra 502; Miss McPherson 404. Total 906.

Mr. Fairman 515; Miss Burt 356. Total 871.

Mr. Stratton 359; Miss Styles 496. Total 855.

Mr. Blanchard 512; Miss —— 356. Total 867.

Mr. Mott 547; Miss Cook 353. Total 900.

Mr. Brown 467; Miss Potter 377. Total 844.

Mr. Cook 570; Miss Beatty 333. Total 903.

Mr. Anderson 471; Miss Potter 377. Total 848.

Mr. Clare 391; Miss Lounsberry 276. Total 667.

Mr. McMullen 468; Miss Christie 338. Total 806.

Mr. Frederick 653; Miss Watson 355. Total 1008

Mr. Kelly 558; Miss Blanchard 423. Total 981.

J. Grimmon 627; Miss —— 310. Total 937.

Mr. Lawson 314; Miss Christie 358. Total 672.

Joe Sewell Plays Despite His Illness

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 30. — The name of Joe Sewell, the Cleveland Indians' third baseman, appeared in his 1,181st consecutive box score despite the fact the veteran infielder has been running a temperature of 101 and 102 degrees for two days. His illness was described as similar to influenza.

Recreation Alleys

The Belleville K. of C. held their District Bowling Tournament at the Recreation Alleys last night. The following Councils were represented: two teams from Peterboro, two teams from Cobourg, three from Trenton, two from Kingston, seven from Belleville. Two Belleville teams played off the finals, the Dark Horses of Belleville K. of C. ran a surprise of the night. They put away the K. of C. Seniors, the following players who had the honour of winning the large individual prizes: Belleville Council: Scott, Corrigan, Moher and Logan. Congratulations to Captain Jack Moher's team. They also won among the contes; and for winning over such bowlers as D Doran, W. Harris, T. Barrett, P Domenico, F. Scott, etc. Other prizes won: the Cup donated by F. Donnelly was won by Geo. Lee for the high two string, the 3 fine games he rolled 496. For the high single C. Allore of Trenton was high with 276. Some of the visiting high singles are: C Allore, Trenton 276; H. Curry, Cobourg, 229; P. Madden, Trenton, 197; W. Allore, Trenton, 256; T. Morrell, Belleville, 246; Lee, Belleville 275; T. Barrett 255; D. Doran 230; Bill Harris 234; L. Barrett 264; Doc O'Callaghan 280.

Oh MAN, it's SPRING!

It's the season when clothes mean so much to the man who wants to look his best, and here is a store that offers you every opportunity to dress well at a moderate cost. Spring suits, topcoats, hats and haberdashery on display.
QUICK & ROBERTSON
CORRECT CLOTHING FOR MEN
USED TIRES WANTED
HAVE you tired on your car that you are a little worried about . . . that are good for a few thousand miles yet . . . but might let you down any minute? We will buy the unused mileage in your old tires and equip your car with extra good-looking, extra long-wearing Seiberling All-Treads, on a fair price basis.
You will be surprised at the moderate price of Seiberling All-Treads. Come in and get acquainted with this tire and with our better tire service.
TIRE SERVICE ANYWHERE, ANYTIME.
7.45 is all it costs for a 29 x 4.40 Seiberling
SEIBERLING ALL-TREADS
We have a most modern Tire Repair Department
ALL MAKES OF TIRES AND TUBES VULCANIZED.
ST. CHARLES Motor Company
343 Front Street. Belleville, Ont. Phone 232

get teams with players up to 15. Sorbaiff isn't any good to boys in Belleville for as soon as they are out of the Y leagues, there are no further leagues in which they may participate whereby they may advance, any junior, intermediate and senior series.

GREENFIELD, NOT WANTED

Fort Worth, April 30.—The Fort Worth Baseball Club has returned Kent Greenfield, right-handed hurler, to the Brooklyn Robins. He reported here before the Texas League season opened, but was unable to get started, largely due to lack of control.

KEYS TURN ROBERTS BACK

Reading, April 30—The Reading International team today returned Pitcher Vaughn "Red" Roberts, to the Los Angeles Club of the Pacific Coast League. The Angels in turn sold the right hander to the Pittsfield Club of the Eastern League.

CASEY STENGEL SUSPENDED

Chicago, April 30—Casey Stengel, manager of the Toledo club of the American Association, was indefinitely suspended by President Thomas J. Hickey today for causing a near riot during the Toledo-Milwaukee game last Sunday.

WESTERN GOLF TOURNEY WILL BE ABANDONED

Winnipeg, April 30 (CP)—Abandonment of the Western Canada Amateur Golf Tournament, one of the prairie's major summer sports events since 1934, is considered likely this year, though official announcement is lacking.

The tournament that in recent years has brought together the best amateurs in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta is said to interfere with provincial championships. This is given as one of the chief reasons why it is to be stopped. The Manitoba Golf Association is said to have definitely decided to withdraw from the Western Canada organization. At the same time the Manitoba body thinks it advisable to keep the prairie association alive to the extent that a slate of officers should be elected so that at any future time, if the need was felt to revive the tournament, an organization would exist with powers to start preparations.

Business Directory

LEGAL

E. J. BUTLER, K.C., BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary Public. Money to loan. Offices: Ontario Hall Building, 90 Bridge Street East. Telephone 648.

WALLBRIDGE, CAMERON AND CO (Successors to the late F. B. Wallbridge), Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, Money to loan. Dominion Bank Building, corner Front and Bridge streets, Belleville, Ontario.

COLLINS AND CUSHING, A. E. COLLINS, B. O. Cushing, Barristers and Solicitors. Office: Across the Royal Bank, corner Front and Campbell streets. Phone 125. Company and private funds to loan on first mortgage.

B. C. DONNAM, COUNTY CROWN Attorney, Barrister, Solicitor, Notary Public, etc. Offices: Court House Building, Belleville, Ontario.

FOSTER, PAYNE AND ARNOTT, Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, etc. Solicitors for Royal Bank. E. Guss Porter, K.C., Chas. A. Payne and R. D. Arnott. Money to loan on mortgage and investments made. Offices: 218 Front street, Belleville, Ontario.

MALCOLM WRIGHT, BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary Public, etc. Office: Campbell Building.

PONTON, PORTON AND GRAHAM, Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries Public, Commissioners, Offices: 28 Bridge street east, Belleville, Bank of Montreal. Money to loan on mortgages. W. N. Ponton, K.C., H. D. Porton, K.C., B. J. K. Graham. Office, Belleville

FRASER AYLESWORTH
Ontario Land Surveyor and Registered Professional Civil Engineer
Land Surveys, Plans and Description, etc., promptly attended to PHONE 649 or P.O. BOX 90
MADOC, ONT.

DENTAL

DR. O. A. MORTON, DENTIST, X-Ray Equipment. Office: Burrows Block, Front street, city. Phone 467, Belleville.

FARM INSURANCE

Rates very reasonable/call and see us before entering policy. We save you money.

SEE

H. F. RETCHESON
CO., LIMITED
30 BRIDGE ST., BELLEVILLE

INSURANCE
BEFORE PLACING YOUR ORDER for Fire Insurance see W. J. Hall and H. F. Ketcheson, Queen Insurance Co., and several other first class companies, 278 Front St. Phone 780, Belleville

MEDICAL

J. P. Farnsworth, M.D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
26 Victoria Ave. Phone 8127
Residence 1746w

R. S. GIBSON, M.D.C.M.
Physician and Surgeon
178 George St. Phone 2146

DR. G. J. FORSTER, SURGEON, 17 Victoria Ave. Phones: Surgery 958-W. Residence 958-J. Hours: 10-12, 7-8:30, or by appointment. a14-tf

DeSRMcCreary,B.Sc.
Physician and Surgeon.
X-Ray a Specialty
278 Front St., Belleville
Opposite City Hall
Phone 1200

RADIUM TREATMENTS

ARCHITECTURE

JOHN E. PARKS, CARPENTER AND Builder, Contractor and Medical Cabinets. Truss, etc., a specialty. Quotations freely given on laying and finishing hardwood floors. Estimates on all class of buildings furnished free. Over 100 designs of bungalows, houses, etc. Agent for the Chamberlain famous Metal Weather Strip, 20 Charlotte St. Phone 1832, Belleville.

ASELTINE'S MOTOR BUS AND Auto Livery, Tweed and Belleville. Motor bus leaves Tweed at 7.45; leaves Belleville at 2.15. Phone 228, Belleville.

Public Accountant

Audits and Investigations made; income tax reports prepared; financial statements drawn up; accounting systems installed, books opened, written up monthly, and closed. Hugh K. Middleton, c/o Belleville Locators. Phone 861.

BELLEVILLE AND MADOC
MOTOR BUS
NOW RUNNING
Leaves Belleville 7 a.m. and 3.30 p.m.; leaves Madoc 8 a.m. and 4.30 p.m.; Parcel express daily. Trips 8 a.m., 1 p.m. and 4 p.m. Orders called for and delivered. Phone 1403.
E. STAPLET, Proprietor.

Chiropractors

H. R. and VERA B. PITCHER
Chiropractors
LICENSED PRACTITIONERS
Phone 1274 45½ Bridge St. E.
Belleville, Ontario

Wm. P. Redick
Licensed
CHIROPRACTOR and DRUGLESS THERAPIST
NINA M. REDICK
by Appointment only
Phone 288 282 Coleman St.

FOR SALE

CHOICE NAMED DAHLIAS AT REASonable prices, also collection, not named, for $1. Mrs. H. Blackburn, 45 Highland Ave. a30, m2, m3

SHOES FOR SALE. I STILL HAVE several hundred pair at bargain prices. R. J. Graham, Shoe Dept., 185 Pinnacle St. a30-2td

BATES' CLEANER FOR ALL HOUSE hold cleaning, specially hardwood floors; eliminates the use of gasoline and turpentine; cleans more thoroughly with no odor. Price for 3 lb. can and $1.00 $ pail. Apply 87 Chatham St. Phone 870W. a30-2td

KLONDYKE ICING SUGAR BRING boxes to 10 Highland Avenue, or King's Highway, small orchard, one and half acres and, may be used as a tourist home. Apply 23 Highland Avenue. A bargain for quick sale. a30-4td

SEVERAL DIFFERENT MAKES OF Phonographs to splendid condition with records included. These are real bargains. Heintzman Co., 352 Front St. a30-6td

PEERLESS RANGE, THIRTY GALlon oil tank with pump, sixty gallon tank for wood, feed for a dozen laghorn baby chicks, 2 weeks old, 10c each. Apply Bert Kiser, South Foster Ave.

MOFFAT CABINET ELECTRIC range in excellent condition. Apply 75 Cedarhurst St. a30-1td

CORD WOOD AND STOVE WOOD. Reasonable price. Apply Trent Valley Fur Farm, 2 1-2 miles out Foxboro. a28-1md

NUG, NEARLY NEW, APPLY 219 Dundas St. Phone 1786. a27-tf

LEASE OF TICES RESTAURANT, all furnishings and summer wood. Good business. Post healthy reason for selling. Apply Wm. Tice, 180 Front St. a28-3td

CHESTERFIELD SUITE, 2 BEDroom suites, two extra chairs. Owner leaving city. 174 Bridge St. E. a26-3td

SAND AND GRAVEL FOR SALE — good building sand and good cement gravel; 2 miles south of Ameliasburg on premises of John Roy Harry, Lot 9, 2nd concession. Apply John Roy Harry, Trenton, R.R. No. 7. a2-1td

AT POINT ANNE QUARRIES, WOOD team ..cd 60, single load $1.00 also lumber, sheeting and lumber. Apply at the Quarries or A. Dafe Co., 52 Station St., Belleville. a2-tf

MELLOTT CREAM SEPARATOR, Light Plant, Sash, Windmills, Engines, Lightning Rods, Millers, Wood and Iron Pumps; some good used Separators, for sale cheap, by E. Hartley, Pinnacle Street. f26-tf.

REFRIGERATOR 97" x 40" x 30". Apply to Hoar Hardware. a29-2td

FOR SALE—230 CHARLES STREET (between Bridge and Queen Sts.) one of the finest locations in the city, it is a Cottage, absolutely modern, 2 bedrooms, 2 rooms downstairs, centre hall, also four excellent garages, with coal shed and storage above. The garages are storage garages all in one and up-keep of property, private drive off Ann St. Inspection absolutely by appointment only with Belleville Locators, phone 861. Office 25 Bridge St. East. a15-dtf

APPLICATION FOR DOG-CATCHER, Township of BELLEVILLE

Applications will be received up to five o'clock p.m. on Thursday, May 8th, 1930, at the office of the City Clerk for the position of dog-catcher and pound keeper for the City of Belleville.

J. WILFRID HOLDEN,
City Clerk.
a30dm3

About 40 per cent. of Germany's telephones, a number in excess of 700,000, are operated through automatic exchanges.

FOR SALE

GROCERY STORE — with Five Living Rooms and Bath. Good business in East End, residential section. As owner wants to retire, he can be bought right for cash or small home taken in part payment. Investigate this.

Apply Box "Y" Ontario Intelligencer Office.

BUSINESS LINERS

PERMANENT WAVE $7.50
Marcel wave 50c, Finger wave 50c, Water wave 50c, Shampoo 50c. Trim 35c. For limited term only, I am able to offer you a permanent wave with shampoo and finger wave at $7.50, starting May 5th, on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of each week only as long as supplies last. Phone your appointment now. Open evenings. Rosebud Hairdressing, 283½ Front St. Phone 1453 (over Cherry Press).
a30-6td

WALLPAPER TIME

In modernizing the home attention should first be devoted to the walls. The new style trend in wallpaper strikes a distinctly modern note. We are offering a complete range of creations in latest design. Call Stilk Book Store, 212 Front St. Phone 1670. a30-1td

Perennial Flower Plants in assorted varieties, large clumps ready for planting. 10c each. Bishop's Seed Store.

MARCELLING
MRS. WM. HOPPING, 323 FRONT street. Phone 2186W for appointments. a17-2w

Match paper for your garden saves hoeing, conserves moisture. Increase your yield and hasten maturity. 90 ft. rolls $4.40. Bishop's Seed Store.
a29-4td

FARM INSURANCE
We have the cheapest Farm Rates obtainable. Good Companies, all of which have been doing business in this County for a great many years. Prompt and liberal settlements.

We guarantee it would pay you, to let us talk it over with you, before your Policy expires.

"We insure everything insurable" Phone, write, or call at our office.

S. J. Fisher & Son
Insurance and Auctioneers
361 Front Street Phone 162
BELLEVILLE

LOST

WILL THE PERSON WHO PICKED up car jack on Pine Street Monday afternoon kindly return same to 80 12 Pine St. a29-2td

LOST

IN EATON'S STORE ON FRIDAY, purse containing money, keys and lorine dollie. Finder kindly return to Ontario Intelligencer. Reward. a29-2td

LOST

BETWEEN FOXBORO AND PICTON large dark tent. Finder please notify J. N. Lewis, Picton, Ont. Box 298. a30-1td

CARD OF THANKS

The family of the late Mrs. Dooter wish to thank their many friends for kindness and sympathy during the illness and death of their mother, also for the beautiful floral tributes.
a30-1td

A cigarette case and lighter have been combined to save a smoker carrying two articles.

WANTED

MALE HELP WANTED
STEAMSHIP POSITIONS—EUROPE, Orient, South America; good pay; experience unnecessary; self-address ed envelope brings 10c. Mr. Arcuius, Mount Vernon, New York. a30-1td

A MAN WHO CAN SELL FARMERS roof and barn paints is wanted for a well known Toronto manufacturer. Good commissions for full or part time work. Accustomed to with farmers in your locality essential. A. E. Adam, 230 Carlaw Avenue, Toronto. a30-2td EARN $20 TO $30 WEEKLY AT home addressing cards. No canvassing. Everything furnished. Spare or full time. Send stamp for particulars. Box "Y" Ontario Office.

a30-1td

AGENTS WANTED

$4 A DAY PAID CHRISTIAN MEN or women, college students, teachers, ministers and others for distributing religious literature. For particulars write stating age and church connection. Mr. Cook, Tower Bldg., Toronto. a16, 19, 23, 26, 30

WANTED—ALL KINDS OF SEWING. All work done by hand absolutely done and specializing on slip covers for furniture. Phone 2082 a29-2td

BOARDERS. PHONE 743W. a28-3td

BOARDERS WANTED

BOARDERS WANTED—COMFORTable rooms and good meals in private home. Mrs. J. Johnson, 23 Bleecker Street. Phone 1764. a28-3td

CAPABLE AND EXPERIENCED general maid with references. Small family, good wages. Phone 1193.
a29-tf

WANTED — WILL BUY FURniture, wool, junk, poultry and feathers at best prices. Phone 1694R, 403 Front St. Phone 1097-W. d26-tf.

TENDERS FOR COAL

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the Purchasing Agent, Department of Public Works, Ottawa, will be received at the Department up to 4 o'clock (daylight saving), Wednesday, May 7, 1930, for the supply of coal to the Dominion Buildings throughout the Province of Ontario, including the City of Ottawa.

Forms of tender with specifications and conditions attached can be obtained from G. W. Dawson, Purchasing Agent, Department of Public Works, Ottawa, and R. Winter, District Resident Architect, 59-61 Victoria Street, Toronto, Ont.

Tenders will not be considered unless made on the forms supplied by the Department and in accordance with departmental specifications and conditions.

The right to demand from the successful tenderer a deposit, not exceeding 10 per cent. of the amount of the tender, to secure the due fulfilment of the contract, is reserved.

By order,
N. DESJARDINS,
Secretary.
Department of Public Works,
Ottawa, April 19, 1930.
a16, 22, 30

Halloway

Halloway, April 30 (By Mail)—The farmers of the vicinity are busy on the land. The season is very cold and back ward.

Mr. B. Morgan and bride were given a surprise and presentation of a set of dishes on Tuesday night of last week.

Miss L. Robson spent the Easter holidays at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Robson.

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Pettum and family from near Kingston spent several days last week visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. Lowry and other friends.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Carter and Misses Doris and Mary spent the Easter Sunday with their daughter in Toronto.

Mrs. R. Roy and daughter of Trenton spent a few days last week visiting Mrs. G. Morgan and other friends.

Mr. J. Dunning from the west and Mr. and Mrs. W. Ketcheson called on Mr. and Mrs. S. Elliott recently.

Miss A. Morgan has returned to her school at River Valley after spending the Easter holidays under the parental care.

Mrs. B. McMullin and Mrs. W. Kelly attended the shower for Miss L. Harris in Belleville recently.

Rev. Dr. McTavish of Belleville spent the dinner hour on Sunday last at Mr. R. Townsend's.

Mr. R. Roy and Miss Irene and Mr. and Mrs. R. Townsend took in the play at Bethel on Thursday night last.

The cheese factory will open on May the 1st.

Consecon

Consecon, April 30 (By Mail)—The play "So this is London," put on by the Y. M. C. A. of Belleville in the Masonic Hall on Thursday evening was a decided success.

TO-LET

NEW STUCCO HOME, SIX ROOMS, all conveniences. Apply between 1 and 6 p.m. V. E. Mole. Corner Pine Street and Bleecker Avenue.
a29-2td

GARDEN, FOR CARE OF LAWN. Apply 176 Foster Ave. a30-dtf

FIVE ROOMED APARTMENT, 308 Coleman St., all conveniences. Apply Belvidere Hotel. a29-2td

HOUSE TO LET WITH ALL CONveniences, also garage. Phone 1594M. a29-2td

TWO BRIGHT ROOMS FURNISHed. Suitable for light housekeeping in home with all conveniences. Garage. Phone 2122. a29-3td

APARTMENT TO LET—3 BRIGHT rooms heated, all modern conveniences, including gas stove. Rent, including light bill $40 monthly. Immediate possession. Phone 2074.
a29-2td

TWO SUNNY, PRETTY, FURNISHed, heated apartments, one large bed sitting room, heated, ground floor, one house. Possession at once. Apply Miss Corbett, 33 Queen St. Phone 1665. a29-dtf PASTURE APPLY MRS. JNO. Evans, College St. Phone 494M or Seymour Bushel, Donald St.

a23-3td

PASTURE FOR CATTLE—WELL watered and well fenced. Apply Trent Valley fur farm, 2 1-2 miles east of Foxboro. a23-2wd

DESIRABLE 7 ROOM HOUSE, NO. 10 Pinnacle St. All conveniences except furnace. Phone 535 or 367 William St. a26-dtf

TOP FLOOR APARTMENT 5 ROOMS. Possession 1st of May. Apply Apartments R. J. Graham. a11-tf.

TO CHARLES ST. WITH GARAGE. Possession May 1st. Apply 265 Front St. a11-dtf

THREE ROOMS HEATED AND furnished for light housekeeping, also garage and garden if desired. Apply Box "J" Ontario Intelligencer or phone 1733-W. a8-tf.

SOME NICE FLATS OVER OS Kent & Sons' and H. Doyle, Adults. a30-2td

MEDIUM SIZED FRONT STREET store, very central. Apply to Campbell St. Apply Box 2216, Lewis Hardware 265 Front St. Phone 865. d23-tf.

PHONE 1911
FOR YOUR WIRING REQUIREMENTS
City Electric Co.
64 BENJAMIN ST.

Hello? Yes, this is Crenk's phone 314
Calls 25c O.K. I Have Your Order for Car 216 Albert St.

F. C. Maughan
PAINTING PAPERHANGING
All Kinds of Decorations
Undertaken
PRICES MODERATE
Phone 1282

W. TURNER
Decorating, Paper Hanging, and Painting. Alabastine and Paper Hanging a Specialty. Phone 1743-W.

THIS IS THE TIME FOR HOUSE CLEANING ORDERS. Window washing and paper hanging done by CHAS. COCHRANE. Leave orders at Thos. Walters, 262 Front St.

Modern Window Cleaners
WINDOW CLEANING
Storm Windows Removed
Sizes, Exams, Apartments, Factories
F. G. CLARE
Phone 722w

NOTICE

The adjourned meeting for the organization of The Belleville Amateur Athletic Association will be held in the City Hall on Friday, the 2nd day of May, A.D., 1930, at 8.00 o'clock p.m.

This association is organized for the purpose of controlling all amateur sport in the City of Belleville and all persons interested are invited to attend and become members.

CHARLES A. PAYNE,
Secretary.
a30-2td

Miss Helen Bush returned to Peterboro on Sunday after holidaying with her parents Mr. and Mrs. George Bush.

Mrs. John Wyatt and Jack have returned from a visit visiting her daughter and family at Elora.

Miss Marguerite McLean and Miss Lenora Arthur were ten hour guests at Dr. and Mrs. VanLuven's Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Rebecca Alexander has returned home after spending the winter with her son and family in Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Bedford and family also Mrs. Alexander motored to Sidney on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Clare Zufelt and friend of Toronto called on friends in the Village.

Mrs. Dona Sayers of Belleville spent the week-end with her grandmother Mrs. Mary Mastin.

A member from the Village attended Artjican Church at the Carring Place on Sunday morning.

Mrs. C. Raitery returned home on Saturday after holidaying with relatives in New York and Atlantic City.

Miss Marion Chase of Young's District spent the vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Chase and on Friday visited her friend Miss Marguerite Taylor.

CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAYS

GOING EAST

North Station, No. 18, 12.30 a.m.—Mail train, daily.
North Station, No. 20, 1.10 a.m.—Fast Mail, daily.
South Station, No. 8, 2.07 a.m.—Express, daily.
North Station, No. 16, 2.20 a.m.—Maple Leaf, Fast train, every daily.
South Station, No. 10, 11.02 a.m.—Mail and Express, daily, except Sunday.
North Station, No. 24, 2.35 p.m.—Local, for Colborne and Trenton, daily.
North Station, No. 28, 2.35 p.m.—Local passenger, daily, except Sunday.
North Station, No. 30, 3.53 p.m.—The Capitol, daily.
North Station, No. 32, 8.05 p.m.—From Toronto (runs to Belleville only) Mail and Express, daily.
North Station, No. 34, 9.47 p.m.—Daily, Inter-City Limited.

GOING WEST

North Station, No. 19, 2.50 a.m.—Mail daily.
South Station, No. 7, 3.39 a.m.—Express daily, except Sunday.
North Station, No. 21, 3.35 a.m.—Express, daily, except Sunday.
North Station, No. 17, 4.35 a.m.—Express, daily.
South Station, No. 9, 8.50 a.m.—Local passenger, daily, except Sunday.
North Station, No. 25, 11.40 a.m.—Local passenger, daily, except Sunday.
South Station, No. 11, 2.50 p.m.—Maple Leaf, daily.
North Station, No. 109, 3.35 p.m.—Express on Sunday.
North Station, No. 33, 5.00 p.m.—The Ontarian, daily.
North Station, No. 35, 10.40 p.m.—Express, daily, except Sunday.
North Station, No. 37, 1.30 a.m.—International Limited, daily.

BELLEVILLE & PETERBORO

Going West
	Leave Belleville	Arrive Peterboro
Mail	3.20 a.m.	5.00 a.m.
Passenger	3.35 p.m.	5.00 p.m.
Going East
	Arrive Belleville	Leave Peterboro
Passenger	11.10 a.m.	12.40 p.m.
Mail	3.15 p.m.	11.45 a.m.
Belleville and Peterboro service, daily, except Sunday.

BELLEVILLE AND MADOC

Going South
	Leave Belleville	Arrive Madoc
Mail	12.00 p.m.	12.30 p.m.
Passenger	3.30 p.m.	4.15 p.m.
Going North
	Leave Belleville	Arrive Madoc
Mail	12.50 p.m.	1.45 p.m.
Passenger	5.40 p.m.	7.15 p.m.
Belleville and Madoc, service, daily, except Sunday.

GOING WEST

South Station, No. 45, 1.30 a.m.—Daily.
South Station, No. 41, 5.31 a.m.—Daily, except Sunday.
North Station, No. 43, 7.30 a.m.—Daily.
South Station, No. 37, 1.33 p.m.—
North Station, No. 39, 6.47 p.m.—Daily.
South Station, No. 18, 4.30 p.m.—Tuesday, Thursday.

TIME TABLES
CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY

GOING EAST

South Station, No. 45, 1.30 a.m.—Daily.
South Station, No. 41, 5.31 a.m.—Daily, except Sunday.
Chautauqua, daily.
South Station, No. 37, 1.33 p.m.—Daily.
South Station, No. 39, 4.30 p.m.—Royal York—Daily.

GOING WEST

South Station, No. 45, 1.30 a.m.—Daily.
South Station, No. 41, 5.31 a.m.—Daily, except Sunday.
South Station, No. 37, 1.33 p.m.—
North Station, No. 39, 6.47 p.m.—Daily.
South Station, No. 18, 4.30 p.m.—Tuesday, Thursday.

Tillie the Toiler
By Russ Westover
© 1930, King Features Syndicate, Inc., Great Britain rights reserved.

Bringing Up Father
By George McManus
© 1930 Int'l Feature Service, Inc. Great Britain rights reserved.

TRENTON AND DISTRICT

Start Work to Reconstruct the Highway Bridge

Large Gang of Workmen Will Be Engaged On The Smithfield Job

Trenton, Ont., April 27 (Special by Staff Reporter)—Work started in car nest on Monday morning at the Overhead Bridge over the C.P.R. and C.N.R. tracks between Brighton and Trenton, and within the next few days a large number of men, both skilled and unskilled workmen, will be engaged in constructing the new bridge which will be a vast improvement over the old one.

The Grant Brothers Construction Company of Ottawa have the contract, and Mr. E. O. Empey of Kapuskasing, is superintendent of the job. Mr. Empey is well qualified for the position, as he has been twenty three years in construction work, building bridges in all parts of the continent. The superintendent stated if their present plans carry through, which they will unless some unforseen difficulty arises, the whole job will be completed in five months time.

Asked as to how many men would be employed, Mr. Empey stated that as many as could be used would be taken on, as time was a valuable factor in this work. "He may even work twelve hour shifts in order to complete the work, but for the time being we will not work that long" he said.

The new bridge, which will eliminate the death trap now known as the Over head Bridge will be of steel construction, and will rest on three solid cement piers one at each end and one between the C.P.R. tracks and the C.N.R. It will continue straight on from the cement highway east of the present bridge until it crosses over the tracks, and then, with the aid of a thirty foot fill, the road will run on west with a slight curve to meet the end of the present Highway west of the present Overhead Bridge

There will be no detour necessary while the work is being carried on and trains will not be inconvenienced by the work.

Yesterday carpenters were busy in building an office and living quarters for the superintendent and office staff, and a comfortable "home" along the highway will make its appearance within a few days

Already what are known as "monuments" or markers for where the piers are to be placed have been sunk in the ground, and by looking over the area, a good idea of the whole piece of work can be obtained.

Motorists will heave a sigh of relief at the news that the old Overhead bridge is really to be a thing of the past. Smash after smash has occurred at this portal, even though warning signs of all kinds had been placed along the approaches and although there has not been a fatal accident there for some years, much property damage has been caused, as well as more or less serious injury to occupants of motor cars.

Nine Motorists Haled to Court

Trenton, Ont., April 30 (Special by Staff Reporter) — Trenton's Police Force has been checking up for the past few days on traffic violations and yesterday morning in police court, nine motorists paid fines for failing to abide by the traffic laws of the town. One was summoned for failure to show an operator's permit when called upon to do so, five failed to halt their cars when they came to a stop street, and three were speeding. One Belleville man was charged with travelling in excess of forty five miles an hour through Trenton streets. Constable Rose, using a motorcycle, has been looking after the speeders, and many more will be brought into court unless they observe the law as regards speed.

RADIO

RADIO REPAIRING and SERVICE
All Makes
Phone 132
THE JOHN LEWIS Co., Ltd.

Trenton Driver May Face Court

Trenton, Ont., April 30 (Special by Staff Reporter)—Ciosefillo Donetta, whose car was struck by a C.N.R. train running from Trenton Junction to Trenton the other day, escaped unscathed from the wreckage of his car, but whether he will do so well in the Trenton police court is another matter He is charged with reckless driving, and his case will likely be heard before Magistrate O'Rourke in the near future.

Mrs. Donetta who was more or less injured about the face where she was cut by flying glass, is suffering from no other ill effects, and will be around again in a few days. The car was badly wrecked. The driver declared that he did not see the train until it was right on top of the car, although the crossing was level and here was a clear view on each s'de of the road.

Liberal Women Heard Mrs. Allen

Trenton, April 30 (Special by Staff Reporter)—Monday evening in the Liberal club rooms here Mrs. J. Forbes Allen of Peterboro, prominent Liberal women speaker, was the guest speaker of the Trenton Liberal ladies club. A large number of Trenton ladies were in attendance to hear her speak. Mrs. Allen confined her talk to organization work and party policy for the most part, but her address was much appreciated by those in attendance.

Petroleum production in Venezuela has increased to a monthly rate of about 12,000,000 barrels.

JOS. L. TICKELL LAID TO REST

Obsequies of Late Citizen And Business Man Largely Attended

All that was mortal of the late Joseph Leabon Tickell was laid to rest in the Tickell family plot in Belleville Cemetery under Masonic auspices, Tuesday afternoon. A large cortege of friends followed the remains from the family residence, 181 Charles street, where a short service was conducted by the Rev. John Ross, of St. Thomas' Church, to the church, where the public service was held. The body of the deceased was filed with flowers of the late Mr. Tickell and the members of the Masonic order. Mrs. Ross Hunter played the organ as the service and the choir, under direction of Mr. Hunter, led in the singing of the hymns, "On the Resurrection Morning", and "The Sands of Time are Sinking." The impressive Anglican service was recited by the Rev. John Lyons, vicar, and by the Rev. A. L. Geen.

The bearers were, Fred C. Wallbridge, P. W. Geen, Charles Treverton John S. McKeown, H. C. Thompson and S. J. Fisher.

Friends from near and far attended the last rites. Prominent among these were the members of the Board of Examiners for the Province of Ontario of which Mr. Tickell had been a member for years, and funeral directors from various parts of the Province of Ontario. Many furniture manufacturing firms were represented at the obsequies.

Those representatives were:

Funeral Directors—Robert J. Reid, Kingston; W. A. "Masters, Napanee; F. C. Martin, Napanee; J. F. MacPherson, Shannonville; Geo. Colsby, Trenton; A. W. Bellegham, Trenton; Joseph W. Coulter, Trenton; N. J. McNair, Trenton; F. F. Myers, Bowmanville; Cliff. Beacock, Cobling; Fred A. Windover, Frankford; Newton Spencer, Springbrook; E. C. Tink, Madoc.

Board of Examiners, of Ontario — C. H. Greenwood, Stratford; T. E. Simpson, M.P., Sault Ste. Marie; Norman Craig, Toronto.

Representatives from manufacturing firms—M. Godin, Pres. Dominion Mfgs., Toronto; Fred Cole, Mgr. National Casket Co., Toronto; D. M. Andrews, Secy. Treas., Dominion Mfgs., Toronto; Wm. G. Bartlett, Eastern Ontario representative of Dominion Mfgs.; James O'Hagan, Editor Canadian Funeral Service; Thos. Chadwick, Toronto; C. S. Clarke, Guelph Casket Co.; Dr. Ming, Ex-M.P.P., Napanee.

At Belleville cemetery, Rev. Mr. Lyons, officiated, the Masonic service being taken by Wor. Bro. H. W. Dillistt, of the Belleville Lodge No. 123, A.F.&A.M., and Rt. Wor. Bro. Jesse W. Barlow, of Moira Lodge.

There was a wealth of flowers which, in their mute way symbolized the high place the late Mr. Tickell occupied in the hearts of his friends and business acquaintances. The floral offerings were—

Pillow—The widow.

Anchor—Miss Josephine Tickell, Miss Annie Tickell, Mr. E. H. Tickell, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. L. Cole. Family at Church street.

Basket of Roses—Dominion Mfgs. Ltd.

Wreath—Belleville Cemetery Co., National Casket Co., F. S. Coles; Tick ell Employees, Belleville Lodge 123, A. F. & A.M., Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kerr, Deacon Brothers, Ontario Board of Examiners, Toronto; Woodmen of the World.

Spray—Dr. A. H. Tickell and Mrs. Tickell, Nevada City, Calif.; Women's Guild, St. Thomas' Church; Mr. and Mrs. C. Ashley, Mr. and Mrs. W. Page, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kirk, W. G. Burroughs, Mrs. W. L. Cook, Mrs. Chadwick, Mrs. W. J. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Cole and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Treverton, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Williams, St. Thomas' Church, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Saikman, Mr. and Mrs. J. Cummins, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Geen, Pembroke Collegiate Staff, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Day, Harry Blackwell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grass, Mr. and Mrs. D. Grass Charlie and Leah, Georgia Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Elvins, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Ostrom, Cedar St.; Hilda.

Trout Season Opens Thursday

Trenton, Ont., April 30 (Special by Staff Reporter)—Followers of Izaak Walton will in all likelihood be out following the winding trout stream tomorrow bright and early, for the 1930 trout season opens on that date, the 1st of May. Many local fishermen are planning on taking a trip to the trout streams in the northern section of the country over the week end, and if they do the speckled beauties will have to watch their step.

Fine are still being taken out of the Bay, but the pickerel season has not yet opened. The small boy, and others not so small, with a string of perch is on almost daily sight now, as these little fish are biting real well at present.

Plan Visitors Day at Museum

Trenton, Ont., April 30 (Special by Staff Reporter)— Principal Fairman of the Dufferin Street Public School here has one of the finest school museums in Canada, in which stuffed birds and animals of all descriptions predominate. It is his intention to hold "Visitors Day" some time in the near future, at which all will be welcome, and where parents and others interested have an opportunity to view this most interesting exhibit. There are many animals not ordinarily seen in this section on exhibit in the school, as well as a fine collection of native minerals, insects, and curios. The "open date will be announced through this column.

SUSPENDS COURT SENTENCE 6 MOS.

Edward Wells Admitted Charge in Police Court

Pleading guilty to having presented a coal weigh ticket, purporting to be genuine, Edward Wells, coal merchant of this city, was given an "ambulo" sus pended sentence and ordered to pay the costs of the court amounting to $12.50. Mr. Wells was represented by C. A. Cameron and B. C. Donnelly acted as crown attorney, while Magistrate Mikel presided. No evidence was taken in the case excepting that Mr. Wells asked for summary trial and on the reading of the charge, pleaded guilty. It is alleged by the Crown that the weigh ticket was made out originally by Gerald Read, market clerk, and that Mr. Wells changed the figures and delivered another load to another party on the same ticket. The proceedings were short, and a large number were in attendance to hear the evidence.

A new kind of plywood, which is said to be as hard as stone, has been patented in Sweden.

The Penslar

ONE CENT SALE

Thursday, Friday and Saturday

Three Popular Toilet Goods Lines at 1c Sale Prices

Fleur du Midi

50c Brilliantine, solid 2 for 51c
60c Cold Cream 2 for 61c
60c Perfume Flacons 2 for 51c
$2 Perfume, oz 2 for $2.01
75c Face Powder 2 for 76c
60c Facial Astringent 2 for 61c
60c Rouge, Strawberry, Raspberry, Medium, 2 for, ... 61c
35c Talc . . . . 2 for 36c
60c Tissue Cream 2 for 61c
$2. Toilet Water 2 for $2.01
60c Vanishing Cream 2 for 61c
60c Buttermilk Cleansing Cream . . 2 for 61c
50c Vanishing Cream, Lotion . . . 2 for 51c

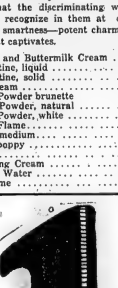
Spring Blossoms

THE ESSENCE OF LOVELINESS

In presenting "Spring Blossoms," we take especial pleasure and pride because we are confident that the discriminating women of Canada will recognize in them at once, unquestionable smartness—potent charm — individuality that captivates.

60c Almond and Buttermilk Cream . . . . . 2 for 61c
60c Brilliantine, liquid . . . . . 2 for 61c
75c Brilliantine, solid . . . . . 2 for 76c
75c Cold Cream . . . . . 2 for 76c
$1.00 Face Powder brunette . . . . . 2 for $1.01
$1.00 Face Powder, natural . . . . . 2 for $1.01
$1.00 Face Powder, white . . . . . 2 for $1.01
75c Rouge, Flame . . . . . 2 for 76c
75c Rouge, medium . . . . . 2 for 76c
75c Rouge, poppy . . . . . 2 for 76c
75c Talcum . . . . . 2 for 76c
75c Vanishing Cream . . . . . 2 for 76c
$2.75 Toilet Water . . . . . 2 for $2.76
$2.75 Perfume . . . . . 2 for $2.76

Garden Court



50 Brillantine, Liquid . . . . 2 for 51c
50c Benzoin and Almond Cream 2 for 51c
50c Cold Cream 2 for 51c
50c Double Combination Cream, Vanishing 2 for 51c
35c Talcum, tins, 2 for 36c
75c Face Powder, Brunette, ... 2 for 76c
75c Face Powder, natural . . . . . 2 for 76c
50c Flacons . . . . 2 for 51c
$2. Extract, 1 oz. 2 for $2.01
50c Cocoanut Oil Shampoo . . . . . 2 for 51c

Penslar TOILET GOODS

50c Camphor Ice Lotion . . 2 for 51c
25c Germicidal Soap . . . . . 2 for 26c
25c Baby Talc . . . . . 2 for 26c
$1.00 Penslar Hair Tonic 2 for $1.01
25c Zinc Stearate . . . . . 2 for 26c
25c Glycerine and Rose Water 2 for 26c
75c After Shaving Lotion . . 2 for 76c
50c Almond and Cucumber Cream 2 for 51c
25c Baby Bath Castile . . . 2 for 26c
35c Orange Blossom Talc . . 2 for 36c
$1 Lilac Vegetal . . . . . 2 for $1.01

Penslar Remedies

50c Blackberry and Jamaica Ginger . . . . . 2 for 51c
50c Vaporizing Salve . . . 2 for 51c
Loz . . . . . 2 for 16c
15c Sulphur and Cream Tartar
$1 Sarsaparilla Comp. . 2 for $1.01
50c White Pine and Tar . . 2 for 51c
50c Regulax . . . . . 2 for 51c
$1. Mineral Oil . . . . . 2 for $1.01
60c Analgesic Balm . . . . . 3 for 61c
50c Boraline . . . . . 2 for 51c
25c Carbolic Witch Hazel Salve . . . . . 2 for 26c
50c Cascara Hinkle Tablets, 100 2 for 51c
60c Cascara Aromatic . . . 2 for 61c
25c Castor Oil Aromatic . . 2 for 26c
25c Cathartic Active Pills . 2 for 26c
35c Charcoal and Pepsin Lozenges 2 for 36c
50c Cherry Bark Cough Syrup 2 for 51c
25c Laxative Cold Breakers 2 for 26c
25c Corn Collode . . . . . 2 for 26c
$1. Beef, Iron and Wine 2 for $1.01
$1.50 Dynamic Tonic . . 2 for $1.51
50c Eye Bath . . . . . 2 for 51c
$1. Syrup Hypophosphites Comp. . . . . 2 for $1.01
50c White Liniment . . . . . 2 for 51c
20c Soda Mint Tablets . . . 2 for 21c

Colonial Club For Men

50c Shaving Cream 2 for 51c
50c After Shaving Lotion 2 for 51c
35c After Shaving Talc 2 for 36c
50c Hair Oil 2 for 51c

The 1c Sale is an advertising plan used to acquaint the public with the merits of the Penslar Products. You buy any item at the regular price then another item of the same kind for one cent.

Every article in this sale is a high-class standard piece of merchandise, just the same as we sell you every day at regular prices.

Zinc Stearate

U. S. P.

Packed in a self closing sifter top, one ounce cans.

Regular price, 1 can 25c
This sale 2 cans 26c,

Penslar Household Drugs

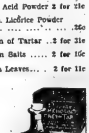
20c Boric Acid Powder 2 for 21c
25c Comp. Licorice Powder 2 for 26c
30c Cream of Tartar . 2 for 31c
15c Epsom Salts . . . . 2 for 16c
10c Senna Leaves. . . . 2 for 11c
25c Castog Oil . . . . . 2 for 26c
25c Comphorated Oil 2 for 26c
25c Spirit Camphor . . 2 for 26c
30c Tincture Iodine . . 2 for 31c
50c Extract Witch Hazel 8 oz. . . . . 2 for 51c
15c Rochelel Salts. . . . 2 for 16c
15c Sulphur . . . . . 2 for 16c
25c Glycerine . . . . . 2 for 26c

Rubber Goods

Hot Water Bottle, red rubber, moulded in one piece, capacity 2 quarts. Regular price $2.50. This sale 2 for 2.51

Fountain Syringe, red rubber one piece bag, extra rapid flow tube, full 2 quart capacity. Reg. price $2.50. This Sale 2 for 2.51

Customers will be permitted to select a Water Bottle and a Fountain Syringe as a purchase.



50c Penslar Tooth Brush 2 for 51c
50c Mag Lac Tooth Brush 2 for 51c
25c Children's Tooth Brush 2 for 26c

NELSON PERFUMES

Chypre, Jasmine, Narcissus, Orange Blossoms . . 2 for $2.01

Nelson Toilet Waters

Chypre, Jasmine, Narcissus, Orange Blossoms.... 2 for $1.76

Horehound, Honey and Tar—an old fashioned remedy. 8 ounce bottles. Regular price 75c. This Sale 2 for 76c

ANTISEPTINE
This sale 2 for 1.01

SHAMPONA
This sale 2 for 51c

MAG-LAC TOOTH PASTE
This sale 2 for 51c

PENSLAR COD LIVER OIL
This Sale 2 for 1.26

PENSLAR DENTAL CREAM
This sale 2 tubes 51c

TREAD EASY FOOT POWDER

A comfort to sore feet. Absorbent and deodorant. Regular price 25c

This sale 2 for 26c

Doyle's Drug Store
PHONE 326

Dolan the Druggist
PHONE 138

The Ontario Intelligencer

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 30, 1930.

Jack Miner and the Birds

and Some Things I Know About Nature

by

Jack Miner Himself

"COPYRIGHT AND FOR SALE IN BOOK FORM AT ALL BOOK STORES"

Now about the only argument the quail shooter has to put up is that the wire fence has taken the place of the old rail and weedy fence row, and has destroyed their cover, and that. If he didn't shoot them the quail would only fight, one among the others, and would not nest. I am not here to say that this man has no brains, but I will say that the fleshing of his trigger-finger to shoot something has got control of his brains; and when I hear him blowing off this stuff I take father's advice, and "drop it." For the positive fact is that the old fence row is, and always was, the worst death trap that quail ever took shelter in. The height of a sportsman's ambition is to see them alight there; and the poor old house-cat has a great advantage there; and when March comes that is just the place to look for a bunch of dead quail—quail that sought shelter there during the winter months, were drifted under, and died. All thinking men will admit that when quail are in real need of shelter, this old fence row is nothing but a fence drift. The only drawback quail have in Western Ontario and Ohio, as well, is the disappearing of the woods that sheltered them from the drifting snows. Not that he gets any of his living there, but just flies there for shelter during the severe storms of winter.

As to them becoming so numerous as to quarrel and not breed, quail do not nest or breed in the woods. When we came to Canada in 1878 there were twenty-five where there hasn't been one during the last ten years. I am sure I have seen one hundred and fifty quail on an ordinary farm; and this change is not because the wire fence has taken the place of the rail, etc. All these excuses are false and without foundation.

Now here is the positive fact: The great mistake the sportsmen have made is that they have directed all their attention on the death-dealing weapons, as to how to destroy quail. The breech loader has taken the place of the old muzzle loader; the six-shot pump gun has taken the place of the double-barrelled breech-loader; the quick, nitro-explosives have taken the place of the slow black powder; and thus we have gone on and on for the last thirty-five years, to my personal know ledge, thoughtless and ignorant of what we were doing, not taking into consideration at all the increasing number of shooters, year by year, until at last we have waked up to find that our birds have decreased over ninety per cent. during that time.

Has the wire fence destroyed the quail, the beautiful trumpeter swans, our mourning doves, the woodcocks and meadow-larks? These migratory birds have decreased the same as our Ontario quail have, and God-given intelligence, wrongly directed, is responsible for it all.

Now just picture North America if, during the last thirty-five years, we had paid as much attention to the protection and increase of our birds as we have to these death-dealing weapons. What a cheerful difference it certainly would have made!

About ten years ago I started to protect quail in earnest. I made eight feed-racks.

The boxes are eight inches square and four inches deep. The cover is about three feet wide and almost one foot deep. This is to keep the snow drifts in, it is very light and the birds will scratch and get the feed, as no deer or rain can reach it.

The quail soon found the food and I was agreeably surprised to see the number of tracks around these racks the first time I went to visit them; but when I returned three or four days later there was scarcely a quail to be seen. On investigation I found that the hawks had apparently struck the Klondyke of their lives, and it was almost one death to Bob to go near the feed, as Mr. Hawk was always watching.

Then I bought a few No. 1 jump traps and cut three poles, fifteen or twenty feet long and from four to five inches through at the butt. I then drove three or four small nails in the butt-end of each pole, to stay the trap and keep it from blowing off, but leaving it free enough so that when I caught its victim he could fly up and raise the trap off the top of the pole. A small brush-loop is fastened to the end of the chain and a nail was driven in the side of the pole about a foot from the top, to hang the clog on. About six or eight small staples were driven in around the pole, near the top, to put through some hay and grass in so as to disguise the trap, making it appear like an old sparrow's nest. Then I set the pole, with the butt up, beside another small tree so that the boughs of the tree would project a little bit above the trap; then wired the pole to the tree. When a hawk or owl gets his toe in such a trap there is nothing solid for him to strike against, but he can fly down with the trap and clog, and isn't apt to jerk out. Moreover, when hawk number two comes along, number one does not up there, flapping, to scare him and make him shy of this pole. I have known, time and again, to alight on the same pole and then fly down and kill and eat the hawk below who was flapping around with the trap and clog.

In these traps I caught seventeen quail-destroyers the first month I put them up, and I also got the toe of another hawk, and the following winter I got the rest of that hawk.

As proof that birds visit the same places, I will say that I haven't caught over fifteen hawks and owls down there in any one winter, in those three traps, since.

Well, the feed racks did not seem to be filled in every way, so in a year or so I decided to try another scheme. If loaded up all the old junk lumber I could find and hauled in to the woods, and in one day another team and I completed ten little bungalows-in-the-rough. They are about one foot high in the rear, and four to five feet high in the front, with from five to six feet ground space.

Then, to complete my experiment, I begged ten bags of weed-seed from a neighbor who was hulling clover. I threw a bagful in each house, and then threw in, on top of the weed-seed corn, wheat and buckwheat. In less than a week the birds visited every house, and on a cold very day I believe I have seen as high as fifty quail bunn out of one of these little, unpainted shacks. And best of all they scratched right down through the grain and ate the weed seeds first. I soon found I had made a hit, as the shacks furnished the birds shelter as well as food in the time of need, and a certain amount of protection from their natural enemies.

But these birds down in the woods remained quite wild. So I got several bantam hens and kept them ready; and when any neighbor farmer disturbed a quail's nest I had a place for the eggs. In this way I have had some enjoyable experiences.

I first set the hen in a small box on the ground, on a nice cushion of soft grass, pet her lots and let her eat from my hand; I push her feathers forward and pepper her just full of Prussian insect powder, and sprinkle a little in the nest, also. Now I am all ready for some one to phone that they have disturbed a quail's nest.

If you take eggs from a nest that is not disturbed, never, never take them until the bird has finished laying and has started to set, for if you take the eight or ten she will build another nest and finish laying, then put in her valuable time with only half a brood, whereas if she has started to set she will only lay off a few days, then will build a new nest and raise a full brood.

A quail will lay from fifteen to twenty two, and sometimes as high as twenty-five eggs.

Quail eggs all hatch, and hatch very suddenly. One year I looked at a nest at ten o'clock and there was nothing doing, and when I came by at twelve o'clock the old hen scolded, so I took another peep; all hands had apparently opened the door at once, and the cluster of pure-white eggs had changed so that they resembled a live bumble-bee's nest.

Quail have no trouble hatching, like some of our domestic fowl; they just simply open the door and just walk out.

Pat once asked a little boy what he cams for. The little chap in his bashful way replied, "Oh, nothing." Again Pat took his pipe from between his teeth, as he said, "Well, you'll find that in the pig behind the barn, over the whiskey was." So we can say the same thing about the hatching of quail. They leave the shell in the same uniform way that they opened the door from the inside.

When they are about to hatch, shut the door of the box so as to keep the tiny pets in. When they are from twenty to thirty-six hours old, move the hands to a dry coop under the garden, or in the back yard near shrubbery. The coop should be from eighteen to twenty-four inches square inside, built with a shed roof ten to twelve inches high in the rear and eighteen to twenty inches high in the front, with a board floor so that the old hen cannot scratch and be on damp ground. Now take three boards about one foot wide and two feet long tack them in front of the old hen's coop for a playground for the quail. Leave the hen in the coop and let her put her head out and talk to her family, who cannot get over two feet away from her. Feed them a little custard (one egg to half a cup of milk; no sugar). Feed tiny bits five times a day, always tapping the tin with the spoon as you go near them. In three or four days they will accept the hen as their step-mother, and you and their step-parent. Now draw the two nails (which are only partly driven in) and pull the three boards quietly away, leaving the hen in the permanent coop, but giving the quail their liberty.

(To Be Continued)

Portugal is the only country in Europe which has no broadcasting station.

wonderful macaroons

THERE'S a recipe on every package of Rice Krispies that makes the best macaroons you ever tasted!

Rice Krispies are toasted rice bubbles. So crisp they actually crackle in milk or cream. Serve them for breakfast—for lunch or the children's supper. Easy to digest. At grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

snap! crackle! pop!

Kellogg's RICE KRISPIES

FREIGHT AGENTS AT FORD PLANT

Mr .Thos. H. Coppin, One of 52 C. N. R. Officials Sees Loading Plant

East Windsor, Ont., April 30—The extensive equipment of the Ford Motor Company of Canada for loading railroad cars with automobiles and parts was studied here last week by a group of fifty-two Canadian National freight agents, from Ontario and Quebec.

Twenty - seven towns and cities throughout the two provinces were represented in the group which visited the Ford plants to study its methods. Among those from Ontario was Mr. Coppin, freight agent of Belleville.

While the car loading operations of the Ford factory was of first importance to the visitors, they also showed keen interest in the machine shop, by which the company makes the famous assembly lines at work. Here the visitors saw the motors start from a few simple fundamental parts, and grow slowly part by part until them came off the line at a distant point complete, and ready for the block test. Another interesting assembly line viewed by the freight men was the body assembly in which the actual motor car is seen to grow from its primary framework until it is fully completed at the far end, at which point an operator steps in and drives it off on its own power.

The freight loading facilities of the Canadian Ford company handles the cars destined for export. Many of the addresses on these crates read like a lesson in geography. Many other crates and chassis are loaded here for ultimate consumption in the four foreign branches of the Canadian company—Australia, South Africa, Malaya and India. But the greater portion of the local loadings are destined for the Canadian branches at Montreal, Toronto, London, Saint John, Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary and Vancouver.

First Showing of "Anna Christie"

Belle Theatre is to get a first run on "Anna Christie" beginning today, Thursday. This talking picture is to be seen in Toronto next week at the Tivoli. Manager Forhan of the Belle today received from Manager Tom Daley of the Tivoli, the following telegram:

"Mr. George Forhan,
"Belle Theatre,
"Belleville, Ont.

"Just finished screening "Anna Christie" for a party of Toronto newspaper critics who unanimously laud it to be the finest dramatic effort of the talking screen. Picture retains all the tremendous strength of Eugene O'Neill's great stage success and Greta Garbo a revelation in title role. Remarkable, remarkable, it seems to grow on one with a certain fascination. You can safely promise your patrons the most astounding dramatic treat of the year in Anna Christie."

CANADIAN LEGATION SEC. WEDS N.Y. GIRL

New York, N.Y., April 30.—Culminating a romance begun when they met at a diplomatic gathering in Washington, the engagement was announced here today of Miss Ellen Cox Ewing, New York, prominent member of the younger social set, and Thomas Randall Stone, second secretary of the Canadian legation at Washington. Mr. Stone is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Stone, Chatham, Ont. They will be married this summer.

The announcement of the engagement was made by Miss Ewing's parents. Miss Ewing is a graduate of Dobbs Ferry and Smith College. She is a member of the Junior League and niece of the late Alexander Smith Cochran, reputed to have been the wealthiest bachelor entertainer in the United States.

Mr. Stone graduated in the class of 1924, University of Toronto, and afterwards from L'Ecole Des Sciences Politiques in Paris.

Present plans call for the wedding to take place at Sorrento, Maine, summer home of Miss Ewing's parents. Miss Ewing's father was commissioner of patents during the Wilson administration and is now practicing patent law in New York.

The native home of the banana is not known, though it is now raised in every tropical and sub-tropical country.

Probably some men go to church rather than spend Sunday at home.

THE LAUNCHING OF THE SHAMROCK

The Shamrock V, the British Challenger for the America Cup, taking to the water when launched at Cowport, England. It is expected Sir Thomas Lipton's new wonder-yacht will give the cup defenders stiff battles for the coveted prize.

S. S. MOVEMENT IS DEVELOPED

Religious Education Will Spread its Work Throughout Canada

Toronto, April 29 (CP)—Development of the Sunday School movement into a great church programme of Christian Religious education, is the objective stressed in the agenda of the Quadrennial Convention of the International Convention of Religious Education, to be held in Toronto, June 22-29 next. The convention will celebrate the 100th anniversary of the Sunday school. The ministry of Robert Raikes, founder of the movement, will be honored by the unveiling of a statue—a replica of that in the Embankment Gardens, in London, England. Delegates are expected from all parts of Canada and the United States, together with representative Religious Education leaders from Europe, Asia and other parts of the world.

Dealing with the features of the Convention programme the Executive Committee points out the gathering will also celebrate "the 19th centennial of the great commission 'Go-teach'!"

"But the programme will be definitely forward looking," the announcement goes on. "The Great Commission remains as yet unfulfilled, and the Sunday School, with all its noble achievements, must speedily give place to a great church programme of Christian religious education." The vision of the Convention will be the development of Robert Raikes' idea into a movement that will touch the lives of all ages of man, from the cradle to the evening of life.

Rev. Charles E. Raven, canon of Liverpool Cathedral, and one of the King's chaplains, will address the convention at one of the evening sessions.

Prominent leaders from universities will speak on the main programme, including Luther A. Weigle, Dean of Yale Divinity School; Theodore G. Soares, Professor of Religious Education, Chicago University, and George A. Coe, until his recent retirement, Professor of Religious education in Teachers' College, Columbia University, Norman E. Richardson, of the Presbyterian Theological Seminary, Chicago, will take the leadership of adult work in the Convention. H. Skelton Smith, of Yale Divinity School, will lead the study group in supervision and leadership training.

Among the prominent clergymen on the programme will be Rev. Dr. Ernest F. Tittle, Evanston, Illinois; Rev. Dr. Lynn Harold Hough, Montreal, Canada; Rev. Dr. John McNeill, Toronto; Rev. Canon H. J. Cody, Toronto; Rev. Dr. A. W. Beavon, Rochester, N. Y., and Bishop E. D. Mouzon, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

Russell Colgate is President of the International Council and Robert W. Hopkins chairman of the Executive Committee.

KUSTON PASSA WINS TODAY'S RACE

EPSOM, England, April 29 —(CP)— Kustom Passa, owned by Aga Khan, raced into the limelight of the Derby contention today by winning the Nonsuch Stakes. Kustom Passa finished four lengths in front of W. M. Oaklet's Paradine. Stingo, owned by D. M. Grant, was third, another three lengths back. 9 The races were a mile and a furlong.

The largest man-eating animals in the world are the Kodiak bears of Alaska. They sometimes grow to weigh a ton.

A Nevada man has invented an automobile attachment that flashes a lamp on the instrument board of a car when a tire is punctured.

BEDDING PLANTS now ready for the garden at MARKET SQUARE Phone 516

Potter's THE MARKET SQUARE Phone 516

TEST INSULATING BUILDING BOARD

TEN/TEST keeps your home at a comfortable, livable temperature, summer and winter. Makes big saving in fuel bills. Your architect, contractor or nearest TEN/TEST dealer representative will supply full information.

INTERNATIONAL FIBRE BOARD LIMITED
1111 Beaver Hall Hill - Montreal, Que.

Sold by
ARTHUR A. SILLS
Coleman St., Belleville

Tickell & Browne
FUNERAL HOME
69 VICTORIA AVE.
Corner of Church Street
PHONE 2133
All New Equipment, including LIMOUSINE FUNERAL COACH
J. L. Tickell C. W. Browne
FUNERAL DIRECTORS

THOMPSON FUNERAL SERVICE
Our policy of lower priced Funerals continues indefinitely
UNEXCELLED SERVICE
Thomas C. Thompson
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
288 Front Street. Phone 62
Private Funeral Parlor. Night 1313

IMLAH & ARMSTRONG
MANAGERS BELLEVILLE BURIAL CO.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
14 CAMPBELL STREET, BELLEVILLE
Day Phone 716 Night Phone 1373 and 774

$24.75 MILLING GUARANTEED
BULOVA
An accurate, dependable watch of lasting beauty and charm. A smart watch at appealing prices.
J.O.R. McCurdy
Phone 518 324 Front street

THE BEAUTY BOX

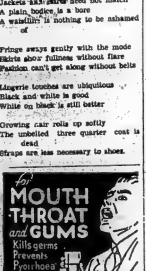
Bored ladies affect the countenance of the graven image. What for and why? The interesting face is one that shows fleeting expressions, changes, lights and shadows. Even a slight psylogonmy takes on a glow of beauty when it expresses warm, human feeling. Ordinary manners demand that when one is in the company of others one will appear to be interested. People who are always bored are bores themselves.

If a lazy girl slumps and slouches enough she will have a body so out of alignment that she won't be able to straighten if. A good carriage is a reward of habit. By practicing the erect pose, keeping the chest high, taking the slack out of the backbone the body will assume the proper posture without being dictated to by the brain. Round shoulders and the constricted chest retard the work of the inner organs.

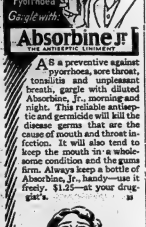
Perspiration of the feet is a common trouble. It can be overcome by adding baking soda to the bathtub by dusting the feet with a mixture of one ounce of zinc dioxide and two ounces of talcum powder, by changing stockings frequently—fresh ones every day—and by dusting talcum into shoes. When the skin between the toes peels the cause is usually ringworm.

Scientific dentistry is one of the blessings of the age. No woman should spare any expense to have her little pearls kept in order; good teeth have more to do with her appearance than expensive fabrics wrapped about her body or real beading hung from her neck. Broken teeth can be repaired, yellow ones bleached and false teeth can be placed in to fill vacancies. Nice teeth, well cared for, are necessary.

When wrinkles have broken down the youthful lines of the face, when necks have gone blower, or double chins have appeared, it is particularly important that a woman should have a beautifully waved coiffure. Only the very young can get away with straight hair, plecked back in severe fashion. The oldsters must have undulations and lovely head lines.



Your Spring Wardrobe Will be a Failure if You Don't Know



Jackets and skirts need not match
A plain, bodice is a bore
A waistline is nothing to be ashamed of Fringe sways gently with the mode

Skirts show fullness without flare
Fashion can't get along without hats

Lingerie touches are ubiquitous
Black and white is good
White on black is still better

Growing hair rolls up softly
The unbelled three quarter coat is dead
Straps are less necessary to shoes.

As a preventive against Pyorrhoea, sore throat, tonsilitis and unpleasant breath, gargle with diluted Absorbine, Jr., morning and night. This reliable antiseptic and germicide will kill the disease germs that are the cause of mouth and throat infection. It will also tend to keep the mouth in a wholesome condition and the gums firm. Always keep a bottle of Absorbine, Jr. handy—use it freely. $1.25—at your druggist's.

Fashionably Speaking
By Lucille

DEAR READERS:

Sunny days are here at last and it won't be long now before we will have to start thinking in earnest just how to furnish and decorate our summer porches and verandahs. Just think, within a few weeks we will be able to spend the lovely evenings out-of-doors when the fresh air will cost us not a cent, and re-pay us a hundred-fold by giving us health and a strong body. Who doesn't look forward to a summer evening? If your porch is large and homelike so much the better, for it will then be an ideal place in which to entertain your guests. If it is small you may still entertain your guests, in the singular this time perhaps. But whether you use the verandah for entertainment purposes or for your own rest and enjoyment, you will want it gay and pleasant. The new furniture fashions for sunny days, dear readers, will transform your sun-room or verandah into a place of delight.

Glimpses of lovely windows and of housefurnishings departments gave me a few ideas on the subject, which I thought I might hand on to you. They may possibly help you a little, and if they do I will be more than repaid for my trouble. One beautiful suite I particularly noticed would be ideal for the large sun-room. In burnished rattan. It was a veritable invitation to sit down and be comfy. The suite consisted of four piece, settee and two chairs and end table. The settee and chairs had spring cushions on its seats and loose cushions for the backs, covered with gay cretonne in a lovely design with glass top. With such a suite as this you may entertain to your heart's content, confident in the assurance that your porch contains the last word in verandah furnishings.

For the smaller porch you can buy even in my delightful little pieces of furniture, any one of which will lend charm to the spot it occupies. We noticed a little table in particular because it was the ideal thing from which to serve tea. It was fashioned of steel and had a removable glass top and when not in use as a table, you remove the glass top and have a flower pot stand. A small rug always lends charm to a porch and these can be purchased in ovals or oblongs, in colours that vie with your choices for freshness and scarcity brightness in your path. Potted ferns are the ideal verandah plant and the florists can supply you with fine specimens. With best wishes for bright, sunshiny weather.

Fashionably yours,
LUCILLE

Today's Poem

THOUGHTS

I gave my thoughts a golden perch,
A silver silken tree;
They clustered dumbly out of reach
And would not sing for me.

I built my thoughts a roof of rush,
A little byre beside;
They left my mind to the thrush
And flew at evening tide.

I went my way and would not care,
If they should come or go;
A thousand birds seemed in the air,
My thoughts were singing so.

—Marjorie Pickthall.

Three hundred thousand a year for food

Good health, convenience, time-saving—all these considerations are taken account of by the big Canadian industries which provide lunch-rooms and cafeterias for their employees. For example, the Bell Telephone Company with its 14,000 workers, runs not very far behind the big chain restaurant enterprises in the course of a year the consumption of bread and rolls, fresh fruit and vegetables, fresh meat and canned goods, ice cream, cakes, coffee, tea and many other necessaries of a well-ordered meal or lunch called for purchases amounting to over $300,000 for the nine cafeterias alone located in Toronto, Ottawa, Quebec, Hamilton, London, Windsor, Niagara and Montreal.

Balanced diet—carefully prepared menus have an important part in the health of the telephone worker. The picture shows the Bell cafeteria in the new Beaver Hall Building in Montreal.

Shower Given Rawdon Couple

Mr. And Mrs. Gibson Are Sigrually Honoured By Friends

Rawdon, April 30 (By Mail)—Well-man's Women's Institute held there last meeting at the home of Mrs. Fred Swan, and a large number were present. After opening the meeting with the creed and the president in the chair, the ladies decided to send a crate of eggs to the Children's Aid Society, Belleville, so that the children there might enjoy Easter. Two splendid papers were given, Mrs. John Swan on "Records of Our Farm," and Mrs. Ed Todd "Thinking of one's Neighbour," Miss L. Moover gave a piano solo and Miss Nina Dracup a humorous reading. Three readings, "Housework," by Mrs. Harry Panning "Sends," Mrs. Dutter Rupert and "Month of March" by Mrs. Carl Clancy. Miss Florence Dunham put on a "Green Contest." Mrs. Thomas Hubble was given a box of chocolates, it be ing her birthday. The hostess served delicious candy.

Miss Minnie McKeown of Hamilton spent a few days under the parental roof.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Kemp and Mr. and Mrs. Charles McMaster attended the funeral of the latter's uncle in Wallbridge on Sunday.

Bethel Trail Ranger group entertained West Huntingdon group in Stirling and all report an excellent time. W. M. group conducted an initiation ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Dunham and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Bailey.

Miss Winnie Spencer of Ontario Business College spent Easter vacation with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Spencer.

Mr. and Mrs. Maynes and daughters were recent guests of Mr. and Ed Pyear.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Moles of Marmora spent Tuesday with friends in Rawdon.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Burkitt spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McGowan.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Spencer and Mr. and Mrs. Mack Shortt spent Sunday in Belleville with Mr. and Mrs. George Shortt.

Mr. Delbert Sine spent the holiday under the parental roof.

Mr. and Mrs. Sandy McCurdy spent Sunday with friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Irwin and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Thompson spent Sunday with Mr. Wm. McKeown who is ill.

Mrs. McDougal of Eldorado visited her daughter Mrs. Neil Sine, recently.

Mr. Phill Carr and Mr. Aitlenl Wilson each gave splendid addresses at the Trail Ranger Meeting Friday evening also Mr. Fred Rulln, Mr. B. C. Tucker, Mr. Rugden and Rev. Mollin. At the close a delightful lunch was served.

Mrs. S. J. Elliott is recovering nicely from her recent illness.

Miss Hazel Cook visited her friend Miss Ethel Hagerman.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Finch spent a day recently in Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. McMaster visited at the home of Mr. David Seeley Trenton, on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Mumby spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hamilton, Marmora.

Miss Marjorie McKeown was a recent guest of Miss Rema Mumby.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Donald entertained Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hagerman to Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Melville Gibson were given a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vance on Friday evening, as the groom was one of the Bethel baseball team, who it will be remembered won the laurels last year, this group also presented the young couple with chairs.

After the following address was read and the lovely gifts were opened. A splendid programme of games were staged and the balance of the evening was spent in tripping to the light fantastic.

DEAR MELVILLE AND JEAN:

It is a privilege and a pleasant undertaking as well for us to assemble on such an occasion as this to express our sentiments and best wishes which through our association with you have brought about a feeling which prompts us to act in the assurance that we may rightly presume to bestow on you any remembrance of which we are capable.

We take this opportunity of welcoming you Jean, into our community and assure you will always find us true friends.

At this time also we gratefully remember the services of our first bandmaster in the Bethel baseball team who willingly and capably helped us to the front in several other ways, Melville you have been with us from our community as a boy. How much more intelligent than dating them with pills, physics and purses?"

Signed on behalf of your friends in this community, Ernest Broadworth, George Carlisle and Albert Dodwell.

Mr. Alex Fargey is busy repairing some of the roads of Rawdon.

The farmers are busy preparing their land. It is reported one farmer sowed oats yesterday.

Mr. Isaac Brown is ill in Peterboro Hospital.

Mrs. Scott of Campbellford spent Thursday with her mother Mrs. Rutherford.

Springbrook Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. George Bailey and decided to coach a class of girls for the judging competition. A splendid lunch was served at the close.

Correct Manners

Mrs. Cornelius Beckman

The Prize-Winner
DEAR MRS. BECKMAN:

I am about to take advantage of the excellent tact and understanding which you show in your suggestions published in answers to inquiries.

Although no more proficient in bridge than most of the other members of a friendly club to which I belong, I have had a persistent run of luck this year, winning a prize in five out of eight meetings. Should I continue to accept prizes if my luck continues?

Of course I am delighted with each of the prizes. It seems to me rather unappreciative toward the hostess who presents a lady-prize to give it away again. To refuse to accept prizes also seems to me to be affecting a rather superior and condescending attitude, which, I would resent in anyone else.

On the other hand, it has become an embarrassing situation, inasmuch as I feel more piggish every time. I have thought of making deliberate mistakes when it appears as if I am in for it again, but this does not seem fair to my partner. What would you do?

Thank you for your kind words about my column. You are very friendly to tell me of your approval, and they made me very happy.

Now about your phenomenal run of good fortune—don't take it in an unnatural manner—but thank the good of chance that he has been so kind to you, and graciously and unselfishly accepted the rewards of your good fortune. Also you are probably being unfair to yourself in not acknowledging that some of the rewards are due to good playing and card-instinct.

In any event, don't do what you think of doing, as you set forth in your last paragraph, for this kind of

A safe and sure medicine for a child troubled with worms is Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator.

BRIDGE CLUB MEMBERS ILL WITH JAKE PALSY

WICHITA, Kansas, April 28—CP—"Jake" paralysis explained the malady which has severely affected hundreds of persons who drank Jamaica ginger here, today claimed nine more victims members of the Women's Bridge Club in the fashionable college hill residential section. The women were reported by authorities to have admitted drinking a small amount of punch which had been "spiked" with alcohol. Three of the women are declared paralyzed and in a helpless condition. Three others are unable to use their legs and are confined to their beds. Other victims were walking with the aid of crutches.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Says Sunshine Fills Life!

Out of the land of existence into the land of real living" says Mrs. Ethel Hickman of Prescott, Arizona. "Each morning I wake, vibrantly alive, eager to begin another day! But it was not always thus.

"Three years ago I dragged through the hours, head aching, depressed, discouraged, utterly exhausted, and the poorest of company when my husband returned from his work.

"Then one of my friends told me her secret. She had felt just as wretched as I did. She went to her doctor.

What Doctor Said

"'Throw away the pills' he told her. 'Take the simple natural internal lubricant—Nujol.' She told me it wasn't a medicine—that it was nonfattening—that it was used successfully by the most intelligent and prominent people. At last I was convinced after my druggist too recommended it.

"My experience since that happy day must be similar to that of hundreds of thousands of grateful Nujol users. My husband now takes it daily and I give it to both of my boys. How much more intelligent than dating them with pills, physics and purses!"

Thousands have Proved This
This is just another one of the thousands of personal experiences that prove how Nujol can brighten a whole life and flood it with sunshine by clearing the poisons out of your system (we all have them) and giving you a chance to be well. Why don't you see what it will do for you?

Get crystal-clear Nujol at any drug store Sold in sealed packages only—trademarked "Nujol." Insist on Nujol by name. It costs but a few cents. What an inexpensive treatment to keep you well and happy! Start this very night on the happy road to health!

Copyright, 1930, by Premier Syndicate, Inc.

MOVIE MAGNATE'S WIDOW LOST $1,600,000

Los Angeles, Cal., April 30.—Plans for the wedding May 15 of Mrs. Elinor Kershaw Ince, 45, widow of Thomas Ince, motion picture producer, and Holmes Herbert, 47, screen player, were being made here today. Mrs. Ince's marriage to Herbert will deprive her of her share of the $1,600,000 Ince estate, as under the terms of her late husband's will she is to receive only the interest from her share in the event of her remarriage.

Brass is used to make 35,000 different articles for household use.

Nearly one-half the electric power plants in France are operating by water power.

Left—No. 150 Teaspoon. Left—No. 167 Cereal Spoon. Right—No. 155 Tablespoon.

This Wonderful Silverware is Yours

For Quaker Corn Flakes Coupons

JUST imagine how charming this dignified silverware would look on your table! How useful it would be.

These spoons—and many other articles of usefulness and beauty—are yours for coupons which are found in every package of Quaker Corn Flakes.

The new Mary Stuart design, chaste and beautiful—Tudor plate guaranteed by its well known makers.

And at the same time you will get the best flavoured corn flakes . . . every package bears our offer to refund the purchase price if you do not agree that Quaker Corn Flakes are the best flavoured you have ever tasted.

Just the crispest and most delicious, too. Because Quaker Corn Flakes are triple-sealed and wax-wrapped, none of the original crispness or flavour is lost.

Write us for a copy of the Quaker Premium Book. It offers more than a hundred gifts. Things you have often wanted. You can get them with the coupons from any Quaker cereal package. See the list of cereals on the coupons. Quaker premiums are a reward for those who are steady users of Quaker cereals. They are not something for nothing, but something instead of nothing.

Get Quaker Corn Flakes tomorrow. Use the other Quaker cereals, too. Save the coupons, and you will be surprised how soon you will have enough to get some of the handsome and useful premiums we give to users of Quaker cereals. THE QUAKER OATS COMPANY, PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO.

Quaker Corn Flakes

APRIL ESCAPADE - - - BY KATHLEEN NORRIS

FESS

IT ISN'T FAIR TO YOUR CHILDREN

WHY expect the children to grow up healthy and strong and keep up with their school work if your house is improperly heated? They come home to a house that is one day suffocatingly hot and next it's like a barn. END ALL THIS. Install a Fess system and know the marvelous satisfaction of 70 degree, June-like heat every minute of the day. There are installations for every sized home, from the little bungalow to the mansion. Moderate prices. Make a down payment and spread the balance over a period to suit you. Communicate at once with

SMITH HARDWARE
BELLEVILLE, ONT.

FESS
Automatic
OIL HEATING
Extremely Quiet in Operation mean delicious crispiness . . .

pep for work and play

KELLOGG'S Pep Bran Flakes thrill your taste with their goodness. They're chock-full of the famous flavor of PEP.

At the first spoonful you'll say you never knew bran flakes could be so deliciously crisp.

No wonder the whole family loves them! No wonder mothers love to serve them.

They're rich with the healthful goodness of whole wheat—mildly laxative with the fiber of bran. With milk or cream, a wonderfully balanced food.

Serve Kellogg's Pep Bran Flakes often. For pep. For extra zest. All around the table, they'll agree that Kellogg's Pep Bran Flakes are better bran flakes.

Look for the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

Kellogg's
PEP BRAN FLAKES are better bran flakes

IMPORTANT—Kellogg's Pep Bran Flakes are mildly laxative. ALL-BRAN—another Kellogg product—is all bran and guaranteed to relieve both temporary and recurring constipation.

SAVE TIME by the NEW FAST Schedules

ALL STANDARD TIMES

DOUBLE TRACK all the way

TORONTO
CHICAGO 12 HOURS DETROIT 7 BUFFALO 6 HOURS 0 MONTREAL

Six hours, Montreal to Toronto by the famous International Limited. Six hours, remarkable new Inter-City Limited, Chicago. 17 hours 5 minutes from Toronto. 18 hours 15 minutes from Montreal. Improved Hamilton, Detroit and Chicago connections.

More convenient departure and arrival times also feature new fast schedules of the International Limited, the New Inter-City Limited and the Montreal-Toronto Ottawa, Belleville, Kingston Express.

Full details from H. C. THOMPSON, 343 Front St. Phone 633

CANADIAN NATIONAL

STOPS ACHES and PAINS

No matter whether it is a little ache or pain or a terrible sufferer from headache, neuralgia, monthly periods, rheumatism or from a cold, CUTICO TABLETS will relieve it in a few minutes and leave you feeling good. Recommended FOR SALE and used by thousands of the standard remedy for ... PER BOX

CUTICO

Co-Operation Is Key to Success Says E. W. Beatty

Canadian Pacific President Discusses Prohibition In United States

Montreal, April 28.—Frankly stressing the dangers inherent in excessive competition between railway companies, E. W. Beatty, chairman and president, Canadian Pacific Railway, in an address before the Canadian Railway Club here declared that it was easy to go beyond what was warranted and difficult to stop when the line of wasteful competition was reached. Co-operation between competing railways should never cease in this regard, as a mutual appreciation of the situation would save many thousands of dollars to the individual companies. "We should never no matter how severe competition may permit conditions to arise which prevent frank discussion between our respective officers. Whether we agree or fail to agree we should, I think, learn from the lessons of the past in this country and in others, that nothing is quite so destructive as competition without conference which forces other competitive measures even more extreme and therefore more unwise. These are conditions which are always present, but the importance of which is emphasized when we find ourselves in a position not of our making, but involving losses in gross earnings, he declared. Mr Beatty, in referring to his recent visit to the United States, remarked that the people there were deeply interested in the problems of prohibition and were seriously debating as to whether or not they were better to pay high prices to bootleggers for doubtful liquor or reasonable amounts to their own government for good liquor, and to have their best informed citizens believed that complete enforcement of the prohibition law was impossible, and he was able to assure them that the liquor problem had ceased to be one of great concern in Canada with the advent of Government Control. The Canadian people had not become depraved in consequence of reasonable freedom in the matter of private living. The rail ways of the United States were efficient, well administered and the service was keenly competitive. Some years ago, he continued, when there was not the same efficiency or prospect for the solvency of some of the United States railways was at least questionable, and the Senate and Congress acted, authorized consolidation but did not empower any tribunal to make them consolidate. The tentative plans put forward by the Inter State Commerce Commission would, if made effective, divide the railways of the country into twenty-one systems. None of them equal in mileage to that of the Canadian National or Canadian Pacific to the mileage of the Canadian Pacific in Canada. The two major Canadian railways are, therefore, engaged in magnitude any existing American system and with justice could be said to be competitive in efficiency and in service. The question of consolidation had also been solved in Canada.

Mr. Beatty stated that the United States' people claimed that their railroads by reason of their ancillary enterprises, were in reality transportation systems in the larger meaning of the term. In Canada it could be much more truthfully said that the two railways always had been transportation systems in the larger sense. Canadian railways had accomplished great pioneer work and their contribution to development had been conspicuous in fact, judged from all angles, the railways constituted the greatest single industry in this country. The important part played by railway men in Canadian life was stressed by Mr. Beatty when he referred to events during the past year when conditions had placed upon railway officials responsibility for a high degree of efficiency in meeting and counteracting exceptional economic conditions. Canadian railways had met exceptional conditions and had been tested during and after the war but none had been the great test was that which they were now experiencing caused by unusual traffic conditions in times of peace. Mr. Beatty paid tribute to Canadian railway employees and their leaders, and pointed out that while these leaders were intelligent, thoughtful and resourceful in representing the interests of the men, extreme views of economic or destructive tendencies were markedly absent. The union leaders relied upon reason and orderly and legal methods to advance the interests of their members. The spirit of goodwill manifest was of the greatest value to the managements at the present time.

H. J. Humphrey, assistant to the Vice President, Canadian Pacific Rail way and President of the Canadian Railway Club, presided, and the meeting was attended by more than two hundred members representing leading railwaymen in Eastern Canada.

What is said to be the world's largest gridstone, 6 feet in diameter and 14 inches thick, has been built in Rugland from sections of stone from Massachusetts.

Those seeking happiness never seem to look at home.

DO YOU SUFFER FROM CONSTIPATION?

Countless remedies are advertised for constipation. Many relieve for the moment but they are habit forming and must be continued. Others contain calomel and sickening, mineral drugs, which remain in the system, settle in the joints and cause aches and pains. Some are harsh purgatives which cause pain and gripe and leave a depressed after effect. Avoid lubricating oils which only grease the intestines and encourage nature's machinery to become lazy. Try a purely vegetable laxative such as Carter's Little Liver Pills, gently touches the liver, bile starts to flow, the bowels move gently, the intestines are thoroughly cleaned and constipation poisons pass away. The stomach, liver and bowels are set very active and the system enjoys a real tonic effect. All druggists 25c and 75c red pkgs.

Tortured Stomachs Soothed at Once

All the Pain, Misery, Gas, Heartburn and Sickly Upset Vanishes—you get your digestion back in a manner awful Wholesome. Your stomach is made sweet and clean. Results in 15 minutes or less

McCALL'S DRINK FOR INDIGESTION

Dolan the Druggist and all good Drug Stores

Fletcher's CASTORIA
FOR QUICK, HARMLESS COMFORT
Children Cry for It

IT ISN'T FAIR TO YOUR CHILDREN

WHY expect the children to grow up healthy and strong and keep up with their school work if your house is improperly heated? They come home to a house that is one day suffocatingly hot and next it's like a barn. END ALL THIS. Install a Fess system and know the marvelous satisfaction of 70 degree, June-like heat every minute of the day. There are installations for every sized home, from the little bungalow to the mansion. Moderate prices. Make a down payment and spread the balance over a period to suit you. Communicate at once with

SMITH HARDWARE
BELLEVILLE, ONT.

FESS
Automatic
OIL HEATING
Extremely Quiet in Operation

CHAPTER XXIV

The thought of her mother, and the home kitchen, with little Pat at the table looking up from a bitten slice of bread on which brown sugar glistened, were like the dream of a mirage. Oh, the coolness, the utter refreshment of home, and her limp blue kitchen apron, and the dish towels that hung all sollin' long above the stove, and that one fingered tentative "when" dish towel was needed, to determine their exact degree of dryness!

Her eyes were sick for the familiar sights; the crowded shelf above the sink, the windows with the dingy back yard beyond them, where the handsome fire escapes and kitchen windows of the big new apartment houses on Geary street formed a back-drop filled with unending fascinations and surprises.

And here she sat, in her night robe and a man's wrapper, at four o'clock in the morning, looking at bathrooms Spanish walls, and Spanish furniture, and Spanish saints and a ridiculous medieval staircase winding up from the room itself with a red cord balustrade.

When Mrs. Peters appeared, with a great armful of blankets and sheets, Mary Kate rose to her pher make a comfortable bed on a couch; it appear ed that Peters was to finish the night in the house. After that the lights began to go out, and Chris went upstairs, and the two women went into that pretty spare room that Mary Kate had discovered with such thrilled enthusiasm, less than twelve hour ago.

It had been put into order now, and both beds were turned down, but there was a strangeness and chilliness about it, in the dead hour before dawn, that struck to Mary Kate's heart like an icicle. She lay down in the dressing-gown, and pulled the covers over her, opening a book. But for a long time the words danced meaningless on the page; she could not read.

Mrs. Peters observed patiently that it wasn't likely that anything more would happen tonight, but that it sure did get on your nerves to have catch ing-colds on in a place, climbed comfortably into her own bed, and was instant ly snoring heavily.

Mary Kate resented her, her snoring her nervelessness and above her quiet refusal to be drawn into her—Mary Kate's affairs.

The girl had thought she would explain to Mrs. Peters, as lightly and briefly as possible, her reason for being in Mr. Stynes' house under these curious circumstances.

But Helga Peters was not interested They could do anything they wanted to do as long as she was paid her good eighty dollars a month. Mary Kate could be a lily of purity, or she could be Tony Moody's confederate in the housebreaking, it was nothing to Helga. She would turn the girl's bed down, just the same, and throw damp towels into the basket, wipe out the tub, put books back on the shelves.

It did not signify what this great dull animal of a woman thought, Mary Kate reflected, closing her book, snapping off her light, resolutely shutting her eyes.

But she had said that of a good many persons today, and it was not true she had known it was not true, even while she had said it. Of course it signified what persons thought about a girl. She might not admire Gordon Rountree or Don Archibald, or Chris Steynes, or Helga Peters, or Constable Browning, but their respect —their good opinion, was important.

"My God!" prayed Mary Kate, covering her eyes with her hand crushing down against her pillow, shudders ing in the chilly gloom that comes before morning. "My God, what have I done!

"Is it as easy as this," she thought, "for a girl to get in wrong? Is this all there is to it?"

Whether it was the coffee, or Mrs. Peters' snoring or her own tiresomely churning thoughts that kept her restless, the fact was that she was hopelessly awake, sleep was as absent from the possibilities of the moment as flight, or peace of mind, or coherent reflection .Mary Kate tossed and twisted, sighed, started up nervously, settled herself with an aching head and a dry throat, resolutely to sleep.

After awhile there was pearly gray at the window, and Mary Kate knew she had she longed so little to see the day.

The shapes of the furniture emerged slowly from the mass of darkness. The two glass doors through which shone the light was filtering —for Mrs. Peters had heard and locked the window —grew a brighter gray.

Mary Kate had been cold, an hour or two ago. But now she was feverish with the bad air of the hermetically sealed room, maddened by the drone—drone—drone of the sleeping woman's breathing.

Suddenly she was out of bed. She groped for the dressing-gown, and felt for her slippers. Noiselessly she opened one of the porch doors, and noticingly crept out into the wet freshness and silence of the porch.

On this same porch she had been happy, last night, just as the sun was making. But between sunset and sunrise she had lived through half the emotions of her life.

The garden was drenched with heavy dews, but already the warmth of the coming day was softening the air, and the trees and shrubs, gray shadows on lighted gray a few moments ago, were taking definite shape. Color was pouring into them; brown into the great gnarled oak holes, green into the young trembling leaves on the lilac trees. A great clump of bridal wreath stretched snowy streamers into the brightening air; the sad and subtle odor of wet earth and grass was cut by a sudden, exquisite breath of lilacs.

Mary Kate huddled in a basket chair, wrapping about herself a plaid that had been folded across it. She saw the wet leaves glisten in the first shafts from the east and the stiff curled leaves of the oaks and the thin shredded foliage of the peppers take on a paten of shining gold. The sun blazed bright in the upper leaves of all the trees, sank down through their branches in broad banners and waves of warmth and brightness. It was morning.

The girl watched until her eyes were heavy and sore, and until columns of blue smoke were arising, here and there beyond the trees, from more than fifty chimneys in the city below her. Then she drew the chair another inch, and the heavy lids closed, and she slept.

She was awakened from the nightmare by the sound of steps, and the clink of milk bottles.

She went wearily indoors finding Mrs. Peters gone and the neighboring bed flung open to air with a certain Nordic thoroughness. Exhausted by she flung herself once again on her bed, drawing the covers over her, wrapping her head in a pillow, and was instantly asleep.

Mary Kate had entered heavily, slowly, looking fearfully into the face of one man after another. She was dressed in the clothing she had worn down from the city the day before, and looked ghastly pale and the rings about her eyes were black ifils morning.

There were several persons in the room. Chris was there, Peters and Joseph, the old gardener, Gordon Rountree, looking nervous and sympathetic and troubled, a young police officer, Constable Browning, who had been here last night, and a business like young man who was busily taking stenographic records of everything that was said. There was also a heavy-faced, gloomy-looking young man who seemed to be from the Coroner's office, or perhaps he was from the City and County Hospital. A jury of Spanish inquisitors could not have appeared more horrible to Mary Kate. To her the room was a veritable torture cham ber.

The bright dawn had been obscured by a heavy fog; the garden, the world were blotted out by it. There was a certain gloom in the room, accentuated by the roughly-plastered walls and the dark furniture; above the table where the Constable sat, a light was burning "You were in this house last night, Miss O'Hara?"

"I——yes; I was here."

"Have I your name and address correctly—"

He read them. Her tragic eyes wandered to Chris' face.

"Yes, that's right."

"You are a friend of Mr. Steynes?"

"Hardly that. He asked me to do something for him, as a sort of joke—"

She saw the expressionless glances of the officers cross and meet.

"Why, that's all right," Browning said, considerately. "That isn't our affair. We merely want to know how you first became aware that somebody was trying to break into the house. Just tell it simply, what you heard and saw, and what you did. Take it easy. All we want is the truth."

"I told you," Gordon Rountree said in a low, hurried voice, uncomfortably, awkwardly, "that Miss O'Hara has been my secretary for two years and that she is a young lady for whom—ha!—I have the greatest—well, respect."

The constable's hard eyes fixed him with an impersonal stare. He pursed his lips as if about to expectorate seal lowed back that act in his presence.

"Sure," he conceded indifferently.

CHAPTER XXV

Mary Kate rapidly, without looking at any of them, told her story. There was a brief, not unkindly, cross-examination.

"That's all," said Browning.

"You won't need Miss O'Hara any more?" Chris asked.

"No; she may go," the officer said with all the rancor of his type for the arrogance of those who do not do as they have to appear in court."

"It seems to me a—well, if you'll excuse me a rotten thing," Christopher said, "that a man can't take a shot at an armed burglar in his own house, without dragging his—his friends, his guests through a public inquiry."

"It isn't that," Mr. Browning explained, with the menacing patience of those who are sure that they are invincible. "It's that—looks here, now. I don't say it's so in this case, and I belong out its often as it does happen this young lady had framed this up with the burglar? How would I know—"

"It seems to me you're exceeding your authority, Constable," Chris said, in a pause, in a tone Mary Kate had never heard from him before. "Anything that is in the line of duty, by all means do," he went on, a white line forming about his mouth as he spoke, and his color receding under his country tan, leaving his face pallid, "but don't diverge into any kind that you happen to suspect from any book you may have read!"

The two men frowned alone another Each was measuring the other's strength; the power of the law against the power of money. And as usual, the money won. The Constable dropped something of his truculent manner; put us to antagonize these people, who had influence sometimes in unexpected quarters.

"That's all right, sir," he said civilly. "I'm sure I have no object in annoying anybody. Really that's as far as I'm concerned we'll have no further use for her and if she's wanted at the state, she can come to the Court."

"All right Mary," Chris said, coming over to her. "Come out into the patio a minute," he said, putting his hand on her shoulder, "I want to talk to you."

The square patio was filled with fog, but the air was bracing against the gray mass, far up in the sky, and the soft damp air was warm and penetrated with a strange, golden light. The little red fish swam busily under their lily pads, and the parrot walked upon his perch, and talked to himself, and scolded when anyone looked more seriously to himself. All the upper windows were open to the morning air and filled with the smoky, close, dusty air of the night.

"Don't worry about him," Chris said reassuringly, with a jerk of his head toward living-room, and the inquisitioner. "He's just puffed up with a little brief authority."

"Chris, if Moody—the burglar, lives, will they have a trial?"

"Why should they? In any trial? There isn't any question that Moody was in the house; they saw him lying there, themselves, at the foot of the stairs. The man undoubtedly will plead guilty. I never heard anything funnier in my life than the way this Browning ass is carrying on!

"As a matter of fact," Chris continued, 'Cordy thinks much the best thing drop, not prosecute. In that case I decline to appear against him say that nothing was stolen—nothing was—and the man would be discharged."

"Wouldn't the police—wouldn't the District Attorney prosecute?"

"I don't believe so, dear."

"He might——" she said in agony.

"Not without a complaint being filed."

GIRL UNAFRAID

BY

Gladys Johnson

Ardeth groped her way back through the dark shop to the rear room. She snapped off the rose night lamp and dropped to the couch, to fall in exhausted sleep and wake many hours later to see daylight struggling through the alley window.

Her body was cramped and weary, her mind was desolate. She rose, took off her crumpled clothes and changed to fresh things.

That glimpse of Ken had vanquished all her hard-won serenity. The little shop was no longer a refuge, it was a prison. The desperate need of seeing Ken was with her again. She was frantic to hear his voice. Many times that day she went to the 'phone to stand hesitant, her hand on the receiver, his office 'phone number on her lips. Just to hear his voice.....

Cheating Themselves

Prudence conquered, but her thoughts went on in a defiant undertone. They were fools to go on like this..... cheating themselves of the happiness which should be their own by rights. The most precious years of life slipping away..... After all, who would be hurt if she and Ken went to another, city—started all over?

Surely in all this country there was a refuge for them, she thought wistfully. A small hiding place where she could give him the home and comfort Cecile had denied him.....

She went out to Mary Eastwood's home a week later and Mary's sharp eyes immediately read the trouble in her face.

"You're simply making a slave out of yourself for that shop, Ardeth!" she scolded. "You're getting thin and white. I've noticed it for some time. I have an idea. Let's run up to Tom's mountain cabin for a couple of weeks in the snow. He'd be delighted to let us have it, and its just what you need. Outdoor exercise in that snappy air! Fred will crab, of course—he's lost if I'm out of his sight, but he'll let me go. Anyhow he'll appreciate me if I'm not underfoot all the time."

Hard to Convince

She elaborated as the plan grew upon her, her black eyes snapping with excitement. "I'll take a maid so we'll have nothing to do but play and loaf. The Chickadee will love it!" The Chickadee being Mary's four-year-old daughter, at this moment holding up her newest doll for Ardeth's inspection.

To go up to the cabin where she had been so happy..... where she and Ken had nearly snatched their happiness before it could be dashed from them.....

Mary saw the refusal on her lips and she spoke vigorously to combat it. "Now, don't be stubborn, Ardeth! The shop will exist without you for a couple of weeks. It would have to, you know if you were suddenly taken ill...and you look half ill now."

"No can do, Mary, love! Being what the woman's magazines call a sheltered married woman of course I don't expect you to get the poor working girl point of view but the busy holiday season is coming on and I'm needed." She answered the Chickadee's insistence. "Yes, angel, a most beautiful baby! Almost as big as you are, isn't she? Show me how she goes to sleep."

"Don't try to hide behind that child!" said Mary sternly. "I'll find someone to substitute for you in the shop. I'll pay her salary—call it my Christmas present you, if you will be so up-stage."

"No one else can manage your own business so well as yourself, Mary. Ask Fred if you don't believe me. And I'm anxious to clear off my loan to Tom with the holiday profits."

"Your loan to Tom—rats! As if Tom cared about that dab of money." Mary's eyes searched the sweet averted face opposite and she asked abruptly, "Ardeth, why don't you marry Tom? Ivy, "Ardeth why don't you marry Tom?

"Enough for marriage, Mary?"

"Yes!" said Mary stoutly. "Take two people with good dispositions and good digestions—and you and Tom have both; take the comforts Tom's money can give you and you'll have a happy marriage."

"What about love, Mary?"

"Now you're thinking of Ken! Oh, darling child, I don't mean to pry or intrude, but is it necessary that you ruin your life? Tom is a sweet old dear, and he loves you so."

"Would it be fair to him, Mary?"

Mary considered this with a thought ful face. "Yes, I think if you put that question up to him he'd say just that. He wants you on any terms, Ardeth."

"Mary, you know all the circumstances. Do you think it would be right—loving Ken the way I do—to marry Tom?"

There was a sadness in the hazel eyes which hurt the older woman. "Ah, my dear....." she said softly. "Still the same?"

"I'm old fashioned, Mary. A one man woman, I guess."

"Bc. Cecile will never give up anything of her own. Oh, I know, she's a beast—selfish and ruthless. But one doesn't get a divorce on those grounds, Ardeth. And it isn't in Ken's nature to black her eyes or leave her.....I wish it were!"

"And it isn't in my nature to stop loving him," a shade in the soft voice. "Nor to marry without a deep, overwhelming love."

It was a full minute before Mary said, almost bumbly:

"Marriage can be very sweet without this overwhelming love you speak of, Ardeth. Kindness and loyalty and a warm, steady affection—they are a lot."

"Enough, Mary!"

Mary's deep eyes went about the bright, comfortable room. Lingered on the Chickadee's brown head. "A good husband, and a child to make a home for—yes, Ardeth, enough."

The memory of Ken's wretched white face rose before the girl. She shook her head, her throat hot with crushed tears.

"No, Mary..... not for me."

No, not enough. Nothing was enough save Ken.

"I have what a psychologist would call a fixation," she thought wistfully, "and what my mother would call love....."

The Spy Again

No sign or word from Ken. She knew that he was keeping away for her sake. That night of pain when he had come to her for comfort had sunk out of sight, like a heavy stone cast in a deep lake. Not even a ripple left to tell that it had ever been.

So she thought, ignorant of the wide circle the stone had caused. Nor did she understand, until one day shortly before Christmas when a copy of The Spy was delivered to her desk in the rear of the mail.

Ardeth frowned at the vivid green cover. Not since Jeanette had left, had the scandalous weekly come into the shop.

She was at a loss now, to account for its presence and she was about to drop it, unread, in the waste basket when a sudden thought sent the color rushing to her cheeks.

She was suddenly turning the pages frantically..... searching.....

(To Be Continued)

The discovery of iron smelting was made in Africa by the negro. Crude bellows, operated by the feet, supplied air for the first smelters.

A baby cannot hear when first born.

Fifteen Indian headdresses in California museum are worth $1,000 each—or $1,000,000.

A method for breaking lifeboats along tracks built on the side of a ship has been developed by a Milwaukee resident.

According to a U.S. Department of Agriculture report, feeding worms on a diet of meat and milk increases their value as fish bait by turning them a delicate pink.

Office worker or porter, clerk or housewife—no matter who we are—every one of us may offend unknowingly.

Perspiration odour... here's the plain truth about it

IT is no secret that perspiration odour offends

In business as well as society, it is a serious handicap.

But do you realize that we are all subject to perspiration odour? That at times nearly everyone is guilty?

The warm weather—the active life we lead—the close daily association with others—all make perspiration odour particularly noticeable.

We must perspire—or die. Even on cool days our millions of pores continually give off invisible perspiration—often as much as a quart of waste every 24 hours.

The Danger of Offending Without Realizing It

Whether you see this waste moisture or not—it is always odourous. And it spares no one! Financier or labourer—society leader or servant—all may offend if they don't take precautions.

Nor, unfortunately, can we tell when we ourselves are guilty of unpleasant perspiration odour.

For once we become accustomed to an odour, our sense of smell becomes deadened to it. That's why even the most fastidious people—the very persons who think they are safe—are often among the chief offenders.

Our sense of smell quickly becomes deadened to an ever-present odour—but it's only too apparent to others.

Don't Risk Embarrassment

It's easy now to avoid perspiration odour. Simply wash and bathe often with Lifebuoy, the deodorizing toilet soap.

Just as its mild, antiseptic lather protects health by removing germs—so does it prevent perspiration odour by purifying pores.

And you'll be delighted to see how fresh and clear Lifebuoy's antiseptic lather keeps complexions. Like millions of others, you'll favour it for every toilet purpose.

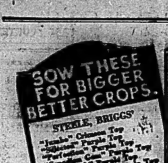
Note Its Hygienic Scent

You will learn to love Lifebuoy's clean scent which proves Lifebuoy purifies, yet which evaporates after rinsing. Use Lifebuoy a week and you'll use it for life. Get some today.

LEVER BROTHERS LIMITED, TORONTO

LIFEBUOY

FOR FACE HANDS, BATH



STOPS BODY ODOUR AND PROTECTS HEALTH

Gigantic National Lifebuoy Sales Week

To give many thousands of new customers an opportunity to avail themselves of the remarkable qualities of Lifebuoy Soap, merchants all over Canada are conducting special sales this week.

NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY LIFEBUOY SOAP

L.B.272

STEELE, BRIGGS SEED Co.
"CANADA'S GREATEST SEED HOUSE"
TORONTO-HAMILTON-WINNIPEG

OUR DAILY SHORT STORY

THE AIR BANDITS

by

M. L. Irwin

Copyright, 1930, International Features Service, Inc

Lon Harley of the Highway Auto Company, carefully placed a long, bulky envelope in a strong compartment of the safe.

"Why in thunder couldn't the Roy sex people have given us a check for those trucks," he complained. "Can't leave the office alone tonight with this cash here."

"Aw, it'll be all right," his younger partner, Dan Saxon, assured. "That's what the watchman's for."

Lon shook his head doubtfully. "Rotten luck it had to come in too late to bank. Wouldn't want to take it home with you?"

"Not on your life," Dan grinned. "Part it in the safe."

"All right. I'll camp here tonight, though. We're not in shape to take any risks." Lon turned to Phyllis Marlow, the bookkeeper. "I'm going uptown for a couple of hours. Be careful to lock up well when you leave."

"Careful!" Dan laughed. "You don't need to caution Phyllis. She's too much that way. I'll be here when you get back. Got those sheets to check over?" Lon hurried out.

Dan finished his work then picked up his hat. "I want to see that man, Grey. Think I can't work him to buy a car."

Phyllis, left alone, thought anxiously of the fifty one-hundred dollar bills in the long envelope. "Dan's usually fussy about leaving money here over night. Wish he'd come back."

It was nearly dusk when he returned. "Safe's still here," he bantered. "See you locked it up."

Phyllis laughed. "You don't suppose I'd stay alone with it open, and all that money there?"

By the time she had balanced the cash and made out a report it was nearly closing time.

"Will till Lon comes back and I'll run you up home," Dan suggested.

"All right. I'm in no hurry." Phyl lis put away the books and locked the safe again securely. "There's a show."

She ran to the window, followed by Dan. They gazed up into the darken ing sky, but could see nothing.

"Sounds like they're pretty close down," he observed.

The shop foreman came in and stood for a moment beside them. "Going to land, I reckon."

"Maybe so," said Dan. "Men all gone?"

"Sure thing. The foreman sustained out.

A policeman passed the window, glanced at in, then disappeared. A moment later two men in flying suits came in.

"Hallos, boys," Dan greeted them. "What can I do for you?"

The taller of the two carried a large can. "Want some oil," he said.

Phyllis, who had returned to her desk, gave a frightened cry as sudden darkness enveloped the room. The bolt clicked—she caught a glint of steel.

"Stick 'em p! Get a move!" the tall man growled.

She and Dan obeyed.

"Keep 'em covered till I frisk this fellow," he ordered his comrade. Phyl lis watched the door, her hands above her head.

"He ain't got any gun. Open the safe, you, or I'll blow your head off!"

Dan turned the combination by the bandit's flashlight—then opened the door.

The tall man thrust the long, bulky envelope into his pocket. "Hand out the cash!"

"Take this fellow up with us. 'Tis the girl I suggested the other man. They quickly secured her in Lon's big chair behind his desk, and gagged her with her own silk scarf. In a moment they had gone, dragging Dan with them.

Phyllis struggling to free herself from the cords that cut her arms. Came slid by in the street—the town clock struck the quarter hour. The roar of an airplane rose above other sounds.

"There they go! Oh, I'm so glad Lon wasn't here! He'd have fought—they'd have killed him!" The persist ent droning grew fainter. What terrible thing would they do to Dan? Threw him into the lake? Pulled him out—she shuddered. Would she never come?

The monotonous ticking of the desk clock reached her consciousness. She struggled slowly over the room—rested on the roll-top desk before her. The watchman! Could he see her? Would he see the open safe behind the file cabinet?

She writ'd frantically in her chair—cried to die to dislodge the scarf.

The door rocked. Again she struggled desperately. It seemed hours that she sat there.

There was a quick step at the door it's key turned in the lock. The light flashed on. Lon, whistling, came into the office to the back of the office.

The whistle stopped abruptly. "What the—!" He stared in consternation at the open safe. Phyllis made an inarticulate sound. Lon whirled—leaped to her side. One sleigh of his knife released her. He snatched off the scarf—grasped her arm almost roughly.

"Phyllis! Who did this! Where's Dan?"

"Plane—bandits—took Dan with them!" she choked, her jaws stiff.

"My God! They'll kill him!" He dashed at the receiver—shook it savagely—no answer. He rushed into the shop, then back again. "Cords cut!" he snapped.

Suddenly Phyllis caught him by the arm, her face white, her eyes wide with excitement. "I know now! Dan! He did this!" she stammered.

"Dan! You must be crazy!"

"Listen, Lon! I was coming from the shop—Dan was phoning: 'five o'clock.' He came in this afternoon—worth coming after?'

Lon stared at her in amazement. "Couldn't be! He must have meant something else."

"Oh, can't you see it, Lon! He went and the money left in the safe—told them about it—that's why they took him with them!"

Lon thought a moment, then strode to the safe—jerked open a drawer—laughed harshly.

"If you're right—bonds are gone!" He slumped into a chair. "They've cleaned us out," he groan ed.

Phyllis started forward. "You can't laugh at me say more for being too upset. She ran over to Lon's desk. From the rim of a discarded tire lying underneath she pulled out a long, bulky envelope and handed it to him.

Lon stared. "What's this? -WHAT! Phyllis, you're sure a brick—the finest!" Well, I'll be—

She giggled. "They'll need pasteboard the same—and a package of beautifying lotion. It is unrevealed. Then she stimulated Dan. He recommended also to soften and make the hands more flexible."

THE END

THEY WERE A GREAT BENEFIT TO HER

SAYS NOVA SCOTIA LADY OF DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

Mrs. Geo. Weatherbee Suffered With Kidney and Bladder Troubles

Greenville, N.S., April 28 (Special) —"I have used Doddi's Kidney Pills for kidney and bladder trouble," writes Mrs. Geo. Weatherbee, a well known and highly respected resident of this place. "Before my first baby was born I was troubled with kidney and bladder weakness. One day I read Dodd's Kidney Pills and decided to use them. Dodd's Kidney Pills so I purchased four boxes and they certainly helped me. I can recommend them to all who suffer as I did."

That Mrs. Weatherbee's trouble came from her kidneys is evidenced by the relief she got from Dodd's Kidney Pills. They are purely and simply a kidney remedy. Many women suffer periodically with backache, and, as middle age approaches, the pain increases in severity. Rest may give temporary relief, but Dodd's Kidney Pills do much more than this. They strengthen the weak kidneys and remove the cause of the pain.

LITTLE BENNY'S NOTE BOOK

THE WEAKLY NEWS

Weather. Partly bum.

SPORTING PAGE

Sid Hunts big fumble. Fred smoked 7 cigarette without stopping out on Sids front steps Saturday afternoon, mostly through his nose.

EXTRA!

Mysterious Disapearnia!

Ghosty shades football boomed around the corner and disapeered Wensday afternoon, everybody saying the only thing they had saw was a huff looking kid with a hump under his coat.

POME BY SKINNY MARTIN

My Father Would Like to Know

I can laft at almost nuthing.
And almost anything makes me smile,
And even a detecktive couldent find out
What often makes me giggle a while.

SIGHTY PAGE

Mr. Persey Weefer has a new brake el but he's having a kind of a hard time lerning to ride it on account of so many of the fellows being so anxious to show him how to do it that some body ells is scurelly on it.

POME BY SKINNY MARTIN

Lines in the Mirror

Whatan seans descended from minnsters

Lullabys of sensities ages,
Mist fidgeing by the Lacks of sense of them
It wus over last year or so.

4th of Sidney

Sidney, April 30 By Mail)—Mrs. D. Nichols entertained the members of the C. G. I. T. on Tuesday evening.

The drama given by the Canniffton talbot on Thursday evening at this aplonment was very well attended and all report the play a good one. Proceeds of the evening were $50.00.

Master Lyle Langabeer spent his Easter holidays with Mr. and Mrs. F. Harris and has returned to his home in Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. J. MacPherson and daughter Joyce spent Sunday, with Mr. and Mrs. S. Denyes of Odessa, their daughters Mary and Clara returning home with them having spent the past week with their Aunt, Mrs. Denyes.

A number of the farmers from this this motored to Brighton on Friday and attended the meeting held there on fertilizer and tomato growing.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Holmes entertained Mr. and Mrs. J. McPherson and daughter Joyce, Mr. and Mrs. C. Holmes and Mr. and Mrs. P. Harris to tea on Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Wallace and little daughter Dorothy were Wednesday guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. Harris.

Miss M. Reddick is the guest of Rev. and Mrs. R. B. Sexsmith.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilmert Wannamaker spent their holidays with their Aunt, Mrs. J. Hannah.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Holmes and daughter Loella spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. Bailey of Roslin.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Pound and son spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. I. Harris.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Hannah and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. Hannah.

Misses Keitha and Meydaille Lloyd spent Sunday with relatives in Stirling.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Holmes were Sunday guests of Mrs. S. Phillips of Belleville.

Persian Balm imparts a rare charm and distinction to the woman who uses it. Soothing and delightful to the skin, it always retains its delightful youthful freshness. Delightful to every daintly woman. As a powder base it is unsurpassed. As a beautifying lotion, it is unrivalled. When the stimulating effect is recommended also to soften and make the hands more flexible.

Sidney Crossing

Sidney Crossing, April 28 (By Mail) —Mr. Ritchie Ketcheson has been confied to his bed with flu.

Some from this neighbourhood attended Mrs. Fred Bowler's sale at Trenton last week.

Mrs. M. Colwater is visiting friends at Peterboro.

The regular league service was held on Sunday evening and was well attended.

Miss E. Rupert has returned to her duties again after the Easter holiday.

Mrs. Ryan has been under the doctor's care and is still confined to her bed.

A few from this neighbourhood attended the funeral of the late C. Munn at Trenton on Friday afternoon.

The regular church service was held in Alkins United Church on Sunday morning at the close of which, was a baptismal service conducted by the pas tor Rev. F. E. Hamilton.

The Sidney Cheese factory is again opened for the season.

Centre

Centre, April 30 (By Mail)—Farmers in this vicinity are off the land this week and the rain is welcome as the cold weather has kept work on the land back. Fall wheat and meadows are a rule are badly winter killed.

Miss Dorothy Giles of Picton College, returned to Picton on Sunday after holidaying at her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Rosser entertained from U. S. over the week end.

Miss Bessie Profit returned from her home in Peterboro to resume her teaching duties on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pulver visited their son Melvin and family on Sunday.

Morley Moy and Earl Fox spent Sunday afternoon with Alva and Winston Pulver.

The W.F.M. was largely attended at the home of Mrs. Stanton Pot on Thursday afternoon in honor of grandmother's day. A prize given to the oldest grandmother present was won by Mrs. Gordon Gray, the youngest grandmother being Mrs. F. Teeny. The only great-grandmother present was Mrs. Harmon Wesse. A pleasing feature of the afternoon was the presentation to Mrs. Fox of a piece of silver ware by the coaching class of girls whom Mrs. Fox entertained last summer during their course. A library is being organized by the ladies which will be a fine contribution to the community. Next meeting is election of officers.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanton Fox entertained friends from Picton on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Young also a recent evening at Mr. Wesley Coulter's.

Stockdale

Stockdale, April 30 (By Mail)—After a somewhat lengthy illness borne with Christian patience, Mrs. Thos. Irwin passed away on Wednesday evening at her home here. Deceased was well and favorably known in this vicinity having spent a good share of her married life here, she leaves behind a sorrowing husband and one daughter to whom the sympathy of a large circle of friends is extended. The funeral service was held at the home on Friday afternoon conducted by her pastor Rev. Mr. Street, after which the remains were interred in the cemetery here.

Mrs. Curtis Bates spent a couple of days last week with Mrs. Clifford Wannaker.

Mrs. Yerkes of Picton is visiting her cousin Mrs. Street at the parsonage.

Mr. Clare Sargent has returned home after spending his holidays with his brother and other relatives at Trenton.

Dr. B. W. Powell is able to be out again after being confined to his room for a few days.

Mrs. Carson returned home on Saturday after having spent a week with her daughter at the Standard Parsonage.

A goodly number attended League on Friday evening, the meetings have been very interesting each week, but have closed now for the summer as this was the last meeting a dainty lunch was served by the ladies at the close.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Elliott of Chile spent a few days last week with his parents.

Miss Marion and Doris Wannamaker spent the week end with Mrs. Gertie Bates.

Waupoos

Waupoos, April 30 (By Mail)—Several of the farmers have started work on their farms for the season.

Mr. Albert Conder and Mr. John Buchannan spent a few days recently in Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Walters also Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stone, Schoharie, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Williams.

The members of the Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Ross Wright on Thursday.

Mrs. Calvin Hughes, Sr., had the mis fortune to fall from a chair causing quite serious injuries.

Mr. Amos Hicks has purchased a new car.

Miss Dorothy Harrison and Mr. Ernest Creasy motored to Kingston recently.

Mrs. Inez Shepard and Mrs. (Dr.) Philip called on Captain and Mrs. B. Christie, Picton, on Friday.

Mr. Ed. Wheeler, Owen Sound, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Harold Carter.

Mr. Thos. Elsbury and Harvey Harrison are on the road to recovery after their recent illness.

Miss Dorothy Hicks, Peterboro, spent the Easter holidays with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hicks.

Mrs. Damon Wells spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Palen.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Minaker was a week end guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. Harrison.

Mr. B. Chiller, Picton, was in this vicinity one day last week shoeing horses.

Mr. Fred Thurston, Bloomfield, was peddling groceries for the chain Red and White Stores, last week.

Miss Hazel Thorne and Miss Dorothy Hicks, Peterboro, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Shepard.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald McCaw took his recently with Mr. and Mrs. Amos Hicks.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Welbanks, Picton, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wright.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Rose called on Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rose one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor are working for Mr. Chas. Shannon.

Mrs. Percy Knight, Shannonville, spent a few days with her mother, Mrs. E. Zimmerman.

After 16 Years of Asthma Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy proved the only relief for one grateful user, and this is but one case among many. Little wonder that it has now become the one recognized remedy on the market. It has earned its fame by its never failing effectiveness. It is earning it today, as it has done for years. It is the greatest asthma specific within the reach of suffering humanity.

Union Vale

Union Vale, April 30 (By Mail)—Mr. Malcolm Wright of Belleville spent the Easter holiday with Mr. and Mrs. W. Cross.

Miss Annie Wilson of Rainy River spent a few days Easter week with her parents Mr. and Mrs. A. Wilson and family.

Miss G. May returned on Monday to resume her school duties after spending the holidays with her mother at Trenton.

Miss Marjory Tubbs visited her grand parents Mr. and Mrs. J. Leavitt at Picton a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Orser visited Mr. and Mrs. W. Patterson at Picton on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Harry and son Norman of Belleville visited Mr. and Mrs. E. Pearsall on Sunday.

Master Earl Marisett of Bloomfield spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. A. Vincent.

Ralph Tripp of Bloomfield visited through the holidays with his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. H. Leavitt.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Hudgins of Long Point were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. C. Vincent and Mr. F. Vincent.

Mrs. J. VanClief and Mrs. Walters of Picton spent Sunday with the former's daughter Mrs. C .Pearsall and family.

Miss Mary Riedell and Lambert Riedell of Picton spent last week with their aunt, Mrs. A. Vincent.

When Columbus left Spain on his second voyage he took with him 17 ships, carrying 1500 persons.

A curved sheet of cardboard is used instead of a soundbox to reproduce the tones of a Svedish inventor's phonograph.

"GUTTA PERCHA"
GUM CUSHIONED TIRES

You drive farther before they wear smooth

"GP" Gum Cushioned Tires will give you 47½% more resistance to wear . . . The new tough "Resisto" tread is built to meet the strain of high speeds and the grinding effect of quick braking . . . The famous Gum Cushion feature completes a tire protection you cannot buy in any other standard tire sold at a similar price . . . See this tire now at any Gum Cushion Tire Station.

"Built Better to Wear Better"

Gutta Percha & Rubber, Limited
TORONTO
The Largest All-Canadian Rubber Company
Founded in 1883

Complete Road Guide, Free
Clip this advertisement and enclose it for a copy of our Complete Road Guide of Canada, showing nearest Gum Cushion Tire Station.

BELLEVILLE VULCANIZING CO. Moira Street, Phone 661

Citizen's Dairy Milk is the Best Food
USE IT DAILY
This healthful milk, Pure, sweet and cold, Is good for both The young and old
PHONE 236
237 COLEMAN ST. - BELLEVILLE

Free Cameras May 1st
TO BOYS AND GIRLS WHO WERE BORN IN THE YEAR 1918

Any boy or girl in Belleville or the surrounding country is eligible to receive a camera and film FREE as long as our stock lasts. The Kodak Company have given us twenty-four cameras, and we can get no more. Each twelve year old child must have a written statement signed by a parent giving date of birth, and the child must have a parent or guardian at the store. Come early, the first twenty-four children get all our FREE Cameras.

100 DISAPPOINTED CHILDREN

There will not be enough Anniversary Cameras in town to supply all the children, and they will be terribly disappointed. We will help you satisfy them by offering the same size "Hawk-Eye Camera" at less money than they cost us. Price 89c; Film 25c; the two $1.14.

DOLAN the DRUGGIST
PHONE 138

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS
ALL KIDNEY DISEASES
BACKACHE RHEUMATISM
BLOOD TROUBLE
DROPSY BRIGHT'S DISEASE
1087 THE PROPRIETORS

DELANEY

AFTER THE CONSTANT USE OF YOUR FURS

During the long period of Cold Weather they will be soiled—will have lost their sheen—linings will be worn.

Our process of cleaning will bring back the lustre and beauty of your furs.

Have repairs made early and save money on the discount.

EXCLUSIVE FURRIER
17 Campbell St.
PHONE 797

Yes!
We Deliver
GLOSS PAINT, Sherwin-Williams . . . . . quart $1.20
MARNOT VARNISH, qt. $1.50
MURESCO, BRUSHES, WAX, MOTH PREPARATIONS, CHAMOIS, SPONGES
Try our hurry up messenger service when it's not convenient to come downtown.
PHONE 161
Ostrom's
THE BEST IN DRUGS

THE CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES LIMITED

Belleville, Ontario.

Kiddies' Muslin Frocks
In sleeveless styles of dainty muslin, with a pair of bloomers to match. In assorted shades for tots 2 to 6 years. Anniversary Sale, each 1.39
—Main Floor, rear

Infants' Wool Capes
Hand embroidered in blue or pink, with a little white collar. Wool is very soft and fine. Sizes 1, 2, 3. Anniversary Sale, each 2.49
—Main floor, rear

Boys' Raincoats
Boys' leatherette raincoats in a tan shade, with separate detachable belt. A popular style of coat recommended for this season and a money saver. Anniversary Sale days. Sizes 10 to 16 years. Special at 4.95

Men's Fine Hose
Regular 1.00 quality, men's fine silk and lisle and silk and wool hose, in a large assortment of shades and patterns that are smart for this season. A real leader for these values. Anniversary Sale. Sizes 10 to 11 1-2. Pair 59c

Our Second Birthday Celebration Offers Many Remarkable Opportunities to Save!

Another year has rolled around. Again we prepare to celebrate our birthday—the completion of a second and the commencement of a third year as a member of The T. Eaton Co. Limited organization. It has been a good year in many ways. We are more intimately acquainted with our customers . . . with their needs . . . their values . . . our customers have profited . . . and we have made many new friends. It is a happy birthday and to celebrate it in a fitting manner we have prepared a fine collection of Anniversary Sale items that offer a splendid measure of savings. For three days, every department in the store has been given over to this big event and items of every description at prices undeniably lower are surmounted by the special Anniversary Sale tickets. Look for them—see the windows—shop early and often on each of the three days.

Durotex Prints
A fine, even weave of these fadeless fabrics, in colors of gold, green, blue, hello, pink, rose, orange, yellow, etc. 32 inches wide. In neat figured and floral patterns. Extra value for Anniversary Sale, yard 29c
—Second floor

Fine Ginghams
Lovely weaves in the lot, firm and crisp, in fast colors of black and white, pink, white and yellow, pink, white and green, blue, tan and rose. In attractive check and plaid effects, about 32 inches wide. For kiddies and grown-ups' frocks. A feature for Anniversary Sale Yard 20c

Linen Dish Towels
Firmly woven linen dish towels that are splendidly good wearing and very absorbent. Irish made with hemmed ends and typed borders. Green, blue, mauve, pink, gold and rose. Sizes 19" x 39" and 20" x 39". Extra value, Anniversary Sale ..... 5 for 1.00
—Second floor

ANNIVERSARY SALE

Clearing Satins and Georgettes
Lovely weaves in both with splendid finishes, in plain shades of pink, rose, national blue, sky, yellow, grey, mauve, gold, nile, with widths from 36 to 39 inches. And ordinarily worth about 1.25 to 2.00 yard 98c
Featured in the sax yard
—Second floor

Linen Glass
Toweling
All linen quality, fine and firm of weave in large plaid patterns in hello, rose, blue, green and gold, etc. A good width of 18 inches. Sale price yard 16c
—Second floor

Blankets
Lovely soft wool comfortables with satin binding, soft and well napped, blue, gold, camel, in neat pin check patterns. Sizes 60" x 80" Sale price 4.95
—Second flo

Cotton Sheets
Good weight sheets in a firm, durable weave, hemmed at the ends and ready for instant use. Fully bleached and in a size of 72" x 90". Anniversary price 1.00
each
—Second floor

Bath Towels
Good heavy weight well napped and neatly fringed on the ends. Finished with a blue stripe. A large generous size that is very absorbent. Sale price ..... 3 pair 1.00

Men's Two Pant Suits
Made from fine, all wool serge, in pleating blue and brown tones, with a neat hairline stripe pattern. These are beautifully tailored and are offered at a special low price for the sale. Sizes 36 to 42. With two pairs of trousers, ... 25.00

Imported "Locknit" Rayon Lingerie, Garment
1.59
Included in this lot are bloomers, bobettes and vests. The rayon is exceptionally strong and serviceable and colors are pink, peach, nile and white. All sizes. The Locknit insures the garments being ladderproof. Exceptionally good value. 1.59

Bloomers
1.00
A new cloth for underwear that is ladderproof. Colors white, pink, peach, maize, nile. A very limited quantity.

Aprons
98c
Made of Jean cloth with short sleeves and sleeveless. All white, white and blue, white and green in the lot.

Gowns
69c
Hand-embroidered cotton gowns, hand made throughout. Colors of pink, peach and white. Square, round and V neck styles.

Rayon Pyjamas
Three styles in this Tailored Rayon and Pyjama group. In colors of maize and copen, black and gold, red and black, white and red. All sizes. Exceptionally good value at the Anniversary Sale price, suit 1.59

Rayon Coolie Coats
Of a fine rayon in colors of black and red, red and black, black and gold, black and jade, jade and black. An excellent value at an interesting price. Anniversary sale garment 1.98

Extra! Rayon Gowns
A fine rayon gown in three styles, lace trimmed, V neck and square neck. All sizes. Colors of pink, peach, rose, maize, nile. Be early, the quantity is limited. Anniversary Sale, garment 89c

Men's and Young Men's
Good Looking Tweed and Grey Cheviot Suits 12.95
In Sensational Special Selling—For Anniversary Sale at only, good looking Tweeds for the younger man and dependable quality grey Cheviot Serges for the more matured man. Both offer you wonderfully large savings on clothes for Spring and Summer wear. Odd sizes, hence the special low marking—some with one, some with two pairs of trousers. See windows—remember only 25 suits in the lot—so you'll want to be here on time. One of the big features of the Anniversary Sale in Men's Clothing. Assorted sizes in the lot.
Men's Store

SILK GLOVES 89c
A seasonable special! Real silk gloves from a well known manufacturer at 89c! All first quality in shades of arab, caravan, mist, oatmeal, beige and karnak. Sizes 6 to 8 in the lot. Fancy cuff, one button style. Limited quantity. Anniversary Sale, pair 89c

SPECIAL IN UMBRELLAS
Spring rains and a special like this! Covered in cotton and silk on 8 rib, Paragon frame. Crook and straight natural wood handles with matching tips. Colors of navy, black, brown, red, purple and green. All first quality. Anniversary Sale, each 1.89

ANNIVERSARY SALE

Smart New Crepe Scarves
A special purchase for this event, lovely heavy quality crepe scarves in gay, modernistic patterns, in green, rose, blue, mauve and others equally as attractive. Ordinarily worth about 2.95 each. Sale of save on Anniversary Day, each 1.69
—Main floor, centre

Feature Selling of Purses
Purses that formerly sold at 2.95, fashioned from smooth finished pliable leather, nicely lined with rayon and fitted with change purse and many with mirror. Long and back strap models. Brown grey, black, navy, red, etc. Anniversary Sale, special 1.95
—Main floor, centre

Neckwear
Special 69c
—Collar and cuff sets, jabots, etc., in many lovely styles in laces. With and without cuffs. Soft tones of ecru and ivorys. Mostly V neck styles. Anniversary special, ... 69c
—Main floor, centre

Tea Towels
Fine linen tea towels, neatly hemmed on the ends, neatly colored borders of blue, gold, red and green. A splendid size, Anniversary special ..... 6 for 1.09
—Main floor left

Leatherette
Cushions
Two tone leatherette cushions in blue, brown, red, green and black. Very durable and splendid for the car, the cottage for summer use. Filled with good quality filling 98c
—Main floor, left

Hoover Aprons
Stamped in two attractive patterns, and smocked neatly in colors. Made of smooth factory cotton. Anniversary special 69c
each
—Main floor, left

Chocolate-Coated Clusters
Tasty peanut cluster, coated with chocolate. Buy a supply for the week end at this special low price. Remember the quantity is limited, so shop early. Lb. 29c
—Main floor, right

Feature! Frocks of Art Silk, Silk Flat Crepe and Gay Prints in a Special Selling — All New Colors, Styles and Patterns for Summer — Choose Early — Each 4.95

About 225 frocks in this big special group—frocks for misses and women, of lustrous French Art Silk, soft all-silk flat crepe, and imported Marshall prints that are fresh as the season itself. Style a are distinctive and becoming and you can prepare your summer wardrobe now at small cost. See them in the window. Sizes 14 to 44—new colorings—many show individual styles and all are in new summer shades. The value is rare—we advise early shopping, 9 o'clock would not be too soon. Special Anniversary Sale, each .....

Men's Shirts
Regular 2.50
The lot comprises fine madras and broadcloths — in lovely weaves—that make them a feature value at this low price. Smartly patterned, in stripe style—with separate collar or collar attached, long price at 2.50. All sizes 14 to 17. Sale price—each 1.69
—Men's Store.

Men's Work Gloves
All horsehide gloves for the working man. The popular "Dunn" cut in gauntlet style that protects the wrist and arm. Assorted sizes. Anniversary Special 1.00
—Pair
—Men's Store.

Women's High-Grade Novelty Footwear
3.98
A fine group of high-grade novelty shoes at a big saving. All fine kid leathers, some with lizard overlays or suede insets. Strap, tie and pump styles. Black, Cuban and durbie Spanish heels. Such colors as white, brown, nut brown and Lido sand, also many attractive combinations. Sizes 3 1-2 to 7 in the lot and as this group represent one of the finest shoe values we have presented in some time. An excellent Anniversary feature that demands prompt shopping. See windows. Be early.

Men's Underwear
Fine balbriggan material makes these in shirts and drawer style with long sleeves and drawers, in ankle length. Natural shade, sizes 34 to 44. Per Garment 50c

Girls' and Misses'
Summer Dresses
"Sis" on sale—smart, clever modes, for girls and misses—fashioned from fine, and gay prints—that wear so well and wash so lovely. Some in the lot are the famous Peter Pan prints. All are smart and the sizes run from 6 to 20 A host of styles—a host of colors—in this big event. Be sure and shop early enough.
Anniversary Sale—Each 1.98
—Main Floor—Rear.

Groceteria Specials!

Tea	Eaton's Household Blend, Black only lb.	41c
Flour	Green Seal Pastry Flour 24-lb. bag	85c
Soup	Campbell's Tomato, 2 tins Limit 6 to a customer	19c
Sugar	Redpath Granulated 100-lb. bag, delivered 276 Front Street	5.20

Rubber Kneeling Pads
A soft rubber kneeling pad that will be useful for housecleaning or for gardening. Special each 27c

Bread Boxes
Made of heavy metal — long style in bright colors of green, yellow, red, rust shade, etc. With strong handle and family decorated lid. Each 98c

Dusting Mops
Chemically treated dusting mops, in oblong style with a thick cotton head. Special of note each 79c

Garbage Pails
A large sized garbage pail at a special low price. Made of heavy galvanized material, with good fitting lid and strong handles. Each 1.00

Corn Brooms—39c
A good heavy 5 string corn broom at a special featured price for the sale. They are only, each 39c

Ironing Boards
A strongly made ironing board that will hold constantly up after using to be put away. Made of smooth straight grain wood. Each 1.89

Special Sale of Pictures and Mirrors

British Plate Mirrors
Beautiful etched design, on plate, with scalloped edge complete with cord and tassle each 5.95

Buffet Mirrors
In nicely ornamented frames, in polychrome effect. Sizes 12 1-4 by 44". Special 1.89

Console Mirrors
Dull plate mounted in 1½" burnished polychrome frame, with ornament, each 1.69

Console Mirrors
11 3-4" x 19 3-4" with 1" embossed moulding in gold leaf effect. Each 69c

Console Mirrors
11 3-4" x 19 3-4" with embossed moulding in gold leaf effect. Each 69c

Console Mirrors
11 1-2" x 19 1-2" console mirror in new design, round corners, oval top. Assorted colors. Special, each 79c

Pictures
Pictures, in assorted sizes, scenic and portrait subjects. Each 25c

Etchings
Etchings, handsomely framed etchings of various types. A special low price for Anniversary 98c

Pictures
Pictures, in assorted styles and subjects, in a variety of styles to suit your requirements and taste Each ..... 10c and 19c

Rayon Silk Velour
A very handsome quality of rayon velour, lustrous and softly piled makes rich, lovely hangings, for the arch, etc. In mulberry, rose, blue and beige. 50 inches wide. Sale price 1.98 yard

Hit and Miss Rugs
A good sized rug for the bedroom, hit and miss style in a lovely examinater quality, with band border. Size of 4' 6" x 7' 6". Sale price 8.95
—Third floor